Council Request Government Action On Propane Situation

Assurances were received from Premier E. C. Manning by the Town authorities that the Provincial Government will keep a constant check each day on the production of propane in this province.

The Town made representations to Hon. Norman Willmore and Premier Manning concerning the acute situation in Town where much of the heating both domestic and commercial has been converted to propane appliances.

The assurance came by telegram signed by Premier Manning and said in full "All possible steps will be taken to ensure the largest possible production in this province, augmented by substantial imports. Departmental officials will keep constant check each day on supply."

The telegram leading up to this exchange with the provincial authorities were read at the regular meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening, January 3, when Mayor Burleigh and Councillors Kortzman, Mahon, McIntyre and Tucker were present.

Other business included:

Applications for the position of night Constable were examined by the Council and Police Committee was directed to make further inquiry as to character and capability of selected group of applicants.

Secretary was authorized to make transfer of title to lot 12, block 50, to Ronald Sole and Clara L. Sole, title to be delivered to leading institution, on undertaking to complete house as specified.

It was moved that approval of Council be granted to placing of overhanging sign at premises lots 30-30, block 8, on submission of proper indemnity undertaking by Mrs. J. Soltys.

It was moved that building permit to Mr. S. Marechuk, covering moving building to lot 26, block 5, and alterations, etc., in sum $4,000.00 be approved.

It was moved that payment of $50.00 to Western Water Works be authorized, being portion of half-

Improved Mail Service Started

Charlie Sparks inaugurated the new mail service from Edson to Edmonton with his first run to Wildwood on Sunday evening.

Leaving Edson at 11:00 p.m. Charlie and crew picked up mail bags with those of the driver from Edmonton at Wildwood just after one o'clock in the morning. Arriving back in Edson at 6:30 as scheduled.

This is the start of the mail service that will give Edson and district much better service, it is hoped than previously both east and west.

Mail West to Jasper and Hinton now closes at 8:30 a.m. daily except Sunday.

Mail West to Rickerdike and Mariboro and Ohnd now closes at 10:00 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Mail East on Train No. 4 to points Edmonton and East and back to Carrot Creek closes at 5:00 p.m. as formerly.

Mail East to points between Pears and Edmonton and beyond now closes at 7:00 p.m. daily except.

Heather Lynn Is First Baby

Born at 7:25 a.m. Monday, January 2, in St. John's Hospital, Heather Lynn, weighing in at 7 pounds 8 ounces, was the first baby of 1956 and winner of a large assortment of gifts offered by local merchants.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Williamson, the sole little girl posed for her picture with mommy this week and we'll be running it in next week's Leader. Inaugurated by The Leader, this contest has created wide interest and our congratulations go to Heather Lynn.

How Much Expansion?

As we start into the first week of 1956 thoughtful people are asking themselves how much expansion is in store this year for Edson and district.

The past year saw a tremendous building program in this area both private and public—building permits in Edson town itself neared the million dollar mark, while such programs as the $600,000 school building program in the School Division and the start on the huge multi-million dollar pulp mill at Hinton had their effect.

There was a steadily increasing tempo in the exploration and drilling of oil wells and this promises to increase by the looks of things.

A pipeline connecting the pumping station west of town to the Sturgeon Lake field was pretty well completed and a natural gas line is starting from near Wabamun and passing right through the boundaries of Edson Town on its way to Hinton.

There was even the phenomena of the C.N.R. having a tough time getting enough boxcars and train crews to move the coal needed by the West coast, and the Coal Branch mines at Mervault and Foothills humping to get the coal out as the stockpiles dwindle.

Edson Town undertook a matter much greater than normal public works program with a sidewalk program that put cement walks practically everywhere they had not been in Town before. Plus the six blocks of Main Street were paved or blacktopped.

The long touted Federal Building even became a reality this year, even if it will be a month or two before it is occupied.

First steps were taken at Cadomin to start hauling limestone to the Inland Cement plant 100 miles east of Edson. The Federal Government showed signs of looking favorably on a penitentiary here too.

Canada Fina started their headquarters setup here to continue their oil activity, North Star Oil bought property on central Fourth Avenue for a big service station that has set record prices for Town service. A big grocery store located here and the Edson Dairy decided Edson warranted expanding, etc., etc.

All of which adds up to a lot of people who have confidence in Edson's continued growth and development.

THE NEW YEAR

Within life's book another leaf is turned; Today we face a new and untried year. Its secrets and its purposes all unguessed. No hand may lift the veil that hides from us, Success or failure, and no feet save ours May tread our pathway, do our several tasks.

We step into the New Year's outstretched arms, And wonder if with all her luring charms, Truer she'll prove than one we have behind What we have gained from wrestling with defeat Mayhap will give us strength new foes to meet With greater courage. Come then, storm and stress Defeat and failure, or joy's magic spell, To each or all the New Year holds in store We reach our hands in welcome, for we know Our trust blessings from our failures grow. And that our share of happiness will be What we acquire through self-mastery.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

A little boy, caught in mischief by his mother, was asked, "How do you expect to get into heaven?" "The last thing I remember," he said, "I'll just run in and out and in and out and keep slamming the door until St. Peter says, 'For heaven's sake, lobby, come in or stay out.'"

Clerk: "These are exceptionally plain shirts, Sir. They simply laugh at the laundry." Customer: "Yes, I know that kind. I had some come back with their sides split!"

On New Year's two men were making their weary way home after a party. For some time they had been trading along the rail road track. Finally one of them said, "This is the longest flight of stairs I ever saw."

The Joneses were moving and had some family belongings which they did not want to trust to the movers, so after dark, Mr. Jones carried them over to the new house. He was struggling along late at night with a precious grandfather clock and and a small table. He was carrying them over to the new house. He was struggling along late at night with a precious grandfather clock and

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

EDMONTON—Alberta towns and cities learned last week that they likely will have to look elsewhere in the coming year for the low-interest loans they have been receiving from the provincial government to finance capital works.

It seems that the government's accumulated surplus is running low, and Hon. E. W. Himean, provincial treasurer, made it plain that lending under the Municipal Capital Expenditure Loans Act will have to be curtailed for the time being.

As a result, the year 1956 likely will see many municipalities going back to selling their debentures on the open market to finance what in many cases will be all-time record works programs.

Some already have started making arrangements. The reason for curtailing the low-interest loans is that the fund set up under the act in 1954 has almost run out of money. At the end of November, the fund contained $11,078,560 out of its original $10,000,000. That means during the past three years municipalities have borrowed $8,921,440 from the fund.

An easy remedy would be for the legislature to vote more money into the fund, but unfortunately that isn't likely to happen. While the government's financial position is generally good any money for the fund would have to come from readily accessible reserves, and they are at a low point.

At the end of November, the government's liquid assets consisted of $2,422,000 cash on hand and $43,912,000 in Dominion of Canada Bonds. This is the only money available at a moment's notice.

The province also has $57,831,078 in its special investment fund, and $157,141,927 outstanding in loans over various periods of time to municipalities, rural electrification associations and Alberta Government Telephone. This money, however, can't be collected immediately.

And the government likely will need all its readily available resources, or a major portion of them, to meet next year's budget. In the last fiscal year, the province had to draw on its surplus for $12,466,722 to make ends meet, and it is expected expenditures will exceed revenues again this year.

However, the picture isn't entirely dark. The municipal loan fund has been set up as a revolving fund—designed to keep money circulating within the province. And as such, it will continue to be made.

The trouble at present appears to be that the fund hasn't been revolving long enough. According to provincial officials, the amount paid back into the fund by municipalities so far is well below $10,000,000.

Although there has been no definite statement of government policy, it would appear that the fund has only reached a low point, and it will be just a matter of time before it is replenished to the extent that municipalities can again receive most of their money from it. The theory of revolving funds is that money should be going out and coming back in continuously.

Most municipal officials favor the revolving fund idea. They receive their loans at 2½ to 3 and one half per cent, which is lower than the interest rate on the open market, and the money is kept in Alberta instead of going outside.

It is almost certain that the municipal revolving fund will be maintained, but the importance of its role in municipal financing may depend on the result of the government's proposed review of provincial-municipal financial relations. The government announced two weeks ago that the review would be undertaken within the next year or so, but as yet even government officials don't know what the "new look" in provincial-municipal affairs will be.

Provincial health officials in the capital announced last week that the drive against poliomyelitis in Alberta will be expanded next spring. Nearly 200,000 children will receive doses of Salk vaccine. The cost, estimated at $200,000, will be shared 50-50 by the province and the Dominion.

The extent of the program will depend on how much vaccine Alberta is allotted, but on the basis of present estimates it is expected that all children from two years prior to school age, through to grade four, will receive anti-polio shots.

First priority will go to some 40,000 children who received doses when they were in grades 1 and 2 last year. Each will receive a single booster shot. Others, in order of priority, will be children who received experimental shots in 1954; children who started grade 1 in September this year; those in grades 2 and 3 who have not yet had doses; children who will start grade 1 in September, 1956; and expectant mothers whose confinement is due between June 1 and October 31, 1956.

Next in line will be staff members of police hospitals, and then children who will start school in September, 1957. Final priority will go to children in grade 4.

Wife, in military store: "Would you like this one with the trim turned up?" Husband: "How much is it?" "Only $24." Husband: "Turn it down."

Hermine: You can't believe everything you hear, Susan."

Susan: "Well I don't, I simply repeat it."

Ted Mandick Buried In Home Town

All who knew Ted Mandick were deeply shocked to learn of his untimely passing in Edmonton on Monday, December 26, after being overcome by smoke in his room in the city.

Ted, as he was popularly known, was on the city end of his Edson Edmonton run as conductor with the CNR. Blankets falling on an electric heater was apparently the cause of the smoke in his room. He was rushed to hospital, but died a few hours later.

Funeral services were held from St. Andrew's Russian Greek Orthodox Church in Edson on Friday, December 30th at 10:30 a.m. conducted by His Grace B. R. Bishop Vitaly of Edmonton. Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery Edson.

Mr. Mandick is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mandick of Edson; one sister, Elizabeth Mandick of Edmonton; and two brothers, Walter of Castor and Joseph of Edmonton.

Ted was an Edson boy and received his schooling here prior to joining the CNR and then joining the tank corps with which he served overseas in the second World War. Following his discharge he rejoined the railway and had attained the position of conductor.

Funeral services were held from St. Andrew's Russian Greek Orthodox Church in Edson on Friday, December 30th at 10:30 a.m. conducted by His Grace B. R. Bishop Vitaly of Edmonton. Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery Edson.

Pups In The Kitchen

Dear Sir:
In reply to your request to send a cheque, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it ordinarily impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to union law, provincial laws, town laws, mother-in-laws, and outlaws.

Through these laws, I am compelled to pay a business tax, super tax, gas tax, excise tax, tariff tax, petrol tax, and amusement tax, of which I have none. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business licence and a dog licence. I am required to contribute to pay a business tax and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life; to woman's relief, the unemployed which I have paid, dig and relief. Also to every hospital and charitable organization in the country, including the red cross.

The Postmaster and Staff of the Edson Post Office wish to extend a belated most hearty Compliments of the Season, to all of their patrons.

They wish also to compliment the patrons in their tolerance of having to proceed to the new building basement to pick up their parcels. This was done to eliminate line ups as much as possible, and it is hoped that the inconvenience caused was not too great.

The Postmaster further announces that there is no carry over of Christmas mails as far as the local P.O. is concerned. All mail received was sorted and ready for delivery each day. It is regretted that the mail of December 24 arrived too late to be sorted for delivery. It is expected that the parcel depot will be closed this week, and the parcels will again be picked up at the main Post Office.

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR

THANK YOU

The Postmaster and Staff of the Edson Post Office wish to extend a belated most hearty Compliments of the Season, to all of their patrons.

They wish also to compliment the patrons in their tolerance of having to proceed to the new building basement to pick up their parcels. This was done to eliminate line ups as much as possible, and it is hoped that the inconvenience caused was not too great.

The Postmaster further announces that there is no carry over of Christmas mails as far as the local P.O. is concerned. All mail received was sorted and ready for delivery each day. It is regretted that the mail of December 24 arrived too late to be sorted for delivery. It is expected that the parcel depot will be closed this week, and the parcels will again be picked up at the main Post Office.

Junior Pucksters Active During Festive Holidays

This week's action in the Edson Junior High School Hockey League featured the improved play of the Spitfires led by their Captain and High Scorer, Dennis Hill.

In two games this team which up to now has lost every game was able to hold the Maple Leafs to a 5-5 tie and also to hold the Canadians to a similar score and thereby earn their first two points.

The highly touted, but still vulnerable Tigers, rolled on to two more victories by beating both the Maple Leafs 7-3, and the Canadians 5-1. With the first half of the schedule completed this team has been beaten only by the Maple Leafs who have been successful in beating them twice.

For the Christmas week the teams enjoyed holidays but Tuesday of this week saw action again with Tigers 3 Canadians 1 and Maple Leafs 5 Spitfires 5.

In the Tigers-Canadians game the scoring assisted by Jimmy Cole only to have Benjo Lowin bang one home to equalize.

the score. In the second period, Olsen scored unassisted to put the Tigers in the lead 2-1, and Asher closed out the scoring in the third period when Tim Greeney set him up on a goal mouth pass.

In the Maple Leaf-Spitfire game Hill opened the scoring on a pass from Oslie only to have Perrino the score 2 seconds later. Gary McKeivie better known as "Pug" then helped himself to a couple of quick goals on assists from Ashwell on the first and Perrino on the second. Hill, Laydon and Oslie closed out the scoring for the Spitfires while Ashwell and Dunlop kept the Maple Leafs alive by notching counters. The game was well played to end 5-5.

Next week official statisticians Nash Mathoi will be back to sort out League Standings and players' scoring line statistics.

Midgets To Get Try-Outs

Coach Joe Petusich and Manager John Finlay of the Midget Pucksters, Nelson Electric, have been put on notice that the try-outs for coming up the provincial playoffs are coming up.

Their are about 20 midgets showing up for games now and in order to cut the team down to the 15 players allowed to go with the team in provincial playoff games it will be necessary to test the playing ability of the lads.

Actual date for the putting down to 15 players will be about two weeks off, but the boys will have to be on their mettle during the tryouts in any event.

The other 15 boys will still be playing midget hockey and will be a reserve for spares. But 15 names must be picked for entry in the provincial setup.

Niton H&S Enjoy First Christmas Party

The Niton Central Home and School Association enjoyed its first Christmas party on December 16.

Mrs. J. Kiehlbaugh directed the community singing of Christmas carols accompanied by Miss June Kiehlbaugh at the piano.

Mrs. R. King and Miss Alvina Faser sang a beautiful Christmas hymn. Mr. W. Wiley gave an entertaining Swedish recitation.

Religious Instruction
In the school with considerable caution. Religious instruction in the school is something that concerns both the public at large and the denominations. It is not possible here to enlarge upon all the issues involved, but perhaps some information about how the various provinces deal with the matter may be of interest.
In Newfoundland, the schools are operated and staffed by the main religious denominations with provincial support. There is no provision for religious instruction in the schools of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but the schools may be ful instruction both in the conduct of worship and in the teaching of the Bible. Ontario schools are opened with Scripture and the Lord's Prayer. The period per week of one-half hour each are provided for religious instruction. The three provinces provide a half hour each day for religious instruction in school hours but no provision is made for the normal training for the preparation of the normal students as religious instructors.

"In all the provinces careful provision is made to safeguard the rights of children whose parents object either to the opening exercises or to the religious instruction provided, so that they may abstain themselves without penalty."

Next week this column will deal further with the issues in religious instruction in the school. In the meantime I wish to re-emphasize the opportunity that now exists for religious instruction in the church, school or Sunday school. Whether or not we are agreed about religion in the public schools we cannot afford to neglect the existing opportunity in the Sunday School, in the church of your choice.

One of the major problems that confronts the board of the district school is that of "how best to handle religious instruction in public and secondary schools." Since religion and politics are often the cause of heated debate the result has been that school boards have approached the matter of religious instruction in the school with considerable caution. Town Annual Meeting 2nd Monday in February

The annual meeting of ratemakers of the Town will be held this year as usual on the second Monday in February, that is Feb. 13. The next Monday will be nomination day for both the council and the local school board, then the first Monday in March will be election day—that is Monday, March 5.

Interest in Town elections is always a little keener in a "mayorally year"—that is a year in which the mayor is up for re-election—so it is expected that interest will be higher than usual this year.

In addition to Mayor Manley Burleigh's term being up, the seats held by Councillors Gerald Mahon and Walter Kortman, also expire this year.

There is a possibility that Councillor Bill Switzer may have to give his seat up due to changed circumstances in his business location.

The local school board has two seats expiring this year—those held by Mrs. L. Buck and Mr. J. local board are Trustees G. T. Patterson. Other trustees on this Harrison, H. Matthews and D. M. Cusson.

Town Councillors not up for re-election this year are councillors W. Nigro, W. McIntyre, A. Torker and W. Switzer.

No contender has thrown his hat in the ring but there appears to be a good possibility that there will be several contestants for the Council at least.

Cold Weather For Holidays

This year was really a "white" Christmas with not only plenty of snowfall, but, especially at Christmas, bitter cold. However it seemed to have been a happy festive season and people back at work have enjoyed the break.

Special services to mark the birth of the Christ Child in Jerusalem were very well attended in all the churches both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

House parties before and after the two semi-public parties put on the Elks and the Kinsmen were pretty much the order of the evening on Saturday, New Year's Eve this year, with the first falling on a Sunday as it did.

The Edson Legion was well filled for the New Year's night frolic at 12:01 and everyone enjoyed themselves with most places not working on Monday, January 2.

There were no serious accidents involving bodily injury and the Sisters of St. John's were spared their usual accident calls this year. Although holiday flu did keep the local doctors on the go.

The heavy snowfall and colder weather may have made celebrants more cautious.

Mail East to Wolf Creek and Rosevear now closes at 7:00 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays.

Mail from the East now arrives in Edson at 6:30 a.m. and under normal conditions should all be sorted in Edson post office by 8:00 a.m.

There will also be mail in on No. 3 train as formerly which is normally sorted by 11:30 a.m.

Chief innovation has been the arrangement of having trucks leave Edson and Edmonton at 11:00 p.m. and meeting at Wildwood. It is expected that this service will answer many of the complaints formerly heard about mail delivery between Edson and points East to Edmonton especially.

Bear Lake Road Scene

Work in the bush has been seriously handicapped with the heavier-than-usual snowfall this winter. Roads have had to be snowplowed and other inconvenience has caused discomfort those working out-of-doors. The scene above caught by Edson photographer Al Grant shows that there is heavy around every turn in the country this year.

We haven't got the name of the farm owner but his log building certainly does look picturesque with its mantle of snow.

Edson Pioneer Celebrates 84 Years

One of Edson's earliest citizens passed another milestone in his life this week when Mr. J. T. Reid celebrated his 84 birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Reid came to Edson before the railroad, travelling from the end of the street at Wolf Creek, by wagon. Their children, three boys and a girl, were all born here and the two children who are living yet, son Edson and daughter, Mrs. A. J. McEvoy both reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid are both in good health and are looking forward to celebrating their 80th wedding anniversary this coming June.

Mr. Reid was guest of honor at a dinner party at the McEvoy home on Wednesday evening.

Kinsmen Giant Bingo On January, 13

Wednesday night, January 13, will be another big Bingo night in town, when the Edson Kinsmen Club will sponsor an evening of this popular entertainment.

The stakes will be high, four hundred dollars will be given away altogether with the grand prize being two hundred dollars in crisp bills, and the cost will be a low two dollars for twenty games. As usual extra cards may be purchased during the course of the evening to make your chances of winning even better.

So don't forget the big night. Next Wednesday, January 13, for the Kinsmen sponsored Bingo in the Memorial Centre.

Athletics Take Two From Barrhead During Weekend

Barrhead Arrows came to town Saturday with only eleven men and found out that it wasn't enough to turn the tide on the fast skating, hard checking Athletics who have not lost a game this season.

The game was well played in the first period ending in a score of 3 to 1 for the Athletics with Comptre scoring at 2:35 and at 13:15 to make it 2-0. Then Owen scored for Barrhead from Grant morning at 15:20 and Davidson shot a fast one in to end the scoring at 17:00 to end the scoring for the 1st session. There was only one penalty to McMillan at 8:00 but no damage was done while he was off.

In the second period the Edson boys ran wild and the defence of the Arrows became nearly nonexistent at time and again the Athletics roamed in on Anderson at an astounding clip. Anderson in a rubber factory was working in a rubber factory. Ramstead went off for tripping at 4:05 and while he was off Horne scored at 4:35 then Kendall made it 4-2 and it looked as if they were still in the game, then the roof fell on the Arrows. Davidson slipped one in from Higgins at 12:30. Five seconds later he scored after taking a pass from Gerlitz to make it a hat trick. Lervin beat Anderson on a low shot after getting a pass from Boehk at 14:20. The rest of the scoring was from Davidson, Davidson from Karaman, Lervin from Chisna and Chisna unassisted. There was not too much good hockey played as passing was sloppy and checking loose.

The third period was the best of the night with some good fast skating and good passing and checking. Edson continued on their merry way as Cebulak slipped one by Anderson at 3:30 with a helper going to Chisna.

Ramstead playing an outstanding game on the Athletic defence scored two goals one at 4:00 and the other at 4:40 with assists going to Gerlitz and Percie to make the score read 14-2 Chisna scored the final goal for Edson at 8:18 then Barrhead seemed to come to life with Kendall scoring two unassisted goals to make the final score Edson 15, Barrhead, 4.

When the final whistle blew Davidson had 5 points with 4 goals and one assist. Barrhead's most

Farmers Thank D.P.W. For Snow Plowing

Local 600 of the F.U.A. held their January meeting on the 8th with a very good turnout of new members.

Members would like to thank Mr. Ed Ford, Mr. Elsie Graham and staff for the fine job done on district roads when snow plows were out this week.

Next meeting will be held on Tuesday February 7, at 8:00 p.m. Let's try and be on time folks.

Discussion on the need of a public bulletin board in Edson led to the decision to ask aid from the Edson Board of Trade.

Fire Destroys Jasper Store

Fire destroyed one of the new Saw-File stores operated at Jasper by Mr. Val Kulak Tuesday night.

The fire in the corner store had made too much progress before being discovered to be able to save the building or the contents.

The roof of Mountain Motors garage collapsed this week as well damaging several vehicles stored in the garage. Snow and weakened supporting pillars were thought to have been the cause of the collapse.

Athletics At Barrhead

Edson Athletics are going to Barrhead this weekend to give the Arrows from that town a try-out on their own ice.

In each of the home games here the Edson pucksters have been able to trouble the visitors. The team making the trip sometimes has a disadvantage as how our lads make out over in the farm county.

Another Look Needed

This week we heard of a household light bill that came to over $36.00. The household didn't seem to have any of the modern electrical conveniences that aren't available in any modern home.

When information was asked at the Town Hall as to whether or not this bill was not out of line—the answer was NO—there are quite a number in the same general range this month.

Then, of course, we are hearing about $500.00 a month light and power bills among such businesses as hotels and large stores in town.

The question arises shouldn't we perhaps be discussing whether the principle of using light and power profits to give us a lower light rate is just fooling ourselves. And that perhaps our excessively high power rates are keeping any number of people and industry out of our town.

Every well informed ratepayer knows that our costs of production for power at our municipal owned plant is close to five cents and that after the minimum is reached the domestic light is six cents less ten per cent if paid before the 20th of the month.

There is no indication but that we will have our usual profit of twenty to forty thousand dollars this year which would seem to indicate that a reduction to certain classes of light and power users could be considered.

Why do we bring this subject up at this time. Annual Town meeting time is fast rolling around—Monday, February 13 is the date and a good turnout of ratepayers to hear why the Council thinks (or does not think) the policy of high profit on our light plant is a good thing.

Another thing that could stand some discussion is the question of whether we should own our own natural gas distribution system when gas becomes available in the next year or two. Whether the problem of getting the provincial government to ask special legislation to give us authority to borrow the $300,000 is worth the candle or not.

Then there's the question that can really get some of our local citizens bringing out their pros and cons—pasturization. The Edson Board of Health and the Board of Trade are on record as favoring the putting of the question to a vote and raw milk supporters will get their chance to show how much money is in town.

Annual meeting time is a good time to size up the Council and our Mayor who have been burning the midnight oil on our behalf and deciding whether we should have the nerve to ask them to spend some more of their time on our behalf. Or whether we should turn them out and get a new bunch to run our affairs for a term or two.

Town affairs can be and should be discussed and caused everywhere, but the most intelligent place once a year to discuss them is at the annual meeting.

Let's make it necessary this year to make the Council have the Annual meeting over at the Legion Hall, instead just having a dozen or so citizens besides the press turn out. What do you say fellow bourgeois?

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

"Hello, is this the Deluxe Dog Shopper?"
"Yes, Madam. What can we do for you?"
"Do you have any food dishes for my little dog?"

"Yes, Madam. A dollar model and a twenty-five cent model."
"What is the difference?"
"The dollar one is inscribed, 'My Doggie's Dish' and is larger. 'I'll take the twenty-five cent model.... my doggie can't read!'"

When the coast of Florida was sparsely populated and hurricanes wrecked sailing vessels on its shores, people would hurry out and "salvage" all they could from damaged vessels.

One Sunday a small boy dashed into the church service to announce that another ship had just been beached. The congregation dashed like a tidal wave for the door, when the preacher intoned pontifically: "Wait! I have but 10 more words to say to you."

The impatient people shuffled restlessly, while the preacher walked to the door. Placing his hand on the doorknob, he said: "Now, let us all get off to a fair start."

Mrs. Brown: "Give a husband enough rope and he'll hang himself."

Mrs. Robinson: "I'm not sure. I gave mine too much and he slipped."

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

Edmonton—The Alberta political pot will begin boiling again on Thursday, January 13, with the opening of the second session of the 13th Alberta legislature.

Premier Manning's cabinet passed an order-in-council last week setting the date of the opening day, when Hon. Dr. J. Bowlen, Lieutenant-governor of Alberta, will read the speech from the Throne outlining legislation the government proposes to introduce.

As a general rule, the house opens in mid-February, but this year the government has reason to believe the session will last longer than usual. One factor is that Easter falls on April 1, which is relatively early, and members always count on finishing before Easter.

In addition, there will be a larger opposition in the house as a result of the June 29 general election. And with more opposition members, it is expected the Throne Speech debate will last considerably longer.

In the Throne Speech debate, members can ramble on about any subject that suits them. Most back-benchers speak at length about the scenic beauty of their constituencies and the number of purebred cattle.

Added to this a number of opposition members who will want to take pot shots at the Social Credit administration, and a Social Credit which many believe already takes too long and wastes too much time will take even longer.

The standing in the legislature, by parties, is as follows: Social Credit, 37; Liberal, 15; Conservative, 1; CCF, 2; Liberal-Conservative, 1; Coalition, 1; Independent, 1 and Independent Social Credit, 1.

After the Lieutenant-governor has read the speech from the Throne on opening day, the house will adjourn until the following day, Friday. Then two Social Credit backbenchers, probably a veteran member and a newcomer, will move and second the reply to the Throne Speech. The house then will adjourn again until Monday, to give the opposition a chance to study the speech.

On Monday, the debate will be launched by J. Harper Prouse, leader of the 15 Liberal members who form the official opposition. It is expected that the MLA's will face a heavy legislative program, and another record budget—expected to exceed last year's $222,963,072—will have to be approved before the fiscal year ends March 31.

Whether the session will be as hectic as the one in 1955 is anyone's guess. In all likelihood, it won't be as lively because there is no thought of 1956 being an election year. However, who thought 1955 would be an election year? In other words, whose politics are concerned you just can't say for sure until it happens.

We found proof last week that political predictions can go awry. We were looking through newspaper files of predictions made late in 1954 for the New Year 1955. The one we found from Robert A. "Bob" Anderson, retired clerk of the provincial legislature and a seasoned political observer, is worth repeating. Bob said there would be no general election in 1955 and no changes in the provincial cabinet.

Oh, well, maybe that's an object lesson for less experienced observers.

We also dug through the files and government statistics for material to prepare a year-end review. The data collected indicated a splendid year in every respect. The farmers still couldn't sell their grain and on the basis of latest available figures their income showed a drop from last year.

Weatherwise, it was one of the best crop-growing seasons in recent years for this predominantly agricultural province. So good, in fact, that the wheat crop for 1955 has been estimated at 123,000,000 bushels—compared with 105,000,000 bushels last year. The yield per acre also was up, and similar increases were chalked up for most other grain crops.

However, figures for the first 10 months of 1955 showed the total farm income from grain at $119,908,000, compared with $128,806,000 for the same period last year. During the same 10 months of 1955, income from livestock totalled $115,688,000, against $117,697,000 in 1954.

This situation will continue to cause concern in 1956, particularly since grain and livestock are the mainstays of Alberta's economy.

A little boy from Maine and a little girl from Mississippi snaked off and went swimming in the nude together, one day. The girl looked at him quizzically, and said: "I never knew before that there was so much difference between a Yankee and a Southerner!"

A saddened microbe sat on the rim and saw the milk going through the filter pad. "I'm afraid," he murmured, "that my brother beside him, 'the one who's being strained'."

Week Ceremony Wed In Holiday

MR. AND MRS. FRED PELKE

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Roseau, was the setting for a holiday week wedding when Miss Lydia Wendland, daughter of Mr. Gus Wendland of Gollinchen, Germany, became the bride of Mr. Fred Pelke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pelke of Edson.

The church was gay with Christmas decorations for the December 2 wedding. Pastor J. Kunkel performed the ceremony.

The bride wore traditional white for her nuptials and carried a red and white bouquet. Her attendant, Miss Lydia Noring, wore a gown of light blue and carried a pink and blue bouquet.

Mr. Joe Stitzberger of Roseau was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for forty guests was held at the home of the groom. Mr. Gus Lecht proposed the toast to the bride.

Suffer Burns In Freak Accident

Ray Meliher and Jack Talpash suffered fatal burns in a freak accident that occurred while handling trailers north of Obed.

A bulldozer hit and burst a propane tank hidden under the snow and the fumes travelled about a hundred yards before exploding into flames near the truck where the men were standing.

Roy's clothing caught fire but a dive into a snowbank soon fixed that.

The men were treated for burns at the clinic, but did not require hospital care. The truck was undamaged.

Now, class, we know that you can't get eggs without hens—"Teacher, my dad can." "Be serious, Johnny." "Yes, he keeps ducks."

"George, what's the idea blaring with that waitress?"
"Ah — I was playing for big stacks my dear."

Rehabilitation Success Story For Government Help

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—Alberta had all the elements of a genuine panic in the coal mining industry starting in the spring of 1954 and continuing during the ensuing year, when declining markets began causing mines to close down.

Approximately 1,000 miners were either laid off or permanently out of work during 1954 and the summer of 1955, and it could have developed into a serious unemployment problem with a depressing effect on the economy of some sections of the province.

Today, however, it appears doubtful if there is any unemployment due directly to the decline in the coal industry—even though markets continue to dip in which contains Canada's largest reserves of coal.

The credit can be given to a three-man committee set up in April, 1954, with a grant of $100,000 from the provincial legislature, which set about the task of getting the unemployed miners absorbed into other fields of industry.

The committee worked for almost two years and last week made its final report to the government. The report showed, among other things, that the committee had spent only $60,000 of its allotment, had paid the cost of moving 325 families to jobs in different localities, and had created two new ghost towns in Alberta mining areas. The net result: A happy ending to what could have been a sad story.

When the committee launched its program, it was with the understanding that it would help themselves. The members decided the best way would be to assist them in finding other lines of work. If they needed financial help to move families and effects, the cost would be paid. But under no circumstances would the committee undertake a straight relief program.

Co-operation was requested and obtained from the National Employment Service, the United Mine Workers of America, boards of trade, contractors and builders' organizations. As a result, all or nearly all miners from strike areas have found employment, and there is no more talk of blue ruin in the coal producing areas.

The committee found that in two towns, where the coal mines folded the entire economy folded with them. There was no alternative but to move everyone out, and that was done during the spring and summer of 1955.

Accordingly, Nordegg and Aleson both west of Rocky Mountain House, were added to the list of Alberta ghost towns. At Nordegg, 181 families and their effects were moved at a cost to the government of $34,879. At Aleson, 26 families were moved at a cost of $5,666.

Miners and their families were moved from other towns, but these were the only two where complete evacuation was undertaken.

The fortunate timing of major construction projects helped the committee with its rehabilitation in the Coal Branch west of Edson. Miners were thrown out of work at Luxer and Coal Valley, and many found jobs in the construction of the big pulp mill at nearby Hinton.

Hon. Raymond Peterson, minister of industries and labour, believes the success of the project is due mainly to the fact that the government moved in quickly with a sincere program. It provided the incentive for many miners to move out on their own initiative and find jobs in other industries.

He recalled that the government had been criticized for appropriating only $100,000, but pointed out that if the program had been one of straight relief payments the incentive would not have been created.

The greatest problem was with miners between the ages of 50 and 60—too old to enter other trades after a lifetime of mining and too young to be eligible for pensions. However, with a little extra effort jobs were found for them.

Perhaps the effect of the committee's work is most evident at Coleman, in the Crownpoint Pass. Coleman was one of the hardest hit mining towns and as a partial solution the government subsidized bus transportation to Michel and Fernie, across the border in B.C., where there were openings for miners. Other Crownpoint Pass miners have gone into forestry, roadwork, lumbering and the oil industry, as a result the economy of Coleman is better than it has been for several years.

Chairman of the committee was John Ferguson, provincial supervisor of immigration. Other members were W. A. R. Ross of the department of welfare, and Joseph Dutton, director of mines.

Wed In December Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. ALFONS BECKER

Edson United Church was the scene of a wedding of wide interest when, on December 17, Katherine Brno Velichko became the bride of Alfons Becker.

Reverend C. G. Armstrong performed the ceremony that united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Velichko and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker, all of Edson. Mrs. G. M. Leun played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father who bride chose for her nuptials a strapless gown of nylon net over satin topped by a waist length fitted jacket featuring lily pearl sleeves with sequins and pearl embroidered Peter Pan collar. Her floor length veil was held in place by a pearl coronet. Her pearl necklace and earrings were a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of open pink roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Bridal attendants were Miss Adeline Boehm of Myram, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Becker of Edson were the bride's parents for seventy-five guests.

Leaving the next day for a honeymoon trip to Edmonton and other points, the bride donned a blue rayon sabbatine suit with matching accessories, carried by a corsage of pink roses.

On their return the young couple are making their home in Edson.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ongurian, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ongurian, Mr. and Mrs. George Melnyk all of Edmonton, and Mr. Pete Ongurian of Belina, Alberta.

Athletics Take Two From Barrhead During Weekend

For the second period, penalties went to MacMillan and Wilkinson of the Arrows. In the third period Grant scored for Barrhead to put them back in the contest making the score 4-3 for Edson. Then Boeckh from Chiesia and Lovin from MacMillan put the game away at 11:30 and 12:10. Five trips to the cooler in this session showed that the game was not played too cleanly with Edson getting 2 and Barrhead getting 3 one being a misconduct to Hanen.

HOW... DOES A STRONG FINANCIAL SERVICE Sell Clothes?

It is a well-worn, nevertheless true statement that "the world is shrinking." Modern means of transport have brought nation closer to nation... village nearer to city. No longer do rural families lag behind the times.

Rural Albertans are, in the main, as well educated and as smartly dressed as their city cousins. To keep abreast with the times, country clothing stores must carry wide stocks of fashion goods, along with serviceable working garments.

To do this, it is frequently necessary for the store-owner to enlist the aid of a sound financial institution, such as the Provincial Treasury branches. Drafts, loans, current accounts, money orders, safety deposit boxes are just a few of the many services supplied by our organization.

We would welcome the opportunity to prove our usefulness to your business. Why not visit our nearest branch, and have a friend-by chat with the manager?

The Proving Of The Cake

Many people have an attitude toward Christ and the Church which they would apply to nothing else in life. The attitude is simply this: Christ and the Church must be proved to them before they will come near.

Supposing that you make a call on a friend one evening. When you arrive you find that another person has dropped in and that they have all been enjoying some very lovely cake baked by the lady of the house. Of course you get fussy about it in a way very unusual to your accustomed communications; you refuse to eat any of the cake UNLESS YOU ARE CONVINCED BEFOREHAND THAT YOU WILL LIKE IT. The other people present, who have already eaten some, explain that it is particularly good. But that is not enough for you. You explain that you must have complete and convincing proof before you eat any.
But of course, there is no convincing proof except that of eating it.
So here you are! And there also are a great many extraordinarily nice people, whom you and I know, who take up precisely this position in regard to Christianity.

OVER THE

Pastors Desk

REV. L. B. HALLIWELL

With out Me Ye can do nothing.
Once when I was in an office I noticed on the wall a plaque which carried these words, the difficult we do right away and the impossible takes a little longer. Possibly at times many success is almost at a place that is hard to realize as true. Yet it is not impossible. I suppose that a few years ago, if someone said that we would be doing the things we are today we would have probably laughed and said impossible.
Still today we are doing them and we are still alive.

In the light of our above verse it is interesting to notice what it says. In the natural lines none would forget that there even was a God let alone that life cared. In the spiritual it is some what different. Man can never work out his own eternal salvation according to the Bible. This was done for him through the atoning work on Calvary's cross of shame. So it is no wonder that Christ said these words that day. To lay a

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

The General Council of the United Church, in 1952, set up a commission to deal with religious instruction in public and secondary schools. In its report the commission said "We have had the cordial cooperation of the following Churches — Baptist, Church of England, Disciples, Lutheran and Presbyterian. In particular the help of Rev. A.
Harding Priest, Secretary of the Anglican Board of Christian Education, has been able and untiring."

Later in its report the commission indicated they had found consensus in some quarters lest the teaching of the Bible might lead to a divisive spirit in the schools.
Through the sectarian zeal or prejudices of those who teach.
The fact that the churches above named are co-operating in this work and are seeking the co-operation of other religious bodies reduces this danger to a minimum and assures an emphasis in such teaching on the central truths of our faith.

Another item in the commission report states "We found the Ministers of Education in the provinces and the officials in the Departments of Education in favour of giving Religion its due place, in the schools, and desiring the co-operation of the Churches in this effort. Among many there is a profound conviction side the claims of Christ on your life is to refuse the chance that would make the difference that Jesus spoke about when He said to Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again."

that the inspiration of true religion is needed in our public education, first, to make the teaching of ethics effective in the lives of the pupils, and second, to move our young people to adopt and advocate ideals of citizenship."

These observations are all invaluable to religious education in the schools. They are opinions held by responsible men, in different communions. Just how much the rank and file of the general public is entirely in ac-reement with them remains to be seen.

The problem of religious education in the public schools is most acute among minority groups.
Large demonstrations tend to assume that by virtue of numbers they are entitled to certain privileges. Small groups, such as Jews, Mohammedans or Buddhists in this country represent major religions, but with relatively few followers in this country. Inevitably, to them, religious education cannot be introduced readily as it can be by representatives of the Christian faith. Other groups, professing to be Christian, are also minority groups. Jehosh's Witnesses, Mormons, and others hold views not widely shared by many in this area, but either strongly held or widely maintained in other areas.

There are pitfalls and dangers in the public schools, but a possible rather than a negative approach should be maintained.
And surely Christian charity should mellow some doctrinal problems and ensure harmony.

Alberta Teacher Passes Away In 86th Year

On January 10, Mr. Frederick Osborne Foster of Edson, passed away in St. John's Hospital at the age of 86 years. Mr. Foster was born in Bridgeport, N.S. in 1870. He received his education in Nova Scotia and graduated from Acadia University in 1890 with a B.A. degree later becoming principal of the Truro, N.S., public school.

Mr. Foster came to Edmonton in 1908 where he pioneered in the district as a business man before returning to the teaching profession in 1915. He was principal of the Hardisty school for some time and later principal of the Clareholm school till his retirement in 1936.

With the exception of a few years spent in Vancouver, Mr. Foster has spent his retirement in Edmonton and Lethbridge, residing in Edson for the past one and a half years with his daughter Mrs. Manley Burleigh.

He is survived by four daughters, Miss Frances Foster of Edmonton, Mrs. W. G. Davis of Lethbridge, Mrs. Eric Leeds of Carleton Place, and Mrs. Manley Burleigh of Edson. One sister, Mrs. Annie Troop of Belle Isle, N.S. and by four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, January 13 at the United Church in Edson. The Reverend C. C. Armstrong officiated and interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery.

Miss Stella Burkwell had a good recipe for her wedding cake when she married Mr. W. M. Perkins on December 14, 1905, and she saw no reason to change it when she baked the cake for her 50th wedding anniversary which she celebrated with her husband in Edson last month.

The happily married couple were both born in Ontario and were married in Yellow Grass, Sask., the year that the province was formed. They farmed two sections of land in Saskatchewan from 1905 to 1921, then moved to Kelowna, B.C. in 1921, where they resided until 1929 then they moved to the Edson district where they have lived ever since.

From 1932 to 1945 Mr. Perkins was a tie and lumber inspector with the C.N.R.

The picture on the right was snapped by the Leader photographer as the Perkins cut their 50th wedding cake and the one at the left is their original wedding picture of 50 years ago. The bottom picture shows some of the children, and grandchildren that were able to come to the celebration at Ken Perkins' home on December 14.

They have four children: Kenneth and Orm of Edson; Dorothy (Mrs. Tom Riding) of Edmonton; Madeline (Mrs. Kolb Fousheis) of Edson; and also grandchildren: Marie, Eleanor and Hughie Perkins of Edson; Madly, Jimmy and Shirley Riding of Edmonton; Donald, Bruce and Durven Fousheis of Edson.

Mrs. Ciccarelli Passes In City Hospital

A resident of Edson for 50 years, Mrs. Bellina Ciccarelli, 65, died in hospital in Edmonton, Thursday, January 5.

Mrs. Ciccarelli came to Alberta from Lago di Amante, Italy, in 1905, as the bride of Frank Ciccarelli. The couple lived in the Blainmore and Cross Street area, later moving to Mountain Park. Following this the family lived in Edson and Edmonton. For the past 15 years Mrs. Ciccarelli made her home here on the farm 8 miles east of Edson.

During her residence here she was well known by young and old and was known as Mom by many of the young people who gathered at her home. Mrs. Ciccarelli was a great lover of flowers and enjoyed sharing them with others. She was a member of the Edson Old Timers Association, and as a long time resident of Alberta was awarded a Souther Crosses Scroll at the ceremonies in Edson this summer.

Mrs. Ciccarelli is survived by 4 daughters, V. G. Girardi (Terese), Mr. L. J. Brannick (Mervin), Mrs. F. W. Curtis (Clara) of Edmonton, Miss Frances of Edson, 3 sons, Arthur and Ty of Edson, and Alfred of Edmonton, 1 sister, Mrs. L. Brunel, Bronx, N.Y. U.S.A.; and by 8 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Edson on Wednesday, January 5 at 11:00 a.m. at the Sacred Heart Church. The Rev. L. A. Shalla C.S.B. was celebrant at Requiem High Mass, and interment was made in the family plot in Glenwood Cemetery.

Beautiful spiritual and floral tributes were received from: Loving family; Frances, Art and Ty; Clara and Frank; Terese and Vic; Mickey and Leo; Frankie, Freddy and Fred; Norina, Leonard, Pop and Annmarie Brunel, N.Y.; Rita, Gus and Boys, Prancey, Joey and Pat; Marion, Baltimore, Md.; Richard and Joy; Mr. and Mrs. Carline and Family; Ruby and Grace; Lucy, Tony, Victor and Theresa; Mrs. Tyler, Norma and George; Joe Lavorato, Sons and Families; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carline and Family; Ruth Family.

ALL ABOARD

When this man opened the door of his brand-new car to get out, a strange thing happened. The motor started by itself.

Scratching his head, he closed the door. The engine stopped. He turned the key, and a few moments later the radio started playing. He pressed the starter, and the dome light went on.

The car-owner began to think he had wandered into a Mack Bennett or Danny Kaye comedy.

He tested the other controls of his haunted car. Everything was working backwards. When he fiddled with the electric cigarette lighter, the headlights went on. When he turned on the light switch, the horn blew.

Our man sat back and took a deep breath. "Maybe I just don't live right," he said.

There he was, stranded in a gleaming new, fully automatic 1956 car which seemed to be possessed by gremlins. What next?

He didn't want to open the door again, because the door was apparently hooked to the starter.

And the starter had taken enough beating already.

So he opened the window, climbed out and walked away, looking at the car over his shoulder as if he expected it to follow him.

Meantime to think this thing through, he did some shopping, returned later and climbed back in the window.

He tried the controls again. Same result. So he started the engine by switching on the dome light, and drove to the garage which had sold him the car.

The people at the garage didn't believe him at first. (Neither did I, until I did some checking. But

BETTY DORSTON
All the 4-H girls are back in full swing with their sewing after the holidays. During the holidays the Niton Central 4-H Clubs and Student's Union held a very enjoyable Christmas Party.

The meeting held on January 8th was a business meeting where the Autograph Quilt was discussed. A prize has been offered to the member who brings in the most names to be put on the quilt.

Anyone wishing to have their names put on will please contact any of the 4-H members. This will be done for the small fee of 10 cents per name and the quilt will be raffled at the Achievement Day in the spring.

Shirley McPhee gave a talk on "Eloquence on the Street." A demonstration on curved seams was given by Mary Smith. Myrtle Howlett gave a demonstration on how to cut and sew dummies for the first year members.

The first year members turned in their third article, the laundry bag. The second year members handed in their slips, their second articles.

The third year girls made plans for a special meeting to be held at the home of Lucy Miller, on January 22nd, Monday night, to cut out their blouses.

Jane Kiehlbach gave a report on the Northland Quilted T-shirt sales, which will be raffled soon.

The Club Leaders made an inspection of the project books, looking for up-to-date samples, and warned that a complete project book inspection will be made in a few weeks.

The man gave proof by running through the whole set of mixed signals.

A mechanic opened the electrical system, and found the trouble. Another garage hand, fixing a minor defect in the dome light, had crossed some wires.

The car has now recovered from its nervous breakdown, and it runs perfectly. But the owner says that his faith in the machine age has been gravely shaken.

Happy New Year Everyone!
With the festive season over, Yates has settled back under its blanket of snow, and only those obliged to are venturing out. The holiday visitors have all returned to their respective homes. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pyth returned to family and friends from their Edmonton Christmas week. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dube and family, and Mrs. C. E. Bliton and Katherine Pyth left for B.C. after New Years day.

Due to the shortage of propane, we stand home which is heated and lighted by gas was without after for most of the holidays. Luckily the coal stove is heated with coal and that kept them from freezing up entirely. We Helen Janned millions and her little brothers John Johns in an effort to keep warm.

A number of children have been ill with chicken pox and among them the Gardiner children and Louise and Audrey Melner.

Miss Marie Perkins entertained a group of friends on Friday evening, the occasion being her sixteenth birthday. Counting was with chicken pox and among them the Gardiner children and Louise and Audrey Melner.

Mr. Lloyd Brown plans to extend his visit to the coast until spring. Our guess is that weather reports reaching him from here have caused cold feet.

YATES DISTRICT NEWS

Happy New Year Everyone!
With the festive season over, Yates has settled back under its blanket of snow, and only those obliged to are venturing out. The holiday visitors have all returned to their respective homes. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pyth returned to family and friends from their Edmonton Christmas week. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dube and family, and Mrs. C. E. Bliton and Katherine Pyth left for B.C. after New Years day.

Due to the shortage of propane, we stand home which is heated and lighted by gas was without after for most of the holidays. Luckily the coal stove is heated with coal and that kept them from freezing up entirely. We Helen Janned millions and her little brothers John Johns in an effort to keep warm.

A number of children have been ill with chicken pox and among them the Gardiner children and Louise and Audrey Melner.

Mr. Lloyd Brown plans to extend his visit to the coast until spring. Our guess is that weather reports reaching him from here have caused cold feet.

Heather And Her Mother

Pictured here with her happy mommy, Mrs. Helen Williams, is little Heather Lynn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Williams. Heather Lynn was the first baby born in St. John's Hospital after the New Year, at 7:25 January 2 to be exact, and thus was the recipient of many gifts from local merchants who wanted to help give Edson's little New Year baby a good start in life. Following is the list of donors and their gifts to Heather: Lynn: Mahon Electric, night light; Switzer's Drug Store, $5 merchandise certificate; Grady's Variety, a baby scale; Wilson & Son, $12.00 merchandise certificate; Williams's, slippers; Murray's Drug, Haskins' bottle warmer; Edson General Supply, plastic baby bath tub; E. G. G. and Son, silver cup with engraved name; H. & M. Store, a dozen Kingco diapers; Buy-Rite Foods, a case of Heinz baby food; Gordon's Variety, a carriage cover; Maxwell's Black, $5 merchandise certificate; Edson Photo Service, $10 colored photo during Heather's 1st year; Glenwood General Store, a surprise package of baby needs; Koshel Plumbing & Heating, $5 merchandise certificate; Fawcett Barber Shop is giving a free hair cut to Heather's daddy, and her mom gets a trim, shampoo and set complete; Edson's Beauty Salon and a $5 merchandise certificate from Valdersa Style Shoppe.

Elk's Hold Weekend Bonspiel

The first of what, it is hoped, will be an annual affair took place over the weekend when the Elk's Lodges of Alberta District 13 held their first bonspiel.

District 13 is comprised of the Lodges at Edson, Jasper, Mercoal, Estevie, Gainford and Drayton Valley with four of the Lodges represented in the 'spiel. There were sixteen risks entered comprised of 8 from the Edson Lodge, 4 from Mercoal, 3 from Drayton Valley, 2 from Jasper and 3 from Estevie. Unfortunately the two risks from Estevie were unable to attend due to the play-downs being held there the past weekend for this division of the Northern Alberta Curling Association.

Play got underway here bright and early Saturday morning and was ended by Sunday evening with the risk skipped by Carver Field coming out on top by white washing Saga of Jasper to win the District Deputy's cup.

In the second event, The Exalted Ruler's Competition, both first and second events went to Mercoal with Menny hosting Fox to take home the cup.

Edson risks stole the show in the consolation event, Wells beating Goldstick to win first with Nadurak in the third place and Elouits of Jasper finishing in fourth place.

Saturday evening a party was held in the Elk's Hall for members of the Lodges and Ladies of the Royal Purple.

Presentations of the prizes were made in the Hall on Sunday by Mr. H. A. Switzer, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler.

Mr. Switzer was the donor of the District Deputy's Cup. The Commodore Hotel Co. Ltd. donated the cup for the Exalted Ruler's Competition.

Liberals To Meet Jan. 30

A constituency meeting of the Jasper-Edson Liberal Association has been called for Monday, January 30 at 8:00 in the Legion Memorial Centre.

A speaker from Edmonton is being arranged and all interested are cordially invited to attend.

Old Timer Passes Away

Mr. Herman Upcott of Wabamun well known in the farming area between here and Edmonton, passed away in his 93rd year on January 15.

Rev. W. D. Race will conduct a funeral service on Friday evening, January 20, from Andrews-McLaughlin Chapel in Edmonton and interment will follow on Saturday at 2 pm in the Mahaska Cemetery.

Mr. Upcott is survived by two sons, John of Wolf Creek, and Morley of Wabamun; two daughters, Mrs. Eva Hall of Carrol Creek and Mrs. Ala Linville of Jasper; 13 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers friends may donate to the Crippled Children's Fund.

Mahon Midgets Play Friday

The Mahon Electric midgets are set to clash with the Mercoal high school team on Friday, Jan. 20, at 8:00 in the local arena.

The Edson club will be sporting their new uniforms donated by the Mahon Electric for this game.

This Midget team is the Edson entry in the Provincial playdowns starting about February 15.

Let's have everybody out to see the kids play.

Carrot Creek Bits

Mrs. Mary Beck had her family out from Edmonton over the weekend. There were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Beck, Murray's mother, Mrs. Charles Beck, David Beck and a friend of David's. Mr. and Mrs. Odin Field spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers. Happy birthday, Nellie.

Mrs. Hennie Lytle has returned home after spending the Christmas holidays with her mother in Saskatchewan.

Jim Lytle, Herb Heints and Metro Grayson are busy getting out logs for Joe Kothlisch. It's tough going in the deep snow, eh boys?

Anglican W. I. Presents Gifts

During the course of their January 8th meeting, the Evening Branch of St. Catherine's W. A. made two presentations to members of the Clergy and W. A. who are leaving shortly to take up residence elsewhere.

Gifts were presented to the Rev. George Roblason who leaves the end of January for the Jasper Parish and to Mrs. Gufroy who will be making her new home in Wainwright, Alberta.

Beverly Drakes To Play Here This Weekend

The highly rated Beverly Drakes are to come to Edson to battle the local Athletics this weekend with a game scheduled for Saturday evening at 8:00 and Sunday afternoon at 2:00.

The team plays the same class of hockey as the Barhead and the Burns & Dutton teams who have already crossed sticks with the locals here this year.

Mr. Sam Sutherland of Edmonton is visiting with relations in Edson this week.

House Honored at Party Mr. and Mrs. E. K.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Raven entertained last Saturday evening at their home with a farewell party for Superintendent and Mrs. E. K. House. Mr. House has received a promotion on the CNR and will be moving to Montreal shortly.

During the evening a presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. House on behalf of the friends who had gathered to spend the evening with them. The evening ended with the serving of an after-midnight supper.

How Much Self-Rule?

How much autonomy or self-rule should the modern adolescent or high school child be allowed by his parents? How late should he or she be allowed to stay out on a school (or non-school) night?

How much spending money should they get? If they earn as much as fifteen dollars a week, should the parents dictate how it should be used?

Should they be allowed to have a jalopy and at what age? Can the parent decide when the child should start "dating"? Going steady?

These questions are all timely and suggest many others. The Edson Home and School Association are planning a discussion at their next meeting on these very questions. Interested parents will certainly find much to compare with other interested parents if they attend.

As a pamphlet put out by the Edson group says: "... we cannot close our eyes to the fact that there is a chronic state of minor (or major) warfare at all times between adolescents and their parents—adolescents demanding more freedom of action while parents are fearful of relaxing the control which they exerted when their children were younger."

The brochure goes on to say: "Is there an answer? Perhaps after questions have been raised and discussed in specific areas we may be able to formulate some general statement acceptable to both parents and adolescents."

It's worth a try. Why not attend the next meeting of the Home and School Association.

Winter Employment

The Dominion and Provincial Governments are combining in an effort to beat Canada's perennial winter slack period across Canada.

While the winter in this area generally sees more people employed in the bush and on our biggest single employer here, the CNR, there are other types of workers who find the winter pretty tough sledding. ...

In this class are all the tradesmen who work long hours during the summer season at such trades as carpentry, painting, and odd outside jobs. These same workmen can do your INSIDE work in the winter—a lot easier because they're not rushed off their feet.

We are very happy to see the government authorities recognize this problem for what it is—only a matter of planning our manpower resources so that, we hope, we'll never again find a winter slump building up into a repetition of our experience in the hungry thirties.

During that unhappy decade we had everything in Canada but money. Now with everything, including money, due to a buoyant economy, the props of the Unemployment Insurance Commission AND planning, we shouldn't go hungry again in this country.

Mrs. Sherman, inveterate bird watcher, was doing out a few helpful hints to neighbor Mrs. North.

"Just take the bird taking around up there," she suggested, pointing to a mere speck in the sky. "That's a rook."

"How can you be sure?" inquired Mrs. North. "Well, you can't," admitted Mrs. Sherman. "I think it's a rook, but it must be remembered you can't always tell a rook by its color."

Finally he decided upon one shaggy little pooch who was wagging his tail furiously. Explained Halstead: "I want the one with the happy ending."

At this point his companion took hold of his arm and said, "Oh, no, I'll get it. You bought the lunch."

Boy (returning from school): "Maw, I learned to write today."

Man: "What have you learned to write, son?"

Son: "Don't know yet. Ain't learned to read yet."

He: "I can't understand how a woman can go shopping all day and not buy anything."

She: "And I can't understand how a man can go fishing all day and not catch anything."

Johann's mother had just presented the family with twins.

"If you tell your teacher, I'm sure she'll give you a holiday," advised his father.

Johnny did and returned home radiant. "No school for me tomorrow," he said, proudly.

"You told your teacher about the twins?" asked the father.

"I told her about one," said Johnny. "I'm saving the other till next week."

"I can't understand why he's always bawling crocodile."

"Oh, he married a smashing blonde."

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—The long battle over fluoridation of public drinking water may be nearing an end in Alberta.

The preponderance of evidence that fluorides help to eliminate tooth decay appears to be drawing out the crisis of vociferous minority which opposes the introduction of chemicals into public water supplies.

In Alberta, it has been well over a year since the Research Council made an exhaustive study of the matter and presented a report expressing unconditional approval of fluoridation.

Nothing has been done, but the pressure for action is mounting and the government has been forced to lift slightly the veil of silence it has held over the question since the report was handed down.

Men, Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, indicated last week that something may be done soon one way or the other. With a petition used as a catalyst not disclosing too much, he said the government is giving "careful consideration" to all available information and "may make an announcement within the next month."

It is known that a number of Alberta municipalities are prepared to go ahead with fluoridation as soon as the government will let them, and others are interested in hearing about it.

At least four municipalities—the cities of Edmonton and Lethbridge and the towns of Grande Prairie and Raymond—have submitted requests for enabling regulations. Representatives of other municipalities have made verbal requests.

So far, the health department has been non-committal. But there are high ranking officials within the health department who have studied the evidence amassed in favor of fluoridation, and are anxious to see a start made in Alberta. They have been forced to remain silent, but are hoping public sentiment will be aroused enough to prod the government into action.

The Edmonton and District Dental Society took a crack at it last week by inviting Dr. Cross and five other cabinet ministers to a panel discussion on fluoridation.

One of the main arguments against it is that fluorine is poisonous. The dentists agreed, but said a human would have to drink 450 glasses of fluoridated water at one sitting to be poisoned by it. Another poison added to drinking water is chlorine, to make it safe to drink.

The addition of fluorides to water was compared with the introduction of vitamins A, into butter and B complex in flour.

While most public health officials, and practically all dentists and medical men, agree on it, there are strong indications that fluoridation must overcome a political roadblock before it is accepted in Alberta.

There appears to be something in the philosophy of the Social Credit movement—especially among the fundamentalist Social Credit theorists—which is opposed to fluoridation. They regard it as compulsory, mass medication, and as such are against it. There has undoubtedly been some rousing discussion about it in the Social Credit caucus which could explain the fact that no one spoke about fluoridation at the last session of the legislature.

On the other hand, the Social Credit membership in the house may now be more receptive to the idea than it was a year ago. The election last June eliminated two of the most vocal anti-fluoridationists—Mrs. C. H. Wood, who represented Stony Plain riding, and Wilson Cain, who was defeated in Bow Valley-East.

At every session except the last one, they voted dire warnings about the impending poisoning of the human race, and upheld the right of the individual to drink fluoride-free water.

Technically, the question of fluoridation or not to fluoridate is outside the sphere of the legislature. The government can permit its introduction simply by passing an order-in-council.

The legislature did its part in 1952 by amending the Public Health Act, permitting the Alberta board of health to authorize the introduction of chemicals into public drinking water. However, a clause in the amendment prevented the board taking advantage of the new provision until the Research Council had presented its report on fluoridation.

All that is needed now is an order-in-council establishing regulations for the safe use of fluorides in drinking water.

OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN—At the time of writing, no one knows when hearings will be resumed by the royal commission investigating affairs of the Alberta government.

The chairman, Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald, resigned last week due to ill health. He was to have resumed hearings January 9, but was ordered into hospital and the commission was adjourned until February 23. It has been idle since October 21, when the chairman was confined to his home with a recurrence of a back ailment. Now, his doctors can't say when he will be able to return to work.

HINTON HI-LITES

First Pulp Wood Taken To Hinton Mill Site

The first load of pulp reached the Hinton mill on Monday, January 9 at 2:15 p.m. This pulp had been cut on the roadways into the first of the wood camps. This camp when completed will be operated by Nick Tomkowiak a contractor working for the North Western Pulp and Paper.

His first area that he has to cut from is the area called the green timbers well known to the hunters of Edson and Jasper.

Stan Hart of the Woodlands division says the trees in this area are all old trees, but are very healthy and have none of the rot and disease that trees of ancient vintage would have in Ontario and Quebec.

While on the subject of new camps and the first one is just being built now, we asked Mr. C. E. St. Denis what they would be like, he said there would be shanty, electric lights and running water in each bank house—quite a change from our usual Alberta logger's bank house.

Mr. H. Ankley of Edson is the second contractor who is cutting pulp for the company here near Hinton. His location is on the Anderson road.

The first load of pulp for the mill was not scheduled to arrive at the mill until the first of May, 1956, but the company who sells the pulp, the Great West Lumber Co., was giving a demonstration to the contractors here at the green timbers on Monday and after the trucks were loaded it was a waste of time for them to unload so they brought their loads into the mill as dropped them from there.

The Woodlands Division are experimenting with various types of loaders to find out which will be most suitable to the conditions found here in the Alberta foothills.

This machine used Monday is just a start, but the idea behind it is to take as much of the butt work out of handling pulp as possible. This machine with one side can pick up six cords of pulpwood (2,000 pounds) on a woods road, with the load out to where the trucks are and load it. The machine has four-wheel drive and four-wheel steering. It can handle six cords or one stick.

The position of the pulp cutting camps will be such as to facilitate the moving of the camps as little as possible. All buildings will be built on skids and the cutting will be over a ten month period so the woods workers working year will be extended three to four months on the average which will benefit the economy of the whole population. Our merchants will be able to stock up on lumber as well as wood underneath.

As a point of interest the target at present for the pulp crop in the year 1956 is 200,000 cords with 50,000 cords to be hauled to the mill site.

Will ask Roy Horton the next time we see him. "We're really curious because if it's a gun it's pointed right toward the municipality at trailer camp."

Our other spies report that the "thing" is the very latest in pulp wood gathering and can do everything from easily lifting a stick of pulp wood to putting a cord of the stuff on a truck. Talk about automation.

Ready For Power

The prefab factory which is to work in conjunction with the Athabasca Valley Development Corporation is all ready to go we have been informed by Mr. Peter-son.

All that is now needed is for the power to be hooked up and weather to moderate a little before things can get rolling.

—Saw Bill McGee in town who says the snow out north there is sure deep.

—War in our new post office talking to Norville. He sure made a job of it. It will be a nice place to call for our mail. Bear that one can get their new post office box number just by asking Dorothy for it.

—Saw Jim Eagle of Pedley in talking to our telephone operator. You're not taking her up to Pedley we hope, she is needed too much here.

—Singing Sam, our sandwich man, has been having some trouble with the knee he had wounded during the war. He says it's better now. Hope it doesn't give him any more trouble.

—Russell Taylor was home from Valleyview for the Christmas and New Year's holiday and visited with his mother and sister, Diane.

—Oh yes, in order to get our trailer camp, the pump house was shut down on Monday for a day.

—Helen and George Primack are back from Calgary after their holiday.

—Johnny Bubel back after the holiday, teasing our phone operator as usual.

20 Seismic Crews Here

This year is really an active one for oil exploration in the Hinton and Entrance area.

We understand there are at least 22 outfits working out of Hinton alone. It must mean that the oil boys think there is more than pulpwood in this neck of the woods.

What Is It?

We were down at the mill site on Tuesday and saw a long tubular affair that looked like a forty inch hoist. Asked some of the fellows down there what it was and was told everything from a pedestrian crossing for the Toronto subway that had gone astray to a lime kiln.

Will ask Roy Horton the next time we see him. "We're really curious because if it's a gun it's pointed right toward the municipality at trailer camp."

Our other spies report that the "thing" is the very latest in pulp wood gathering and can do everything from easily lifting a stick of pulp wood to putting a cord of the stuff on a truck. Talk about automation.

Ready For Power

The prefab factory which is to work in conjunction with the Athabasca Valley Development Corporation is all ready to go we have been informed by Mr. Peter-son.

All that is now needed is for the power to be hooked up and weather to moderate a little before things can get rolling.

NOTICE
 DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS
IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 90
 INTENTION TO ADOPT A DEVELOPMENT SCHEME
 TAKE NOTICE THAT THE MINISTERS OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS, being for the purpose of the TOWN AND RURAL PLANNING ACT, 1953, the Council of Improvement District No. 90, proposes to make an order (in the nature of a bylaw) to adopt a Development Scheme in accordance with the provisions of the said Act.

PURPOSE OF DEVELOPMENT SCHEME
 The adoption of the Development Scheme by this order will enable the Council to acquire certain lands in, and adjacent to the hamlet of Hinton, for the purpose of assembling these lands with other lands already held by the Council at this location, so that the whole area so assembled may be developed in an orderly and economical fashion as a Township.

COPY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION
 A copy of the proposed order and details of the Development Scheme, together with a map showing the lands referred to therein, will be deposited at the Administration Office, Hinton, and at room 431, Natural Resources Building, Edmonton, and may be inspected thereon and after January 23rd, 1956, at either of these places at all reasonable hours.

PUBLIC HEARING
 At 2:30 p.m. on Thursday, the 23rd day of February, 1956, the Council will cause a public hearing to be held at the LEGION HALL, Hinton, at which any person may make objections and representations with regard to the proposed order and Development Scheme.

DATED at Edmonton this 13th day of January, 1956.
 Signed,
 A. W. MORRISON,
 Deputy Minister. 38-61

Robb Bakery
Moved To Hinton
 Bud and Nellie Ford have now completed the gigantic task of moving their bakery from Robb to Hinton. Even if the actual road trip only took 8 days the getting ready for the building to be moved started on November 20 and the setting down here is completed. They're opening on the 15th of January, in just under two months has been quite the feat. The building measures twenty

Mr. G. K. Greene To Attend Choral This Week

The Edson Choral Group began a new year of activities last Friday evening when they met for the first time since their course of music leadership under the direction of Mr. Gordon Greene ended before Christmas.

With most of the original members turning out, as well as a sprinkling of new ones, plans were discussed for the group's future and a few songs were run through to round out the evening.

Original members will be glad to welcome Mr. Greene back when he conducts the Choral Group practice this Friday night, January 20.

The time will be 8:00 p.m. in the Parish Hall as usual. All members and prospective members are urged to attend at this time.

feet by fifty-five and is twenty feet high. From the time they started their move the temperatures have fallen as low as forty five below and have not come above freezing. The plot of land they had the building on at Robb was fairly level but here the front end is touching the ground and the rear is about six feet above the ground.

Thanks to Ben Schandling mill over north of the river they were able to get enough shavings untraced and to, to insulate against the frost coming in under the building.

Now owing to their fortune we will have the pleasure of being able to patronize a modern bakery in our town during the rest of the long winter.

Wed in Quiet Ceremony

St. Catherine's Anglican Church was the setting for a quiet wedding on January 6 at 4 p.m., when Miss Grace Neufeld daughter of Mrs. Anne Neufeld of Edson, became the bride of Mr. Jorgen Jorgensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Jorgensen of Denmark.

Reverend George Robinson performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Don Buck.

For her nuptials the bride chose a floor length gown of tulle and tulle with Chantilly lace wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her attendant, Mrs. Wes Hollingshead, R.N., wore a floor length gown of yellow tulle and tulle with a brocade jacket. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Mr. Wes Hollingshead attended the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Neufeld wore a dress in blue-grey shade with green accents and corsage of pink carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride which was attended by twenty guests. Toast to the bride

Five Minutes A Day
Just a thought for those who consider God their friend! Do you treat Him as your friend, spend time with Him, talk to Him, listen to Him, invite Him into your work and play?

If we are really to know God as a friend, naturally we must spend time with Him. It would be possible, wouldn't it, to find five minutes out of twenty-four hours (1440 minutes) to spend with our Lord?

You can do this at any time and in any place you choose, and it doesn't much matter what you do or say; you can talk to Him or read about Him, or just be quiet at His feet. And if you aren't conscious of His presence at all, still be quiet there, in case He may say any thing to you.
For five minutes, today. And then do it again tomorrow.

OVER THE
Pastors Desk
REV. L. B. HALLIWELL
Stand Firm in Your Faith
1 Corinthians 15:13
It has been said that a horse that is ridden can overtake one that is running wild. His untamed develops his speed and his rider gives it direction. A man's submission to Christ does not weaken his manhood rather the discipline of living under Christ's direction cultivates his powers and gives them meaning and purpose.
Paul, the writer, knew what it was to have desires that at times seemed to threaten to overcome the good that was present in his nature.
At all times there was the contention that was needed to get it under so that at no time was he ever unsubmitive to the God that called him from Saul the persecutor to Paul the apostle.
The development of the true man or woman is possible only when our spirit is brought into conscious union with God. Then, and then only, can our bodies and minds rise to their full height and cultivate all their powers.

Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

A worship service to be of special interest to carter is scheduled for the evening of January 22, in Edson United Church. Scripture is silent about the game itself, but it has much to say about the opponent's rock. So it is that lag knows that the game is one that can and frequently does provide situations where character is severely flung that something should be said relative to cutting and in a worship service.
For those not familiar with the personnel of a "risk" a brief character study is in order. The lead-off man, known as the lead, is a very humble soul. He speaks only when spoken to, and must always address the others as "sir." He dwells in the outer darkness, on the rocks, and is allowed other little tasks suitable to one of low degree.
The second is a former lead, who may speak freely to the lead or to the third. He is also allowed to form his own opinion of the quality of sweeping to be done, and the speed of the rocks, but may have no vote on the strategy of the game. He may however confide his opinions to the third, when he needs to respect but not always to obey.
The third is a very experienced man. He is the supreme strategist of the game, and is constantly amazed by and deplores the tactics of the ship. He dreams of the days when he himself becomes the commander-in-chief. At home he is permitted to outline the various positions reached in the previous evening game, and to indicate where the ship made the wrong play. This must be accepted by his wife with all the respect usually given to her husband.

The skip inhabits the Sanctum Sanctorum known as "the house." He never misses the target or the proper weight, and any apparent mistakes are really caused by ice heaved by the frost rather than rocks heaved by the ship. His remarkable powers of strategy are shown by the number of ways he can figure out to raise his opponent's rock, thus constantly allowing him to score. He is a true gentleman at heart, but has played so much that he himself has a heart of stone.
In spite of the characters who play the game, the game itself has a fascination for many of us. Of all the major sports it is the freest from professionalism, and constantly humbles the pride of all its followers. It provides many an opportunity to show the meaning of Christian sportsmanship. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. The time of the hearing is Sunday January 22, in the Edson United Church.

In this dollar hungry world, his attitude is rare.

But Mr. Pipe has no talent which is unique. He buys warts, I know he does, because he bought three warts from me, 20 years ago.

"I was a youngster at the time, and those warts on my fingers were a nuisance. Someone advised me to sell them to Oliver Pipe. I rode about 10 miles on a bicycle to someone's house, and he wasn't there, and I had to ride another 10 miles before I found him in someone's barn, where he was working.

He paid me one cent for each wart. I asked him whether there was anything else to do. Any magic words? No, he said. He had bought the warts, and that was all. About a week later, the warts vanished. You won't believe it, but they did. I make no claims about witchcraft. I merely state the facts.

Back in the old home town recently, I ran into Oliver again, for the first time since that transaction.

"Did you really buy those warts?" I asked him.

"It's a mystery," he said. "In England there was a man who used to thatch ricks and cottages. Smith the thatcher. I had some warts on my hand, and he said 'I'll give you a halfpenny apiece for them.'"

"And they went away," said Oliver Pipe. "So I tried it myself, and I've been buying warts ever since."

What does he do with the warts? Nothing. "I suppose there isn't much market for them," I said. He made no reply.

Oliver Pipe is a short, thickset man, and in his prime he was a champion boxer of railway ties. He cut them with a broad-axe.

Nowadays he likes to write verses, and sing his own songs. He sang one plaintive number on request. "There's a maiden's sweet voice calling, in the valley so dear to my heart," it ran, and there were several other verses, all of equal merit.

We were in a cafe at the time. The patrons sat around grinning.

He was wearing a shawl or sweater of many colors, and I learned that he had made it himself, by using darning stitches as crochet needles.

The most remarkable thing about Oliver Pipe, however, is not his crocheting or his songs or his war-buysing. It's the fact that he is happy and he doesn't give a darn for anyone. He shaves when he feels like it, he says what he pleases, and when he tires of anyone's com-

BIG YEAR

1955 again proved to be a big and busy year for Canada

And in the 851 branches of The Royal Bank of Canada—from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Goose Bay, Labrador, from Paris, France, to Victoria, B.C., from Fort Radisson on the Arctic Circle to Havana, Cuba—the hectic economic pace was matched by increased calls on the services of Canada's largest bank.

At teller's window, at accountant's desk, in manager's office, over 14,500 Royal Bank people were busy handling with speed and care the myriad banking needs of our fast-growing country.

As a result, The Royal Bank of Canada again this year established a number of new high marks, not only in its own history but in the history of Canadian banking.

Hattonford F.U.A. local No. 570 held their January meeting at Niton old school on January 7. Thirty-five farmers of the Niton and Hattonford districts were present.

Mr. E. A. Rear, the president, was in the chair.

The foreman, Mr. Mattson, reported the membership to date of 41, and more are expected.

Mr. Mike Kokotovich gave a very interesting report on the annual F.U.A. convention in Edmonton.

The Hattonford local decided to offer a Scholarship of $25.00 to the student in grade 12 at Niton Central School with the highest standing who intends to take further education in a university, college or school.

Next meeting to be held at the Hattonford Hall February 4th at 8:00 p.m.

Barbara Shand, who played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Marjorie Dumbay as she sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of nylon net and lace over satin with the strapless bodice being modified by a lace bolero styled with sequin trimmed collar. Her finger tip veil fell from a headress of sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Maxine Shand, and her cousin, Miss Gertrude Forsythe, who wore identical gowns of pastel blue net over satin and headresses of sequin trimmed, pleated net. They carried colonial bouquets.

Groomsmen were Thornton Mackay, brother of the groom, from Prince George, B.C. and Jack Robinson of Carrot Creek, Utah. The guests were, Donald Shand and Robert Mackay.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Shand wore a dressmaker suit of dark green and black with black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Mackay was attired in a silver grey silk dress with black velvet bolero and black accessories accented by a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Commodore Banquet Room which was attended by 80 guests. Uncle of the bride, Mr. Chris Nelson was toastmaster. Trust to the bride was proposed by another uncle of the bride, Mr. Ernie Shand, and responded to by the groom. A wedding dance was held in the evening in the Mackay Hall.

For travelling to their new home in Prince George, B.C. the bride wore a white fleeced, black box style suit with blue accessories.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, Edwistle, Donald Shand, Cold Lake and Thornton Mackay, Prince George, B.C.

Miss Liz Kehler Leaves P.O. Staff

Miss Elizabeth Kehler ended four years service with the Edson Post Office on Saturday, January 14, to begin a new career, when she is married in Chilliwack, B.C., on February 4.

On the occasion of her retirement she was presented with a letter by Postmaster, Mr. C. Edgson, on behalf of the P.O. staff.

Miss Kehler has been replaced at the full time basis by Mr. Vic Harrison who has been a part of the Legion Memorial Centre for time staff member for some time.

On Friday, January 13, Miss Kehler was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower which was held at the home of Mrs. Shirley Madiak. Entertainment for the evening was the making of a bride's book by the twenty or more guests. Miss Kehler was presented with many lovely gifts for which she thanked all and made the customary wish as she opened each gift.

Pasteurization By-Law To Be Put At Annual Election

The third reading of the pasteurization by-law at the regular meeting on Tuesday, January 17, compelling all milk sold within the town of Edson to be pasteurized, set the preliminary stage for the plebiscite on the question of the annual election of the commissioners on Monday, March 6.

Another interesting motion was that of dividing the various insurance policies held by the Town among the three general agents operating from regular business premises in the Edson business section.

Present: Mayor Bursleigh, Councillors Kortmann, Mahon, McIntyre, Nigro and Tucker.

It was moved that approval of Council be granted to placing of overhanging sign at premises lot 2, block 16, on submission proper indemnity undertaking by Mr. J. Woywika.

It was moved that Wilson & Wilson be advised that service water main to Canadian Film property cannot be connected to existing Town main on 4th Ave., nor excavations done in immediate area until after spring thaw.

It was moved that Mayor and Secretary be authorized to make transfer of title to Mr. N. Herbut of lot 9, block 180, on substantial completion of house.

It was moved that the Council agree to proceed with the cancellation of Plan 3750 A.E. on the undertaking of North Canadian Oil to pay all the necessary fees and costs of such cancellation.

It was moved that balance of payment to Union Tractor Ltd. Cont. on page 10

Two Pulp Mills

NORMAN WILLMORE announced another pulp mill for Alberta at Whitecourt this week. The new plant is to be kraft paper and integrated wood products mill.

An announcement of particular interest to Edson in its hub attention is the area west of Edson was that issued by the Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, regarding the proposed building of a pulp and other wood products mill at Whitecourt, 60 miles north of Edson.

According to the announcement released by Mr. Willmore, the Government, "after carefully considering a number of applications has entered into negotiations with Astor Wood Products of Edmonton for the purpose of concluding an agreement for a forest management license in the Whitecourt area."

Basic conditions for the proposed agreement will be:

1. The establishment of an integrated operation proposed by the company which will include a pulp mill for the production of kraft and plans for the production of other wood products.
 2. The proposed operation will be on a sustained yield basis and will be designed to eliminate waste and to achieve the maximum utilization of the timber.
- Mr. Willmore states that the officials and engineers of the company are presently carrying on negotiations with his Department and if negotiations can be successfully concluded it will be the first fully integrated operation in Alberta for the manufacture of wood products.

President of the company is Mr. W. D. Zeldner and Mr. M. A. Miles is vice-president, both of Edmonton. The initial capital expenditure by the company is estimated to be approximately twenty million dollars.

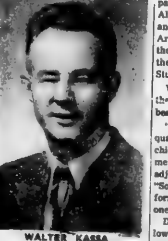

The company is planning to use all Alberta or Canadian capital and will probably have its head office in Edmonton.

The term "integrated operation" with reference to woodlands means the use of every possible bit of forest product for some commercial purpose.

The production of kraft paper has been mentioned in the negotiations and this will make the operation somewhat different from the Hinton mill which plans to manufacture bleached sulphate pulp of a high grade for export mainly to the United States.

The negotiations are of real interest to us here in Edson as it is quite possible that the houses may come quite close to us on their southern borders.

Edson Boy Acclaimed Actor

pared to the great English actor Alec Guinness after his performance in the title role of "Mr. Arcularis" presented last week at the Alberta drama festival by the University of Alberta Alumni Studio A.

Walter was named winner of the best actor award and the best visual presentation award.

"The pathos, poetry, dramatic quality that Walter Kassa achieved as Mr. Arcularis reminded me very much of Alec Guinness," adjudicator Pamela Stirling said. "So much depended on his performance, and he didn't let anyone down."

During and immediately following his school years in Edson, Walter was active in the Edson Figure Skating Club and very early in his teens displayed that sense of balance and poise that are so essential to anyone appearing before the public.

Congrats Walter.

Mother To Hear Daughter Play In Carnegie Hall

Mrs. V. Kupfman, who came to Edson from Estonia with her husband and their family shortly after World War II, is going to New York to visit her daughter Mrs. Irene Tatar, of Lynn Brook, N.Y.

Mrs. Tatar is an accomplished harpist and the day after her mother arrives she will be appearing in a concert in the famous Carnegie Hall in New York City.

Mrs. Tatar's husband is a colonel with the Russian Pops Orchestra which is currently on tour throughout the United States.

Speaker Scores Complacency Of Voters

Mrs. J. F. T. Embre, president of the national Federation of Liberal Women, scored the complacency of the average voter and party supporter in Canadian politics, when she addressed a banquet meeting of the Edson Ladies Liberal Association and their gentlemen in the Commodore Banquet room on Thursday evening last.

Speaking briefly on the influence women have on husband and family and the necessity of being active in liberalism and peace, Mrs. Embre, said that the main thing that held back progress was complacency.

She said that the watchword of the Liberal party should be unity, security and liberalism.

Under the Liberal government, said the speaker, the people's Mahon Midgets To Be Host To Edmonton Jrs.

The Mahon Electric sponsored entry in the Alberta Junior Hockey Playdowns, the Mahon Electric Midgets, play hosts next weekend, Saturday, February 4, to the Edmonton Westwood Midgets.

Game time will be earlier than usual in the Edson Arena, at 7:45, to allow the visitors to get home in good time.

The Midgets were well pleased with the turnout at last Friday's game and are hoping your support will be as strong for this coming game, which will be an example of what they will be up against in the Provincial Playoffs, which will take place next month.

The game should be a good one and the kids merit your support so be sure and be in attendance.

No Need For Delay

Up until the end of 1955 (after which the privilege was discontinued) over sixty ratepayers of the Town of Edson paid $6.00 to the Department of Municipal Affairs representative here in Edson to get the so-called "dollar-a-day" hospitalization protection offered through the local improvement districts in this area.

There had been a loophole in the hospitalization act or the municipal act which allowed town ratepayers who knew about the possibility of cheap hospitalization to make use of this social service.

Sixty out of the 500 odd ratepayers in Edson Town felt that the Provincial Government's dollar-a-day scheme was worth taking advantage of and sent or brought in their six dollars.

Only a minority of Edson Town's ratepayers knew this protection was available at such a nominal fee. It is logical to assume that had other ratepayers known about this benefit they would have taken advantage of the scheme.

Previously the Council has proceeded with caution in this matter until all the facts in the matter were clear. The facts and the costs were cleared up by Mr. R. C. McGregor of the Department of Veterans Affairs at the regular meeting of the Edson Board of Trade on Friday evening.

It is quite apparent from what Mr. McGregor told the B. of T. members that the average ratepayer is only going to have to pay slightly more than eight or ten dollars per year on his taxes to get this same protection on hospitalization enjoyed in the local improvement districts.

The scheme is not really a "dollar-a-day" one but actually a dollar-sixty-a-day plan because of the higher costs prevailing now than when the original dollar-a-day contracts were signed with various Alberta hospitals.

The plan is available at modest cost to the ordinary ratepayer (the large property owner will have to pay something like two mills on his real property) and makes available to Edson a Provincial subsidy for hospitalization that is not forthcoming any other way.

We do not think that the re-election rumblings of a Federal-Provincial scheme should be counted on too seriously. And even if the provinces and the dominion should find a common ground for agreement, Edson's ratepayers will still have had the protection enjoyed by their farm neighbors in the local improvement districts.

We think the Council should add this important question to the agenda of the annual public meeting in the Legion Memorial Centre on Monday evening, February 13. We feel sure the reaction will be very favorable. Then the new Council in March should lose no time in implementing this protection for Edson citizens.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

"You say he has no respect for age?"
 "No. Not unless it's bottled." *

An over-enthusiastic Edsman was hauled into court, charged with catching 18 more trout than the law allows. Guilty or not guilty? asked the judge.
 "Guilty," the young man admitted.

"Ten dollars and costs," announced the judge.
 The defendant paid the fine, then asked cheerfully, "And now, four Honor, may I have several copies of the court record to take back to show my friends?" *

Inspection on a tombstone: Here lies an athlete, all dressed up and no place to go. *

In the flight kitchen of a big airline service they estimate that the passengers travel about 35 miles while they try with their appetites, 110 miles while they eat the main course, 40 miles for the salad, and 55 more during dessert. In other words, a single dinner goes a long way—230 miles. *

"Uncle Herbert" implored little Johnnie, "for my birthday this year I'd like another steam drum just like the one you gave me last year."
 "I'm glad my last present was such a hit," beamed the uncle. "What made you like it so much?"

Johnnie explained, "Daddy gave me 10 cents every week not to beat it." *

It's tough for an honest cable to eke out a living in New York. While visiting the big city one time, a Kentucky matron left her pocketbook, stuffed with currency, in a taxi. The driver suddenly appeared in the driver's seat, had entered and gave her her bag. Untroubled, she rewarded him with a $10 tip. But when he returned to his vehicle, he found it planted with a $15 parking ticket. *

"Little boy, I hate to tell you, but last night at the party your sister promised to become my wife. Can you forgive me for taking her away?"
 "Hek, that's what the party was for."

An old man heard about some pills that would reduce his youth. He bought a box, but instead of following directions and taking one every day, he swallowed the handful at a single dose the first night.

When morning came, the family had great difficulty waking the old man. At last he rolled over, rubbed his eyes, and said, "All right, all right, I'll get up, but I'm not going to kindergarten."

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON—The royal commission investigating affairs of the Alberta government, adjourned since last October 21, was in the news again last week.
 Premier Manning announced the appointment of James C. Mahaffy, Calgary lawyer, as chairman, succeeding Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald of the supreme court, who resigned because of illness.

Actually, Mr. Mahaffy's appointment is more of a promotion. When the commission was set up late last summer, the government chose him as commission counsel, and his job was to use that every available bit of evidence was presented to the commission.

From September until the adjournment in October, Mr. Mahaffy worked as commission counsel, and his familiarity with the investigation to date was cited as a main factor in the government's choice. As the premier explained it, the appointment provides for continuity. The commission, with its new chairman, can take up where Mr. Justice Macdonald left off.

There is also the factor that other supreme or district court judges were available. But if a man unfamiliar with the investigation had been appointed, it probably would have meant starting over again from scratch.

Shortly after his appointment was announced, Mr. Mahaffy revealed that hearings will resume in Edmonton February 27—about two weeks after the 1956 session of the legislature begins.

Premier Manning also announced that William Morrow, Edmonton barrister, has been named commission counsel. During the hearings, he acted as assistant commission counsel under Mr. Mahaffy.

It was also announced last week that before submitting his resignation, Mr. Justice Macdonald cleared up an important question which was left hanging when he was confined to his home with a back ailment and forced to adjourn the hearings.

The question was whether the commission should investigate loans granted by the provincial treasury branch to corporations in which members of the legislature are directors or shareholders.

A ruling issued by Mr. Justice Macdonald and four other commission members said the terms of reference of the commission would not permit investigation into the affairs of any corporation.

The inclusion of loans to companies was requested by J. V. H. Hilda, counsel for the Alberta Liberal Association, on the last day of the hearings. He argued that MLA's should not be immune to investigation by reason of descent.

ing "in the guise" of a corporation.
 S. J. Helman, counsel for government, objected on the ground that the terms of reference did not permit investigation of companies. He referred to a section of the terms designed to protect the interests of treasury branch companies, restricting the probe to members of the legislature.

Mr. Mahaffy, as commission counsel, supported Mr. Helman's motion.

When the commission adjourned, it had finished hearing evidence regarding the awarding of highway contracts, and was working on treasury branch loans to MLA's. Both matters were hot issues in last summer's election campaign.

Mr. Mahaffy, who has practiced law in Calgary since 1928, is a veteran when it comes to royal commission work but this is the first time he has been chairman of one.

In 1947, he was named commission counsel for the famous royal commission investigation into child welfare in Alberta. In 1952, he was counsel for the commission appointed to study flooding of the Bow River. He also is a former member of the investigation, elected in 1946 as an independent member for Calgary.

Racing controversies are nothing new under the dome of the Alberta Legislative Building in Edmonton. But the one under way right now has nothing to do with politics.

As a matter of fact, the dome itself is the centre of the controversy, and particularly what's going on under it. Workmen are redecorating the vaulted ceiling in the massive main rotunda. And the colors they're using are deep sherry red, green and brown instead of the white which has been there since the building opened in 1912.

Old time civil servants are indignant, claiming the appearance of the rotunda is being ruined. But the architect responsible, L. G. Macdonald, says "wait and see." He says much fine plaster ornamentation is lost in the white, and believes when it is finished visitors will notice the dome for the first time.

Wife: "Work hard and some day your ship will come in."
 Husband: "Well I hope it's here while I'm still able to navigate."

Husband: "I'll have you know that old pillow is a part of me. Where it goes I go."
 Wife: "Wait, don't forget to close the lid after you're in the dustbin."

—Heard Jack Tymann and Harold Winters of the Federal Equipment discussing the dope we had in the paper last week on the pulploading machine in use at the Park Gate. Guess we sort of over-iced it. It only takes one cord at a time and has a thousand pound lift, but it still pretty good.

were Denis Kilba and Dan Barn. Then as we were passing the hotel one of the patrons who had a little more than enough, was sleeping on the porch. One of him there so he went outside and found somebody with a car and asked them to take the chap home. In a booming, bustling place like this it is sure also to see our people taking care of each other in the true pioneer fashion.

—One of our younger matrons who has just moved into Hinton was down shopping on Saturday. On her way home she missed her turn and ended up on the recreation field. Guess Eric Potter should get a few more sign out.

—Have met quite a few visitors coming into our town lately from the two Nelson brothers from Port Arthur, Ontario, who are pulp-cutting contractors back East. Also Bill Switzer's brother-in-law of Oils, Alberta, Sid McLeod of course. Sid having been raised at Cadomin, is an excited native returning home with all the ex-colonialities that we have here.

—Well the plumbers from Coonsteele installed the new electric pump in the pump-house. While installing it they also changed the length of the pipe going down the well and the water now comes out crystal clear and gives us the best drinking water in the country.

—Saw Hans, at eleven thirty Wednesday evening, carrying his bed on his back and heading down to his shack. Now he has coal to heat his house he can sleep at home again.

—Nels Johnson is looking after the pump-house now and water is available seven days a week from 8 in the morning till 6 at night. Of course if anyone is real thirsty for water outside these hours Nels can be found in his house right opposite the development office.

—Saw George Stady and George Yoman discussing the relative merits of various types of earth moving equipment. TD's I believe, up to 19 and Torque and non-Torque. I wonder if they are talking in code because I sure couldn't make much sense out of it.

—Saw Vessel of Nipawin, who has been up here all winter working for Ankermann Construction, has now headed home for a couple of weeks to his family. Bud says he will be back soon and this time he'll bring the family with him.

—Have a grievance against the AGT. When our regular operator takes time off the substitute should be easy on the eyes, and even if Fred does give us free smokes it still does not compensate for the change.

Legion Social Evening Feb. 4

Members of the Hinton Branch of the Canadian Legion are planning to hold a social evening in the Legion hall on Saturday evening, February 4, commencing at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Grever has typed all the tickets up and they are now out for sale. Art Dunn has them for entrance and north of the river. Allen Grever, George Brown, and Vic Worobetz, Earl Kellerman and Shorty Joblin have them for the Hinton and Bliss area.

Bring the white out for a night falls.

Sunday School Teachers Needed

Mrs. Ray Fuller has asked us if we will put out an appeal for three Sunday school teachers for the United Church Sunday school.

Classes are being held for the five and six year olds, but none for the other age groups.

The explorer group of the United Church meet in Mrs. Harper's house on Monday evenings.

Don't Leave Kiddies In Car

With the warm spell coming on, our local medical office is warning that parents should beware of leaving their children in a running car.

This can be very dangerous especially with a wind blowing from the rear of the car which tends to force the poisonous gas back under the car and up through the floor.

Don't take a chance folks!

Look Over Pulp Mill

District Supr. R. Graham of the CNR and a large party were in Hinton this week looking over the progress on the pulp mill to date.

Dante Rumour says they are the folks who are going to build the projected mill at Whitecourt.

Legion Elect Pro Tem Slate

A meeting of the Hinton Branch of the Canadian Legion was held on January 13 and a temporary executive committee was elected to look after the affairs of the Legion for the next three or four months.

Chairman is George Brown and members are Shorty Joblin, Art Dunn, Vic Worobetz and Allen Grever. Earl Kellerman is retaining the job of secretary-treasurer.

The meeting also decided that the heating of the hall is to be improved and the broken windows fixed. This has to be done before the social evening on February 4.

A new furnace has been ordered and maybe folks won't have to dance in their overcoats and coats again, after its in of course.

NOTICE
DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS
IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 55
INTENTION TO ADOPT A DEVELOPMENT SCHEME
THE NOTICE THAT THE MEMBERS OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS being for the purpose of the TOWN AND RURAL PLANNING ACT, 1923, the Council of Improvement District No. 55, proposes to make an order (in the nature of a by-law) to adopt a Development Scheme in accordance with the provisions of the said Act.

PURPOSE OF DEVELOPMENT SCHEME
The adoption of the Development Scheme by this order will enable the Council to acquire certain lands in, and adjacent to the hamlet of Hinton, for the purpose of assembling these lands with other lands already held by the Council at this location, so that the whole area so assembled may be developed in an orderly and economical fashion as a Township.

COPY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION
A copy of the proposed order, and details of the Development Scheme, together with a map showing the lands referred to therein, will be deposited at the Administration Office, Hinton, and at 431 Natural Resources Building, Edmonton, and may be inspected on and after January 23rd, 1956, at either of these places at all reasonable hours.

PUBLIC HEARING
At 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, the 26th day of February, 1956, the Council will cause a public hearing to be held at the LEGION HALL, Hinton, at which any person may make objections and representations with regard to the Scheme and Development Scheme.

DATED at Edmonton this 13th day of January, 1956.
"Signed,"
A. W. MORRISON,
Deputy Minister. 30-34

NOTICE
This is the season of the year when throughout the land town meetings and church meetings are to be held. The U.C. meeting by the way, will be held in Edson United Church, Monday, February 6th, at 8:00 p.m. You will no doubt find word about the town meeting elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

It is quite true that some of the things discussed at these meetings are of a routine nature. Nevertheless it is also true that matters of vital concern are not only discussed but decisions determining action are also made. Neither the office-holders nor the ordinary members should underestimate the importance of these meetings.

If a few people are left to conduct the business, and the great majority are absent in body and only more or less present in the spirit, the inevitable result is administrative anarchy, apathy and indifference.

One of the major issues confronting the United Church both locally and nationally is that of meeting needs of an expanding community. Nearly three hundred families, approximately 1200 people in this district, are members of adherents of the United Church, and the number is increasing year by year. If the town fathers implement legislation designed to attract more citizens, then both the churches and the town council have to take steps to care for the needs, either spiritual, educational or whatever else they may be. It is therefore to attend these meetings. Failure to do so means a vote to close the church and abandon the township.

Of course among it's various uses it is made suitable for that one job.

The other evening, accompanied by the lady of the manor, I went to a banquet followed by an address by a lady very much interested in politics. During the course of the evening it was pointed out that a large percentage of the electorate fail to vote, and we were accordingly urged to make sure that we did our duty as citizens and vote.

By and large people both in the church and life are inclined to a lackadaisical attitude. Unless there is some major issue to be solved, some really contentious matter to be discussed, little interest is shown. The theory seems to be that if it isn't worth causing it isn't worth discussing either. As a result, elections and meetings come and go and very few attend the meetings or care for their vote.

MacKay Pucksters Take Evansburg

The MacKay hockey team defeated and outlasted Evansburg High School team by a resounding 13-1 score, Thursday night. It was the first game of the season for the Evansburg young store who should show to much better advantage with a few more games played.

The score was a respectable 3-1 after the first period was played and 6-1 at the end of the second. In the third period, the roof fell in on the "Burg" team as the heavier and more experienced MacKay team scored seven times without a reply.

The game was cleanly played but was rather slow and scrubby in the final stages. Gordie Jerry Hadley was the busiest player all night as the MacKay players swarmed all over him.

Scores for MacKay were: Griffiths with 4, Kuhnert with 3, Duris with 3, Dye 1, Bill Hewins 1, and Bud Mossman 1.

Wille Cadre got credit for the lone Evansburg marker in the first period.

Entwistle H.S. Curlers Win Playdown

Left to right the Entwistle boys are: Keith Hoople 2nd; Larry Sullivan 3rd; Keith Nelson, skip; and Roy Lundquist, lead. The young sportsmen go on to the city this coming week.

In the High School Playdowns for the Edson area held last Saturday in the Edson curling rink, Entwistle emerged the winner in a round-robin series with Jasper and Edson. Entwistle took the opening game from Edson 14 to 8.

Edson came back to take the second game from Jasper by a wide margin, 10 to 4. In a reversal of form in the third game Jasper held Entwistle to a 6-0 tie. This left Entwistle with a win and a tie, Edson with a win and a loss, and Jasper with a tie and a loss.

On the basis of For and Against scores, respectively, Entwistle had 20 - 14, Edson 18 - 18 and Jasper 10 - 16.

This weekend, January 27 and 28, Entwistle is playing off with other Northern Alberta high schools in Edmonton.

Personnel of the rinks follows: reading from skip to lead: Entwistle: Keith Nelson, Larry Sullivan, Keith Hoople, and Roy Lundquist.

Jasper: Harold Hystad, Leonard Worsfold, Allan Clark, and Jerry Trueman.

Edson: David France, Bob Smith, Nicky Stakich, and Doug Deskins.

By Miss Betty Durston

The Niton Central 4-H Clothing Club held their weekly meeting in the new school on Friday, Jan. 13.

The roll call was answered with "A Do for a Girl on a Date."

We welcomed some new members from Log Cabin.

Sharon Cundict gave a talk on "Care of underclothes" and Lucy Miller gave a talk on "Prewash and poultice."

June Kiehlbauch and Mary Smith gave a talk on "How short and tall people should dress."

A demonstration on "Hand made buttonholes" was given by Anna Poudrier.

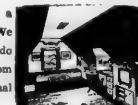

Marilyn Archibald gave a demonstration on "Cutting corners." The first year girls made their double samples on the sewing machine.

The second year members started their handmade buttonholes for their project book sample. Anna Poudrier led a singing which was enjoyed by all.

Busy Year Ahead For Jasper Chamber of Commerce

Jasper—The 1956 season of the Jasper Chamber of Commerce was opened by the regular monthly meeting on January 10, with an attendance of thirty-four. The newly elected President, Mr. P. Mohr, extended a hearty welcome to all members present and introduced the visitors.

There were two important matters of public interest reported in the minutes of the executive meeting. The first concerned the letter written to the McIntyre Board of Trade and Hon. R. G. Willison in regard to making provision to keep the West Highway opened during the winter months beyond Yellowhead. The next was the request to the Alberta Government Telephone to provide a suitable phone booth, equipped with directories from as many places as possible, in a convenient location for the use of tourists during the summer months.

Mr. Mohr reported that the Park Finding Committee on the National Parks Act was continuing its research and would present a brief of its findings to the Government Authorities at Ottawa as soon as possible.

One of the most important matters of business was the president's announcement of the committees appointed for the years work, and their functions and aims. They are as follows:

1. Economic Development: This committee will give reports on general economic conditions, sources of income to Jasper, such as Government institutions, colleges, or military training camps.

2. Road Development: This committee will be concerned with the continued development of the of tourists during the summer months.

Edmonton Jasper and Yellowhead Highways. Also attempt to obtain the support of the Parks Department in improving the scenic drive and fire trails for the use of tourists as well as keeping the Jasper-Banff Road open for year round traffic.

3. Tourist attraction Development: The function of this committee will be to encourage all activities which will serve to attract tourists to Jasper such as: A Pageant, Historical Days, Establishment of a Museum, The Jasper Rodeo and the improvement of fishing.

4. Publicity of Chamber of Commerce Activities: Monthly reports of the Chamber will be sent to the papers so the people of the community may be kept informed of the work that is being done on their behalf.

5. Membership and Attendance: The members of the committee will work to increase public interest in the Chamber of Commerce with the people.

6. Financing and assessment of local citizenry: This committee will endeavour to obtain the support of all the citizens of Jasper and will welcome financial assistance in any amount.

7. Entertainment and Special Events: All matters pertaining to the entertainment of visitors and special features will be handled by the committee.

8. Community Joint Winter Carnival Committee: The members of this committee will represent the Chamber of Commerce at the meetings of the community group and also take charge of the town decorations for the carnival.

Mr. Val Kulak was asked to introduce the guest speaker, Mr. Jack McCreath, Drama Supervisor for the Department of Economic Affairs. Mr. McCreath expressed his pleasure at being able to visit Jasper and offered his assistance in the promotion of a Pageant to utilize the valuable assets we have in scenic grandeur in this area.

While he was beginning to outline the methods of production, probable costs, and the need for a sponsor, Consultant and Director, the Fire Siren sounded. When it was learned that Val Kulak's store was burning, the meeting was adjourned.

Since Mr. McCreath could not stay for another meeting, the next day, he agreed to come to Jasper at some future date which would be set after preliminary arrangements have been made by the group to be responsible for the possible production of this pageant.

Skiing goes good at Jasper Ski Lift

Last weekend's cold spell has been replaced by milder weather which is expected to prevail the rest of the week. All hills still remain in excellent condition even though no snow has fallen for several days. Gully and Long Pine are exceptionally good.

Games and dancing added cheer to the visiting skiers.

The rope tow is now in working order and there has been an improvement to the running of the lift.

Another twelve inches of fresh snow fell on the sixty one inch mark. Not since 1950 has Jasper had so much snow and such ideal skiing conditions.

SKING GETTING BETTER
Unexcelled Skiing — Never before has Jasper experienced such excellent snow conditions. A registered fifty one inches has fallen in Jasper so far, and this alone is sufficient to insure three more months good skiing. Fifteen minutes from Jasper is the Whistler Mountain Ski Hill and it is there that most of the winter skiing will be done. Running to a capacity of 300 skiers per hour and in good order of a two thousand foot Pomu Lift and a five hundred foot rope tow. Official support from the parks department has assured winter long access to the Whistler Ski Hill and with cooperation, official and weatherwise, Jasper looks forward again to an increasingly busy ski season.

8. Membership and Attendance: The members of the committee will work to increase public interest in the Chamber of Commerce with the people.

6. Financing and assessment of local citizenry: This committee will endeavour to obtain the support of all the citizens of Jasper and will welcome financial assistance in any amount.

7. Entertainment and Special Events: All matters pertaining to the entertainment of visitors and special features will be handled by the committee.

8. Community Joint Winter Carnival Committee: The members of this committee will represent the Chamber of Commerce at the meetings of the community group and also take charge of the town decorations for the carnival.

City Team Here Again

The Burns & Duffin pucksters from this city are scheduled to play a double-header in the local arena this weekend for their second trip to Edson this season.

The first game with the local Athletics will be played at 8:00 Saturday evening and the Sunday afternoon game is scheduled for 2:00 as per usual.

Saturday night will be "Olympic Night" when an extra ten cents per admission will be charged and forwarded to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to help defray the expenses of the Kitchener Dutchmen to the Olympic games in Carlin, Italy, this year.

ed on account of the illness of Mr. MacMillan's sister, Mrs. Vivian Howie. Mrs. MacMillan reports Mrs. Howie is somewhat improved.

Seven members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be attending the semi-annual circuit assembly in Wetaskiwin on January 27 to 29.

The many friends of Pug McNiven will be relieved to learn that he is not quite as seriously injured as rumour said to be his head-on collision with a passing car this week. Although he did sustain some injuries to his head and leg.

Times Changed Figure Skating

Times for the figure skating instruction sponsored by the Edson Kliment on Saturdays and supervised by Miss Barbara Park of Edmonton have been changed.

The primary class (6 to 7) will be from 11:00 to 11:30; the senior class (13 to 14) 1:00 to 1:30; the intermediate class (12 to 13) 2:00 to 2:30; the junior class (10 to 11) 3:00 to 3:45 and the elementary class (8 to 9) 3:45 to 4:20.

There are over 120 registered for the courses which cover five different age groups.

Locals

Legion members were interested in a letter from their oldest in Edson Branch, Comrade Wm. Leonard, who is in Government House soldier's home in Edmonton and will be 90 this month. He is a veteran of both the Boer and First World wars.

Luscar Briquette Plant Burns

According to word received here following the fire in the briquette plant at Luscar at the weekend, operations will not be too seriously affected as far as the present stripping operation there is concerned.

With the destruction of the briquette plant, several storage bins were lost which will have to be replaced, but the stripping will continue for the present.

The local man power were out in full force to extinguish the blaze which burned fiercely in the sub-zero weather.

Six men have been employed at the plant. No word has been given on whether or not the plant will be rebuilt.

Edson Theatre Poster Contest Being Run During February

What has become almost an institution among talented school children, the Edson Theatre poster contest, is being run by Mr. Tom Fowler of the Edson Theatre again this year for the fifth consecutive year.

The contest closes on February 28 and the winning posters will be displayed at Graff's Variety Store.

Edson students of grades 7, 8 and 9 have three prizes at which to aim and a single prize is open to the grade 10, 11 and 12 students.

District students in grade 7, 8 and 9 will have separate prizes open to them and they have turned in some fine posters in previous contests.

Last year prize winning posters were entered by Sophie Zukowski of Northville, Patricia Beale of Spreen's Plaza and Entrance student Dwayne Lake.

Contest rules are to be found in the Edson Theatre ad in this week's Leader.

Aged Man Dies In Fire

An 81 year old Carrol Creek resident, Mr. James Cheyne, was burned to death last weekend when his cabin apparently caught fire from an overheated stove. Mr. Cheyne had been living alone in the cabin at the time of his death. No inquest into the death will be held according to Dr. D. C. Begg, coroner.

Prominent Liberal Here For Meeting

Alderman Abe Miller, a well known barrieter of Edmonton, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Edson Liberal Association in the Legion Memorial Centre on Monday evening when he gave a resume of the aims of the Liberal party and how they should inspire confidence in the rank-and-file member.

He spoke of the compelling reasons for being known as a Liberal and quoted at length from statements by the Hon. J. L. St. Laurent, on unity, security and freedom.

Mr. Miller explained the wide background of racial and ethnic groups to be found among members of the Liberal party and how they have been assimilated into the pattern of Canadian life. The party, he told his listeners, has made a steady advance to the basic goals of Liberalism through the years.

Also present to say a few words was Mr. Soutar, M.L.A., who is well known for having defeated the Hon. Lucien Bouchard in the recent provincial election.

Mr. A. L. Coteau of Edson acted as chairman of the meeting.

Narrow Escape In Yards

Friends of Mr. Elmer Fossheim breathed a little under after the full story of his hair breadth escape from death one night last week in the CNR yards was told.

Mr. Fossheim had been working with a switch crew in the cold and snow and lost his footing, falling between the bars of a switching operation.

By sheer and unhesitant presence of mind he clung to first the axle and then the brake rod of the moving car, pulling a furrow of hard packed snow for 14 car-lengths with his back before the cars were stopped.

His work mates had no inkling of his mishap until they saw Elmer's mitts and lantern in the snow as they rode the moving cars past the spot.

Elmer in the meantime had gotten himself out from under the cars and made his own way to the rest of the switch crew. It was discovered that he had suffered a severe gash to his right leg, but seemed otherwise unharmed by his brush with death.

Comes Over Hinton Road

Rubb—Mr. Ben Shirley showed the true pioneer spirit when he drove home from Hinton recently over the new road, which connects with the Branch Highway near Marcelle. Though he made the trip without too much trouble, Ben says it was pretty rugged and he would not care to travel the route again until a lot more work has been done.

RAFFLE WINNERS

Winner of the lovely blanket raffled by members of the Edson Ladies Liberal Association was Mr. Jim Cole of Edson. Mr. R. L. Gillette of Jasper won the lace table cloth raffled at the same time.

School Board Probes Power Plant Difficulties In Schools

The trouble experienced with the new power units at the Nilon, Peers and Fulham schools as follows: February 1, Evansburg school at 3:00 p.m. and Wildwood at 8:00 p.m.; February 2, Nilon school at 8:00 p.m.; and February 3, Peers school at 2:00 p.m. and the Fulham school at 8 p.m.

After a general discussion it was the decision that if heavier units were placed under the schools it should overcome the difficulties.

The matter was left in the hands of the division's architect in the $600,000 building program, Mr. D. Mc Culloch.

Present at the meeting were: Messrs A. C. Gough, J. H. Lawton, H. G. Haddock, W. Williamson, R. C. Frith, W. E. Kauldewski, trustees and secretary-treasurer, D. S. Blundell.

Local Health

This week is National Health Week and the local Medical Officer Dr. A. P. N. Lee took advantage of the occasion to give the Kiwanis Club an informal chat on the health aspects of the community on Monday.

Dr. Lee told of the common complaint which has cropped up this year with kiddies which closely resembles some of the symptoms of whooping cough. Dr. Lee mentioned that when the child coughed until he retched his food there seemed to be nothing better than to feed the child again and let him rest.

The Medical Health Office also took time to discuss the proposed pasteurization by-law and spoke strongly in favor of its passing.

Dr. Lee said that he had heard people say that pasteurized milk spoiled too, he emphasized that pasteurization did not destroy the bacteria that make milk go sour, but that it does kill the harmful bacteria that causes disease.

He said that the spoiling of pasteurized milk was mainly a matter of quick marketing and mentioned that the prospects for getting milk to the consumer was going to be much better with the building of the new modern pasteurization plant by the Edson Dairy Company.

In connection with health week, Dr. Lee also mentioned the poisons and overdose chart being distributed free by Switzer's Drug Store and said that it was part of the objective aimed at in promoting health week—a better informed public in matters of health.

The Town Meeting

Interest seems to be building up this year toward making the Edson Town's annual meeting bigger than usual. The Council have arranged for the meeting (Monday, February 13) to be held in the Legion Memorial Centre so that the expected crowd can be accommodated comfortably.

Interest is high in the pasteurization by-law. Interest should be high about hospitalization under the dollar-a-day plan.

Interest is higher than usual because this is a "mayorality year" although no candidates have definitely thrown their hats into the ring.

An interesting forum on the policy of owning and producing our own light and power and whether some of the rates should not be revised downward in view of the healthy surplus this year.

An intelligent discussion of whether or not the ratemakers, through their Council, should make the effort to get help from the Provincial Government to borrow the $200,000 capital necessary for Our Town to sell its ratemakers natural gas when this becomes available next fall.

Whether or not water meters in ratepayer's homes would be worth the investment would be a good topic to get discussed too. Edson's water consumption has been something outrageous this cold winter with the practice of running taps to keep pipes from freezing being all too common.

The policies need discussing and the annual Town Meeting is one of the best places to talk them over.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

A Louisville man who installed a safety belt in his wife's car came up with this slogan after his wife escaped personal attack.

"The wife you save may be your own."

He said his mate had stopped for a red light when a young man jumped from the curb, yanked the door open and tried to drag her out saying, "Come on, baby."

But, he said, the safety belt kept her securely strapped in the car and the young man was left in a cloud of exhaust fumes when the light changed.

A crusty old millionaire fancied himself as an erector and was continually nagging his show writers to provide him with speeches that would earn him front-page headlines. Just before addressing his most important audience he was more impossible than ever.

He rejected so many drafts that he didn't even have time to read the last version that his long-suffering chief ghost had prepared for him. He moved to the podium when he was addressed and started reading his script in stentorian tones.

The first four pages were in the ghost's finest style, and the audience responded warmly. Conscious that he was making a good impression, the millionaire turned over to page five in the middle of an involved sentence. To his horror, the only words on the new page were:

"I quit, you cracked old — — From here, in Took, you're on your own."

Herb Schriener, waiting his turn to have his hair cut, picked up a magazine for expectant fathers and came across this bit of advice: "It will help to place the diaper in the shape of a baseball diamond with you at bat. Fold second base over home plate. Place baby on the pitcher's mound. Then pin first base and third base to home plate and you're all set."

"All set, my eye!" commented Schriener. "I tried that very trick on my first-born, but the game had to be called on account of wet grounds."

The Saskatchewan government is prepared to pay half the cost of a 12,000-mile market road grid system, the total cost of which is limited at $20,000,000. It is proposed that the roads should be all-weather gravel, 22 ft. wide and a general right of way 100 feet. It will take ten years to complete the scheme, the success of which depends upon the co-operation of the municipalities.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON—A national health insurance scheme for Canada appears closer to reality now than it ever has before. It became practically a certainty last week, when the federal government came up with a proposal which, on the face of it, seems too good to reject.

Under the plan as proposed by Prime Minister St. Laurent, the federal government would pay $12,000,000 annually—or 50 per cent of the cost of a health program which would be undertaken jointly by the dominion and the provinces.

It appears that Alberta will be one of the first provinces to accept the plan. Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, attended the dominion-provincial health insurance conference in Ottawa last week, and was the first provincial delegate to say he would recommend the plan to his government.

By the time this appears in print, Alberta may have officially accepted the proposal, because Dr. Cross was to report on it to a meeting of the provincial cabinet on Tuesday of this week.

What will the plan mean to Alberta residents if it goes into effect? According to Dr. Cross, it will mean plenty.

Interviewed in Ottawa, he said that with the dominion paying half the cost of hospital care, the entire share of hospitalization now being borne by Alberta municipalities could be eliminated.

At this point, it can be recalled that hospital costs have been a constant thorn in the provincial government's side. Every year, the municipalities request relief from over-increasing hospital costs, and the same subject makes good ammunition for the opposition in the legislature.

Hon. A. J. Hoole, provincial minister of municipal affairs, sees the proposed plan as going a long way toward alleviating the financial problems of Alberta municipalities. He pointed out that in 1954, Alberta cities, towns, villages, counties and municipal districts spent $6,400,000 on hospitalization.

Figures for 1955 were not immediately available, but Mr. Hoole said it would be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000 or more. If the federal-provincial programme is adopted, it could slice a sizeable chunk off municipal financial requirements.

Provincial officials could not find anything about which to criticize the federal offer. Some of them said it indicates a federal election is forthcoming, but as one said: "So long as we get something out of it, why should we care?"

As they walked to ladies with prizes, the man—well one asked, "How did you do it?" "I just took 'em down how," explained the other. "I shot the man working the pump."

Kolbes Observe 58th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. A. KOLBE

THE FOUR GENERATIONS

Thirty-eight friends and neighbors paid a surprise visit to Mr. Kolbe who also celebrated his 80th birthday the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolbe arrived from Germany in 1910 and lived at Olat before moving to Edson where Mr. Kolbe worked in the mines, after which in 1912 they homesteaded at Pioneer until 1949 then moved into Edson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolbe have one son William who lives at Mercoal, and one daughter Mrs. E. Graham of Edson, also there are seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A wonderful afternoon and evening was spent at the home homesteaded at Pioneer until 1949 then moved into Edson.

B.C. Model Visits Edson

An interesting, and very chic, visitor at the Albert Struberg home this week was Mrs. Struberg's niece, Miss Blanche Brillion.

Miss Brillion is associate director of the new school of personal development and modelling school which has been established in Edmonton recently by Elizabeth Leslie Ltd., of Vancouver.

While treating the editor as a nice harmless old boy she did impress upon us how nice it would be for us modeling males if all the girls were so personable and gay.

Other matters discussed were van routes, medical fees, payment of outstanding accounts, sale of Windfield school, transportation allowances, boarding allowances, industrial arts equipment, building program, insurance coverage, possible purchase of a van, desks required for Hinton, purchase of further land for the Nilton and Wildwood sites, auditoriums, superintendents and secretary's reports, payment of accounts.

Legion Polio Drive 2 Nights In February

The Edson Branch of the Canadian Legion will be conducting their annual dollar - per - house drive for the Legion Polio Fund on Thursday and Friday, February 16 and 17 this year.

This is the third year that Alberta branches of the Canadian Legion have raised money to help the families of polio victims over and above the financial help given by the provincial government.

There have been several instances where help has been given to polio sufferers in going to be with us for some time, as medical science has not yet brought the disease under the same control it has other diseases like diphtheria and th.

It will help the convalescers if those wishing to do so will have their money ready.

Peers Club To Purchase Old School

Members of the Peers Handicraft Club met at the Peers school on January 18.

Discussion of the evening included tentative suggestions for raising funds, and plans to obtain a charter for the Club.

At a recent meeting attended by Mr. H. Haddock, the group agreed to purchase the old Peers two roomed school to be used for all the local Clubs meetings.

Application to the School Division was submitted with ten percent of our offer enclosed, the same being financed by individual donations from the members.

The Clubs executive consists of: Chairman, Mrs. Phyllis O. Niell; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Lilli Maser; Secretary, Mrs. Ina Rausch.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gough, MacKay, wish to thank everyone who so generously contributed towards hospital and doctor's expenses in connection with the accident on January 22nd, when Robin suffered burns to the face and hands.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Fallis, Mr. Leo Burglund and Mrs. Dye who promoted the fund.

Wildwood And MacKay Families Join At Nuptials

A double ring wedding took place in St. Alphonsus Church at length gowns in traditional white, Wildwood on Wednesday, January 31 when Linda Albee (Winnie) of her brother, Mr. Harold Rham, then became the bride of James Arthur Berglund.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. L. Rham and the late Mr. Rham of Wildwood, and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Berglund of Mackay.

The bride, lovely in a floor-length gown in traditional white, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Harold Rham. A long sleeve lace bolero covered the lace over satin strapless bodice that extended to the hip line, broken with flowing layers of tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil was caught to her head with a sequia studded horse shoe wreath and she carried a Peers—The students of the Peers school have officially chosen the colors they would like to represent their school. They are black, white and gold.

Also they are selling subscriptions to many popular magazines to raise money to help pay for a movie projector machine for the school.

The students are divided into teams and the highest salesman at the end of the campaign will receive an award. Team Captains are Joan Runk, Christine Faltbacher, Lorna Young and Grace Faltbacher.

Preparations are being made for the official opening of the new school on Friday, February 2nd. Present will be Hon. Norman Willmore. The old timers of the district are invited and tea will be served.

bouquet of red roses. Her jewelry was a three strand necklace of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Misses Helen Rahn and Karin, sisters of the bride attended her dressed in lace and net ballerina length dresses in pink and blue complemented with matching gloves and ruffled bandeaus. They carried bouquets of carnations in blue and white.

Mr. Pat Kohn, brother of the bride and Mr. Neale Fournberg attended the groom while Mr. Joe Horvat acted as usher. Reverend Fr. C. van Acht performed the ceremony in the abbeled east due to illness of his brother.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rahn chose a black ensemble with matching accessories and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Berglund chose a silk dress in brown complemented with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

A wedding dinner for relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents, immediately after the ceremony with reception and dance held in the Wildwood hall where over 100 guests called to extend good wishes. Telegrams of congratulations were read at the hall. Ted Imison proposed the toast to the bride.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. Rahn, Mrs. Aene Berglund, Mrs. Hart Lindgren, Mrs. B. Christensen of Edson, Mrs. Bill MacKay, Mr. and Mrs. G. Thompson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Haggart, Mrs. Christ Larson, Mrs. O. Howlin, Mr. and Mrs. D. Married At MacKay To Live At Whitecourt

MacKay-A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Atkins on January 7 at 4 p.m. when her daughter Miss Lillian Gray of Edmonton became the bride of Mr. Ronald Murray Walker of Mackay.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Pfeiffer of the first Baptist church. The wedding took place in the home of the bride's mother in the front of a fireplace backed with chrysantheums.

The bride who was given in marriage by her step-father, was lovely in a dusty rose long tulle afternoon dress with a small white velvet hat sprinkled with sparkling rhinestones. She also wore silver slippers and white gloves and a corsage of pink rose buds.

The bride's attendant, Miss Sharon Gray of Edmonton, wore a deep pink afternoon dress with black accessories and a corsage of white ice box roses.

Mr. Lester Greeny of Hinton, cousin of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother, and the mother of the groom each wore ice box rose corsage on afternoon dresses.

A very lovely wedding supper was held in the rumpus room, decorated with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells, was enjoyed by about 35 friends and relatives of the couple. Mr. William Johnston proposed the toast to the bride.

The happy couple received many lovely and useful gifts after supper. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and singing. The couple will reside in Whitecourt the rest of the winter.

Doris Pierce Shower Guest

The R. O. Sylvester home was the scene of a happy get-together Sunday, January 22, when Mrs. R. Sylvester was assisted by Mrs. R. Adams and Mrs. Ethel Schlosser in hosting a shower in honor of Mrs. Doris Pierce.

Mrs. Pierce's marriage to Mr. Cliff Ernst took place last Saturday in Edson.

The 28 guests who had gathered to honor Mrs. Pierce and present her with many lovely miscellaneous gifts, spent an enjoyable social evening which was highlighted by a showing of moving pictures.

Following this the gifts were presented in a decorated baby buggy and the evening ended with the serving of a delicious luncheon.

Former Mayor Here Briefly

Mr. Alex McIntyre now retired from his dispatching duties with the CNR was an interesting visitor to Edson recently when he expressed amazement at Edson's progress in the time since he was mayor in 1934.

Mr. McIntyre came to Edson first 42 years ago and served as a councillor and in other community work before assuming the task of mayor.

He now lives in retirement at Lexington, Ontario.

Bride Elect Showered

A bride-to-be of Tuesday of this week, Miss Cathy Nicholson has been guest of honor at two showers recently.

The first, was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith, Glenwood, on January 21 with seven teen friends and neighbors present. Jane Healy and Marie Lyons presented Cathy with a basket filled with gifts. Cathy made a wish and thanked all the ladies present for their wonderful gifts.

Following the opening of gifts a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Healy, Mrs. E. Carter and Mrs. J. Martin, bringing a delightful evening to a close.

Last Wednesday night Mrs. W. Davidson, Mrs. J. K. Wilson and Mrs. Steve Kopy were hostesses when about thirty-five friends of Cathy's gathered in the basement of the United Church to honor her with a shower.

Guests started the evening off with blingo following. Then the honored guest was presented with a gift of blankets and bedspread from all the ladies present.

The usual delicious "showers" luncheon was served by the hostesses to end the evening.

On Friday morning at seven o'clock inside of the trailer in which he lost all his personal belongings. The interior of the trailer was completely gutted, but by getting the fire out he saved the garage next to which the trailer was parked, and the equipment in it.

The apparent cause of the fire was an overheated oil stove. Damage was in excess of three hundred dollars. Mr. Hopkins was leaving Friday for Red Deer where he is going to work on a chain of micro-wave towers for the Alberta Government. He suffered some bad burns on his hands and face but he managed to confine the fire to the trailer.

Here's how you save time and trouble when you bank by mail

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA's simple system of banking by mail gives you a 24-hour-a-day, country-wide banking service. To take advantage of this time-saving service ask your neighbourhood branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia for the special "bank-by-mail" envelopes. They include a deposit slip, a deposit receipt, and a return envelope. When you have a cheque to deposit, there's no need to go to the bank. You simply endorse the cheque: Pay to the order of The Bank of Nova Scotia (your signature); fill in your deposit slip, address the return receipt to yourself, and mail. Your deposit is recorded and your receipt mailed before the Bank's doors open, making you the first customer of the day.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind and the Canadian Council of the Blind are sponsoring "White Cane Week" from February 5 to 11. They have asked the clergy to call attention to their campaign, and to the theme "The White Cane Creates Confidence."

One of our United Church ministers in Alberta is blind. He has a blind sister who teaches music in one of our secondary colleges and who has an international reputation as a musician. If we are both making a fine contribution.

There are many others like them, who being blind, are useful citizens and often so cheerful as to shame the rest of us who have the precious gift of sight.

We are told that the White Cane creates confidence. It does so for two reasons. First of all, it enables the blind person to take care of himself, for by the sound and feel of the cane as it strikes the ground it helps tell of the nature of the soil, rock or pavement and any bumps or hollows can be detected. It is a rod upon which the blind person can rely. It is a staff that comforts like the one known to the Psalmist.

The Gospel story for Sunday is the familiar story from the eighth chapter of St. Luke about the Sower and the seed. Some German theologians more rightly call this the story of the Four Soils. The "seed," which is the word of God, does not vary but is freely offered to all. "For all men, in all places and at all times" is one definition of Catholic, and Christ makes through his Church such a catholic appeal.

The thing that does vary is the manner in which people receive the seed which is the word of God. Some lives, says Jesus, are hard like the wayside path beaten down by the changes and chances of life. This soil is unresponsive till broken up and over turned and made ready to receive the seed of life.

Some lives he says are too shallow and the apparent success and rapid growth of the seed withers away quickly in the first hour of the hot noon day sun of adversity. Some lives, he says are so full and so crowded with so many things that the good seed is choked to death by the pressure of all the other things we want to do.

But finally, Jesus says, there is the seed which falls into ground and springing up brings forth fruit on hundred fold. These are they, "which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience."

Secondly, the white cane is a warning to those, a silent reminder to those with vision that here is one who should be treated with more than ordinary courtesy and consideration. The blind person, armed with a cane, has confidence because he places confidence not only in himself but in others.

Any failure on our part to heed the meaning of the white cane means that we have a more serious disability, blindness of the soul. It is the kind of blindness of which Scripture tells of those whose hearts are waxed gross and their ears dull of hearing and their eyes closed. If we fail to see that the blind need every consideration, then we are blind indeed.

The confidence which comes of faith in a white cane is of course the result of confidence in people. Deeper even than this is the confidence which comes of faith in God Himself. A faith based on, purely human considerations can be easily shattered by some person who is stupid, careless or inconsiderate. A faith in God which undergirds all of life affords the meaning of the white cane, and sees in it one thing amongst many others which constantly remind us to be thoughtful, courteous and helpful to all people at all times, but especially to the handicapped.

A dark deed shows very clearly against a white cane, but a white cane shines in the light of a precious and Christian courtesy.

Pastors Desk

REV. L. B. HALLIWELL

It is high time to wake out of sleep. Romans 13:11.

I once heard of a painter that loved to work by the morning light. He said that the colors were better understood by the light of the early day, and so he always wanted to be in his shop in time for the rising sun.

Then every moment it grew lighter he found he could accomplish things with his painting that were impossible to accomplish as the light increased and as the day went on.

Is there not work waiting for us—work that no one else can do—work, too, that the Master has promised to help us do.

Should He come and find us asleep?

Or shall Christ come and find us like the painter, waiting for the dawn of eternity. Surely he will renew their strength and they will mount on wings as the eagle to meet the morning sun.

Friends Wish John Luck

We are glad to hear that our friend Mr. John Luck is just about ready to leave for a trip to his native country.

He is well acquainted here in Edson, after delivering bread around town and in the district during the last year.

We hope he has more success and we hope he will settle down in Holland with the opposite to the Edson district after his stay, than he had here, so he may return.

John always is well respected by the local citizens, the district as well, through his willingness to serve the community and his dependability on the job.

We all wish John the best of luck, whatever his plans may be.

The Christian grace are like perfumes, and the more they are spread, the sweeter they smell;—like trees, which the more they are shaken, the deeper root they take, and the more fruit they bear.

—Francis Beaumont.

Edson Leader, Thursday, February 2, 1955—Page 11

ALL ABOARD

I didn't mean to be a traitor. But it was wrong to be a soldier in two armies at the same time.

These were the juvenile armies in my home town, a long time ago. Each army was headed up by a boy who called himself a "general."

Since I had two generals were friends of mine, I agreed to enlist in both services when they asked me. Neither, as far as I can recall, saved a loyal's heart. Neither general asked whether I was in the service of a foreign power.

One army had its headquarters on the hill, and the other on the townsite. The two armies were not massed on each other's borders. There didn't seem to be any possibility of conflict.

So I attended parades of both armies. These were not frequent. In one army I was a corporal. In the other, if I remember rightly, I was a major.

As a corporal, I was often not the only man on parade, except for the general, who put me through some drill. Forming fours was the hardest part.

I know of only two other soldiers in that army. One was a sergeant and the other was a private, I think. But they lived about ten miles away so the army seldom mustered full strength.

The general, who was advanced for his age, sometimes set me to the unimpaired task of pasting cut-out pictures of girls in a scrapbook. I didn't think much of that. But who was I to question his strategy? The general did not confide in me. He issued orders with crisp decision, and an air of omniscience.

The other army seldom had parades at all. But I was in it. The general sometimes blotted at great tasks and battles ahead. Nothing ever happened—until the day he found out that I was serving under two flags.

Then I was seized and marched off by the general and his brother, who also was a high-ranking officer. We had no private or NCO's in that army. They shot me a few times in the leg with an elastic band gun, as a hint of what was to come.

But as this parade of dishonor was passing the general's house, the general's mother (seeing that something was wrong ordered us all inside.

By asking the general that I learned from the general that I was about to be court-martialed as a spy, and probably shot. So she saved me home.

And I trusted away, a home-town Benedict Arnold, disgraced but saved from death by a woman's intervention.

Nothing near it in price can match it for Pride!

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Critical Times For Conservatives

The Conservative party will have to pull up its socks and get into fighting trim before the next federal election comes along, or it is likely to go the way of the extinct dodo bird.

The weakness of that party seems to have destroyed the two party system of Canada. There does not seem to be any political group in this country which is capable of upsetting the Liberals, who have been in power for twenty years.

The Conservatives have tried out various leaders in the past twenty years including two ex-

Liberals — Dr. Martin and John Bracken. They now have Mr. Drew as leader but are not sure whether or not John Deifenbaker would not be a better man.

The next election will be a critical one for the Conservative party. It will have to demonstrate far greater strength than it has shown for two decades or it is liable to be relegated to the limbo of political antiquities.

Rugby Is A Costly Sport

The Edmonton Eskimos football team, Grey Cup champions, lost $10,000 in last year's operation. Income was $466,000 and expenses $476,000.

That seems a lot of money for a medium-sized city to spend on a rugby football team. It is questionable, in our mind, whether enthusiasm can be maintained to such a red-hot degree to coax close to half a million dollars a year from sports-minded people.

If a rugby club cannot break even while winning a Canadian championship, at a time when prosperity is at a peak and money is plentiful, what will happen when times get a little tough?

It cost nearly as much to operate the Edmonton Eskimos football club as it does to carry on that very useful organization, the Red Cross Association, in Alberta for a single year. The Red cross does magnificent work for humanity. The rugby club provides amusement for a few games every autumn.

A man will plead poverty when asked to contribute to the Red Cross but will cheerfully fork out $5 or $10 to take his wife to a rugby game.

Yes, indeed, people are funny. —Brooks Bulletin

The Tall Boy

A boy who has a chore to do Is somehow taller than The boy who has no task to make Him feel he is a man.

I've watched the boy who tends our lawn

And seen his young eyes glow With pleasure in a job well done

And seen his spirit grow.

The 'ol across the way has goats And rabbits that he tends; I've seen him growing to a man As to his work he bends.

The f-r-y who helps his father Run an eighty-a-c farm— All boys who have their j-hs to do

It never does them harm.

For boys who have small chores to do

Are somehow taller than

The boy who has no task to make Him feel he is a man.

—Unknown.

Luck

Oh yes, we believe in luck Every man who holds a big job gets there through luck. All he has to do is to cultivate a pleasant personality; make himself well liked by others; sow seeds of kindness and good cheer wherever he goes; perform his work better than the "unlucky" man does; render the most and the best services possible, regardless of the salary he is getting. LUCK does all the rest!

Family doctor status to get 3-year study

The College of General Practice of Canada intends to take a three year look at the status of the family doctor in this country.

The $50,000 survey, announced in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, is designed to improve the medical services offered by the general practitioner.

The project will be undertaken by the College and the Department of Preventive Medicine of the University of Toronto with the participation of the Canadian Medical Association.

The study will attempt to determine what kind of general practice is needed in Canada; how well medical education prepares the doctor for general practice and the effects of medical care and hospital insurance on general practice.

The announcement said the kind of illness treated by the family doctor and the treatment he gives also will be studied.

In announcing the survey, the College said:

"The general practitioner of medicine is having more difficulty than he should be having in providing the medical care he would like to give his patient."

ADAPTABLE PLIERS

For temporary and emergency use, a pliers can be adapted as a vice. To do so cut a narrow slot in the workbench or table and fit into it the handles of a pair of either wrench or lock-grip pliers. The slot in the bench should be just wide enough to accommodate the handles of the pliers, and should be long enough to stop the pliers at the jaw shoulders. Work can then be clamped into the pliers and the pliers can be dropped into the slot. This will give excellent support for sawing, filing or drilling small parts and stock.

Vol. 3 Edson, Alberta, February 9, 1966 No. 41

LEGION ELECTS ZONE COMMANDERS

At a zone meeting of branches in the Edson zone of Canadian Legion held in the Legion Memorial Centre on Sunday January 29 delegates from Maroon and Edson re-elected Mr. D. M. Caston of Edson zone commander for the ensuing term. Members of the Ladies Auxiliaries to the Legion held their zone elections at the same time and elected Mrs. Betty Smith, of Edson, zone commander for the Auxiliaries in this zone. Present for the meetings were District Commanders for the Legion and the Auxiliary as a husband-and-wife team — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stanners of Edmonton. Our picture snapped following the meeting shows (reading from left to right) D. M. Caston of Edson; Mrs. R. McIntyre of Maroon; Mr. and Mrs. Stanners of Edmonton; Mrs. Betty Smith; and Bob McIntyre of the Maroon Branch. District Commander Stanners called on the various delegates to go back to their various branches and put their shoulder

Edson's drive will be a two-day campaign on Thursday and Friday, February 16 and 17.

Dr. Begg Praises Work Of Cross Transfusion Service

The Edson Red Cross held its annual meeting on January 27 when in addition to the usual members, Dr. D. C. Begg was in attendance in his capacity as zone chairman for the Edson and Coal Branch zones.

The Red Cross have set their zones to correspond with the school divisions to simplify setting boundaries. Dr. Begg is undertaking to contact individuals or organizations in each district with a view to having Red Cross work carried on.

He stressed the value of the Blood Transfusion Service. He told the meeting that where Red Cross are not giving this service a transfusion costs up to $35.00. Even where a suitable donor can be supplied, there is still the cost of equipment and administration.

Where the Red Cross service is established they undertake to supply the blood and the equipment and the doctors and hospitals co-operate by donating their services. This brings lifesaving blood within reach of any patient regardless of financial status.

Dr. Begg feels that many people should know more about the service. Cont. on page 8

Edson ratepayers are taking a greater interest in the forthcoming municipal elections than they have for some years past from all the pre-election talk which is being worked up. The greater-than-usual number of citizens who have indicated they might be interested in helping to run Town affairs is in itself a good thing.

From what we have been able to learn there will be at least two candidates for the Mayor's chair, and from the looks of the dark horses on the horizon, somewhere in the neighborhood of ten candidates for the three Council vacancies.

All this adds up to the prospect that Monday evening's annual meeting of ratepayers in the Legion Memorial centre is liable to be very well attended indeed.

Also up for discussion, in addition to listening to reports from the various Council committees, will be the controversial Pasteurization By-law that must obtain 65 per cent of the votes to become law. Being a "mayorality year" and so many contesting the Council, will probably ensure a heavy vote. It will be interesting to find out if the "raw" milk fans are as numerous as they are vocal.

We hope that the prospective candidates will be on hand to tell us how THEY intend to meet the problems that Our Town must solve in the near future.

☆ How are we going to deal with the natural gas franchise?

☆ How are we going to meet the competition of the private light and power companies with our municipal light plant?

☆ How are we going to solve our current water shortage?

☆ How much money will there be for public works to continue the heavy sidewalk and paving program begun last year?

☆ How are we going to make this a more attractive town in which to live?

SEE YOU MONDAY NIGHT AT EIGHT!

Superintendent Leaves For East

Superintendent H. K. House was recently promoted to a new position with the C.N.R. in eastern Canada and prior to their departure Mr. and Mrs. House were guests of honor at various social affairs around town. On the day prior to his departure members of the C.N.R. Depot gathered briefly to present Mr. House with a token of their esteem. Assistant Superintendent Audrey Raven, left, shakes hands with Mr. House, centre, as Chief Dispatcher Bob Sykes looks on.

White Cane Furthered Here

The 14th Branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind of which Mr. P. W. Wells is chairman, and Mrs. M. Dunphy is secretary-treasurer, has received a letter of appreciation from the western division of the Institute commending Edson and District for the raising of $917.50 in the campaign for the C.N.I.B. this year.

This is the largest amount ever raised in the Edson district and the generosity of the District is greatly appreciated the letter goes on to say "we feel sure that your achievements will also inspire other communities to place greater emphasis on the importance of furthering our work on behalf of the blind."

This tribute to Edson's part in helping the blind comes during the periods February 5 to 11 which marks the observance of the eleventh annual White Cane Week throughout Canada.

Fortunately we see very little of the White Cane in use in Edson. The purpose of White Cane Week is to familiarize the general public with the meaning of the White Cane and with the capabilities and problems of the person who carries it.

The theme of this year's White Cane Week is "The White Cane Creates Confidence." Every sighted person can help his blind neighbor to have confidence by developing a realistic understanding of blindness and the limitations which it imposes.

You are not asked to give anything, this week except your understanding and a helping hand. The White Cane Week slogan "The White Cane Creates Confidence" can do something for you. Your blind friends appreciate the help you give.

Health Insurance Talked Up

After long years of discussion and debate on the subject of health insurance it looks as though the Federal proposals now being made to the provinces have some chance of being accepted.

Alberta's Minister of Health, Dr. W. W. Cross, has indicated that the proposals are acceptable to Alberta in the main, and will eliminate the entire share of the cost of hospitalization which is now being borne by municipal governments in Alberta.

In the meantime Edson ratepayers who have had the protection of the dollar-a-day scheme through the improvement districts here, are going through this protection enjoyed by their farm neighbors.

The Federal scheme is, of course, for hospitalization and does not cover the other big expense in care of sickness—that of the medical bills. Contrary to popular opinion there is no insurance scheme, private or public, which is available to the ordinary person not connected with a big company to insure completely against this financial spectre.

There is no greater worry to the average man on the average salary than that a few months of sickness for himself or loved one can sweep away the savings of a lifetime.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

A girl sued a rich man for breach of promise and was awarded $25,000. Leaving the courthouse, she crossed the street and was hit by a bus and suffered three fractured ribs. For this deal, she was awarded $300.

This, of course, is a story with a moral: Never meet around with a fair maiden's heart—give her a kick in the ribs!

The scene was an expensive and haughtily busy night club, and it came time for one of the patrons to go. He signalled a waiter and asked, "Is it raining outside?" "Sorry," the waiter snapped back coldly. "This isn't my table."

Once upon a time, there was a little girl who had many boy friends. They each asked her, "Do you love me?" "She answered yes to each one. This went on for many a year, but still she died and old maid."

Moral: Don't try to love everybody. Leave that to God, Specialist.

A sweet young girl breezed into a florist shop, dashed up to an old chap putting around a plant and inquired, "Do you have any passion poppy?"

The old boy looked up in surprise. "God bless it!" he exclaimed. "You just wait until I get through pruning this lily."

An elderly woman visiting the zoo, wanted to ride the camel. The keeper looked her up, but was unable to make the camel move.

At last, the lady dismounted and started to pet it. Suddenly, the camel went running off as fast as it could. The keeper turned to the old lady.

"Madam," he said, "What did you do to him?" "I tickled him!"

"Well," he said, "you'd better tickle me. I've got to catch him."

I wonder which of you gold fish is a girl and which is a boy? Here is a trick we discovered: Add one-half cent of dichlorophenyl-trichloroethane to the water in the goldfish bowl. If he comes floating to the top, he is a boy; if he comes floating to the bottom, she is a girl.

"Houses are built to live in and not to look upon—therefore, let us be preferred to uniformity except where both may be had." So observed Francis Bacon. How right he was. His comment, of course, refers to both exterior and interior decorating and furnishing. They sacrifice comfort in their misguided efforts to show how clever they are. The result is that many homes look more like shop windows than homes.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

by KEN NASON

Edmonton—A fairly quiet session of about six weeks' duration, appeared in store this week as members of all parties began preparing for Thursday's opening of the 13th Alberta Legislature.

The session is to be officially opened by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowden, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, reading the Speech from the Throne which gives a general outline of legislation the government proposes to introduce.

Political observers see several factors pointing toward a relatively uneventful session—barring unforeseen issues which can always arise and ruin political predictions. In any event, it most likely will be tame in comparison with the 1955 session, which was the most heated in almost 20 years and which ended with the calling of a snap election.

Government officials say the legislative program this year will be lighter than usual, with considerably fewer bills than were introduced last year. This would mean much less time spent on clause-by-clause study of bills, and consequently less argument.

Another factor that is a number of charges hurled against the government during the last session and the summer election campaign are currently under investigation by a royal commission. This is to have the effect of restricting debate.

For one thing, officials soon agreed that the house cannot, at any rate should not, debate any issue before the commission. It would be in the same category as contempt of court—when commissions are made publicly about cases before the courts.

In addition, as one opposition member pointed out, a politician might make a big mistake in discussing any issue before the commission completes its investigation and makes its report public. Anything said now might find itself silly by the time the commission report is released, which, incidentally, won't be for some time.

On top of all this, it is a session following an election year, and there may be such incentive to raise a fuss as much incentive to raise a fuss. Unless something terrible develops, there won't be another election for a few years.

Despite these factors, the 1956 session will be an interesting one from a political standpoint. It will be interesting to see how the government and its supporters react when faced by the largest opposition in the house, the largest Social Credit cause to power in Alberta.

As a result of the election last June, Social Credit's standing in the house was reduced from 51 to 27, and opposition ranks total 24, made up of 15 Liberals, three Conservatives, two CCF, one Liberal-Conservative, one Coalition, one Independent and one Independent Social Credit.

The special session last summer wasn't a true test, because it lasted for only a week or so. My personal guess is that Social Credit ranks will be somewhat more cooperative and lenient toward opposition suggestions than they have been in the past.

There has been scant information about proposed legislation, but there will be one bill of extreme interest to Alberta municipalities. The bill would set up a corporation to finance the capital expenditures of cities, towns, villages and municipal districts.

A draft of the proposed bill was approved last week by officials of the Union of Alberta Municipalities and the Alberta Assoc. of Municipal Districts. The proposed corporation would borrow money on the open market and re-lend it to municipal authorities. The government-sponsored corporation would guarantee the principle and interest of the loans, and by so doing obtain them at interest rates one-half to three quarters per cent lower than municipalities could obtain by acting individually.

Government action is necessary because for the first time in three years municipalities can't borrow all the money they need from the provinces. The municipal revolving fund, which started with $100,000,000, is almost depleted. The government has about $45,000,000 left in liquor reserves to lend to the municipalities, and this will fall short $30,000,000 short of requirements. The proposed corporation likely would have to borrow that amount.

Another record budget is expected, with the likelihood of more money for education, health services, roads and a new program of aid in establishing rural libraries. The government also may say more about its intention to conduct a full-scale review of provincial-municipal financial relations, and there may will be legislation enabling the province to enter into a health insurance agreement with Ottawa.

It was Dante who wrote the line "I will hope abandon ye who enter here." It is claimed that this sentence can be written 100 different ways using the same words and retaining the same meaning. Two different ways are "Abandon hope all ye who enter here," and "Ye who enter here abandon all hope." Perhaps you can't figure out the other 97 ways but you could have a contest with your wife and then could write the sentence being discussed in the most different ways in 15 minutes.

FIVE SCHOOLS OPENED IN THREE DAYS IN EDSON SCHOOL DIVISION NO. 12

Three featured speakers at the Fulham school opening on Friday evening were Master Harold Gordon, President of the Fulham Junior Red Cross who thanked the School Board and the Department of Education for the new school. Mr. Norman Willmore, centre, represented the Provincial Government. Miss Joan Fairbairn, right, represented the Students' Union and expressed everybody's sentiments when she said it was "wonderful to come to school where everything is so evenly heated and lighted."

Congratulations To All

Large crowds of local people were out for the opening of five schools in Edson School Division No. 12 last week when a series of events, unsurpassed in the history of the division took place.

The new buildings at Evansburg, Wildwood, Niton, Peers and Fulham were all opened within the three day period. Evansburg school was opened at 3:00 p.m., February 1; Wildwood that evening at 8:00. Niton School was opened Thursday evening; Peers school Friday afternoon and Fulham school that evening.

Comprising the biggest part of the over $600,000 building program undertaken by the Edson School Division Board last year with the help of the very generous building grants supplied by the Provincial Department of Education, there only remains the new elementary and high school additions to be opened officially at Edson for the huge construction program to be completed.

Members of the Board chairmen by Mr. A. C. Gough of Evansburg and including School Division Trustees Walter Williamson of Wildwood; J. H. Lawton of Huttonford; H. Haddock of Haddock; R. C. Fyth of Yates, and W. H. Kankevit of Edson, were congratulated at each point by the many people coming out for the openings.

Superintendent of schools, Mr. John Finlay, and Secretary-Treasurer D. S. Blundell, of the School Division staff were also the recipients of congratulations for their part in the big program.

They are a construction effort of which this school will probably never see the like.

The size and scope of the building program must amaze citizens of the Edson School Division when they recall how difficult it was financing for school purposes before the Provincial Government found itself in a position to be so bountiful. Edson town, for instance has in some years had to provide as much as 52 mills out 56 levied for school purposes alone. All this was rectified last year with the Provincial Government paying all school costs over 27 mills.

Niton School Typical Of Opening Ceremony

Typical of the openings was the ceremony at the opening of the new Central School at Niton on Thursday afternoon Feb. 2.

Mr. J. Kiehlbauch, president of the Niton Central Home & School gave the welcoming address. Mr. J. H. Lawton as the trustee for the sub-division, extended a welcome to all those present and introduced those present for the occasion. The Hon. Norman Willmore; Mr. John Finlay, superintendent of schools; Mr. M. Kandrak, principal of Niton school; Mr. W. H. Kankevit trustee for Edson; Mr. L. G. MacMillan, former trustee for Niton; Mr. W. Williamson, trustee for Wildwood; Mr. H. Haddock, trustee for Peers-Fulham; Mr. D. S. Blundell, secretary of the Edson School Division; Mrs. G. Conn, principal of Fulham, and Mr. J. Kirby, the architect's representative on the multi-school project.

Principal M. Kandrak gave the first address, congratulating the H&S Association for backing Mr. Lawton. He stated that schools today, besides the teaching of the three R's, have a social responsibility in teaching children to get along with each other in larger units. The school, also have a practical side encouraging the pupil to do the kind of work he is most fitted for.

Mr. J. Finlay, representing the Department of Education, extended best wishes to Niton Central School. He said the people of the school will take pride in keeping the building beautiful in years to come.

He also said that the Department of Education is trying to offer every child in the Province equal educational opportunities.

Mrs. T. Gough of MacKay sang a beautiful solo "Trees." This was followed by a piano solo by Bernice Durston of Carrot Creek. Edson trustee, Mr. Kankevit called on Mrs. A. Rizzolo, of the School Division staff, and Mrs. J. Finlay to take a bow. A procedure he followed at each opening where fellow Edsonites accompanied the party from this end of the division.

Mr. L. S. MacMillan reminded the gathering that the Hon. P. Baker, Minister of Education in the old U.F.A. government, and the late Hon. Wm. Aberhart had foreseen the need of centralized schools many years ago. Mr. MacMillan reminded the people that many of our great men came from rural communities and that we should take great interest in our most important natural resource—our young people.

A duet followed "In the Garden" by Vivien Zerb and Ernest McPherson of Niton, accompanied by Bernice Durston of Carrot Creek.

Principal speaker for the opening was the Hon. Norman Willmore who told of the regrets of the Hon. A. G. Aulberg, the Minister of Education who was unable to be present.

Mr. Willmore commended the school board on their ambitious program of building six large schools in the Edson School Division.

THESE ARTIST'S SKETCHES SHOW HOW THE NEW SCHOOLS LOOK FROM THE OUTSIDE

He also stated that we would regret to some degree the passing of the one room rural schools which filled the educational and social needs of the districts in the past. Times change and we have to change in spite of the fond memories of those days. Better roads and the machine age make it possible to centralize schools and provide a higher standard of education for rural pupils. He held out the hope that it may be possible to pay our school debts completely from the proceeds from our natural resources. On behalf of the Department of Education, Mr. Willmore presented the new school with a beautiful picture of Maligne Lake at Jasper.

Bottom picture catches Trustee J. H. Lawton, of Huttonford; Harold Haddock of Wildwood; and W. H. Kankevit of Edson, Mrs. Conn and Mr. Willmore.

Dr. D. C. Begg Praises Work Of Red Cross Transfusion Service

com. from page one
ple do not realize the importance of this work or they would be willing to donate to the money and blood required to keep it in action.

The local branch feels that the work which Dr. Begg will do in organizing rural points will be a big help in the coming campaign and he will not drive. It will be doubt be greatly appreciated by those in outlying districts who would be glad of the chance to pull their weight in this worthy work.

Mrs. Seldon gave a report on the recent same chairman meeting in Edmonton which she attended as representative of the Edson district. At this meeting it was stressed that more funds must be raised in Alberta to keep the blood service operating. Alberta is reputed to have the best blood service in Canada but we are not supporting.

We must receive financial help from other provinces to keep functioning. Ontario and Quebec are becoming more completely organized and when they have complete coverage for blood service, they will require their own funds and Alberta cannot "borrow."

Ontario centres have been trying out the idea of a "Blitz" campaign with very good results. This means that the canvass is all done in one day rather than over the entire month. The Edson Branch has decided to try this method and have chosen March First as the day on which it will operate.

It is hoped to have enough canvassers so that the town can be covered in a few hours. Anyone who could do some canvassing is asked to get in touch with any member of the Red Cross. It is expected that a blood clinic will be held in March so one canvasser will serve for both the campaign and the blood.

The same officers were elected to carry on for 1956 and they are asking the support of all citizens of the town and district to make this a banner year for the Edson Red Cross.

Peers Food Club

By Thelma Radcliffe

The regular meeting of the Peers 4-H Food Club was held at the home of Lois Radcliffe with full attendance.

Chairman for the meeting was Thelma Radcliffe. Roll call was answered by uses of milk in a diet.

Project talk was given by Mary Dixon the topic of which was "Milk in meals." Also another talk by Mela Gardner on "Cream soup variations."

Demonstration on preparation of white sauce was given by Patsy

With The Curlers . . .

BY NORK

The big question of the week has of course been will the weather hold out for the ladies' curling. It was said and took right up to the last minute to see if the ice committee would decide to postpone it or go ahead and take a chance of curling on heavy ice. Thursday afternoon they decided to go ahead with it.

Unless the weather cools off considerably its going to be tough slugging for the smaller fair sex who will be included on the rinks, but it will all be fun even if it is hard work.

There are more rinks entered than have ever been in my knowledge entered in a women's bonspiel in Edson. They are coming from as far away as Leduc and Edmonton on one side and Jasper and the Coal Branch on the other.

The hotels have been swamped with calls for rooms and the overflow are being taken into the homes of Edson curlers.

The visiting girls can look forward along with the local rinks to the banquet which will be served in the basement of the Catholic Church on Saturday evening.

Honored On Birthday

Thirty-eight friends and neighbors surprised Mr. A. Rasmussen this week on his birthday. Everyone enjoyed watching Mr. Rasmussen unwrap a birthday gift wrapped in layers and layers of paper—the result of his work was a box of cigars for which he made a nice "thank you" speech.

Mrs. A. Michelman sang in German—a birthday song which was well received. Then everyone sang "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

A delicious lunch followed, complete with birthday cakes and candles. All the candles were blown out with one "buff and a puff" so his wish will come true and we all hope he wished another evening like we enjoyed this year.

Flash camera shots were taken during the evening.

There is a flag that flies all the time from the picnic shelter on Mr. Rasmussen's farm. There is a story of a hitch hiker who waited there and was picked up by Mr. Wadley.

The man was interested in why the flag was flying and asked the reason to which Mr. Wadley gave reply that it was because it was Mr. Rasmussen's birthday.

Cronin and Lois Radcliffe. There is to be a mother and daughter tea at Mrs. P. Young's on February 18.

Delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Anyway we'll be looking for you at the rink. There will be coffee and odds available to spectators and players alike and there should be some darn good games played between now and when the prizes are handed out.

Good luck gals.

Peers Takes Rosevear In 6-2 Game

Peers Juniors defeated the Rosevear Juniors in a hockey game on Saturday, February 11th, by the score of 6-2.

Clifford Wells and Clarence Monma scored for Peers which gave them the lead 2-0 at the end of the first period. At the end of the second period the score was 4-2 in favor of Peers with C. Wells and R. Calette each picking up a pair. Third period—Peers widened the margin to 6-2 with J. Monma and J. Ritzema picking up a marker each.

Last week, Mackey shut out Peers 1-0 in a well-played game between the 2 Junior teams. The only goal of the game was scored in the second period when Howard Hewins fired the puck high in the corner after taking a pass from Mariyn Archibald.

Students Meet Parents In Home And School Panel

The regular monthly meeting of the Edson Home and School Association was held in the High School Auditorium recently. The business of the evening was kept to a minimum in order that program committee could turn the meeting over to a panel representing the parents and students.

There were four on the parents' side consisting of Mrs. W. Ashwell, Mrs. F. Mammel, Mr. Kankewitt and Mr. W. Nigro. The four students were Doug Draklin, Bev Nygard, Paula Risk and Roy Yerex. Mr. Falls was the moderator of the panel and a good discussion was held on various subjects, such as self management, controls and restrictions, allowances and how they should be spent, work outside school hours, choice of clothes, choice of careers, hot rods and other subjects which proved very enjoyable to the audience and it also appeared enjoyable to the panel.

It is hoped that through this type of discussion, teenagers will realize that parents are human and are with them all the way.

Congratulations and a hearty vote of thanks were extended to moderator Mr. Falls and his panel.

Following the meeting the usual good lunch was served by the room mothers assisted by some of the room fathers.

The next regular meeting of the Edson Home and School Association will be held in the High School Auditorium on February 22, at 8:00 p.m. At the meeting it will be necessary to elect a new president, due to the resignation of Mr. Jack Wilson.

Mr. Wilson found it necessary to resign due to his hours of work and did not feel that he could do justice to the Home and School Association in the president's capacity. Mr. Wilson's resignation has been accepted by the executive with regret, and it is hoped that his keen interest will continue in the Home and School Association.

A good program has been arranged, consisting of Mrs. Nygard and a group of her pupils. No doubt this will be an enjoyable program and a great appreciation for these programs and our Home and School Association in general.

Edson To Meet Vegreville In Provincial "B" Playoffs

The local hockey squad will journey to Vegreville this Saturday to meet the Vegreville Rangers in their opening game of the Provincial Intermediate "B" Playoffs.

The second game of the home and home total points series has been tentatively set for Sunday, February 22nd in the Edson Arena.

The highly-rated Vegreville club has been a power in the Eastern Alberta Hockey League this season. Their roster includes such well known hockey names as Bing Mieluk, a Coal Branch product and former star with Edmonton Flyers. Coach Joe Pavich says his club has never been in sharper form as was evidenced by their convincing 7-2 win over Edmonton Monarchs last week end.

Plans are being made to have T. Chapman's bus transport the players, in which case approximately 20 fans could be accommodated. With this being Edson's first bid for laurels in provincial hockey, local interest has risen high and supporters desiring to make the trip are advised to contact members of the EAA as soon as possible.

Edson Chess Club Formed

The newly formed Chess Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Yerex on Tuesday, February 14, for their first evening of play. The next meeting will be next Tuesday, February 21 and the meeting place will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Metcalf.

If you enjoy chess and are free Tuesday evenings you are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

Legion Ladies Install Officers

Ladies Auxiliary Canadian Legion No. 51 REEL held their regular meeting and installation of officers for 1936 recently with President A. Gold in the chair. Secretary Mrs. Hart read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Ann Dunphy was initiated as a new member of the Auxiliary.

Chaplain Mrs. Carlson installed officers for 1936 as follows: President, Mrs. R. Maguire; Vice Pres. Mrs. L. Hinchey; 2nd Vice Pres. Mrs. A. Ronneseth; Secretary, Mrs. S. M. Hart; Treasurer, Mrs. B. Smith; Sgt. at Arms, Mrs. M. Healy; Chaplain, Mrs. Simmons. Sick visitors for February were chosen: Mrs. K. Bellack, Mrs. S. Craddock. Meeting was brought to a close at 10:00 p.m. Next meeting will be held on March 6th at 8:30 p.m. All members are asked to attend.

Shots from recent hockey action with the Athletics shows: Top: Defencemen Ramsted clears the puck from in front of net minder Tran's goal as Gervitz gets into position to receive the pass. Tran has recently been replaced by Brian Shaw, formerly with the Mordach Club, in the Edson nets. Bottom: The Leader camera catches goalie Frank Levison in one of his contention stances getting a shot away at the opposing goalie. Other Edson players in the picture are Levison's linemates Chissey and Seckel.

OVER THE

REV. L. B. MALLINWELL

In these modern days we are in the best of much concerning discovery. They come at varied intervals and they have to do with a variety of hidden things. Some of our recent discoveries seem to be exciting but have you ever stopped to realize that they were only waiting for man to be able to see the eternal truths and there they would be open for the one that would find them.

Out of all the discoveries that modern man has come up with there was never a one that could patch up a guilty conscience. Never one that would give an individual peace of mind or peace with the Living God.

But my friend have you ever discovered the great truths and the great possibilities that there is the Eternal God. You will not find him as you roam the ocean floor for treasure nor as you fly beyond the perimeter of the blue sky. You will not discover Him as you dig the yellow gold of the mountains nor will you find Him on the shelves of the eastern merchant.

He is nearer than these places. He is closer to you than this newspaper. Have you discovered Him as the shepherd, master, saviour, king and servant, if not you have missed the greatest known thing that man has ever had the joy of finding.

He is nearer than these places. He is closer to you than this newspaper. Have you discovered Him as the shepherd, master, saviour, king and servant, if not you have missed the greatest known thing that man has ever had the joy of finding.

who are training in divinity. The Gospel story for the first Sunday in Lent is the story of the Temptation of Jesus in the wilderness. (St. Matthew 4) This story should bring to mind the fact that temptation in itself is not wrong but one of the things which we share with all mankind and with Jesus himself who was tempted in all ways as we are but without sin.

Sin comes in after temptation and is the result of giving in to temptation. It is to strengthen our wills and our discipline that Lent is to be used for so that in the face of temptation we may be able to overcome and win the victory.

Yield not to temptation, for yielding is sin. Each victory will help you to win some other. This is a true fact of experience. Smaller temptations faced and overcome strengthen us to face the larger ones. St. Paul tells us that "God will not allow us to be tempted above that we are able but will, always with the temptation, provide a way of escape that we may overcome."

The Church therefore calls all its people to forty days of special effort and struggle against all that is wrong and for all that is right so that having shared with Jesus the death to self on Good Friday, we may rejoice with Him and in Him in the feast of the Resurrection at Easter-Sunday.

Jasper Ski Carnival Proves Highly Successful Event

JASPER—With an impressive list of entries from Jasper, Edmonton, Calgary, Edson, Prince George, and Vancouver, and under weather and snow conditions which were ideal, a highly successful ski meet was held here over the weekend.

In conjunction with the Jasper Winter Carnival, the Jasper Park Ski Club sponsored the two-day open ski meet on the slopes of Whistler Mountain overlooking this picturesque Canadian National Railways division town.

The main events on Saturday's card was the open downhill race with the headline event on Sunday being the open slalom. Both events were watched by large crowds of local and out-of-town spectators.

Results of the main events were: Senior Men's Open Downhill, 1st finishing — 1st Tommy MacGready, Jasper; 2nd Jim Proudfoot, Edmonton; 3rd Fred Schlein, Prince George.

Ladies Open Slalom — 1st Gail Jeffery, Jasper; 2nd Olive Grosset, Jasper.

Alpine Combined Event, 1st finishing (best average of open and downhill races) — 1st Tommy MacGready, Jasper.

A voice from the kitchen said: "Two burgers ready." The girl did not seem to hear.

Who Sex?

BY DICK

Well, of all things. Another pulp magazine going up at Whitecourt. This country must have something in it's forest products because they're being surrounded. Anybody got a few old trees they don't want?

Now, it's 30 degrees not very long ago and now, it's raining outside. This should turn the streets and sidewalks into a large size skating rink. Hard on people that can't get around too well, though. It's an ideal setting for a fractured hip and we hope that nothing like that happens.

Guess we have a slight restriction coming about our comments on the Olympic Hockey Championships. Seems that Canada isn't such a world better after all. Score U.S.A. 4, Canada 1. United States has something else besides California weather after all. But if we ever sent a N.H.L. team there should be some large, triple digit scores.

You people are going to think that we don't write about anything but good shows but the reason is mainly that if you only go to two a week you haven't time for the poor ones. And there are lots of those. Anyway, here we go again.

On Movies: Vera Cruz is a typical example of a Hollywood extravaganza and actually very well done. Gary Cooper does a good job and there is plenty of action and color.

Anyone that likes science fiction will have had a good time at the movie called GOG. Wasn't that a dandy? It's jam packed with things such as sound that kills, mechanical monsters with human brains and some type of light that does everything but bark. That was a good night for us to stay at home.

It's difficult to talk of anything besides the weather these days. We're so fed up with continued cold that any change is for the better and besides the weather is all anyone else ever talks about. Why should we be left out in the cold? Seriously it would be a wonderful thing if there were more original conversations started and fewer that started off with the conventional "Nice one of the drinks, by which time we had finished our cold hamburgers and were chafing to go.

The last we saw of her, she was hovering beside the cash register with a absent stare aimed clear through the west wall of the cafe and 1,000 miles or so beyond.

Some day she will make a devoted wife and mother, an ornament to any man's house. But I'll bet her husband will come home every night to find that she has burned the dinner or forgotten to put it on the stove. She is just pretty enough that a man wouldn't care about that for the first ten years or so.

Edson Doctors Discuss Pasteurization Question

(As the time for the vote on the Pasteurization by-law recommended by the Town Council by the Board of Health approaches, we again have given space to the point of view of a housewife who doesn't want it and the reasons why the men who must guard our community's health think we should have it. We intend to open our columns to as full a discussion of this question as our typesetting facilities will allow—no keep 'em short and to the point folks! Editor.)

It is a well known fact that milk is the best single food obtainable. It contains sugar, protein, fat, the basic materials of our diet, large quantities of calcium necessary for the growth of our children's bones, adequate supplies of Vitamin A and some of the B complex. However the quantities of Vitamin C and D are inadequate requiring additions to this excellent basic food to prevent such diseases as rickets and scurvy.

Please note that this applies to any kind of milk and not just those types subjected to processing. This is the reason why raw milk should be wanted at an early age and not kept solely on a milk diet after they reach the age of five months.

We have had three examples of the effects of such a diet in this district during the past year which resulted in infantile scurvy.

Thus we have shown that there is no better single food for the human body than milk. However, if this fact applies to humans it also applies to other living things and included in this latter group are all the pathogenic bacteria or germs which are responsible for the infectious diseases. These germs thrive on such an excellent foodstuff and thus we find that milk which is such a blessing to mankind, can also lead to serious illness and possible death.

It has been shown that milk can carry the germs causing the following diseases:

- Scarlet fever
- Septic sore throat
- Dysentery and the fatal diarrhoea of childhood
- Diphtheria
- Polymyositis
- Typhoid and paratyphoid fever
- Infantile fever
- Uterine cancer

What can be done to prevent such an occurrence?

Obviously the answer is to either prevent the germs entering the milk or once they are there to render them harmless. How can this be done?

The ideal method would be to sterilize the technique of the surgeon in the operating room and create conditions of absolute sterility even in as small and confined a space as an operating theatre.

It would be necessary washing the cow over from head to foot with a strong antiseptic solution for at least ten minutes before each milking. The cow's mouth and nose would have to be covered by a mask, the secretary of the office of the animal would require to be covered completely, the utensils used would require to be sterilized, the milk would have to be stored in a similar manner to the person with sterile rubber gloves, face mask, etc.

From an experience which we had with one of the milkmen for one of our local purveyors of raw milk last week, who was covered from head to foot in running over, who had not had a bath for two weeks and whose hands were in a filthy condition, any attempt to follow such a regime would be utterly ludicrous.

Anyone doubting the authenticity of this story should contact the Medical Officer of Health, who will be pleased to verify the details and show photographs of the person concerned.

Such a solution is not the answer? What of certification of milk? The sin in this method is that the cows from which the milk is obtained are examined every six months for such infections as tuberculosis, and undulant fever, etc. Immediately after such an inspection, if the results are negative, then obviously the cows are free from infection.

What happens however, if, as was shown in a district of Quebec not so long ago, a large number of cows are positive reactors?

How long have they been diseased? Certainly they were lactating six months ago, but did they get the disease two days ago or did it appear two days after the last inspection? Thus people have been drinking contaminated milk which bears the certified label.

The only answer to this would require the presence of a veterinary officer at each farm and masses of equipment. Also certified milk does not prevent contamination of the milk by our friend the dirty milkman mentioned in our previous paragraph. Obviously certification is not only useless, but leads to a sense of false security.

So far we have approached this problem at the farm. Let us consider an approach situated nearer the consumer. Say we have a supply of milk which comes from a herd of cattle which is infected and which has been obtained from the cows by a milkman to which soap and water are obscene words and which has been given the triple, septic sore throat and early polymyositis. Is there anything which can be done to surmount this formidable barrier?

We find there is something which can be done and that something is Pasteurization!

WHAT IS PASTEURIZATION? Who has Pasteurization? Who invented the process? This question was the work of Louis Pasteur, a great French scientist who at the time of his discovery was a chemist teaching at Lille, France. He was consulted by a wine manufacturer who was having trouble keeping his wine from going bad in storage. Pasteur studied samples of the wine.

In the fresh wine he discovered little round particles which were apparently alive whereas in the bad wine he discovered that the particles were long and thin.

The answer is that it is a too expensive a project for a small producer is a mirror of his lack of ambition, ignorance and desire for large profits with small outlay at the expense of bringing disease to the community.

After all it is obviously much more profitable to take a chance and sell unpasteurized milk requiring only the minimum amount of equipment and staff than to be satisfied with a smaller profit and either sell milk direct to a central plant or go to the expense and upkeep of one's own plant.

There was left the main objection to pasteurization—dred. Then of course there is the man who has been drinking raw milk and who has always been healthy. He is like the man who does not believe in car insurance because he has never had an accident or the man who does not believe in life insurance because he never has died.

Why surely any person who would ensure his home against fire will surely also the individual not be allowed to drink raw milk if he is so worried about it? It is his own risk and it is he who contacts the disease. The answer is obvious.

This man may pass the disease on to the man who has been taking all precautions by LAW.

Then of course there is the man who has been drinking raw milk and who has always been healthy. He is like the man who does not believe in car insurance because he has never had an accident or the man who does not believe in life insurance because he never has died.

WHAT ARE THE ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASTEURIZATION? The main one brought forward in the heating of the milk destroys not only the disease producing germs but also those which form lactic acid and most of the vitamins. To a degree this does happen, and the last of the forming organisms are destroyed with the result that souring of the milk is delayed and therefore the milk will stay sweet longer than raw milk.

Vitamins C and D are unstable and easily destroyed by heat therefore this content is reduced in pasteurized milk but as stated in the initial passage the content of Vitamins C and D in raw milk is so low as to be completely inadequate anyway therefore no harm is being done. It has been also stated that the Calcium content is destroyed.

This is a complete fallacy and it has been shown by the Department of Paediatrics in Montreal and Toronto which are in our own country and therefore are reliable sources of information that only a very small amount of calcium is lost and that as cow's milk contains three times the quantity of calcium that is in breast milk there is not much to worry about.

It has been said that heating causes milk to become less digestible. Pasteurizing and acid curdling during the past few years has prevented this, triple septic sore throat and early polymyositis. Is there anything which can be done to surmount this formidable barrier?

We find there is something which can be done and that something is Pasteurization!

The main one brought forward in the heating of the milk destroys not only the disease producing germs but also those which form lactic acid and most of the vitamins. To a degree this does happen, and the last of the forming organisms are destroyed with the result that souring of the milk is delayed and therefore the milk will stay sweet longer than raw milk.

Vitamins C and D are unstable and easily destroyed by heat therefore this content is reduced in pasteurized milk but as stated in the initial passage the content of Vitamins C and D in raw milk is so low as to be completely inadequate anyway therefore no harm is being done. It has been also stated that the Calcium content is destroyed.

This is a complete fallacy and it has been shown by the Department of Paediatrics in Montreal and Toronto which are in our own country and therefore are reliable sources of information that only a very small amount of calcium is lost and that as cow's milk contains three times the quantity of calcium that is in breast milk there is not much to worry about.

It has been said that heating causes milk to become less digestible. Pasteurizing and acid curdling during the past few years has prevented this, triple septic sore throat and early polymyositis. Is there anything which can be done to surmount this formidable barrier?

We find there is something which can be done and that something is Pasteurization!

WHAT IS PASTEURIZATION? Who has Pasteurization? Who invented the process? This question was the work of Louis Pasteur, a great French scientist who at the time of his discovery was a chemist teaching at Lille, France. He was consulted by a wine manufacturer who was having trouble keeping his wine from going bad in storage. Pasteur studied samples of the wine.

In the fresh wine he discovered little round particles which were apparently alive whereas in the bad wine he discovered that the particles were long and thin.

The answer is that it is a too expensive a project for a small producer is a mirror of his lack of ambition, ignorance and desire for large profits with small outlay at the expense of bringing disease to the community.

After all it is obviously much more profitable to take a chance and sell unpasteurized milk requiring only the minimum amount of equipment and staff than to be satisfied with a smaller profit and either sell milk direct to a central plant or go to the expense and upkeep of one's own plant.

There was left the main objection to pasteurization—dred. Then of course there is the man who has been drinking raw milk and who has always been healthy. He is like the man who does not believe in car insurance because he has never had an accident or the man who does not believe in life insurance because he never has died.

Why surely any person who would ensure his home against fire will surely also the individual not be allowed to drink raw milk if he is so worried about it? It is his own risk and it is he who contacts the disease. The answer is obvious.

This man may pass the disease on to the man who has been taking all precautions by LAW.

Then of course there is the man who has been drinking raw milk and who has always been healthy. He is like the man who does not believe in car insurance because he has never had an accident or the man who does not believe in life insurance because he never has died.

WHAT ARE THE ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASTEURIZATION? SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

As I am driving very near you can rest assured that you and your family will be at a premium in this column this time. Further more if this makes any sense at all, it is not really done, then you readers will be seeing it for some time—1 hope.

The two main items at this time outside of one of the worst car accidents witnessed in this area, seems to be, this new basket of white and the BIG BINGO being sponsored by our local currier.

Our ambitious "ice dusters" are really going all out in an effort to gain interest in a risk this coming winter. This coming winter! What am I saying!

Anyhow, a risk is in the books for the fall of '36 and by hook or crook our "rock tasters" intend to have one.

Those curious, and those in-

HINTON HI-LITES

'round town

—Was talking to a horse buyer the other day he says good horses are really getting scarce but small saddle horses are a drug on the market right now. Wonder if they have any wild chick size as our youngsters sure are making for one and are right envious of the fellows like Ray Peller's boy who has one.

—Saw Russell and Mrs. Watt in Ottawa's yesterday. Were asking him if that orphan cult of his was still eating out of his hand. He says it's taster if anything.

—Two of our shops have now adopted a seven o'clock closing. It's a good idea. Wish more would take it up. This staying open till midnight is okay for cafes and billiard parlors but hardly fits the other type of activity that we have here.

—Were in Clark's talking to Merle the other day and there were a lot of travelers dropping by. It was funny looking out at the snow and watching them sell summerware. Gave one hope that summer will come some day.

—Saw Hans McInab giving Mike Danzjuk some last minute Allis Chalmers with the front ripper that Hans bought here last week. Mike is the lucky guy who has the job of operating it.

—Dance on February 28 at the Legion Hall. Come one, come all. HDSB Allis-Chalmers Tractor and Dozer.

—Were listening to the radio Sunday morning heard Superman trying to find out where the brand with the star and crescent was. Guess he should see Bill Mackenzy about his Rocking Star.

Drilling Crew
Use Short Wave Radio Via B.C.
The Laffon Bros. drilling crew working in the Hinton area go a long way around by short wave radio to get to their head office in Edmonton.

First they call Prince George and the British Columbia Telephone System connects them to Vancouver. Then connects them to Calgary and on up to Edmonton by Alberta Government Telephones.

Communications are a big problem for the Laffon Bros. in their present location and they expect they may have to evacuate by helicopter as the road to the rig will be under 20 feet of water for sure this spring.

They are using a creek bed now and there is 18 inches of water flowing down it all the time.

The Alberta Government Telephones have recently installed a short wave radio telephone communication at Edson but as yet it does not do too much for rigs in the Hinton and Estevan areas.

through but on Tuesday he got bit of his equipment has been plowed three parts around and gave the wind a real hold on it. We sure twisted it around. It says that few of his tools and pipe a drangle anyway.

—Saw Jack Matheson of Jasper here on Friday. He says it was as warm as we had it here. Mrs. MacGregor, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Rakewich were out shopping together on Friday. Met them down near Stricker's and ten minutes later bumped into them again on top of the hill.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hart were out shopping together on Saturday. Heard that one of our safety conscious youngsters was a big icicle hanging off the school roof, the lad took a big stick and knocked it down, but the most big icicles it was hanging right in front of a window and it bounced right into the grade three class room—was his few red.

—Still it was better to have it fall on some youngster's head. —Saw Mrs. Worster and two children out shopping on Saturday. Dismissed the hazard of these young fellows running around the roads here with their cars wide open. That one fellow in the blue sedan was going a bit too fast down the road from the recreation field. He wasn't driving last just fying low. It had been any other traffic on the road at that time.

—Noticed that the lads from the polo fund committee of the Legion have been busy putting the jars out in the shops here.

—Was talking to my neighbor Nelson the other day about his

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
One year ago, "Shamus" made a prediction that the day of election in Edson was passed. For that statement, he was castigated by a Guest Editorial in the Leader written by "Henry".
However I guess "Shamus" was right, when, last year, one candidate was put up, this year two, a whole flock of candidates are in the running. What is behind all this activity, may I ask. Are they all interested in making Edson a better town to live in or is it something else. Time will tell, but meanwhile the voters of this town would be well advised to vote only for those candidates whom they think have no axe to grind. It is too bad that we cannot have a real election time in Edson when the candidates for election would get up on a platform and tell us why they should be elected, how they would work for Edson, and especially where a controversial subject such as "Milk Pasteurization" could be argued out by the ones that are for it and the ones that are against it.

In the "Letters to the Editor" that I read, it seems that the Leader is for pasteurization, but my idea is that both sides of the question should be debated in the local press, as that is the only means available to the public to form an opinion. I am not against pasteurization.

Just because Jim Roll drinks coffee and says it's good I still want to drink tea.

I was at the Annual Meeting on Monday last and as I am not a ratepayer I had nothing to say, but I could not help listening, that's what I want for. I would like to have heard a breakdown on the cost of administration of the Town. It seems to me that the cost of the town Clerk's office and engineer would run the town about between $1,200 and $1,500 a month. Considering the fact that the city Clerk in Edmonton, M. Dougherty, gets $5,000 a year and has a staff of 35 under him, don't you think that the administration of this town costs plenty. What I would like to see is that the town engage a competent engineer and appoint him Town Manager with full charge over the administration of the town and then I think Edson will go right ahead.

James P. Dair
[A meeting for this purpose is being arranged for Tuesday, Feb. 23 in the Legion Memorial Centre. Shouldn't a man who handles thousands of dollars of our money make as much as say, a man who drives an engine, Jim?—Editor]

Wig Hats New Spring Style

Milliner Sally Victor of New York, features fancy new variations of the hat that covers the hair in her new spring collection. She calls them wig hats. They begin as a cap of open mesh straw, under which a woman can tuck all her hair. In one hat, Mrs. Victor winds pink satin ribbon through the mesh and adds giant pale pink roses to frame the face. Another covers the entire head with orange blue.

Jean Rush Best Salesman

The sale of magazine subscriptions was completed with the team headed by Jean Rush selling the most subscriptions.

The award for best salesmanship was given to Jean Rush. The campaign proved successful with a fairly good profit going towards the movie projector machine for the school. Pears students planned a draw on two blankets and tickets can be obtained from the children. It was still undecided as to whether the students would purchase either rings or sweaters with their school colors. In Student's Union what Men's high was C. Nielsen; Women's high, Joan Radcliffe; Men's low, Bill Fale; Women's low, Mrs. Jean Roll.

Young Liberals To Organize

A meeting of young people with the object of forming a branch in Edson of the Young People's Liberal Association, will be held on Wednesday, February 24th. The time: 8 p.m. The place: Your home, opposite the main door of the High School. All young people who are interested in the political life of the community are cordially invited to attend, either as participants or as observers. A lunch will be served. The meeting will be greeted by J. MacNamara, President of the Edson Association, A. Catoen, President of the Provincial Constituency Association, and Leo Crockett, President of the Federal Constituency Association. As this is a business meeting, no long speeches are planned.

Vol. 3 Edson Alberta, Thursday, February 9, 1956 No. 41

Activities Of Edson Craft Centre Many And Varied

By a Crafter

Since its inception it has been the aim of Craft Centre members to house all its departments under one roof, and this year may well see that hope realized now the Town Council has so generously given us the use of the industrial arts shop.

We have also been fortunate in acquiring the old school shop equipment for a nominal sum, and except for minor repairs to two of the power tools, we have a complete wood working shop.

A great deal of work must be done and money spent before we can accommodate the other crafts, and the need is urgent since our ever expanding library is crowding out the leather workers and weavers, and the potters should not impose on the hospitality of the Medical Centre staff and Dr. Robins any longer.

CHALLENGED

The potters need for water and frost-free quarters constitutes an additional problem. It is encouraging to find the members facing up to this challenge with enthusiasm and determination.

Perhaps they have taken a leaf out of Churchill's book. During the darkest days of the war, just after France had fallen, he confessed that he found the situation quite exhilarating. Maybe our member's spirits aren't at that pitch of exhilaration, but more than one has been heard to say, "We don't know how it's going to be done, but by heck, we'll do it."

The ladies have made a start with Bake Sales by courtesy of our old friend Timothy and his staff at the Edson order office. Ladies please note that donations of baking are respectfully solicited for the coming sale February 18, at 2:00 p.m.

The men are making work benches in the wood shop and Messrs. Seiden and Leyden are hoping for a good attendance at the woodworkers meeting February 14 at 8:00 p.m., so that they can get properly organized.

New members will be especially welcome and are urged to bring along plans for their favored project. There should be time for a considerable amount of work before Max Brandt starts his course of instruction here on March 12.

The weavers are keeping the looms busy. Our thanks to Mrs. Laura Mahon for sending her loom to the library for general use. Mrs. Goutley states that she will soon have a loom free. This will be an excellent opportunity for new members to get individual attention.

Any ladies wishing to start weaving should apply to Mrs. Goutley. Basic instruction at this time will enable them to take better advantage of Mrs. Goutley's instruction.

SEEN ON THE MAIN DRAG

Councillor A. G. Mahon going up the street carrying a hockey stick. Reverting to your earlier sporting days, Gerald?

Harry Babel busy polishing the windows, upstairs and down on the Nova Theatre Building. Looks like spring is here.

Jimmy Adair, not satisfied with having just arrived home from his trip to Erin, saying he had spent a week at Jasper too.

Lorne Kroetch helping untuck Jack Pat's car by jumping up and down on the rear bumper to give it a little traction.

One of Edson's prominent businessmen being assured by a helpful lady that the main drag IS pavement—after he had lost his rubber in the year's first stickiness.

Tommy Fowler cleaning the sidewalk of that treacherous hump of ice between the brick building and the Royal Bank. Thanks Tom.

The entire staff of the Royal Bank going up the Main Street with their hands in their pockets and coming back down a few minutes later the same way.

Harry Kowalechuk up from Edmonton "just to see how things are in Edson."

Some of Edson's curlers, men as well as women, admiring the lovely collection of prizes that are on display in the window for the Ladies Broom.

MEET THE TEACHER NIGHT POPULAR

One of the most popular evenings held in connection with school activities last fall was the "Meet the teacher" night sponsored by members of the staff of Edson Elementary School under the affable chairmanship of Principal A. H. Dakin.

Pictured above are (l. to r.) Mr. Cecil Sparks, Mrs. C. Holloway, Mr. Holloway and Mrs. Sparks looking over the books of their children in Mrs. Belton's grade two room over the school.

helpers who served lunch to the many parents coming for the annual event.

This year the School Division had enough money to allow a considerable expenditure on the old brick school which is more than forty years old. The old dark woodwork is gradually being replaced with bright, light painted woodwork, light-colored linoleum has been laid on most of the floors.

With some more renovation the substantially built cement and brick building will still be the best constructed school in the division by way of permanency.

Try Identifying Mystery Man

We've had a few guesses as to who our mystery man is who was pictured in last week's Leader with the sheep. He is wasn't T. Fowler Sr., nor Truman Williamson.

The gentleman in question lives right here in town, you probably see him a number of times every week, so have another guess on us. If you are right you get a free subscription to the Leader. But you'll be surprised.

On the movies: Hans Christian Andersen, at the Edson lately, is a well done fantasy and if you like Danny Kaye as we do you can put up with the ballet. The couple that aren't connected with the ballet have been currently popular and this is probably because the rest of the world is like us. We like music that doesn't require much thought.

Mr. Roberts which played at the Nova recently, is a movie that you shouldn't have missed. It kept everyone laughing, not only James, Henry Fonda and James Cagney, but at all the members of the crew of this mixed up U.S. Navy Supply ship.

A prominent Canadian financier died recently and left an estate of $40,000,000. One of the beneficiaries was the wife of a wealthy British land-owner and she commented on hearing the news, "We are a little amazed". Presumably she was amazed at

Who Sex? Robbie Burns day has come and gone and we hope that everyone who observed it came through all right. Wonder what the rest of the world would think of the Scotch if they didn't eat the inside of sheep and make good whisky. Pretty dull folk these, eh?

We read that Red Deer has been told, definitely, that they would not be considered for the penitentiary site in the west. At least no one has said so to Edson.

Winter still with us and we expect that nothing will be done on Hinton Hill the weather breaks long enough for construction to get underway. We haven't consulted the Old Times or Indians yet, but feel that the low of averages owes us a good, hot summer.

On the movies: Hans Christian Andersen, at the Edson lately, is a well done fantasy and if you like Danny Kaye as we do you can put up with the ballet. POTTERS COURSE
Apologies are due to the prospective potters who were promised a course in the year. We expect a decision on this matter in the near future. We are glad to see that two new members are already trying their hand in the game with the help of potter Leyden and Madge.
The leather department with Mrs. Gavin convening, is keeping up its record for steady consistent work. Mrs. Callen will conduct her course in leather work during February 20 to March 3. Prospective members are urged to get in touch with Mrs. Gavin before that date.

All craft members, actual and potential, in good standing and otherwise, also follow travellers. February 14, at 8:00 p.m. Wood worker's meeting in Wood shop. New members cordially invited.
February 18, at 2:00 p.m. Bake Sale, Edson's order office.
February 20 to March 3 Course in leather work given by Mrs. Callen.
March 13 to 31 Woodworking course given by Max Brandy.
April 2 Weaving course.
Sale of pottery course to be announced.
Membership fee: 1.00 annually; Participation fee: 5.00 annually the fact that it was 90 million and 20 million as she thought for the past few years.

And another newspaper article says it's the horse owners that have all the money in the racing industry. Any of us who have gone to the tracks haven't been told anything new.

Mr. George Graff has kindly allowed us some space in his store window for the display of handicrafts. This is to give the public some idea of the work that is being done. Unfortunately it is not a true picture as most members sell or give away their best pieces and some articles have been purchased by the Cultural Activities branch for their permanent collection.

Why have men always faded? Originally, perhaps, to move the city of heaven by a sort of hungers-trike: to show that their prayers were in earnest. But it is as necessary now as ever it was that we should show our prayers to be in earnest.

God bestir himself on those who desire Him. What then is the evidence that we desire Him? Not words alone, feeling still less. Nothing but action can give seriousness to our desire for God. We are in earnest, if we find the weak point in our service of God, and attack it with resolution. Resolutions are no good, unless we are prepared to find them broken, and to renew them every day. It is no fact if it is easy. Displease yourself, to have fellowship with Christ. For He pleased not himself, and his prayers were heard. And for what did he pray? He prayed for, and obtained, our salvation.

Many times, as I write this weekly column I have to ponder the propriety of what I am about to write. As a minister I am profoundly interested in religion, but this hardly endears me to write this column for an unholy exposition of my own private convictions. This paper is non-denominational and what might be good material for theological debate has to be handled with some care. Freedom of expression is a privilege that ought not to be abused. There is a distinction between liberty and license.

Pastors Desk

REV. L. B. HALLIWELL
The prayer is heard, Acts 10:31
I am sure that the world has not seen the total power of prayer. In the early days of the church, the people knew what to pray for and they knew how to use it. Whereas today we as a nation have somewhere missed the program of prayer that God has planned for his people from before the foundations of the world.
Prayer is not a negative expression of the mind but is the language of an individual who has a personal knowledge of what his God is able to do for them. God help us when it becomes nothing more than just so many words. There ought to be a desire to a personal conversation with the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords.
Not always are the answers to prayer the yes that we would like it is as often the no that we sometimes do not like to hear. It would be folly of the worst sort to have an Almighty God and have an unresponsive creation and prayer is only a means to an end and the end is that we might glorify God. If prayer becomes any other thing than a means of worship and of asking for that which you need, then it becomes the vain repetitions of the Pharisee.

people who are sinners, for whom Christ died. Because His blood was shed for us is sufficient reason for preaching on the blood of Jesus!

Because the Red Cross is involved in securing some of my blood it is a matter of personal concern. For these reasons I am calling your attention to this in the evening worship service, February 12, in the United Church.

For example, the groups known as Jehovah's Witnesses do not believe in blood transfusions, but the Red Cross Society does. Is this column one that should simply endorse blood transfusion without reference to any Biblical considerations. Is the practice of transfusion good or bad from the medical point of view? Is it good? I had from the Biblical point of view?

I am interested in the Red Cross, in the Bible, and also, may I add in the Jehovah's Witnesses. Because I am interested particularly in matters of theology, rather than in physiology, I purpose to refer to these things in the evening service, February 12.

There has been much blood shed over matters of religion by —Saw the big cat with the frost ripper on down breaking up the piles of gravel that were dug out of the hole for the pipeline at the mill. It sure works like what happened to the McLeod river bridge in the winter of 1954.

—Dorothy Woodley is now moved into the new post office. Sure looks swell in there with all the nice shining brand new boxes and two Wickets. A change for the better.

—Was out west last Friday to watch those machines working saw a lot Edson folks around watching the trucks that were out demonstrating. Sure take a big load. Twelve or so cords at a time add up to a lot of weight.

Wonder how it stacks with the weight limitation on the highway. Will the bridges take the load when the frost goes out or will we have another break through like what happened to the McLeod river bridge in the winter of 1954.

—Saw Ralph Wilson and Brian Smith showing off their Pioneer brand power saws to a couple of interested lads.

—Saw Bob Newman and his dad working out at the demonstration on Friday, sure some machines.

—Frank Finn says the right way for the gas line will be cleared by the end of February. Then the digging can commence any time. The river crossings

Social Evening Enjoyed By Legion Members

On Saturday night there was a social evening in the Legion hall for all servicemen and their friends. A very pleasant time was had by all, with the MCing being done by Sherry Jobling in his usual affable manner.

The Ladies Auxiliary came to the rescue of the men in serving of the lunch, thank goodness, and a real large crowd turned out. As one lady remarked it sure was lucky they did not all want to dance at the same time.

The hall was just not large enough.

The new furnace had arrived but was not functioning as yet. It did make an attractive center piece though and the weather was warm enough that the oil heater did the job quite well.

—Just time we've seen Gordon Wait this winter. Thought he had hibernated with the bears. Of course it was groundhog day when he did come over. So major!

—Well our signs of spring were not in vain we had the first break from the winter for this weekend, just in time too, as there was the social evening on Saturday night in the legion hall and a big contribution to the success of the evening was the mild weather. It sure was nice to be able to take the good wife out clad like a lady again and if the weather had not improved this would have been impossible.

—Well the Department of Highways are not here now to trace our phone operators, but their oil well drillers are sort of taking that job over.

—Joan and Mrs. Hansen gave a surprise tea party Wednesday afternoon for Irene Chibell, our phone operator. Every one had a most wonderful time.

—Saw Johnny Cap in town the other day giving lessons to some travelling salesman on how to stop cars and keep them stopped.

—Well I guess spring is not far away the young fry have the rubber balls and the jacks out. Noticed Mrs. Jack Smith giving Frank Lovin and Jackie Kline a lesson on how to play jacks and learned something ourselves too. Never had heard of things before and I had three sisters to teach me.

Resident Manager Appointed For Hinton Plant

St. Regis Paper Company announces that A. Thomas Easley has been appointed resident manager of the new bleached sulphate kraft pulp mill being constructed here at Hinton, by North Western Pulp and Power Ltd.

Mr. Easley has been acting resident manager of the St. Regis northern New York Paper mills at Defrelet, Carthage and Herring. St. Regis Paper Company also announces that James E. Kumm has been named resident manager of the St. Regis northern New York mills. He has been assistant manager at the Tacoma pulp and paper mill and bag plant. Hinton Woodlands Organized For Pulp Cut

Mr. Gordon McNabb, the manager of the Woodlands Division of North Western Pulp & Power Ltd., took several hours of his time to outline the methods and machinery that will be tried out here in our Alberta foothills in finding the best way to crop the pulp and ensure its reproducing itself in the best way known to modern silviculture.

Machinery that has been specially designed to facilitate the cutting, bucking up and loading of the pulp is being tried out in the test at number one camp this week.

There are two machines which the pulp company were unable to get for this demonstration, but will have them in the near future.

The mobile rander drags the cut tree in tree length to the machine from a distance of several hundred yards. Then the machine cuts the tops off and loads these onto the truck to take them to the pulp mill. Sounds easy, but this operation need to take dozens of men and horses to accomplish what one machine will now do.

Then for the places that are erated and for the cutter that likes working alone and piling his pulp into piles, there is a machine called the bundle pander which picks the piles up into the strip where they were cut. It walks out to the roadway and puts them on the waiting truck.

Of course there are places in the woods where both of these machines would work at a great disadvantage. In these spots the pulp company is preparing to try out small tractors unsuitable for this type of operation to do the shidding formerly done by horses.

In the testing stages found Hinton is not being overlooked. He still may prove, in some parts of these Alberta woods, the best means of getting the pulp out to the trucks.

The machines that are here for demonstration purposes are the latest there are. One machine with great teeth sticking down in the rear of the cut called ripper, is supposed to be able to rip into 24 inches of frost. This machine will be used in two places if it proves up. First to cultivate the cut over, then to dig area will go into this further on. Then the second purpose of this machine if it works well will be the making of bush roads in the winter months in the soggy and wet areas when they are frozen.

This covers the large mechanical machinery being used. The cutter himself, of course, has a power saw in the place of the old sawed saw.

Now comes the safety factor which will be greatly increased by the use of loading machines. There will be no piles tumbling down on top of the workmen. Personnel working in the woods will wear safety helmets painted a brilliant red.

As Viet Tomlinson says, this will enable the fellas who are out hunting to see the men working around the woods.

Then the Woodlands Division will have on their staff a safety engineer whose main job will be to increase this safety factor at all times. There will be a man in each camp who will hold an industrial first aid certificate and if there are any accidents he will attend the injured until they can be transported to the nearest medical aid.

When Mr. McNabb was asked why the emphasis on safety he said there was primarily the humanitarian side, then it was also good business—the fewer accidents in the woods the more efficient woods work in cropping the pulp, which of course benefits the company as well as the men.

On fire prevention, detection and suppression, the company are setting up mobile crews in radio contact with the office at the Hinton mill. These crews will have all the latest equipment which can be had for fighting fires.

The company are investigating the use of aircraft in the detection of fire, but here in the foothills we do not have the level land nor the lakes that wheeled and flat places have the benefit of in other parts of Canada. Helicopters will be tried out and if successful we may have smoke jumpers in Alberta like they have in Ontario.

The Pulp Company has asked for a special wave length between the main office and the head of the Alberta Forestry at Edson so the use of the forestry lookouts and their fire fighting services can be co-ordinated with the efforts that are being made by the pulp company in the prevention of fires.

ROADS

The roads that will be built through the woods will of course serve two purposes—first the moving of the pulp crop out of the woods, second as fire patrol roads. None of the personnel working in the woods will be allowed to smoke tallsmoke cigarettes, but will have to roll their own with special papers.

None of the woods personnel will carry matches but will have to have lighter.

Mr. McNabb says this rule will apply to any of their people, right from himself down, and it would be a good idea if any person who leaves the main highway would leave their tallsmoke behind them as this is one of the major causes of fire in the country.

The communications between the camps and the office will be done by radio. For the past few months the company has been testing various types of radio and have found that the low frequency range is the best for this area and have applied to the Dominion Government for the necessary frequencies.

The main station will be on the north of the mill and be operated by remote control from the main office building. Mobile sets will be installed in most of the company's vehicles that will be operating in the woodlands, at this time save a lot of time from the detection of fire till the time the straggling crew can be on the scene.

RESEEDING FOREST

With the modern way of cropping the pulp and protecting it from fire there is a big risk ahead to future crops. This is where the big cat with the ripper will come in.

One of the methods that will be used to cause the forest to regenerate itself will be to have this cat go into the cut over strip and push the slash into windrows about 200 yards apart.

Then with the ripper attachment it will till the soil down to a depth of six to ten inches thereby laying the ground fallow for the reception of the seeds from the trees that will remain standing on either side of the strip.

This is just one method that will be tried, but the best one will be the one adopted.

The plans call for the woods camp here as follows: north of the highway, just east of the park, camp No. 1, then south of the highway will be camp No. 2.

Camp No. 1 is very near going now under contractor Nick Tuan Brouse as head man, and will be rolling in a couple of weeks.

Camp No. 3 is on the Anderson road and if Anker of Edson is the bossman there. He is rolling now. Camp No. 4 on the Anderson road is being prepared and the contractor will be Harvey Wright. Camp No. 5 is to be on the Anderson road as well, but is not started as yet.

There will be three more camps set up this spring on the Hay River road, making eight camps in operation for this year's cutting.

The company also plans to buy from independent operators all the pulp they can get. Each of these eight pulp camps will produce at least twenty-five thousand cords of pulpwood this year. So there will be quite a stackable when the mill opens next April.

COATES RINK TAKE LADIES GRAND CHALLENGE

With 33 rinks entered, play had to be continued around the clock. Play throughout the 'spiel was of a very high calibre with many "bonspiel" shots being made to win a game.

Visiting rinks were entered from Foothills, Lucan, Jasper, Edmonton, Leduc, Ennisville, Evansburg and Marcell.

Council Searching For New Source Of Water Supply

The most urgent business at the regular meeting of Edson Town Council on Tuesday, February 7, was the failing water supply which is nothing short of desperate as far as keeping up with consumption at its present rate is concerned.

Council have engaged International Water Supply Ltd. to drill and test for water in selected sites on the north bank of the McLeod River with the object of finding an adequate supply of water for the town. There is evidence that extensive gravel beds at river level will allow the pumping of water directly from these beds into the town system. If this is not feasible apparently a filtration plant will be necessary.

Present: Mayor Burleigh, Councilmen Kertman, Mahon, McIntyre, Nigro, Switzer and Tucker. Mr. G. E. Davidson represented

District Lady Killed Near Leaman

Residents of this area were shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Nina Smalley who died in an Edmonton Hospital following a head-on collision by the car in which she was riding with a truck near Leaman at about 9:00 Sunday evening.

Injured in the accident were Mr. John Smalley and his daughter, Elaine, 16, and two Lucan men, Mr. Walter Kuyk and Mr. Dennis Fairclough.

The Lucan men were travelling east toward the city when they collided with the Evansburg vehicle. At last reports they are making satisfactory recoveries in the Edmonton General Hospital.

Reflecting the interest in the coming municipal election this year was the record attendance of over 150 ratepayers at the annual meeting of the Town in the Legion Memorial Centre on Monday evening. In previous years the cramped Council chambers in Edson's old town hall have been adequate, but this year unusual interest caused the Council to think that the Legion Hall would be needed to accommodate the people who were liable to turn out for the one meeting a year to which all ratepayers should come.

As usual the Town is in good financial condition due to the larger-than-usual school grants, which enabled the Council to reduce the mill rate from the 55 mills levied in 1954 to 50 mills for 1955. Out of the 1954 mill levy 53 went for school purposes, for school during 1955 only 50 mills were necessary.

The surplus for the year of $14,654.24 was held considerably by the large profit from our municipally owned utilities.

A good healthy discussion took place on the subject of bringing in a private power company or keeping our own light plant; whether we should distribute our own natural gas; and a typical pasteurization rhubarb wound the meeting up.

Present at the meeting were Mayor M. B. Burleigh and Councilmen W. Kertman, A. G. Mahon, W. McIntyre, W. Nigro and G. T. Tucker. Mr. W. H. Kankewitt for the School Division Board and Mr. L. A. Mahon for the Board of Health, besides the 114 ratepayers, and 46 others, with practically all Town departments represented as well.

Mayor Burleigh gave a brief address of welcome, expressing the pleasure of the Council in seeing so many in attendance at the meeting. His Worship also briefly covered the highlights of the year in Town operations. On the motion of Mr. S. H. Cliffe, seconded by Mr. J. Switzer, the reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting was dispensed with.

The Mayor read the municipal inspector's report and the Secretary-treasurer read the auditor's comparative statement of receipts and disbursements and the financial reports for 1955.

POLICE COMMITTEE
The Mayor reported for the Police Committee reading the annual Police report, indicating a total of 324 court cases handled by the Town Police in 1955 a considerable increase over the previous year.

There had been no serious crimes committed in 1955 though the Department had been kept very busy largely due to influx of the reading of the minutes of the

Three Entrance Men Killed At Pedley

A tragic accident occurred Saturday evening at 10:30 at the Pedley Crossing, approximately ten miles east of Hinton. Three men employed at Carlson's Lumber Camp at Entrance were killed when their car crashed into the 29th car of a 55 car eastbound freight.

Ivor Forsberg, 31, and Glen Kenneth Abrahamson, 44, were killed instantly and the train crew picked Edwin Johnson, 55, up and took him into Edson where he succumbed in St. John's Hospital from his injuries.

The crossing, which has caused many a motorist to pause and comment on it, is a particularly difficult approach, especially from the east in which direction the death car was travelling.

Heavy snow conditions at the time of the accident made the crossing even more hazardous than usual, but apparently the red flashing lights and the bell were in working condition at the moment of impact.

Mr. A. J. McEvoy of Edson, conductor of the train arranged for the fatally injured man to be brought into Edson in the caboose of the freight where he died from shock from his serious injuries.

The car was crumpled between the sign post at the side of the track and the train.

An inquest to be held at Edson on February 29 has been called by Dr. Watson of Hinton.

In view of the unusually heavy interest in the municipal elections and the larger-than-usual number of candidates who have signified their intention of running for the three council seats, the Edeon Legion has offered their hall, the Kinsmen are sponsoring the "get-out-and-vote" drive and the Board of Trade will probably provide a chairman, for a public meeting to hear the views of the various candidates on town affairs.

Tuesday, February 28, has been picked as the most suitable evening for the meeting and the time is set for 8:00 sharp.

Besides hearing from the council candidates and the prospective mayoralty contestants, a referred discussion of the question of the hour—pastorization — is being put on the agenda.

Tickets Limited For Provincial Playoffs Here

Members of the Edson Athletic Association who are selling the tickets for Sunday afternoon's playoff game between Vegreville Rangers and Edson Athletics in the local arena at 2:30 say that tickets are getting scarce.

As seating accommodation is expected to be limited due to the high interest in Edson's bid for Intermediate B laurels, tickets should be purchased right away.

The two game home-and-home series will be settled on a total score basis and the Edson lads are suffering under a two point deficit.

The way the local lads went after the Vegreville pucksters last Saturday they should have no difficulty in getting at least three up this Sunday, especially as they will be playing on home ice.

Two candidates are contesting the Mayor's chair and eleven citizens the three Council vacancies following the close of nominations on Monday, February 20.

Acclamations For Local School Trustees

Sharp contrast to the Council, the two vacancies on the Edson local school board, were filled by acclamation when the nominations closed on Monday at noon.

Re-elected was Mr. Jack Pattinson, who has served for several years on the board, and is presently secretary for the purpose of the board's meetings.

Elected for the first time on the civic scene is Mr. Joe Kibach, who will take the seat formerly held by Mrs. Louise Buck, who is standing for Council this year.

Other members of the local board are Trustees G. T. Harri-son, H. Matthews and D. M. Cullen.

Tuesday, February 22, is the date picked by the Kinsmen Club for the public meeting to hear the views of the various mayoralty and councillor candidates.

The Kinsmen have undertaken the project in the spirit of get-out-the-vote and the Edson Legion have made available the Legion Memorial Centre for the meeting.

At time of writing the Kinsmen were searching for a suitable chairman with the view in mind that the meeting should not be allowed to bog down in acrimonious debate and repetitious and pointless argument.

One of the ground rules favored by most was that of allowing each councillor candidate the opportunity to speak say, for five minutes, and both of the two mayoralty candidates a longer period, with an opportunity for a short rebuttal in the case of the mayoralty candidates.

To keep the general discussion and question period under some semblance of order it is thought that a rule of a chance for each citizen wishing to, to speak once, and once only, on the subject under discussion would be fair to listeners as well as speakers.

A good turnout is expected and extra seats are being laid out for the evening which will commence promptly at 8:00.

Edson Mahon Electric Midgets Open Series In Prov. Playdowns

The Edson Mahon Electric Midgets, 2-4, a win for the boys in this series would put them a point ahead of the following week.

In the second game the boys travel to Edmonton on Monday the 27th where they play the KC midgets on the 118th Street rink.

The boys are raring to go and total goal series and should would appreciate a good turnout prove to be a very interesting out of routers.

Who May Vote

In answer to the question of who may vote in the coming municipal elections the answer is:

All property owners of the Town of Edson who have attained the full age of 21 years.

All Canadian citizens of the full age of 21 years who have been resident in the Town continuously since April 1, 1955, and who have their names on the voters list.

Those otherwise eligible and whose names do not appear on the voters list can be sworn in by the returning officer on election day, March 5.

The method of voting is by a cross (X)—figures must not be used—for both the mayoralty, councillor and plebiscite ballots.

In the case of the ballot for councillors, up to three crosses (X's) are to be used. It is not wrong to only vote for one or two candidates, but officials urge citizens to make full use of their franchise.

The Edson Kinettes executive and Sister Superior Knopac are shown as they demonstrated the oxygen and croupette tent with regulator and flowmeter assembly for the oxygen tent, and an extra canopy for the tent which the Kinettes presented to the St. John's Hospital. This is one more worthy project completed by the Kinettes in their service to the Community. Playground equipment in the amount of $500.00 has been purchased and will be set up this year. Rounding out their work for the past year they filled several hampers for Christmas and donated to a number of charitable organizations. They expect to find more projects to take care of in the future. We wish them good

The Voters Must Choose

Edson probably has not a record for recent years in this province at any rate. Eleven candidates for three seats on our Council show a degree of interest in Town affairs that can have nothing but the healthiest effect on our local public business.

The fact that eleven of our citizens, plus two citizens who are standing for mayor, are willing to stick their necks out on behalf of their fellow ratepayers and spend at least two long evenings per month, and their Town is commendable.

Out of eleven candidates there are bound to be possibly three more suitable than the others in the opinion of the voters. But careful consideration of the merits of those most qualified to serve our interest is necessary by voters going to the polls.

The issue of pasteurization is going to doubly enure a heavy vote. We may look confidently to the record when the votes are tallied. It will be interesting to see how many of the 1300 odd qualified voters do get out to the municipal polls.

One Man Campaign

Mr. George Ed. Collin has an interesting theory supported by some interesting geographical facts concerning Edson's failing water supply that deserve to be followed right up by our Town authorities whether they will solve our problem or not.

Mr. Collin has told us that there was a seismograph drill hole dug several miles northwest of town that has caused a cavity which changed the water flow away from the four Town wells which give us our water supply.

The charge of dynamic which was set off to give the tell-tale jiggling which oil explorers can analyze may well have caused what promised to be a heavy producing water well to have become non-productive to point where it is hardly worth keeping a pump on it.

Oil exploration companies are bound by the terms under which they operate by the Provincial Government to convert all changes in geographical structure which they may cause during the course of their operations.

It will not cost the Town a thing to insist that the possible cause of our failing water supply is filled in and it may save us many thousands of dollars in having to go to the river for our water.

Congratulations Mr. Collin on using your head to try and solve one of our pressing problems.

A. H. Dakin School

The announcement by School Divisional Board Trustee W. H. Kankewitt at the annual trustees meeting on Monday evening that the new Edson elementary school which will be opened shortly is to be called the "A. H. Dakin school" will meet with the general approval of Edsonites young and old.

To the young men and women who were his first pupils and are now sending their children to his newly supervised school, this is a fitting tribute to a man who has been so much a part of the fabric of life in our town.

Edson has never named its schools in honor of people before, but now that we are getting into the mends itself to all.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—Albertans should know by the end of this week how much their provincial government plans to spend during the coming fiscal year.

From all indications, members of the legislature will have finished debating the reply to the Speech from the Throne, and is expected a special night sitting will be called on Friday to bring down the budget.

Hon. E. W. Homan, who represents the southern riding of Cardston, will present his first budget speech since his appointment as provincial treasurer in the cabinet shuffle last November.

There probably will be a normal increase in estimated budget expenditures for the 1956-57 fiscal year, with more money expected to be sought for highways, telephone, health welfare and aid to municipalities.

Estimates are that proposed government spending will amount to nearly $240,000,000 in the fiscal year which begins April 1. Last year's budget called for expenditures of $222,000,000, which was an increase of $18,000,000 over the previous year.

Of special interest to Alberta municipalities will be details of proposed increases in government financial assistance. According to reliable estimates, the government plans to set aside between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 for capital loans to municipalities and the purchase of school buildings.

This will augment the proposed municipal financing corporation, which is expected to borrow money on the open market and re-lend it to municipalities. The government will guarantee the corporation's borrowings, resulting a saving in interest.

The budget is traditionally delivered on a Friday night, in order that the leader of the opposition can study it and prepare to launch the debate when the session resumes on the following Monday.

At the time of writing, 11 members had taken part in the debate on the reply to the Throne Speech, but there had been little in the way of fireworks.

However, notice was given that the legislature will be asked for the second successive year to consider a possible revamping of the province's liquor laws.

J. Percy Page (P.C.—Edmonton) and Arthur Smith (P.C.—Calgary) said they will ask that a royal commission be established to investigate the liquor question. Mr. Page, a two-time minister, said that nearly 15,000,000 gallons of beer and liquor were consumed in the province in a year, and said the situation "is getting out of hand."

So far, government spokesmen haven't hinted at the liquor question. But last year, they said more information must be gathered from British Columbia and Manitoba, where laws have been changed recently.

Other speakers devoted much time to praising their constituents and, depending on which side of the house they sit, criticizing or praising the Social Credit government.

Mr. Homan had more to say about the proposed survey of provincial municipal financial arrangements, and forecast "radical changes." He hinted at possible new sources of revenue for cities, towns, municipalities, counties and school and hospital.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

This medicine is powerful—the best stuff we've ever had for the liver.

Customer: "Can you give me any specific reference—someone who has taken it with good results?"

Clerk: "There was an old man down the street who took it for his liver for three years."

Customer: "Did it help him?" Clerk: "He died last week, but they had to test his liver with a stick for three days after he died before they could kill it."

One: "Can you lend me ten dollars?"

Another: "I hate to lend money, it always breaks up a friendship."

One: "So what—after all, we're not very good friends."

Grandma Jones had lived alone in her cottage for many, many years. She seldom ventured far from the front gate and that was only to get mail. She seemed to enjoy her life of solitude.

"But how do you stand the 'ter lastin' silence, Grandma?" asked one of the neighbors one day.

Grandma looked fondly at the two fellows that were playing with a ball of twine on the floor. "Oh," she said with a playful gleam in her eye, "when it gets so quiet, I just kick off of one cat."

The travelling salesman decided suddenly to spend a weekend at home. He sent his wife a wire and took the next train. On his arrival he found his wife in the embrace of another man. Pursued, he left, took rooms at the local hotel and announced that he would apply for divorce.

The next day his father-in-law called to try and smooth things over. "I'm quite sure there's some explanation for my daughter's behaviour," he said. "Look here, will you wait until tomorrow before you do anything about the divorce."

Reluctantly the husband agreed. On the morning the father-in-law was back again, beaming.

"I know Dorothy would have an explanation," he said, patting the husband on the back. "She did not get your telegram."

It was not available but Health Minister Cross and five other ministers were summoned to the cabinet chamber.

Dr. Cross told the visitors the government is considering local plebiscites on fluoridation. It is required that if people want fluoridation as a means of preventing tooth decay the government can't deny them.

It is probable that the house will call for a plebiscite to be held about a year from now.

Farmers Lumbermen

We need 20 million board feet of Black or White Poplar logs for the manufacture of Plywood.

- Logs must be 13 inch top or over.
- Logs must be in 9 foot or 17 1/2 foot lengths.
- Log prices as follows on truck road in the bush: (a) 13 to 20 inch top, $16. per M. feet.
- (b) Over 20 inch top, $18. per M. feet.

We will pay and scale logs right in the bush on suitable truck road.

We will pick up and load logs with our own equipment.

This is a wonderful opportunity to get into the logging business with very little equipment or cash outlay.

For example: A 17 1/2 foot log with 21 inch top contains 720 board feet and is worth $5.92 right in the bush.

Carrot Creek W.I. Hold Meeting

The regular meeting of the Carrot Creek W.I. was held on February 8th at the home of Mrs. Poudner. Eleven members were present.

Handcraft articles to be made for the Constitution Conference which will be held next fall were discussed. Patterns for a patchwork quilt were viewed and the pattern and colors will be decided at the next meeting.

A very interesting report on United Nations Activities was given by Mrs. Henault.

Delegates to represent this local at the W.I. Conference to be held in Edmonton in March were appointed. They are Mrs. W. Novotny and Mrs. W. Suter. Mrs. F. Novotny was presented with a lovely baby blanket. The basket prize was won by Mrs. Brendal. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The March meeting will be held on March 14th at the home of Mrs. A. Dunton. New members and visitors are cordially invited.

Distribute Manufacturing Plants

It may come as a surprise to many people to learn that the province of Manitoba ranks high among all provinces of the Dominion as a producer of apparel. In Winnipeg, it is growing steadily. Manitoba leads all of Canada in the production of overalls and workshirts and is second only in Toronto in the production of work pants and windbreakers. It is a large producer of women's coats and suits and also in sportswear.

The government of Manitoba recently employed an American engineering and marketing consulting firm to make a study of the apparel industry there. The report recommended that such manufacturers should consider locating plants in rural towns and cities in the province, thus a valuable concentration in Winnipeg.

We have constantly drawn attention to the great concentration of industries in cities and expressed the opinion that it would be better for the country as a whole if there was a wider distribution of industrial life. The report pleased the consulting firm employed by the Manitoba government recommended a wider distribution of industry. It is better to have fifty thriving towns and small cities in a province than have a giant concentration of population in one or two cities. (Reels) Bulletin.

What Some Of The Fans Said

Here are some of the remarks made by fans who accompanied the Edson Athletics to Vegreville at the weekend.

Jack Pattinson: "I've never seen Edson play as hard and didn't think they had it in them. I saw the game at Vegreville and it was a hard fought deal and a clean game."

John Geritz: "Edson surprised me in their hustle both ways. A break in the first ten minutes of play could easily have given us the two point margin that we lost by."

John Finlay: "A few breaks in the first period would have given us the lead, but the big surprise came from behind after a 4-0 deficit."

John Demachuk: "Never seen such a staggering game."

Plastics Providing With New Market Outlets

As a further step in its expansion in the thermoplastics field, the Plastics Division of St. Regis Paper Company is opening a thermoplastics laboratory at Richmond, Indiana where it has plants for injection molding and vacuum forming plastics. The new laboratory will be concerned with the development of new processes and applications for thermoplastics materials, and with the study of new materials and equipment for use in thermoplastics manufacture. In addition, it will serve as the center of the engineering and development activities of the various thermoplastics plants of the Plastics Division.

The new laboratory is headed by Paul E. Schmidt, chief thermoplastics engineer, who has served as a member of the Plastics Division's Advanced Engineering Department.

St. Regis has participated actively in the growing plastics industry and its plastics operations today are widely diversified as a company with a quarter of a century ago. At that time, St. Regis became active in the field of high pressure laminates since they provided a market for its paper. Its pioneering in the development of odorous laminates, which is also another major market for decorative high pressure laminates.

The Plastics Division is active in injection and compression molding vacuum forming and plastic films. The latter field was entered early this year when St. Regis acquired Chester Packaging Products Corporation of Yonkers, N.Y.

Polyethylene film is one of the fastest growing segments of the packaging industry. Company.

With The Curlers . . .

By NORK

It looks as though the curlers have been resting on their laurels this week. Things have been kind of quiet around the rink.

A number of rinks have gone out of town in the last while, and brought home their share of the prizes. The two rinks that entered the Jasper curling competition were Messrs. Laurie Switzer and Donald Buck, showed the Park curling fraternity that they are very formidable competition.

The Switzer rink took second in the Varsity event and the Buck rink took third or fourth in the King Edward event. They had to come home before they were able to find out just what prize would be coming their way.

Ed Hunter, our genial president, and a member of the Buck rink, said he knew what it would be, but either better dishes or scarves.

Three rinks took in the Ladies Open at Enbridge over the weekend and came home with first, second and third prizes in the same event. The rinks were Robinson with First, Coates with second and Shearer with third prize in the event.

Plywood Plant Will Benefit Farmers Loggers

We are informed of the construction of a new plywood plant in Edmonton that will be using black or white poplar logs for manufacture of plywood for use in the home or industry.

Stan Lockhart is in charge of the forest log production for the company. He has had extensive experience both in the forest for B. C. and has recently moved here to take care of the Alberta operation. He has been associated with the lumber industry for 15 years, 10 of which he has been administrator in charge of the forest log production for the Western Plywood Co. is one of the most aggressive companies in the plywood field. At present they operate three plants in British Columbia and are at present expanding their operations into Alberta.

The opening of their Alberta operations will be a boon to those farmers that are located and have land near streams and rivers. This will be a wonderful opportunity for them to utilize trees that have always presented a problem in the past and will mean converting a practically worthless asset in a cash crop.

We have much of this type of trees in the Edson area and any one interested in logging for this new plant are advised to get in touch with Mr. M. Battagin, their purchasing agent, at the Commodore Hotel in Edson on Wednesday, February 29th.

Mr. Battagin is also buyer for the Capital City Box Co. and has been a buyer of forest products for the past 15 years.

PRINCIPAL'S ASSOCIATION HOLDS SECOND MEETING

The recently formed Principal's Association of the Edson Tapes Institute held its second meeting on Saturday last in the board room of the new divisional office building in Edson. Nineteen principals and vice-principals and Superintendent J. Finlay were in attendance.

Among the subjects discussed at the meeting were the Teachers' Institute to be held in Edson on March 9th, with the program for that day under the direction of the teachers of the town of Jasper; telephones for centralized schools; the status of various types of "driven" funds; new buildings and problems that have arisen; testing programs proposed for grades 10 and 12 by the Department of Education; and discipline problems on school buses.

In connection with the last named problem, it was recommended that a committee consisting of Board members, teachers, and drivers be set up to form.

Miss Elizabeth Peterson, one of our telephone operators, is visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Svend Peterson in Mayville.

Vegreville Coming To Decide Series

SECOND SECTION PAGES 9-16

Vol. 3 Edson Alberta, Thursday, Feb. 23, 1956 No. 43

Some Of Our Boys

GRANT MacMILLAN
Grant plays left defence with a rough, rustling Vic Cebulak, he has enjoyed a defensive play against Vegreville this Sunday.

VIC CEBULAK
Vic, the heaviest Athletic, and high moving defenceman has played good hockey for the Athletics this season and leads the defencemen in points with 14 to his credit. Vic is also a Coal Branch product and has played in Edson for the past five years.

Athletics Back From East With Two Goal Deficit

Edson Athletics came back from Vegreville after their Saturday home and home game in a total goal series in the Provincial Intermediate B playoffs with a 5-3 deficit at the weekend. Accompanying the Athletics were live cars of Edson fans and 20 on the bus that took the team down east. All were enthusiastic about the game and seem to feel sure that Edson will have a good chance to make up the deficit here this Sunday, at 2:30 and then some.

The Athletics were edged out by a score of 5-3 in a very closely fought game, but the local squad hustled right from the starting whistle and in the first ten minutes of play looked like they would swamp the powerful Vegreville club. However the breaks did not come their way mostly because of the small ice surface.

The Vegreville club took command by a 3-0 lead in the first period and went ahead to lead 4-0 at the end of the second frame. The third stanza started off with a bang again and the Athletics, working harder than ever, blinked the red light at 11:25, when Davidson scored on an assist from Higgins and then came back to bang another one at 11:35 unassisted. It looked like the Athletics were on the march when Kirk, one of Vegreville's imports scored at the 16 minute mark to strengthen the east town's lead. Then at 18:50 Higgins on a pass from Hamstead made the scoreboard read 5-3. The final horn came a little too soon for the Edson boys as by now they were pouring the rubber at the opposition.

Anybody with a weak heart should stay away from Sunday's game in the local arena, because it should be a real thriller as both clubs will go at it tooth and nail to gain a lead in the first series. Admission to the arena will be by ticket only which can be procured from any member of the EAA in advance. Seating accommodation is limited so get yours early.

NINO CHIESA
Nino is a story Coal Branch product and winner of the Edson Billards high scoring trophy last year. He'll be trying to catch team-mate Davidson in the scoring race this Sunday. So he should really be rustling and let's hope the old veteran blinks the red light a couple of times and comes up with another of his spectacular performances.

STAN DAVIDSON
The Athletics wouldn't be a team without Stan as the big centre. Stan has played good hockey this season and leads the scoring race by three goals.

LYALL KORTZMAN
Every team needs a fighter and if there's fighting to do turn to Lyall. Lyall is the Bill Williams of Edson. He plays left wing. Besides being a fiery fighting forward he is right up in the top four in the scoring race and should be good for a goal this weekend at least.

JOE BOCHER
Starry left winger who will as usual be stick-handling around opposing forwards like he was born with a stick in his hand. Joe plays left wing on a line with Chiesa and Levin.

As A Candidate for your town council, I have the following to offer:

1. A record of conscientious application to any task undertaken;
2. Many years of experience in administrative work;
3. Extensive experience in working with others towards a common goal;
4. Considerable knowledge of Edson's affairs and needs as a result of five consecutive years on the Executive of the Board of Trade;
5. A sincere desire to make Edson the envy of every other town in Alberta.
6. In making any decision, I will ask myself one question: What is best for all the people of our town?
7. I have no grudges to avenge, and no fanatic axes to grind.

Manure To The Fore On Milk Pasteurization

I LIKE MANURED FLAVOURED MILK

I have read with interest and approval, unmarred, the remarkable opinion appearing in the Edison Leader over the signatures of our three eminent men of medicine. This letter which apparently represents the collective wisdom of our followers of Hippocrates is so full of obscenity, sarcasm, contradictions and venomous scurrilities as to render it discreditable even to a schoolboy.

After beginning down in a series of contradictions before the end of the fifth paragraph, they flounder hopelessly along, pulling rubbish on top of nonsense and crowning the uncanny result with venomous abuse until they reach the end. Much too late.

Regarding milk as a food, after these clear cut and plain statements Professor Alexander Hay, Senior Lecturer at the East Indian Institute of Agriculture says "Milk is a complete food containing as it does protein, fat, carbohydrates, mineral salts and water. Though deficient in certain metallic elements believed essential for normal adult growth, the milk of any species is an adequate food for the young of that species including its content of vitamins."

Normally, cows milk that produced under proper conditions, is an adequate source of Vitamins A and B and it is a reasonably good source of Vitamin C and D. Its content of Vitamin E is probably low.

This is supported by Dr. Edmond Provost (Cathart, Regius Professor of Physiology, University of Glasgow, Gardner Professor of Chemical Physiology and Member of War Cabinet Scientific Committee on Food Policy 1940) who says "No food has yet been found suitable for the young of all species as their mother's milk. A close approximation of mother's milk may be made by adding to Fresh cows milk half its bulk of soft water."

It is pointed out of which has been moved a brand of suspicion of powdered sugar of milk and a pinch of phosphate of lime. The wholesome food, however, for the first six months is certainly mother's milk alone."

Being a complete food, it is for that reason, a perfect medium for the carriage of germs. This is true whether the milk is raw or pasteurized and pasteurized milk can readily become contaminated both during and after pasteurization.

These figures tell the story. From the U.S. Public Reports 1943:

Kind of Milk	Cases Deaths
Pasteurized Milk	1,482 9
Raw Milk	400 6
Optimal formula	9 1
Opt. Cream Raw	9 0
Cheese	315 1

I have not discussed the matter.

tion that the taste of natural milk is due to manure, for I am willing to concede that our medical men are more conversant with the latter taste than I am and on this point alone, I bow my head, in humility before their superior knowledge but still maintain that I like the taste of clean, fresh milk.

Thomas E. Booker

Dear Editor: As I am a drinker of this manure flavored poison that the doctors seem to think raw milk is, I am really glad that I last of as long as I have.

If I was afraid of catching half of the diseases that are supposed to be in raw milk I would buy one of those pasteurization rigs in Eaton's for only $29.50 and then I would be dead certain of staying alive a little longer. And I would still have the cream line half way down the bottle and my milk would still be here at 9 am instead of 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

My kid would still get her candy from the milk man and that raw milk may contain have our local board of health pulling the "ouch" which Doug, remember the talk we all got when we got discharged from the services about what the Government was going to do for the small business man. Set him up and all that stuff. Why is it that every day now they are trying to crush him?"

Let those that want pasteurized milk drink it, and let us that want to gamble on life do so. A Raw Milk Drinker Editor: Everyone is talking about the milk question, that is with the exception of us girl cows who produce the real thing. It is quite amusing to us to hear all of this controversy.

Maybe you will think it strange that we are so well informed but some of our bull friends sure got around and of course they keep us pretty well informed on what is going on. Us cows are pretty proud of our milk and it is sure awful to see it all the time of so much ridicule, etc.

For our own sake in the nursing of our calves we would not stand for it being belittled up and all of that nonsense.

As some of the people making us are not too particular of their health habits then for the good of all it is necessary to cook it up and return the lowly human germs that some of our owners introduce into the nearly perfect food of life.

Yours faithfully, Radcliffe Hallina 2.

(How we're getting some where—Ed.)

Dear Editor:

I would like very much to have the opportunity to reply to those who are so not against the producers of raw milk being given the right to continue selling their milk in Eaton.

Freedom! Freedom! Where have you gone? Two World Wars have been fought over the very important word. Are the doctors of Eaton going to stand idly by and see their freedom of choice restricted?

Our family has, for the past number of years, regularly consumed ten to fifteen quarts of raw milk each week. It now looks as though this freedom to choose the milk we like best is going to be denied. This was the main reason for writing this article.

I also wish to have the privilege of replying to some of the charges made by the local doctors as regards raw milk.

They have mentioned the seven pathogenic organisms that raw milk may carry if it came offered for sale in town.

Now, if both these facts have many useful bacterial organisms true, it would seem that both that raw milk may contain have our local board of health and bacterial organisms are useful, their duties in a shameful manner, as they are there to safeguard the public against certain local dairy-workers by the practice.

Every producer who sells in want to ask the question—What town must be licensed, and when was the Health Officer doing that licensed they become liable to be had? discovered this unfair the powers of the council, which was more convenient to delay Village Act, these powers are this while. Regardless of the sweeping and have only to be our Health Officer to make quality superior to any pasteurized dairies as the local restaurants and parlors have.

Utterly false and beyond belief that in intelligent business would make, but we are not interested in such a comment about raw milk, drinking stale milk, what we even though they may not enjoy drinking it.

It is up to YOU . . . the electors to have the last say. I don't feel the By-Law was necessary in the first place as we were quite satisfied with our present milk supply, be it own freedom, freedom of choice and freedom to pay our income tax are about the only two we have left, so don't throw away your own, or someone else's choice as to which kind of milk you will drink.

Insist that our board of health and our council do their duty, as they have been granted the power to do, and not evade the issue by building you into a pasteurization by-law, so that pasteurization by-law, so that the whole matter will be decided. It is entirely up to the provincial inspectors, we don't have to worry about it.

Against the By-Law. (Re No. 2—The worker had only been on the farm two weeks when his skin condition was discovered. The M.H.O. tells us that pasteurization would have destroyed the particular type of germ he was spreading—Ed.)

Dear Sir, Last Monday night while the moon was shining on the snow at 10:30 PM, I was sitting at the table at the local board of health, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Hon. and Mr. John Switzer made statements, backed up by my statements and figures which according to them, place the population of our town who prefer to drink fresh, raw milk, in a dangerous position.

Dear Sir, Last Monday night while the moon was shining on the snow at 10:30 PM, I was sitting at the table at the local board of health, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Hon. and Mr. John Switzer made statements, backed up by my statements and figures which according to them, place the population of our town who prefer to drink fresh, raw milk, in a dangerous position.

Insist that our board of health and our council do their duty, as they have been granted the power to do, and not evade the issue by building you into a pasteurization by-law, so that pasteurization by-law, so that the whole matter will be decided. It is entirely up to the provincial inspectors, we don't have to worry about it.

Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital Of Direct Benefit Here

During the past five years and up to December 31, 1955, three children from Edson and District have spent a total of 103 days in the Albert Red Cross Crippled Hospital. The children came from Cadomin, Carrot Creek and Marlboro.

Built by the people of the province for these children whose parents cannot afford prolonged treatment that orthopedic disability demand, the hospital provides the finest in medical, surgical and nursing care and is, of course, a free service by the Red Cross to all children in the province requiring this assistance. Inpatient care includes all braces, casts and other orthopedic appliances that the run demands while regular schooling, music and regular Scouting and Guiding work together to build the whole child.

The work at the Red Cross hospital is financed by a provincial grant from the Provincial Government, gifts from the friends of Red Cross and the annual campaign for funds. Each year's care per patient costs Red Cross in the neighborhood of $850 which must be financed by the Society.

One of the greatest contributions to the Society, which makes the hospital possible, is that all the doctors on the staff are volunteers who donate their time and talents to both the Red Cross and the children.

The sum of $154,361.00 from the current campaign for funds is budgeted to be spent in maintaining the work of the Red Cross hospital during the forthcoming year.

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMORE

There used to be a comedy team called Snoopnagle and Bud which specialised in inventions of small practical value, such as toolboxes, combs for bald men and load life preservers for people who would rather swim.

Now, however, sober technicians have supplanted Bud and swoop and lower than Snoopnagle in their quest for the absurd.

An electronic brain in New York has just finished making up 42,000 names for miracle drugs, which haven't been invented yet.

The machine took 28 hours to spew out a list beginning with abechamycin and running through brulamyacin, clicchaycin, playphyl and starycine to yevivine.

This dictionary of non-existent medicines reads with the straight, level and the left handed twang of a list of the truly unborn children. It would save a load of headscratching for parents if they would press a button and come up with a stolly original name, like Truthophobe Johnson or Cliecephill Brown.

They made up names—as a science much the same as delivering a cart to a vacant lot and waiting for someone to build a house around it.

Now all they have to do is invent the medicines.

Meanwhile, they must find storage space for a volume of gibberish which has about the same social value as a glossary for "Finnegan's Wake" or a collection of the late Gertrude Stein's words pruned sideways.

There is proof of something we have suspected for a long time: That we live in an age hypothesized by words.

Niton Students Discuss Teaching Up Professional Teaching

Teacher Recruitment and Retention was the theme of the meeting of the Niton Central Home and School Association on February 17. The high school students were invited to attend. An interesting panel discussion on "The choosing of Teaching as a Career" was held. Two teachers, Mrs. E. Olafsen and Mr. H. H. Lawton, gave their reasons why they chose teaching as their career. Mrs. R. King gave her reasons why she would not like her child to be a teacher and Mrs. M. Miller gave her reasons why she would like her child to be a teacher.

read committees formed again this year to meet with himself and engineers in an advisory nature.

Mr. M. Miller was appointed for Carrot Creek. Mr. M. R. Jacobs of the Curtis Publishing Co. gave a talk on magazines in the home. He said books and magazines widen the horizons of everyone who reads and helps broaden the minds of students. The high school students of Niton Central are launching a campaign to sell magazine subscriptions to enable them to buy sports equipment.

Mr. M. Kondrak, principal, explained the Variety Weekend and how beneficial it is for a Grade XII student to attend.

During the lunch hour a draw was taken on the School Opening Contest. The winners were: Mrs. E. Olafsen, Mrs. B. Van Dyke and Mrs. D. Dye.

The next meeting of the Niton Central H&S Association will take place on March 16.

Letters To The Editor

Last week your newspaper was kind enough to carry announcement of our Young People's Liberal meeting for February 29th, eight o'clock, at my house. Since then, I have been asked what are the age limits for the group. There is no age limit. Anyone sufficiently interested to come is most likely to contribute something worthwhile to the thought of the meeting. Much as we all enjoy the stimulus of work with young people, the committee has reluctantly placed an upper limit of thirty five years on membership. May I again invite our younger readers most cordially to this meeting?

The Editor,
Edson Leader,
Dear Mr. Caston:
Thank you very much indeed for the two excellent pictures you sent me last mail; I am very happy to have them as a souvenir of the event.

I think I can speak for the people of the district in saying that we all appreciate very much the interest you have shown in this district by attending our school opening and giving us much splendid publicity.

Yours sincerely,
Gertrude M. Coon

Red Cross Benefit Show At Edson

A Red Cross Benefit show will be held in the Edson Theatre at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, February 22. The entire proceeds of silver collection will be donated to the Red Cross fund.

The feature attraction, an outdoor adventure in Technicolor, SHORT GRASS, starring Red Cameron.

Dr. M. R. Row, former Deputy Minister of Health, and now chairman of the Junior Red Cross in Alberta, will give a brief address on value of Red Cross work.

Glenn Smiley, organizer of the Blood Transfusion Service, will show a short film.

Red Cross campaigns for funds this year—with a powerful one-day effort on Thursday, March 1. Watch for your canvasser.

Children under 13 years will not be admitted unless accompanied by parents.

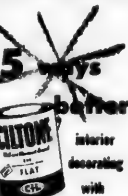

F.U.A. News

Members of the F.U.A. Local 509 held a lively meeting on February 9, when election of officers took place. Officers elected for 1936 are as follows: President, Mr. Bill Smith; Vice-President, Bill Osborn; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Cooper. The Board of Directors includes Norman Fowler, George Cooper, Henry Wassmuth and A. Morris. A group of four ladies make up the social committee. They are: Mrs. Bill Smith, Mrs. D. Osborn, Mrs. A. Rasmussen and Mrs. E. Fowler.

At the District 5 (F.U.A.) convention held in Sanguo last year it was decided to have a curling bonspiel this year. Playoffs were held in Sanguo and Spruce Grove. A trophy will be awarded to the winner of the first event for both men and women. So folks you see we farmers are interested in things other than farming.

400 ratepayers hear Candidates Speak

At a time when other municipalities are complaining of little or no civic interest, Edson ratepayers turned out 283 strong to hear what the record number of council and mayoralty candidates had to tell them in the Legion Memorial Centre Tuesday evening, Feb. 28.

While there was some indication beforehand that there might be some sensationalism, the bulk of the tremendous prospective decisions that must be made by Edson's municipal government this year.

The issue of the gas franchise, the enlargement of the power plant, the hospitalization plan, the establishing of a permanent water supply and a furthering of the sidewalk, street and boulevard program clearly put the dispute about pasteurization into the background as far as the majority of the candidate were concerned.

Under the auspices of the Kinsmen Club in a civic get-out-the-vote effort, Chairman Weldon Taddy and Co-chairman Bill Switzer held a tight rein on the speakers and allowed the speakers five minutes to give their points of view, with a slightly longer period for civic mayoralty candidates. When all 15 running for period seemed to peter out due to most of the questions having been answered.

The various candidates were introduced in the order in which their name appears on the ballot and along the following lines:

J. A. BALL put his views in the form of questions that charge that the interests of the Town were being seriously affected by the domination of town affairs by a few businesses and others for the benefit of only a small section of the ratepayers.

Said Mr. Ball "our town is getting too big for a small group to be dominating the town's business for their own ends." He told the meeting that if elected he intended to do something about this state of affairs.

He also urged the voters to vote against the pasteurization by-law as he considered it an infringement of people's freedom of choice.

T. E. BOOKER also spoke against the curtailing of freedom if the by-law is passed. Said Mr. Booker "a large number of young Canadians have fought in two world wars against curtailment of freedom and now we find we are having to fight for it as well."

Mr. Booker also wanted to know why the Board of Trade had "made a deal" with the local pasteurizing plant and why the local Board of Health had suddenly found out about unsanitary conditions in our milk supply.

He also quoted statistics on both raw and pasteurized milk to prove that there is very little danger in drinking either kind. In passing he mentioned that none of the bigger centres in Alberta have a pasteurization by-law.

MRS. LOUISE BUCK told her audience that during 17 years residence in Edson she had served in various community organizations, including service with both the local and divisional school boards and felt it was right she should try to "help keep a finger in the dike" as community matters.

She said that she favors bond financing; is glad to hear a swimming pool again being seriously discussed; that the street and sidewalk program should be continued with special attention to the dust problem.

Mrs. Buck also said that our light rate tended to give the wrong impression to newcomers to town, and that perhaps our high profits from the light plant are only sugar coating.

A. GOLDSTICK told the meeting that he is standing for Council because he feels that it is the duty of a citizen to offer his services.

He said that he does not want to get in with a chip on his shoulder but that the big things facing the town, such as gas, require the careful study of all. If elected, said Mr. Goldstick he would do everything in his power to give the taxpayers a break.

E. HUNTER told the meeting that he considered it a great honor to have been asked by those who nominated him to have the chance to help solve the problems of Edson's great future.

There is the gas franchise and many other things to be considered, he said, in deciding what to do best for the Town.

He urged everyone to get out and vote because we are lucky to be able to have this privilege.

W. F. KORTZMAN had a prepared speech read by Mr. E. B. Cliffe due to his duties calling him out of town for the meeting.

Mr. Kortzman said that his term on the Council had given him most conscientious attention, especially on the parks, risk and cemetery committee, that he had been able to give. He reminded his listeners that the experience gained must be weighed when making a choice for councillor.

Mr. Kortzman said he believed in the public ownership of our utilities as long as they serve our best interests, the development of the boulevards by grading and planting of trees.

The various projects needed by our town such as a new town hall, a new fire hall and a swimming pool would have to be shifted for best priority and reminded his audience that such projects add to the responsibility on the shoulders of those guiding our affairs.

W. M. MACDONALD said that he considered it a great privilege to be included among so many offering their services and that his offer was backed up by 14 years of experience on the Council.

We are going to be faced with some tough problems. Water doesn't come from the ground "because we are bored to death now" and he favors the McLeod project as the answer to the water problem.

Whatever we do is going to take money warned Mr. MacDonald.

A. G. MAHON stressed that he is standing for re-election only because he has a sincere interest in the town over a long period. He has served 15 years on both the local and divisional school boards.

Who May Vote TWO RUNNING FOR MAYOR

In answer to the question of who may vote in the coming municipal elections this coming Monday, March 5th:

All property owners of the Town of Edson who have attained the full age of 21 years.

All Canadian citizens of the full age of 21 years who have been residents in the Town continuously since April 1, 1955, and who have their names on the voters list.

Those otherwise eligible and whose names do not appear on the voters list can be sworn in by the returning officer on election day, March 5.

The method of voting is by a cross (X)—figures must not be used—for both the mayoralty, councillor and aldermanic ballots.

In the case of the ballot for councillors, up to three crosses (X's) are to be used. It is not wrong to only vote for one or two candidates, but officials urge citizens to make full use of their franchise.

The local Mahon Midgets are to meet Jasper's, but in the local arena at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The boys promise us a thriller.

56 Fans See Athletics Lose Playdown Home Game

56 fans (37 students, 127 children and 422 adults), turned out Sunday afternoon to set an attendance record for hockey in the local arena when the Vegreville Rangers took the second game of the home-and-home two game tournament series for the preliminaries in the Provincial Intermediate "B" playdowns.

The 63 win gave the visiting team a total lead of five goals as the local team had been taken to the tune of 5-3 at Vegreville the weekend before.

The Athletics held the visitors scoreless the first period when the only statistic proved to be crimes for our Ramstead at 4:50 and Focco at 7:16.

Edson's Higgins started the scoring on a pass from Ramstead at 1:23 which was quickly countered when Vegreville's Duncoski from Z. Churuk denied the hump at 1:37. Merluk from Leteneau at 12:39 and Leteneau from Z.

Edson's Ramstead and Focco were crimed at 2:30 and 9:50 respectively, while Vegreville's Leteneau drew the ref's ire at 10:28.

Edson Locals Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker will leave this weekend to make their home in Camrose. Mr. Walker has been employed by Universal Motors.

Mrs. Maurice Schwartz had the misfortune to fall on the ice this week and fracture bones in her arm and leg. Mrs. Schwartz had to be taken into Edmonston for special care for her nasty fractures.

IN THE VOTERS' HANDS

Thirteen public spirited citizens who have offered themselves for public office to serve in the municipal government as mayor and councillors were duly slated up by nearly 300 of Edson's ratepayers on Monday evening.

The decision as to who shall be allowed to serve is now in the hands of the voters. No doubt many have already made their choice between experience and fresh viewpoints.

The pasturization by-law is also in the hands of the grass-roots voter who is most affected.

Our heavier-than-usual interest, has given Edson the distinction of being politically active in the municipal level. We now await the pleasure of the most important people in our democratic way of life—the voter.

PUSHED AROUND AGAIN

This year Edson entered an amateur senior hockey team in the provincial intermediate "B" playoffs for the first time in response to urging by senior amateur association officials to popularize amateur sport in our fair province.

Officials of the Edson Athletic Association have therefore been rudely shocked to find that officials of the provincial organization are not above old-fashioned skulduggery in allowing some of the teams to play with semi-professional players in what has been touted as a strictly amateur show.

At the risk of being labelled poor sports in protesting after we have lost our own two games, we reproduce the letter below sent by the E.A.A.'s secretary after evidence of high-handed favoritism came to light following Sunday's game here:

Edson, Alberta, Feb. 28th, 1956
Mr. J. R. Houghton,
Registrar-Treasurer,
Alta. Amateur Hockey Association,
2017 - 12th Avenue N.W.,
Calgary, Alberta.

Dear Sir:
It is the opinion of our executive that five players at the Vegreville team who took part in a playoff game in Edson on February 28th were not qualified to play for Vegreville under the Rules of the A.A.H.A. From the information on hand it is impossible for the executive to understand how the following players could be considered "residents" of Vegreville even under a very liberal interpretation of the regulations. B. Merk, L. Levesque, E. Ratson, D. Kirk, Dancocks.

All clubs have been made familiar with the restrictive qualifications of players required to challenge the Rules of the Association. The following is a quotation from a special directive brochure edited and signed by the President and Registrar-Treasurer which was enclosed to all club secretaries referring to the 1955 season:

"Teams entering the Intermediate 'B' competition shall be chosen to operate on up of players from that neither the town or city in which they play or reside. In the case of points out of the cities of Calgary and Vegreville play-

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton-Alberta's 31st consecutive Social Credit budget was handed down in the legislature last week, and as usual indicated the administration is doing well under the orthodox monetary system.

Provincial Treasurer E. W. Homan's "prosperity budget" was the largest in Alberta's history—calling for record expenditures of $242,421,385 in the coming fiscal year. Based on Alberta's population of 1,040,000, that's about $227 for every man, woman and child in the province.

The budget speech, delivered by Mr. Homan at a special night sitting last Friday, had the earmarks of an "election budget," even though last year was election year.

The budget speech, delivered by Mr. Homan at a special night sitting last Friday, had the earmarks of an "election budget," even though last year was election year.

The best feature, so far as the average citizen is concerned, was the promise that the government proposed to increase tax will be abolished. The tax, which nets the province about $1,300,000 annually, has been levied on the increase in value of real property when it changes hands.

To compensate for the loss in revenue, the government proposed a slight increase in land title fees, which have been changed since 1914. So far as the individual dealing with the land titles office is concerned, the increase in fees will be small. But the collection of revenue will spread out over that many more people.

Opposition ranks in the legislature are hailing the abolition of the tax as a major victory. They have been urging it for several years. So have real estate agents and anyone with access to sell property.

As in past years, highways, education and public health—in that order—will take the biggest bite out of the public treasury during the coming fiscal year, which starts April 1st.

An all-time record $32,900,870 highway program is forecast, with $42,492,105 going to construction of main roads and bridges; $9,725,000 for grants to improvement and municipal districts, grants to special users and contingency grants. The total cost of highway work will be an increase of $2,374,995 over last year.

Education department spending is expected to increase by $1,000,000 over last year. The Association and because of our experience with regard to the Association's Rules and Regulations, we are reluctant to challenge the validity of the games and demand a replay. However, we do wish to see our regulations which are clear and unambiguous, properly overlooked or waived season under which the Association has been chosen to operate.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

Contrary to what the theory is, a bookie is a man who runs a bookshop. New York City police recently raided a haunt of bookworms and turned up a thriving gambling enterprise.

Laundry owner in Tallahassee, Florida, was visited by a thief the other night. All the change he took was one of clothing.

How to make a horse sweat doesn't involve galloping him across those plains, partner. We can now reveal that a Hollywood makeup artist uses a spray-on concoction of whipped cream and barley to give the pampered green-gee a handsome look.

Fashion writers in New York City were recently treated to a showing of a dress with high neckline in back and wide plunging front neckline. Turns out that the model had the garment on backward. How could they tell? That's the way most of the gals' formal costumes appear to us.

Lady in Chicago says she's all washed up when it comes to driving a car. Collision bounced her auto right through the show window of a laundry service.

Women on Chicago's election board were recently ordered to leave their girdles at home so certain. Officials wanted to run its director tests in connection with investigation of a scandal. Said girdles cut down the rate of breathing, an important indication read by the machine. Without girdles, who needs a lie detector to chart the gals' love outlines?

educational standards and teachers' qualifications to slip. After Mr. Tamm's last speech, Hugh MacDonald, Calgary Liberal, seconded the motion and made a few more changes.

As soon as Mr. MacDonald was finished, Social Credit members called for a vote. Hon. A. O. Aulberg, minister of education had been taking notes but didn't rise to debate the issue.

A standing vote was taken, and the non-confidence motion was defeated 30 to 21. One opposition member, Boyce C. Staggman, Independent from Bay Valley-Tanqueray riding, supported the government.

School Trustees Have Their Worries Too

Dr. M. E. L. Kerr, Research Director, Canadian School Trustees' Association, School boards that in 1951 were providing schooling for about 3 1/2 million children find the school population increasing at the rate of 100,000 a year. Municipalities might without difficulty pay additional costs were it not for the fact that other expenditures are increasing. Between June, 1951 and December, 1955, Canada's population increased about 3 1/2 million.

The demand for houses, roads, pavement, utilities, hospitals and other services creates serious problems. The Canadian School Trustees, after a 3 1/2 year study of these problems, published their findings in a 229-page report, SCHOOL FINANCE IN CANADA. There are two "master" school, business—there must be schools and there must be teachers. What does the report say about building and staff problems?

To provide classrooms for increasing enrolment, renovate and keep present buildings in repair and provide the additional space that would be required if high school programmes were modernized and enriched with suitable options in shop, home economics and commercial subjects would require an annual outlay of about one million dollars—its reduction to $500 million could result only from partial completion of needed programmes. These figures seem astronomical, one recalls that building costs vary from $16,000 per rural classroom to $10,000 per $1,300 per pupil in urban centres.

The continuing teacher shortage forced school boards in 1952 to engage as teachers 5,142 substitutes without any previous training and 3,744 others with only partial training. Nine thousand certified teachers had standing less than the equivalent of high school graduation followed by one year of professional training. About 22 per cent of the total teaching staff were univert graduates. The academic and professional qualifications of the lower half of the staff are too low. The teacher shortage results in a lowering of standards; lowered standards in turn aggravate the shortage. Many children are being short-changed. The terms "teacher" and "teaching" should be redefined.

School trustees cannot find enough money to build the new schools required and pay salaries that will get and retain good teachers. In 1952-53 one-half of the teachers received a salary less than $2,775, in one province seventy-five per cent of all teachers received less than $1,540; in the province paying highest salaries, about 30 per cent of all teachers received a salary above $4,000. The solution to the teacher shortage is not merely to pay more money under a "vast and see" policy in the hope that higher salaries will draw more recruits; school boards should press for teachers with top-ranking qualifications and pay whatever salaries will retain their services.

Canada is rapidly becoming industrialized. Her world trade is expanding; natural resources are being developed. The type of schooling that sufficed 25 years ago is not good enough today. Industrialization, urbanization and advances in science and technology are making new demands on the school. A high school education is becoming a necessity for the greater majority of workers. Standards of both academic and technical efficiency are rising. Besides solving problems of accommodation and instruction Canadian school trustees would be wise to take note of the great inequalities in educational standards in different districts and the equally great differences in mill rates levied against school supporters, so that better standards may be attained. In the second article of this series we shall answer the question, "How unequal are educational opportunities in any given province and how may those offerings be equalized?"

Gerald Boulby Laid To Rest

Gerald Boulby, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Boulby of Edson passed away at the age of 19 years on February 15th. Besides his loving parents he is survived by three brothers, Jack, Roger and Leonard, all at home, and by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. Gladstone Yates.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, February 18th. The Rev. I. A. Shalla celebrated the funeral service at 10:00 a.m. and the funeral cortege left the Edson Funeral Home at 2:00 p.m. Burial was made in the Glenwood Cemetery.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from: Loving Family; Grandmother Gladstone; Mrs. Knudsen; Hugh; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd.

Edson Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

Man in London, England, was fined for smoking a bus conductor, knocking him down the aisle for the length of the vehicle. No more details. All we know is that it couldn't happen in the bus here.

Note to Ed: If I don't get this published in the Leader (there's another paper in town you know) Planning and cooking meals somehow seems to get harder around the end of winter and any new dogers are always welcome. I recently tried the new packaged sponge pudding with self serving sauce and find they are a real treat. The kids love them and they come in several flavors so you can use them often. Needless to say, they're easy to make at any of the groceries in town.

boards, the Board of Trade executive, and three years on the Council.

He recommended that the new Council employ a gas consultant. Hospitalization is something we are all interested in he said, and told the meeting that he is strongly behind the move for a more positive supply of water supply.

He mentioned that as chairman of the public works committee he had seen the start in the truck divisions on 40th and 51st streets to relieve the strain on the main street paving.

Mr. Mahon mentioned that he has the time to devote to Town affairs and hopes to be in position to own our own utilities.

With respect to any of the business conducted by the Council he reminded his listeners that this is a matter of public record in the Town Hall.

M. MATTHEWS said that he was prompted to offer himself as a candidate for Council as "it wouldn't hurt to have some new faces around the Council table."

He favors hospitalization and feels that sufficient facts have not been made available on the power and gas franchises to make a decision as yet.

Mr. Matthews did think, though, that the citizens are entitled to better rates on light and power in this area.

A. D. MEADE referred to his record of public service and said that he felt they would be many who felt they could testify as to his abilities along this line.

Mr. Meade said that he has gone along with the idea that high power rates are a way of spreading the tax burden over the population but that there was some merit in having cheap power available to encourage industry.

He said that we should own our own gas if that is possible but that we should have a committee formed first to establish what it will cost. A permanent solution to our water problem is a necessity too he thought.

He told the meeting he hopes whoever is elected will make "Edson the envy of less fortunate towns."

P. W. WELLS reminded his listeners of 15 years service as a teacher and the same number of years in various community works in the town.

He thought the next few years are going to be important and the decisions made by Council are going to be very important for many years to come.

Mr. Wells thought the Council were on the right track in planning to reduce power rates. He was in favor of having our own gas franchise if that is feasible and he favors the $1.80 a day hospital scheme as older people would benefit more and that we don't need to wait for the Dominion Government to move.

He expressed the hope that the new council would work harmoniously for the general good.

A. B. BURLEIGH listed his qualifications for mayor by stating that he has been here since 1922; has served three years on the school board, three years as a councillor and two years as a mayor.

Mr. Burleigh told the meeting that he had no more to offer than what he has already offered in the past—a sincerity of service to our town and the willingness to continue.

He mentioned recent improvements such as the light standards and the paving on main street and the sidewalk program were instituted during his tenure and said that he would continue to press for the graveling of all other streets in town.

On municipal hospitalization he told the meeting he thought there should be a lot more gathering of facts and data.

Mr. Burleigh said he thought the most important matter at the present time was the calling in of experts to get advice on how to get a good water supply from the river.

He said that he is firmly and sincerely convinced that public ownership of our utilities is a good thing as the money to operate the town must come from some source. If we sell our light and gas franchises then Edson has no assets and we can pay borrow or raise the mill rate to accomplish town projects.

W. M. KANKREWITZ reminded his listeners that he had had the pleasure of attending a meeting of the ratepayers in the old Legion Hall and said that he has no claim then to being a superman, but had pointed out the problems then facing the town. He had expressed the idea that the mayor should be an individual who had ideas as to where the town should be going.

As proof that these aims were pretty well accomplished he mentioned the pension scheme for town employees; the selling of the sewer debentures, of which local people purchased $63,000 worth, at a time when the school division was having trouble selling theirs at a higher interest rate.

He also reminded his listeners that the sewer system was installed with a minimum of dislocation to the town compared with other towns.

Mr. Kankewitz then answered several questions about himself: He is going to make his home here indefinitely; he intends to remain on the school board only until the present building program is completed; he is not in favor of selling our power plant; he is not connected with any gas company wishing to sell gas in the town now or in the future.

He most certainly intends to help make this town just a little better.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMORE

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM JELIS

An Edson couple looked back on 50 years of married life together in Victoria, B.C., on February 19, when they received friends at their home in celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Their wedding took place in the historic St. Peter's Priory church in Dunstable, South Bedfordshire, England, on February 19, 1906 when a "full bob" of bells was rung. It wasn't everyone who had the full bob by any means, Mrs. Jellis recalls, but her family were long time residents of Dunstable and both her father and grandfather had held civic positions.

Mr. Jellis whose home was in Tring, Hertfordshire, England, had made a trip to Canada before returning to England to claim his bride. He met her in Alberta and is a member of St. Andrew's Lodge in Victoria. His hobby is gardening. Mrs. Jellis is a charter member of the order of the Eastern Star in Edson and has a life membership in the Women's Auxiliary to the Diocese of Edmonton. She is also an honorary life member of the Edson Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jellis went to Victoria four years ago to retire. Their daughter Mrs. J. McCague lives in Victoria and their son, William, in Edmonton. They also have four grandchildren. Their many friends wish them many more years in which to enjoy their retirement in Victoria's balmy clime.

Minors Fined For Frequenting

It does not seem to be generally known by minors (adolescents under 21) that they are committing an offence under the provisions of the Liquor Control Act when they attempt to purchase beer in licensed premises. Several prosecutions and fines have been levied in police court recently and both hotels have asked us to put in this little note of warning to minors. Under the old regulations the house was completely on the hotel management to see that no minors were served. The Act has been changed however and minors are now subject to fines for entering licensed premises.

The boy sweeps into the bedroom like a cold wind, lifting the covers from his dreamy parents and twinking at a half-covered nose or ear with small, eager hands.

Whether his parents have slept eight hours or two, morning always comes at the same time for the boy, 7 a.m.

"Hello," says Mummy.

"G'way," says Daddy, flapping his arm as though to discourage a persistent guest.

Some time passes before they realize that events have taken an unusual turn. The boy really has gone away.

This fact dawns on them slowly. Still half asleep, they become conscious of a strange calm.

"That little pest has gone," Daddy mumbles. "Yes," replies Mummy. "Isn't it quiet?"

"Quiet!" echoes Daddy. "So it is, by gosh. WHERE has he gone?"

Both of them sit up in bed, listening. Not a single blood-curdling scream, not even a small crash of falling crochery can be heard.

"Maybe he's up on the roof," says Daddy, and all of a sudden he begins to think of the little pest running in front of a truck.

Both of them leap from bed without stopping to put on a dressing gown and sprint into the boy's room. There is nothing there but a jumble of bedclothes and an army of toys which have been sharing the little boy's bed—his rabbit, teddy bear, small stuffed dog, cougar and a couple of toy cars.

They clatter down the stairs. There is no sign of the boy in the living room. The house is still dead quiet, except for the cat mewing to go out.

They find the little pest in the kitchen, kneeling on a shelf without a stitch of cloth.

REV. L. B. HALLIWELL

No one will dispute the fact that one of the greatest leaders as far as the armed forces are concerned was found in the person of General MacArthur. Under his leadership many were the conflicts that brought us closer to victory and the enemy to its knees. Many liked him and as well there were those that hated him and they were not always among the enemy.

The decisions that he had to make at times involved hundreds of lives and the responsibility was beyond what most of us would care to go. In his realm he was great and will remain in the ranks of the great men of the world.

If we were to travel back in time we would also see some great men but none greater than the son of a carpenter. This one did not attend an academy nor did he go to a university yet he was one that marveled thousands and did as he has never fired before as a rifle nor ever used force as a sword.

Through the

Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

An open window is a good place from which to look over the human scene. It is also a good thing, at times, to overlook some of the things that are going on. When a person looks into something, it is a good thing and shows real interest. There, having looked, he pokes his nose in also, he may get it pitched, and deviously so. There is a time to speak, and a time to refrain from speaking, to mind one's own business.

One of the strange provisions of the Criminal Code is that which permits churches to conduct raffles and lotteries, and yet denies that privilege to other groups. Thus something which is legally right for one section of humanity is legally wrong for another portion.

The legal arguments for the Criminal Code should be removed. Until that is done there will only be legal and moral confusion. Only a morally good law merits legal sanction.

I think that the provisions in the Criminal Code should be removed. Until that is done there will only be legal and moral confusion. Only a morally good law merits legal sanction.

Federal Member Thanks Govt. For New Building

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

In a speech in reply to the speech from the Throne in the House of Commons in Ottawa on January 17, Mr. Chas. Yull, Member of Parliament for the Jasper-Edson Riding, took time out to thank the Government and urged the new Federal Building and the Dominion to do more about connecting the Jasper Highway with the road being built on the British Columbia side of the boundary.

Mr. Yull's speech follows in part:

I offer my congratulations to the Minister of Public Works for finally completing the government building in the town of Edson in my constituency. It was a long and perilous detour, but at last we are getting the building in the town that we have needed for many years. On behalf of my people, I express thanks to the Minister of Public Works for getting on with the erection of that much needed building.

We have another little problem in that part of the country. It relates to what some day is going to be the best part of the trans-Canada highway in the Dominion of Canada, namely Jasper National Park. There is a road which is possible in fair weather. It is a road that ultimately will be the route of the trans-Canada Highway. What the people in that part of the country would like to see is some favourable consideration by the minister concerned to build ing that road up to a standard that would be compatible with transportation that would not doubt enhance the tourist aspects of Jasper National Park. Last year, according to provincial statistics we had an increase of something over 11 per cent in the number visiting Jasper National Park. Since that is one of the show places of the Dominion I think anything the department could do to establish a through route from Jasper to the west gate would be not only appreciated but would enhance the tourist trade, particularly, would greatly enhance the public service, and would be welcomed by those who are desirous of coming through British Columbia into Alberta.

We have in Alberta, up to the east gate, one of the finest highways in Canada. As a matter of fact it is definitely up to transportation that it is not contemplated that it should be, weather permitting, this year. If it is finished this year, at the latest it will be finished next year.

In British Columbia they have a commitment by the provincial government that they will build a standard highway to the west gate of Jasper National Park. If that is done, then I would urge the minister to give consideration to that much needed connecting road; that today is only navigable under very hazardous conditions; to go out there and begin the plan in the not too distant future, and to see to it that sufficient money is voted for the completion of that program.

There is one other little suggestion I would like to make, and I do this in all kindness. In the town of Jasper I think the people have contributed quite considerably to the tourist set-up from many different angles. They perhaps do not contribute as much in dollars and cents as the people living in cities out of the park, but they do contribute in their own way quite a considerable amount of money. They do possess a considerable amount of good will, there, I am sure that people would be anything but the wonderful summer resort it is today for tourists.

I would suggest to the minister that he give consideration to setting up some kind of council comparable to that proposed to be set up in the Northwest Territories. These fine people could sit down and by popular choice delegate to two or three or four or any reasonable number the responsibility of cooperating with the local government administration. I think that the people would be quite qualified to offer kindly suggestions and by their mutual good will co-operation enhance the overall public relations within the town of Jasper.

With all due respect to those who are charged with the responsibility of looking after the park affairs there, I do feel that it would lighten their job. It would pay off in many ways, financially as well as in terms of good will. I would ask the minister if he will think that over, and I hope that in the not too distant future we may have a little more harmony and that overall good will that I feel is so essential to the happiness of the people who are obliged to live within the confines of the national park.

Alberta's Going Places...

Today Alberta Has More Than 2,000 Miles of Paved Highways...

Good roads are vitally important to Alberta's progress and prosperity. They are the arteries of modern commerce and communication... and open up vast opportunities for expansion and development of natural resources. Building and improving Alberta's roads and highways is so important that last year almost 28 per cent of the total provincial budget was allocated for this purpose.

7 HIGHWAYS BRANCHES

The work of the Alberta Department of Highways is conducted by 7 branches:

1. The Location Branch selects the location of new highways and roads.
2. The Survey Branch surveys the completed location of highways and all roads in Improvement Districts, and subdivides all government-owned land in the province.
3. The Construction Branch states out highway locations, purchases gravel and does all work such as cross-bridging and levelling.
4. The Bridge Branch builds all highway bridges and is presently conducting an expanded program to provide for modern traffic requirements. Bridge designs are carried out by the branch, but construction is distributed among private contractors.
5. The Accounting Branch examines costs of each type of highway, bridge and ferry.
6. The Maintenance Branch maintains all main highways, awards grants to municipal districts and improvement districts for road work and supervises all work done under these grants.
7. The Motor Vehicles Branch, which includes the Highway Traffic Board, issues all vehicle licenses, conducts drivers' tests and passenger car safety tests and controls truck and bus traffic.

85,000 MILES OF ROADS

A network of 85,000 miles of highways and roads, more than three times the earth's diameter, is controlled by the Department of Highways. Over 2,100 miles of the system are hard-surfaced highways—compared with 531 miles in 1946, just 10 years ago.

Alberta also has more than 28,000 miles of gravelled roads; 26,400 miles of graded roads which are still to be gravelled, and nearly 28,000 miles of district and local earth roads.

We might as well put our two-bits worth in here on pasteurization. There isn't an intelligent man today who would argue that pasteurization is a benefit. If there are those of other types who wish to drink unpasteurized milk, then let them. But to keep patently ridiculous. Make it compulsory for the commercial distributors to protect all the people and allow those who do not want pasteurized milk to buy from the producer. After all, the question isn't one of trying to force people to do something they don't want to do. It's a matter of common sense to protect the majority health and let the minority go their own way.

And more health rubbish crops up in the H.C. Legislature when a woman member claims that Potassium is a sure fire, proven cure for cancer. This from a supposedly intelligent member of the Legislative Assembly. We wonder if the Dominion Government and private agencies who are spending millions on cancer research know that they are waiting their time.

But on to more pleasant things. Now that it's the end of February we're looking out the window every day expecting to see water running in the streets and robins flitting hither and yon. And we'll even go out on a limb and promise everyone a nice warm spell. We can't go far wrong because it's long overdue.

On Movies. Ulysses, a Greek adventure story written long years ago, has been done up in typical Hollywood technique and splash. With Kirk Douglas supplying the acrobatics and Sylvia Mangano the sex appeal it should be worth the shekels necessary to get through the door.

And another Jane Powell musical coming soon. With Gordon MacRae, singing it should be a good one. Not that we've too keen on Jane Powell but at least she does an honest job in any movie she's in. Three Girls and a Girl, again not the best but a pleasant way to spend an evening.

We couldn't end without a show that will be over by the time you read this. The Trouble With Harry was a tremendous example of what could be turned out by our Movie Mogis if they wanted to. Written by Alfred Hitchcock, but differing from his usual way of achieving suspense, it is well acted by a crew of youngsters and one old hand, Edmund Gwenn. You should have seen it.

Has any one heard anything from Okawa about the penitentiary lately?

JASPER JOTTINGS

Mr. Val Kulak was in Edson on business last week.

The Medors (Isma) celebrated their 15th birthday on the 16th with a grand party for some of their young friends.

Master Harry Gates celebrated his birthday on Tuesday, the 21st.

Mr. Rose-Ann Brown entertained several young friends, after skating on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Fred Chamos of Lacrosse has been transferred to Port Mann.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Raymond and Dwayne Willis were Jasper visitors from Edson on Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Jakowlewicz, young son were Edson visitors last week.

Mrs. Audrey Krusa is in Jasper again after having received medical treatment in Edmonton.

Mr. John Haiside is a business visitor to Edmonton.

Mrs. Shirley Anderson of Edson visited her parents here at the weekend.

Victims of skiing antics on Mt. Whistler last weekend were: Bill Stroud and Arnold Wemmerstrom of the pulp mill. Both men ended up going back to Edson with sore legs and feet, because of injured ankles. A speedy recovery to the "Bunny Hill" soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Raymond and Dwayne Willis were Jasper visitors from Edson on Sunday.

Jasper Glee Club Holds

Annual Banquet And Social

Jasper—At their annual banquet the members of the Glee Club and their friends, numbering 38, made this another memorable and gala occasion. All present entered into the spirit by wearing an original hat of their own making and during dinner the judges, Rev. Gales and Father Robinson, made their choice of prize winning models worn.

Mrs. Edith Tweede won lady's first for her hat created from small kitchen utensils complete with strainer crown and draped cloth.

Mrs. Vivian Kolar won ladies second with her inverted collar, completely covered with olives and trimmed with red and yellow chrysanthemums.

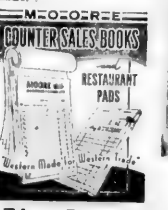

Mr. G. Kahar won gents first with his creation of a busy life way around the brain with the appropriate backdrop of Jasper scenery. Mr. Charlie Hudson won gents second for his inverted bus basket, complete with buns on top.

After dinner, Glee Club President, Mrs. Evelyn Lange, welcomed all and made a presentation.

In complete contrast then, Mrs. Heckley and her son Ramsey played two piano duets, beautifully done, followed by the very lovely "Because," sung by Mrs. Lois Kaye who is also a favorite.

The "shadow operation" brought many laughs from the audience, but only groans from the poor patient in the person of Mr. Les Greenham.

Mrs. Lange closed the evening with a few words of thanks, and certainly a good time was had by all.

Last Council Meeting Busy With Leases On Town Lots

The last meeting of the Edson Town Council, before the annual election, was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday, February 21, saw a greater than average amount of business concerning leases, options and titles to lots in town.

Present were: Mayor Burling and Councillors Kortzman, Mahon, McIntyre, Nigro and Tucker.

Rev. L. E. Halliwell addressed Council in support of application of Pentecostal Church for option on lots 23 and 24, Block 91.

It was moved that the Pentecostal Church be granted 90 day option on Lots 23 and 24, Block 91, pending matter of decision on location and submission of plans, etc.

Mr. G. E. Collins addressed Council asking for title to Lot 11, Block 17, and complaining about general use of driveway through property.

It was moved that the Mayor and Secretary be authorized to make transfer of lot 11, block 17, to Mr. George Collins.

Mr. Roy Bowman addressed Council submitting a proposal to move building into town and asking for lot upon which to place it and he was directed to submit application to Secretary for submission to next meeting of Council.

RESIGNS

It was moved that Mr. W. A. Switzer's resignation from his seat on Council, of date February, Cont. on page 8

Second Water Main Breaks From Frost

The heavy frost and continuing cold weather this winter have caused two mains to break in the town water system.

The first was between Main and 27th on 9th Avenue a couple of weeks ago and the latest is right on Main Street just south of 8th Avenue.

Both breaks have been clean across and obviously caused from the action of the frost penetrating to unusual depths this year.

Apparently we have been lucky though, as according to reports from other towns, even the lines leading into the houses have frozen in some instances.

Mrs. Sig Hoffman left Thursday for Three Hills, Alberta, where she will be the official cheering section for her daughter's rink when they take part in the local bonspiel there.

Fast Hockey In Prospect

The Edson Athletics will meet the young, fast senior team from Beverly for a double-header series this weekend in the local arena.

First game is scheduled for 8:00 Saturday evening and the second Sunday afternoon at 2:00

L.I.D. Road Committees Being Named

The Hon. Norman Willmore has been calling meetings in various parts of the local improvement districts in his constituency to have committees formed to advise on local road needs.

Meetings have been held so far at Peora, Niton, Pinedale and Pukim, and others are scheduled for MacKay, Pioneer, Yates and North Edson in the near future.

Each district meeting is to elect a representative for their immediate area who will make recommendations to the district engineer for the Department of Highways.

It is thought that a much more comprehensive picture can be obtained on the district road picture, which in an ordinary municipality would be handled by subdivision councillors.

The local improvement districts around Edson are administered by the Department of Municipal Affairs as there is not yet enough settlement to finance municipal self government.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gillett are spending a few days in Vancouver this week visiting their son, Major and Mrs. J. Gillett who are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Record Vote On Monday

Edson's record number of council candidates assured a record vote and the 760 ballots cast on Monday, March 5, showed that the burgesses of the Town of Edson had been giving considerable thought to the people they wanted to represent them in their town administration.

Returning Officer E. C. Gregg has issued the following official statement of the number of votes on each of the three ballots:

Election Settles It

Edson's record breaking election is now history and the feeling around town generally seems to be one of satisfaction at the results. Certainly the voters left no doubt in anyone's mind about the way they feel, especially about pasteurization.

Outstanding feat of the election was the vote counting conducted by Returning Officer R. C. Gregg who received the thanks and approbation of all the candidates who were present for the tally of the people's choices in the Legion Memorial Centre.

The heavy vote—780 ballots cast—presented quite a count on the two-way majority ticket and the pasteurization by-law, but the eleven councillor balloted required the most of the time until a result could be made known just before midnight on Monday evening.

Mayor Kankewitt and Councillors Kortman, MacDonald and Meade, with the rest of the Council, Messrs McIntyre, Nigro and Tucker, held their first designated meeting Monday evening, after which they may meet to regular meetings on every other Thursday as has been the custom for some years.

The worst part of elections is that the electorate must make a choice between public spirited citizens who are willing to spend their time on town affairs. We know that we are expressing the feeling of our fellow townsmen when we say thanks for a job well done to Mayor Burleigh and Councillor Mahon of the previous Council.

Also a thank-you to the other citizens who allowed their names to go before the electorate for a chance to serve. Let's hope that Edson never lacks candidates for municipal office due to a lazier fate attitude.

Prairie Winter

By JANE HAVENS

How cold and crystal clear the morning air!
The trees like ghostly sentinels now stand
Pointing aloft with frosty-fingered hand
To where the moon, a silver sickle far,
Pale with the stars before the amber sheet
Spreads in pale splendor in the eastern sky,
Prismatic of the sun which, by and by,
Will turn the snow to diamonds at my feet.
Then, faint and far, beyond the sleeping town,
I hear the warning whistle of a train;
A motor, heavy laden, mad with pain,
I watch its billowing breath come curling down,
Rising, again, like clouds from out a pyre,
Ethred by the sun in tones of living fire.

Letter To The Editor

Where is our civic pride? For 45 years we waited for sidewalks. Now for over four months we have seen only small sections of these lovely walks.

There is a Town by-laws that each clean our own walk. Some of us—even old men—have been doing this and some good here. We still have boxes of garbage neighbours have done it for the bags put in the lanes for the dogs. On asking why to scatter. They say it would be this better but not been referred to much to patrol the town look-up were answered to the effect for them. All that is needed was that notices had been sent out for the garbage collector to re-

A Wall Street trader who encountered an old classmate who had fallen on evil days, automatically reached into his wallet and handed the down-and-out a five dollar bill. "What's this?" sneered the ungrateful recipient. "Two years ago you met me and gave me 50 bucks. Last year you re-invested to 20. And now you hand me a measly five spot!"

The trader, embarrassed, explained. "Two years ago I got married. Last year we had our first child. All those extra expenses and mouths to feed."

"So that's it," mused the down-and-out. "Raising a family on my dough, eh?"

A Montana cowboy wasn't having any of that "Kindly-faithful-yourself-but" nonsense when he boarded a New York-bound strait-liner at Phoenix recently. "Young lady," he informed the stewardess firmly, "I rode everything I ever mounted, and I don't aim to be saddled into this stage of the game. Let 'er buck! I'll ride 'er!"

Thousands of acres of tomatoes were frozen in Florida during the winter cold snap. Weather Bureau figures don't include the two-legged ones which were frost-bitten.

A very wise public relations counsel cautioned letter writers to delete the pronoun "I" as much as possible. "A weekend thank you note which opens I had a wonderful time," he points out, "is not half so captivating as one beginning, 'You are a wonderful hostess.' Both say thank you, but, ah, my friends, the second is the one that will get you asked back!"

The Indiana Bell Telephone Company reports that a little boy called information in quite a lazy one afternoon and demanded the number of the local movie house. The operator said, "You will find that number listed in your telephone directory."

"I know," countered the little boy, "but I'm standing on it."

port at the Town Hall who is doing this and impose a few fines. Surely our health department would support this.

Why make laws if we do not intend to keep them? Is there no one with authority to enforce the laws of the town or are they lax to allow some who do not want to abide by them?

Let's have a beautiful, clean town that tourists will remember as such.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton — Without committing itself to any immediate action, the government and its supporters last week successfully circumvented a Liberal motion against provincial aid to municipalities for clearing snow from school van routes.

To do the job required the original Liberal motion, a Social Credit amendment and a Liberal sub-amendment. The house passed the sub-amendment, the amendment, and the motion as amended, and this apparently satisfied everyone in the assembly.

But all it requires the government to do is to consider the cost of snow removal as a factor in its proposed "comprehensive survey" of provincial-municipal fiscal relations. Presumably, in re-allocating responsibilities and sources of revenue for municipal governments the province will take into account the added expense of meeting emergencies.

However, the original Liberal motion, although not clearly worded, was aimed at obtaining extra cash for the municipalities this winter to cover the expense of snow removal. The heavy snow this season has cost municipalities thousands of dollars, and officials of many of them are concerned as they watch cash reserves dwindling.

As a compromise, the government agreed to accept the Liberal sub-amendment which asked the government to "consider a program for this year."

This appeared to satisfy Liberal members, although from the remarks of government members it seems the government already has considered the matter and decided it can't do anything this year.

Government members objected to the original Liberal motion, introduced by R. E. Hall, Athabasca, and seconded by R. J. Whitham, Vermilion. It asked the government to give "favorable consideration to . . . a program that will assist municipalities in snow removal from school van routes."

Cabinet spokesmen said they couldn't accept the motion with the word "favorable," because they did the opposition would accuse the government of overriding the legislature in the event the idea was later rejected.

The customary form for a private member's motion is to ask the government to "consider" something. If such a motion is passed, the government is committed only to consider the request.

Premier Manning also pointed out the original motion neglected to mention anything about a plan going into effect this year.

The premier summed up the government's attitude by saying provision of money for snow removal would not be a precedent.

Snow clogged roads are only one problem facing municipalities, he said, and pointed out that last week successfully circumvented a Liberal motion against provincial aid to municipalities for clearing snow from school van routes.

Hon. E. W. Hinnman, Cardston, provincial treasurer, capped it by saying the government is willing to "consider" any reasonable request, and saw no reason not to "consider" a program of aid this year, so long as the opposition didn't take this to mean the government was committed.

Then he told the house that when municipal representatives met with the government recently, by they were not too concerned about the money they have spent this year on snow removal.

Their main concern, he said, was the possibility of further snowfall. Besides the problem of snow, roadways already are hampered up to 10 feet or more with snow, and they feel piling up more—this is possible—would add to the danger of flood damage.

The treasurer said the municipal councilors were told the government always is willing to consider aid if an emergency arises, and he added they appeared satisfied with their interview.

Social Credit ranks took a liberal attitude toward a different motion calling for establishment of an air ambulance service, to rush sick and injured from outlying areas. It was introduced by Michael Macgregor, Lac La Piche, and seconded by Mr. Hall.

The motion was defeated on a vote of 32 to 21 after Hon. Dr. W. W. Cress, Head Hills, minister, said Alberta has had air ambulance service for 12 years through contracts with five or six private air firms.

It was learned last week that the government plans to have a committee of the legislature look into the province's liquor laws and recommend changes. Premier Manning has prepared a motion calling for the establishment of a committee, but at the time of writing it had not yet been introduced. It is expected the committee will hold public hearings.

Suggests Higher Ground For Liberal Party

By J. D. SKINNER

The wishes of one man have prevailed. I have not been besieged by legions of Liberals to allow my name to come before the Jasper-Edson Liberal nominating convention to be held in the near future. One man—ONE—has approached me. He made two claims and well supplied with reasons in support of both. The first was that I would make a good representative; the second that if I carrying the convention I would be the most representative for Jasper-Edson.

My prospects for carrying a convention are very slim.

Again Why?
Because the candidate is frequently chosen before the convention is held.

How come? Simply by getting the voting credentials into the hands of the people who will pledge their votes before they know who the nominee may be. Can this weakness be overcome? Yes.

By throwing the convention open to all Liberals. Such Liberals to come, unpledged and with an open mind to choose the woman or man best qualified to serve as their representative.

The more delegates the more confidence and the stronger the support.

Can safeguards be taken against "plugging"? Yes.

The credential or registration committee can provide the necessary safeguards.

What is a fair method of placing a name in nomination? Nomination by secret ballot is the fairest method yet devised.

Cadomin Girl Finishes Course At John Hopkins

Miss Marion Girard, just returned from a post graduate course at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, was a visitor at the Cicarelli home over the weekend. Also visiting at the Cicarelli's was Mr. Richard Girard of Coleman, Alberta.

Miss Girard was born and took most of her schooling in Cadomin, before coming to Edson to complete her high school after the Cadomin school closed down. Following this she took her nurses' training in Edmonton, going from there to Mayertown where she was a member of the hospital staff until leaving for her post graduate course.

She passed her course in operating room technique with honors and has accepted a position as operating room supervisor of the Grande Prairie hospital. Miss Girard began her new duties the first of March.

Hotty!

A two-year-old of Grand Haven, Michigan, who hadn't learned to say "fire," woke his father in the night to rescue members of the family from their burning home.

Douglas Boyer kept screaming "Hotty" as he woke his father, Walter, 38. An overheard furnace had set the house on fire.

Cub Pack Active Here

Hinton—

On Wednesday evening the Cub pack met with Cubmaster Jim Clark in charge of the gathering. There were about twenty lads there between the ages of eight and twelve years, and a more active group could not be found. The game, "O'Grady Says," which they play certainly teaches mental alertness and the rock fighting they do has to be seen to be appreciated.

Des Crawley was there from the committee of fathers who are supporting the Cub movement here and gave the lads a short address to tell them of the backing they have and what the committee hope to do for them in the future.

Future meetings will be held in the Legion Hall as there are electric lights there now and the lads will be able to have their games indoors out of the weather.

All Children Should Have An Equal Chance

Dr. M. E. Laffin, Research Director, Canadian School Trustees' Association. All children do not have equal opportunities to get an education. The kind of schooling available to them depends to much upon the tax-paying ability of the district in which they happen to live. Children cannot be given equal education but opportunities available to them should be commensurate with their abilities, interests and industry.

Mice Do Not Prefer Cheese

A University of Minnesota expert says householders would be doing better to bait their mouse traps with strawberry jam than with the traditional cheese.

Herbert L. Parten, an extension entomologist, says, in fact, that mice don't particularly like cheese.

Parten has been studying dietary habits of mice for 30 years with a view to learning the best way to exterminate them.

"Among mice in my laboratory, peanut butter is a big favorite," Parten said. "Bacon rind and raisins also are popular."

But the mouse expert said the food mice really go for is strawberry jam.

afford. Cost and quality are not always proportional but not necessarily better than cost is available. In four provinces for which data is available the cost of operating some classrooms is from 1.9 to 4.8 times the cost in other districts. Provincial departments of Education help the poorer districts by giving equalization grants. The degree of equalization that results leaves much to be desired. For example, in the four Western provinces combined, school districts with real property assessments of less than $60,000 can offer schooling that costs only 50 per cent as much as that offered in districts with an assessment of $180,000 or more and to do this they must levy tax rates that are on the average 80 per cent higher than those that enable the wealthier districts to support their programs. The school trustee of Edson would like to see opportunities equal for children. What are their proposals?

The suggestion is that a basic fee prescribed by the Department of Education as the minimum program defined in terms of cost that may be offered in any district. This basic program would be supported by taxes and grants; more costly programs by taxes would be defined in terms of annual cost per pupil or per classroom with allowance made for special cases due to low enrolments high school classes, technical school offerings and like factors. The annual cost level is influenced by the wealth of the province, the quality of schooling desired and the investment the tax-paying public is willing to make in education. While the program is minimum in the sense that no pupil in the province would get schooling costing less than the amount named, it should also be the maximum for the best program the province could afford.

How the foundation program might be financed and how present variations from district to district in tax rates might be eliminated will be discussed in the next article in this series.

St. Regis Vice President Retiring

St. Regis Paper Company announces that Willard J. Dixon will retire on March 1, 1956, as vice president.

Mr. Dixon became assistant secretary of the company in 1929, secretary in 1937, and has been a director of the company since 1941. His resignation as secretary in November, 1955, and his recent resignation as vice-president are pursuant to the company's retirement plan. He will continue as a director and will be available to the company as a consultant.

Mr. Dixon was secretary, treasurer, and director of the company of Chicago at its acquisition by St. Regis in 1929. Prior to that, upon receiving his LL.B. degree from Northwestern University, he was in general law practice in Chicago.

Mr. Dixon served the paper industry in many activities of local Associations. He is a member of the Board of governors of the American Paper & Pulp Association and President of the paper shipping and manufacturing association. During World War II he was President of the Kraft Paper Manufacturers Association for 4 years.

Mid-Lent Sunday has two special nicknames. It is sometimes called "Refreshment Sunday" because it does half way through the Lenten fast—taking its name from the Gospel story in St. John chapter six with its miracle of the feeding of the 5,000 which continues on into St. John's eucharistic teaching. Except you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his Blood, you have no life in you."

But the Sunday is also titled "Mothering Sunday" because of the quaint reference in the Epistle to Jerusalem, "the Mother of us all. Thus it is the Church's Mother's Day and home reunions. It is the day to say a special "thank you" to Mother and home to give you peace and thanks to Almighty God not only for our home blessings but for the blessings which are ours in Mother Church.

Service this Sunday will be conducted by the Reverend Leslie Corns who has been assigned to the Mission by the Bishop for the period during which the Reverend J. G. Gardiner will be away.

Through the Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

This week has been named Education Week. The term is repulsive but the idea is good. It is repulsive through no fault of its own, but because the calendar has been assaulted with a welter of special weeks, designed to promote interest in almost every form of human endeavor, commercial product and what-not. As a result of an overuse of special weeks, the innocent suffer with the guilty.

So much for the name. What about the positive value of Education Week? First, for church-minded people it is an opportunity to reflect upon the place of the church in the educational program. It is perhaps noteworthy that many churches of today, of all denominations, have made their buildings available to help school boards hard pressed for accommodation.

More important than this is the historic fact that for centuries, the church has been the custodian of education and the guardian of learning. In the Dark Ages it was the Christian Church in Europe which treasured knowledge and made it available not only to limited numbers in those days but gave it as an inheritance to succeeding generations. Our present day schools, hospitals and welfare agencies all owe their existence to the Christian Church. Need we add that other religions, non-Christians, also gave gifts of knowledge and learning to their devotees, but in the western world it was Christian scholars who gave light to a pagan world.

People today hesitate to put religious labels upon activities of public interest. Our civilization is secular rather than religious. The word "secular" has been set up as a false god, divorced from any suggestion of "sacred." Yet knowledge, without reverence, can only end in a soul-killing, man-killing materialistic attitude to life.

When the word "hydrogen" rather than "hell" causes people to shudder, fearful of a man-made inferno, the cry must go out not simply for more knowledge, more education but instead demands of us the total commitment of our minds to the holy and wise purposes of God. The first and greatest commandment, be remembered, is one which tells us "The Lord our God, the Lord is one; and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy mind."

Edson Friends Honor Lundquist's

A recent dinner and dance held in the Edson Legion Auditorium honored retired C.N.R. B&B Master, Victor Lundquist and family. A presentation was made to Mr. Lundquist by Mr. Wm. Patrick who remained a host former railway associations with Mr. Lundquist.

A presentation was made to Mrs. Lundquist by Mrs. W. B. McIntyre. Mr. McIntyre acted as chairman and called for remarks from Mr. R. C. Sykes, A. Raven, W. Korman, F. Mansel and others who all suitably replied and wished Mr. and Mrs. Lundquist many more years of happy retirement.

During orchestra intervals Mr. Lundquist filled in with accordion selections for square dancing and waltzes much to the enjoyment of all present.

Born in Sweden, Mr. Lundquist came to Edson in 1914 and joined the B&B department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway holding many positions until his appointment as B&B Master in 1944.

REV. L. B. HALLIWELL

A quiet hour spent alone with God at the beginning of the day is the best beginning for the tolls and the curve of active business. A brief session of prayer and looking above for wisdom and grace and strength and seeking for the touch of God in our lives, helps us to carry over into the business of the day. It brings joy and peace within the heart.

As we place our confidence in Him and look to Him for all our needs, we will find that He does care what happens to us and that we can find peace in the storms of life.

What we have today is ours to enjoy and what God has for us tomorrow is not ours so let God take care of it till it becomes ours to have and hold.

We have received prompt action on our water question. We wrote on the 31st of February and on the 28th day a representative was here to look into the matter. Mr. Mel Pimm, Geological Investigator, well known to many in Edson.

Mr. Pimm estimated the closing off of the spring at S.W. 65-17 on the Grand Prairie Trail will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000.00 and as this well did not freeze over this winter it must be a very heavy flow, and is very certain of the risk and danger to people and animals.

A machine will remove the hole, then it will be filled with concrete for the depth of approximately 10 feet.

THANKS To those electors who supported me at the polls, Monday, March 5, I extend my appreciation to the successful candidate my congratulations.

Who Sez?

BY DICK

This must be the part of March that's a lion because we haven't seen anything resembling spring yet. Something tells us that we're going to have a bit of water around the countryside this year and it would be a dandy time to break out the waterwings and see that they haven't any leaks.

See where President Eisenhower has said that he'll run for a second term. This is good news, not only for the stock market people, but also for that larger body, the citizens. It's an able man in spite of the fact that we are no nearer a lasting peace.

Strange that the U.S. has relied heavily on military men for their top leaders whereas the Commonwealth countries seem to go in more for lawyers. Wonder why? Now that the local elections are over we'd like to congratulate the newly elected principals and hope that they will turn to the work at hand with the same ardor that characterized the election campaign.

On Monday, there seems to be a run of high class shows in our region these days for which everyone should be truly grateful. These included The Trouble With Harry, The Silver Chalice, Not As A Stranger and Trial. The quality seems to be going on and at present we have To Catch A Thief with Cary Grant and Grace Kelly. This was a good chance to see both these fine stars and also take another look at the Hope of Monaco.

And also coming to Julie Verne's 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea. This is one of the adventure classics and the motion picture industry has done a very good job of bringing it to the screen.

With men like James Mason, Kirk Douglas and Peter Lorre in the main roles you'll find lots of action and excitement. And somewhere in the middle of the show, stop and realize that the man who originally wrote the story, Jules Verne, lived many years before we had such things as submarines and torpedoes. He must have been a man with an amazing imagination.

Muriel Wueman, Nilon, February 29; Mr. Verner Johnson, Edson; Mr. Elmer Tunko, Edson; Mr. Roy Guehrler, Marlboro; Miss Elizabeth Sharov, Edson; Mrs. Douglas Cates, March 1; Mrs. Carl Underhill, Edson; Mr. Carl Lyneil, Edson; Mrs. Jacob Fahr, Edson; Mr. Allan Lindon, Edson; Mr. Herbert Proctor, Edson; Mr. Herbert Proctor, Edson; Mr. Edward Ford, Edson; Mr. Nicholas Bandhorst, Edson, March 2; Mrs. Ella Anderson, Obed; Mrs. Harold Buzinda, Edson; Mrs. Louis Thomas, Edson; Mr. Ashton Kovin, Edson; Miss Sharon Elias, Edson; Master Timothy Rhodes, Edson, March 3; Mrs. Overland Mathers, Edson; Mrs. Hans Friedrich, Edson; Mrs. Victor Storozhenko, Edson; Mrs. Sarah Timmatt, Shilwin Bank; Mr. William Borchard, Edson; Mr. Fred Prykowski, Edson; Mrs. Debra Sweeney, Edson; Mr. Ralph Yaka, Edson.

We hope that no one is badly down with the flu or any of the other ailments brought on by rapidly changing temperatures. We have it at our house and, what with the dog making a fuss and the wife doing the wash, had to escape to the of-fice. It's not more peaceful worthy of the confidence you have but it's certainly less hectic.

MAYHEM
May I extend my thanks and appreciation to all who supported me at the recent election for council.

To the new Mayor and councillors I offer my congratulations and best wishes. Now that the election is over let us all support our Mayor and council in their endeavours on behalf of the Town of Edson.

The earth rolls another degree in its eternal course. The office place. But for all the dangers and stupidities of the world, it is still an exciting place to live in. Ask the office boy. He won't care about the shape of things to come; he'll flash a glance to indicate that the shape on the calendar the girl in the pink pyjamas is all right with him, my year.

New Councillors Take Oaths Of Office

Oaths of office were filed at the statutory meeting of the Edson Town Council on Monday evening when newly-elected Mayor W. H. Kankewitt and Councillors W. F. Kortzman, Wm. MacDonald and M. D. Meade took their seats for their first session since the election.

Councillors W. McIntyre, W. Nigro and A. Tucker were also in their seats for what turned out to be a busy meeting.

Indicative of the opening of the spring session was a heavy docket of building permit applications.

BUILDING PERMITS
It was moved that building permit to Mr. Roy Bowman providing for moving building onto lot 6, block 28, and modifying be approved by Council.

It was moved that building permit to Mr. W. Gerniak providing for moving building to lot 20 block 23, and modifying be approved by Council.

Further information was placed before Council on matter of J. Capostino's application for permit to place building on lot 18, block 13, and Secretary was directed to refer material to Building and Plans Committee for report.

It was moved that building permit to Oscar E. Svedberg providing for placing building on lot 10, block 45, and modifications be approved by Council.

It was moved that Mr. R. Schmidt's application for title to lots 7 and 8, block 6, be referred to the Building and Plans Committee with power to act.

OPTION EXTENDED
It was moved that option granted to Mr. W. Patrick on Lot 6, block 24, at meeting February 21, be extended to April 30th, 1966.

It was moved that approval of Council be granted to placing overhanging sign by R. Murray Drugs at premises lot 1, block 15 on submission proper indemnity undertaking.

CRAFT SALE
Approval of Council was granted to Edson Craft Centre holding proposed auction sale to raise funds for activities.

It was moved that approval of Council be granted to the placing of unoccupied Imperial Oil stand on page 8

Girls Want To Meet You Jerry

At least two local girls are interested in the want ad Jerry Nelson has been running in The Leader for the past couple of weeks and have sent him letters through the facilities of our newspaper.

We had one other happy experience a year ago where we acted as catalyst to get two young people embarked on the seas of matrimony through the medium of our classified section (we checked classified section two checked recently and find they are happy like first year newlyweds should be and trying to solve the problems of living in the real spirit).

Jerry signed his name, but the young ladies are playing a little more coyly.

Dear Jerry:
While having my morning coffee and reading the Leader, I noticed your advertisement for a wife. Not being in Edson too long I am a bit lonely and you appear like the sort of man I am interested in.

I am not too good looking and yet I am not too homely. I am 5' 2", suburn curly hair, green eyes and freckles and weigh about 100 pounds.

Tho' I am not keen on Western music, and can't dance very well, I'm sure you could teach me to like both, as for cooking—well I can't boil water without burning it but we could always eat out. Let me know where we can get acquainted.

A Working Girl

Dear Jerry:
Noticed your ad in the paper. I do like Western singing and am fond of dancing. I don't mind red hair as long as the temper isn't too bad.

You sound interesting, however you didn't say whether you were good looking or not.

I don't like cooking and aren't especially good looking, average I guess. We'd probably have to eat in the cafe most of the time.

However if you got the car paid for I might be interested. Would you? You must answer through the Leader.

An Edson Girl

Ray Yoness was a delegate for Edson at the Young Liberal Convention in Edmonton last Saturday.

Blood Clinic To Be Here April 10th

The local secretary of the Red Cross, Mrs. Lillie Seldon, told us this week that she has received the official date when the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service will be in Edson.

It will only be here one day this trip, on April 10, but will have been at Mercoal April 9.

Other years the Clinic has not come up the Branch and instead been in Edson for two days. It is hoped that there will be a better representation of able blood donors this time as the need continues to grow with the growing number of accidents as well as the many other reasons for the need for blood transfusions.

Last fall when the clinic was here the weather was very poor as the district was in the grip of one of its two or three day downpours, but the public is urged to attend and donate if at all possible, whether the weather cooperates or not.

ONE SHOT ONE LYNX

Recently Stan Hoffman of Edson bought himself a new rifle and naturally he was pretty proud of it and wanted to try it out. So when he had the chance he and his brother took a drive up west looking for something to shoot at. About 80 miles north of Hinton they came across a lynx, so Stan raised his new rifle to his shoulder and fired, killing the lynx with one shot. It was also the first shot fired from his new rifle, so Stan had his picture taken with the lynx and the rifle for a pictorial souvenir, and we don't blame him for being proud.

Council Committees

At the first meeting of the Council since the election, chairmen of the various committees for the Town were agreed upon and include:

- Finance: Councillor Nigro
 - Fire Dept. Buildings and Plans: Councillor Meade
 - Health and Sanitation: Councillor Tucker
 - Parks, Cemetery, Town Hall: Councillor MacDonald
 - Public Works: Councillor Kortzman
 - Utilities: Councillor McIntyre
 - Police and Office: Mayor Kankewitt
- Members of the committees are alternated between all the Council so that each Councillor serves on two or more committees in addition to the one he chairmans.

Gas Line Across River East Of Town

The Dutton and Williams construction crews have pretty well completed the laying of the gas pipeline across the McLeod River just north of the Cicirelli farm and about seven miles east of Edson.

The crews look expect to get the line across the Pembina before spring breakup halts the work over the ice.

Target date for completion of the gas line past Edson towards Hinton has been set for October this year. The contractors are reasonably certain the deadline can be met.

Mercoal Miner Dies From Fall Of Coal

Mr. John Schramm, 32, was killed by a fall of coal in the mine at Mercoal, Thursday, March 8, while eating his lunch in one of the underground "rooms" in the coal seam.

Mr. Schramm is survived by his wife and three children and funeral services were held in the Roman Catholic Church at Mercoal prior to his interment in Glenwood cemetery here.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America also conducted their service at the graveside.

Edson Logical Place For Convention

Before its too late we'd like to put out a reminder to the major political parties in the Edson-Jasper federal riding. Edson is the geographical centre of this big constituency and the logical place to hold conventions.

We have the hall accommodation here and hotel and motel accommodation for the few who might need to stay over night.

The Provincial department of highways have pretty well washed out the objection of impassable roads for those who have too come across country. But the vast number of delegates can make use of the Jasper Highway which is now paved. (Except for short stretches.

It is unreasonable to expect Jasper, Hinton and Coal Branch delegates to go 200 miles one way because a few delegates in the north east of the riding don't like to come across 30 or 40 miles to the Jasper Highway.

Edmonton conventions have always seemed too remote for our liking and many times have given the impression of being controlled from the traditional smoke-filled hotel bedroom. Holding conventions in one of the towns in the riding makes it possible for non-voting members of the party to witness the proceedings and this has the effect of ensuring nominations being open and above board.

This is not to say that we think that any particular nominating convention in the past has not been open and above board, but holding conventions in the city makes the average delegate at least two days away from his work, which for a working man, for instance, becomes a main reason for his not being able to attend. This same consideration has kept representatives of the newspapers in this riding from attending as is a considerable difference to slipping over to cover a couple of days off an hour or two against taking a city.

We may be prejudiced, but it is in our firm conviction that there is a newspaperman checking the affair on behalf of John Q. Public.

Liquor Censorship

One feature of the Alberta liquor advertising they wish, and there shall be no advertising of where they wish, including Al-Quor. The purpose is obvious here.

The government doesn't want to encourage the consumption of alcohol, therefore are in a position to flood Alberta with liquor, even if one doesn't agree with it. Liquor is a perfectly manufactured in Alberta, while certain Alberta publications may not mention that it should not be subject to so much discrimination. But we aren't arguing that point.

Neither the Alberta government nor the liquor control board has authority over the circulation of publications, the law should be made something of a farce out of prohibition on liquor advertising. Some other provinces have no such prohibitions. Publicity law, as Manitoba's Attorney-General has suggested, is free to carry all the

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—After doing quite well under it for 20 years, Social credit has decided to abolish the transferable ballot and the proportional representation system of voting in provincial elections. A bill introduced by the government in the legislature last week would put Alberta elections under the straight "X" ballot—the same system used in federal elections. At this point, there is little doubt about the bill being passed.

The 107-page bill, introduced by Hon. Fred C. Colborne, minister of the Interior, embodies the change in the method of marking ballots is the only major change in the act. Other changes are relatively minor administrative amendments.

Naturally, the first question to arise was, why the sudden decision to scrap a system which has been used in the province since 1924?

So far there have been two distinctly different answers—one from the government and another from opposition spokesmen in the legislature.

The government claims the transferable ballot system is all complicated the voters can't understand it, and the result is a large percentage of spoiled and rejected ballots.

The opposition says the real reason is that after what happened in the election last June, the government is afraid of the involved system under which a voter's second choice can be distributed. Social credit representation in the 51-seat house dropped from 51 to 27.

There is room for argument on both sides. The transferable ballot used in single-member ridings and the proportional representation system used in Edmonton and Calgary are fantastically point on this occasion. The liquor control board interprets its duty to be not only the prevention of liquor advertising but the censorship of everything in connection with the liquor industry.

Alberta, for instance, was a feature story in connection with the liquor industry. The liquor control board interprets its duty to be not only the prevention of liquor advertising but the censorship of everything in connection with the liquor industry.

Alberta liquor manufacturers should be submitted to the board for censorship before publication. That's an outrage. It's a wholly unwarranted attitude, dangerous and dictatorial interference with the freedom of the press. It may very well be an indefensible attitude, for there is subject to any such control except the laws of libel. But the board should be called upon to assert the right to censor the publication of news matter, and that the manufacturers should concede that the board has that right.—The Calgary Albertan.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

A young career girl went up to a ski lodge for a weekend of risk-taking life and limb on the glittering slopes. The morning after her arrival she complained to the manager that twice during the night she had to get dressed and go to the lobby for a can of ice water.

"My dear young lady," said the manager, "Why didn't you simply press the buzzer beside your bed?"

"The buzzer?" exclaimed the girl. "The bellboy told me that was the fire alarm!"

Just Nuts

Under the Health Service (U.K.) you may even have a bull burst for nothing. This is known as free-lancing.

From a report—"There were five lovely rams in the sun enclosure. Why didn't you look so friendly."—Naturally, they were pen-pals.

All women, says a columnist, are young these days. But not as young as they make up to be.

A lover of symphonies writes—"I wanted to weep when I saw the rows and rows of empty seats."—Naturally.

A scientist says—"Men have long known they can keep anything in alcohol."

Except secretaries.

Waiter for ducks to come into province, one hunter was telling his companion that he had a very useful retriever. A flight settled in, shots were fired and birds fell. The dog jumped out of the boat, ran lightly over the water, made the retriever and returned with a bird. The owner said triumphantly, "Didn't I tell you? Did you see?" His partner moaned, "Sure did, the darn dog can't swim even."

PITTING SENTENCE

There's a magistrate in Western Ontario who is a student of Gilbert and Sullivan.

A well-to-do citizen, who should have known better, was found guilty of stealing three young fawns for Christmas from a county forest.

For such an offense the law, quite properly insists on a stiff fine. But fines, stiff or not, are easily paid and forgotten in these prosperous days. This magistrate had a better idea.

Making the "punishment fit the crime," he ordered the guilty party to plant 900 new trees in the county forest next Spring.

Local Speakers Address Pupils For Education Week

As part of education week Father Buchner showed the various local people were invited to Grade 4 classes of Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Hatlen, some of the very fine colored slides he took during his year he spent in England. He showed some very beautiful pictures of the famous cathedrals of England, and explained that the carvings on the church buildings were put there to teach the stories of the Bible to the people during the early days when very few people were able to read and write. The children were impressed with the lovely flowers and lawns of England as well as the fine castles and churches.

POLICE METHODS
Corporal W. Wallace, R.C.M.P., spoke on police matters to the pupils of Mrs. Page's and Mr. Romanuk's rooms. He dealt with police troubles and how they are handled, the need for policemen from earliest times to the present and the qualifications that a good policeman should possess. The speaker was introduced by Linda George of Grade 8 and thanked by Carol Swenberg of Grade 5. Mr. D. Buck was introduced by Cheryl Finlay to Mrs. Fossheim's and Mr. Belrose's rooms. Mr. Buck's talk acquainted the pupils with forest conditions. His remarks gave the pupils a keener view into forest problems and forest growth.

Conservation must be practised if we are to have a continuous supply of forest products. A very interesting statement by Mr. Buck was Edson district produces more wood than any other Alberta district.

Mr. Buck was thanked by Iona Yerex for a very interesting and educational talk.

LIBRARY WORK
Mrs. Seldon spoke to Mrs. Nelson's and Mrs. Bolton's rooms. Her subject was library books. She greatly impressed the children by showing various books suitable to primary grades, and reading excerpts from some of them. It is to be hoped that the Grade 2 children will be encouraged to join the library and make use of these fine books. Mrs. Seldon was introduced by Ann Baxter and thanked at the close by Colleen Meade.

POSTMASTER'S WORK
Mr. Edgson visited Mrs. Tunkler's and Miss Ringstad's rooms on Wednesday afternoon of Education Week. Our local postmaster gave a very interesting talk on the Post Office. The Grades 2 and 3 classes were interested to learn just what happens to a letter, what a stamp does, how to send money and several other enlightening points. Again we'd like to thank Mr. Edgson.

Mr. Edgson, pinch hitting, gave the road news of the King's Grade 3's a very interesting talk on the history of the post office. He invited the students to visit the new building when completed promising to show them what happens to letters after they are mailed.

Ethel Yerex introduced the guest to the pupils and Cheryl Moecker thanked him on behalf of the Grade 3's and their teachers.

It must often appear that when it comes to waging the Christian war, that the soldiers of Christ are more often engaged in civil war than against an outside foe. A little booklet called "Home" is published by a religious body and edited by a man sporting six deities, including Deicide of Theology and Divinity.

But the editor is distressed by the very mention of any thought of a world united. He strikes out for either a church or a world that is not subdivided.

I quote "The one-church movement is a twin sister of the one-world movement. Its liberalism is but a step removed from an atheism of its twin. The spirit of internationalism has become one of the deadliest instruments of the cold war which Russia has so successfully waged. Not only will this plague of our distracted

"There's A Good Time Coming"

Each day research Chemists and Physicians are learning more about your body. New radio active isotopes enable them to trace the action of medicines as they seek the effect of any drug on every part of your body will be exactly known.

The day is not too far distant when every diagnosis will be positive and treatment will always be the specific best way to overcome each particular disease. When that "Good Times" arrives, we will continue, as we do now, to closely cooperate with your Physician by always carrying a complete stock of the medicines he may wish to prescribe.

Many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Makes Jubilee Film

"Flash" Shewchuk who operated the Cadomin Studio before that town became a ghost of its former self and he had to close his studio's doors has announced that he will be releasing his film "The Jubilee Parade" some time this March or the early part of April.

This 16 mm film has a magnificent sound track and is produced by Flash himself and was filmed in third dimension in Jasper, Banff, Calgary, Edmonton and Cadomin.

It stars Charlie Alphonse and Flash himself in a short feature depicting the early west.

It is this portion that really depicts the wild west as it is as it proves beyond a reasonable doubt he tells us, that we have in Alberta, not only skilled technicians, but men who are bold and daring enough to try this experiment.

Like all good things, this film is small and expensive. It is only half an hour show, and so more than 50 persons can see the film at once.

Flash expects to exhibit the film in many Alberta towns himself. From his return he hopes to calculate a formula for operating a movie studio in Alberta on a good financial basis.

At present Flash is working in the mine at Marcell.

Hinton Family

Burned Out

Hinton—On Saturday morning at five o'clock the Bill Fowles' were burned out. Mrs. Fowles and the three children were home alone and tried to get some of the furniture out, but had no luck.

They lost all they possessed. Bill was out at Anker's camp on the Anderson Road and there was no help for the folks until Bill Marcoux came over from his place about 600 yards away.

It was then too late to get any where near the house as it was all aflame and Bill took Mrs. Fowles and the children home to his place to get them out of the cold as they were still in their night wear and the temperature was 27 below.

Lt. Gov. Inspects Hospital

His Honour, Lieut. Governor J. A. Boulton of Alberta, recently paid a visit to the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital and charmed with many of the children. The little patients, all dressed up for the occasion, felt that His Honour was endorsing the current Red Cross campaign for funds by his kindly visit. Here, the Lieutenant Governor discusses their Sunday School lesson with Bruce of Bentley and Jerry of Edmonton.

Mrs. A. G. Dobing

Laid To Rest

Mrs. Alice Grace Dobing, beloved wife of Mr. Alfred Dobing of Edson, passed away at the age of 73 years, on March 7.

F.U.A. News

Mr. Chas. Seeley of Cherhill will speak in the I.O.O.F. hall in Edson on March 14 at 8 p.m. Mr. Seeley will speak on current topics of interest to farmers and all farmers are urged to attend.

Mr. H. Chapman spoke to members of the F.U.A. Local 509 last Tuesday evening giving information on Calgary Power. An eager turnout of farmers and prospective power customers were here about having Calgary Power come into this district.

Pulpwood Carrier Expected

To Replace Horses, Tractors

Montreal—A Canadian design

soon replace the horse and tractor in bush camps, will go into commercial production shortly to meet heavy Canadian and international demand. The defence department is also reported interested.

The logger is the product of road or river over rugged banks years of research, backed by a $250,000 industry outlay and carried out by the woodlands section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

Five experimental machines now in use. The logger will be produced commercially at St. and paper companies.

How Can School Costs Be More Fairly Distributed

Dr. M. E. LaZerte, Research Director, Canadian School Trustees' Association.

How might a basic, minimum programme that would give all children equal opportunities be financed so that school costs would be more fairly distributed than they are now? Two adjustments should be made: first, the owners of real property should not be required to pay two-thirds of school costs as they now do; and, second, the cost levied against real property should be more fairly distributed by making tax rates equal in all districts.

In 1951-52 the average provincial government grant in the ten provinces equalled 33 per cent of total costs of elementary and secondary education; local taxes, 65 per cent. Such a distribution of costs could be justified in the remote past when local districts were educating children for life in their home communities and when real property holdings were a fairly accurate measure of wealth and ability to pay. Conditions have changed greatly in recent decades. Today rural-urban migration takes many rural children from their home areas to urban and industrial centres about the time they complete their schooling. Education is becoming a matter of provincial and national rather than local concern. Provincial governments upon whom primary constitutional responsibility of education rests have retained control over most phases of public education while requiring local districts to provide much of the money.

Education is a social service to which all people of the province should contribute according to pay. This means that provincial rather than school district and municipal authorities should be primarily responsible for providing funds. Schools can be administered more economically by local than by provincial authorities. Real property is a stable tax base that should continue to provide a fair proportion of school revenue.

Having agreed that a determined percentage of school costs should be met by real property taxation, should not these taxes be shared equitably? There is little sharing at the present time. In each and every province school mill rates are most unequal. Even though assessments were equalized, as they should be, present levies would call for tax rates ten, fifteen or twenty times as high in some districts as others.

The Canadian School Trustees' Association believes that provincial grants should form a larger percentage of total costs and that levies against real property should be more fairly distributed.

The programme they recommend involves (a) a prescribed foundation programme for all schools, (b) equalized assessments throughout each province, (c) a uniform provincial real property tax rate to help support the basic minimum programme, and (d) provincial grants equal to the difference between the total cost of the foundation programme in all districts and the revenue received from the uniform tax levy. Supplemental tax rates would be applied in all districts offering more than the minimum programme; government grants would be paid in support of the foundation programme only; costs upon which grants would be based should include debt retirement, transportation and similar items as approved by the government's superintendents and in-

Peers Notes

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill on the arrival of Nora Susan, in an Edmonton hospital on February 23.

Congratulations also to Mr. and Mrs. A. Scovill on the birth of a son.

Mrs. Ohe has returned from a short visit with her daughter Katy in Calgary.

Mr. W. MacDermid has been quite ill for some time now. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Young expect to move into their new home three miles north of Peers very shortly.

The new district nurse, Miss Reebuck, has arrived in Peers and has been kept very busy due to a variety of 'flu' which is going around. We wish her every success while in our district.

LAC Fred Radcliffe has been posted to the Cold Lake Air base.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Alsa and family have recently moved to Edmonton. The house of E. Shand is now being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Klepato.

Mrs. A. Shand Sr. and Mrs. T. Forsythe have returned home from the Edson hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Koopman, Mrs. P. Young, Mr. John O'Neill and C. Neilson Jr. were among the recent visitors to Edmonston.

Mrs. D. Jenkins and two small sons of little have been visiting at the F. Radcliffe home.

Cutting for parts in a play being put on by those interested in the dancing class is to begin Monday evening. Sounds like fun!

The travel haul from McLeod Valley to Hatfield is almost completed.

Ice road conditions have been responsible for several minor mishaps on local roads lately.

The procedures discussed in the last two articles would broaden the tax base for school support, do much to equalize educational opportunities for all children and equalize real property taxes throughout each province. However, money cannot buy education; it can buy only goods and services. The quality of education depends more upon the quality of teaching than upon anything else. If schools were financed as herein suggested by the Canadian School Trustees' Association, it would be possible to raise standards of teacher education and certification to provide better education than that now available to hundreds of thousands of Canadian boys and girls.

In the fourth and last article of this series the questions to be answered are, "Should there be equalization among the provinces?" and "Do we need federal aid for education?"

Remember those planes that Canada was going to send to Egypt? Well they still haven't gone and they are still arguing about whether or not to send them. By the time they get to Egypt they'll not only be obsolete, they'll be put in the museum in Cairo.

Looks as though we're finally going to have in on some a-bomb zero weather. There is a hole full of water on the road to Hinton that you could lose a submarine in and that's probably typical of what we're going to face for the rest of the spring.

Suppose by the time this comes out everyone will have heard of the skiing fatality at Jasper over the last weekend. Seems that the only things to talk about are in the nature of tragedy. No matter how commonplace death is in the newspapers and over the radio; listen to the number of deaths by fire and accident that are thrown at us every day, it is still a terrible thing when it comes so close to you. That same thing could have happened to any one of dozens of people and if you were at Jasper last weekend or next weekend it could happen to you. Let's hope that it doesn't, there is too much of that type of news.

On to more cheerful things. Such as the fact that by next fall, maybe, the highway from here to Jasper will be paved all the way. And we've been waiting a good many years for that to happen. When it is finally finished we would suggest a celebration taking in all the towns along the way and let the party run for a week.

On Mister: Another Bible production coming called And the Lion. If it is typical of the other pictures of the same kind then it's a master of going to see the sets and costumes and look at the pretty girls. You can't worry too much about the story because it usually seems to get beat a little by the high cost of making the picture. Anyway it seems as if it would be worth a few hours of your time.

And also coming is Jane Russell in a thing called the French Line. We haven't the faintest idea what it's about but who cares? We'll probably be there all eyes. Just the same as every other male body in town.

We're off again and this is positively your last warning. Get those bathing suits and water wings dusted off.

Alberta's going places with Progressive HEALTH Services

Good health is the most valuable of all resources of any country. In Alberta the Department of Health is responsible for safeguarding this resource by seeking to prevent disease or, when it strikes, to assist in the recovery of the afflicted.

Today Government Health Services are offered on a scale that was financially impossible a few years ago. A large share of the provincial income is diverted to maintaining the highest possible standard of public health.

Last year the overall expenditure for health services in Alberta—nearly $24,500,000—was 7½ times the amount spent ten years ago.

What does this money provide for the people of Alberta? It provides direct health benefits in the way of—

1. HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL SERVICES—such as hospital grants; supervision of hospitals; free maternity hospitalization; hospitalization of various pensioners and recipients of mothers' allowances; and the provincial hospital insurance program.
2. PROVINCIAL LABORATORIES—distribution of serums and vaccines; examinations and analysis for the detection and control of disease.
3. MENTAL HEALTH—hospitalization, medical and nursing care and treatment for the mentally ill.
4. SOCIAL HYGIENE—care and control of venereal diseases through clinics and lectures.
5. TUBERCULOSIS DIVISION—free diagnostic and treatment service for all tuberculosis cases.
6. CANCER—diagnosis, radium, X-ray, surgical and cobalt "bomb" treatments for cancer sufferers.
7. CEREBRAL PALSY—diagnosis and treatment clinics.
8. RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS CLINICS—90 days' free hospitalization and treatment for Albertans under 25 years of age.

EDUCATION AND RESEARCH FOR BETTER PUBLIC HEALTH

1. PUBLIC HEALTH BENEFITS—literature, lectures, radio programs and motion pictures to encourage better health practices.
2. COMMUNICABLE DISEASES—recording the incidence of communicable diseases; providing information on the most effective methods of prevention and control.
3. ENTOMOLOGY—studies and practices the control of insect-borne diseases.
4. SANITARY ENGINEERING—supervises water supplies and sewage disposal systems; inspects hotels, restaurants, slaughter houses and dairies in rural communities.
5. NUTRITION—conducts educational work for better eating habits and more nourishing diets.
6. VITAL STATISTICS—records all births, marriages and deaths.
7. PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING—organizes health programs for rural communities.

For one young lady, for one year...

Even this picture doesn't show all the children's clothes you have to buy. And then there are things like birthday, and bicycles, and the dentist! It's no picnic, handling the purchase-savings for a growing family.

But it's a lot easier if you can just keep ahead of your shopping list, instead of behind it. And the practical way to do that is to deposit a regular amount, each month, in a Royal Bank savings account. As your savings build up you can go ahead and buy things as you need them: pay cash if you want; pick up bargains, too. You can get started, at any branch of the Royal Bank.

Niton Central High School Visits Variety

24, thirteen students of the Niton Central Student's Union left for Edmonton to take in the Variety

Guest weekend. We were by car.

We arrived in Edmonton at about 12-45, and congregated at the Students Union Building where we admired the cups won in previous years by the University and took a look at the Treasure Van.

There were some very interesting displays, such as woodcraft, ivory work, bookbinding, and jewelry from all over the world. We then visited T. V. Lounge, which we all thought was very luxurious.

However you can't put off eating for any amount of luxury, so we all headed for the cafeteria where we all enjoyed a delicious dinner.

While we were there we met our guide who took us on a tour of the Student's Union Building.

We visited the Music Room, Staff Room and Radio Room for the Evergreen and Gold and the Gateway papers, the Wasmuth Lounge and several other rooms.

When we had finished the tour we met our second guide who conducted a tour of the Educational Building the Medical Building and the Arts Building and the display of Antiques at the Library.

We returned to the Educational Building and from there some of us went downtown to take in the show "Heaven of Troy" at the Strand.

We returned to the Convention Hall to take in the Variety Varieties and we found this show interesting and delightful with such presentations as ballet dancing, can-can dancing, group songs, male and female solos and choruses. There were also humorous and tragic demonstrations.

After the show we all headed for home and the bed.

We were up bright and early Saturday morning, though, and ready to go. We met at the Education Building at 9:00 a.m. and from there we made a tour of the Education Building and took in the exhibits of the younger children's work.

Two things that caught our eyes were the aquarium in the science room, and the mounted birds in the hall.

A few of the group came late so some of us stayed to take them around, while others went on to the Medical Building.

Here we took in the Nursing display, the Pharmacy Display, and the Science Display all of which are very interesting.

At 2:00 we met at the Drill Hall and some went to the play "The Male Animal," while others took in the Hockey Game at the rink.

We returned to the Drill Hall at 3:15 and from there we came back home.

We would like to thank the managing staff of the V.G.W. for a truly interesting and educational program.

We would also like to thank the drivers and owners of the cars for providing our transportation.

HINTON HI-LITES

'round town

—Overhead in front of Switzer's on Saturday afternoon: Sandy MacLean and Don Eagle comparing notes on their backdoor. Sandy saying his would be over shortly. His good wife would be moving up from Edson and Don says Mrs. Eagle will be back soon. (Luckily as the supply of dishes were running out).

Fred Lewis and Allen Jones up on top of the concrete forms. The wind was blowing and we bet they were cold. Joe Norton and the young fellow racing to drink their beverage in the hotel on Friday afternoon. (The young fellow was).

—Lots of out-of-towners about Saturday despite the cold.

—Shirley and Mrs. Jobling up from Edson.

—Karl Urban and his helpers have finished their digging in the trailer camp.

—Monty has his new theatre all closed in now and some heat in the building. They won't be stopped by cold weather any more. He and the crew put up a real fight against the elements this winter.

—The theatre makes the April 1st target for opening as it will be able to take the good wife out to the show once or twice a week again.

—Our population is growing by leaps and bounds these days. Every time you look around the camp there are more arrivals.

—Were talking to Mrs. Mel Strong in Switzer's on Saturday about the new classics. We enjoyed reading White Fang and the Sea Wolf by Jack London a tain. It has been quite a few years since we read the originals. Was quite surprised to see these two put up in comic form but they are good.

—Alex Maystro says he will be getting the new addition to his composite store going soon.

—It shouldn't be long before the Highway crews will be coming back. It was March last year when the advance guard arrived up on the Highway.

—Saw Guy Desprey of Woodlands laying a smoke screen on the highway Saturday morning about ten to eight.

—Gerry Bruce and his wife have left and gone to Seattle transferred no less. Poor fellow he won't have to pioneer it any longer.

—Lloyd Darrell says he will be leaving us soon and going back to Edmonton. Will miss him a round.

—Lots of comings and goings this year but there will be a lot more coming than going. Saw that bull moose of the New West up on its hind feet scratching up sand on Wednesday afternoon. Some machine. If it can't dig it up then it scratches it down.

—Saw Leo and Mrs. Pierre up shopping in the composite business section Saturday afternoon.

—Mrs. Evelyn Laws away to Vancouver on a buying trip for the goods for new store.

—Well Bud Ford has got that wood pile of his all piled up now, he had better put a fence around it as it sure looks inviting.

—Another oil drilling rig in the area, came in by rail this time and it looked broad new.

—There is a return game at Jasper this Saturday.

—The lads under 14 have formed a hockey team here. They played Jasper on Saturday last and lost. There was Jasper 10 - Hinton 8.

—Those participated in Hinton's first curling bingo will be pleased to know that the affair netted the sum of $474.51, which will go to ward the promotion of curling in the area.

—Gross receipts were $749.00 and expenses were $273.51.

—From the enthusiasm engendered this winter we became aware there seems to be no doubt that it will be only a short while before Hinton has a risk of it.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith serve in World War II. Mr. and Mrs. Smith had ten at Smiths and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, seven still living; Mrs. Smith received a dining room set from the family and many other gifts from friends and family. A beautiful plaque was sent to the Smiths from friends and family. A beautiful plaque was sent to the Smiths from friends and family. My Mother's Hands
(Read by Jack and Betty in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Yorkie) Smith Sr. at their Golden Wedding)
She leaned against the kitchen range,
Not very stooped, not very gray,
For nearly 70 years. She had just filled
The woodbox, with some to spare
In case it snowed, and poured five pails
Of water in the reservoir. And now
She leaned against the stove.

"Those hands—" I said and I felt overwhelmed
With all there was to tell. "We helped, we helped With everything, but while we were in school
They did the work. Until we could ourselves.
They made our clothes, so rough they caught the silk.
And made the scratchy nudes we never liked.
Your hands did that."

"At school you sent dimes—eight dollars
Ours in cardboard boxes. They came from eggs.
They emptied ashes from two stoves,
They carried water, soap and feed,
And straw to make the nests.
And gathered eggs while snow blew in between the boards.
They washed and ironed, cooked for extra men—
And hungry too—with lunches twice a day.
Five meals sometimes, and sometimes six.
And now you hide them in your dress."

"I was so strong then days," she said,
Self-conscious now from so much praise.
And stood there looking at the floor,
Her back against the stove.
Her hands around the old, old rod.
We used to hang our aprons and mittens
On when it was cold.

Mahaska W.I. Meet

The February meeting of the Mahaska W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Haddock with vice-president Mrs. Johnston in the chair.

Peers Handicraft Club Active

The regular meeting of the Peers Handicraft Club was held February 23 with but seven members present due undoubtedly to the severe cold. We gladly accepted the invitation of the teaching staff to hold the meeting in the teacherage, where, inspired by the warmth of the coal range, work proceeded at a gay tempo.

Mrs. Lill Maurer is in charge of the spreads during the absence of Mrs. O'Neil and a few minor plans were made.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Vahle and Mrs. Veger and a tasty lunch was enjoyed by all.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Ina Ruth was hostess to about twelve ladies when Mrs. Ross of Olds, aided by Mrs. Maude Young, gave a demonstration on making forms of wood fibre. The enthusiastic group participated in making various types, including puzzy-willows.

A delicious lunch brought the evening to a close.

Surprise Lake Camp Committee Make Plans

The annual meeting of the surprise lake camp was held at the home of Rev. C. C. Armstrong on Wednesday, February 20. Rev. J. Nequay submitted a report of camp activities of previous years. He also read parts of the constitution.

A membership fee of one dollar per family per calendar year has been suggested and membership will be solicited.

The following tentative dates were suggested for the camps of the coming season: Family Camp, June 28-July 2; Older Boys (12-18), July 4 - July 11; Jr. Girls (9-11), July 11 - July 18; Jr. Boys (9-11), July 18 - July 25; C.G.I.T. (12-17), July 25 - August 2.

Those present from out of town were: Rev. R. Gates, Jasper; Rev. L. Ling, Mr. W. Kruse, Medicine Hat; and Rev. J. Nequay, Edmonton.

Anyone wishing to assist in leadership at any of these camps this summer are requested to contact either Rev. C. Armstrong or Mrs. Fergus Craig.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my sincere thanks to the electors of Edson for their support at the polls and assure all that will continue to give my best attention to the affairs of the town.

SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

If anyone mentions curling to me within the next ten months I will have a person much larger and stronger than myself to perform a major operation on part of their anatomy known as a face. Their eyes shall be replaced by curling rocks and the handles shall be used for ears. Since the last of the semi-finals late last Sunday, or should I say early Monday morning, this character has been flat on his back in bed with the darndest case of flu or something I've ever had.

Not being able to get around this week items will be scarce as two pound trout is the local well, but Mr. Editor I have it was beef. In regard to the picture that appeared in the upper right corner of the last issue, it said "Looking East at N.W.P.A.P." It's a good snap and it's looking East, but here's the impression gathered by empty nine people who have dropped in to see me the last few days.

"Holy Cow, George I never dreamed that so many buildings had been erected at the site last year, in fact I never even noticed 'em." The reason they never noticed them is easy to explain. There are only three buildings shown. All the stuff in the foreground is in just building forms for a large building. Some guys even asked me what these modern looking buildings were that stuck out on the main drag. As for the picture, well grab last week's Herald and let's have a look.

Right behind those two hills, which happen to be gravel piles, you will see two flat topped buildings. The closest one is the clinic and behind this the administrative building. The large building, left centre, which some think must be a supermagarous has a ger for space ships will join the one in the foreground whose concrete forms and footings dominate the picture.

So you see there is not as much there as you thought there was. From the looks of the shadows and the position of the shutter bug, I'd say this picture was taken from behind the raw material's warehouse or the large machine room between 10:30 and 11 one morning when it was too cold to work. Well, I feel much better now.

Then there was the dentist's daughter who ran around with the worst set in town. Just received a flah, I mean flash. Elmer Patrick's rink defeated the Lew Pollard crew in the final curling event today. Final score, 10-4. Congratulations Elmer. This reminds me of the boxer who was explaining his defeat by a smaller man. "He only came up to my chin, but he came up too often."

Seems like the old ram's head that was mounted above one of the doors in the hotel got tired of hanging around all these years. Yep, he jumped down from his lofty perch the other night and all the dogs and hunters in town can't seem to find him. Ah, the call of the wild...

Sure sorry to hear about that fire that other night, but glad that no one was burned. It's nice to see the folks helping out with that relief fund as this sure hits a family hard, especially after such a rough winter. If you care to offer a helping hand, drop into Ray Fuller's garage...

Emil Raich is up and around after a battle with this flu that's going around and there sure seems to be plenty of it at present. One of the fellows in the trailer court looked out of his window the other night just in time to see a pair of hands, holding pliers, busily cutting his clothes line. It's a good thing he had the window in the right place, ain't it?

Mummy, can I go out and listen to daddy put the car chains on? Cute little devils aren't they...

This evening that seventeen more dwellings will be erected pronto in the next two blocks. Just wait till spring comes then we will really

Council Bring In Hospitalization

Edson Town Council gave three readings to the by-law to implement the advantages of the so-called dollar a day plan for hospital protection for ratepayers in Edson at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening.

Council propose to finance the scheme from the proceeds of two mills on the property across the board on Edson's assessment. Non-ratepayers will be able to come under the provisions of the plan by paying $10.00 for a contract.

Ratepayers whose assessment is under $1,000 will have to make up the difference between what two mills on their property comes to and $5.00. For instance a home assessed at $2,000 would be charged $1.00 at two mills and the ratepayer would have to pay an additional $1.00.

Bigger property owners will have to pay two mills on all their property so that home owners stand to gain the most from the scheme.

There seemed to be no disagreement around the Council table on the obvious benefits in the plan in which the Provincial Government is underwriting more than 90 per cent of the total cost.

Ratepayers using St. John's Hospital facilities here will only have to pay an additional $1.50 a day for standard ward rates. Cases referred to Edmonton or elsewhere by their doctor will have to pay as much as an additional $3.00 per day. Supplementary coverage by Blue Cross or similar groups can even take care of this charge.

Council hope to bring the scheme into operation by May 1st. Approval must be obtained from the Provincial Department of Health who foot most of the bill and also a contract with St. John's Hospital must be signed before the plan becomes operative. It was considered that approval by the department can be taken for granted as it is a provincial scheme.

Ratepayers will be automatically covered immediately the agreement is signed, but contract holders must wait sixty days before being able to take advantage of the plan. In the event that the Dominion Government comes out with a plan that provides this loss as insurance has been given that municipal authorities will be re-imposed for their expenditure in the year in which the Federal scheme comes into being.

Auction Sale Planned by Craft Centre

BY A CRAFT

On Saturday, May 28th, the Craft Centre members will be looking for the support of all public spirited citizens of the Edson district in their effort to raise funds for the renovation of their workshop.

The Town Council, in line with the previous council's policy of encouraging handicrafts, have given us permission to hold an auction sale; Mr. Fowler has generously granted us the use of an ideal location in his corner lot and Mr. Chapman, in true sporting spirit, has offered to help Mr. Tax Fonda, the most entertaining auctioneer of all time. It will be worth your while to come a long list for the fun.

Of course we can't have a successful auction sale without plenty of articles to sell so we are appealing to all householders to donate their white elephants to the cause. With spring cleaning underway, this is an excellent time for housewives to get rid of those things that are cluttering up the house but are too good to throw away.

Some time in April, the town will be canvassed and the pick-up arranged. In the meantime we are requesting all our friends to look in their basements, attics and garages for any superfluous but useful articles.

To those who take pride in their home and want us to keep pace with other communities, it might be of interest to know that Chaplain is putting up a new building to house their crafts even before the centre is established. Camrose has converted an Army barracks into a home for the handicapped and in other towns the basements of public buildings are

Fast Action by Council

Edson Town Council lost no time in implementing the municipal hospital scheme which will give protection to Edson ratemakers and contract holders for a very modest sum.

At eight dollars a year minimum (ten for non-rate payers) no citizen can afford to be without the protection afforded by this by-law. The average home does not quite make $8.00 on two mills on the assessment, so the difference between what two mills bring and $8.00 must be paid.

Even railroad families who were pool to the scheme stand to save four dollars a year, as instead of paying $8.50 a month as they do now they will only have to pay $5.50 per month to their hospital insurance fund.

Your editor was unreservedly for the introduction of the hospital scheme and through the columns of this newspaper we spoke out for the scheme. An equivalent protection through a private insurance company for a family of eight would have cost us just over $200.00 per year instead of $8.00. If I, Elton Cross, would cost us just half as much as the private company.

If it were the only thing that the new council had done during the couple of weeks since the municipal election we would say well done.

But they have started the physical survey for the implementing of a business tax, which has been talked about in Edson for many years—but nothing has done about it until now. Edson, incidentally, has been one of the last towns in Canada that has had no business tax.

Contrary to popular opinion, Edson businessmen seem to agree with what Mayor Rankenwitt said about the tax at Tuesday's council meeting. "It's merely a matter of putting the various expenses of living and doing business in their proper categories."

Hand-in-hand with the introduction of the business tax the Council are weighing the various ways in which the light and power rates can be lowered at the present time and how reductions in power plant revenues can be offset by such other revenue as the business tax.

Council's action in at last passing a building by-law with teeth in it is something long overdue as evidenced by the provincial town planning department for the Council last year when the 500 to 1000 houses for Edson were being planned.

From what we witnessed on Tuesday evening we expect to see all of Edson's other pressing problems tackled in an equally business-like way.

Prairie Winter

By JANE HAVENS

How cold and crystal clear the morning air!
The trees like shaggy sentinels stand
Pointing aloft with frosty-fingered hand
To where the moon, a silver sickle fair,
Pale with the stars before the amber sheet
Spreads in pale splendor in the eastern sky.
Forerunner of the sun which, by and by,
Will turn the snow to diamonds at my feet.
There, faint and far, beyond the sleeping town,
I hear the warning whistle of a train.
A monster, heavy laden, mad with pain
I watch its billowing breath come curling down.
Rising again, like clouds from out a pyre,
Rebbed by the sun in tones of living fire.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—More light was shed in the legislature last week on the new sources of raising revenue and that the government plans to wash its hands of the present unwieldy system of making grants.

☆ ☆ ☆
A statement on the new deal was issued in the house by Mr. Treasurer R. W. Hinman who was careful to point out that it did not represent government policy, but was only a basis for launching forthcoming discussions between provincial and municipal officials.

☆ ☆ ☆
Some observers see it also as laying the groundwork for the day when the province will no longer rake in millions of dollars, but this is the lucrative source of the province's revenue.

☆ ☆ ☆
Mr. Hinman's statement did not answer the question, but much of it was devoted to an analysis of the forms of taxation which could be considered in the proposed re-arranging of the revenue sources.

☆ ☆ ☆
As a result, many observers are wondering whether new taxes may result from the government's "comprehensive survey" of provincial-municipal financial relations.

☆ ☆ ☆
The brief devoted considerable attention to income tax, sales tax and poll tax. It discussed the pros and cons of each tax, without expressing any definite view.

☆ ☆ ☆
The statement suggested a new revenue. It would be an "acceptable step," it said to argue that the province should continue to handle revenue from natural resources and use them to the best advantage of all citizens.

☆ ☆ ☆
Then it posed the question: "Can we agree that all other sources of revenue are provincial?"

☆ ☆ ☆
The question is a long and involved one, and will undoubtedly undergo lengthy study. What the exact income will be is anyone's guess, but it is certain there will be sweeping changes.

☆ ☆ ☆
Meetings between provincial officials and representatives of local governments will start shortly, and when they do the government may make a more definite commitment.

☆ ☆ ☆
Local governments would be able to hold plebiscites on the fluoridation question under a bill introduced in the house last week by Health Minister Dr. W. W. Cross.

☆ ☆ ☆
Under the bill, a municipality could introduce fluorides into the public drinking water supply if two-thirds of the voters were in favor. A number of Alberta cities have passed such resolutions, but the government has not yet introduced legislation.

☆ ☆ ☆
The Peace River country was a long and drawn out battle in the house last week when Highway Minister Gordon Taylor announced the new bridge over the Peace River.

The bridge will start this year on a new bridge over the Peace River. However, it will be two or three years before the structure is finished. Plans have already been started, and it is expected work this year will involve only the preparation of the site.

HOLY WEEK

Palm Sunday brings us to the most solemn week of the Church's year as we call to mind the events of the Passion of Christ leading up to His death upon the cross for us men and for our salvation. Good Friday marks the climax of man's rejection of God and the apparent victory of sin and death—but that is the back side of the coin—it is also the day of glorious triumph, for Jesus, the Son of God meets the fullest fury of the enemy and wins the victory.

So he calls us to share in our lives. Our profession as Christians is to follow our Saviour Christ and to be made like unto Him, that as He died for us and rose again, so should we die to sin and rise again unto righteousness. Where there is no Good Friday, there is no Easter! Where there is no death, there can be no resurrection. Where there is no Cross—there can be no Victory!

REV. L. S. HALLING
Trouble seems to be the every day word which sticks very close to us as we live out our lives. It seems to be the thing that makes failures of some and others hopeful. What it does for one it does for another. For some it will make them so uncharitable that they will hardly live with themselves, let alone anyone else. While for others it will make of their examples all that is good. Some would have us feel that religion should be the cure all, but such is not the case. All too often man will blame the church if he does not make good and if he thinks they should be then it's the fault of that thing called religion. Stop long enough to realize that protection of the high wall but out on the unprotected hillside. The strength of steel is not found in the raw material but after it has gone through the smelter and refiners. The best gold is had after the best is on.

What has all this to do with me you ask. My friend if you would only learn that the source of trouble is found in the same place that Adam and Eve found it. You would also realize that the solution is not in what you can do to overcome it but what has already been done. Trouble will usually do one of two things, drive man far away from God or will bring him to His God. What is it doing in your life? Or have you stopped long enough to find out what it really is doing?

The Bible holds the answer to our problem and the answer is "Casting all your care upon Him for He careth for you."

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG
Palm Sunday, immediately preceding Easter, has become the occasion for receiving new members into the church. It is a Sunday when we commemorate the day most momentous week in the life of Christ. The Gospels devote nearly a third of their written material to a detailed recording of the events which occurred between Palm Sunday and Easter. Perhaps the most casual of all the churches where the celebration has not been strictly marked. Passion Sunday, according to some authorities, is the Second Sunday before Easter, and Passion Week, strictly speaking is the last week before Easter. The last week before Easter should be called Holy Week. No doubt some are more distressed than others by this carelessness in terminology.

More serious is the degradation of the good term "pascha" to the point where it becomes an equivalent of "lust". To use a Nature in her superior wisdom has established balance. Some of this is brought before us in milk. Milk is a wonderfully balanced food with the needs for life, that it is said a man can be lost in the wilderness for a long time and survive with no apparent ill effects if he has but a cow and the use of her milk. This wonderful gift of Nature, the cow, will nourish us, foster our children, then give us her best for food and her hide for clothes.

More than that, equally balanced as her milk is in nutrition, is her nature to replenish fertility in the soil. So wonderfully balanced is this strength of fertility that we successfully utilize Edson's gray soil successfully with grassland farming and cattle with the cow's help we overcome soil deficiency and short seasons. Grassland farming adapts itself well to our soil and climate. This would not be successful without the cow.

Our gray soil, deficient in humus, will not respond to artificial fertilizers alone as fully as when manure is intelligently applied. Manure gives land as wonderfully balanced fertility as milk gives a balanced food. Then manure has the added ability to improve the soil's physis.

When liberally applied on heavy soil this becomes more porous, it will absorb water better, hold it better, is easier to work, its humus giving substance renders the soil soft and friable. Sandy soils have their waterholding capacity increased, as well as their fertility, by enriching them with humus. One shortcut to this is manure.

Then with its humus giving substance manure gives soil a darker color. Dark color gives the soil the ability to take on more heat from the sun. With more of the sun's warmth in the soil, we lengthen our growing season.

They also offered the facilities and help of their company in saving advice to assist in the formation of a town owned franchise holder and urged the importance of making a decision in the immediate future if Edson is to have gas into the town before the coming fall.

The Edson Council tried something new last weekend. It's called a 16 rink curling which pay $16 per rink entry fee with the winning rink and the runner up in the one day event getting $116 and $16 respectively.

This has been going on quite successfully in a number of Edson clubs only it usually carries on for 16 weeks with the 16 winners meeting in a grand finale. No wonder it's called the 16 Club. It all sounds a little dispiriting. Winning rink in this interest crossing bonspiel was skipped by an ex-Edsonite, Lefty Lysden of Edsonville who beat Edson's rink in a game that took some tough slugging. The rink was in pretty good condition to start the 'April' Saturday evening, but with steady curling it was heavy by Sunday afternoon and winners of games played really earned wins. We're looking forward to more of this type of bonspiel next season.

I understand there 'a new curler some day. The rink was by work on March 12 and stopped off at St. John's Hospital to be claimed by Carson and Larive Field only 5 pounds, 13 ounces, she'll have to grow a lot before she is able to manage a forty pound rock. But who knows maybe she's the start of another of these family rinks that do so well in Edson. I'll bet she cuts part of her teeth on a trophy handle or curling club spoon.

Congratulations Carson and Larive.

The Hinton Curling Club held their first bonspiel recently, on Jasper ice as they have yet their own bonspiel for rink. Two of our former Edson curlers were among the winners with Bill Switzer's rink taking the consolation event and Sandy Maclean skipping a rink which won a special prize of "Super Consolation."

Anyone interested in getting a lovely curling sweater for 35 cents! The club is selling tickets for one which has been donated by an anonymous well wisher. Anyone wanting to see this sweater can go up in the club rooms where it is on display. The draw will be made March 31 so you still have time to buy a chance on it from several of the curlers.

Young Liberals Hear Report On Convention

A discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of working in political parties was the major subject discussed at the March 14th meeting of the Edson Young Liberals.

Roy Verex reported on the Alberta Young Liberal's Convention in Edmonton on March 10th. This was of particular interest to many of the membership who had never attended a convention. To give them an idea of what work is done at such functions.

A committee of six was appointed to consider the opportunities of the student who is seeking further training from the high-school leaving level. After an outburst of discussion, it was decided to present the findings of the committee, publicly. The committee consists of Mrs. Joan Newington, Miss Lorraine Rogers, Miss Lorna Nelson, Mr. Gordon Mitchell, Mr. H. Malen and Mr. Roy Verex.

Only the lateness of the hour and the firmness of the chairman deferred a discussion on strike privileges for railroaders. All desire for further talk melted away when a lunch was served which had been prepared under the direction of Mrs. W. E. McIntyre and Mrs. T. I. McLeod, of the senior Ladies Liberals.

The next regular meeting will be held 8:00 p.m., April 11th at Verex's house.

Niton 4-H Grain Club

Club reporter - Myrtle Howlett

The reorganization meeting of the Niton 4-H Grain Club was held on March 2.

It was called to order by Mr. Allan Howlett.

The following positions were filled by president, Bill Lawton; vice-president, Ernest McPhee; secretary, Lucy Miller; treasurer, Verna. Condict; club reporter, Myrtle Howlett.

During the meeting it was decided that a dance will be held at the old Niton school on March 23. The proceeds will go towards club sweaters.

A horse walked into a bar and ordered a martini with caviar. The bartender mixed the drink and the horse bolted it down. Then he asked, "Don't you think it's strange that I'd ask for a martini with caviar?" "Why, no," said the bartender, "I rather like them that way myself."

St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, died on March 17, 493. The anniversary of his death has been celebrated regularly in recent times by not only Irish but those of many other races, and not only Catholics but those of other faiths.

In fact, the New York organization in memory of St. Patrick, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, was organized by both Irish Catholics and Presbyterians, and its first president was a Presbyterian.

The most famous tale about St. Patrick is the one which tells of his banishment of snakes from Ireland. Yet Cardinal Moran, who some years ago wrote an article on St. Patrick in the Catholic Encyclopedia, fails to mention it. He does mention the ordeal of St. Patrick when he was surrounded by demons in the shape of vultures, and tells of the drowning of the demons in answer to his prayers.

The snake story holds that St. Patrick banished all of them except one, an old serpent which refused to leave Ireland. According to the tale, St. Patrick made a box and asked the serpent to enter it. Finally, St. Patrick had his way, convinced the snake the box was large enough to hold him comfortably and succeeded in getting him into the box, which he then shut and threw into the sea.

Whatever the tale, and there are those that believe several different versions, a great number of people enjoy celebrating the anniversary of the death of St. Patrick, in the middle of this month every year. Irishmen, particularly, take to the occasion, and on some occasions in the past they have even brought pieces of the "ould sod" from Ireland to observe the occasion.

The beauty of the Emerald Isle and its rolling land is associated with St. Patrick and the tale of the snakes by millions of sentimental Irishmen.

To Celebrate Crucifixion

The Edson Congregation of Jehovah's witnesses wishes to announce that it will be celebrating the memorial of Christ's death in the I.O.O.F. Hall the coming Monday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. This is considered to be the most important day of the year and is the only one that they celebrate.

All persons of good will are welcome.

SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

The faint trickle of water and the sigh of the wind as it raves through the tops of the trees large spaces surrounding our humble domain reminds me of the poem we had in our grade seven literature books, back in the thirties. With apologies to the author I interpret "The Brook" as follows, especially to day.

I slip, I slide, I zoom, I glide,
I make another rally,

And then once more, I gain my feet.
To slither down the alley

Now's the time for all would be athletes to take up skin diving. You never can tell what you'll find beneath the surface of the pools that are rapidly forming in the immediate area. There's one forming just off the North East corner of our house which is rapidly becoming a playground resort for all the small fry in the neighbourhood. They tear through this miniature lake like Campbell's Thunderbird, and if they don't make enough spray the first run, they give it another whirl.

Our young fellow tried it this afternoon, but he apparently wasn't planning properly as he landed flat on his back looking like a submarine in a crash dive. This of course necessitated a complete change, much to the delight of his mother who indignantly made the change for the fourth time.

From the looks of the lines around the neighbourhood this aquatic sport is becoming quite popular with the younger set. The youngsters in our section figure that our puddle will be deep enough tomorrow to sail boats in as we should see a regatta any day now. I might even get an entry in myself.

If none of the neighbours are looking, Guess I'd better pad out around and see what's going on in the main canal.

Noticed Mr. Potter draining "MacGregor Lake" Saturday morning and through his efforts Bob can now drive his car up to the top of the hill without using a ferry or hip waders. Charlie Schilling, Dan Shearer, Bert Hansen and Allen Clarke were a few of the fellows seen in Edson on Sunday. The occasion of course was another curling "do". How did you fellows make out? Luck of muscled played an important part in our downfall. Think we should invest in some curling shoes with bearings for these March affairs.

Heard Jack Cumberland playing a very appropriate piece on his electric guitar this evening when we strolled by, Springfield in the Rockies. With all this water we need springs yet! Looks like Jack is adding on to the East side of his place. Kitchen or music room, Jack?

Vern Truxler would have made the Entrance hill easy the other day if he hadn't lost his gas line. Vern didn't worry though, he hauled out the hose he uses for siphoning gas tanks with balloons made the necessary repairs.

Despite low forty temperatures in Edson, Sunday, Helen Larson stood shivering like a bowl of Jello in the back of an empty gravel truck, while Art was having a hot time pushing granite. Helen how did you survive the winter?

Noticed that a little red sports car, the Karmann Ghia, was the object of many eyes as it sat in front of the Commodore. Is this a new VW, or a new? Well whoever puts it out certainly makes a snappy looking chariot.

Noticed our new neighbors the Crawfordseems to be all settled in their new home. Mr. Crawford must be all caught up with the inside work as I noticed him giving the family auto a wheel check up, this evening. Wonder how he got that thing jacked up so high.

Speaking of new neighbors. Must find out who the folks are that moved their trailer in just that of us tonight.

Ruben Kilka now knows why he isn't getting such good mileage out of his car. His gas tank was leaking from the top by a hose. Guess it wasn't a garage case after all Ruben.

Some highway transport thought that the best way to get a freezing unit in the Old Cafe would be to take it through one of the front windows, which are five by seven feet, baby photo. Now the cafe is lacking one window... it's a good thing this didn't happen in January.

Noticed also that Dick King's purty red moon sign is still up after a salvo with the High-way service truck... it's a case of putting the signs up higher or building the trucks lower.

Dennis Armella won himself a handsome electric iron at the Jasper dance Saturday, when he fished in his pocket for the door prize ticket... Now all you have to do Dennis is get married. Ya gotta have someone to operate that machine.

With the baseball season just around the corner it reminds me that women are just like umpires—they make quick decisions, never reverse them, and they do not think your safe when you out.

Coffee Is Now Good For You

Confusing news for coffee drinkers: A valuable vitamin has just been found in coffee. Sooner or later we expected it. With thousands of gallons of the brew being poured down gullies as often as five times a day, it was certain that some beneficial food value would be found in coffee. And it turns out to be B-complex vitamin, Niacin.

"It has been scientifically determined that a well-brewed cup of coffee contains about one milligram of Niacin," said a spokesman from the Coffee Institute. He went on to say that five or six cups of coffee a day give about half the daily requirements of this vitamin (a quart of milk contains 11 milligrams, about the same as five slices of bread).

We like coffee. We can take it or leave it though it's beneficial when it is thickened with milk. It's a habit that's hard to break. It's a habit that's hard to break. It's a habit that's hard to break.

DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS
IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT
No. 85
INTENTION TO AMEND A DEVELOPMENT SCHEME ORDER

TAKE NOTICE that the Minister of Municipal Affairs, being for the purpose of the TOWN & RURAL PLANNING ACT, 1953, the Council of IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 85 proposes to make an order (in the nature of a by-law) amending Order No. 2 of IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 85 (which adopted the DEVELOPMENT SCHEME relating to the acquisition of land for the development of a townsite at the hamlet of HINTON, ALBERTA) in accordance with the provisions of the said Act.

PURPOSE OF THE AMENDMENT
This order, dated at THE HINTON HAMLET DEVELOPMENT SCHEME (amendment) ORDER, will enable the Council to purchase lands owned by THE DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS for $45.00 (forty-five dollars) per acre, which is the appraised value established by that department, instead of $50.00 (thirty-dollar) per acre as before proposed in Schedule "A" of the Hinton Township Development Scheme.

A copy of the proposed order, together with a map showing the land referred to therein, will be deposited at room 431 NATURAL RESOURCES BUILDING, EDMONTON, and at the Administration Office, HINTON, after which it is expected on and after MARCH 21, 1956, at either of these places and at reasonable hours.

PUBLIC HEARINGS
At 2:00 p.m. of April, 1956, the Council will cause a public hearing to be held in the ADMINISTRATION OFFICE, HINTON, at which any person may make objections and representations with regard to the proposed order.
DATED at Edmonton this 14th day of March, 1956.
Signed
A. W. MORRISON
Deputy Minister

"good for you."

We kind of resent the discovery of Niacin in coffee... it's going to spoil moments that are looked forward to with pleasure when we realize that it's not a cup of coffee, but vitamins that we're taking.

Now we suppose the Tea Institute will get busy.

Do We Need Federal Aid For Education?

Dr. M. E. LeZar, Research Director Canadian School Trustees' Association

It is apparent that local taxes even in the most affluent provinces and provincial grants must provide most of the money needed for the schools. Should there, however, be federal aid for elementary and secondary education? The answer depends upon the provincial needs and upon the standards we want in education. To think profitably about the question asked, one must know what the tax-paying ability of each province is, what percentage of its population is of elementary and secondary school age, what relative annual expenditure it is now making on education and what standards of education it is to be considered acceptable. For example, in two provinces the relative tax-paying abilities per capita are 118 and 218, the percentages of the population in school 19.2 and 17.8 and the average 1951-52 expenditures per class room $4,190 and $5,375. An expenditure of $5,375 per class room is the equivalent of an expenditure of only $2,900 per class room in the first province.

If the cost of an acceptable school program is, say, $5,000 per class room per year, the one province can meet this requirement easily but the other needs much assistance unless it makes twice the effort made by its sister province. It is apparent that all provinces are not equally able to support elementary and secondary school programmes. If the best wealthy province is now offering satisfactory schooling or could offer it with adequate effort, there is no valid argument for federal aid. However, two facts are noted: first, the programmes of 1951-52, with provinces are at such a low level that they cannot be assembled and, second, the standards of all municipal systems are so heavy that expenditures on education cannot be increased without impairing other services.

The Canadian School Trustees' Association believes that education is of such national importance that the Federal Government should make certain that acceptable standards. The federal government is dependent upon the provinces for the basic general education of its civil service and its armed forces personnel. Our national production totals are greatly affected by the quality of Canadian public education. The Dominion's place in world trade is similarly conditioned as is also the general social and cultural level of Canadian life. Canadian school children's Association is advocating federal aid to equalize the foundation programmes that can be supported in the several provinces.

MacKay Wins At MacKay

The MacKay Hockey Team won their last game 7-6 in an overtime contest at MacKay Tuesday, over a post-game Glenview team.

MacKay faced a 6-4 deficit in the third period but managed to tie the score in the final minutes of the period and the counter by Glen Dirk in the overtime session produced the victory.

The first period went scoreless while the score at the end of the second period was tied 3-3.

Stephen Bishop Laid To Rest

Mr. Stephen Bishop of Merced, passed away at the age of 60 years, on March 8.

Mr. Bishop is survived by 2 sons and 4 daughters, Hector of Prince George, B.C. and Stephen of Allen Arms, B.C.; Mrs. Andrew Hellman of Vernon, B.C.; Mrs. Al Olen of Dawson Creek, B.C.; and Miss Dolly of Camrose, Alta. Mr. Bishop is also survived by 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, March 17 in the United Church in Edson at 12:00 p.m. Rev. C. Armstrong officiated.

Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery in the Field of Honor. Legion trial was read by Com. Bob MacIntyre, following which a service was held.

Floral tributes were received from:
Loving sons and daughters; Canadian Legion, Merced; U.M.W.A. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Cars are like people. When their launds are in good shape, they hum & to crank-humdrum. Most older cars have small rattles and squeaks that have nothing to do with the efficiency of the car's motor. But if you have any doubts as to the source of a new rattle, remember that an early trip to a service station can prevent costly repair bills later on.

is brewing.

A missing cylinder may mean a bad spark plug or ignition trouble; a heavy click-clicking usually indicates valve or tappet trouble; and grinding or growling usually means serious trouble in the transmission or rear axle. I hope this advice doesn't lead you to crank-humdrum. Most older cars have small rattles and squeaks that have nothing to do with the efficiency of the car's motor. But if you have any doubts as to the source of a new rattle, remember that an early trip to a service station can prevent costly repair bills later on.

Carrot Creek W.I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Carrot Creek W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Durston, on March 14. There was a good attendance which included two visitors. Members brought quilt patterns and after a lengthy discussion the two delegates, Mrs. W. Suter and Mrs. W. Suter, were appointed for the next meeting. Mrs. J. Keilbach, Constituency Convener will also attend. It was decided to take advantage of the offer of the Western Producer.

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMORE

It was a bad day for me when I read that news item about the Tasmanian state lottery. First prize is the chief hotel in Hobart, worth $50,000, plus $22,500 in cash. Since the story appeared I have chewed my nails down to the knuckles worrying about that 97 room hotel.

To begin with, the place is full of my friends, staying there free of charge. Of course I don't mean the friends I had before I had the hotel. There would be plenty of room for them, and still 90 or 95 rooms to spare. I mean my new friends, the ones who have learned overnight what a polished and fascinating person I am. Already the hotel is full of those bums and there is no room for the paying guests.

I'm also having trouble with the help. Everyone from the manager down to the page boy had tickets on the joint themselves, and they kept it cheating them out of it. I tried raising their pay, but that only made them more suspicious.

So you think it's an easy life for us hotel-owners, just sitting back and raking in $1,000 a week. That shows how little you know. Apart from the help and their wages, we have to worry about the high cost of supplies, fire insurance, slip extermintor and guests who slip down the fire escape and leave us a tin suitcase full of rocks. The income tax is keeping me poor. Every hour or so I have to find out a salarman who wants me to contribute to his favorite charity — himself.

Also, I'm having trouble with my partner. A friend and I went into this thing 50-50. Everything went smoothly for a couple of days, and then we disagreed over who was going to be president of the company.

I said I was willing to assume that heavy job and let him loaf along with the title of vice-president. He said no, he wouldn't think of piling all that work on me. He insisted on being president himself. Things went from bad to worse, until we're not speaking. We just stare morosely at one another as we count the day's receipts, and now and then one of us makes a grab for an extra five pound note which he thinks the other is trying to hold out.

I'm worrying myself ragged. Luckily for my partner and me, however, we haven't been able to buy a ticket so far.

the new town I guess they need a big machine like that. —Was in talking to Fred Hanson on Saturday afternoon and took a look at the map he has on the wall pinpointing the various outcrops north of the river that he is serving with fuel from here. There sure are a lot of fellows running around out there back of beyond. Quite a chore to keep them all fueled up. He was telling me that the Triad Oil Company are going to service that Lofton Brook rig that is drilling for them, by helicopter and are now building up a dump of aviation gas way up north. The gas is moving in from Hinton but the tanks it is being put into out there have been brought in over ice from Grande Prairie.

—Hear tell that there is a new ferry operating across the river down about way. It has been put into service to look after another outfit that is drilling oil (we all hope) wells.

—Stan Clark passing around cigars on the arrival of his new daughter the other morning. Hinton sure is a growing place. —Evelyn Lawson back after a trip to Vancouver says it was snowing there the morning she arrived. Sort of puts a lie to the rumor by hand, but see whether it's one kid to two dogs or two kids to one dog but sure lots of both so drive slowly please.

—Seen at the St. Patrick's dance, the tie that Pat O'Hara were growing smaller all the time as Mrs. O'Hara cut of pieces to decorate the rest of us.

—Saw Ray Fuller up on the hill congratulating Eric Potter on the crop of kids and dogs that are in the trailer camp. Not sure whether it's one kid to two dogs or two kids to one dog but sure lots of both so drive slowly please.

St. Patrick's At The Legion

The social evening at the Legion Hall turned out to be a grand affair. The ladies put on a very excellent lunch. Al Gravele's band played all the Irish songs that could be thought of.

Art Lawson acted as master of ceremonies and Art Dunn stayed on the floor all night. No one could be found to do a real Irish jig, but Irish songs were plentiful.

Hintonites Hold Shower For Fire Victims

The shower given by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion on Thursday, in aid of the Fowle family, was a real success.

Over sixty of our folks turned out with clothes, pots and pans, some cash and a few cheques to help out this family who were burned out a week ago. Hinton has earned a new slogan "The Little Hamlet with the big heart."

Mr. George Brown made the presentation of the donations, for which Mr. and Mrs. Fowle both concurred and splendid generosity to them in the time of need.

The ladies under the direction of Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Hanson thanked the folks there for their service a very tasty lunch.

Age old, yet ever-new, is the transcendent glory of Easter. And where else can you find its true meaning so beautifully expressed as in Church? Here, as you join with family and friends in song and prayer, you will experience anew in your heart the miracle of Easter, and return to your work-a-day world refreshed in spirit and strengthened in faith, hope and courage.

Curling Club Delegate Sees Council On Future Of Club

Following are the detailed minutes of the meeting of Edson Town Council held on Tuesday, March 20, of which we published the highlights in last week's issue. Present were Mayor Kankewitt and Councillors Korman, Mac Donald, Meale, Nigro and Tucker. Mr. John F. Switzer addressed Council on behalf of the Edson Curling Club outlining roughly the proposed plan of the club and asking for policy of Council as to the building and plans of Council in developing the skating rink extension and artificial ice. Mr. Switzer was requested to submit concrete plans and was assured of co-operation of Council. Application from Purdy Dairy, Mr. W. Bonafant, for renewal of Dairy License for year 1934 was read.

Application from Mr. Thomas W. Silk, of Carver Creek for license to sell milk and cream in the Town of Edson was read. It was moved that the application of Purdy Dairy be referred to the Board of Health with a request for inspection and report and that the application of Mr. Thomas W. Silk be referred to the Health Committee for report.

HOSPITALIZATION It was moved that By-Law No. 798, a by-law providing for the restriction of heavy traffic on the surface areas of Main (South) Street, be now read a first, second and third times and passed.

A letter from North Canadian J. Hendricks, 11411 E. Johnson, requested to acknowledge and file it.

Women Deserve Coffee Break

Whether they work in town or on a farm, housewives are just as much in need of a coffee break as are workers in offices or factories, a teacher and a journalist agree.

Employers have long recognized that morning and afternoon coffee breaks mean greater efficiency and happier workers they say. Equal consideration should be given to housewives, however, for long, arduous duties a housewife should have a ten-minute rest period in every hour. Dr. Frances G. Sanderson, head of the home economics department at Wayne University, Detroit, suggests. And at least two of these periods should be complete with coffee.

Joanne Strong, Toronto journalist, writing in the Globe and Mail, advocates a housewife's morning coffee club to put the limited time and roadway left in condition satisfactory to town. Letter from Western Water Works with regard to held back drilling No. 4 well was read and referred to the Utilities Committee.

HOUSEWIVES, Miss Strong believes, are never given proper recognition for the work they perform. Perhaps, she suggests, they would have a union of their own. At the very least they should be entitled to more time and afternoon coffee breaks and not have to apologize for taking them.

It was moved that the Secretary be directed to proceed with a survey of the business premises to ward the establishment of a business tax in the Town.

Discussion took place with regard to revision of the light rate structure and the Secretary was directed to proceed with reference material.

It was moved that the Secretary be directed to call for tenders for the supply of diesel fuel oil purple for the Town Power Plant.

ZONING

It was moved that By-Law No. 800, a by-law providing for the rezoning of various areas of the Town, the control of sites and buildings and issuance of permits be now read a first time.

It was moved that the Secretary be directed to proceed with the necessary advertising of By-Law No. 800 and that the date of hearing on the proposed zoning be held at the Town Hall on Wednesday, April 11, at 8:00 p.m.

It was moved that By-Law No. 801, repealing By-Law No. 724 and providing for the licensing, control and regulation of businesses, trades and professions within the Town of Edson, be read a first, second and third times and passed.

It was moved that the Public Health Committee be directed to report for the month of February be accepted.

CARBON COPY PROBLEM

By Irma Reitch

KAREN could feel her bright secretary's smile crack as Don entered the office. "Hello Karen," he greeted her casually. "As you can see, I'm back. Exit the dreamer. Enter the realist." Karen smiled. "It's a cigarette," Father says. "Father is making me a cigar, so much like his father's. Will you marry me now, Karen?"

"Yes," Karen whispered. Don slipped a ring on her finger, then handed her lightly. He turned on the ignition. "Never is waiting. Can't let a prospective client wait." Don's expression reminded Karen of his father. The way he had looked the day he served Mrs. Soren the foreclosure papers. "Don," she began. "I'm sorry, but I can't. The lights from an oncoming car brushed past them. In the glare Karen saw the pain in Don's eyes. "Let's go down to our beach," she said impulsively, reaching for Don's hands.

After a moment, Don turned off the ignition. The sound of the surf was a greeting of welcome. Karen felt sure, she smiled up at Don. "Remember how we used to come here to plan and dream?" "You can't buy anything with dreams," Don said shortly. "How would you like a little convertible for a wedding present, Karen?" Karen took a deep breath. "I don't want anything from you. You're not the man I married." "I know that now," Don said. "I know that now," Don said. "I know that now," Don said.

The lights were blooming again. Karen could feel her bright secretary's smile crack as Don entered the office.

Edith Simmons Showered By Glenwood Friends

Miss Edith Simmons, honoree of next month, was honored by 23 of her Glenwood friends on Wednesday evening of this week when they met at the home of Mrs. Doug Mackley to present her with gifts and best wishes on her coming married life.

The evening was spent playing bingo before the ladies presented Edith with a lovely trifle lamp, an adjustable ironing board and miscellaneous other gifts, for which they were thanked most graciously.

OORP Cancer Drive Commences

To open the annual campaign for funds for the cancer society, members of Edson Lodge of the Royal Purple will be conducting a one day drive Friday, April 13. Proceeds of a film, "Dakota Lil," which will be shown in the Theatre at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, April 15, will be given to the cancer fund as well.

SEE, IT'S EASY

Little Miss Wendy Mahon seems to be saying "It's so easy even a child can do it." Wendy is demonstrating her prowess on the potters wheel which she has picked up from accompanying her mother, Mrs. Laura Mahon, to the pot shop part of the Edson Craft Centre, where the ladies turn out the most amazing articles. In the second picture Wendy is concentrating on the work at hand and we'll bet she will come up with a very creditable bowl or something. She makes a very charming model for mother Laura's camera, too.

Fire Destroys Wadley Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wadley, some miles west of Edson, was destroyed by fire last Friday morning when flames caught in the kitchen and were too far advanced when discovered to be brought under control.

A guest at the writing desk in the living room was able to save his personal effects and a little value was saved from the home.

At time of going to Mrs. Wadley was making plans to bring a house down from the ranch.

Year Older

Mr. Wilfred Larose passed another milestone in his life last Saturday when he celebrated his birthday. As people do when they have reached a certain age and prefer to ignore such milestones as birthdays, Will had planned on going to bed early and was kept up for one reason or another till suddenly friends began dropping in for a well planned surprise party.

After this the Larose home became alive with singing and dancing and a wonderful time was had by all there.

Engineer Returns

Mr. Jo Leira arrived back in Edson on Wednesday after a holiday in Norway with his family. Mrs. Leira and small daughter accompanied him back to make their home here.

A beautiful Easter Day, symbol of spring time, were prominently displayed in the window of Switzer's Drug Store.

DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS
IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 15
INTENTION TO ENDEavour TO DEVELOPMENT SCHEME ORDER
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Minister of Municipal Affairs, in pursuance of the purposes of the TOWN & COUNTRY PLANNING ACT, 1925, the Council of IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 15, proposes to make an order in the nature of a by-law amending Order No. 63 which adopted the DEVELOPMENT SCHEME relating to the acquisition of land for the development of a townsite in the hamlet of HINTON, ALBERTA, in accordance with the provisions of the TOWN & COUNTRY PLANNING ACT, 1925.

PURPOSE OF THE AMENDMENT

This order, filed at the HINTON TOWN HALL, will enable the Council to purchase lands owned by THE DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS for $45.00 (forty-five dollars) per acre, which is the appraised value established by that department, instead of $30.00 (thirty dollars) per acre as before proposed in Schedule "A" of the Hinton Townsite Development Scheme.

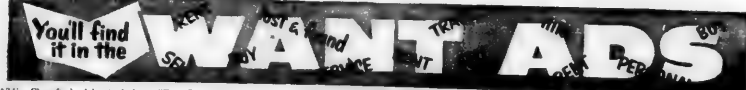

COPY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION

A copy of the proposed order, together with a map showing the lands referred to therein, will be deposited at room 10, NATURAL RESOURCES BUILDING, EDMONTON, ALBERTA, for public inspection on and after MARCH 21, 1934, at either of the places and at reasonable hours.

PUBLIC HEARING

At 2:00 p.m. on Thursday the 29th of April, 1934, the Council will cause a public hearing to be held in the ADMINISTRATION OFFICE, HINTON, at which any person may make objections or representations with regard to the proposed order.

DATED at Edmonton this 14th day of March, 1934.

Idle Talk On Secession

The farmers of the prairie provinces of the west are thinking about the advisability of seceding from confederation. That is what a member from Saskatchewan told the house of commons a short time ago, while the debate on financial aid to western farmers was in progress.

This childish thrust has been made in the past. It reminds us of a silly-young boy announcing he's going to run away from home.

The remark was a headline catcher, but it has no basis in fact. The people in the prairie provinces have no thought of breaking away from the Dominion, and they would be very foolish if they did. Furthermore there are no means whereby the west could secede.

It is true that the Prairie Provinces suffer under many handicaps. The worst one is the freight rate structure. The great pre-

Last Coal-Burner Leaves Wainwright

A long and old chapter of rail-reading was bought to a close at the local yards on Friday, March 9, when the last coal burning locomotive of the Western region left this divisional point to take up duties in the Hudson Bay area.

The engine was switch engine No. 2145, and it wended its way out of Wainwright to take up coal for some purposes and haul sand, the days when carted after carload of the black fuel used to pour from its spouts in waiting tenders is gone forever.

Gone also is the man-shilling and skill demanding job of firing the heavy engines as they thundered their way down the tracks.

This initiation into the engine crew fraternity used to be one of the storied features of railroading and offered a physical challenge to aspiring employees. When it was over, the crew would be awarded the most good and the ability to handle the shovel in the swing locomotive was gained.

The virtual elimination of coal as a railway fuel has had wider effects than to make firing almost a white-collar job. It has seen a big change in the coal mining situation of our province, and elsewhere where steam coal was mined.

Vastly fewer and almost mineworkers remain as a monument to an industry which priced itself out of a market which could scarcely be held against the inroads of petroleum at any price.

—Wainwright Star-Chronicle

ish or disappear without much warning.

These four western provinces also obtain substantial financial benefits from the federal government. Included are the old age pensions, baby bonuses, contributions to health, public works, highway construction, agricultural research, policing, parks, administration, and so on. About the time the Saskatchewan M. P. was uttering his threat the house of commons had passed an act providing $32 million for the payment of carrying charges on wheat in the control of the Wheat Board.

In our opinion Canada is one nation and will continue to be. The Fathers of Confederation laid the foundation and the widespread Dominion has been consolidated and built up through generations of trial and difficulties.

Now is not the time, even if it could be achieved, to tear the nation apart. Gradually the poorer provinces are coming for aid as their resources being developed. Ultimately industrialism will spread across Canada.

A vision of great future is rising before Canadians, from coast to coast. No small minds are willing to disturb that dream of greatness.—Brooks Bulletin (Alta.)

Miracle of Main Street

The "miracle of Main Street" in Ridgefield, Conn., was described recently by a University of Rhode Island professor.

Dr. Marvin Rife, writing in Recreation, published by the National Recreation Association, said citizens of Ridgefield mapped out a year-round leisure-time program for its residents of all ages. The town established a community center where a variety of activities for both adults and children are conducted.

"The volunteer efforts of citizens," he wrote, "have transformed the cold skeleton of an old building into a warm, friendly community center."

Dr. Rife was a member of the center's board of directors and program committee chairman for two years before joining the Rhode Island faculty.

Among the features of the center are a cafeteria for teenagers, open afternoons, weekend days

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir: I wish to publicly protest the action of Town of Edson officials in taking dogs from the Town limits to the hamlet of Marlboro. The situation would seem to be that on or about March 15th the Town Police gathered up what dogs they could find running loose on that day and drove to Marlboro where the dogs were forced out.

On that day I visited the Town Police and asked if they had picked up any dogs since mine was missing. They did not say that they had not picked up dogs, but rather asked me what kind of a dog I owned and, on being told, said they hadn't seen a dog of that description. During that week, of March 15, I spent considerable time in looking for my animal without success and also during that week I visited Town Police on two occasions again asking if they knew anything about the matter. On both occasions the answer was "No" and I believed this statement.

A few days ago I heard persistent rumors to the effect that dogs had been turned loose at Marlboro and on March 28th I drove to Marlboro where I found the dog running loose. In response to enquiries at Marlboro I was informed that the Edson Town Police car had been seen in the area and at the same time that the animals were let loose.

I have also been informed that the Town of Edson Police were seen picking up dogs in the Town on the above date. I again returned to Edson where I contacted the Chief of Police, the Police Constable, the Mayor and the Secretary-Treasurer of the Town of Edson. All of these gentlemen informed me, in answer to direct questions, that they did not take the animals to Marlboro and that they did not know who had done it. They did admit, however, that the animals did not wander that far from home and one of the gentlemen stated that I had got my dog back and that was the important thing.

I have reached a stalemate since the Town officials state that they were not connected with the action and would have me believe that it was an individual who took the animals away. I cannot accept this for there is no element of gain for an individual and the only other individual motive would be a sense of civic duty. This last alternative must be cast aside as patently ridiculous.

I contend that the action of the Town officials was wrong on two counts. First they have not the right to leave animals in an adjacent community, nor have they the right to loose the animals in the bush where they would run wild and be a menace to game. For this reason they have violated the Game Laws. Secondly, and most important, they have not the right to forcibly remove individual property without notice to the owner. They will, no doubt, point to the by-law requiring dogs to be on leash or penned but there are steps, such as notice to the owner or which should be given before the dog is summarily dismissed. The dog did not break the by-law. The owner did. And should the dog be sent to slow death by starvation or cold because of something he didn't do?

Somewhere along the line someone is going to say to me, "Didn't the Town advertise for a dogcatcher?" The answer is yes. After they had already removed the dogs. And they also stated that they were going to have a pound. All this indicates to me is that the Town officials know the proper method of dog control but decided to take a short cut. Perhaps the only mistake was in taking my dog.

Very Irate

Next Week For

This is only one of the four kinds of craft work that members of the Centre are able to take advantage of. A two week class in instruction in wood work was completed, last Sunday, under the direction of Mr. Max Strandy of 'Amrose.

A number of new members, both men and women, have fair knowledge of what goes on among young people in spring time, we'd be awfully surprised if there wasn't more than one.

Ryce would also like us to tell you people that the boys in the CN freight office are there six days a week, but that they DO eat between 12 and one at noontime.

Anyone who is really interested in taking the weaving course or belonging to any section of the Centre are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Donald Buck, who can give them whatever information they might require. New members to the Centre are always welcomed.

A black and white photograph of the Boston Hotel, a two-story building with large windows. A sign on the right side of the building reads "BOSTON HOTEL". A group of people is gathered in front of the entrance, and a person is standing near the entrance on the right.

Beth buildings, of course, suffered the fate of so many windfall.

Harry White Club Reports

On March 16th the Melrose Valley 4-H Grain Club held its regular meeting in the Peers School. Full attendance of the 13 members was recorded.

Harry White was chairman of the meeting. Mr. White, club leader, gave a report on a leaders meeting which had been held at the home of Mrs. Lambie recently.

The Leaders had drawn up a proposed trip to Jasper in J.V. for the four 4-H Clubs in the region. It was decided to go on three dances on April 27, May 25 and June 22 in Pella School in order to raise money for the proposed trip.

The next regular meeting will be held at Fulham on April 20. The District Agriculturist will be present at this meeting.

The meeting was brought to a close by a delicious lunch being served by the host and hostess.

9. Mrs. E. Trapp told us this week that she had purchased a letter from Mrs. George Sadusky in Winnipeg who reports that Mr. Sadusky is now feeling fine and will be returning to work with the CNR at Winnipeg following a brief illness.

Mr. Gadusky was formerly locomotive foreman in the Edson round house prior to being transferred to Winnipeg.

Well it's spring and so we must be thinking of the summer, and the tourist season and the people coming to Edson, as they will be coming, we hope.

Edson has our "hottish" look and that is a "Comfort Station" in some central spot down town. It's no fun to go anywhere for a day, especially with youngsters, if there isn't a place to go and relax. Chance the baby, etc.

Why haven't we got such a place here in Edson, its overdue, we should have had it years ago. Any good look books first to his guests comfort, that is if he wants him to come back again.

And we do want people to come and shop in our town, at least the business men should so they are the ones to organize, or ask and help one of our numerous organizations to build a "Comfort Station", and soon too. It's a fine way to extend a "Your Welcome to Come Back" to our neighbors.

Well we had one sure sign of spring today the kids want to know when the drives in will start.

Dr. Holt, our local Psychiatrist, spoke briefly to the Kineton, refor a birthday tea. Being guest was Mrs. Hans Affolter Sr. thoughtful guests they brought who was asked over to Mrs. H. all the ingredients for a delicious Yuletide home for tea and found lunch and spent an enjoyable twelve friends waiting to wish her "Happy Birthday." St. Regis Awards Forestry Fellowships To University Students

St. Regis Paper Company of Morgantown, West Virginia, Mr. Ware, a native of Webster Springs, Virginia, will receive his Bachelor of Science Degree in June and plans to continue his forestry education at Yale University in September.

Mr. Ware will use his grant to study Forestry Management with a minor emphasis on Industrial Forestry.

This is the fourth St. Regis Fellowship in Forestry to be awarded to degree holders planning to take graduate work at an accredited school of Forestry in the United States. Also for the fourth year, St. Regis offers five undergraduate scholarships in forestry.

The committee responsible for making the graduate awards was composed of Dr. R. E. McArdle, Chief of the United States Forest Service, Clare Hendee, Assistant Chief, United States Forest Service; William R. Adams, Vice President in charge of manufacture, St. Regis and Paul M. Dunn, Technical Director of Forestry at St. Regis Paper Company.

Mr. Ware was not only chosen on the basis of his excellent academic record but also because of his active participation in student activities at the University.

Three of the undergraduate scholarships made available by St. Regis and for which applicants may file up to September 1, 1956, are available in the south one each in the Northwest and Northeast.

The scholarships in the South are being provided, one each, at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, University of Florida and University of Georgia. Each amount to $800 a year for a period of two years, and will be awarded to an outstanding student in his junior year in forestry in the above schools. Similar scholarships are being offered promising juniors in forestry at the University of Maine, University of New Hampshire, University of Massachusetts or the New York State College of Forestry in the Northeast.

St. Regis will offer to each of the undergraduate scholarship winners employment during the intervening summer of some forestry project. Their continuance as recipients during the senior year will depend upon their records in the field as well as in school.

Hinton Hotel To Be Enlarged

Mike Danluck has been busy these days operating Hamp McNeill's big cat. He's clearing out a big hole just east of the hotel which will be the basement for the new addition to the hotel.

We heard some of the kids, who were watching him on Saturday, wondering if it was a swimming hole. We don't know for sure how big it is going to be, but by the size of the hole it will be a pretty impressive addition.

Letter To The Editor

Hinton—

Just a word from Seattle to let you know that I am enjoying the receipt of the Hinton Herald and I am enclosing my cheque in payment for a year's subscription.

From all past reports reaching us in Seattle, the new mill promises to be one of finest plants in the world—one with all the newest developments and under the fine technical direction of the St. Regis people.

Keep the pulp news flowing. Sincerely, Willard Erickson

The "Jasper Coal Company, Hinton, Alberta." This company sold out lock, stock and barrel and left Hinton about forty years ago.

It would be interesting if one could trace the travels of the cash register since it left here and to know how much money it had kept track of in that time.

Inspects Hinton's Growth

Even the wild life around here are getting curious about the bustle and bustle that is going on in the former hamlet of Hinton.

On Friday morning a large mouse came wandering in to town to inspect first the new and old schools and the school yard thence east to the trailer camp for a look around where he paid particular attention to the new, large, Hinton Herald sign outside the Brown residence.

After a look at the gravel pit (passed by Gilchuk's place and went on up the hill and back to the bush.

Peers H&S Organizing

A meeting was held in the Peers School recently for purposes of discussing the formation of a Home and School Association. Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. B. Kadellie acted as chairman and secretary.

Following the preliminaries, the chairman asked Mr. Finlay to outline the usual function and role played by such associations in Parent-Teacher relations. Mrs. MacPattison, Secretary of the Edson Home and School Association, also spoke to the gathering and gave them an idea of the activities and procedures that could be followed.

It was decided to postpone the election of officers until March 27th when another meeting will be held.

Toronto-Nash Motors of Canada today announces the introduction of the 1956 line of Double Safe, All-Welded Nash automobiles. Feature car of the line is the all-new, Safety-Styled Nash Rambler. Completely new from road to roof, this magnificent automobile is available in three stunning models—a four-door sedan, a four-door station wagon and for the first time from Nash, a four-door hardtop. Every all-new Nash Rambler features a King-Size interior, with more head, shoulder, hip and leg room than ever before. Another outstanding feature of the Rambler is the Fashion Safety Arch, a massive steel box section that arches up and over the rear seat, to provide the greatest overhead passenger protection ever offered in an automobile.

Nash Double-Safe All-Welded Construction

Unlike the old-fashioned method of simply bolting a chassis, frame and body together, as other makes, Nash gives you a car that is one, solid, welded steel unit. Double-Safe, All-Welded construction is recognized as the world's safest and strongest. Why don't they all use it? It's simply a matter of dollars and cents. When Nash had the foresight to switch, in 1940, it cost forty million dollars. Today it would involve a figure in the hundreds of millions of dollars! Because Nash has gone to the future, Nash can offer you the world's safest car construction.

STOP PRESS

They're here, now! The complete line of 1956 Nash cars. The luxurious Ambassador... the Statesman... and the ever-popular Metropolitan. See the world's safest travel cars, on display now at all Nash dealers, coast to coast.

Nanton Youth Sponsor Teen Conference

Ten years ago this year a Teen Club was formed in the Town of Nanton, Alberta. This club has grown, until this year it plans to hold the Tenth Annual Western Teen Conference. This four-day event will be held from April 1 to April 4. The host, 'Nash, Nanton, has obtained the help of many organizations of the town in putting on this event. It is expected that about 200 delegates from all over Alberta and some from the other Prairie Provinces and British Columbia will attend this function.

Of educational value to the students will be the lectures and discussion groups. These will be under the direction of the local high school principals, Mr. V. Foster, Mr. Ross Ellis, M.I.A., of High River, Alberta; Mr. Edson Coury of Calgary, Alberta; and Mr. Doug Henning of Lethbridge, Alberta. Mr. Coury was one of the founders of the Alberta Teen Council, the Provincial organization which promotes the conference.

Rea Patton has organized the entertainment for the four days. Highlights in his program are a barn dance, a hay ride and the queen's ball. Catering has been planned by Miss Maureen Larsen, while various groups in the town have offered help in putting on the three banquets and a barbeque.

The chairman of the conference, Bill Young of Nanton, has held organizational meetings every week and has kept things moving in such a way that a great deal will not be left to do in the last few days. Linda Thomas secretary of the conference, has been in charge of writing more than 600 letters which have gone to the participating towns.

Guest speakers at the conference are to be Mr. Jack Sturgis of Medicine Hat; Rev. C. D. throughout the Province will have information available for distribution to interested students.

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMORE

Letters of recommendation are not much use, because nobody believes them. Often as not they are written with tongue in cheek. People have learned to doubt such letters, just as they doubt the mileage on a used car.

A friend and I were discussing the kindly reluctance of letter-writers to tell the truth.

And I remembered how I had once carried a letter of introduction written entirely in Greek, and presented it to a number of Greek cafemen, without having any idea of the contents.

I was trying to sell subscriptions to a small and moribund newspaper which I was helping to publish. A Greek of my acquaintance wrote the letter for me. The cafemen's brows began to wrinkle when they read it. What was in that letter?

I grew inquisitive.

For all I knew, the letter might have contained some such remark as "Through this jerk out before he ruins out of your last dime."

So I had it translated. I'm sorry to spoil what might have been a good story, but the letter contained quite generous praise. (Don't ask me why the cafemen wrinkled their brows. Maybe they didn't understand Greek.)

When a man writes a letter of reference, the bearer should always be ignorant of its contents. If the letter is open for the subject to be read, the writer knows to hurt his feelings; so he pens a stream of pleasant sobbiology.

Even in the case of letters written behind the subject's back, a man hesitates to blast a character as a career.

My friend recalled some actual embassies of whom he had knowledge, and pointed out that their departure had been hurried up. He said, they got favorable letters of recommendation, giving them a license to cheat the next employer who was unlucky enough to hire them.

Here are some recommendations for various world figures, as they might have been written. To whom it may concern:

This to certify that our former employer Jack the Ripper was as a man as a keen and able worker. He has shown special aptitude in managing the sale of entertainment and refreshment. He is also experienced in handling Chicago plans. We went to much trouble to obtain his services, and we shall be sorry to lose him.

Yours Sincerely . . .

To all governors and heads of state:

We have employed Farouk as a king for several years, and we are able to report that during his term in our service he has set an example which has never been equalled before or since. In his job and also in private life, his conduct has been unique. Should you see fit to hire him, we will guarantee that his work will cause wide spread comment.

Gamel Nasser

To all chiefs of police:

This to certify that the bearer of this letter, Alphonse Capone, is well known to us as a keen and able executive. He has shown special aptitude in managing the sale of entertainment and refreshment. He is also experienced in handling Chicago plans. We went to much trouble to obtain his services, and we shall be sorry to lose him.

J. Edgar Hoover

To the commander-in-chief, British army in America:

This is to certify that Benedict Arnold was employed by us to bring 1775 to 1780 in a position of great trust. We can assure you that his sudden departure from our service caused us the deepest regret.

Panic in The Caucus

The Social Credit party has been accused of a lot of things, but never, we believe, of a lack of political sagacity.

Nothing short of a panic of unreasoning fear must have swept the government caucus to make the proposed changes in Alberta's Social Credit party.

Through the Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

There is nothing distinctively Christian about believing in immortality. Many religions throughout the world, amongst civilized and uncivilized people, have declared that the human body is the habitation of a spirit or soul which is capable of a separate life or existence. The body returns to the earth but the spirit continues life in another sphere. The Egyptians, the Hebrews and many others all believed in one way or another in the doctrine of immortality.

The familiar words "I am the resurrection and the life" are not meant as an assertion of immortality and nothing more. "Easter" is sometimes made the pretext for dissertations on man's immortal nature. The arguments for personal survival are varied and strong, but Easter declares something vastly greater.

The Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ are unique, but what we see in Jesus Christ, that here we celebrate the return to Christ in power, and able to give that power to others. It declares that because of what happened to Him something also can happen to us. "Easter" proclaims the possibility of new life for the individual; it also renews the offer of the life by which the Church is continually sustained. The Church was the result of the Resurrection.

For those who are bereaved, there is probably some comfort in the doctrine of immortality. But the Christian faith indicates that both for those who died and those who continue in earthly life must be inseparably related to the Death and Resurrection of Jesus. It is only if our life has a different meaning we can begin to grasp something because of the Resurrection that of the meaning of "I am the resurrection and the life." The resurrection is not simply something that happened to Christ.

Our profession is to "follow the example of our saviour Christ, that as He died and rose again for us, so should we, (who are baptized) die to sin and rise again to righteousness, continually putting to death all our corrupt affections, and daily advancing in all virtue and godly living."

The services of Holy Saturday commemorate the restoration of the very Light of the World—our own renewal of our Baptismal vows and the welcoming of and welcoming of new Members into Christ.

Then Sunday in company with the whole Church we keep the Sacrament commanded by Christ and share the wonderful experience of the disciples of Emmaus—"He was made known to them in the breaking of the bread." Alleluia.

OVER THE Pastors Desk

REV. L. B. MALLIWEAL

This is the week that countless thousands of people of all colors and creeds will celebrate the season of Easter. At this time of the season we put on the colors of spring and all the finery that our money can buy that is pleasant to look at and surely the season calls for it. We start our spring cleaning and all effort is extended to make everything look as if the breath of spring had touched it.

This time of the year is for joy and happiness. In all the spring preparation too often we forget that Easter is more than a holiday from school, it is something that is possible for us because of what God has done in giving victory over sin and death. "The power of God's love remains outside our lives until we consciously respond to what we see in Jesus Christ. Only then can the dynamic of the new life begin to work in us and through us. Easter declares that we can enter into a new kind of life, which because it is life lived in and for God, cannot be overthrown."

Safety Council Sponsor Essay Competition

More than 30,000 rural school children in Alberta, in grades five, six, seven and eight, are expected to compete in the annual farm safety essay competition sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council. The theme is "Gun Safety" or "Never trifle with a rifle."

Preparations for the competition are now in progress. Hundreds of large posters outlining the rules and closing dates of the contest are being mailed to all parts of the province.

Hon. R. D. Jorgensen, minister of public welfare, is chairman of the safety essay committee of the Alberta Safety Council. He is sending a letter to the superintendents of 65 school divisions, seeking their co-operation and advising of the forwarding of the contest posters and competition rules.

In addition to the chairman, the committee is composed of DAVIDS—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daniels, of Edson, on March 27, a daughter.

Hon. A. O. Ashbury, Minister of Education, Mrs. Mabel Berts, of Edmonton, secretary, W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of the schools, and H. C. Sweet, assistant chief superintendent, Rudolph Henning, President of the Alberta School Trustees Association and A. G. Andrews, secretary, G. F. Bruce, director of the correspondence school branch, Charles Kimmonds, past president of the Edmonton Safety Council, Prof. H. T. Stephenson of the University, Howard Stutchbury, Managing Director of the Safety Council, and Paul Lawrence, Safety Director for the A.S.C.

During 1935, there were eight accidental deaths on farms in Alberta caused by firearms. The accidental discharge of guns around the home takes more lives than hunting accidents. Thus, the competition has been launched to promote gun safety in this province.

The essay contest closes in the schools on April 20. Teachers are to send to the superintendent up to two of the best essays written by pupils in grades five and six and as many as two for grades seven and eight by April 20. Superintendents are to send the best eight essays, four from each group, to the Alberta Safety Council by May 11. Final judging is to be completed in Edmonton by May 18.

Prizes for division, county or correspondence school winners will be mailed by May 25.

The three provincial awards will be presented by Hon. J. J. Bowden, Lieutenant-governor, at a luncheon in the Macdonald Hotel, Edmonton, on June 4.

The prizes will be a specially designed lapel pin for the boy or girl writing the best essay in the school division, county or correspondence school. For the school room there will be a hand-lettered plaque.

In addition to the school division prizes, there will be three provincial awards for the best essays in the province. The first prize is $50, second prize $25 and third prize $25. Also there will be an all-expense trip to Edson for the winner, day for the above provincial winners and their teachers.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Ives
Women's Travel Authority

Even seasoned travellers like myself sometimes lose their sense of direction in unfamiliar territory and don't know whether to turn right or left.

I find my car compass, attached to the dashboard, has saved me mileage and time. However, there is a boy-scout trick for determining North and South without a compass that I think is worth repeating. All you need is a watch and a matchstick.

Hold the watch flat, face upward. Hold the match upright at the edge of the watch, at the spot the hour hand points to. Now turn the watch until the shadow of the match falls along the hour hand.

If it is morning, South will be half-way between the hour hand and twelve o'clock reading clockwise. If it is afternoon, South will be half-way between the hour hand and twelve o'clock reading counter-clockwise. And at noon, South will be right where the hour hand points.

Try it!

Dennis McNaughton Wins Provincial Boxing Title

Dennis McNaughton, Edson's 15-year-old 50 pound boy with the padded gloves, boxed his way to the provincial championship in his weight and class at Cardston on Wednesday night.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNaughton, pioneer Edson family, and has worked his way through the eliminations at Barrhead and Strathmore Branch of the Legion in Edmonton for the Northern Alberta eliminations until his provincial triumph on points at Cardston this week.

Under the professional guidance of Mr. Leo Dunphy, the local golden gloves club have been performing a fine job of teaching the many art of scientific boxing and Dennis is the best product on the scene in his weight and age group.

Under the sponsorship of the Edson Athletic Association and other interested citizens, the Edson boys have been given trips to Barrhead and Edmonton for the golden gloves eliminations.

Local Police Quickly Nab Grab Thief

A man identified as William Kennedy, broke into the desk of the bus line agency operated by Mr. Bert Bell in the Edson Hotel lobby on Wednesday afternoon about ten minutes to five.

Grabbing $125.00 he bolted from the hotel and dashed over into the CNR yards and disappeared.

Chief Constable J. MacDonald, of Edson Police Department was called and a search of the railway yards revealed the thief who was captured after a foot race among the box cars.

The suspect was put in the police car, but before arriving at the police station he managed to burn the money.

Thursday (today) he appeared before Magistrate J. Thomson and was sentenced to six months at Fort Saskatchewan.

TEEN QUEEN

BETTY THOMPSON

Bingo Jackpot Now $115.00

Good news for Edson and district bingo fans is the large sum of the jackpot at the regular Saturday night bingos in the Legion Memorial Centre.

The bingos have been enjoying their usual good crowds and now with the jackpot at $115 this week more interest than usual is being shown.

Domestic light rates are to be cut to 4 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour for May consumption of electricity. Edson Town Council decided Tuesday evening. Power and commercial users are to get the benefit of cheaper rates down to 3 1/2 cents.

The new rates compare with the old as follows:

DOMESTIC		Old Rate	New Rate
First 10 kwh	14c
Next 15 kwh	11c
First 75 kwh			10c
Over 75 kwh	6c		4 1/2c
Minimum rate	$1.25		2.25
COMMERCIAL		Old Rate	New Rate
First 100 kwh	10c		10c
Next 100 kwh	8c		6c
Over 500 kwh	5c		3 1/2c
Minimum	1.25		2.25
POWER		Old Rate	New Rate
Flat rate	6c		5 1/2c
Minimum	1.25		2.25

Council estimates that there will be a net drop in revenue of $15,543.93 from this reduction in the rates on a basis of last year's power consumption.

Domestic revenue will be down $4,805.00; commercial light revenue will be down $4,805.00; power revenue will drop $7,932.00; while the bookkeeping entry for Town Power will show a drop of $1,000.00 from that source.

The minimum of $3.00 on out-of-town accounts will be maintained. It was felt by Council that this contract rate should stand as the cost of running lines to outlying communities has not yet been amortized.

The new rate will apply for the month of May consumption and the first meter reading to show the reduction will be that done in June.

Council also considered the application of the Alberta Government to be used for warehouse space in the rear. The provincial company plan to demolish the present building when the new structure is completion of a building 90 x 100 feet to house new equipment and to be used for warehouse space in the rear.

Seven Points To Increased Gasoline Mileage

Tommy Thomas, 48 year old automotive engineer from Los Angeles, California, winner of the 1955 Mobilgas Economy Run, offers a list of seven points by which motorists can increase gas mileage in their automobiles.

Driving an American Motors Rambler automobile equipped with hydraulic, Mr. Thomas obtained 29.25 actual miles per imperial gallon on the gruelling 1469-mile run from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs this month.

Nash and Hudson Rambler automobiles, like the one that won the economy run, are manufactured by American Motors (Canada) Limited in Toronto. As a guide for economy Mr. Thomas advocates:

1. Engine tuned to top efficiency.

2. Drive at a steady pace of 50 - 60 miles per hour for reasonably fast travel and good fuel economy.

3. Avoid quick starts and stops.

4. Watch stoplights and adjust speed to avoid hitting red lights.

5. Avoid long periods of waiting with engine idling.

6. Use specified lubricants, as heavier oils increase friction.

7. Shift quickly into second and third for fullest possible use of gasoline-saving, high-gear driving.

—Utilities Foreman Ron Boone saying that he had regretfully decided to leave the Town's service and accept a position as electrical inspector with the Provincial Government.

—Three people queued up to use Edson's first telephone bank in front of Maxwell's Electric, where you now go to pay your telephone bills to Mrs. Myrl Unger.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. Amundsen enjoyed a visit from daughter Lilian at the weekend.

The Bill Tuttle family spent the weekend visiting friends in Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLean visited at the LaRose home last week. Alfred LaRose returned with his aunt and uncle to spend the Easter week visiting with relations in Edmonton.

10 DAYS between PROFIT and LOSS

Ten days ago the grain stood straight and promising in the fields. Then the temperature dropped... and the crop bowed to its greatest enemy—frost.

Cuts Welcome

That the Town Council have seen fit to effect a substantial cut in the domestic light rate will be welcomed by all who live in Edson. The 4 1/2 cent rate for domestic light is trimming the selling price pretty close to what it costs to produce power from a diesel plant.

Users of commercial power will, of course, appreciate the reduction in the commercial light rate and the half cent reduction in the power rate, but being human, they will wish it in line with the lower domestic rate. Especially in view of a business tax being contemplated.

The finance and utilities committees of the Council studied the possible effects of the reduction, both from a loss of revenue point of view, and from the view of benefiting the most residents and decided in favor of the substantial domestic reduction.

The fact that a committee of the Council are to meet with representatives of the Calgary Power Company in the city this week to discuss the purchase of bulk power is interesting as well, because the Council will then be able to hold out the hope of even further reductions in the immediate future.

The temper of the citizens is that they will not put up with high power rates any longer than is absolutely necessary in this age of electrical wonders. And Council are right in effecting any relief they can.

Cancer Drive Coming

As usual at this time of year the local committee who feel strongly about necessary help provided by the Cancer Society in this province and across the Dominion are laying plans to collect Edson's share for this worthy charity.

Response has been good in the past and they are safe in presuming that Edsonites will respond with their usual generosity.

Cancer—mankind's greatest unsolved medical mystery—plays terrible havoc with Canada's workers each year. According to figures released by the Canadian Cancer Society, the annual loss from this disease through deaths from cancer is more than 55,000 man years.

There is no way of telling the loss due to time off for treatment and it is also impossible to estimate the millions of dollars lost in income and the suffering and hardships caused to families stricken by the disease.

The most tragic part of the story, however, is that many of these lives could have been saved if the persons involved had recognized the early symptoms of cancer and reported to their doctor for proper diagnosis and treatment.

The message of the Society's educational program is simple—know the cancer symptoms (listed as seven danger signals) and report immediately to your doctor when you suspect the presence of one of them. If it isn't cancer you have lost nothing but a few hours of your time. . . . If it is, your chances of complete cure are very good.

CAPITAL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN HATLEN

Edmonton—The second session of the 19th Alberta legislature was officially prorogued last week by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowden, leader of the opposition, who gave royal assent to 78 bills.

The traditional shower of paper thrown by members of the Press Gallery saw M.L.A.'s home from a session which was one of the toughest in years from the standpoint of long working hours. It opened Feb. 9 and lasted 34 days, along with a record 14 night sittings.

Among the highlights of the session were the new Election Act, which abolishes the preferential voting system and replaces it with the "X" system, and a tighter restriction on imposing over private land.

On top of that, the house approved a $28,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year and repealed one tax—the increased income tax which has netted the province around $1,300,000 annually.

The session just ended also launched what may be a major review of the province's liquor laws. An eight-member, all-party committee was appointed to investigate the Liquor Act and recommend amendments at the next regular session.

It was one of the most significant sessions in years from the standpoint of municipal government in Alberta. The government took the first steps toward a full-scale review of provincial municipal financial arrangements.

Don't be surprised if the financial review results in new laws being imposed. From outward appearances, the government is laying the groundwork for the day when revenue from oil and gas won't be so big. Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hennes has indicated that revenue sources such as a sales tax and poll tax may be considered as possible sources of revenue.

Meetings between government and municipal officials started last week, and will continue during the coming year. The government hopes to wash its hands of the unwieldy municipal grant program by next year.

The new Election Act was by far the most controversial issue of the session. Members debated for more than 14 hours, and despite a determined effort by the opposition to have the preferential voting system retained, the government's bill yielded on any major point.

The government argued that the preferential system is too complicated for the average voter to understand and results in too many spoiled ballots.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

A farmer was driving past the house with a truck load of fertilizer. An inmate called out: "Hey! What are you hauling there?" "Fertilizer," the farmer called back. "What are you going to do with it?" "Put it on my strawberries," the inmate turned around to his room-mate and said: "Huh! We put cream and sugar on ours, and they call us crazy."

Nine year old Ruthy was often permitted to "mind" her parents' bakery while they were busy in back of the shop. One day a pleasant old lady came in while the little girl was in charge.

Old Lady: "Don't you sometimes feel tempted to eat one of the cream puffs, dear?" Little Girl: "Of course not. That would be stealing! I only lick them."

A hard-driving taxi driver ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policeman's knees, missed the light, and a hair, and grazed a bus, all in one day.

The policeman halted him, then strode over to the taxi, pulling a big handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Police man — Listen, cowboy! On the way back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with yer teeth."

Should have the effect of encouraging more drivers to provide themselves with public liability and property damage coverage.

From an observer's standpoint, it was interesting to watch the Social Credit's reaction to the larger opposition, which grew from 10 to 24 members in the June election.

The government and its supporters paid more attention to criticism and suggestions from the opposition side, and made a few more concessions than they have in recent years.

Former Premier's government weathered only one non-confidence motion during the session.

In it, he criticized the government for its policies on education, qualifications and teacher qualifications had been allowed to slip. The government and its supporters deflected the motion easily.

Another important point of legislation will permit local police officers on the foundation of a complaint to issue a warrant and before a local court can introduce evidence into public driving under suspension.

Christ is your hope of Glory.
Cal 127.

Religion is not the simple fire escape that you build in anticipation of a possible danger, upon the outside of your dwelling and leave there until danger comes. You go to it some morning when a fire breaks out in your house and the poor old thing that you built up there and thought that you could use someday, is no rusty and broken, and the weather has as beaten upon it and the sun so turned its hinges that it will not work.

That is the condition of a man who has built himself what seems a creed of faith, a trust in God in anticipation of the day when danger is to overtake him, and has said to himself, I am safe, for I will take refuge in it.

Through The Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG
The Home and School Association were considering the very real problem of securing sufficient qualified teachers to meet the needs of an over-expanding school population. It is a problem that both urgent and vital.

One of the means of focusing attention upon some of the aspects of the problem, a question was prepared. Assuming that parents had the possibility of choosing for their children what school they like them to go to, and what would be the reasons—safety, working conditions, prestige and the like. A list of a dozen or so occupations were listed.

It has been noted that a foul even for our children, what their parents should be. In the good old days children very often were trained by their parents, with a view to succeeding in the family business. A period of apprenticeship was the established pattern. Now, however, the opportunities for employment are much more varied, and yet so little attention is given to this matter. Hockey players, movie stars and football players have the highest prestige rating, and command very high salaries. Teachers fall below this in both categories and preachers too for that matter.

Why not institute a regular course of instruction in school, designed to give information about the relative value of different kinds of work a person can do. Socially useful work, injurious as it may be, should be able to make some claims. High wages may be the reward of meritorious service, or may be simply the result of treasures swollen by ill-gotten gains. How can one make an intelligent choice of a life work without intelligent efforts to prepare people to make the necessary choices.

TOWN OF EDSON NOTICE

Hospitalization Plan

The Town of Edson has entered into an agreement with St. John's Hospital under the provisions of Section 308 of the Town & Village Act EFFECTIVE MAY 1, 1954.

(1) For the care and treatment of a person liable to pay taxes in respect of real property in the town including the spouse, dependent family and domestic female help of such person, the surviving spouse, dependent family, and domestic female help of such person after his death, so long as the estate is liable to pay taxes in respect of real property in the town, including the spouse and dependent family of such person.

(2) For the admission and care and treatment of any of the persons mentioned above as an emergency admission or medical referred admission in an approved hospital, other than the approved hospital with which the town has entered into a hospitalization agreement pursuant to The Hospitalization and Treatment Services Act.

For the purpose of a hospital agreement entered into under the provisions of this section, where there is an owner or owners and interest therein, the only person or persons entitled to the benefits of the agreement by reason of being liable to pay taxes in respect of such real property, shall be the purchaser or purchasers, of any, entitled to the possession of the property, or of any share or interest therein, or

(3) shall be the owner or owners thereof, if there is no such purchaser or purchasers.

Where the assessment and tax roll shows that any real property has been assessed in the name of a person who was the owner or purchaser of the property and that his name has been struck off and replaced on the roll by the name of another person who subsequently became the owner or purchaser of the property.

(4) in the person whose name has been struck off the roll shall be deemed not to be the person liable to pay taxes under subclause (1) in respect of that property from the date his name is entered on the roll to replace the name of the previous owner or purchaser.

whether or not the taxes on the property have then been paid.

TO RATEPAYERS—It is important that you confirm your previous payment of the above legislation by giving proof to the Secretary-Treasurer of your interests in property as set out above.

TO RESIDENT NON-RATEPAYERS—Contracts are available at a cost of $100.00 per annum, service becoming effective sixty days from date of contract.

For the information of those covered by this hospitalization scheme, the net payment required to be made by the patient for standard ward care and special services will be $1.00 per day at St. John's Hospital, and approximately $3.00 for a referable patient to an A class hospital.

Dobing Boys Get Together With Father

The three sons of Mr. AM Dobing, presently in trial, were taken to the hospital in Edmonton last week to help their father celebrate his 60th birthday.

Some 100 from Edson and Chief Petty Officer Sud of the R.C.N., joined brother Fred at the father's home in the city to celebrate their father's birthday as a family gathering.

Mr. Dobing, who was allowed out of hospital for the occasion, actually observes April 10 as his birth date, but CPO Sud happened to be enroute from the West to the East Coast and the three brothers took advantage of his passing through to get together.

Better Plumbing, Heating and Electrical Ltd., applied to the Town for approval of a business license at this season as well as for approval of the new firm will be Messrs R. K. Mahon, Seward Peterson and Gus Stelter.

Tenders for the oil supply for the Town power plant were also opened with tender of McColl, Frontenac Oil Co being lowest at 15.5 cents per gallon and Imperial Oil being next at 15.8 cents per gallon. Council favored the idea of obtaining their supply alternately from both companies at the low tender of 15.5 cents.

Council also decided to advertise the conditions under which the hospitalization agreement between the Town of Edson and St. John's Hospital affects rate-payers and non-rate-payers. The advertisement is carried on page 3 of this issue of The Leader.

81 Not Too Old For Politics Says Jay Dee

"Being 81 isn't too old to run for nomination," Mr. J. D. Skinner told The Leader, in an interview this week, "If you combine the vigor of 40 with the accumulated wisdom of 81 years experience as a lifelong Liberal, you have a wonderful combination."

"I very definitely have my hat in the ring for the Liberal nomination at the coming convention for the Jasper-Edson constituency," said Jay Dee (as he is known to his hundred of friends).

Mr. Skinner very definitely believes the man to win the nomination for the Liberal party in the Federal riding will carry the seat and says that he is working to see that an open convention nominates the very best possible man for the job.

"The Jasper-Edson constituency came into being in the redistribution prior to the 1965 election and the Liberal candidate has won only one out of the five elections, while the Liberal Government has been returned in all five," said the vigorous octogenarian.

"Unless a thorough diagnosis is made and the cause determined, a score of five losses out of six after the next election is almost a certainty," said J. D. Skinner.

J. D. SKINNER

Mr. Skinner thinks the method of nominating "regardless of qualification under the guise of a nomination in the true democratic fashion, although the nomination had already been assured by pledged delegates" is the chief block to getting the best qualified man to bear the Liberal banner.

"The remedy," he said, "is a convention open to all Liberals in the constituency with voting power in all matters except the actual nominating of a candidate, in which credentials would be given Alberta.

on the basis of proportional representation."

Mr. Skinner also explained his idea of why the low candidate should not be dropped from the ballot on the early votes. "All nominees should remain on the ballot until one received a majority of the total votes cast, providing a person may at any time withdraw of his own volition."

"The reason the low man should stay on the ballot," said Mr. Skinner, "is to ensure that after the pledged delegates had voted several times for their man, they would only then begin to vote for the best man."

"If Liberals refrain, and they should refrain," says Mr. Skinner, "from pledging their conventional support to any individual until after hearing all prospective candidates, to make qualification the deciding factor, then the convention would have made a positive move to merit the goodwill of voters irrespective of political affiliation, who want Jasper-Edson represented worthily and efficiently."

Mr. Amy Ringstad returned to her teaching duties this week after spending the Easter holidays with her parents at Clyde, Alberta.

WATCH EDSON GROW

Although the Edson district is pretty well known to the rest of the country for various things, we have an important crop that is never mentioned and yet seems to be growing bigger all the time.

You guessed it—BABIES. We heard there had been an unusually large number of healthy wee babies born in St. John's Hospital since January 1st, as we checked and found that in the 183 days since the beginning of 1956 there had been 75 new little arrivals.

While this isn't a record for that length of time the 26 newborn Edsonites during the month of March looks to us as though it must be a record of some sort.

The Leader marks its third full year of publication this year, and we go into our fourth year with renewed confidence that our town and district are really going great guns.

The record building year in town last year shows every promise of being nearly as big, if not bigger this year, and the population is straining living accommodation at the same as it has every year since the war, in spite of about 40 homes being built here annually.

Since January there have been just over 70 babies brought into the world at St. John's Hospital—26 in the month of March alone—which indicates confidence by our young marrieds in the future.

It is the intention of The Leader to expand our newspaper services along with our district's expansion. We have been receiving an increasing patronage from our advertisers and our subscription list has grown and we intend to plow the results back into a better newspaper.

A Municipal Golf Course

One of our ardent local golfers asked us if we would broach the subject of a municipally owned golf course in our columns this week as the sun has given us hope that summer is not far behind.

It will be recalled that a committee was formed last year for the purpose of developing private property for a minimum course and considerable work has been done on the grounds with a potential club house being moved onto the property.

However there are one or two serious objections being voiced about improving private property and it has been suggested that it would be much more satisfactory to develop municipally owned land which would be controlled by the whole community.

In this age when spectator sports are being increasingly supplanted by participation sports, golf has become a game that attracts the whole family. It is a sport that can be entered into with a modest outlay by young people and is a healthy form of outdoor recreation.

Whether more would be involved than just the use of town owned land, local enthusiasts are not sure at the present time, but in any event the experience of other municipally owned golf courses has shown that after a few years they become better than self-supporting and are therefore not a burden on the non-golfing taxpayer.

Opinions in the form of letters to the editor arrived.

Success

Success is in the way you walk the path of life each day; it is in the little things you do and in the things you say.

Success is not in getting rich or rising high to fame; it is not alone in winning goals which all men hope to claim.

Success is being big of heart and clean and broad of mind; it's being faithful to your friends and, to the stranger, kind.

It's in the children whom you love and all they learn from you. Success depends on character and everything you do.

Two golfers following their golf balls over a small hill were surprised to come upon a little old lady sitting in the centre of the course. "Mother," one of them gaily inquired, "Don't you know it's dangerous to be sitting here?"

"Oh, it's all right," she assured him. "I'm sitting on a newspaper."

"No, by threatening me with a divorce, if I don't quit drinking."

"Do you mean to say this physical wreck tried to grab your purse from your hand?" asked the policeman.

"But he wasn't a physical wreck until he grabbed my purse," replied the woman.

A Kentucky colonel went into a bar in Chicago and said: "Give me a Louisville Fizz."

A Louisville Fizz? How do you make that?" asked the bartender.

"Why, sah, it's 32 parts gin and one part soda," replied the colonel.

"Shall I squeeze a bit of lemon peel into it," asked the bartender.

"If I want lemonade, I'll ask for it!"

current made a "good deal."

Tag Ends—Alberta's new law covering automobile insurance goes into effect next October 1st. Under the new scheme, motorists carrying adequate financial liability and property damage insurance will be given "financial responsibility cards."

Any driver in an accident which causes bodily injury or damage of more than $100 will be asked to show proof of financial responsibility. If he can not produce it, his car is impounded.

The auto insurance bill was passed at the session of the legislature just ended. The new regulations are similar to those which have been in effect for several years in British Columbia and Manitoba.

The last feature of the program is that it is not compulsory until you're involved in an accident. Officials feel it will be a powerful encouragement for more motorists to provide themselves with protection.

Alberta's legislative committee appointed to study the liquor laws met in Edmonton last week with George A. Clash, liquor board chairman, and board members H. W. J. Maddison and D. B. MacMillan. The purpose of the committee is to familiarize themselves with the existing liquor laws.

The committee expects to hold a series of informal meetings prior to the opening of public hearings about mid-June.

Edgar H. Gerhart, Social Credit Minister for Edmonton, is the chairman. Other members are: J. Percy Page, Conservative M.L.A. for Edmonton; R. E. Hall, Liberal member for Athabasca; Nick W. Dushinski, C.P.P. member for Willmington, and Social Crediters Harry Simon, Kenneth Chester, Seymour, Cameron, Kenneth Lauphin, Grande Prairie; and with Hon. A. O. Ashburn, Minister of Education.

After cooking fish, heat a little vinegar in a saucepan to spread the air of any unpleasant smell odor. If boiled onions or cabbage are featured dinner fare, add a small electric fan set to a partially opened window to dissipate odors. After handling onions, rub hands with some lemon juice salt or vinegar, then wash.

Here's a hearty mixture for "burger" buns. Sauté chopped peppers, onion and celery. Add beaten eggs to the mixture and when the eggs are at the soft cooked stage, stir in a can of deviled ham. Pile the hot mixture on split buns and toast for a few minutes. Serve hot.

District Couple Wed In City In Afternoon

A wedding of interest to Coalspur and Edson took place in MacRae United Church in Edmonston at 3:30 p.m., April 2, when Ellen Florence Magz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Magz of Coalspur was united in marriage to Robert Allan Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fowler of Edson.

The bride looked lovely in a grey dressmaker suit with pink accessories and corage of red roses. She was attended by Mrs. Irene Boeck, sister of the groom. Joe Boeck attended the groom.

Also present at the wedding were the groom's brother and sister, Norman and Kathy Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Magz.

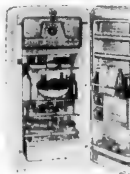

The young couple left on a short trip to Vancouver and Manville where both of them will be working.

The bride and groom have returned to Edson.

Some Help Some Don't

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wadley wish to have us express their thanks to the friends who helped out so well following the fire which destroyed their home on the Coal Branch road junction.

Others were not so helpful, Mr. Wadley tells, in that they stopped so low as to place the few cans of food that were salvaged out of the kitchen and had been piled temporarily in the yard by the burned home.

4-H CLUB NEWS

4-H GARDEN CLUB Reporter - GERRY RADCLIFFE The Garden Club meeting was held at Miss Helen Zabie's.

It was decided that we have an amateur hour on April 22 at Peers Rainbow Hall. There were ten members present. Phyllis Seibel gave a talk on hints on garden seeds. Lunch was served by hostess, Miss Zabie.

2nd Meeting The 4-H Garden Club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Radcliffe. Due to road conditions it was impossible to go to Lussac. A general discussion was held and final arrangements for the amateur hour made.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Radcliffe.

PEERS 4-H FOOD CLUB Despite the snowy weather and bi-monthly cash bingo sponsored had roads, Peers 4-H Food Club sponsored a very successful Silver Tea and Bake Sale on Wednesday afternoon in the Rainbow Hall, Peers. Guests were present from Carrot Creek, Rosevear, McLeod Valley as well as all the local ladies.

A special feature of the tea was the serving to each guest of a piece of Queen Elizabeth Cake. Her own special recipe that she sent to Canada to be sold as a means of raising money for all worthwhile groups. These recipes were sold by the 4-H girls during the afternoon.

The Peers 4-H Food Club would like to take this opportunity of thanking all their kind friends who braved the elements to make this tea such a success. We thank you all.

The regular Saturday night bi-monthly cash bingo sponsored by the Peers 4-H Food Club was held on April 12.

Local Workers Joining Hard Hat Turtle Club

Hinton—

A couple of members of the world's most exclusive club have been seen around town lately. Paradoxically, although the members of this international organization—the Turtle Club—became eligible to join against their will, they would rather be members of the Turtle Club than of any other club in the world.

A society of lumberjacks, miners, steel workers, all drillers and labourers they have one thing in common—their lives were saved because they were wearing a safety hard hat at the time of the accident.

C. R. Rustmeyer, a safety director for a lumber company in the big timber decided he had seen too many heads being split open because some men refused to wear safety helmets, and organized the Turtle Club in an effort to popularize the "in hat."

He named the club after the first exponent of the safety helmet—the turtle, that prehistoric reptile who, because of his hard helmet, is still alive today. Rustmeyer's first member, showed up after a limb of a tree fell two hundred feet onto the man's head. Since then memberships have been coming in all over the world.

The president, E. W. Bullard, a hard hat manufacturer, lately admitted into the fold the 17,000th member, Bernard Swartz of Wabeno, Wisconsin. Swartz is at the foot of long lines of men whose skulls have steamed hurtling tree tops, flying steel bolts, swinging crane booms and various other media of misfortune.

Upon becoming a member of the club, each man receives a silver turtle pin to wear in his lapel; a large, framed membership certificate and a new fiberglass helmet with a turtle and the words "Member, Turtle Club" painted on the front.

Exclusive as the club is, no one comes bawling on Bullard's door in an attempt to gain membership. However, after being hit on the head with a power shovel, as was Elanston of Hinton Texas, "it's kind of nice to be able to tell people that you are a member of the Turtle Club instead of trying to explain to a bunch of angles why you weren't wearing your safety hat at the time you were hit."

Ben Miers Heads Legion Executive

Hinton—

At the annual election of officers which took place last Sunday, the Hinton Branch of the Canadian Legion elected Ben Miers to head the branch during the coming year.

Mr. Miers will be assisted by Vic Worobets and Allen Grever as vice-presidents and a large executive has been elected to put over the many problems which will come up.

President Miers promises that the club will have lots to do and that they will continue to take an active part in the life of the community.

Competition is not only the life of trade but it also gives it vitality.

Hinton School Population Growing Every Day

Hinton—

When school took in again after the Easter holidays there were 25 new students enrolled. This is an indication of the way the population and the school population of Hinton is growing.

Principal L. Critch reports that the 25 new-comers brings the number of students to 197 that are now attending the Hinton school. A year ago there were sixty.

A year ago the teaching staff numbered four. This has now been increased to six. The last group of students—those enrolling after Easter—are attending classes in the Legion Hall.

Mr. Critch is to be congratulated on the way he has organized the classes and met the problem of providing these children with an education despite the lack of room and facilities.

GLENWOOD COMMUNITY CLUB MAKE DRAW

Representative members of Glenwood Community Club gathered in Louie's Glenwood Store last Thursday evening to witness the draw for the club's latest raffle.

Winner of the cedar chest was V. Kean; J. Jackson won hampers of groceries and Phyllis Hutchinson was the lucky holder of the ticket for the box of chocolates.

Three-year-old Tam Canton drew the ticket for the first prize, while little Misses Gladys Susan and Gail Jay solemnly drew the second and third prizes respectively. The Community Club have been raising money in an effort to some day get themselves a community hall for the people on Edson's western outskirts.

Frank Howard Tells How IWA Helps Community

Hinton—

The public meeting held by the International Woodworkers of America in the Legion Hall on Sunday night was well attended. Frank Howard gave a talk describing the forming of the trade union movement in England about 200 years ago and how the meetings were held in secret so they could evade the authorities of that time as the punishment for belonging to a trade union was deportation.

He drew the comparison between then and now with the Alberta government's Labor Act which is enforced by the Board of Industrial Relations and allows any group to organize and have collective bargaining.

As further benefit if the woods employees receive an adequate return for their labor, it reflects on the well being of the community as a whole, as the working man does not put all the cash he

Frank Howard is a member of the British Columbia legislature for the Terrace-Kimberley riding and has worked in the lumbering industry of that province all his life.

He went on to describe how a good active local of their union was expected to carry out it's full part in the life and affairs of the community and the control of the local was within the members of the local not from above as in some unions.

Mike Sekora gave an address on the internal organization of the union and methods taken to obtain certification and negotiations for wages and working conditions.

Reading or Dispensing With The Minutes of a Meeting

When the presiding officer cut that during the previous meeting, while all the rest of them were day dreaming, he had to listen to a lot of dull talk and take notes.

On returning home it was his task to translate what was said into decent English. He had also to make some sense out of the motions which were passed and try to define what was in the minds of those who made the motions.

He would remind them that he spent at least one evening writing the minutes and getting them typed, and defending himself against the charge made by his family that he always gets the shakes when he writes.

He would point out how he reprinted that the job of secretary is much more important, and they always give it to a person of superior intelligence, whereas any dimwitted can be re-elected.

He would say that the reward for this effort is reading the minutes, so that everybody will see what a good job he has done. He will tell them that he

A Barren Budget Stony Plain

Federal government budget brought down in the house last week by Finance Minister Walter Harris is not going to bring cries of joy to the lips of most Canadians. It offered no income tax relief, and indeed hardly any tax reductions at all, while another surplus is being contemplated and production figures are in prospect for all goods and services produced at 28 billions. This figure is important as a basis for the forecast of indirect tax returns.

While there was no happy hysteria over a "stand-pat" budget, there were lots of chuckles over Mr. Harris' message to the people calling for economic restraint to prevent inflation. This warning comes from a government which hires a growing army of civil servants, and which now talks a most pay increase for the ranks. The minister said some people "are about due." It is significant that a one-per-cent raise across the board would cost the taxpayer about nine million more.

Elimination of some of the government's own extravagant and lavish spending would be a good example and lead for the public to follow. —The Lacombe Globe

M.L.A. Calls For Power Subsidy

Speaking on rural electrification, during last week's sitting of the Alberta legislature, Liberal Member Harold McLaughlin called for government action on reducing the cost of high line power to rural residents.

In proposing an amendment to a CCF resolution, which asked that the government take over the rural power set-up, the member from Stony Plain stated that it would be difficult to get general acceptance of such a resolution at the present time.

As an alternative he suggested that the Alberta government follow the policy that is now in existence in Manitoba. Mr. McLaughlin stated that all provinces in Canada, with the exception of Alberta, are committed to policies of reducing the cost of power to rural residents.

By adopting the policy of area coverage that is now in existence in Manitoba, the more remote areas of the province would be able to receive power at the same cost as those closer to sources of power, said Mr. McLaughlin.

He continued by stating that some form of government subsidization, such as purchasing outstanding shares in rural electrification associations, would be necessary.

SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

With the Easter bunny back in his favorite haunts, making plans for next year, and the young set getting ready for another bout with the teachers, parents can now sit back and take a recount on the gray hair situation.

While most people celebrated Easter in a normal manner, yours truly had to be quite different. The Easter egg I received came in the form of an Easter lunge ball which found a very comfortable spot right behind my front left ear, much to the annoyance of the owner, who now goes by the name of "Mae" and Jim proved it.

Vern Hanna who has been up in the North West Territories quite a spell seems to be enjoying his change of occupation. How does this place stack up with the far North West?

Art Reich has bought himself a Chevy with a continental look bigger than the waist, and the markings of a zebra is merely a pin stripe compared to the stripes of these deals.

As for shape, the only thing that comes close, is a potato sack with the spuds still in it. What makes me jump up and down is the fact that two of our daughters pranced home with one each, Saturday. To think that Principal Cribb and his teaching staff have to look at these dolls till the end of the term. Well no one will suffer from spots before their eyes.

Now (imperial) Wright introduced me to Bert Schoppe today and five minutes later it dawned on both Bert and myself that we used to play baseball on opposing teams several years ago. He was the dandiest guy for popping out to the infield you ever saw. "Pop out Bert," he was known as in those days.

We had quite a chat and Bert who will handle the Royalite bank and gas service here, says he is all ready to settle down and start serving customers. Here's to your success fellow and I'll be dropping in to see ya'.

While strolling with our young son and heir the other day we found Doug Eagle standing in top of the school hill getting his optics full of the surrounding scene from there and Doug informed me it was his first trip over there since his arrival last spring. Where ya' been the last ten months Doug?

Earl Jenner of Carriagena, Sask. is back with us again after liberating under snow drifts all winter. Earl says the farmers are going to sow the crop on top of the snow this year as he don't figure it'll melt. Just imagine, frozen puffed wheat, home grown.

Say, I must thank Mrs. Jack Murry for her kindness in sending up that best lamp. Thanks a million Mrs. Murry. I think that's what did the trick.

Noticed that Mr. and Mrs. James of Wainwright, who are making good use of their building project, and were clearing up after the day's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Plisk and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Donaldson of Edmonton were visitors to the MacGregor home on Sunday. Yes, Jim came all the way out from our capital city to fix "Mae's" car and believe it or not he did. We told you that no one took the second and long gear out of it.

Wonder what the teachers are going to do about the sudden influx of students. What a hectic time they're going to have, trying to place all the new comers.

Now to see if we miss this week's edition again. One sure test of skill power is to see a friend with a blackeye and not ask questions.

Follow your face—go with the grain of your brain.

Provincial Hansards Would Help

The Herald has mentioned before in this column the need for a Hansard for Alberta.

Recently a Social Credit member of the Manitoba Legislature offered the government to inaugurate a provincial Hansard: a printed report of what's said in the legislature, available to the public for a small fee. At present, Manitoba's proceedings are tape-recorded, but not routinely transcribed.

A Conservative M.A. endorsed the Social Credit's proposal. The following day, during a portion of the long-drawn-out debate on beer profits, the Government itself provided evidence that a public record of debate would be valuable. Both the premier and the attorney-general claimed their views were being misrepresented by the opposition; and the provincial treasurer accused the press of underplaying government statements on the beer profits issue.

Grande Cache Indians Sadly Neglected Says Colonel

A disturbing fact was brought to our attention by Col. P. C. Hannington this past week, about some of our original citizens. We are referring to the Indian half breed tribe out at Grande Cache 90 miles from here.

These folks have been living up there since the Federal Government talked them into moving out of Jasper Park area and have been without any medical attention at all from our public health service.

Cancer if you live in the Edmonton or Calgary or Edson or Hinton is treated free, but last winter one of these fellows up there died a lingering death without medical attention.

T.B. is rife throughout the tribe, another disease treated free if you live in range of provincial department of health. It's compulsory in fact, but these folks get no attention at all. This was their country and we Canadians have always prided ourselves on the way we have handled our Indian problem, but surely they can now scorn us.

This is not the first time we have mistreated this group of people. Louis Riel in 1872 and again in 1885 led them in a war against the invader of their country. He was defeated but the representatives of the "Great White Queen" gave their word to the leaders of the halfbreeds and Indians who took part in that rebellion as we call it, that they would be looked after.

Now, because in 1905 our province was formed and the duty of looking after the halfbreeds was passed from the senior government to the provincial one, these folks have been sadly neglected and if our honor as Albertans and Canadians is to be preserved, our two governments should cut a little of their red tape and get it here and see if they can do something to remedy the years of neglect that this tribe has gone through.

The second Sunday in the Easter Festival is called "Good Shepherd" Sunday because the Gospel story (St. John 10:1) tells of how Jesus is the true shepherd who lays down his life for his sheep. Unlike some of the other parables, this parable of the Good Shepherd does not escape our understanding by being obscure but by being so plain and straight forward. The meaning is so familiar that we over look it. What does he say? A man cares naturally for his own things. He does not have to make himself care. The shepherd who has brought the ground and fenced the fold and tended the lambs, whose own sheep are to keep or to sell, cares for them. He would run some risk, rather than see them maulled, if he had only a heavy stick in his hand, he would beat off the wolf. Christ does not boast as a man among men, that he loves mankind more than any other man, because he is in truth more virtuous.

He says that he cares for us as no one else can, because we are his. We do not belong to any other man we belong to him! His dying for us in this world is the natural effect of his unique care for us. So too, his glorious resurrection is his call to us to turn from the world and sin and death and to return to the Shepherd and Bishop of our souls.

Through the Study Window

BY REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

The vast majority of church people are laymen rather than ordained. Because of this fact, a very common attitude is to put ordained leaders into a special category. They are the "professionals" and the lay people are the "amateurs."

In spite of the fact that there are so many more laymen, a great deal of the controlling power within the church has devolved upon the clergy.

For churches, whether they hold the Presbyterian form of government or the episcopalian, this is a matter for serious concern. It has resulted in an increasing demand for opportunities for training people who are laymen, and who will continue to make their contribution as laymen.

They take courses in L-edge, in the Scriptures; in church management; and in the leadership of church groups. By so doing they are enabled to work more effectively as members of session, teachers in the Sunday School and as leaders of varying groups within the church.

One of the colleges which has arisen to provide trained Christian leaders is located at Narman, near Penikese, in the Okanagan Valley. The principal, Rev. R. A. McLaren, was trained in Alberta. He is the son of a farmer, was formerly a teacher in public school, and is now an ordained minister.

By virtue of Scottish stubbornness, a persuasive enthusiasm, and a saving sense of humor, coupled with an evangelistic fervor for trained young people, he was instrumental in establishing the school at Narman, the first of several within the church.

Several other denominations have had such schools, some with a membership of thousands of enrolled students, and others comparatively small. They are designed as a means of teaching lay people rather than as a stepping stone for ordination.

Homemaking Hints

Tips on Touring

By Carol Ives
Women's Travel Authority
You don't have to travel far to find interesting sights of Canadian life to explore. Chances are, unusual and entertaining adventures lie only a few steps from your own home town.

For instance have you ever been behind the scenes of the creamery, the bakery, the newspaper plant in your community? They're as amazing as educational even though their products are familiar as breathing. An advance call to the plant is usually enough to insure you that your party will receive a royal welcome and free samples too.

Early mornings and on Saturdays, the wholesale production sector of your town is probably a beehive of bustling activity. Here's where fruits and vegetables, spices and sometimes way from the main street!

meats and fresh fish mingle shape colors and aromas. Perhaps some unusual industries are located nearby. Could be a chair-making factory or an iron factory. Or you might find a visit to a local handicraft class to observe amateur produce at intervals around the top and bottom of the canisters and at the seams. Wrap the wallpaper around, pressing it tightly against the tape to give a smooth appearance.

1. Be sure your charitable donations are made to an organization in Canada. Otherwise, they are not deductible. Keep your donation receipts.

2. Alimony payments are only deductible, if you have a judicial separation or divorce.

3. Other than for a few drugs, most medicines you buy at a drugstore are not deductible. If however, your medicine came from a hospital, or a doctor, and is added to a patient's bill, its cost is deductible.

4. Your legal claim, incurred in carrying out a successful appeal against assumed taxes, are not deductible.

5. Be sure to obtain proof that travelling expenses were necessary to your business in order to gain or produce income within the meaning of the Income Tax Act. Expenses met while you're attending a convention, for instance, would probably be considered a personal or living expense, therefore taxable.

6. Be sure your medical payments are made to "qualified practitioners." The Act provides for a certain portion of medical expenses—provided they are paid to a medical practitioner, dentist or nurse qualified to practice.

7. It's more remunerative, under the Income Tax Act, to suffer loss of hearing than loss of sight. Costs for hearing-aids are deductible; for your eye glasses, they're not.

8. If you marry on Dec. 31, remember "any income your wife made that year does not affect your personal exemptions. You still receive a full, married man's exemption for that year.

9. Your costs when you obtain a loan of capital, with the exception of interest paid, are not deductible.

10. Costs incurred, when you seek the aid of a chartered accountant to make out your income tax return, are deductible.

11. Don't take long, costly trips by automobile, if you think the cost can be claimed as an exemption. It can't be.

12. Deductible medical expenses are only those which exceed 3 per cent of your gross income. If you make $3,000 a year, you must pay tax on medical costs up to $90.

15 TIPS AID CANADA'S 3,500,000 TAX PAYERS

By this April 30, more than one out of five Canadians—about 3,500,000—will pay one and a quarter billion dollars in income tax. It is reported in the new April issue of Liberty magazine.

To help Canadian tax payers file their tax returns, the following tips to help you follow your income and some tax payments are suggested:

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMORE

The little girl bounced happily on the seat of the bus, waved her arm and looked at the signal cord above her head.

"Two steps further on, you can pull it," said the lady in the grey squirrel coat, who seemed to be the child's mother. The bus rumbled along. "Is it time now?" the little girl asked.

"Not yet," said the mother. Another woman sat down nearby. Her face wrinkled with that special smile that women reserve for small frisky children.

"Is it time now?" the girl asked. "Nearly," said the mother. "Oh, Oh. Someone else has pulled the cord never mind. You pull it too."

The tiny girl stood on the bus seat and reached as high as she could. The bus was slowing, and it seemed that she would be too late. One or two passengers moved as though they were going to lift her.

Just then, however, the moppel attained the cord with her finger tips, and the signal near the driver sounded: "Ting!"

"There!" said the mother, "Hear the noise!" The small girl nodded, and jumped down, grinning with triumph. Answering grins broke out on adult faces all around.

"It's a great thrill for her," the mother explained to the rest of the bus, as she moved to the door. "The first time."

Mother's tone was half-apologetic. But her fellow-passengers were pleased.

For each of them, the incident brought back that half-forgotten time when simple things lighted up the world.

Leisure

What is this life, if full of care. We have no time to stand and stare.

No time to stand beneath the boughs

And stare as long as sheep or cows.

No time to see, when woods we pass,

Where squirrels hide their nuts in grass.

No time to see, in broad daylight,

Streams full of stars, like skies at night.

No time to turn at Beauty's glance,

And watch her feet, how they can dance.

No time to wait till her mouth can Enrich that smile her eyes began.

A poor life this if, full of care, We have no time to stand and stare.

—W. H. Davies.

and they are satisfied, then perhaps twice or three times a week, happy satisfied customers are more important than a dissatisfied farmer in the Edson district. Who has to drive the same distance drive to shop as the council would to inspect. Not once as they do.

Town Budget Holds Mill Rate At 50

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, April 19, 1956 No. 2

Tells B of T Of Six Revolutions

There are six distinct revolutionary developments that are creating tremendous problems and undreamed of opportunities for the businessman and commerce in general. B. A. Lindberg, told members of the Edson Board of Trade at their regular meeting in the Commodore banquet room on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Lindberg, who is director of the school of commerce at the University of Alberta said that "trade and commerce has done more for civilization and progress in the present era than any other in recorded history."

"We are living in a time, when there are six concurrent revolutions occurring at the same time," and then he went on to list them numerically.

1. NUCLEAR This new source of energy is revolution which is upon us now, a wonderful thing because it when we think of the peaceful aspects of the uses for uranium where an amount of this energy can be held in your hand equal to the energy from 700 tons of fuel oil.

Brings In Budget

COUNCILLOR NIGRO Finance Committee, Chairman

Edson Grow

LANGHANS—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Langhans, Edson on April 17, a son.

Edson Town's budget for 1956 brought in Tuesday night by finance committee chairman Wm. Nigro held the mill rate at 50 mills for this year in spite of an extra two mills for hospitalization and a shink in light and power rates.

Budgeting for $291,553 in expenditures the committee anticipates at least this amount in receipts, although technically they budgeted for about a two thousand dollar deficit by being conservative in estimating possible sources of revenue and not counting on almost sure sources of money from land sales this year.

Actual breakdown of the mill rate is as follows:
School requisition 30 mills
Hospitalization Scheme 2 Mills
Municipal purposes 18 mills
50 mills

The new business tax being put into effect this year is budgeted to bring in $6,000, but more than this amount is anticipated. The new tax is at the rate of 20 mills on the assessed area occupied by the business.

The budget shows $104,148 gross expected from the light and power plant against $124,971 gross last year, but Council thinks this amount will be exceeded due to the lower light rates encouraging people to use more electricity.

The budget provides for a continuation of the sidewalk program, graveling of streets, widening of the boulevards and works chairman Kortzman is hoping that an experimental oiling program can be started this year.

Attitude of the Council was expressed by Councillor Nigro when he brought in the budget who said, "We are earnestly trying to get along with what we have and have matched every expenditure with anticipated revenue."

Gross assessment of real property in the town is up $100,465 this year to make the total assessment $1,900,000 from which $86,525 is anticipated in current and frontage taxes.

The remainder of the budget receipts are made up from profit from the municipal utilities, the Provincial Government grants, various fees and licenses and land sales.

It is expected that the Provincial Government grant will be higher than the $17,720 budgeted for this year.

There is still some hope that the Town may get enough to borrow sufficient money to finance the gas distributing franchise on a municipal basis.

Mayor Kankowitz reported to the meeting, following his interview with the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs this week.

Federal Bldg. Opening Set For May 18

According to word received from the Hon. George Prudham, he and Mrs. Prudham will arrive in Edson on Friday, May 18, to officiate at the opening ceremonies for Edson's new federal building.

Time for the ribbon cutting has been set for three o'clock in the afternoon and following the inspection by the public a public banquet is being arranged in the Legion Memorial Centre for 6:00.

Actual agenda for the ceremonies has not yet been worked out but it is expected the affair will attract many people during the course of the afternoon.

Tells B of T About Six Revolutions

makes available to mankind unlimited sources of power and banishes the worries of a few years ago when our leading thinkers were warning about exhausting our energy resources.

"Mankind in the future," said Mr. Lindberg, "can live in comfort anywhere on the face of the earth and be cited the power units which are now being installed on Canada's 'The Line'."

2 AUTOMATION
The second revolutionary development which is upon us, now, is that of automation where much of our factory work is being done automatically.

He cited the case of the eight power plants in the Benif area operated by Calgary Power Co. by a few people from a remote control center with no one at the actual plants, most of the time.

3 ELECTRONIC COMPUTER
The new electronic computer is used to relieve mankind of the tedium of the routine and repetitive processes which are now so time consuming.

He mentioned the case of the computer which calculated the specifications for a big bridge in 15 minutes which would have taken two men a year and a half to complete.

Another use for market surveys which cuts down from months to 15 days the time when data can be made available for planning production.

4 ANTI-BIOTICS
The revolution brought about about the use of antibiotics has removed the fear of eating our fishes off the universe by making it possible to shorten the growing time for food animals.

There is very little feed being produced in this province at the present time, said Mr. Lindberg, "which has not had the benefit of this new science."

5 LONGER LIFE
People now have a longer life expectancy and the average has increased from 42 years at the turn of the century to 69 at the present time, according to 1954 statistics with the actual life expectancy barring major wars or catastrophes, somewhere between 70 and 120 years.

This prospect of many of us living as long as 150 years is going to be a big combination of the best of both worlds, the best of the future, said Mr. Lindberg.

6 TRANSPORTATION
We are literally living in a world," said the speaker, "where transportation is in the air age. It won't be long before we will have nuclear reactors in aircraft and speeds of over 1500 miles an hour will be common."

"Man is no longer earth-bound," he said, "and with the speeds attainable we will now be able to go from Stockholm to Los Angeles in a matter of two hours solar time." (That is 9 a.m. Stockholm time to 11 a.m. Los Angeles time.)

"Think of what this means to business and what we have to plan now for the problems that will arise because of this longer life expectancy," he told his listeners.

PRIORITIES AT EDMONTON
Mr. Lindberg said that he has been advocating a request for the new international airport that is to be built somewhere near Edmonton in the near future, and one of the many advantages to Northern Alberta and Canada that could accrue from the completion of it.

Of particular interest to us in this area would be the hundreds and perhaps thousands of people who would want to take advantage of the unexpressed scenery that the circle tour through Jasper and Banff provides while they were shopping at the freeway and still had a few hours to savorize in this country.

"Change is in the air," he said, "and it's for the better, but these changes are going to bring many headaches for businessmen and fascinating opportunities."

In answer to the question on the educational system could be accommodated to the needs of the step-by-step revolution he visualized, Mr. Lindberg stated that he could see no clear picture of how this could be accomplished.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

Until world leaders learn that "peace" isn't spelled "piece," as in "a piece of a neighboring nation," there can't be much hope of even a small slice being hacked from the world's military potential.

Wondering how to get some seemingly impossible task accomplished? Leave several small boys in the vicinity of the job and tell them "don't touch" before you walk out of the sight.

Fellow across the desk from us says that the hardest part of his day's work is convincing his wife that he's put in a hard day's work at the office.

Wife of the man who runs the lunch counter near the office makes the coffee he sells. There's a fellow who has ample grounds for divorce.

To smooth wife's ruffled feathers, brush gently with a crisp green bill of respectable demonstration.

Jacques Chabrum, who is Somerset Maugham's agent in America, tells of a party where one guest simply could not keep away from the distinguished British author. He was more than civil at first, but his patience began to wear thin, especially when she kept referring to him as "the master."

"You dear, sweet man," she cooed as the party broke up. "You've been such a darling, yet underneath I'm sure you're simply bent on leaving me all evening, haven't you?"

"Not at all, madam," replied Maugham with a final burst of gallantry. "Only for nineteenth of it."

The first lesson to remember in the gentle art of self-defense, advises Steve Allen, is to keep your glasses on.

A young crooner stopped signing autographs long enough to pursue a draft notice that had come in the mail. They he tossed it to his secretary. "Tell them," he instructed, "I can give them the last two weeks in your name."

A great big borzoi hound once boarded a subway train at Times Square in New York, legend says, but had to stand up because all the seats were occupied by Pekingese. "I'm exhausted," complained the borzoi when he got home. "Deprived of a rest by those little mutts!"

"That will teach you a lesson," said his wife. "Keep of the subway in the Peking rush hours."

It has happened over and over again that some guy has come along and done something that the majority of a group of brainy people have said was impossible.

Mr. Lindberg also addressed students at the high school during his trip to Edson.

CAPITOL REPORT

The Alberta Scene

By KEN MASON

Edmonton — Within the next few weeks some 300,000 Alberta children will undergo treatment designed to protect them from the most dreaded of all childhood diseases — polio.

The 1955 Salk vaccine program has started so far in all parts of the province. Children will receive about five drops of the vaccine through city health departments, school boards and health units.

It will be the largest polio inoculation program ever undertaken in Alberta and has been drawn up with a view to giving protection to the largest possible number of children.

Approximately 153,000 children in elementary schools will be given their first two doses of the vaccine. Another estimated 65,000 who received their initial shot last year, will be given "booster" shots.

Provincial health department officials experienced a few hard moments last week when a news report was dispatched from Ottawa to the effect that a hitch in production was delaying the 1956 polio inoculation program. There were fears that Alberta might not get its full quota of 440,000 children.

Dr. A. Somerville, deputy minister of health, sent a rush wire to Toronto's Coughlin Laboratories, which is supplying Alberta's vaccine. The reply was reassuring. It said that barring unforeseen developments Alberta will receive the full quota.

The inoculation program this year will cost an estimated $300,000 which will be shared 50:50 by the provincial and federal governments and passed on free to local health authorities. Inoculation will continue until the end of the school term in June.

As time progresses, more and more children will be protected against polio. Within a few years the initial double doses will have to be given only to new classes of grade 1 pupils while children in other grades will need only the annual reinforcement shot.

The Mahaffy Commission has finally completed its lengthy investigation of election campaign against the Social Credit government, and now must begin preparing its report, which could have a profound effect on the political future of Alberta.

Just for the record, the commission heard evidence regarding high methods of awarding highway contracts; treasury branch dealings by members of the legislature; awarding of public works contracts; government real estate transactions and an exchange of mineral rights in 1951 between the government and Premier Manning.

Since public hearings began last fall, the commission has heard 46 witnesses accepted 344 documents as exhibits and heard evidence which filled more than 5,000 pages of typewritten verbatim transcript.

Members of the commission, headed by James C. Mahaffy, Calgary lawyer, will have to plow through most of this mountain of evidence before preparing their written report for presentation to the provincial cabinet.

There is a persistent rumor in political circles that the government plans to call an election after the commission's report is submitted (one guess is as good as another, but this could explain the government's haste in pushing through a new Election Act during the recent session of the legislature).

Legion Jammed For Boys Boxing Card

Interested parents, boxing fans and enthusiastic operators of the Phillips of Mackay, 131 lbs. win on a technical KO over Ron Anderson, 126 lbs. of Jasper Place Rec. Club, in a four round card held at the Legion on their feet more than once.

Edson's Denver McNaughton and Alberta 80 lb. champ, took decision over Wayne Duffy, of Jasper Place Rec. Club, in a special three round event.

Bob Tilly, Edson, won over Gordon, Jasper Place Rec. Club, in the 63 lb. class. Teddy McLeod, Edson, 2 won a TKO over Ray Day, Mercoal, 72, lost to Ray Day, Jasper Place Rec. Club, 78, and Lenny McNaughton, Edson, 80, took Steve Duffy, Jasper Place Rec. Club, the Alberta 79 lb. champ.

Bill Tully, 85, Edson, met Bill Marlow, Mercoal, 78, George Thompson, Edson, 100, took Len McLeod, Mercoal, 103, and Wally Fontaine, Edson, 104, lost to Roger Leaside, Mercoal, 105.

Dennis Demaris, Edson, 120, lost to Harold Hansen, Mercoal, 117; Johnny Folk, Edson, 125, won over Lawrence Polchuk, Mercoal, 129 lbs; and Walter Lesniewski, Edson, 138, lost to Lyle Langer, Mercoal, 130.

A special bouquet should be given the kids from Mercoal for being such a game bunch of boys, and of course Edson's Lesniewski should get an accolade or two for his energy in promoting the sport in town on behalf of our local lads.

THE BISHOP
The visit of the Bishop is always an important day for a parish, for the Bishop is our Chief Pastor and Father in God. By his dual election and consecration, he holds for us the apostolic office and is to us the successor of the Apostles in his ministry. This coming weekend has added significance for some twenty-five men and women, boys and girls who are to receive at his hands the apostolic rite of Confirmation. There are two sides to a Confirmation — the most important by far in which God sets through this given sign of the laying on of hands by the Bishop to confirm or to make firm and strong the Christian soldier and servant in his battle for right and against wrong. Then is the part of the Christian himself when he confirms or makes on his own behalf his vows and promises to renounce that which is wrong, to profess the Christian faith, and to promise his determined purpose to walk His ways all the days of his life.

Local Postal Clerks Pass Examination

The staff of our local Post Office are required to receive a pass mark which is quite high, on two of three types of examinations each year in order to qualify for their annual increases until they reach their maximum salary and then until they are sixty years of age in order to keep that salary. The exam is on rates and regulations, one on financial procedure and one on financial procedure. The exam is a distribution exam.

This distribution exam consists of a miniature sortation case divided into ninety different railway lines or distributing centres in Alberta or other Canadian provinces. The clerk is then given 1000 miniature cards representing letters, and is required to sort them into the proper separation in a given time. As the salary in a given time. At the maximum salary the pass mark is 90 per cent.

Follows that the public receives better service from a well qualified staff. An example of the caliber of our local Post Office staff was shown when Mr. Charlie Holliday took a sortation or distribution exam and obtained a mark of 99.2 per cent which is commendable. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lusk of Jasper, were weekend visitors at the P. K. Clarke farm west of town. Mrs. Lusk is Mr. Clarke's sister.

The Edson Dance Studio students are busy rehearsing for their big revue "Delightful Daze," which is scheduled for May 11th and 12th. During the lesson time the budding ballerinas were captured one day last week by the Leader in a typical pose.

A marvelous spirit of enthusiasm which has been clearly evident in all the natural and unassuming young dancers, promises to result in a grand show, which citizens of Edson and district are looking forward to with much interest.

Keep up the fine work Miss Goldstick and we're sure that we'll enjoy the show.

Saturday Bride Honored

Mrs. Wm. Davidge and Mrs. Ed Yerex were co-hostesses at a shower April 18th in honor of Miss Jean Clifton, whose marriage to Mr. Louis Hatchelton will take place April 20th. Gaily wrapped novelty prizes were won at games.

The bride-to-be expressed pleasure at the gathering of her friends, and thanked them for the lovely gifts.

Lunch was served by Ives Yerex who had to make emergency provision for several gentlemen who "crashed" the party.

Peers H&S To Meet Tuesdays

An organization meeting of the Peers Home and School Association was held in the Peers school on March 27 with a fairly good attendance.

A general discussion was held on Home and School projects and it was decided to hold the meetings the last Tuesday in every month.

A slate of officers were nominated at this meeting and election of same is to take place on April 28th.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barbazil (nee Anna Affolter) of Tisdale, on April 14, twin daughters. The babies weighed 6½ and 5½ pounds. Grandma, Mrs. Hans Affolter Sr., is visiting with them now.

Manley Burleigh B of T Evoc

At the regular meeting of the Edson Board of Trade in the Commodore banquet room on Wednesday evening Mr. Manley Burleigh was elected to fill the vacancy on the executive of the Board of Trade caused by the transfer of Mr. Walter McIntyre to Regina with the C.N.D.

During the course of the meeting Chairman C. V. Bolton called on Mr. Burleigh to make a presentation to Mr. McIntyre as a token of the high esteem in which the members of the Edson B. of T. hold him.

Mr. Bolton reminded the members about the coming official opening of the new Federal Building and the banquet which is being arranged for that day May 18, in the Legion Memorial Centre at 6:30. The official opening will probably take place about 2:00 in the afternoon.

"Back in the guard house, a kahn, eh, Private Buitenhimer," observed the sergeant grinning. "What did you do this time?" "It's a xrp, sarge," complained Buitenhimer bitterly. "I was assigned to help out at the reception for Senator Blagg, and the captain told me to stand at the entrance and call the officers' names."

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, April 18, 1946 No. 2

Letters To The Editor

Editor,
Edson Leader,
Edson, Alberta.
Dear Sir:

May we let the people of Edson and district know through the column of your paper the deal we were given two years ago?

We were offered eight head of milch cows, milkers, cream cans, etc. for the sum of $1600. This included a live milk quota of 120 lbs.

We proceeded to buy same through a farm improvement loan with 18 months to pay. Five producer milk shippers from Carrot Creek joined the Edson milk producers association, thereby strengthening it and mending their constitution in good faith.

After two months of full shipping, we five members at Carrot Creek were cut down on the amount we were allowed to deliver, very drastically. In three months we were entirely cut off from the shipping to the Dairy. This left us facing a problem of paying for our equipment and cows with only $65 to $70 cream cheque. This came, after having been told by the dairy just a few months previous, to be sure and save all heifer calves, as more milk would be required in the future.

We approached the town council and were told:

Edson needed more milk and it was only a matter of a month or so until we would be able to bring our milk to the Dairy again. In view of this we did not sell our stock, or go into pigs etc. as we felt our security was in shipping milk. Ten months later, after struggling along, we realized the real of the shippers at Edson were enjoying their own quotas and ignoring their fellow members at Carrot Creek, so some of us disposed of our herds and equipment to pay off the bank. We spent some time working out, besides looking after our stock, in order to meet expenses.

How many farmers in the surrounding district of Edson have been treated the same way? Several that I know of. I ask you merry gentlemen, is it right to allow your customers to be treated in this way? I understand we farmers of the district are advised to smarten up and produce more and better. How about the business people and council of Edson doing the same? We farmers, occupied in our various chores of producing food and commodities are not hard to get along with but we expect respect and understanding of our problems too. Remember there is enough for all and meet it fair and square and you will reap the profits along with us in the coming struggle for world peace and a Canada of plenty with happiness via security which means world peace for all. Peace on Earth, Good will toward men. One reaps what one sows.

Yours respectfully,
T.W. SIK R180808 R.C.A.P.

FRIENDS DROP IN TO SAY HELLO

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE GOURLEY

This photo was snapped by amateur photographer Laura Mahon recently when a large number of friends dropped in intend to sit down and take things easy in his retirement, but has planned lots of things to keep him well occupied.

High School Dramas To Be Presented May 3

Attention is called to the fact that the date of the High School Dramatics performance has been changed from April 26 to Thursday, May 3. On this occasion three one-act plays will be presented, at 8:15 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

"Doctor's Daughter", a short dramatic presentation, centres around the story of a High School student who is torn between her loyalty to her father's profession and her desire to have her father's help. Olga Paschak plays the role of the daughter, and Wally Hlabishka enacts the part of the Doctor. Others in the cast are Dorothy Rosen as the Doctor's wife, Evelyn Hodge as Miss Blair and Bruce Frith as the boy friend "Papa Popper's Bombshell". prevents an interesting episode of a family threatened by an enemy agent, and their courageous reaction to their difficulty. Included in the cast are: Alvin Hecchel as the enemy agent, John Rittman as the father, Nora Yeudall as the mother, Gary Mahon as the brother, and Maureen O'Hara and Paula Hecchel as the sisters. The third play will be described in this column next week. For the above two plays, Benny Joy is the Stage Manager with Dieter Fehlborg and John Hardar Linnarson as the assistants. Drayton Valley spent the past weekend with Dale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Clarke.

Watch Your Big Bills

Merchants and others handling large bills (fifty and twenty especially) should be particularly careful as there may be some attempt to split bills and glue them onto bigger denominations.

A partly split five dollar bill has turned up in a local bank and there is some speculation that there may be more floating around.

The usual trick is to split a dollar bill and a twenty and make them into two twenties, according to Mr. Mark Albert, our local authority on numismatics.

Edson Young Liberals To Elect Officers

A heavy schedule is planned for the next regular meeting of the Edson Young Liberals, Wednesday May 2nd, so all are urged to come promptly at eight.

The report of the committee on the Trans-Canada pipeline will be presented. Final arrangements for the public discussion on education will be made. These were delayed due to the inability of Mr. Harold Tanner to be present at the date originally proposed.

Highlight of the evening will be the election of officers, and preparations for the installation ceremonies and presentation of the Association Charter.

The District Agriculturist and Home Economist have been invited to attend the next meeting.
Mrs. Lawton, educational co-ordinator, gave a talk on Equalization of costs of centralized schools and statistics of costs of education in the Edson division.

Co-op REPORT

The board of directors held a meeting April 8th. Mr. D. Christensen was given a hauling contract. A special meeting of directors will be held April 22.

"What do you suggest as a career for me? I like to get my hands into a little bit of everything."
"Then why don't you become a garage man."

Wed In City To Live At Drayton Valley

A pretty wedding of interest to Edson people was solemnized on Saturday April 7th in St. Michael's and All Saints Anglican Church, Edmonton, by Arch Deacon S. F. Tackaberry, and old friend of the groom, when Jean Margaret Dunlop, only daughter of Mr. Alexander Clarke, Camrose, and the former Mrs. Clarke, became the bride of Mr. Dale Hall Clarke, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin K. Clarke of this district.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was carried in a white limousine, and wore a white tulle dressmaker suit of white brocade with tulle hat and shoes to match. She carried a white Bible, her corsage being of baby Anemone Beauty roses and heather.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Anderson, wearing a white wool suit and wee hat with corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. George Kretzmann was best man and the usher was brother of the bride, Mr. A. Bunt Clarke. Mrs. F. K. Clarke, mother of the groom, chose a baby blue ensemble of brocade with corsage of sweetheart roses and stephanotis. Mrs. Dale Hall Clarke, paternal grandmother of the groom, wore black with cream accessories and corsage of red carnations.

The reception was at the Seven Seas Marine room. Mr. Lorne Graham proposed the toast to the bride and was responded to by the groom. Mrs. Jack Garver sang "Because" at the reception accompanied by Miss Marian Dyer.

The happy couple will make their home in Drayton Valley where Dale is employed.

The Alex Clarke family are old time residents of Edson having resided here about 1827 to 1850.

Peers Notes

Well it looks as if spring has finally arrived. Mud and water are everywhere and we're all waiting for the road bans to be lifted. Noticed a few optimistic picnics on Sunday, even.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lupul are moving to Vegreville very soon. Mr. Lupul has been section foreman at Peers for almost eleven years and they will be missed by their many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bradford and family have moved to the farm (formerly owned by the late Jim Ross, south of Peers).
Mrs. Sweeney and family have moved into the upstairs of Mr. and Mrs. A. George's house while Ed is away for summer employment.

Mrs. A. Hubble has undergone an operation in an Edson hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young are sporting a lovely new truck wagon. Lucky people!

L.A.C. Fred Radcliffe was home for a few hours visit with his family, enroute to Cold Lake.

HINTON HI-LITES

'round town . . .

—The Boy Scouts from Jasper were in town on Sunday, canvassing for their May 21 Sports Day. They certainly look smart in their Scout uniforms.

—Saw Mrs. Seabee and Elroy out for a walk Friday afternoon.

—Saw John and Mrs. Novak polishing that pretty half-ton of theirs. It looks right sharp with its fire engine red just gleaming now. Guess we can blame them for the rain on Monday. It rains after the car is polished.

—Spring fever caught hold on Sunday with all the folks out to their shirt sleeves tidying things up around their yards. Things really look pretty now.

—Mrs. Phil Simard moved into camp from Edson last week and became a resident of the community.

—Mrs. Neils Johnson says the women folk should get together and try to arrange some play for the kids and take them off the road.

—All the folks are looking forward to the opening of Hinton's theatre. It will be nice to see out and see how again with all the comforts of home.

—Mrs. Mosley is going to win the race with H. Anderson. Harry started his garage the same way. Harry started his theatre, but Harry and Cliff have been losing lately. They still may win at all it needs now is it's doors.

—How about it Harry and Cliff. —Rumours and more rumours. Do we move or don't we, some day soon to a modern town but not to a new camp. (I hope).

—Principal Cribb down sick last week but now back on the toughest yet most important job in town, teaching our young folk.

—Billie Ferries dog was killed by a car Saturday on the road in the trailer camp. Tough luck Bill.

—Bob McGregor and wife were in Edmonton for the week-end but says he has had enough of the big smoke for some time.

Hinton Holding Cancer Crusade

Hinton's first Cancer Crusade and appeal for funds is in full swing and early response has been very gratifying. The campaign will continue until May 12th.

The Cancer Crusade committee consisting of Mrs. Ray Fuller, Mrs. Roy Morison, Mr. W. Switzer, and Mrs. D. I. Crossley, asks for your whole-hearted support.

He likes the peace and quiet of Hinton best.

—Why has Len Morin and Frank Knutson both got bandages on their right hands. Hear that Cliff George was telling them how nice the nurse was so they had to find out for themselves.

—FOUND—ONE BROWN HAT. —HARRY'S building a truck depot right across from my house. Won't have far to go to get rid of the empires now.

—Art Dunn's brother, Nelson is visiting for a few days.

—Harry and Mrs. Anderson taking a twilight drive out west on Sunday evening. It sure was not out that way 'wasn't it!

Theatre to Open May 1st

Hinton—Mr. A. M. Montemurro, who is assisted by his chief carpenter, Mr. W. Wells of Mayerthorpe and his co-workers, has been building at a Hinton theatre since the first of January, announced this week that his theatre will be opened on Tuesday, May 1st.

As the opening feature Mr. Montemurro is inviting every member of the community to attend a free showing of Rose Marie in Cinemascope, which was partly reproduced in Jasper and vicinity. There will be two shows the 1st at 7:30 and the 2nd at 9:30.

On hand to officiate at the opening will be Hon. M. A. Williams and Hon. A. J. Hanks. After Rose Marie, Mr. Montemurro promises there will be 3 changes a week of the best pictures he can obtain.

The new theatre which will seat over 500 patrons has a large screen 14'x24' which is necessary to accommodate Cinemascope and Vista-Vision films.

Bud's Human And Hintonite

Hinton—Bud Ford says he's mad at us for the crack we attributed to him concerning how to tell Hintonites from the out-of-town variety of the human species. He says he's just as civilized as any other Canadian and he's proud to be a Hintonite to boot.

It's his birthday, but it's your present!

The birthday—The Bank of Nova Scotia's

Personal Security Program now 2 years' old!

The present—P.S.P. broadens coverage to bring its benefits to even more Canadians!

Two years ago, the fellow who couldn't save a nickel, whose bank book was fatter than a slim dime, discovered P.S.P.—and told other Canadians about it. Since then, more and more Canadians have come to The Bank of Nova Scotia to take advantage of this exclusive program that makes saving so much easier, purer, more regular.

Just decide to make a small monthly instalment in your P.S.P. account. And here's the real payoff. There's a guarantee. If you were to die the beneficiary would get the full amount of your savings—plus even if you'd only made one payment.

And now, P.S.P. broadens its scope. The age limit for participants in the program goes up from 46 to 51. Learn all about this easier way to save; ask at your nearest BNS branch.

Hinton Cubs Entertain Their Dads

The Hinton Cubs held a welter sport recently and invited their fathers to take part.

Highlights of the evening were the cock fight which Des Crawley and Robin Huth staged that ended in a draw, and the demonstration by Robin Huth of aqua wrestling. The boys certainly seemed to enjoy it.

The winners were delicious. The lads put on quite a show for their dads. Under the able direction of Jim Clark, master, Bob Crawley, the Cub meaning of the Cub yell.

SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

Hinton—Waking up to the sound of saws, hammers, trucks, cars, barking dogs and lusty yells from a dozen or more youngsters who seemed to have cornered David Crockett up in one of the large trees nearby, we found another Sunday on our hands.

The day of rest, peace and quiet. This does not apply to the Trailer Court here in Hinton. These not building are busy cleaning up their yards now that the snow has disappeared and to say the least the efforts of our house and the trailer residents is making a great difference to the appearance of the Camp. I regret to say the same cannot be said for the old town of Hinton which lies less than a quarter of a mile east.

On our weekly tour this p.m. Mrs. O. and myself went around the back side of the old town business section which looked as though it was the new dump location. From a point just west of the Power Plant you get a fine view of the scattered pile of hay, twenty-seven piles of tin cans, and several piles of loose and useless lumber, several acres of paper, cardboard boxes, and miscellaneous odds and ends and several large littered ash piles that resemble volcanoes about to erupt. And people wonder why they don't feel so good. The aroma from these beauty spots will be improved shortly when Old Sel starts working overtime and no doubt will cause more than one nose to twitch.

Believe it or not we have had mosquitoes already which are so large they are equipped with twin engines, and this is only April. One thing did look good however, and that was the ball dismond which seems to be in tip top shape, but with most jobs going ten hours a day this year there will not be too much use of it, we don't think that there will be much sport activities this season. Of course there is always the chance of lining up a series of five inning games. Oh well, so much for sport.

Standing on our front porch this afternoon I watched two fellows come up the hill from the highway, packing two rods and a tackle box, after an exchange of greetings I naturally asked where they had been and the results of the trip. They had been fishing off the river bank with no luck but were not perturbed about it in the least.

I thought the river had let on it yet, better smarten up and chase the moths out of the tackle box.

Saw my timber scaling friend Harry Palcher this evening and believe it or not he's building himself a house on lot nineteen. He is an old hockey man from Ontario and also enjoys hunting. What say we hit the Jasper alleys some week end, Harry?

Pleased to hear that Mr. Cribb is up and around again... keep the caddy on the teapot Mr. C. we are going to steer over in your direction in the near future I hope.

Looks like I boo-boored last week when I said Art had a new continental looking buggy. Nope it isn't his, belongs to Harold Blake. That's what you get for listening to a rumor.

Saw Pat O'Hara, Marvin and Jack Seelyk discussing how to use a large lifting jack that was being held by an unknown gent in a hard hat. Could be the store front has settled a little.

If truck signs mean anything I'll take it for granted that M. Left of Snow River, Manitoba, is responsible for the nice looking little home being built across from the well house.

Sure hope that the bank doesn't give 'way. If it does he's sure going to need a high front step. Whoops! There goes another trial. These things have sure been noisy today for some reason or other... At the curling smoke in the Legion Hall, Saturday, Bill Bourne, Allen Clarke, Fred Smith and Pete Pepper proved that they were just as good a bunch of mouse hunters as the rest of the boys. George Gibson and Andy Beaton seemed to get quite a bang out of the fast shooting nimrod. Kinda tough shooting a mouse blind folded...

It's nice to see Albert and Marie Tessaer back with us after spending the winter in Rocky Mountain House. How in heck did you manage to get your old fur back again, Albert? Just before signing thirty to this week's nonsense here's a little advice to hitchhikers... The position of the thumb when hitch-hiking depends on whether the car is passing or approaching you.

Edson-Rosevear Families Joined By Marriage

A quiet wedding of local interest took place April 7th at four p.m. at the Preer home in Rosevear when Miss Patricia Penelope Payne became the bride of Mr. Fred Darcy Stevens.

Rev. L. Carneau performed the ceremony that united in marriage the daughter of Mrs. Albert Stabel of Rosevear and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Stevens of Edson.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her stepfather, chose for her wedding, a golden lace net formal with wreath of white roses in her hair. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The couple were attended by four p.m. at the Preer home in Rosevear when Miss Patricia Penelope Payne became the bride of Mr. Fred Darcy Stevens.

Following the ceremony a reception and dance was held at the Preer home. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Blair Stevens and answered by the groom.

The young couple are making their home in Edson where the groom is employed by the C.N.R.

School Requisition Held At 25 Mills

Trustees of Edson School Division decided to budget for a deficit of $68,648.77 this year in order to hold the line on the school requisition to the taxing authorities at 25 mills which is the same as last year.

At least 13 more mills would have been required to balance the budget this year and the School Board could have passed this increased requisition on to the taxing authorities without loss of the Provincial grants as was the condition of increasing the mill rate more than two mills in any one year last year. However it was the opinion of the Board that there should be no increase in the mill rate for school purposes this year.

Taxing authorities are Edson Town, Wildwood and Evansburg villages and Local Improvement Districts 78, 95, 96 and 105. At present Edson pays 27.10 per cent of the requisition for the Division; Wildwood 5.70 per cent; Evansburg 4.50 per cent; LID 78, 30.60 per cent; LID 95, 21.80 per cent; LID 96, 0.20 per cent; LID 105, 0.10 per cent.

Total assessment for the whole division is $5,016,415, but when the pulp mill comes onto the tax rolls, probably in 1968 for school purposes, it is expected that the assessment will at least treble for the division.

When this comes about LID 95 or the incorporated town of Hinton will supply a much higher percentage of the taxes for school purposes.

Building this year will not match last year's record $250,000, but the $184,000 school plant for Hinton will be a big program for any one year in any event.

Breakdown of the revenue and expenditures is as follows:

REVENUE
Government Grants	408,917.27

City Woman Wins Legion River Derby

A city woman, Mrs. Leo Brannick (nee Mickey Ciciarelli) came closest to guessing the 9:13:45 a.m. break-up time on the McLeod River at Ciciarelli's seven miles east of Edson, sponsored by the local Branch of the Legion in aid of the building fund.

Mrs. Brannick's guess was 9:15 and won her the first prize of $125.00.

Second prize winner in the amount of $50.00 was L. Bendall, Hattinford, who put down 9:15:01.

Third closest and winner of $25.00 was Marby Sedment of Marcoo who thought the river would go out at 9 a.m.

This is the earliest the river has gone out in years and many of the educated guesses did not take into account the heavy runoff this year and the very high and unreasonable temperatures common in this "banana belt" in the early part of April.

McIntyres Are Honored Prior To Departure

Mr. and Mrs. Walter McIntyre have been the guests of honor at various affairs in the past week since the word of Mr. McIntyre's presentation to Regina as C. N. Divisional Engineer there was received.

Tuesday evening a large gathering of citizens assembled in the Legion Memorial Centre to pay their respects and enjoy a social evening.

Legion President Glib Switzer represented the Legion and Manley Burleigh acted as MC for the evening. Mr. Switzer, on behalf of those present gave Mr. McIntyre a pen and pencil set and

Sacred Heart Parishioners Honor Father I. A. Shalla

Father I. A. Shalla was honored for his six years of pastoral work among parishioners of Sacred Heart Church on Sunday evening at a banquet prepared by ladies of the Catholic Women's League.

Distinguished guests for the occasion included Father G. Ehmman, his superior in the Redemptorist Order, and two fellow priests of the order, Fathers Sullivan and Kolb.

Another distinguished guest was Mr. Bill Connolly, District Deputy of the Grand Council Knights of Columbus for Alberta, who spoke on his regard for Father Shalla. Representing the civil authority of Edson were Mayor W. H. Kankarwill for the Town; President G. V. Bolton for the Board of Trade; Superintendent J. H. Finlay for the School Division; H. H. Cliffe for the Edson press and Mrs. Rose Whidden for the Catholic Women's League.

Chairman for the evening, Wm. Nigro, called on Vic Ruzato of Sacred Heart Parish to make the presentation to Father Shalla on behalf of his congregation.

All the speakers spoke glowingly of Father Shalla's devotion to the interests of his parishioners and thanked him for his untiring efforts during the heavy work of the building of the new church and rectory.

Father Ehmman gave an especially moving address and took the occasion to remind his listeners of how the civil, educational and business interests all form a part of the pattern of community life together with the spiritual authority represented by the church. During the course of his remarks Father Ehmman let slip that Father Shalla's nickname among his fellow priests in the redemptorist order was "Bo" to the undisputed glorie of the company present.

Father Shalla answered all the praise movingly and fittingly and the dinner reverted to a short entertainment period MC'd by Lorne Knoch.

No word has as yet been received of Father Shalla's successor at Sacred Heart, but it will be announced shortly. Following the Benediction at 8:00 p.m., District Deputy Connolly addressed a meeting of the men of the parish on the forming of a subcommittee of the K. of C.

Edson Boxing Card This Friday

The Edson Boys' Boxing Club are again presenting a card in the Legion Memorial Centre Friday, April 25, which will be featuring kids from Edson, Mervel and Edmonton.

Headliners will be Darrel Phillips, 121 lbs. of Mackay, and O. Cortiano, 134 lbs. of Italy, who will appear in a four-round bout.

24 local and district kids will box for the game's sake in three rounds which many of our parents and local fans have found highly entertaining.

At the last Council meeting re-irrigating Council McIntyre was given a standing ovation at the close of the meeting in appreciation by his fellow councillors of his work for the Town and especially his chairmanship of the profitable utilities committee.

At the Board of Trade, Mr. McIntyre was presented with a memento of his time in Edson and given the good wishes of those present by Manley Burleigh, who replaces him as director of the Board.

May 29th.

Lunch was served to complete the evening.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lema

Women's Travel Authority

Parking parallel to the curb in a narrow space seems to hold terrors for many a woman—yet's as easy as running your carpet sweeper clockwise. This swings the front (the "handle") end of the car out

Just remember that the rear wheels on your carpet sweeper not turn. So to manoeuvre the rear end of the car where you want it, you must swing the front end around, much as you swing the handle of the sweeper.

Bearing this comparison in mind, follow these simple steps next time you have to squeeze in to a space between two cars:

- (1) Measure the space by drawing alongside, making sure it is at least three feet longer than the length of your car.
- (2) Drive forward so that the rear bumper of your car is at the end of the parking space.
- (3) Shift to reverse and back up slowly, turning the steering wheel clockwise. This swings the front (the "handle") end of the car out and swings the hard-to-maneuvre rear wheels in.

- (4) When the rear wheel is two feet from the curb, twist the steering wheel hard in the opposite direction and the car will ease neatly into the space.

And don't forget to play extra safe when parking on a hill. Set the emergency brake, firmly, and leave the car in gear (low gear when headed up hill, reverse when headed down).

Harold Tanner To Report On Education

The Edson Young Liberals are proud indeed to announce that Harold Tanner, M.L.A., has consented to make the major address in its report on Education in Alberta, May 25th.

In his early life, Harold Tanner brings a wealth of first-hand information on education with him. He is Principal of Strathcona High School, and veteran of the teaching profession in Central Alberta.

Education and cultural development of young people have been his absorbing interest, and are reflected in his activities in civic government (formerly alderman of Edmonton), and now in provincial affairs.

Harold Tanner was born in Ontario and came west as a young man. He is married and has two daughters, one of whom is the wife of Donald Pim, drama teacher prominent in cultural circles in Central Alberta.

Three members of the Edson Young Liberals will report on the findings of its study group: Ross Carlson, Roy Yervex and Mary Marcell will speak with Mr. Tanner May 25th.

Marlboro Woman Gives Her Rare Blood For Baby

For the second time in just about a year a Marlboro woman, Mrs. Clara Hirondele, has given her blood to save the life of a new-born infant. This time the baby is in Oshawa, Ontario. Mrs. Hirondele has a rare type of blood classed as O RH and is one of only 25 known persons in the world who possess this type of blood. Of Mrs. Hirondele's sister, Mrs. Jean Calhoun, only seven are old enough to give blood for transfusions. Two of these live in the States and two in England.

Shortly after the Oshawa baby was born attending physicians noticed that he was developing a jaundice condition and suspected blood complications. The baby was taken to Toronto where his blood was typed and Saturday morning the country-wide facilities of the Red Cross went into action.

Dr. Donald Buchanan, medical director of the Red Cross in Edmonton received a call for the rare blood at 10:00 a.m. Saturday and immediately drove through Edson to Marlboro where he obtained the pint of blood from Mrs. Hirondele and was back in Edmonton seven hours later. The blood was then flown to Toronto by regular Trans-Canada flight.

A year ago Mrs. Hirondele was called on for blood to save the life of a Redwood City, California, baby.

Until Mrs. Hirondele was a patient in the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton a few years ago it was not known that she had the rare type of blood. At that time a routine blood check was made during an operation and other members of Mrs. Hirondele's family were also found to have the same type of blood.

Following the transfusion in Toronto the Oshawa baby is reported to be "fit and well."

School Division Offering Teacher Bursaries of $400

Minutes of the meetings of the Board of Trustees of the Edson School Division No. 12 held in the Board Room, Edson, Alberta, on March 15, 1936 and April 12, 1936.

Present at the meetings were Messrs. A. C. Gough, W. Williams, J. H. Lawton, H. G. Haddock, R. C. Frith, W. H. Kankewitt, Trustees; Superintendent J. M. Finlay and Secretary-Treasurer D. S. Blundell.

The chairman opened the meeting with the approval and adoption of the minutes for the previous meetings.

Nominations for Chairman and Vice-Chairman:—Mr. A. C. Gough and Mr. J. H. Lawton were elected unanimously to the positions of chairman and vice-chairman respectively, for the coming year. Committee:—The chairman appointed the members to the committees as follows:

Salary Negotiating Committee:—Mr. A. C. Gough, Mr. W. Williams, School Van Committee: Mr. J. H. Lawton, Mr. H. G. Haddock, Building Committee: Mr. W. H. Kankewitt, Mr. R. C. Frith.

Bursaries:—Moved that division offer the sum of $400.00 as a teacher bursary for the coming year and that each principal be advised and to encourage Grade XII students to enter the teacher training program.

Budget:—Moved that the budget as per attached copy be approved and adopted at a requisition in full rate of 25 mills.

By-law No. 7:—Was read for the first, second and third time and passed unanimously to borrow the sum of $184,000.00, by debenture, for the construction of an eight-roomed school at Hinton, Alberta, and the completion of the 1935 building program. Notices of such borrowing to be posted as required by the School Act of 1932.

Salt Vessels:—Moved that our medical health officer be authorized to administer salt vaccine to the five-year old (pre-school) children at the direction of the board.

Trustees Resignations:—Moved that, with deep regret, the board accept the resignations of Mr. W. H. Kankewitt as trustee for Subdivision No. 6 and Mr. R. C. Frith as trustee for Subdivision No. 5.

Local Boards:—Moved that the board authorize the formation of a local board in the Hinton area which is to be named the Hinton Central School Board and that the Department of Education be so advised.

Other matters discussed were: extension of Ivor Froland's van route, purchase of Hinton school site, report of the meeting with the Minister of Education, Mr. A. O. Aalberg, Hon. N. A. Willmore and Dr. W. H. Swift; budget deficit; further lands for the Wildwood site; sale of Gowansburg school; interview of Mr. D. McCulloch, architect; borrowing resolution; business of individual trustees; occupancy of the A. H. Oskin Elementary School; purchase of desks for the forthcoming year; salary negotiations; teacher appointments; payment of accounts; superintendent's and secretary-treasurer's monthly report.

Moved that the meeting be adjourned at 6:12 p.m. and meet for the next regular meeting on May 10, 1936 at 10:00 a.m.

Allen Sheppard was home for a few days following the completion of his first term at the U. of A.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Garvin of Edmonton were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pattinson at the weekend.

New Hinton Theatre To Open Next Tuesday

Hinton's eagerly awaited new theatre is to be opened on Tuesday evening by the Hon. Norman Willmore in a ceremony at 7:00 p.m. following which there will be a double showing of "Romeo and Juliet" at shortly after 7:00 and 9:45.

Everyone in the community is cordially invited by Mr. Montemurro to inspect the fine modern theatre building which will be able to accommodate over 500 patrons when the seats are all installed in the stage.

Local Vehicle Stolen And Wrecked

Last Friday evening about eleven o'clock, Jack Switky parked his car outside his place of business. Sometime between then and midnight the car was stolen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Garvin of Edmonton, about three thirty a.m., saw a car on its side about seventy five feet west of the railroad crossing at Pedley and upon investigating found it to be the Switky vehicle.

Damage on the stolen vehicle is estimated to be about six hundred dollars.

The RCMP have brought one of their dogs in from the city to try and trail the fellow who pinched Jack Switky's car, but the trail was too old, so there was no luck.

CIGARS LADS

GREWES—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Grewer at St. John's Hospital, Edson, on Tuesday, April 24, a son.

Banks Open Late Friday

Don Horn of the Royal Bank informs us that the banks in Hinton will now be open from 5:30 to 7:30 each Friday night to accommodate the men on paydays.

This fellow Popular Opinion who works for Poole was most unpopular around the site on Friday when we all turned to it at six a.m. so he could get away early on pay night.

Now we won't have to get away so early.

Hinton Bus Schedule

The bus from Edson which leaves for Hinton at 1:15 in the afternoon will now turn around and leave Hinton at 5:45 each afternoon.

Leaving Edson at 7:25 p.m. the bus will then arrive in Edmonton at 11:00 p.m.

According to bus officials another change is expected on May 15 when the bus will go through to Jasper as it has in previous years.

Bert Schoeppe To Manage Royaltie Co. Here

Meet a new resident of our town, Bert Schoeppe, who has come from Delta where he has been raising Aberdeen Angus cattle on a ranch there for the past eight years.

Now his family has about all grown up he has gone back into the oil business with the company he worked with before he started to raise cattle, the Royaltie Company. He is managing their bulk sales outlet here at Hinton which has just opened up. Mr. Schoeppe has two sons, Roy, is helping to get the DEW line ready, and Warren is Daughter Caroline is a nurse-in-training in the General Hospital in Calgary. She has been chosen as the nurse's representative for Queen's candidate in the Calgary Stampede this year. She will have someone to pull for in the Stampede this summer.

Mr. Schoeppe says all the family are looking forward to making their permanent home in Hinton. He and Mrs. Schoeppe really like the place and have run into several old chums since they have arrived here, among them George Ives, the columnist for the Herald. He and George used to play against each other back in the early days.

A second floor tenant called the party below and shouted, "If you don't stop playing that blasted saxophone, I'll go crazy."

"I guess it's too late," came the reply. "I stopped an hour ago."

Elaine Kennedy To Live As Bride In New Zealand

A quiet wedding took place on April 11th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Kennedy when their younger daughter, Winnie Elaine Kennedy, became the bride of Peter Gordon Aitchison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aitchison, of Wrayton Valley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a light green tulle suit with beige hat and shoes. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Bridesmaid was Miss Mickey Leonard who wore a light, gray suit with white hat and shoes. Her corsage was pink carnations. Gary Kennedy, brother of the bride, was best man.

Rev. L. L. Halliwell performed the marriage ceremony. After the signing of the register a buffet lunch was served. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a bride and groom in an archway decorated with orange blossoms. During the afternoon and evening many friends dropped in to extend best wishes to the bride and groom.

They left the following Sunday morning for New Zealand, where they will make their home.

WOULD HAVE BEEN 95

MISS SARAH MOORE

One of Edson's grand old ladies passed on last Sunday in an Edmonton hospital, when Miss Sarah Moore, who was known by all of the older Edson citizens, died at the age of 94. Miss Moore would have been 95 had she lived until May 28th.

Miss Moore came to Edson in 1916 from Winnipeg to work in the CNE restaurant for quite some time before opening a candy store on Main Street. She has been retired for a good many years and lived by herself until two years ago when her failing health made it necessary for her to have someone to look after her. Since that time she had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ball.

Miss Moore has been in increasingly poor health and has recently been hospitalized. She came originally from Scotland and has no known relatives.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE EDSON SCHOOL DIVISION NO. 12 OF THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA,

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Board of Trustees of the Edson School Division No. 12, of the Province of Alberta, that the sum of One Hundred and Eighty-Four Thousand ($184,000.00) dollars, should be borrowed on the security of the said Division by the issue of Debentures repayable to the lender in twenty (20) equal consecutive annual instalments with interest at the rate of not more than six per centum per annum for the following purposes, namely:

Build and equip an eight (8) roomed school at Hinton, Alberta. Complete buildings and grounds presently under construction.

Therefore notice is hereby given by the board of the said school Division that unless a call of the proprietary electors of the said school Division for and against the said debenture loan is demanded as provided by the School Act, the said board will apply to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for authority to borrow the said sum by debenture.

Of which all persons interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

Alfred C. Gough
Chairman

Dated at Edson, Alberta this 12th day of April, 1956

INSTRUCTIONS TO PROPRIETARY ELECTORS IN A SCHOOL DIVISION

A poll may be demanded in a School Division by a demand signed by five proprietary electors of each of at least twenty per cent of the districts in the Division.

Every demand for a poll must be delivered to the Secretary of the Division or, in his absence, to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, within fifteen days after the date of posting or of its last publication in a newspaper of this province. A certified copy of the demand must be forwarded forthwith to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of Alberta at Edmonton.

"Proprietary elector" means an elector, who is liable to assessment and taxation for school purposes in respect of any property situated in the School Division.

Last weekend, the Rt. Rev. Howard H. Clark, Bishop of Edmonton visited the Mission. Sunday morning he celebrated the Eucharist at Postville and in the evening administered the Sacrament of Confirmation in the Parish Church at Edson.

Those receiving Confirmation were Robert Sykes, Michael Politt, Calvin Rowan, Michael Raven, Edwin Preece, David Osbourne, Devey Kilpatrick, Douglas Caston, Dwight Boies, Myrie Tanton, John Warton, James Cheshire, Maureen Preece, Corinne Field, Linda Sykes, Lynda Trevison, Louise Trevison, Betty Thompson, Mrs. Grace Jorgensen, Gwyneth Bevan and Trudi Forsythe. Earlier in the day the Bishop confirmed Mrs. Catherine Usher and Lloyd Usher at Robb. Monday evening at a service at Hornbeck, the vicar presented Carol Lotnik, Sharon Lytkin and Jean Lytkin to the Bishop for Confirmation. The first Communions were made on Monday and Tuesday with the Lord Bishop as celebrant.

At the reception Sunday evening following the Confirmation in Edson, a farewell presentation was made to the Sykes family, who have left this week to make their home in the city of Edmonton.

Through the Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG
The Edmonton Presbytery met last week, and in its discussions was the cause of a temporary closure of the study window. Now that spring weather has permitted some clean-up activities, literary endeavours are always likely to be side tracked. The United Church is governed by courts known as presbyteries, conferences and General Council. These courts are not legal tribunals, but free assemblies for debate, formulation of policies and for the furtherance of the work of the church. One of the interesting things the church has been doing is the establishing of camps. At Burprase Lake a camp site is being developed, especially for the benefit of those of us who live in this western area. At Pigeon Lake a very large site, of about 200 acres, has been secured, to provide camping facilities for the boys and girls in the city of Edmonton and in the regions to the south of the city. In addition to practical activities, the church is concerned over the development of a sensitivity in moral issues. What has happened is that the church courts very often are seeking to promote standards of conduct that are not unanimously accepted by the rank and file of the membership. Perhaps for some time now that there is an appearance of a rift or schism within the church. The church officially advocates one course of action, and the members behave quite otherwise on many occasions. This divergence of behaviour is notable when the church attempts to deal with some complex moral problems, such as gambling, alcoholism and the like. The church preachers, against gambling, alcoholism and the like still continue to take part in raffles, lotteries, and sweepstakes. It advocates total abstinence, but many of its followers drink. For those who are not much interested in church life the church may seem therefore to be a house divided, and bound to fall. For those who look upon the church as the body wherein its members are being changed and transformed the church is still the chosen instrument of God to accomplish his work of redemption.

armies suffered a great casualty list of more than sixty-five thousand men in the action, more than twenty thousand of these casualties being fatal. The Canadian Corps, attacking in the centre of the line was a force of more than twenty thousand men.

We did a research article on Vimy Ridge more than twenty years ago and interviewed a number of survivors who had actually participated in the big battle. Most of them told us that their own experiences were confined to a very narrow channel and what they could observe was only a small part of the overall offensive action. We heard the good natured banter among the Veterans at last year's banquet staged by the Camrose Legion, about what time the miracle of the snow storm happened. None seemed agreed, other than with out the snow the action might have proved a failure.

Theo Bailey's short talk on the training leading up to the action was colorful and informative, where every detail was taped off for the troops to rehearse over and over, and timed to the minute. The Vimy action was supported by the greatest artillery barrage ever known in modern warfare, up to that time, yet the peak of Vimy Ridge yielded only after stubborn action lasting two days. The Germans were thoroughly entreated.

It was the miracle of the snow storm that permitted the Canadian troops to gain a foothold and create an unbreakable position for the defenders.

One of the most interesting interviews we have ever made on Vimy Ridge was with Earl Anderson of Carleton Place. At first approach he was overcome and the memory failed him. In the evening of that day he visited our home and his memory unfolded the action most clearly, with vivid descriptions of the action that centered around the small section in which he participated and all the aftermath of the great battle.

Anderson was among those delegated to bury the dead. One must remember that the Ridge had been the scene of heavy fighting previous to the battle in which the Canadian troops participated. The French lost sixty thousand men and most of the 136-foot high hill and most of these dead were strewn over the grounds with very little earth cover. When the artillery barrage was directed upon the ridge the dead from the previous battle were churned up and the sight and smell was pretty grim.

Following the great battle a common grave was trenched out, said Mr. Anderson, and more than twelve thousand dead were buried there. In addition to these the German dead were taken back of the lines and interred by their own people.

Reverting back to the remarks of Theo Bailey, and tying in remarks made by Sidney Wood when he spoke to the Veterans in Camrose on Vimy Night, the stature of Canada matured in the eyes of the world for the part the twenty-thousand men from Canada took in that one particular battle. Before this Canada was just one more colony of Great Britain in eyes of the World.

After Vimy, Canada was a dominion in her own right. It was the quality of her men that made the difference. It is well to associate other phases of the war with the battle of Vimy. At Verdun, the French army was beaten blood white.

The Germans kept up a constant attack to break through and all but succeeded. More than a million French soldiers died in the Battle Verdun. More than 750,000 attacking Germans also died in the tremendous conflict at Verdun. Vimy was designed as a strategy to draw off some of the German attacking power.

The victory of the Canadians in taking the high ridge, which dominated the stalemated battle lines, pierced the heart of German high command and gave the first ray of hope on the part of the Allies for a military victory. It might also be stated that the battle of Vimy Ridge took place within days after the Americans entered the war, following the ruthless sinking of the Lusitania off the Irish Coast.

But, as Sidney Wood said Monday night, the ranks of the Vimy veterans are getting thinner year by year, but the spirit that dominated these men and made victory possible should never be permitted to die.

An enjoyable time was had at the home of Mrs. Beck Jr. last weekend when, as well as relatives and friends of the district, had as visitors, her new great-grandson and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Murray Beck as well as Mrs. Charles Beck. Mrs. Beck's daughter, Mrs. Les Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jacobson from Edmonton and Mrs. Bar from Redelliff, Alberta.

They were busy saving their logs. Mrs. Frank Novotny and her niece, Miss Alice Novotny have left for Vancouver to visit relatives.

Carrot Creek W.I. Meets

The April meeting of the C.C. W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. J. Morris. There were seven members present and two visitors. Of the visitors Mrs. Tom King became a new member bringing the roll up to twelve members.

Mrs. Helen Henault was acting secretary in the absence of Mrs. (Irene)

Mrs. Foudrier gave a report on pulp and paper and read an article on 'Cat-Tails' which was very interesting.

Mrs. Grace Novotny gave her report on the District Conference which she attended as a delegate. Mrs. J. Keilbach also a report on her activities as 'Consultative' (venue at the Conference).

It was decided to sing a song at each meeting. As the W.I. have abolished the quilt making competition the branch decided each member would submit an article to the handicraft competition.

The Canadian Association of Consumers was discussed. The 'C.A.C.' is a body of housewives united in this association to study consumer problems and urge manufacturers to live up to the "Canada Standard Act," seeing to it that the commodities we

Edson Town Population Near 3000 Mark

The Edson Leader

The Voice of Edson Constituency

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, May 3, 1936 No. 4

VIC MAKES A PRESENTATION

Genial Vic Rizzuto was given the privilege of making the presentation to Father I. A. Shella on behalf of the Sacred Heart Parish at a parish dinner in Ft. Shella's honor Sunday afternoon April 22.

In the foreground as caught by the Leader's camera, are Father Sullivan of Wildwood and Entwistle, and Board of Trade President G. V. Bolton, who were present together with distinguished Redemptorist brothers and a number of representative citizens from the town to honor the well-loved parish priest.

Father Shella leaves for a new parish after having shop-herded his congregation here for six years during which time construction of the fine new church and rectory were substantially completed.

Farmers Urged To Get Names In For Power

Farmers who are interested in getting in the rural power setups are asked to get their forms into Calgary Power company by the 15th of May.

Mr. Harold Chapman has volunteered to take the forms in Edson or any representative of the FUA can take them as well.

Farmers who have not received a form to fill in can get one by contacting Mr. Chapman.

Town census taker Bill York rushed into the Town Office the other day to report that Edson was only eleven short of reaching the 3000 population mark now that another baby had been born at St. John's Hospital.

However Secretary-Treasurer Gregg has already sent in the official Town census as being 2989 so we will have to be 12 short of the 3000 mark for the next year as far as the Provincial Government is concerned.

Towns and Villages take annual censuses in Alberta to establish the per capita grant which the Provincial Government pays to municipalities as our share of the money received from gasoline and oil taxes, amusement taxes, etc.

This figure does not include the growing population on Edson's outskirts which taken into account would probably run our "greater Edson" population to over 3600 or even 3700.

No accurate count has been taken recently of Glenwood, Grande Prairie Trail, "Millerville" or the North Road populations, but new buildings are arising in all these places every year.

One of the interesting questions asked is how long will Edson be able to maintain its edge over the mushrooming town of Hinton? We have heard of more than one wager on this outcome.

In the meantime watch our Edson grow column.

Five Start VLA Course

Five prospective home builders under the scheme have been under the Veterans Land Act made have registered to take the. The scheme is in addition to course on home building, plan the "small holding" type of home financing and financing which is being building which was popular after instructed by representatives of the war. Veterans are now VLA here.

Classes are held each Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Leitch Memorial Centre and of the home builder do as much of it as applications to build homes able and capable of doing.

Edson's Early Days

We forget the name of the author, who, in the not too distant past, wrote, in effect, that it was a wise country which fostered in its people the desire to explore and know its own history. To this end we have been publishing in recent issues, pictures and stories of old landmarks of Edson.

We are of the opinion that a really deep appreciation of the history of Edson must be based on an appreciation of what has transpired in the hearts and minds of our pioneers, and their efforts which have been so instrumental in bringing us thus far along the way to our present place of achievement.

Modesty on the part of our remaining pioneers, perhaps tends to dull our perception as we listen to their tales of the past. But the quick gleam of still keen eyes, as they speak of such and such a hotel, built in such and such a year, or the fond old handling of an old type rifle, as they speak of trials and tribulations on the Grand Prairie Trail, or the rambling days of construction on the Canadian Northern or the Grand Trunk Railway, all tell a story, which are not adequately expressed, in a lot of cases by the spoken word.

Our history is our great possession. The Leader is proud to be able to do its part to help revive it, relive it, and commit this history to black and white before the contemporaries of our earlier days are no longer with us.

Cut Out The U-Turns

Our urban development has reached the stage where the Town Fathers should give serious consideration to the complete banning of U-Turns on our main street between first avenue and sixth avenue.

It is a phase in our growing maturity which is perhaps a little overdue, but better late than never. The opening of the new Federal Building on May 15, with consequent increased traffic in this respect, makes it a favorite U-turning point of ninety per cent of our motorist public.

We look with whole-hearted appreciation upon the town efforts in clearing the area between second and third avenues east of 49th Street for parking area. It will relieve in an immense degree our over-taxed parking facilities, and no doubt save a considerable amount of wear and tear on motorists' nerves, gasoline and tires.

No limit in the course of things, the Town Council will legislate in this general direction, and the Leader is ready with a hearty handshake and hurrah for any such efforts.

THE CAPITOL REPORTS

The Alberta Scene

BY KEN MASON

Edmonton-Alberta may be on the threshold of its first experiment with producer - controlled marketing boards. At this point, no one knows how far it will go.

The Alberta Poultry Federation and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture have drawn up an egg marketing board plan for submission to the provincial government. There was a possibility it might be presented this week to Premier Manning, Agriculture Minister L. C. McInnes and other cabinet ministers.

Ray C. Marler, president of the AFA, says the plan calls for a provincial board to regulate the egg industry. He estimates that as many as 90,000 producers may be involved.

But before anything is done the AFA officials and the government must iron out some administrative details. As yet, no regulations have been drawn up under the controversial marketing board bill passed during the special session of the legislature last summer.

For example, how many eggs must a man market to be regarded as a qualified producer and be permitted to vote for or against a marketing board?

Under the procedure outlined in the bill, a plan must first be submitted to the cabinet if the cabinet approves the plan, the government can create a plebiscite vote among the eligible producers. If 51 per cent of the eligible producers are in favor a board is established.

Mr. Marler says the AFA has doubts whether it can gain enough support from 51 per cent of the poultry producers to make them get out and vote in favor. But if one matter does come to vote it should provide an indication of how Alberta farmers feel towards marketing boards.

During the special session of the house last year, the AFA fought vigorously to have the voting restrictions relaxed. They asked that the bill require a two-thirds majority of those actually turned out and vote rather than a majority of all those eligible to vote.

His argument was that civic and provincial elections prove too many citizens can't be bothered voting. They felt it unfair that a man could help to defeat a marketing board simply by staying at home.

Executive of the AFA feel an actual test case may prove their point. If the poultry board reaches a vote, and is defeated by a small majority, you can expect the AFA to renew its demands for easier voting requirements.

The vote may also provide a clearer answer to the question of whether Alberta farmers actually want to control their own marketing boards. Many members of the legislature claimed the AFA and the Farmers Union of Alberta had failed to prove existence of a popular demand.

In the legislature the bill sparked a controversy which split through party lines. A few members on both sides opposed it, mainly because of certain compulsory features.

Once a marketing board is set up it would have wide powers. Even producers who vote against a board would have to market their produce through the board if it were produced by the board.

Some of the questions which arose around the issue may be answered if and when the proposed egg marketing board goes to a province wide vote.

Although Mr. Marler and his executives don't hold out much hope for success, they are looking for more ammunition to throw at the government in an effort to get a marketing bill more to their liking. "We can't go back to them at least until we give it a try," he said. So that's what we're going to do.

☆ ☆
"Daddy, how jealous our dog is of my new Parakeet," called the teenage to her father who was reading the evening paper.

"He's not jealous. Just wants to make friends with it," ventured her father in replying.

A short time later he heard a shriek from the next room. His daughter appeared at the doorway clutching one slim fellow.

"What happened?" he asked. "We were both hungry," she sobbed. He was hungry.

☆ ☆
"So Doris has gone back to live with her husband?" "Yes, she couldn't bear to hear of him having such a good time."

United Church To Build Manse On Corner Of Fifth

At a congregational meeting in Edson United Church a building committee was appointed and authorized to take all necessary steps for the erection of a new manse.

The plans call for a manse to be built on the corner of 5th and 48th street, immediately east of the RCMP barracks.

Members of the building committee are Mrs. C. Trapp, Mrs. H. Hansen, Messrs. A. W. Leonard, M. Hansen, G. Mahon, K. Robins, H. Switzer, V. Wilson, J. C. Pyper, St. members of the finance committee are E. Hunter, J. Pattinson, G. Bolton and Mrs. A. W. Leonard.

It is planned to start construction shortly.

EAA To Elect New Officers

The annual meeting of the Edson Athletic Association has been called for Wednesday, May 8, in the Legion Hall at 8:00 p.m.

The financial statement for the past year will be presented and the election of officers for the ensuing year will be taking place.

All sports minded young people are urged to turn out to give a boost to the sports association which sponsors hockey and baseball in particular, but has in the past sparkplugged other worthwhile endeavors as well.

To Convene Silver Tea

Mrs. Walter McIntyre who will be moving to Regina with her husband, is shortly following his transfer by the CNR, will be conducting the Silver Tea.

The Silver Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Kankewitt from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. McIntyre will be ably assisted by Mrs. Kankewitt, Mrs. P. Marshall, Mrs. E. Barker and Mrs. H. Bacon.

Mrs. Steve Butcher left last weekend to make her home in Cadomin with her husband, who is employed with the cement company there.

In the bottom picture instructor Eleanor Goldstick looks on as two of the girls do their stuff. Miss Goldstick assures us that her dancers are enthusiastically looking forward to putting on the revue of their year's work and promises an enjoyable evening of entertainment for young and old, when they put on the show for the evenings of May 11th and 12th.

Donate Bread For Uniforms

The Honeybees baking company have donated 2000 loaves of bread to the Edson Midget baseball club to sell so that they can raise money for uniforms.

Local company representative in this area, Lee Dunphy, is organizing the boys for the selling campaign, so that the kids will be able to enter the Alberta Midget playoffs this year.

Last year the team was known as the Edson Outlaws, now they will round the diamond as the "Edson Honeybees."

The Voice of Edson Community

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, April 26, 1936 No. 3

Chas. St. Denis Nominated As School Trustee

Hinton.—An informal gathering of interested persons was held on Thursday evening, April 23, in the mill offices of North Western Pulp & Power Limited. Mr. Wm. Seltzer acted as chairman and Mr. J. Finlay, superintendent of the Edson School Division, very graciously answered queries as to the school situation and the eight room school to be built this summer on the new town site.

Mr. Finlay reminded those present that there was presently a vacancy for sub-division 5 of the school division, due to the recent resignation of a trustee. He outlined briefly the duties of a school trustee and the qualifications of an elector.

After much discussion Mr. Charles St. Denis, chief accountant of the Woodlands Division North Western Pulp & Power Limited was nominated as trustee for sub-division 5 of the Edson School Division.

Mr. Finlay said also that it was very difficult for the Edson School Division to accurately forecast the number of pupils who will be attending school in Hinton. However, he hoped to have more accurate information from various sources within the next two or three weeks.

Hinton.—Sure nice to see the road boys back to work after the long holiday. —Mrs. Hollington down near Skoggs, she says Hinton is wonderful after the mud of the central prairies.

SPRING COMES TO THE McLEOD

This is a familiar scene to anyone living near any of the larger rivers in the district, when the spring break-up occurs. This particular scene was taken on one of our local rivers, but it has been duplicated times over in the past few weeks. We can realize, watching the McLeod or even smaller streams in the fury of their breaking the bonds of winter ice and are carrying the burden of the spring surplus of water, how rivers with lesser banks than we have here, go over these banks to inundate miles of farmlands and cause thousands of dollars of damage to property. We can be thankful that the McLeod is a pretty well behaved river.

HINTON HI-LITES

Nearly 1000 At Theatre Opening

The crowd stretched back for a block in a double and triple line at seven o'clock Tuesday when the much awaited opening of the New Hinton Theatre took place.

The over 500 seat capacity of the new theatre was overtaxed to accommodate the crowd and some had to leave to return with the over 300 people who filled the theatre after nine o'clock to see "Rose Marie" in its grandeur of the Rockies photographed just west of Hinton at Sharning in Jasper National Park.

In addition to the most modern sound and projection equipment the theatre boasts a "cry room" which was filled to capacity Tuesday evening with mothers with children. Indirect lighting in the theatre proper, modern wide screen and oil fired automatic heating are features of modern theatre building.

While the show itself was "on the house" the popcorn stand did a roaring trade and Mesdames Fuller and O'Hara were in the lobby to sell tickets on the Cancer Society's raffle in aid of the local drive for funds.

On hand for the ribbon cutting ceremony was the Hon. Norman Willmore, minister of lands and forests, and senior officials of the pulp company, and friends of Mr. A. M. Montemurro from all over Alberta.

Mr. Gordon McNab of Woodlands Division of the mill acted as introductory speaker for the evening and paid tribute to

Mr. Montemurro for the evening and for building the theatre during the 40 below weather. Mr. Eric Potter, municipal at-fair development officer for the area paid tribute to Mr. Montemurro for providing a fine entertainment facility and mentioned that he knew that "Monty" would be active in community affairs just as he had been in other Alberta communities where he had lived.

Mr. Roy Morton of H. A. Strong Ltd., reminded the audience that it was less than a year ago May 21 that the first cleaning activities began on the mill site. He said that it was a great thing to see the theatre and everything else that had come in the interim.

Mr. Willmore, after congratulating his former colleague in the Alberta Legislature, went on to tell his listeners that the Hinton development can lay claim to being the largest single industrial development which has come to Alberta.

He paid tribute to the men and women who are our modern pioneers in building up the community of Hinton and held out hope that housing facilities and other conveniences will be adequate in the one or two town sites now being planned. It is his hope he said that the benefits of modern civilization can be brought to this part of the province as speedily as possible.

Mr. E. Haugen of J. E. Rice & Co. who supplied the modern projection room equipment, congratulated Mr. Montemurro on his fine modern theatre and explained that the large wide screen and the latest equipment will make possible the best in theatre film presentation at Hinton now.

Mr. Montemurro himself expressed his thanks and said how glad he was to see so many out for the opening. He promised that in the future the management intended to get the very best in motion pictures.

He was very glad of having the privilege of living among the people of Hinton, he told his audience, and held out the promise of the old free Saturday matinee to the children if they would be like little ladies and gentlemen while in his theatre.

He thanked the crew who worked so hard to put up the building in such cold weather and all the officials who put so many conveniences at his disposal during the construction period.

In winding up Mr. Montemurro asked for a big hand for all who helped with the theatre, especially Mr. Herman Vanderburg for driving the first pile, Mr. Walls the foreman, and Mr. Jim Tourish the crew's cook.

A new York City fashion designer has created a summer wardrobe of burlap. For the enjoyment of sweet-potato mashers, no doubt.

Bishop Clark And Newly Confirmed

The Right Reverend Howard M. Clark with the class of newly confirmed church members of St. Catherine's Anglican Church, Edson, is shown with the class after the special ceremony in the church on Sunday evening, April 23.

Those receiving confirmation were Robert Sykes, Michael Paul, Calvin Kewen, Michael R. van, Edwin Pross, David G. Bourne, Dewey Kilpatrick, Douglas C. Cullen Jr., Dwight Soman, Myrtle Tasson, John Warton, James Cheshire, Maurine Pross, Corinne Field, Linda Redwin, Betty Thompson, Mrs. Grace Jorgensen, Guyvorth B. van and Trefl Parfitt. A reception for the Bishop was held in the Parish Hall following the ceremony.

This Sunday and the three days following are called Rogation Days when the church asks our special prayer for the farmer and the husbandman at seed time and that God will preserve to our use the fruits of the earth in their season. In a nation such as ours where we know little of real hunger and famine as so plagues many people in the world it is also a time to acknowledge the gracious goodness of God who preserves to our use the fruits of the earth in their season. It is also a reminder of our stewardship of his manifold gifts and a call away from our innate selfishness and self contentedness. Tuesday is one of the great feasts of the year when we commemorate the Ascension of our Lord Jesus Christ into heaven bringing to an end the great Forty days of Easter tide of which we read in the front lection versus of the Acts of the Apostles. This will be celebrated with a Sung Eucharist in the Parish church at 7:30 a.m. followed by a snack in the clergy house.

THROUGH THE Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

Mother's Day is the second Sunday in May. This is the occasion for the sacrament of infant baptism, and for a family gathering in the church, to honor motherhood.

One of the tasks that falls mainly upon mothers is that of feeding the members of the household. It requires patience, imagination and courage. Human beings must function in spite of a deluge of foods bearing strange names, and ready-made. There used to be a food was called "Dreftus Puddin'." The manufacturer changed the name to "Bek-tus Puddin'." In my opinion a mother must study the culinary arts with some care. Calories, vitamins, carbohydrates, proteins and the like should not just be tossed into the oven, but be cooked with care. A strict observance of protocol will prevent all manner of discomfort and even stress after oven revolts.

A good cook is interested in the food that nourishes, but a good mother is also interested in spiritual food. For her the Promised Land is one where the physical needs of her household will be met. In Scriptural terms, it was a land flowing with milk and honey. A mother must study the culinary arts with some care. Calories, vitamins, carbohydrates, proteins and the like should not just be tossed into the oven, but be cooked with care. A strict observance of protocol will prevent all manner of discomfort and even stress after oven revolts.

Round seven: K. McKee—Bill Collin; Bob Johnson—Art Kunkel; Mel Hodgson—Lee Burnett; Mr. Armstrong—Bye.

The first player plays white in all instances. Games may be arranged to suit the convenience of the opponents. A best of three final will be played between the winners of the two classes. Results should be phoned in to K. McKee at 577 in the winner. Any dispute will be dealt with according to the Rules as published by the Canadian Chess Federation. An attempt should be made to complete all games by June 15.

CNR ANNOUNCES NEW DIVISION ENGINEER FOR THIS DISTRICT

THIS DISTRICT

Mr. Donald E. Eckford has been named divisional engineer according to an announcement from Winnipeg this week. He will replace Mr. J. H. McLean, who has been transferred to Regina. The move is one of a series of transfers in the engineering department of the railway affecting Winnipeg, Regina, Port Arthur and Edmonton.

William C. Richardson, former divisional engineer at Regina has been transferred to Winnipeg as divisional engineer, Port Arthur and Edmonton, succeeding the late H. A. Connor.

Mr. Richardson was born in Saskatchewan and started railroading as an engineering student in the CNR. He held a number of positions there and at Prince Albert, Melville and Winnipeg, before being named roadmaster at Dauphin in 1940. He had been division engineer at Regina since July, 1945.

Mr. McIntyre was born on a Manitoba farm and started with Walter B. McLearty, division engineer at Edson, Alberta, moves to Regina, succeeding Mr. Richardson, and Donald H. Eckford, assistant division engineer at Port Arthur takes over from Mr. McLearty at Edson.

Thomas E. Dolphin, assistant engineer, Winnipeg, has been transferred to Port Arthur, succeeding Mr. Eckford, and Jerry J.

Mr. Dolphin a native of Prince Albert, started as instrumentman with the CNR at Edmonton in 1900. He moved to Winnipeg in the same position in 1901 and in June, 1901, became resident engineer and, in 1903, assistant engineer in Winnipeg.

Mr. Pomor started with the CNR as instrumentman at Port Arthur in 1901. Two years later he became junior assistant engineer, Manitoba district, then moved to Kamloops as junior assistant engineer in 1904. He was appointed assistant engineer there in August, 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Linkert and family have returned to Edison from New Zealand.

Senior Baseball Game Sunday

First game of what should be a good season of baseball is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at the local Memorial Park when the Mackay nine will meet the Edison Athletics at 2:00 p.m.

The fine weather we have been having this month has done a good job of drying up the diamond and ball fans can get back into the swing of watching their favorite sport, weather permitting.

EAA To Meet

The Edison Athletic Association is to try again to get a turnout to discuss the July First Sports and elect officers with a meeting in the Legion Memorial Centre on Wednesday, May 16, at 8:00 p.m.

Making Good

WALTER KAASA
A former Edison boy has again received recognition with his appointment as co-ordinator of cultural activities for the province. It was announced in Edmonton this week. His many Edison friends who remember his intense interest in the ice carnival and dramatics while going to school here are not surprised and congratulations are in order. Walter!

ELKS NAME ENTWISTLE MAN THEIR NEW DISTRICT DEPUTY

The annual district meeting of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was held in Spens's Hall at Jasper this past week and elected D. Daniel of Entwistle Lodge as District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler for the ensuing year.

Presiding at the convention was retiring D.D.G.E.R. Harvey Switzer of Edison. Delegates from Gainford, Drayton Valley, Entwistle, Edison, Mercoal and Jasper Lodges were in attendance.

In the ritualistic competitions the Entwistle team with the new D.D.G.E.R. in charge, received 90 points to win the district cup for the event. The Jasper Lodge's team came second with 84 2/3 and Gainford received 83 points.

One of the guest speakers for the occasion was the Exalted Ruler from Melville, B.C. Jasper Park Band under the baton of Frank Darlow provided music for the conference which was climaxed by refreshments provided by the ladies of the Jasper Lodge O.O.R.F. Exalted Ruler George Knight of the Jasper Lodge B.P.O.E. was in charge of arrangements for the convention.

Federal Building Will Open This Friday

Official arrangements have now been made for the opening of Edison's new federal building by the Hon. George Prudham, Minister of Lands and Technical Surveys, on Friday afternoon, May 18, at 3:00 p.m.

The Federal Minister is to be the principal speaker for the occasion and a cordial invitation has been extended to the public to inspect the fine, permanent type of building.

A community banquet is also scheduled for 6:00 p.m. in the Edison Legion Memorial Centre for which tickets are being sold ($1.25) on behalf of the Edison Ladies' Liberal Association by various members.

The building is a credit to Edison and District and this is a good opportunity to see the whole building before it is occupied by the Post Office and the National Employment Service office.

Sports Transfusion Needed

The poor attendance at the annual meeting of the Edison Athletic Association was a disappointment to the few hard working officers who have kept this organization going during the past several years.

The association has been financial and organizational base from which most of the spectator sports flourished from the early 1920s when it was formed. In latter years its chief functions have been to keep hockey going in the winter and baseball in the summer.

At times such popular sports as the football league which has had scores of enthusiastic players and supporters have worked separate from the parent sports body and at times they have been sparkplugged by an enthusiastic acting as a committee chairman under the wing of the EAA.

Whether this is a top-heavy arrangement or not, it has worked well in many instances through the years when a new sports enthusiasm has needed an initial boost of funds to get it going.

Instances along this line are the football league and the boys boxing club, which go on to stand on own feet. Along this line the EAA has helped mid-get and juvenile teams go forth and compete in provincial playdowns that otherwise would have been financially out of the question.

The credo in the EAA's constitution is that the association will foster and where necessary sponsor sport in our town. This has been done through the years.

It is interesting to recall how many of the presidents and other officers of this association first saw community service in the ranks of the EAA's executive to later serve their community on a broader basis as councillors, school trustees and in several notable instances as mayor.

There is a need this year for our young sports minded citizens to step up and assume a share of community service work. It's for a good cause.

What Is Tourist Service Week?

Tourist Service Week, May 6 to 12, is Canada's traditional spring campaign stressing the needs and desires of all who visit and travel in our country. Since 1946 Tourist Service Week has provided a recurring occasion for special attention to tourist trade problems by all appropriate provincial, regional and municipal authorities, local businessmen's associations, shops, restaurants, hotels, motels, resorts, service clubs, the schools, the press, radio and TV.

While Tourist Service Week is only one week in the year, its message to Canadians is something for them to act on every week of the year round - to own communities and of all Canada as hosts to all visitors.

The widespread benefits of a healthy "Visitor Industry" are felt first at the local level where visitors are to correct the mistaken idea that proceeds of tourist activity such as accommodation and transportation. The fact is, everybody benefits. Whatever you happen to do for a living whether you're in industry, farming, trade or some other business or profession - you can be sure that some part of your income originally came from VISITORS to your community or your country.

THE UNITED NATIONS

By MRS. D. MENAULT
U.N. Officer Carrot Creek W.V.

More and more institutions and organizations are studying and obtaining more knowledge of the work of the United Nations. The U.N. of course covers a considerable field, we may never learn all there is to know about its many branches. However we will try and cover the social and economic organizations, that we as W.I. members are most concerned with.

It is surprising how many of us (myself included) tend to think of the U.N. as nothing but a group of politicians "beating their brains out" trying to settle matters between the West and the Iron Curtain countries. They do have a time of it, but I am afraid we can do very little in this category. However we can (and I know we have) really taken an active part in the organizations that have to do with feeding the starving, healing the sick, and educating the illiterate masses.

Here are some of the groups that we will look into:

1. UNICEF, which stands for United Nations International Children's Fund, this has been known to be the greatest child welfare effort of all time. The UNICEF not only gives advice, but also provides the medicine and equipment and teaches the natives how to apply them.

The aim of WHO is to break the vicious circle - sickness breeding poverty and poverty breeding sickness. They have an advisory service which provides consultants to help in the local people, while they teach the local people. For example, in the battle against malaria one and a half million people but the total number of people protected by the methods they use.

WE LAUGHED AT THESE

The teenage daughter was very late home. "I came we should have got back from the dance earlier, Dad, but Bob knew some new steps."

"Well, you didn't have to sit on them till three o'clock in the morning," grumbled her father.

"Can you help me," petitioned the sleek customer, "select a gift for a wealthy old aunt who is awfully weak and can hardly walk?"

The astute clerk considered, then suggested, "How about some flax seed?"

"It'll soon be time for mankind to put on its annual sustenance for the animal kingdom. Crowds will be flocking to the zoo."

We hope to buy inexpensive costume jewelry. Home picks out such expensive costumes to go with our selections.

Fashion's "line" is what women take to the stores as new dress creations are advertised.

taught amounted to more than 50 million.

3. UNESCO the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization, everyone has the right to an Education and it is their hope to make it a reality all over the world. One of the major projects of this organization is the establishment of a network of regional centres with facilities to train teachers. They have made great progress already in this field, and hundreds of natives of Ceylon are teaching the children of their own race.

4. FAO is the Food and Agricultural Organization whose main aim is to help raise the standard of living in all nations and to increase the efficiency of farming, forestry, and fisheries. This is of great importance as it widens the opportunities for all the people in the nation, and, through new agricultural methods they are greatly increasing the food supply in primitive eastern countries.

The UN now has an Exchange Program which by the means of exchange we can step into another country and learn much about them, while we in turn send them our program. Some things that can be exchanged are letters, photographs, maps of our area, games and participation, also recipes and songs.

There is also a Gift Coupon Plan by which groups can send their personalized gifts up to the value of $10.00, to other groups in foreign lands. Their need is so intense over there that this is a very worthwhile gift.

It is the aim of the United Nations to maintain peace in all nations, and with the ever working changes in liquor laws, per-

THE CAPITOL REPORTS

The Alberta Scene

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON—Starting June 18, eight members of the Alberta legislature will begin the ticklish job of revamping the liquor laws and making them conform as much as possible to what everyone would like.

June 18 is the date public hearings will start in the capital city, according to a recent announcement by Edgar H. Gerhart, Social Credit member for Edmonton and chairman of the special committee set up at this year's session of the legislature.

From a political standpoint the committee's job is a tough one, because the liquor question will be the outcome of the lie year Control Act in many years. Nothing will be known definitely until the committee presents its report at then next session of the legislature.

For example, the committee will hear from the Women's Christian Temperance Union which uses the label temperance but practices the total abstinence; the Alberta Hotel Association, which couldn't be blamed for wanting to protect the monopoly it enjoys; restaurant operators, who may want to get in a good thing and police forces, which will want liquor laws easier to enforce than the so-called ones.

For this preliminary hat, it would appear that submission to the committee will be somewhat on the prejudiced side.

It also would appear that every one will be represented but the consumer - the average Joe who enjoys the occasional drink. Mr. Gerhart has announced that brief testimony will be accepted only from organizations, and not from individuals.

However, from announcements to date it appears the committee will be deluged with briefs from organizations which have axes to grind, and it won't be a small task to sift through the arguments and come up with a fair answer.

Perhaps it may be that way, for what individual could speak on behalf of the whole province? But isn't it unfortunate that there is no organization which can present the unbiased view of the average citizen?

Observers can do nothing but speculate about what the committee is likely to recommend. If any major changes are made, they will be made to relax the existing restrictions against drinking. The only other alternatives are to leave the laws in foreign lands, or introduce prohibition, and most people are convinced prohibition won't work.

Recent investigations in B.C. and Manitoba have led to sweeping changes in liquor laws, permitting establishment of cocktail bars and other outlets. Of course there is no guarantee that this will happen in Alberta. The situation here is different in some respects. For example, Premier Manning's religious activities oblige him to sit astride the fence. He feels personally that liquor does society no good whatever, and many of his supporters, who admire him for his religious convictions, feel the same way.

On the other hand the premier did not pick a group of hoteliers to make up the liquor committee. The only liquor-reviver is J. Percy Richard, Wolf Creek; Mr. Pagen, incidentally, Mr. Pagen is one of the most vigorous opponents for liquor law reforms on the ground that far too much liquor is consumed in the province.

Presumably, Premier Manning also feels large sections of the province's population regard the existing liquor laws as antiquated and outmoded. Many members of the Social Credit caucus feel this way, and have been pressing for changes.

Along with changes to bring the laws up to date, the committee also is expected to look into the question of preventing problem drinking, and likely will come up with suggestions for treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics.

For the record, members of the committee not already named are: Social Creditors: Chester Sayre, Camrose; Ira McLaughlin, Grande Prairie; Harry Strom, Cypress; Gerhart is minister of Education; Liberal Richard E. Hall, Athabasca; and CCF'er Nick W. Duhaime, Wingham.

Follow next door to us in spring training. Goes to sleep on each mattress as he hauls it out to be aired in the yard.

Fellow across the desk from us strongly bought a television set. He's delighted with it. TV, he says, keeps the family in the living room while he reads in the bedroom.

Observers can do nothing but speculate about what the committee is likely to recommend. If any major changes are made, they will be made to relax the existing restrictions against drinking. The only other alternatives are to leave the laws in foreign lands, or introduce prohibition, and most people are convinced prohibition won't work.

Friends Honor Lupus Prior To Departure

About fifty friends gathered at the Rainbow Hall at Edson on Tuesday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. John Lupus on their departure for Vegreville.

Music, singing and novelty dances were featured during the evening at the end of which the couple was presented with a coffee table, smokers stand, and a cushion.

A tasty lunch brought the evening to a close.

Crafters To Meet This Sunday

There will be a general meeting of the Edson Craft Centre workers in the Wood Shop on Sunday, May 13, at 2:00 p.m. when at which time building plans will be discussed. Members are asked to make a special effort to be there as it is a meeting of some importance.

While outdoor activities take up much time now that the weather has turned so spring like, there is still quite a lot of activity in the different groups. While some of the wood shop members have been going in

Our Tourist Industry

Tourists Pay Their Way
The average visitor spends over ten dollars per day in a community, often buying things the average Albertan doesn't need. Tourists buy what they want with money earned elsewhere, thus adding to our capital wealth.

Everyone Benefits
Food producers, farmers and processors... manufacturers... retailers... hotels... motels... service stations... transportation companies... shops of goods and services—all benefit from the tourist industry.

Courtesy Pays Big Dividends
Be helpful and friendly! Encourage visitors to stay longer. Be sure roadside and all other services are adequate, that accommodations and meals are always excellent.

Peers 4-H Food Club Holds Successful Achievement Day

Peers 4-H Food Club held a very successful Achievement Day in Rainbow Hall on May 8th at 8:00 p.m., with a very good attendance.

The Club members are to be commended on their very fine display of over 100 different items having a 100 per cent display and attendance with each member taking part in the program.

Miss Morgan, District House Economist, Miss Montebello House Economist from Watlock and Miss Bond from Edmonston were the judges.

At the close of the program

Peers Lady Feted By Friends

A farewell party in honor of Mrs. O. Oba was held recently at the home of Mrs. Lewis. Fourteen ladies were entertained for the evening by playing bingo and other games.

A lovely gift was presented to Mrs. Oba on behalf of her friends in the district. Mrs. Oba will make her new home in Calgary.

At the close of the evening a lovely lunch was served.

Coming Events

SATURDAY, MAY 13—The annual Silver Tea of the Douglas High Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held at the home of Mrs. Kankewit from 2:30 to 5:30. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

SATURDAY, MAY 12—Do Pe Square Dance in the Parish Hall starting at 8:30.

Sunday, May 13—The C.W.L. are sponsoring a special Mother's Day show in the Nova Theatre starting at 8:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, MAY 12—The Chess Club's regular meeting is at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mr. George Collis, next door to the Dairy, on the highway.

FRIDAY, MAY 16—Welcome Hebrew Lodge No. 48 will hold a whist drive in the I.O.O.F. at 8:00 p.m. Everybody welcome.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 3, 1935—United Church WA will hold a Noel Novelty Bazaar. Fun and frolic for young and old.

Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG

An adult study class is entitled "Achieving a Christian Home Today." The title is a reminder that a Christian home does not simply happen, it is an achievement. Father, mother and its children are alike involved in that achievement.

To some extent living conditions are important in the creation of a Christian home life. Home conditions, industrial smog, and anything which makes the district and its dwellings unattractive combine to make it more difficult for the home-maker.

If you have to go away from the home surroundings to find the things you want, such as quiet, beauty or comfort, the prospects are correspondingly dimmer for an attractive, Christian home.

Much more important than surroundings in the achieving of a Christian home are the people

Body here upon earth and in the through the members of His Church is to make real and effective in their own lives and in the lives of others the rule and reign of Christ as King and Lord and further to pray that his kingdom may come and that his will may be done on earth as it is in heaven

There he is gone to open up to us the gates of everlasting life, to prepare a place for us that whether he is gone, there may we be also, there, that he may ever live to make intercession for us. There he must reign till all enemies are subdued to him and the last enemy to be destroyed is to be death. Then comes the end and the consummation of all things.

within the house. Are the parents really mature? Those who believe that children should have the right of self-expression without restriction, are probably in the minority, although that school of thought has had its votes. Others, and I think more wisely, have pointed out that unlimited self-expression when a child does not make suitable preparation for a world wherein adults most certainly are not able to express themselves so freely.

An adult world means a world where we are not dependents but providers, where we are in daily contact with work which calls for responsibility and dependability, rather than something

Meeting Called

Sofball enthusiasts are beginning to feel the urge to get things started for another season so a meeting has been called for Monday, May 14, to be held in the law offices of Catello and Knecht at 8:00 p.m.

The past few years have been very successful ones for the ballers with an active town league having games two nights a week with playoffs to decide the winner of the cup donated by the Edson General Supply.

All those who are interested are asked to attend the meeting on Monday so that organization can take place and play get underway as soon as possible.

H & S Gauging Interest In Track And Field

The Edson Home and School Association wishes to find out whether there is sufficient interest in track and field to justify setting up a group to undertake training through the summer and into next fall.

Anyone interested in sprint, distance, or cross-country running; hop-step-and-jump, broad jump, shot put, should leave his name with Mr. Burch or Mr. Ball if in high school.

If attending elementary school, applicants should speak to Mr. Nelson. Those not attending school who are interested may call 542 to register.

It is stressed that this is a development project, and that outstanding, or even good performance is not necessary. We will have until the Labor Day weekend to develop and improve.

Couples are needed. Anyone who can spend one evening a week with the youngsters should call 542 and leave his name.

Pole vault, discus throw, hammer, and javelin throw are not contemplated until later in the season, but if sufficient interest is shown, these will be attempted for the senior boys.

For the present, MEN ONLY. A girls' division may be tried if sufficient interest develops.

ALL ABOARD

BY G. E. MORTIMER

Sometimes a man can be too thrifty. My inclusion on using up leftovers has been a source of irritation in my house. Every now and then I happen upon a small treasure trove of last week's food in the refrigerator or the larder, and summon my wife, with a cry of mingled rage and triumph. "Look at THAT," I urge, pointing toward the amorphous mass with a quivering finger.

And the dispute goes on with

"I'm looking," she replies. "What is it?" "You know what. Perfectly good spaghetti and cheese."

"It has green whiskers on it," my wife replies. "Why did you let it go whiskers?" You could have used it up."

"I offered it to you on Monday, but you didn't feel like spaghetti."

the hint on my part that my wife might have eaten the spaghetti herself for lunch, and a promise from her that if the situation ever occurs again she will make me every crumb of the stuff by force, feeding it to me.

After a long series of defeats in these arguments, I still thought I was right in principle. However, something happened recently that made me doubt the virtue of intense thrift.

The infant son had a bad cold or flu, and the doctor prescribed some medicine. When he ordered the child to stop taking the stuff, there was still half a bottle left.

By a lucky chance, I had a miserable cold myself. So I thrifflily used up what was left. I kept my cold, but two weeks later my foot began to swell and my ankles blossomed with patches of carmine and ruse pink.

I staggered over to the doctor, who traced my trouble to that leftover medicine. I was allergic to it.

Since that time the rest of my frame has broken out in a spring garden of hives. Various friends obliged me to discontinue my case as a result of my allergic reaction, but although I was grateful for

Tips on Touring

By Carol Leno

Women's Travel Authority

In my years of travel, I have found that all parts of the country I have come to regard the contents of the average car owner's luggage compartment with considerable amusement—and in many cases with downright awe. See how your trunk stacks up with what I've found in the average car:—

- (1) 3 Jacks—only one of which works.
- (2) Any number of lug wrenches—maybe one the right size for tire changing.
- (3) At least two worn out, useless engine parts, one oddly shaped metal bar defying description, six broken chain links.
- (4) An old piece of carpet or rug, once used to protect the clothes but now green-checked and threadbare.
- (5) A collection of oil stained (and hazardous) newspapers, magazines and rags.
- (6) A broken thermos jug.
- (7) A flat spare tire.
- (8) A tow rope hopelessly short and weak.
- (9) Miscellaneous tools rattling around without a case.
- (10) A pair of gloves, unfit to be worn.

Take a look at your luggage compartment now—and be honest.

their kind interest I assured them that the ailment was a case of too much thrifting. However, some good came of it. The medicine I am taking for the hives and sore feet has cured my cold.

no dripping-no splattering-no mess

Unlike liquid types of enamel, Marshall-Wells Thixotropic Alkyd JELlenamel has the consistency of rich, thick cream. Turns to a liquid state when spread with brush or roller... splattering and dripping are virtually eliminated!

YOU'VE NEVER USED AN ENAMEL LIKE IT BEFORE!

- Won't settle in the can... needs no mixing. Leftovers stay fresh and usable for years.
- Won't sag or run. Brushes or rolls on far easier than ordinary enamel.
- Practically odorless—Use inside or out on woodwork, walls, cabinets, furniture, metal, masonry or wood. Unbeatable durability and washability.

SAWDUST & SHAVINGS

By GEORGE IVES

Illation—
We just arrived home a few minutes ago from a drive over the new highway east of Hinton which according to reports is a much better view of the valley and mountains and should prove quite interesting to tourists.

Just before reaching the blacktop we noticed a fair sized brown bear who was quite determined to cross the road in front of two cars that were coming down the hill. From our viewpoint it looked as though the driver of the lead car and bear had a few moments of indecision. Old Broule ran out in front, stopped, reared up on the approaching auto, then changed his mind. The driver who had started left to avoid hitting the animal had little time to swing back as brain finished back too.

On ending along to the spot where "Teddy" hit for the trees we noticed him standing there with a puzzled look on his face.

10 DAYS between PROFIT and LOSS

Ten days ago the grain stood straight and promising in the fields. Then the temperature dropped... and the crop bowed to its greatest enemy—frost.

Ten days—your earlier harvest bonus from fertilizer—would have made the difference between profit and loss from frost-killed grain. Elephant Brand high analysis fertilizers, rich in nitrogen and phosphorous plant food and "tailor-made" for the Canadian Prairies, brings grain crops to maturity faster... a harvest up to ten days earlier.

The Voice of Edson Constituency

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, May 17, 1936 No. 6

Council Rejects Calgary Power Rental Proposition

Council sold the lot just east of the present Alberta Government Telephone building for $2900 for the erection of a large telephone building to house the expanding services in this area at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening.

Plans for the Canadian Oils Service station on 4th Avenue West and 53rd Street were examined by Council, as well as the plans for the new bulk station for McColl-Frontenac near the railway on First Avenue East. A rash of applications for residential lots also show that building activity in Edson this will continue unabated.

Council also considered an offer from Calgary Power Company for the power plant and the distribution system, but considered it as not being suitable and instead asked the power company to quote their best price on sale of bulk power to the Town for distribution through the town system.

Another 1500 yards of crushed gravel is to be purchased to extend the graveling program already to try and alleviate the dust problem. This will bring the graveling program to a little short of 4000 yards this year.

Council are also co-operating with the official opening program for the Federal Building by blocking off Main at 6th and 4th Avenues.

The new business tax by-law received its third reading upon its approval by the Minister of Municipal Affairs. A carload of poles for the light distribution system have been ordered for expansion and replacement.

Bingo Jackpot Must Go This Saturday

The Canadian Legion Bingo jackpot which has been mounting steadily each week as it went unclaimed at the popular Saturday night bingo in the Legion Memorial Centre, has reached 145.00 dollars for this week.

Saturday's bingo will be the last one until September so that the jackpot must go if it takes all night to give it away.

P. W. Wells Councillor

At the close of nominations on Wednesday noon, returning Officer R. C. Gregg declared Mr. P. W. Wells elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy on the Town Council which resulted from the resignation of Councillor Walter McIntyre, due to his being moved by the C.M.R. to Regina.

Get Ponoka School Contract

Edson's newest firm, Mahon-Peterson Ltd., got off to good start this week with a grand opening on Tuesday afternoon and to top it off received word of their tender for the $30,000 mechanical contract for the Ponoka County school division's building program being accepted as well.

Headed by Messrs. Roydon Mahon and Stuart Peterson, the new firm threw a staff party in the Commodore banquet room for the eleven-plus staff members and their ladies on Tuesday evening.

The Edson post office will be moving into the new Federal Building over the weekend and will be open for business from 12 noon until 2 a.m. with the lobby open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Double Magistrate

Not only is Edson's Mayor Kankewitz our chief magistrate by virtue of his position as chairman of the Town Council, he has also been made a magistrate proper by the Attorney General's department of the Province according to an announcement this week.

J-B Highway And Miette Open

Both the Jasper-Banff Highway and the Miette Hot Springs are to be open for the convenience of holidayers this weekend.

The official opening date had been set at Saturday, May 19, which will be in time for families wishing to take advantage of the long holiday weekend.

Magistrate Kankewitz will take over while Mr. Thomson takes a leave of absence for a trip with Mrs. Thomson to Scotland in the latter part of June.

Minister Held In Ottawa On Cabinet Business

The Hon. George Prud'homme, Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys, who scheduled to have opened the new Edson Federal Building was forced to cancel his appearance due to being held in Ottawa on Cabinet business.

The disappointment felt in not having the Federal Minister here for the opening will be made up to some extent of a banquet in his honor some time in June.

A five generation picture of local interest is that of Mr. Wm. Bruecker (left) and his daughter Mrs. C. A. Christie (right) both of Vancouver; grandson C. R. "Dick" Christie of Edson; great-granddaughter Mrs. H. A. Jones (Dione Christie) of Edson; and great-granddaughter Joy.

Mr. Bruecker had an early connection with Edson when he worked on the wooden trestle bridge over Wolf Creek during the construction days here with the B&N of the G.T.P. He retired after many years service with the E.D.&C. (now N.A.R.) railway, a few years ago.

formed in the Reservoir district after coming originally to freight for the railway in the days of construction here. Grandson C. R. "Dick" Christie is employed with the CN Freight here and his daughter Dione's husband is employed with Edson Motor Co. in town.

Annual Yellowhead Picnic At Mt. Robson On May 27

The Jasper Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the McBride Board of Trade wish to announce that the annual Yellowhead picnic will be held Sunday, May 27, at Dennison's Ranch, Mount Robson, B.C.

Those attending will assemble at the Totem Pole, Jasper, at 8:30 a.m. to leave for Mount Robson at 9:00 a.m. over the Yellowhead Route.

The Jasper band will be in attendance. Archie Martin will have the loud speaker and Bob Baxter will be our Master of Ceremonies.

All are welcome. Arrange your party now. Each person is expected to provide their own lunch and utensils. Tea and coffee will be provided by the McBride and Jasper committee.

Let us plan on making this event an enjoyable picnic where we can meet and appreciate the company of all our B.C. neighbours.

BOOST FOR THE YELLOWHEAD ROUTE.

Drive Carefully During May 24 Holiday

For those who drive Alberta motor-ists, the first major highway safety tests of the summer season will be the long "Twenty-fourth of May" weekend from Friday evening, May 18 to Tuesday morning, May 22.

In view of this critical holiday period, the Alberta Safety Council has issued an appeal to all motorists to drive carefully and safely and help to minimize traffic fatalities and injuries.

Just a momentary lapse or taking too great a chance can turn a happy holiday into a terrible tragedy with all its heart-aches and sorrow, says the Safety Council.

Last year, 60 persons were killed in motor accidents across Canada on the May 24 holiday weekend. At least two of these fatalities were in Alberta.

In most parts of the country this has been a long slow spring. As a result, many motorists are looking forward with impatience to their first highway outing. After a long winter layoff when they were confined mostly to city driving, drivers are inclined to be careless and a little over-eager as they start on the holiday they have long awaited. They should make certain it is not marred by highway accidents. Enthusiasm by the prospect of speeding along the highway leading to vacation spots, drivers are likely to forget the safety lessons learned last summer. They should remember that most acci-dents are not caused by mecha-nical defect in their cars but by the men and women behind the wheel.

Lives will be saved if motor-ists observe these basic rules:

1. Observe all speed limits in town or country and slow down more than is required by law when roads are crowded or slip-pery.
2. Keep in mind the im-portance of fatigue as an accident factor and don't try to pile up too great a mileage in one day.
3. To combat fatigue and re-main alert, stop at a roadside restaurant every two hours or so to stretch your muscles and drink a cup of strong coffee or some other helpful stimulant. Remember, alcohol is not a stim-ulant but a depressant.
4. Avoid cocktails and other alcoholic beverages before or during a drive.
5. Be careful of the other fel-low. Obey all traffic rules.
6. Be considerate and indulgent toward other drivers.
7. Take time to relax and "Take It Easy."

Observance of these rules will go a long way to achieve the first accident free weekend of the current season.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

The hills are printed on a with bundles of daisies. blue sky. Robins pull worms from the new grass. The air smells of green things.

People emerge from shops and houses to be carried away in a sweet current of life.

A power which is older than the mountains and as new as a bud drives through every creature. It sends old garden-ers planting seeds and young birds digging them up.

The spring magic induces a reckless young man to buy a $3 watch for $25 from a carnival smoothie, and present it to a girl.

It persuades tough little boys to hurry home to their mothers

It rolls down convertible tops; it brings out summer dresses, the delight of every man under 80; sets in motion dusty golf clubs, lawn sprinklers and polish-ing cloths.

The spring makes grumpy folk say "Hello" to acquaintances they have been ignoring all winter.

Millions of people see the world as though for the first time.

The green torrent of sun and flowers and bird-song carries them all from the stale backwaters of gloom and self-pity toward the ocean of summer.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Caston:

Thank you for your thoughtful-ness in sending me a copy of the Edison Leader for 10/4/58 with the report of my talk be-fore the Board of Trade on April 18. I am really amazed at the accuracy and the detail of your report. You must have been taking short hand while I was speaking.

Both Mrs. Lindberg and I en-joyed our trip to Edison immen-sely. We shall return again next August or September. In two weeks I shall be on the road towards Halifax, N.S. where I teach from June 17 to July 21.

Please remember me to the members of the B. of T. and with every good wish for you.

Sincerely,
B. A. Lindberg

THE CAPITOL REPORTS

BY KEN MASON

EDMONTON—There is strong possibility that Albertans will be paying a sales tax on all pur-chases within a year or so.

Mind you, nothing definite has been decided yet, and it isn't likely that anything defini-tive will be announced for some time. But indications point per-sistently toward the introduc-tion of a sales tax.

Why? Because the provincial government is in the process of developing a "new deal" in municipal financing, aimed at giving municipal councils en-ough revenue to make them self-supporting and eliminating the present unwieldy system of government grants.

More information leaked out last week on what the official line of thought is. The source was Mayor J. Stone of Jasper Place, a town on Edmonton's western outskirts. As an official of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, Mayor Stone has been sitting in on financial talks between high government officials and municip-al representatives.

Addressing a public meeting in his town, he said the government is considering measures which will reduce property taxes, along with the introduction of a sales tax to make up the loss in re-venue.

He immediately got in touch with Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman, and asked if this was so.

Mr. Hinman's reply was something like this: The gov-ernment has set no policy on the matter, and is not recom-mending the introduction of a sales tax. The government wants to persuade municipali-ties to agree to some form of taxation which will relieve part of the burden now carried by property owners.

Mr. Hinman's statement did not differ greatly from public statements he has made previous-ly. On the surface, it means that the government wants to change the existing financial set-up.

But reading between the lines, some observers believe the gov-ernment doesn't want to take all the responsibility for introducing any new form of taxation. If a sales tax is introduced, the gov-ernment wants to be able to say the municipalities asked for it.

Put it a different way, per-haps the government doesn't want to implement any major changes until it consults with the elect-a representatives of the people and obtains public opin-ion.

Since the recent session of the legislature, government officials have been saying they believe property owners bear too much of the tax burden. There prob-ably isn't a property owner in the province who won't agree

So the idea is to introduce reforms which will make EVERY-BODY—not just property owners—pay for municipal services, schools and utilities. The govern-ment appears to be leaning to-ward a sales tax as the device to accomplish this.

On the surface it sounds fair enough. It will involve every-one. But Alberta property owners will want to know first what they stand to gain. How much will property taxes be reduced? Will it mean a real saving for the property owner, or will a sales tax mean he has to pay more than ever? These questions likely will be answered before anything is done.

The province also has not given up the idea, introduced a year ago, of taking industries off municipal tax rolls and establish-ing a provincial industrial tax. One effect of such action would be to eliminate competition be-tween communities, which have been known to offer tax conces-sions to attract industry.

No one knows yet exactly what will happen. Meetings between the province and the municipali-ties are continuing. Municipal officials have been asked to in-form the public that drastic changes will be made.

Some observers see the whole procedure as insurance for the government against the day when its revenues from oil de-velopment won't be so buoyant. The heavy profits from mineral rights have made possible the program of municipal aid. When profits slacken off, the money will have to come from somewhere else and municipali-ties will have to become ac-customed to the idea of paying for everything they get.

The government hopes to wash its hands of the great program by the next session of the legis-lature. Presumably, revenue col-lected from any new source will be distributed among the municipali-ties on the basis of need. Albertans will be eagerly await-ing the results of the "new deal."

Watch Your Sowing

Live not a useless, an inglorious, or an inglorious life, for bound up with that life is the immu-table principle of an endless re-tribution, and elements of God's elect-a representing which will spend their force, but continue to unfold with the ages of eternity. Be not deceived. God has formed thy nature thus to answer to the fu-ture. His law can never be ab-ro-gated or His justice eluded; and forever and ever it will be true, that "whatsoever a man soweth, that also he shall reap."

Gray Geese Stop Off On Flight North

Mr. Frank Clarke was telling the Leader the other day about an odd thing that happened last week out at his farm. He and Mrs. Clarke were doing something around the yard when a spaniel ran barking out into the one evening when their cocker field.

As they called to the dog to come back they noticed a flock of geese not far from the dog and thought they were tame geese wandered over from a neighbor's place.

The dog stopped a moment, then ran on and as he got right up to the geese they lifted up and flew off to the south-east. Then the Clarks saw that it was a flock of gray geese. Apparently they were resting from a long flight, hence their seeming to have no fear of the dog or humans.

Edson's Army Cadet Corps showed the monthly training they have undergone under command of Mr. T. E. Booker who is their Officer Commanding where they drilled their stuff on the school grounds Monday evening on the occasion of their annual inspection by Command Cadet Officer Lieutenant D. A. Collingwood.

Official march past and general salute responded in his dress uniform of the Queen's Own Rifles. The inspecting officer expressed himself pleased with the way the lads of our local cadets went through their paces with regimental precision. The picture shows the inspecting party composed of Deputy Mayor W. Hartman, High School Principal M. D. Meade, accompanied by Lt. Booker and Cadet Instructor R. Burch of the local corps. Later the lads demonstrated wireless techniques and other instruction they had received in the Legion Memorial Centre to interested citizens and parents. Later serving a lunch provided by the cadet mothers. A quota of lads are going to the annual cadet camp in B.C.

this year for training periods of three weeks to six weeks for which they receive army cadet pay and allowances. In his talk to the parents Lt. Collingwood emphasized the aim of the cadet organization as being the same as other boys organizations — that of making lads into better citizens.

Married In Coast Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. DAVID LAURENCE

St. Augustine's Catholic church in Vancouver, B.C. was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday April 28, at 10:00 a.m., when Christine Mary McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLeod of Edson, became the bride of David Laurence of Victoria, B.C. and formerly of Edson.

Reverend Father Quinlin performed the double ring ceremony and offered the nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in a white, afternoon length dress with all white accessories. She carried a pearl rosary and wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Beatrice Jourdin attended the bride, while the groom was attended by Mr. Hugh Grant.

Miss Cecelia McLean was organist for the occasion.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held in the residence of the Sisters of Service. The bridal toast was proposed by Rev. Father Quinlin and replied to by the groom.

Several telegrams of congratulations were read, among them one from Rev. C. Landrigan of Vermilion.

Immediately after the breakfast the young couple left to honeymoon in Seattle.

Out of town guests included Mrs. J. Laurence of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLeod of Edson, Miss Sylvia Tillard of Langley Prairie, Mrs. James Kirk, Kae and Dennis Noonan of Vermilion.

Mr. And Mrs. Wilson Honored By Lodge

The Welcome Rebekah Lodge held a surprise party on Thursday, May 10 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson Sr., prior to their leaving on a holiday to their native Denmark.

The brother Oddfellows and their wives also attended. A very enjoyable evening was had by all. At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served and a presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson with best wishes for a pleasant holiday.

Fire Destroyed Our Plant But Good Neighbors Have Made An Edition Possible

As we write this story sitting in an Edmonton hotel bedroom our thoughts are a little confused from the rush and bustle of trying to get out a newspaper in strange surroundings, but the many offers of help, donations and good wishes for the future we have received have given us confidence.

Since the fire which destroyed our plant on Sunday afternoon we have been able to set up temporary headquarters, through the kindness of Mr. J. Garvie, in the old post office building, and have a rallying point to regroup our forces.

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pinc of Community Publications and staff in Edmonton, we have been able to get this issue on the press in spite of short notice, and lack of records and carryover news. Everything in the way of news stories, that came in prior to the fire was destroyed.

We ask the indulgence of our regular advertisers this week if we have skipped your ad — give us back and we'll get it in next week. Our job work orders on hand were consumed by the flames as well; don't raise heck about them for a week or so.

While Carol Ahl, George Coote and Arnold Reckema were holding down the Edson end of our business, Bob Jensen and your editor have been toiling in the Community Publications plant here in the city.

In spare moments we have been looking over printing machinery for our new plant and at time of writing we have lined up almost a complete line of equipment. With any luck we should be back in business in a week or two.

And by the way, if you were one of our valued customers and have been meaning to drop in and pay your account, please don't hesitate this week — we can survive the drought! We did save most of our accounts receivable ledgers, but we may not be able to get around to sending your account out right away.

The many calls, handshakes, pats-on-the-back and good wishes we have received have emphasized to us how wonderful it is to be a small-town publisher and be privileged to know so many swell people. Thanks, folks!

June 8th Farmer's Day At Peers

Farmers and their families are invited to take part in the farmer's day celebration, which will be held at Peers on Friday, June 8th.

Residents of the surrounding districts have come to look forward to this annual celebration when they can meet with neighbors in games and visiting.

This year the picnic will be held at the Redwood Valley Plink grounds north of Peers. It is expected there will be some games, and full games with the first ball game starting at 10:30 a.m. There will be refreshments available on the grounds, to call lots of young and old.

Something new this year is a machinery display which should be of interest to anyone interested in bettering the equipment on their farmstead.

It is said the big day will end with a dance in the Redwood Hall at Peers.

Mr. Tracy Nuttall and family spent the long weekend in Peers visiting relatives.

Squares Going To Town For Final Dance

The Redwood Valley Plink is planning a final square dance, which will be held on Saturday, June 2.

So that folks don't forget, and George Graft can get a better idea of the square dance, the dance will be held at the Redwood Valley Plink grounds north of Peers.

Fires Rage In Wildwood Area

Edson, May 24.—(Leader)—A fire which broke out in the Wildwood area, about 10 miles north of Edson, today has been completely controlled by the fire department. The fire, which started in a building, spread rapidly and threatened the surrounding area. The fire department arrived within minutes and worked for several hours to bring the fire under control. The cause of the fire is still unknown.

Edson Studio To Remodel

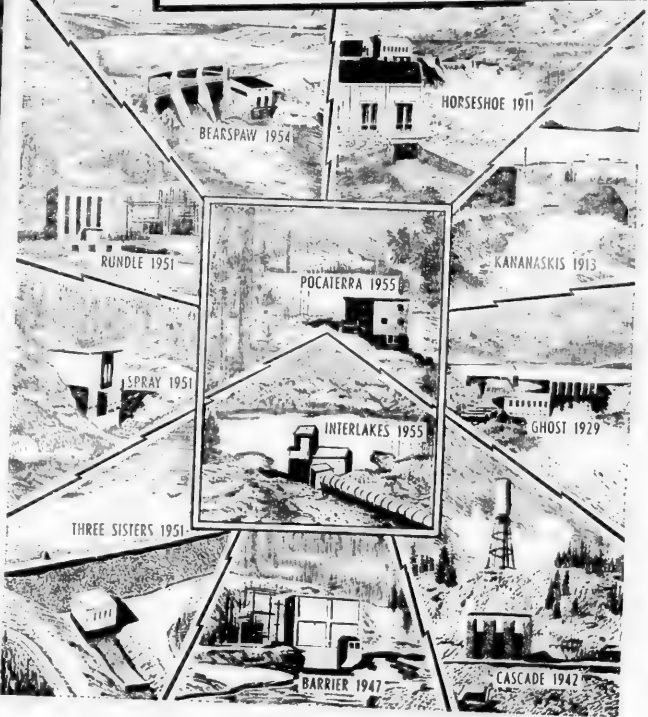

Edson, May 24.—(Leader)—The Edson Studio, located in the downtown area, is to be completely remodelled. The owner, Mr. J. H. Smith, has announced that the studio will be closed for several weeks while the remodeling work is being done. The new design for the studio is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

In the last six years an average of 150,000 barrels of oil were found for every well drilled in new and improved territory. The oil industry in Alberta has been very successful in the past few years, and it is expected that this trend will continue in the future.

Independent dealers and distributors are now available in the United States.

Power Supports Alberta's Progress

Throughout its entire history Calgary Power Ltd. has consistently planned—and built for the future. As a result, the Company's capacity to produce electric energy has always kept abreast of the power needs of the cities, towns and communities served. Today, Calgary Power Ltd. continues to plan—and build for the future on an even greater scale. Two new plants were completed in 1955. These brought the Company's overall generating capacity to 33,000 h.p. Another 88,000 h.p. will be added this year with the completion of the Steam plant at Wabamun. Already in the planning stage is even further expansion—New Lines, New Plants, New Hydro and Steam Generating Capacity—to keep the Company's production of Electric Energy well ahead of the power needs of its customers in Alberta for years to come.

EDMONTON MEN HEAD NEW COMPANY TO DEVELOP HINTON

EDMONTON (UPI) — Signing of an agreement between the Crown and Hinde Corporation Ltd. of Edmonton for the development of the Hamlet of Hinton, west of Edson, was announced on Thursday by Hon. H. A. Cooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Work on the development, which was undertaken at the request of the residents of the hamlet, has already begun. Mr. Cooke says the new townsite will be prepared in successive stages and when completed will provide service lots for a population of at least 2,500.

Natural gas, water and sewer system will be installed. These are covered by separate franchise agreements, subject to the approval of the minister.

The townsite itself will be designed according to the best planning principles under the supervision of the town and rural planning branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Development engineers are now at work on the site and little delay is anticipated in placing both residential and business lots on the market.

Terms and conditions of all sales will be controlled by the department and must be approved by the minister.

The first stage calls for a minimum of 100 fully serviced lots. A trailer court capable of handling several hundred trailers, is also being provided.

In making the announcement Mr. Cooke said he was pleased that the work was now going ahead. He said the location held great scenic advantages and expressed confidence that the new townsite will be a definite asset to the area and the province.

RUBARBH REVE

Are you as satisfied as I am for the fact that delicious garden-fresh rubarbs? Here's about now, we should be able to satisfy our appetites. Yours should be up and ready by now.

We have some rubarbs recipes that are different and will help you use the first crop from the garden.

Try some Rubarbh Fluff with a custard sauce or serve it atop some hot gingerbread.

Now is the time to make some Rubarbh Fluff for next winter's use. It's so easy to make.

Here's to cook the rubarbh in a baking pan in the oven with butter, sugar and pineapple.

Now you'll delight all the family with the new flavor.

There's nothing like a good old-fashioned rubarbh punch of water if you are in a rubarbh mood. It's so easy to make.

Have you ever tried a champagne rubarbh? It's so easy to make.

Last year consumers used 15 million gallons of bottled petroleum products, including a 15 per cent increase from the year before. The largest increase in the industry is heating oil.

Of the 127 companies engaged in making petroleum products in the U.S. and Canada, 62 are oil companies or oil company subsidiaries.

Petroleum asphalt is now produced in 72 refineries located in 27 states.

You'd find the thickest or crudest variety of asphalt.

To Prove: Choose early spring rubarbh of good color. Wash, trim and cut sticks to 12 inches. Pack in dry sugar, using 1 pound prepared fruit about 11 pounds.

Refrigerate followed an evening of dancing and games. Mrs. McIntrye said the rubarbh was successful in the first game, thereby causing much hilarity and causing himself to be the Queen.

Community singing and the Queen ended a very successful evening.

Anniversary Club Honors The McIntyres

The Anniversary Club and friends held a farewell party Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McIntyre, who are leaving to make their home in Regina.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinde, accompanied by Mrs. George McIntyre, entertained with their musical show, which was thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre.

Mr. McIntyre, which was related to the water.

Mrs. Hinde spoke a few words of praise for those who were members of the club, expressing the best wishes of the club and wishing them all the best in their new home.

Refreshments followed an evening of dancing and games. Mrs. McIntyre said the rubarbh was successful in the first game, thereby causing much hilarity and causing himself to be the Queen.

Excuse the Delay But We Had A Fire

We had a fire on Sunday that destroyed our printing plant in Edson, but it didn't take away our desire to put a newspaper out for this pulp mill community and we now have prospects of getting back into our own plant in the next week or two.

Edson Keeps Money Home At Annual Sports Tournament

Approximately 1700 fans were on hand at various periods for the two-day and tournament July 1st and 2nd to see the Edson club keep the $500.00 first money at home for the Edson Athletic Association's 20th annual July First sports.

The MacKay ladies softball team took the $75.00 first prize in the softball tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Mouton of Foxhill, were the winners of the handsome summer cottage, valued by the Edson Kinamen on behalf of their playground fund. The Legion run dances both nights and a bingo Monday evening rounded out an enjoyable two days to celebrate Canada's birthday.

The celebration started with a parade headed by the Jasper Park Band who headed the most out turnout of coloured kiddles up Main Street to the Memorial Park.

One of the features in winning first money in the 1st. 100 Hotel Trophy which is presented annually by the July First summer.

The Edson basketballers started their winning streak by eliminating Whitecourt 40 and qualifying to meet the Jasper aggregation in the final to defeat the Jasper team 104 for the $500 first and $300

The Wildwood team had eliminated the Coal Branch team 90 at 2:00 p.m. Sunday.

The MacKay team took the Edmonton Pipehitters 55 in the 11:00 a.m. Monday game.

SOFTBALL

In the softball Wildwood defeated Hinton 25-12 in the game scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Monday. Edson won the game with the Drayton Valley girls at 12:00 noon.

Following a draw in which the MacKay squad went on to take the Wildwood girls 12-11.

In the final game MacKay took the Edson girls 30 to 14 to win the $75 prize money.

In Our New Home

This is our first edition printed in our new home in the former Hawking Alley building on 4th Avenue West, Edson. We've had quite a time getting a printing plant together, but have finally managed to get most of the "bugs" ironed out.

While it is only six weeks since the fire that destroyed our plant, and we did print an edition from a city printing plant, it still seems an age since we last got an "edition to bed."

Our next edition may take just a bit longer than a week to get out due to the newness of our plant and the necessity to allow for unforeseeable breakdowns but we will now be in a position to put out a better community newspaper than formerly.

All you correspondents and letters-to-the-editor writers and picture-takers please note that our columns are now open for your use for the betterment of this neck of the woods.

Your editor and staff wish to thank you all for your patience and encouragement during the time this newspaper was without a home.

MacKay Teams Take Both Ends Of Annual Tourney

MacKay took both ends of their baseball-softball tournament on Saturday, June 25, when the MacKay girls defeated Wildwood in the finale, while in the baseball windup, MacKay buried Onaway 22-4.

The MacKay girls had eliminated Drayton Valley to enter the finale while Wildwood sidelined Hinton in a one-sided contest. The final game was the best of the day, with MacKay emerging the winners by a score of 11-7.

The men's baseball tournament turned out to be a four team affair as first Wildwood, then the Edson Juveniles failed to come through with a team.

In the first game of the day, Drayton Valley's veteran pitcher gave up 12 hits, but his mates cooled the ball 16 times enabling MacKay to win by a 20-6 score. Drayton Valley started strong, adding a 2-0 lead at the end of the second inning, but MacKay cured 6 in the third, 9 in the fourth, 2 in the fifth and added 3 in the seventh of the sevenning game. The Drayton crew tagged a mild morning in the fifth when they scored 4 runs, but that wasn't enough.

Winning pitcher for MacKay was Pete Trychko who gave up 8 hits and struck out 9 and walked only no batter.

The second game was the closest of the day as the Onaway Pirates put by the Edson Athletics by a 9-7 score. The lead changed hands several times, but ran in each at the third and Count on page 12.

Turn Your Camera on Flowers

Raising flowers is a favorite hobby with many people, whether they have big gardens or do it in a window box—and more and more of them are finding that they can enjoy their flowers long after they've blossomed and died by photographing them at their best.

Close-ups of flowers are not as easy to take as pictures of the whole garden, but the effort it takes to picture them individually is well worth the effort.

A camera that can be used at very short distances is an asset, but not a must. An inexpensive close-up attachment will let you get in close at 3 1/2 feet with even the simplest camera.

Background presents a problem

—one that's easily solved. You want the particular flower or flowers to stand out in all their beauty and anything in the background is likely to be distracting. So, a piece of cardboard, light or dark, according to the color of the flowers and your preference, goes behind them to provide a completely neutral background.

Sometimes you can use the ground or the sky for a neutral background by shooting from a high or low angle, depending, of course, on the height of location of your subject.

But don't do any of this on a windy day—because you can't tell the flowers to stand still and watch the birds.

—John Van Guilder

"She's a beauty!" he said, "let me take you for a run."

The potential buyer got in and the owner managed to get made the car to suit his way up part of a fairly steep stretch of road immediately ahead.

"She'll go up here like a bird!" he chuckled. "Just watch!"

One hundred yards up the slope the car emitted a loud cough, trembled violently, and began to run backwards.

"What's wrong?" his companion asked, suspiciously. "We're going backwards!"

"It's quite all right," replied the owner. "I—er—I've left my tobacco pouch at home on the piano!"

The crashy old head of a Philadelphia paper liked to dash off his own lead editorials. One day he finished one in a white heat and slumped in the copy basket with a great flourish. The managing editor unfortunately did not know what the editorial urged, and the big boss had to admit that neither did he. Finally he decided, "Print it as it is. It'll make them think!"

ALBERTA SCENE

BY KEN NASON

(Canadian Legion, labor organizations, the two major railways and the Canadian Remount Association, asked for a general relaxation in the liquor laws, permitting cocktail bars, serving of liquor in restaurants and dining rooms, mixed drinking in Edmonton and Calgary and liquor sales by the glass on trains.

Those who wanted relaxed liquor laws were agreed that the existing laws tend to abuse and tend to encourage excessive drinking. They cited the number of people who disregard the law by carrying liquor to public places and argued that this in fact is the majority of Albertans, do not favor the law.

They argued that making liquor available by the glass in high class establishments would cut down on consumption because citizens would no longer be compelled to purchase a full bottle of the government stock.

In Grande Prairie, the only briefs actually heard were those from temperance forces. The briefs were submitted from organizations asking for more liberal liquor laws, but no one turned up to support them.

In Edmonton, the first two days of hearings were devoted almost entirely to submissions from church and temperance groups. Their arguments were that there are no outlets for liquor but to increased consumption; that every person who takes the cold social drink is a potential alcoholic; and that the existing liquor laws do not insure the moderate drinker. Most of the preferred added restrictions, but all they would be satisfied with the existing laws remained in force.

The temperance groups were almost unanimous in the belief that mixed drinking is bad. At present, mixed drinking is called only in Edmonton and Calgary, but the groups presenting briefs suggested that the ban be made province-wide.

Toward the end of the Edmonton hearings, there were arguments from other interests. The what the legislative committee will recommend at the next session of the legislature. At this point, it is impossible to say, but observers in the Capital believe the committee's report will lean toward some relaxation. In setting up the committee, the government admitted that the existing laws are not working satisfactorily, and that liquor is appearing before the committee agree that the vast majority of Albertans are not satisfied. The committee may come up with a compromise between what exists in Alberta and what has been done in other provinces as a result of recent investigations.

FOOTNOTE—Most of the temperance groups had one thing in common. They objected to the conduct and atmosphere in Alberta's beer parlors. Another thing they had in common was that they didn't have any first-hand knowledge of beer parlors. Their representatives admitted they had never been in beer parlors. Chairman, Edgar Gerhart of Edmonton brought this to their attention and told them he had made a point of investigating beer parlors.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

Please find enclosed the sum of twenty-five for renewal of your paper. I was so sorry to learn of your great loss by fire of your plant. Having been burned out on the farm I can really sympathize.

I am leaving Edmonton on June 20 to fly to London, England with the Welsh Society for two months' visit. Through the kindness of my sons and daughters I am exactly thirty years since left Scotland. I shall also visit Scotland and Wales besides different parts of England. Mr. Jones, who is leaving mostly in Wales, I should like to congratulate you on your edition of May 24. It was really a wonderful and grand edition, under such hard conditions.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. H. Jones,

Patricia Grant Weds In Coast Ceremony

The Holy Name Church in Vancouver, B.C. was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday, May 12 at 10:03 a.m. when Mary Patricia Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Grant of Edmonton, became the bride of Michael Joseph Furber of Truro, Alberta.

Rev. Father Macneil performed the ceremony and offered the nuptial Mass. Wedding music was supplied by Mrs. Strickman.

The bride, who carried the church on the arm of her father, chose for her maid a dusty pink, three-piece suit with pink, straw hat. She wore an orchid corsage and carried a white prayer book. She was attended by Nursing Sister Olga Hannan, who wore a navy blue suit with white accessories.

Brother of the bride, Hugh Grant, was the best man. The bride's mother wore a traditional white suit with many accessories, accented by a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for immediate family and close friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were hosts. The bride and groom were seated in the front of the wedding trip in Portville, Vancouver Island. Mr. and Mrs. Furber will make their home in Vancouver, B.C.

Robb News

We were happy to see The Leader's house back into production so quickly after the fire. Congratulations to the Editor and staff on a job well done under adverse conditions.

New Jim Fairbairn and Jack Harty driving around in shiny new cars. How about a ride, folks.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. A. Reynolds on the birth of a daughter in Memorial Hospital on June 4.

Visit of the Stas. Usher home recently were Mrs. A. Usher and grandson Neil of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Healy and daughters of Edmonton.

Sorry to hear Mr. W. Simmonds is still in Memorial hospital. Hope you will soon be up and feeling peppy, Bill.

Mr. Kurdy's was a boy-man last week, fought out water and sewer lines at his new house.

New to see Gifford Shirley home. Take after his recent illness. Stay it away there, Guy.

Study Window

By REV. C. C. ARMSTRONG
The Surprise Lake camp grounds are being worked over. Anyone with a saw or hammer and a pair of hands can find an opportunity to help in the building or clearing-up of the grounds. Merion Collin is the man to see for further particulars.

The United Church Observer, the official church magazine, has something to say, not about camp work, but about women's work in the church. For the women, especially, the observations made in the Observer may be of interest. They refer to the possibility of working out some form of union or amalgamation of the Women's Association and Women's Missionary Society.

The W.A. (formerly known as the Ladies Aid) at one time focused its attention particularly upon the care and upkeep of the manse. Now its primary aim is to deepen the spiritual life of the women of the church, promote Christian fellowship and inspire knowledge and interest and loyalty to the total program of the Church.

The Women's Missionary Society (W.M.S.) aims to unite all the women of the church for the World Mission of Christianity; to provide missionary education and to encourage study prayer and giving on behalf of Christian Missions at home and abroad.

The Observer, foreseeing that the W.A. and the W.M.S. are working towards a closer unity with each other says: "This is another area in which our church could have growing up pains. United Church women have long been making a tremendous contribution to the Church's work. Some forget that all women overseas missionaries, for example, are appointed and supported by the Woman's Missionary Society. Is the Movement in the direction of one organization for the women of the United Church, in congregation, Presbytery, Conference and at National levels, to enlist ALL of the women of the United Church for the total mission of the Church, and to conserve all of value in our present women's organizations?"

The Observer adds: "The opportunity is being approached with grace and tact, and whatever the outcome may be of discussions at General (Council) we are convinced that the United Church will profit by the study, and the action that may be taken."

Mother: "Why can't you be a good little boy, Bobby?"

Bobby (hopelessly): "I'll be good for a nickel."

Mother: "The idea, Why can't you be like your father—good for nothing?"

H & S Track Club Holding Weekly Drills

The Edson Home and School Track and Field Club is holding conditioning drills every Tuesday and Thursday at 3:30 at the High School. Anyone interested is welcome. Come in running shoes and, if possible, shorts or swim trunks.

An instructor for jumps has offered to coach at the high school grounds each Monday at 7:30 p.m., starting July 8. The hop-step-and-jump, standing broad, running broad and the high jumps except the pole vault will be taught depending on the turnout.

The club stands in need of a really good instructor for the sprint. Anyone with formal training in sprinting who is willing to devote one evening a week to young people should telephone 542.

The Many-Splendored Thing...

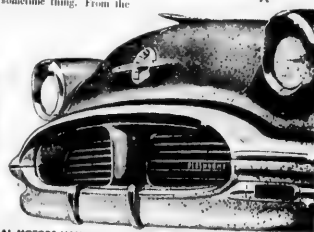

Splendor is everywhere in Oldsmobile.

There's the splendor of distinctive Starfire styling—fresh, dynamic, but so alive. There's the splendor of rich, custom-tailored interiors—luxurious, gracious and comfortable. And there's the splendor of mighty power, tuned to go quietly about its task of propelling swift, smooth motion.

And this Oldsmobile splendor is not a sometime thing. From the moment you proudly take possession until that distant day when you decide to trade it in on an even more exciting Olds of the future, you'll keep discovering new splendors in this unusual car. And you'll keep reflecting all the while how wise you were in 1956 to step up from the ordinary into an Oldsmobile.

Notice to Vacate

In order to make way for the development of a new township at Clinton, capable of serving 2,500 persons, the municipal trailer campsite will soon have to be discontinued.

We have been able to arrange with the developers the following for their occupation: a new trailer camp, consisting of the two townships. This camp is located to provide all the necessary services and utilities for the occupants of the present camp.

Will you kindly make arrangements to vacate the camp as soon as possible, and please advise this your official notice that you MUST VACATE your site by MONDAY, SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1964.

Following equipment shown, it will be to your advantage to make early arrangements to move.

After the above date, the power will be cut off, public toilets will be closed, and the pump out service will be discontinued.

I think that I am one of the him or her watch me repair the most specific individuals in the damns, and lay the stage for the world. There is very little that can't be done on my screen that can lead me into losing my efforts.

Furthermore, I have displayed and demonstrated successfully to my wife at least, that I can absorb a monumental amount of mental punishment usually referred to as routine. Moreover, I can with perfect equanimity watch a small dog play with a newly planted flower patch. My reaction is likely to be that I will give said small dog a bone, gently pat him or her on the head, and let me to do a paint job over again.

because one of my friends on inspecting the job, and in spite of the wet paint sign which I never fail to hang on a fresh paint job, just wouldn't believe that the paint was wet. I don't even pout mildly. Not even when they make the rather inane remark that it is wet paint, isn't it?

Consider, when they have ruined my paint job, I maintain perfect poise, even when they hold out the paint daubed hand, and with a very injured look, indicate that I had no you know what kind of business painting what I pointed, and if I hadn't painted have got paint on their hands, why don't I stop standing there,

You should be on your guard for them. They lay in wait, with premeditated craft and guile, for the moment you make the wrong move. Snakes in the grass have nothing on this type. Their gaze is extensive and satanic; when they have wrecked their machinisms, upon you. Law should be made to condemn such as sometimes to common sense, where they can torture one another.

In particular point of fact, this is the type of character, who under the guise of friendship spoils one of life's smallest pleasures but at the same time one of life's greatest sorrows.
I have reference to the kind of creature who lays in wait for a man, of the real kind, to get into one of those long,
slow, pleasure giving stretches.
At this point, when the stretch, with arms well outflung, when you are teetering deliciously on your toes, this creature will approach you, and with a frank open look, devoid of all guile, will make a sudden pass at your ribs with a rigidly held out thumb or forefinger.
Steady, friend, I think just the same as you do. But remember, Canada hasn't yet abolished capital punishment.

Preparations have been under way since

An evacuation train has been standing by in the Edison Yard, due to the threatened town if the situation deteriorates.

Fifteen ladies have been making a census of the local homes for beds and if any citizens have been missed they are asked to phone the Town Hall to list their names.

Last report (Monday evening) as we go to press are that a favorable rain and wind condition have sprung up to help the firefighters. Let us hope that this condition continues.

are faced with two important decisions to the future of Our Town. The first is the vote to be taken Monday, August 12, (over the proposed bond issue) and the second is the decision to be made by the Town Counciling until our debenture debt was sufficiently reduced to allow our borrowing of the necessary $2,000,000.

Council were then faced with the problem of picking a private company to supply our needs, or wait-

The other decision is more tricky—Our Council have been trying to buy bulk power from the Cal.

New School To Have Auditorium - Gymnasium

New Union a new school is to have 12 rooms plus an auditorium gymnasium according to the decision reached by the building by the board of the Edson School Division.

Construction has already commenced on the steel, concrete and glass Union building and the opening date has been scheduled for September 15.

The school is to be a modern one up to 800 pupils with the use of the old school presently occupied.

The building is estimated to cost $232,000, the equipment $20,000 and the site $10,000.

Minutes of the meeting of the following delegations inter Board of Trustees of the Edson viewed the transfer of property of School Division No. 12 held in the the Roosevelt district to the Pears and 14, 1956, at 10:00 a.m.

Present at the meeting were Fulham rather than the Edson son, J. H. Lawton, H. H. Haddock.

Measures, A. C. Gough, W. William schools as present: South Roosevelt composed of B. A. W. Leonard, Trustee; Superior, W. Smith, spokesman; H. F. and 14, 1956, at 10:00 a.m. and the North Roosevelt children will attend; were in to or of the larger unit in a central location rather than the two units as we built. The above points were thoroughly discussed and enlarged upon by each delega- ar Treasurer D. S. Blundell. Mr. E. Fabrian Jr.

Mr. Ash district composed of Mrs. L. Aschenmiller, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wegert.

Trail district composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bergeron and Mrs. V. Rous.

North Roosevelt and Lakeland districts composed of Mrs. Edna Selby, spokeswoman, and Messrs. G. M. Selby, L. Boudin, B. Selby, N. Mitchell, and Mesdames M. Iwanicki and W. Haubi.

Points discussed by the delega- tions in favor of their opposition to the move were: facilities in Edson were better than these at- tached to Fulham mainly in the location level, off entry of road con- ditions, parking area, Edson as a shopping centre; claim of a fairer democratic school.

But they may choose the school for their children will attend; were in to or of the larger unit in a central location rather than the two units as we built. The above points were thoroughly discussed and enlarged upon by each delega- ar Treasurer D. S. Blundell. Mr. E. Fabrian Jr.

Mercoal Girl Wed In Edson United

MR. AND MRS. CARL GARNER

A June wedding of interest in the local branch took place in the Edson United Church on June 25, when Sylvia Louise Olson, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Olson of Mercoal, became the bride of Mr. Carl Garner, son of Mrs. Edith Garner of Dunster, N.C.

Rev. C. C. Armstrong performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mrs. George McLean.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Thomas Gaudin, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white tulle over satin with lace inserts in the skirt. Her strapless bodice was decorated by a lace bolero featuring fifty pearl sleeves. A sequin and pearl trimmed stole held in place her floor-length veil and she carried a bouquet of roses and gardenias.

The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Mrs. Betty McKay of Kelowna, B.C., and Mrs. Marion Perry of Drayton Valley, who wore gowns in pastel shades accented by bouquets of carnations.

Misses Linda Perry and Victoria Olson were flower girls wearing dresses in light blue and light yellow shades.

Mr. Ken Christ of Edmonton attended as best man. Mr. Herman Bergeron of Edmonton substituted the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Olson chose a flowered sequin afternoon dress with white satin with lace inserts in the skirt. Her strapless bodice was decorated by a lace bolero featuring fifty pearl sleeves. A sequin and pearl trimmed stole held in place her floor-length veil and she carried a bouquet of roses and gardenias.

To illustrate the evil effects of alcohol on the human body, the teacher showed a worm into a glass of water, where it wriggled contentedly; next, she placed it in a small glass of whiskey where it soon curled up and died.

"And what does this experiment teach?" she asked the class.

Bright lad: "People who drink whiskey will never have worms."

A friend of mine, a girl, Charlie, who used to be a school principal in Canada, Saskatchewan, found that many of his students of Ukrainian descent were speaking broken English.

They were Canadian-born, and girls. Every day after school hours they attended a special school to learn the language and customs of their old land. They were learning Ukrainian very well, but (Charlie says) they were failing to learn English. Charlie didn't think this was good enough.

"We're Canadians," he said, "we should be learning English and French. He persuaded the parents to drop the even more elaborate and as a clincher, he said to the students: 'Put in more time with your English, and I'll spend 15 minutes a day learning Ukrainian.' So they continued the bargain.

Soon all the boys and girls could speak English fluently, and Charlie could speak Ukrainian. Japanese-Canadian, that much-maligned and harsh, talented group of citizens, also used to attend their own schools after hours to learn Japanese language and customs. Since they were usually clever and diligent students, their English lessons didn't seem to suffer.

Charlie was surely right in demanding that his young Ukrainian-Canadian learn to speak the language of the country in which they lived.

However, conformity can be

...and more and more of them are discovering that the big Rocket-powered OLDS is well within their reach!

Small wonder more and more young moderns are getting OLDS ideas... can you blame them? For, if you're like most folks, you, too, prefer a prestige car... especially when it's so pleasing to your eye for value.

Everything about this big OLDS beauty says "Come On!" ... a price that fits your budget better than many models of smaller lower-powered cars! ... a resale value so high it traditionally tops the field at trade! ... a reputation for lively performance that's known and envied—everywhere!

Come in for a behind-the-wheel trial of a new OLDSmobile. See for yourself how much your pre-cut car is worth in trade if you act now! You too, will get OLDS ideas... see us now!

YOUR INVESTMENT HOLDS WHEN YOU GO OVER TO OLDS

Oldsmobile has big ideas today when you buy it... big ideas tomorrow of resale. It's something good that on Olds is hard to beat, but easy to buy!

Carrot Creek Honors Miss M. Baley

One Sunday recently approximately thirty-five women of Carrot Creek and Edson district, gathered at the home of Mrs. F. Shaver in honor of Miss Margery Baley of Edson, formerly of Carrot Creek, and Edson, whose marriage took place on June 25.

As Margery opened each of the miscellaneous shower gifts, she made a wish for the giver. When the last gift was opened Margery graciously thanked the guests. A lovely lunch was served.

The plants are up in the garden, to enjoy some of their fruits on our table. And the Gospel for this Sunday has something to say about plants and seeds and such. You don't pick grapes from thorns nor do you get carrots or radishes from pea weeds. Good fruit comes only from the good tree, and evil fruit from the evil tree which does good to be cut down and destroyed or weeded out from the garden.

So with the Christian, it is being what we are, members of Christ. Thus, what we are is perhaps more important than what we say or in a certain sense one who calls Him Lord enters the Kingdom but rather he that does the will of the Father in heaven. Thus it is by our fruits that we know them.

Services this Sunday morning will be conducted by the Reverend Canon W. E. Ekin, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Edmonston. The eighth annual Vacation School for the parish is to begin on Monday, July 30th and carry on throughout that week from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Hinton Teacher Attending Conference Of School Principals

HINTON

Mr. L. A. Cribb, Principal of the Hinton School, is one of 60 school principals meeting at Concordia College in Edmonton for three weeks beginning July 8. It is the annual meeting of the Leadership Course for School Principals, being conducted as a part of the University of Alberta Summer Session. It is sponsored by the Edson School Board.

The course is a cooperative venture of the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Alberta School Inspectors' Association, the Alberta Department of Education, and the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta. A grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation through the Canadian Education Association has been received to help finance the project.

Each group will have a consultant in the field being studied by the group. Serving in this capacity will be: J. V. Young, Director of Research and Personnel for the Edmonton Public Schools; M. O. Edwards, Assistant Director of Curriculum of Schools at Peace River; Otter Maasing, Superintendent of Schools at Killam; N. M. Purvis, Superintendent of the Teacher School Division; B. E. Ross, Inspector of High Schools for the Red Deer area; John A. McNeil, Assistant Superintendent, High School, Edmonton; and G. E. Flower, Director, CEA-Kellogg Project in Educational Leadership, Toronto.

A daily lecture series is scheduled. The following speakers are among those who have been engaged: Mr. J. G. Renshaw, Superintendent of High Schools for the Alberta Department of Education; H. S. Rader, S. C. T. Clarke, H. T. Coutts, H. C. Meisters, and W. Pilkington, of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta; and Jack Shaw, of the Colorado State College of Education.

The director of the Leadership Course for school principals is W. H. Worth of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta.

Participants include: Mr. J. V. Young, Director of Research and Personnel for the Edmonton Public Schools; M. O. Edwards, Assistant Director of Curriculum of Schools at Peace River; Otter Maasing, Superintendent of Schools at Killam; N. M. Purvis, Superintendent of the Teacher School Division; B. E. Ross, Inspector of High Schools for the Red Deer area; John A. McNeil, Assistant Superintendent, High School, Edmonton; and G. E. Flower, Director, CEA-Kellogg Project in Educational Leadership, Toronto.

The pleasant smile of Mrs. Irina Vosenovich is missed in the P.O. these days. Miss Vosenovich is on a four month leave of absence from our local post office during which time she is the Post Mistress at St. J. G. Renshaw, Superintendent of High Schools for the Alberta Department of Education; H. S. Rader, S. C. T. Clarke, H. T. Coutts, H. C. Meisters, and W. Pilkington, of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta; and Jack Shaw, of the Colorado State College of Education.

A lecturer was describing the effects of continuous indulgence in the use of alcohol. He mentioned a case in which a man had drunk to excess for a number of years and was no longer able to stand with alcohol. He mentioned that when he was in the hospital, a candle was kept in the room, and in a short time he died from alcoholism.

One of the audience and that he wished to thank the lecturer for having been so helpful.
"How late I saw your life" asked the speaker.
"How" replied the man. "I saw more candles on the table than all electric."

Most modern truck V8's ...and the pounds prove it!

Pound for pound, the most powerful truck V8's today are Chevrolet's. That's one way you can tell they're the most modern V8's going!

Any engineer will tell you that horsepower-per-pound is a good indication of efficient engine design. And Chevrolet's modern short-stroke V8 truck engines do more work to their weight than any other V8 in any truck today.

That means they carry around fewer pounds for the power they develop. (They weigh up to 200 pounds less than other comparable engines.) It means, too, that less is the maximum truck V8's economy of engine weight and more is carried to payload. As you can only carry half as much load as you have more usable power to move them!

Sup by and let us show you how Chevrolet's compact, super-efficient truck V8's can save hours and dollars on your job.

Weigh the facts... and you'll choose today's most modern trucks

Wasted weight is engineered out of Chevrolet truck V8's!

The slim short-stroke design of Chevrolet's truck V8's makes possible a rugged yet compact cylinder block. Made of multiple purpose components, save weight and increase engine efficiency.

More power per pound means more power for your payload!

Since less power is used up in moving engine weight, a bigger proportion is sent — in every Chevrolet truck model. Horsepower ranges as high as 195 for fast, efficient high horsepower hauling trucks, too!

There's a modern V8 for every Chevrolet Task-Force truck!

There's a powerful, displacing V8 with a standard 4 or optional 6 cylinders — in every Chevrolet truck model. Horsepower ranges as high as 195 for fast, efficient high horsepower hauling trucks, too!

Edson Facing Decisions

G.-Y. Power Company for distribution through town owned power lines. The power company have offered counter proposals of a rental agreement for ten years of the Town Power Plant and distribution system or alternatively an outright purchase of the town system.

Balanced against considerable savings to residential power users as well as commercial and industrial users is the considerable loss of revenue which the Town of Edson will suffer and have to make up in additional property taxes if the deal goes through.

The power will not be available for several months yet so with the permission of the Council the company is going to present the case pro and con to the voters through the medium of the press so that every citizen can be well informed on the advantages and disadvantages that the two proposals would entail.

In the meantime there seems to be every possibility that the local plant will see our citizens through at least another peak season without having to buy bulk power or increase the size of the plant.

Natural Gas For Edson Means Considerable Saving

The Edson Leader The Voice of Edson Constituency

Vol. 4

Edson, Alberta, Thursday, August 2, 1936

No. 10

In Store For Our Town Too?

SEE OUR PICTURE SPREAD ON INSIDE

Townpeople making up their minds on the vote to authorize the gas franchise for Edson on Monday, August 15, picked up their cars when they heard that the so-called "gate price" of the gas had been increased three cents per thousand feet. First question seems to be how much extra will this gate price increase mean at the consumers' end.

The answer given to the Town Council on Monday evening by representatives of Northwestern Utilities was that for a six room home which under the first quoted rate could expect to pay approximately $125.00 per year to heat their home, heat hot water and provide cooking fuel, the increase would be about six dollars or $131.00 per year.

Figures comparing this price with fuels we have been using in Edson show that the new rate would be the equivalent of paying 7½ cents per gallon, as against 17¢ now, for propane; about 10¢ per gallon for oil against 17¢ now; and about $11.00 per ton for coal (at 14,000 BTU) against $17.00 now.

As will be seen by the figures above, there is a considerable saving to be effected by using Natural Gas in Edson over what we have been paying recently for other fuels. The logical thing, therefore, now to be — vote for the franchise for this town to be given to Northwestern Utilities Limited on Monday, August 15. If you are a proprietary elector make sure your wishes are respected by casting your ballot!

For those who are still not clear on what the overall picture on the prospect of natural gas for Our Town is, representatives of the gas company will be calling at as many homes as they can to answer questions regarding conversion of present heating equipment, oil stoves, etc. In addition the company has opened a temporary office in the Brick Block on Main Street which will be open from 3 to 5 p.m.

There seems to be every indication that gas can be available well before the main heating season starts in November. Target date for the delivery of gas at the end of the line at Hinton has been set for October 15. The pipe has been laid to a point just west of Edson now and there is a stockpile of pipe to see the line through notwithstanding the steel strike in the East.

District Marks Passing Of Pioneer Anglican Minister

AN APPRECIATION

On July 18th, the Reverend Canon John C. Matthews died in Edmonton after a short illness at the age of 82. On the Monday following, a Funeral Requiem was celebrated at St. Stephen's Church in thanksgiving for the life and work of a most faithful servant of Christ and His Church.

Canon Matthews was born and educated in England. Following his ordination to the priesthood he came to Canada and did missionary work for some 25 years in Saskatchewan and later in British Columbia where he spent a year with the Fraser River Indians.

In 1920, he came to the Parish of St. Catherine's, Edson, where for some ten years he served with great loyalty and devotion. By foot and by train and by horseback he covered areas—the Coal Branch, west to Edson and east through McLeod Valley, Shining Bank and up to Hinton.

Many will remember him travelling about with the small portable organ and a box of books on his back as he went diligently about to minister to his people.

The Canon is survived by a son, Canon, on page 18.

Cadets are Here, and Vernon's Proud Of Them

[With 36 of Edson's high school boys at the Army Cadet camp at Vernon, B.C., for a week of training this summer, the following editorial which appeared recently in The Vernon News will give you some idea of the impact our boys have on the B.C. community.]

From the moment the first of the annual Western Command Cadet Training camp, which opened here on Saturday, has blossomed into a feature of Vernon's summer scene that makes an impact upon the life of practically every citizen. At the weekend more than 1,100 boys arrived by train and bus, and for the next six weeks, Barnard Avenue will once more echo of the click of metal-plated heels beneath crowds will be swelled by youngsters anxious to learn to swim, row, and do other things which have a noticeably increased patronage. Dairy farmers will rejoice at the prospect of increased sales, merchants generally will welcome the influx of new dollars that the presence of a thousand more shoppers inevitably will bring.

For the boys themselves, it's not just a couple of months of fun and games. They're everything possible in the way of external rest and accommodation is provided for them—the diet is enormous by ordinary standards and only a life of strict routine builds appetites adequate to meet it. But in exchange, the army helps to the boys to concentrate fully on their martial studies, to absorb some of the learning and discipline which will turn them into first class citizens equipped with at least a working knowledge of defense.

Over recent years, Vernon has been plagued with no untoward incidents attributable to the presence here of a thousand boisterous young men. The boys have shown that they can make use of the city's facilities without a display of the destructive antics that have from time to time overtaken other communities. Vernon's proud to open its doors to the young soldiers, to be known far and wide as a home away from home for a fine bunch of kids willing to forego the summer pursuits of the schoolboys in order to equip themselves a little more substantially for adult life.

Our Liquor Laws

A calculating examination of the liquor "question" of this province is presently under way. Submissions and recommendations from individuals and organizations are being heard by a commission and it is expected some changes will be suggested for the province to incorporate its liquor laws.

The Bulletin feels there is no crying need for radical changes. A few of the minor inconsistencies could be swept out as they are not enforceable, so-called mixed drinking could be introduced in the cities suffering from its lack; certain organizations could be granted more leniency for licenses; liquor store hours should be amended to combat bootlegging.

If several such conditions were corrected, we believe it would be sufficient at this time. Despite well-meaning criticism from both wet and dry, the liquor business as carried on by the province has but a few faults.

If it is a question of liberalizing our liquor laws, we must admit that this is one time that we are conservative.

—Brooks Bulletin.

Why Not Do A Little More Flag Waving

If there is anything that Canadians are not it is "flag wavers." There may have been a day, long before our time, when Canadians made a show of being Canadian, and when July 1st was more the a mere holiday and a chance to see the odd ball game, but any enthusiastic expressions of national pride seem to have been few and far between, and taking in an appropriate measure of the spirit of enthusiasm.

We fall sadly by comparison with other nations in this respect. It would be nice if we could feel that this was a sign that we had actually outgrown the narrowness of national pride, and saw the picture from the wider viewpoint. Unfortunately we are more inclined to blame the situation on a national apathy. Why this apathy? No doubt it springs from many causes. In the first place we are a very mixed people.

We simply haven't too much yet in the way of national traditions in the west—and the east, which should supply us with our Canadian background is divided in its regard to the national problem. We comprise a hegemony of peoples of different nationalities and races, many of whom have neither lived with us long enough, or taken sufficiently broad interest in national affairs to have developed a "Canadian" feel. Then we are somewhat overshadowed by our great southern neighbour. True, we are smaller and less opulent—but somehow or other we have let this situation influence us to too great an extent, until we almost feel that we depend upon them for our way of life, and for the things that make that way of life possible.

Canada can not be a very big dog, but just the same it is a whole dog, and a very lively one. It would not hurt us a bit to show the world that we can bark—for we have clearly shown them that we can bite. —Waterfront Star Chronicle.

ALBERTA SCENE

BY KEN MASON

Edmonton—Thinking money is something that comes naturally to Alberta's Social Credit government.

Last week, the administration announced approximately $5,000,000 from the sale of timber rights, and in the same week it was announced that 1960 earnings from oil and gas totaled $188,000,000 including lease sales, royalties and rentals.

Big money from gas and oil is old stuff, but the earnings from timber rights are something new and from all indications they might herald the start of a new emphasis on forestry as an important source of revenue for the provincial treasury.

The department of lands and forests outlined the biggest block of timber rights since the province took over the administration of natural resources from the federal government in 1905.

The sale was run by public tender, in much the same way as oil and gas sales. The sum of $5,000,000 seems small in comparison with the revenue from oil and gas, but it is a source of money which can't do anything but grow, and which is probably the only permanent, undepreciable source of natural revenue the province has.

A total of 381,000,000 board feet of spruce, pine and balsam poplar is five licensed timber lots were involved in last week's sale. All are located in the 98 square mile Tery Creek timber stand, in remote country about 80 miles northeast of Whitecourt. The timber has been there for years, of course, but it gained commercial value only recently because of the new Whitecourt cutoff road to the Peace River country, which for the first time provided easy access to the area.

Timber sales such as the one last week differ from oil and gas lease sales in this respect—the money isn't paid cash on the spot. Operators pay the money to the government as the timber is cut and sold. It is expected that cutting will start almost immediately, and the money will be paid into the provincial treasury over the next few years. The lands and forests department announced that timber cutting in the Tery Creek stand will be done on a new "batch" system, under the supervision of expert forestry officers.

Cutting will be done in patches, and when a patch is cut it will be rained before operations move onto another patch.

In this way, officials hope to cut the forests on a sustained yield basis so there will always be timber to harvest.

Before trying to cut timber, the officials want to know the exact natural resources that will be harvested. So far, the surveys have barely been scratched in Alberta. It is a province has thousands of square miles of forest waiting to be cut and sold. With a pulp industry developing, it is bound to be used, and under proper management it should be an important source of revenue indefinitely.

The liquor committee hearings ended in Calgary last week with a rash of letters from "wet" interests advocating relaxed liquor laws. Even so, they were outnumbered greatly by "dry" letters asking for further restrictions on drinking, or at least that existing liquor laws be retained.

But probably the most important part of the legislative committee investigation will be between now and the 1957 session of legislature. The committee is planning private meetings with police officers and members of the Alberta liquor control board.

The feeling of the board and the police, who enforce the liquor laws, are likely to swing a good deal of weight with the committee. In addition to that, the eight-member group likely will be studying reports from other provinces which have recently relaxed their liquor laws.

So the submissions received at the public hearings may not have too much bearing on what the all-party committee finally recommends to the legislature. To date, members of the committee themselves probably haven't much of an idea what they will recommend, and the general public won't know for sure until the report is presented. In the meantime, all we can do is speculate.

We Laughed

At These . . .

An Indian petitioned a judge to court to give him a shorter name.

"What is your name now?" asked the judge.

"Chief Scurrying Tail White," said the Indian.

"And what do you want to shorten it to?" asked the judge.

The Indian folded his arms majestically and grunted, "Took."

The automobile motor pump of, sputtered, and finally stopped. "Wonder," mused the sailor, "what the heck it is."

"Maybe," said the beautiful blonde, "it's opportunity."

A motorist on a dirt highway was badly engaged with a speed, in the mud beside his car when a stranger asked him, "Stuck in the mud?"

"Oh, no," the motorist explained cheerfully, "My engine just died and I'm digging a grave."

Quote from a high school weekly.

"How did you dad was up to the fact we need his car yesterday."

"Well do you remember that fat, balding fellow we had running down on Fourth St.?"

"Yes, but what's that got to do with it?"

"That, my dear, was my father."

Conscience got a lot of credit that should really belong to cold feet.

After their wedding, the business man turned to his ex-wife and said, "Well, my dear, I suppose I must get someone to take your place in the office."

"I've been thinking of that," replied the bride, "my cousin is just being asked."

"What's her name?"

"John Henry," said the bride, sweetly.

Blame Human Element For Forest Fires

Forest fires which have raged throughout the province for the last month rapidly approached a peak in devastation. Although the summer season has barely started, more than 125 fires have swept over 600,000 acres of timber.

During the past ten years the highest loss of timber in Alberta's history was recorded during 1949 when 1,461,947 acres were burned.

Preliminary investigation into the cause of this year's fires show that more than 1 per cent have resulted from human neglect. The majority of these fires have been started by settlers and arctic natives burning brush on cleared land. Campers, said to be the greatest source of fire, have not yet been out in numbers. Statistics point out that every year more fires are set by campers more fires are started by campers than by any other single factor.

In 1954 more than 50 per cent of fires were started from this one source. In the same year settlers started only 17.8 per cent only 1.8 percent of forest fires, and lightning was responsible for

Indians Make Annual Pilgrimage Of Faith

Marlboro is empty due to the lighting and the Pilgrimage. This Pilgrimage of Faith, held every year on the first Wednesday after July 28 at Lac Ste. Anne, began after a bad drought in the provinces in 1880. The Indians first tried their Medicine men, but when they failed to find the cause of the drought they came to the Pilgrimage.

The rains have been too plentiful to suit most of the people who have gone in the past few years.

There is a church on the lake which will seat over 3000 people. A day is set apart for Indians, one for white English speaking people and one for French speaking people. Wednesday was the Indians' day this year.

The day ends with a spectacular parade of The Way of The Cross. Led by a priest at the head of the crowd carry lighted candles through fourteen Stations of the Cross to Calvary. Little girls, dressed in white with gold wings, kneel beside the Cross with an image of Jesus on the Cross, while the rest kneel in front of it and pray.

People come as far away as the far north country and different parts of the United States to attend this annual religious rite.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beechle and son Jimmie are visiting here from Ft. Lupton, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Thierdorf of St. Thomas, Ont., accompanied Mrs. Hawthorne of Edmonston, recently Mr. and Mrs. Thierdorf were brief visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson.

Some Shots of Other Towns Having Natural Gas Lines Laid

PUBLIC NOTICE

On July 10th and 28th Northwestern Utilities, Limited published a Proposed Rate Schedule for the Town of Edson. That schedule stated that the rates as published were based upon natural gas of suitable quality for fuel, being delivered to Northwestern Utilities, Limited at the Town Gate Station at a price of 27 cents per M.C.F. It is also stated that the proposed rates were based upon such natural gas having a heating value of 980 B.T.U.'s per cubic foot.

It has now been ascertained that the price at the Town Gate Station will be 30 cents per M.C.F. higher than the 27 cent rate previously used, that is, a price of 30 cents per M.C.F. and that the natural gas to be delivered will have an approximate heating value of 1,066 B.T.U.'s per cubic foot and not 980 B.T.U.'s per cubic foot.

This has necessitated the preparation of a new schedule to provide for the above adjustments which is published below.

Although these adjustments result in an increase in the cost per M.C.F. of natural gas to the customer, it is important to note that because of the increased heating value, customers will not consume as great quantity as would have been necessary if the gas had had the lower heating value originally anticipated.

The new rates will involve an increase in cost to the average domestic consumer of approximately $6 to $10 per year.

This rate schedule has been approved by your Council and filed with the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES, LIMITED
PROPOSED NATURAL GAS RATES FOR THE TOWN OF EDSON

RATE NO. 1 — GENERAL RATE
Available to all consumers
First 2 M.C.F. $2.50 per month
All additional M.C.F. ... $0.50 per month

M.C.F. per month
Minimum Monthly Charge—$2.50
When accounts are not paid on or before the due date, the charge per M.C.F. other than the first two M.C.F. shall be increased by $0.03 per M.C.F. and the Gross rate so arrived at shall apply.

RATE NO. 2 — OPTIONAL RATE
Available on annual contract to all consumers whose annual consumption is more than 2,500 M.C.F. per year.

Fixed Charge $50.00 per month
All M.C.F. $0.45 per month

Minimum monthly charge—$35.00

When accounts are not paid on or before the due date, the charges per M.C.F. shall be increased by $0.03 per M.C.F. and the gross rate so arrived at shall apply.

The above rates are based on natural gas of suitable quality for fuel being available and delivered to Northwestern Utilities, Limited at the Town Gate Station at a price of $0.30 per M.C.F.

These rates are also based on natural gas of a heating value of 1,066 B.T.U.'s per cubic foot at 14.4 pounds and 60 degrees F. The Company reserves the right to adjust these rates upwards or downwards as may be required by Price or the heating value from the values assumed above.

Northwestern Utilities Ltd.
YOUR GAS COMPANY

The scenes above will be shortly called off over our radio station of the town to give North-Edson the natural gas system. For Edson is favorable on Monday, August 12. Unofficially we have been given to understand that the gas company can actually put a whole gas system into a town this size in a matter of six weeks after they get the green light.

Edsonites who were here during the construction of the Trans Mountain Oil Pipeline will recall the ditching machine, pipe laying, welding and wrapping crews and machines which fairly moved along at a walking clip.

Upper left is a pipe laying boom, upper centre a cat back filling, while at upper right a welder checks to make sure there has been a good weld.

Lower left shows the underground control valve similar to what will be installed in the Edson system by the gas company.

Lower right shows the stringing of 50 inch casing in a prairie town.

The company has had many years of experience in providing natural gas to Alberta communities and Edson Council chose this company from several applicants as offering the best prospect of providing excellent service at a fair price to local fuel consumers.

One of the features of Northwestern's deal with the town is that gas service is provided right up to the meter inside the home or business premises. The customer is then only responsible for the line to his heating appliances.

PUBLIC NOTICE

By the Board of Trustees of the Edson School Division No. 12 of the Province of Alberta.

WHEREAS it is deemed expedient by the Board of Trustees of the Edson School Division No. 12, of The Province of Alberta, that the sum of Eighty Thousand dollars, should be borrowed on the security of the said Division by the issue of Debentures repayable to the bearer in Twenty (20) equal consecutive annual instalments with interest at the rate of not more than six per centum per annum for the following purposes, namely:

Erect and equip a Four (4) room addition and gymnasium to the Hinton School presently under erection.

THEREFORE, notice is hereby given by the Board of the said School Division that unless a poll of the proprietary electors of the said School Division for and against the said debenture loan is demanded as provided by The School Act, the said Board will apply to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners for authority to borrow the said sum by debentures.

Of which all persons interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

ALFRED C. GOUGH
(Chairman)

Dated at Edson, Alberta
this 12th day of July, 1936

INSTRUCTIONS TO PROPRIETARY ELECTORS IN A SCHOOL DISTRICT

A poll may be demanded in a School Division by a demand signed by five proprietary electors of each of at least twenty per cent of the districts in the division.

Every demand for a poll must be delivered to the secretary of the Division or, in his absence, to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, within fifteen days after the date of posting or of the last publication in a newspaper of this notice. A certified copy of the demand must be forwarded forthwith to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners of Alberta at Edmonton.

"Proprietary elector" means an elector, who is liable to assessment and taxation for school purposes in respect of any property situated in the School Division.

St. Catherine's Anglican Church was the setting for the June 23 ceremony that united in marriage Wargery Helen Baley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Baley of Edmonton and Frederick Langham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Langham of Edson.

Rev. H. Buckner read the wedding rites. Organist was Mrs. Arthur Durston and soloist Miss Shirley Maurer sang O Perfect Love during the signing of the register. For the occasion the church was decorated with baby mums, carnations and gladioli, with the pews being marked by satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a long sleeved gown of lace and not over white satin. The sweet heart neckline and lace points mid way down the skirt, from which a full skirt of net fell, were outlined with mother-of-pearl. Her veil of French illusion net was held in place by a tiny band of ruffled nylon net. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and lily-of-the-valley.

Attempting as maid of honor, Miss Lou Shantz wore a gown of yellow net over satin. Bridesmaids Miss Betty and Bernice Durston wore gowns of blue and pink respectively. They were matching beaded and carried bouquets of baby mums and carnations. Groomsmen were Mr. Carl Laythams, Elmer, brother of the groom, Percy Karamatic, Jasper and Wade Baley, Edmonton, brother of the bride. Guests were ushered to their seats by Mr. Ed Langham and Mr. Mike Dunsen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baley wore a pink two-piece dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage. The groom's mother was unable to attend due to illness.

A reception to 80 guests was held later in the Parish Hall. Toast to the bride was given by Mr. Art Durston and responded to by the groom. Following their wedding dance the same evening, the couple left for a honeymoon in Banff. For the trip the bride wore a beige tweed suit with dark brown and yellow accessories.

The young couple are making their home in Edson. Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Mike Danylek, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kil, Mr. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Brown, Bradenton; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Paulsen and Miss Ellen Paulsen of Banff; Mr. and Mrs. John Danylek, Waskia; Miss Marica Koebel, Mrs. Louise Dangel, Mr. and Mrs. John Wawars, Mr. and Mrs. Les Kopp, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bessert, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steiler, Mr. and Mrs. Helmond Klute, Miss Pat Frith, Miss Muriel Bradenton, Mr. Bruce Bradenton all of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris; Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Durston, Miss Brenda Durston, Mr. John Baley, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walsh all of Carleton Place, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klute, Misses Margaret and Elsie both Klute, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steiler all of Rosetown, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chyrl, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Chyrl, Mr. and Mrs. John Pysar, Mr. Albert Silva all of Foothills.

JOE PENOWICH Campaign Manager

of Edson wish to thank the public support given in their drives for funds to build the kiddies playground for use of local and district children.

The recent fund raising campaign in the draw for the De-luxe Kinsmen Summer Cottage was highly successful due to your response.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike ROMANIUK of Foothills, Alberta were the winners of the cottage.

The Summer Cottage was planned and built with much thought, care and originality that would appeal to every one, and a truly was built by the Kinsmen themselves. Your sidewalk superintending was welcomed as each stage progressed and many of the public's suggestions were incorporated into the building. On its completion the cottage was so much to the liking of all that several persons wished to order a duplicate of the cottage if we would build another for them.

President Weldon TADDY related the following conversation when the winner, Mr. ROMANIUK was advised by phone of his good fortune. "Mr. ROMANIUK, you just won the Kinsmen Cottage — "Mr. ROMANIUK, are you there?" — "I'm all right — "Yes, I'm still here, just didn't know what to say — are you sure?" — "It is a little hard to believe — "Yes, yours was the lucky ticket, Mr. ROMANIUK." — "Come down and pick up the keys." — "You bet!"

In keeping with the terms of the draw, the Kinsmen moved the cottage to Lake Wabamun where Mr. ROMANIUK was waiting with open arms for it, and where he and his wife will spend many pleasant summer holidays.

The Kinsmen and Kinette Clubs of Edson attend to the needs of the community. The purpose of developing your community and district's greatest need.
Over the past few years, since the Clubs have become organized, they have contributed greatly to most community activities, including hospitals, libraries, welfare organizations, local and national conventions, cultural activities such as guests of honor, orchestral and band and choral visits, and many other community affairs. Principally they are concerned with the young people and activities in this line have been winter carnivals, supplying rinks, playgrounds, sponsoring teams and professional and non-professional talent to develop the youngsters.

The Kinsmen and Kinette Clubs require their memberships to be very active and community minded citizens. From all businesses and trades and to be always open to suggestions and action to better the Community and District.

It is the intention of these Clubs to complete a very modern playground at Memorial Park with the funds of the Cottage draw.

Your response to the Cottage Draw was most satisfying, and for all of those who had tickets you can be assured that your assistance will provide the best for your youngsters or your neighbours.

Mark Pioneer Minister's Passing

The Ven. Timothy John Matthews, Archbishop of Gaspé in the Diocese of Quebec. Archbishop Matthews is well known in Edson and the Mission, as he served as his Vicar for a number of years beginning in 1937.

A very large number of people attended the Eucharist which marked his funeral. The Bishop of Edmonton flew from Ottawa to be present. The pall bearers and other assistants at the service were his brother clergy of the diocese.

In the congregation were to be seen people who had known and loved Father Matthews as their priest and pastor from practically every parish in which he had served in 32 years in this diocese.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Riding and family were recent holiday visitors in the district.

Thanks Folks

Mrs. Andy McEvoy and Mr. Edson field wish to thank all those who in any way helped to make the Diamond Wedding Anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reid, such a happy occasion. The gifts, the kind message from our Queen, members of Parliament, our Mayor and dear friend, will leave a lasting glow of appreciation in our hearts.

Service Honors Edith Cavell

Anyone visiting Jasper Park this coming Sunday, August 8, will be interested in attending the annual service which is held in memory of the nurse who gave her life in the First World War.

Held at the foot of Mount Edith Cavell at 3 p.m., the service will be conducted this year by the Rev. Geo. Robinson of the Church of St. Mary and St. George at Jasper.

Popular Bride-To-Be Showered

The home of Miss Helen Stakich was the scene of a shower on July 11, for Miss Rosa Parich, bride elect of this month.

Celebrations for the evening were Misses Norma Beale and Mary Tadnich.

Guests spent the evening playing bingo before a pink and white decorated basket full of miscellaneous gifts was presented to Rosa who opened each gift with the customary wish for the giver.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served which was enjoyed by all. Before leaving Rosa thanked everyone for the lovely shower.

Friends who had known her for many years gathered at the home of Mrs. Odla Field last Thursday evening to honor Rosa with a bridal shower. The many lovely gifts were put in a basket over which hung a gaily decorated watering can.

Bingo was played during the evening, which was brought to a close by a delicious lunch served by Mesdames Nellie Field, Ena Wolcott and Myrtle Lindgren.

When Rosa had opened the miscellaneous gifts she graciously thanked the friends who had honored her then extended an invitation to drop in for coffee some time when she gets in her new home.

Over 400 Gas Customers Lined Up By Northwestern

Representatives of Northwestern Utilities, who, with the approval of the Town Council, have been making a canvass of residences and businesses, have lined up over 400 customers to use natural gas from their lines in Edson if the proprietary electors approve the franchise bylaw on Monday (next) August 13.

There are 750 eligible proprietary electors in the Town and it is presumed that the majority of them will make the effort to get out and give their formal approval to giving the gas company the franchise.

This vote is considerably different from one for town utilities such as water or sewer, where the burgesses are required to borrow a large sum for the capital expenditure involved. In this instance the franchise holding company will pay into the Town coffers five per cent of the gross revenue for the privilege of providing this cheap modern fuel to our citizens.

There has been some misunderstanding concerning the $2.50 monthly minimum. Company officials wish to emphasize that this charge does NOT go into effect until the meter is hooked up and the customer is receiving gas.

There is no cost to citizens who may not wish to convert their heating equipment at this time and there is certainly a considerable saving in light for everyone who intends to make use of natural gas as in other Alberta communities.

Nylon Control Gown and Clothing Clubs won first prize in the Edson Exhibition parade in the multiple class for 4-8 Clubs in Alberta this year. Two shots from different angles give an idea of the quality of the first made by this active group of young people. They also won first prize in the Lawrence eye gown trophy.

They would like to express their thanks to the following firms for donations: Miller's Store; Hinton; Durland's Store, Carrol Creek; Edson General Supply.

W.I. Hold District Conference At Fulham School

The Mahaska-Jasper Annual Conference was held at Fulham school on July 14. W.I. members were represented from Hinton, Carleton Place, and Mahaska. Jasper was unable to attend.

The conference started with a banquet at noon which seemed to be enjoyed by all and enabled the ladies to become acquainted with each other and become one big family.

Mrs. T. Johnston gave a welcoming address to all W.I. members and also to Mrs. Bellish our District Director and Miss Morgan our Home Economist who came to judge the ladies' handicraft. This was answered by Mrs. H. Lawton of Hinton.

The business part of the meeting was opened by singing O Canada and the saying of the creed. With Mrs. J. Kirchbach, our Constituency Convener in the chair, the minutes of the last Conference were read by secretary Mrs. Brindle.

Financial reports were heard from each W.I. branch and although some branches are small, all ended with a balance in the bank which shows most W.I. branches are quite active.

A very good report was given by our retiring Constituency Convener, Mrs. J. Kirchbach on the District Conference in Edmonton. Mrs. J. Kirchbach who has been very conscientious in her post is moving away and we are very sorry to lose her.

Reports were then heard from all outstanding conveners which was played by Comrade R. Christie. Edson Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

A list of floral tributes and other expressions of sympathy will appear in next week's issue of the Leader.

were under the headings of United Nations, Health, Citizenship, Home Economics, Agriculture and Industry, Handicraft, Social Service and Education.

Mrs. Bellish, our District Director, then made comments and advised the Convener and members on how to make better reports and that the W.I. is the farm women's education and above all we must not be collective agents for others. That the Women's Institute across Canada is not bound or sponsored by any Government or agents and they stand entirely on their own feet that they are also non-political, non-racial and non-religious. The W.I. helps first its home, community and country.

Mrs. Howes is the next del. gale chosen from Alberta to go to the World Conference in Ceylon to help contact with other nations for world peace.

At all times W.I. members are to be on the look-out to encourage new members or to organize new groups as this is a worth while group and is now world wide.

Town Kiddies Looking Forward To Legion Picnic

The Edon Branch of the Canadian Legion are returning this year to the tradition of holding an annual kiddies picnic at Ray Brown's Farm 5 miles from the Legion.

All the kiddies in town are invited for the afternoon of fun and games, free ice cream and other goodies and are asked to bring their parents with them as well.

For those without transportation a bus will be leaving the Legion corner at 1:00 p.m.

Carson Field Dies Suddenly

The many friends of Mr. Carson Field were shocked to learn of his untimely passing in an Edmonton Hospital on Friday, August 3.

Especially well-known for his cricketing ability, Mr. Field will be greatly missed from the ranks of the devotees of the grand old game. He was a veteran of the 1914 campaign in the 5th Canadian Division during which time he was seriously wounded.

Prior to his coming to Edson a few years ago he had been married in the Carleton Place district. His marriage to Miss Lenore Ahlf, another ardent cricketer, created a pleasant stir in cricket circles less than two years ago.

Mr. Field was born in Portland, North Dakota, January 15, 1904, and is survived by his loving wife, Lenore, his infant daughter, Carol. He is also survived by five brothers: Otto and Ralph in Edson, Leif and Carl in Seattle, Washington and Arthur in Portland, Oregon. Six sisters, Mrs. Herman Lindgren, Edson; Mrs. Charles Beck, Mrs. H. Bidmore, Mrs. James Curthill and Mrs. H. Ranger of Edmonton and Mrs. G. Norlin of Lethbridge.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 8th, in the Edson United Church by Rev. H. Buckner.

BLISSFULLY YOURS...

HINTON—

By ALICE HOLLINGTON

Once upon a time there was a girl named Anne who loved clothes but like many girls and women today, her wardrobe allowance was limited and so she was unable to have many of the lovely garments she saw in the shop windows.

One day Anne saw an iridescent blue skirt, just the perfect one for her new sweater. "I just must have that skirt, mom, even if I have to make it myself!"

"Well, honey, Aunt Mary's portable if you really mean that," said mom, "and I will help you all I can." And this is how it all started. Anne with mother's help made herself a very nice skirt at less than half the cost of the lovely ready-made she had admired so much. Anne's first sewing turn turned into spare time fun. Instead of sitting around idly, she was busy dreaming of lovely clothes and trying to make them.

Her first sewing venture took time and a few mistakes but the results were good and her family so pleased with her new interest that Mom and Dad decided to buy her a sewing machine for a birthday present. Now, they wear only the best for Anne so started shopping. Well, with so many varied makes of machines on the market they became a bit confused as Mom was no expert at sewing, only running up simple garments for the children and herself and using a machine mostly for mending, so by the time several machines and listened to the sales talk, besides comparing prices, they hardly knew which to choose for their Anne.

Only they decided Anne should be the one to choose for herself, so they took her to the various sewing centres and let her take demonstrations so that she might better choose a machine suitable for her requirements.

Modern machines today are magic and if you choose and learn to operate any one of the well known machines they will help you sew like a couturier.

Many of you may have older models which still work well and all you need is to have a motor attached and a simple attachment or two which have different sized and shaped discs to allow you to do many of the same stitches as are done on the new expensive machines, so don't let the high pressure salesman talk you out of a perfectly good machine and into payments on a high priced model unless you really want a newer machine.

Be sure when you do buy a machine (if you are getting a new one that you can obtain repairs and replacement parts, such as needles and added attachments if you are choosing one without the built in disc and dial, as many of the lower priced machines are being sold throughout the country, while those that can be made to do any number of the fancier stitches by addition of attachments, still these high pressure salesmen will sell the machine and leave the family to guess and never show up again for repairs or to adjust any trouble that may result from lack of proper instructions in the use and operation of the machine.

Usually these salesmen are selling of a very high price, usually while pointing out the high cost price of well known machines, so that you are really buying an inferior machine at a very high price indeed.

Sewing can be fun if you understand the basic principles but you also must know and understand the full operation of your fitted.

Mrs. Jeanie Wilson of Oakville, at the age of 101 celebrated her birthday by going fishing. Her-rah for her granny. She played which included congratulatory messages from the Queen, the House of Lords, Prime Minister St. Laurent, Premier Frost and a score of other notables.

She attributes her long and happy life to "keeping busy doing things" and is the proud grandmother of 12 grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren.

Children who play hard out doors soon use up their food supply and their hungry bodies ask for more. A glass of milk and a slice of bread and jam or peanut butter is just what is needed to fire the boilers again.

Playing is his business in life just now and eating on the run is more fun than politely sitting inside at a fancy table waiting for the grocer's to get a number of crates in the lawn.

The town was never too impressive to begin with. It was only a rugged expanse of dunes and couch grass, blighted by the inhuman shadows of objects that had been left there for long rubbish heaps and upturned roadblocks awaiting repair.

However, even an old and battered lawn deserves to have its wounds dressed. So Daddy fitted the dog's excavators with earth-tramped the earth down and scattered grass seed.

Shortly afterwards, the three-year-old and a visiting boy dug new holes in the same places.

The children are making good progress in their campaign to wreck the house and turn the garden into a desert.

Visiting and neighborhood children are co-operating heartily with inmates of the house toward this end. Dogs have also done their share, by following out a number of crates in the lawn.

sight foot of water, and is now invisible in the mud.

What is left of the wagon stands in the front yard, a few lars and crippled object. It will be on the bottom of the lake before long.

The smallest boy, aged one year and a few months, does his part by pulling down any fragile object within reach and shattering it on the floor. He is already doing good work for his age.

Most of the time the three-year old and the little girls collaborate peacefully in their campaign of destruction, but they have occasional arguments which are settled when one party hits the other on the head with a piece of wood.

Yesterday they discovered the word "sorry." To they around themselves by whacking each other with heavy objects, and saying "sorry" after each blow.

Then they began to play with paper and pencils. "Let's draw a 'sorry,'" said the boy, and the boy, and the three of them drew large shapeless objects that might have been well received at a gallery of progressive art.

Unfortunately they tore up the paper soon after-ward. I want to keep their work. Those were probably the first pictures of a "sorry" ever drawn.

Their dresses were identical, floor length of turquoise chrysalis, with matching picture hats. They wore long lily point gloves and carried cascade bouquets of white baby's breath.

Petite Karen Mithon and Colleen Brown, cousin and niece of the bride respectively, were flower girls, wearing long dresses of shimmering chrysalis, fashioned with ruffled yokes and carrying colonial bouquets of white baby's breath. Mr. R. Don Holmes, brother of the groom, was the best man while Messrs. Alvin Johnson and Edmondson and Andy Whyte of Lacombe ushered the guests to the flower marked seats.

During the signing of the register Mrs. A. Michelmans sang "The Wedding Prayer".

Receiving at the Parlor Hall with the bridal party Mrs. G. A. with the bride party Mrs. G. A. Gourley were a dusky rose taffeta afternoon dress with broderie-trim and navy accessories. Mrs. Emily Holmes wore a mauve figured silk afternoon dress with white accessories and white corsage. Miss Elsie Mills of Calgary was in charge of the guest book.

A three tiered cake, topped with pink rose buds and flanked by crystal candelabras with white taper candles centered the bride's table which was decorated with pink sweet peas and magnolias. Miss Edna R. E. Weaken and F. Raynolds presided at the tea and coffee were.

Mr. Lloyd Nelson proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom duly responded. For their honeymoon through the Yellowhead route to Portland, Oregon, Miss Elsie chose a navy blue suit with white accessories and a dainty blue top coat. They will be at home at 4151 St. St. Red Deer, on their return.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Christensen; Mr. Jim Duckery, Mrs. E. Mills and Elsie of Calgary; Mr. Andrew Whyte of Lacombe; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holmes of Peace River; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Leydon of Estevan.

New pumping stations for Trans Mountain Line Co. are scheduled for Gainford and Jasper, according to President D. M. Morrison of the oil transportation firm. The new stations are made necessary by the greater through-put which the company expects as operations expand.

The firm earned a net profit of $2,608,000 during the first half of the present year; shareholders have been told: The net was equal to $1.74 a share. The company's indebtedness to the bank has been reduced from 8 million to 100 thousand at June 30th.

Oil deliveries averaged 109,436 barrels compared with 73,778 in the same period last year. Mr. Morrison said in addition to the new pumps at Jumper and Gainford the pipeline will require additional units at existing stations.

The Athletics have just returned from the Medicine Hat Baseball Tourney where they won third money, so they should be in good shape for the contest.

The first game starts at 1:30 with the second game starting immediately the first one is done.

One thing that boys can do heartily is eat pie and The Leader has caught them in the act at the Legion Picnic last Sunday. The pie—blueberry—really showed up on the table when they straightened up after demolishing a pie apiece.

Edison proprietary electors left no doubt in anyone's mind that they wanted the benefits of the modern heating fuel—natural gas in the placiblets on Monday when they went to the polls and voted 383 to none against, to have their Town Council grant the natural gas franchise to Northwestern Utilities Limited.

Out of the 385 ballots cast there were only two spoiled (one voter voted both for and against). The vote was very representative of the proprietary class in that there are only 748 votes in respect to property held with many absent for the holidays and firms with property and no one here to vote.

Officials of Northwestern Utilities have been busy signing up gas users and our understanding is that they were only waiting the verdict of the vote to start the actual laying of the distribution system within the town.

One of the items at the meeting of the Edison School Divisional Board which met on August 9, was the information that the pulp mill company at Hinton was making available sufficient space in a building to accommodate the overflow registration of pupils expected at the Hinton schools this year.

In addition to the eight room school being constructed this year and the three one-room schools already in operation, accommodation for pupils is still expected to be at a premium and hence the offer from the pulp mill of the extra space.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. A. C. Gough, W. Williams, J. H. Lawton, H. G. Haddock, C. E. St. Denis and A. W. Leck. Secretary-Treasurer D. S. Binndell.

The chairman opened the meeting at 10:09 a.m. with the approval of the minutes of the meeting of July 12, 1958.

Mercofol People Say Thanks Offer Of Help During Fire

A few weeks ago when the forest fire situation looked as if it was liable to get out of hand and the town of Mercofol was threatened by the flames, the citizens of Edson offered to accommodate the people from Mercofol should the town have to be evacuated.

Happily the evacuation did not have to be undertaken, but nonetheless the citizens of Mercofol have expressed their thanks to Edson in the two letters reproduced below:

W. H. Kanckwitz, Esq.,
Mayor,
Edson, Alberta.

I visited Mercofol last week and reviewed with Bob Erikson, the mine manager, the dangerous situation which arose there resulting from the recent forest fire. I also have Mr. Balstad's, the fire commissioner's report and details of his protection plan for the Mercofol township and our mine plant. Both Bob Erikson in his remarks to me, and Mr. Balstad, in his report, emphasized the feeling of confidence and reassurance which replaced the atmosphere of uncertainty as soon as they knew that your city had accepted the responsibility of becoming a reception area for evacuees from Mercofol.

I am therefore writing to express my own personal thanks, the thanks of my Community, and the gratitude which the people of Mercofol feel towards yourself, the city council and the citizens of Edson for so readily preparing themselves to receive evacuees from Mercofol should the necessity have arisen. I feel quite confident too that had evacuation from Mercofol become necessary your citizens would have received the unfortunate victims of the forest fire with unbounded hospitality and kindness. I would be very grateful if you could somehow convey to all those who worked during the crisis and who expressed willingness to give accommodation should evacuation have become necessary, our grateful thanks and appreciation.

Yours very truly
E. O. T. Simpson,
Vice-President, Mining,
Canadian Collieries (Dumfries) Ltd.

Mayor W. H. Kanckwitz,
Edson, Alberta.

We wish to convey our thanks to the people of Edson for their kind cooperation on behalf of the residents of Mercofol during this fire crisis.

The thought has not been overlooked that it took a lot of hard work by your various organizations to provide accommodation for the people of Mercofol in the event of evacuation. Especially on so short notice.

Thanking the 17 girls, Helen and Marjorie Stakich, Beverly Nygaard, Rose Roberson, Jean and Helen Simlisch, Dorothy Kowalski, Viola Chiles, Irene Mackowski, Helen Kusio, Anne Lovins, Mary Radonich, Verne Harbui, Helen Shauer, Jean Robson, Josephine Ferguson, Marjorie Hamstead and Rose Radonich. Again, Thanks girls.

Also we wish to thank the Canadian Legion, The Elks Club and Mrs. Harris Post of their kind efforts on our behalf.

And thanking all those good people that promised accommodation.

Yours very truly,
A. J. Foss

Over 500 Kids Treated At Big Legion Picnic

A committee, headed by Constable Steve Craddock, returned last Sunday to a tradition of long standing when they organized the big Legion picnic at Roy Brumm's farm.

Over 500 kiddies from Edson and district and nearly as many adults turned out to take advantage of the extremely fine Sunday afternoon and to romp in the pastureland of the scenic Brumm farm on the banks of the McLeod.

There was plenty to eat and drink in the pop and ice cream line and the kiddies thoroughly enjoyed themselves, if fact as far as the picture of the ice cream was concerned it was nearly, but not quite, a matter of running out of kids.

In true picnic style there were races for young and old including the favorite three-legged and egg and spoon race as shown in the pictures on the left. A general view of the Brumm pastured is shown from the hilltop to the left.

Winners of the jelly bean contest was M. Harris with a guess of 423 beans and the winner of the 22 rifle was M. Thomas. The Legion would like to thank all who contributed both money and help to make the day the success it was.

TODAY Tomorrow they will be GROWN!

Take that shining spark of mischief, that bright, dimple-dotted smile, with you wherever you go, and with you through the years... In a professionally made portrait that captures it all.

Jeannie Cornelius July Bride

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE JOSEPH MAGG

The Edson United Church was decorated in a summer theme with daisies, for the wedding of Jeannie Cornelius and George Joseph Magg.

Rev. C. C. Armstrong performed the late afternoon ceremony that united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Cornelius of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Magg of Coalgate.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a full length gown of rayon and nylon lace over satin with deeply flounced full skirt of nylon net. Rhinestones studded blossoms decorated the scalloped bodice and the Peter Pan collar of her bolero. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Kathleen Fowler, attending as matron of honor, chose a full length gown in yellow shade while Ann Sprickman, as bridesmaid, wore a full length gown in pale blue. They carried identical bouquets.

Attending the groom were Mr. Norman Fowler and Mr. Thomas Shepard. Ushering the guests were Mr. Bob Cornelius and Mr. Bill Shepard.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cornelius chose a dress of blue rayon jersey with blue accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses.

The wedding reception was held at Trail school with 80 guests present. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Art Leonard and responded to by C. C. Armstrong.

For a honeymoon trip to Jasper the bride donned a corded rayon suit in powder blue shade with pink accessories.

The happy young couple are making their home at Edson.

Pulp Mill Construction Right On Schedule

Construction of the Province of Alberta's first pulp mill, being built at Hinton on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains by North Western Pulp & Power Limited, is proceeding well ahead of schedule. Under present conditions, it is expected to be in production shortly after the first of next year.

Some 1,400 are currently engaged in building the mill which will have an annual capacity of 150,000 tons of bleached sulphate pulp, and will represent an investment in the neighbourhood of $35,000,000. St. Regis Paper Company, which owns a half interest in the project, is directing the design and construction and will manage its operation. The other half interest is owned by North Canadian Oil, Ltd. St. Regis will purchase part of the output for use in its own mills. The balance will be sold by St. Regis in the open market.

In anticipation of the commencement of production in early 1957, timber cutting is well under way on the 3,000 square miles of timberlands on which the company has a long-term timber grant from Alberta. In addition, 2,000 square miles of timberlands have been granted to the company as a reserve for future expansion.

EARLY LAND MARK MOVED

One of Edson's earliest landmarks, St. Catherine's Anglican Church, which has stood on the corner of 7th and Main for over 45 years was moved down 7th to become another residence in Edson's fast growing West side. In place of the familiar shingle sided little church, the St. Catherine's Parish plan to build a new edifice as shown in the front sketch above.

The old church was purchased by Mr. Mike Demulwa, who, assisted by his father, Mr. G. H. Demulwa and crew, moved the building down 7th to its new location on 4th and 52nd. The congregation, sparked by their Vicar, the Rev. Howard Buchner, have signed pledges and cash for a start on the $20,000 plus building, which it is anticipated will look after the growing congregation for some years to come.

The corner lot where the church has stood for so many years was at one of the carpenter's hodge and most of the trees by the hardworking building committee. This week, and the view has been changed considerably in the process.

Jonas Erickson Exhibits Carvings

When Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hunter and family visited their families in Saskatchewan recently they attended the Saskatoon Exhibition and among the many things they saw was an exhibit of special interest to them.

It was an exhibit of wood carving with a caption saying it showed part of the life of Jonas Erickson of Portland, Saskatchewan since he came there. The exhibit contained wood carvings of great skill, which had been done by Mr. Erickson, depicting scenes in his life. Among them were a yoke of oxen pulling a load of logs, a plow, barn, etc. as well as a carved cup and a long wooden chain that had been carved from a single piece of wood.

Mr. Erickson is well known in Edson district when he has worked at lumbering for a number of years, and for a time was next door neighbor to the Hunters here in Edson.

Let's Make It A Date

Red Cross officials, through their local secretary, Mrs. Little Selman, have announced the dates for their autumn blood donor clinics in Edson and District.

The Clinic is hoping for a good turnout of donors when they visit Maroon on Monday, September 19 and Edson on Tuesday, September 19.

The Red Cross points out again the dire need for blood plasma with the rising accident rate of this increasingly industrialized age.

Edson and Coal Branch organizers for the clinics are urging everyone who is able, to make an effort to attend the clinics and donate some of their life-giving blood.

It doesn't hurt, and it gives a certain feeling of pride to wear the donors' patch on your arm and know your helping save a life.

New Bridge In East End Of Riding

The Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways, (center) leads a procession of 2,000 persons across the newly opened three-quarter million dollar bridge spanning the Athabasca River near Fort Assiniboine in the east end of the Jasper-Edson Federal constituency. He is flanked on his left by Charles Yull, MP for Jasper-Edson, and Hon. J. D. Jorgensen, Minister of Public Works and MHA for Pelly.

Mr. Taylor officiated at the ribbon cutting ceremonies and dedicated the bridge to "the increased happiness and prosperity" of the people it would serve.

What Use Is Education?

An Ontario schoolgirl wrote to the Chairman and President of The Royal Bank of Canada asking him "Why do you think I should continue school and get an education?" This is his reply, expanded so as to be of use to all young people in Canada's public and high schools, business colleges, technical institutes and universities.

Your letter is one to which I am happy to reply, for two reasons. The first is that I hope I can help you and the second is that I commend your teachers' enterprise in suggesting that you ask your question.

The commonplace thing for me to do would be to enlarge upon the material aspects of a good education, and to tell you that the principal benefit is in helping you to get a good job, etc. I am sure you already know about that. A boy or girl who does not make the best of all the learning opportunities of school years will be at a disadvantage in competition with others in later life.

I am not going to suggest to you that you should fill your head with information, for the real benefit of your education will be knowledge and understanding and not a list of memorized facts. The main purpose of education, as I see it, is to teach one to think.

It is only by learning how to think, and by learning how to sift out things worth thinking about, that you can put yourself in the best position for enjoying a happy life. This is a very important reason for wishing to continue at school and get an education. Education, when of the right sort, helps you to see things clearly, to distinguish between the essential and the trivial, and to give you a frame of mind and system of thought and judgment which will fit you into your place in life.

Without education (1) you could never really understand the world or its people or what goes on in it; (2) you could not handle your life gracefully and at ease in an environment that is not always so well disposed toward you as your home and your school; (3) you could never relate yourself properly to the problems of others nor achieve the peace of mind and understanding which one must have to support one through the crises that come to all of us.

I believe it is very much worth while for your education so successfully that you will be able to study and I hope that you will pursue have a very happy life. You will realize, I am sure, that everyone faces problems and difficulties at some time or other and suffers distress and sorrow. These seem to be inescapable. But the educated boy or girl is in a much better position to cope with these things, to solve these problems, and to master some of the difficulties, and thus in the end be less distressed and grieved by it all.

An educated boy or girl is, I think, entitled to count upon life holding out prospect of achievement and security — not the kind of security that is dependent upon what someone else does, but the security that comes from within oneself, based solidly upon one's ideas, capability and understanding.

What I am trying to say is that education is absolutely essential but I am not referring to a mass of what, in an old-fashioned way, we call "book learning" and nothing else. What we are after is the education that will teach you to think and reason, which will add to your poise and deportment, which will develop your judgment and which, all in all, will round you out for a fully successful and happy life.

That is the kind of life I wish for you.

Watch That Stuff

Recently a distiller warned the public against vodka. That nasty slavic poison makes you drunk. Worse still, nobody can smell it on your breath.

A young person might sniff vodka all day, and his best friends wouldn't know until he drove his kiddle car through a plate glass window.

Apparently the distiller had no such worries about the effects of rye whisky or rum on the children, because those spirits leave a trade mark which can be detected by the nose.

Father merely has to sniff the children's breath as they come home from school, and he can tell at once if they have been carousing.

Vodka, on the other hand, does not announce its presence. The distiller found it painful to make and sell such a sneaky beverage; but he hoped that the public might stop asking for it.

He was in Vancouver when he issued his warning; and he found some comfort in the fact that the sale of vodka is illegal in B.C. Don't let them sell the stuff, he cautioned. It's dynamite.

His warning went all across Canada by it is too dangerous for you.

Canadian Press. Thanks to that socially conscious distiller, millions of people in provinces where the sale of vodka is legal have now been alerted to the dangers of the stuff, and they can now rush down to the liquor store and buy some to see if it is as bad as the man says.

Hundreds of gallons must have been sold by now, in the interests of research.

By denouncing his own product as a menace to society, the distiller breeds a new commercial trail which may be followed by others.

Tomorrow, some wise automobile manufacturer may succeed in having the sale of his cars banned in one or more provinces. Then he can issue a warning to the nation: If you value your life and peace of mind, don't buy the new power-injected Codoleop with its feather-light suspension and Osmo-domatic drive. It is far too smooth, fast, and flashy.

This car will pass anything on the road. Don't let your son near the wheel of this car. He will wrap it around a pole. Do not be tempted to go into another province and buy one. It will give you delusions of grandeur. Once and for all, friends, avoid this car. It is too dangerous for you.

ALBERTA SCENE

BY KEN MASON

EDMONTON—Five members of the Alberta CCF party, a little starry-eyed perhaps, have returned from a visit to Russia which has caused a major upheaval within the party ranks.

The concern arises over statements attributed to 70-year-old William Irvine, Alberta CCF member, as carried by the Russian news agency Tass and translated by Reuters news service for Western consumption.

Apparently, high officials of the party think Mr. Irvine was too feverishly impressed with what he saw in the Soviet Union, and as this was being written at the weekend it appeared certain that an executive meeting would be called to discuss the possibility of disciplinary action.

One of the statements was to the effect that the travelling CCFers found the Supreme Soviet had a "democratic nature," which is matched by few parties in other democratic countries.

On his return to Edmonton last week, Mr. Irvine said Tass carried his statement correctly, but that due to errors in translation the Reuters dispatch misinterpreted it somewhat. Actually, he said, he referring to one particular set of the Soviet government — distribution of copies of a new pension bill two months before it was introduced. The idea was to give the public a chance to discuss the bill and make recommendations, and this, he felt, was truly democratic.

Mr. Irvine insisted he did find evidence of a striving toward democracy, and he struck back at officials of his party who have been questioning his statements with these words: "One would almost think some people are afraid Russia might become democratic."

The CCF president also insisted he found evidence of economic democracy in the amount of control over industry in the hands of factory workers. In his words: "Not only do they share in plans for the industry in which they work, but we found they are interested in reaching the quality which they set for themselves than any capitalist could ever be."

Mr. Irvine, a federal MP for 18 years, also found more equality of the sexes in Russia although he admitted that women can be seen doing heavy work. On the other hand, he added, nearly half the doctors in Russia are women.

The greatest concern among party officials arises from dispatches which quoted Mr. Irvine as speaking on behalf of the CCF party. Before the group left, the provincial executive made it clear to them they would be travelling as individuals, and would not represent the party.

Mr. Irvine denied he ever spoke on behalf of the party while in Russia, but added that most of the other statements quoted in news dispatches were in the main, accurate.

At the weekend, two top party officials were calling for an executive meeting. Jack Lavenna, Edmonton, provincial board member, said "it is a matter that has to be ironed out fast."

The brass was out in Ottawa to meet the travellers when they reached Canada and James Inglis, national secretary, after questioning them, said it was a matter for the provincial board.

Mr. Irvine was accompanied on the trip by Harold Brown, Edmonton, first vice-president of the party and provincial organizer and well known in Edmon constituency. Floyd Johnson, president of the Edmonton CCF, Otto Wallich, of Lethbridge, and Byron Turner of Lethbridge.

We Laughed At These . . .

A city girl became friendly with a farmer's son, and was invited to spend a week-end with his family. One evening she was crossing a field with her boy friend, when they saw a cow and calf rubbing noses.

"That sight makes me want to do the same," said the young man. "Go ahead," laughed the girl, "it's your cow."

"Do you believe in metempsychosis — transmigration of souls?" "I'm half inclined to credit the idea. I read the other day that there are birds in Africa with bills a yard long."

"Well?"

"I started me wondering if those birds are not the spirits of departed plumbers."

Fredrick: "Mother if baby swallowed a tadpole would it kill him?" Mother: "I think it might, dear."

Fredrick: "Well, it didn't yet, mother."

"Mrs. Updell's pet dog has been over over. She'll be heartbroken."

"Don't tell her abruptly."

"No, I'll begin by telling her it's her husband."

Twenty-one: that which girls younger than try to look as old as, and women older than try to look as young as.

Wives whose husbands have ever had to walk the picket line know that too often it's only one strike and you're out.

You: understand you held divers' stocks.

Bull: "You said it, they are diving all the time."

Teacher: Now, can any of you girls tell me what a maulsaw is? Brightest girl: It is an apparatus with a boy friend.

AST HELD UP BY STEEL SHORTAGE

Edmonton—Alberta government telephone officials reported last week that the recent United States steel strike delayed the building of microwave relay towers in the province.

Officials said the delay would not, however, hold up the expected fallaking day of the project next summer.

When completed the microwave towers will form part of a nationwide relay system.

From September 2 to 8 inclusive. Officials organizing the tourney state that a capacity registration has been received for both men's and ladies' tournaments and that T.C. Hoopes of Minneapolis, who won the Totem Pole Trophy last year, will be on hand to defend his title.

C.C.W.I. To Raffle Comforter

Seven members of the Carrot Creek W.I. met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Brendel on August 8.

Mrs. Grace Novotney had donated a number of woolen and cotton rags to the W.I. for which the secretary had obtained a lovely satin comforter and wooden blanket. Those were on display for the inspection of the members. It was decided to raffle them and to put the tickets on sale immediately.

Mrs. J. Keithing who has been president for nearly three years, announced that she is moving away and therefore resigning as president. Mrs. J. Morris is left to carry on pending election of a new president.

Mrs. Helen Hensault read a letter from a W.I. member in Australia. It was very interesting and informative.

The hostess raffle was won by Mrs. Grace Novotney.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Durston on Wednesday, September 12.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR

The parable of the good Samaritan, which is the Gospel for this Sunday, is the answer which Jesus gave to the question asked Him by the lawyer, the question, "Who is my neighbor?" This parable does not answer the question directly. Instead, it points out what characteristics we should have if we are to be good neighbors.

The first characteristic of a good neighbor is that he shall be neighbor to all. Personal preference is to play no part in dotermining our neighbor's need. The man the Samaritan befriended was a Jew, and for centuries Jew and Samaritan had been hostile toward each other. Yet the need of the man who had been robbed overcame this prejudice on the part of the Samaritan.

The Samaritan did not only help the man he found lying by the side of the road and then go on his way, trusting that someone else would take care of any future needs. No, the Samaritan saw the need, he made sure the traveler would be taken care of until he should be recovered and able to take care of himself. And this is the second characteristic of a good neighbor, that his help be not only well-meaning, but as effective as possible.

Finally, the good neighbor does not set out where there is a chance that he will receive a reward of some sort, for he set out performed it casually, a selfish act. The Samaritan certainly expected no reward. He would probably never see the man he had helped again. The good neighbor must give freely of himself, remembering the great gift he himself has received from God, who "so loved the world that He sent His only begotten Son."

Peers Notes

Mrs. Archie Radcliffe and younger children of Bala, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Nielsen.

The Grade 10 examination results are in the hands of respective students and the entire student body were successful. Congratulations to each of you.

Mr. C. Nielsen Sr. was rushed to Edson Hospital with a heart seizure. The community wishes you a speedy recovery.

L.A.C. Fred Radcliffe, has returned to his base at Cold Lake after having spent his leave at the home of his parents. Sorry to hear Mr. E. C. Acorn has been on the sick list. Hope you soon feel like your old self. Mrs. F. Osipow and children have been visiting in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Radcliffe have moved to Edson where Mr. Radcliffe is employed on the rail road.

Mrs. Olney of Vancouver is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Radcliffe of Edson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Forsythe of Edmonton are visiting at the home of his parents and with friends in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bush are spending a week on a fishing trip up north.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Moen on their wedding. May they have many years of happiness together.

BLISSFULLY YOURS

Hinton — Well, here we are again after a very informal date, but our new Hinton Editor, Mac MacCrimmon has informed me we will go to press regularly from here on.

With the new Editor devoting full time to the job of giving a better service to our many readers, I am sure we will all notice a big improvement in all services and some items pertaining to our pulp mill community.

Ken tells me that he has purchased one of those lovely new homes we see shooting up so fast over in the new townsite, and that he will be bringing Mrs. "Mac" and daughter just as soon as the house is finished. Seems like so many are waiting to have their houses finished so that they can move in, and with the "Ray" store well on its way now it looks as though Hinton will have many bright lights at Christmas this year.

I don't suppose you many mothers of school age children are too happy about their school situation these days. It appears that the children will still have to attend staggered classes and many will have considerable distances to travel. It all adds up to a very difficult task for both teachers and pupils, come school time again.

Poor old Hardisty Creek not only has quit sheltering the small fish but for the second time this summer is completely minus water at least from the pulp mill road down, but some good Saskatchewan citizens has come along with the sort of water-service that's been making it easier on backs and now we can "buy" water at the door along with our milk.

Had the surprise of the summer the other day as I ran in to Art Dunn. I thought some of those Burrowing River fish had swallowed him. Don't believe him, we've still some nice trout right close to home and to prove it I have Radcliffe's catch in our newly given from community and I was only 15 minutes drive from Hinton.

Notice Helen Kille has added another car to his last line. "Better and faster service" is the Kille theme.

Nice to say Mrs. Jack Murray home again. She says it was nice to spend a few weeks with the children on the coast, but she was glad to get back to Hinton and Cabin No. 2.

You know Shirley Jobin takes great pride in his flowers and all goes on record that he showed the smallest penny as well as the largest, grown in these parts. Now I have something to show him — the smallest sweet pea to ever have a blossom. Someone said you cannot grow flowers or vegetables here. Well, Shirley does grow flowers, and Mrs. Woodley tells me vegetables aren't an impossibility either and on that subject, take a look at Mary Humpshair's garden right here in Hinton.

For those housewives who make a cotton fern and just keep adding the old nylon after washing until the form is well filled, then make up an attractive cushion top depending on which place in the home it will be used to determine type of material and style desired. It sure makes a filling that will take the hard knocks of family use and always stay soft and fluffy. Why throw up your hands in the garage when we can always use an extra cushion.

For those housewives who want to try this as a light, quick but convincing desert for the last days. Beat the whites of two eggs until they stand up firm, add a pinch of salt and sugar to taste, then stir any kind of fruit or (drained) canned fruit, to serve four. The children love it.

After noticing some of you housewives working up old nylon hose into rags, I thought of passing through when we can always use an extra cushion.

INCREASED $20 MILLION

Edmonton — The provincial government has granted authority to invest an additional $20,000,000 in the special investment fund, set up to provide money for municipalities.

make a cotton fern and just keep adding the old nylon after washing until the form is well filled, then make up an attractive cushion top depending on which place in the home it will be used to determine type of material and style desired. It sure makes a filling that will take the hard knocks of family use and always stay soft and fluffy. Why throw up your hands in the garage when we can always use an extra cushion.

For those housewives who want to try this as a light, quick but convincing desert for the last days. Beat the whites of two eggs until they stand up firm, add a pinch of salt and sugar to taste, then stir any kind of fruit or (drained) canned fruit, to serve four. The children love it.

After noticing some of you housewives working up old nylon hose into rags, I thought of passing through when we can always use an extra cushion.

Pioneer Friends And Neighbors Honor Mr. Taylor

Over 150 friends and neighbors of Pioneer district gathered Saturday evening August 22 to pay their respects to Mr. Nate Taylor on his 85th birthday.

Relatives from Ponoka, Stettler and Hinton were also on hand to wish their kinsman well.

The Pioneer school was filled with well-wishers, when Mr. Taylor accompanied by Mr. Geo. Seibel, who also celebrated his birthday on Saturday, cut the big birthday cake.

Mr. Stan Sokolowski expressed the sentiments of the gathering when he paid tribute to Mr. Taylor in a little speech on behalf of those present.

After an enjoyable lunch, Mr. Taylor proved to all, when he dug out his violin, that even at 85 a man isn't too old to fiddle.

At least one couple from Edson who had been car-hopping, wound up the night's festivities with a demonstration of the "farmers' glide" — however not all guests were so unfortunate and partook of the fun and games.

F.U.A. News

Members of the Edson F.U.A. Local 589 held their regular meeting in the L.O.O.F. Hall on August 7.

The F.U.A. has long advocated compulsory car and truck license. Findings of a commission set up to investigate compulsory insurance schemes in other provinces and states south of the border, were discussed to some length.

The social committee were given complete charge of the plans for the annual picnic of this local. This picnic will be held at the Cleaveland farm on the McLeod River, east of Edson on Sunday, September 9 at one p.m.

Farm families, members and prospective members are cordially invited to attend. Picnic bring your own picnic lunch and cups.

Coffee, lemonade and ice cream will be served free of charge. An interesting line-up of ball games and races are planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Win Perkins and Orm were accompanied by Miss Marie Perkins while they have been holidaying at Hot Springs, Montana.

EASY DOES IT

MAKING a garment larger? Sew the seams before you take out the original stitching and you'll save a lot of basting or having the material slip. The old stitching can give you a guide for the new seam.

All manner of things can be stored in plastic bags to enable you to hang them as well as use them. Try dust and cleaning cloths.

THE WEBB'S BUTYR

Deviled Chicken Paprika (Serves 3)
1 broiler, cut up
2 cups lemon juice
1 teaspoon origano
1 teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup chopped scallions or green onions

Put chicken with origano, paprika, salt and pepper. Arrange skin side down in baking dish. Pour 1 cup lemon juice over chicken and sprinkle on scallions. If desired broil each side until meat is tender and skin is golden brown. (This recipe contains no acid—small fat and is fine for low calorie diet).

In one, and put cookie cutters in water.

Punch a hole through your shopping list and tie it on the wall while you do the marketing. It won't get lost that way and, you don't have to keep handling it when you have to shop a lot of vegetables, the easiest way to do it is with a French chef's knife. Use a board or chopping block and don't let the tip of the knife leave the board while you work.

While you do painting from a ladder, hang a nail, or two on the ladder so you can put your bucket of paint on there as well as a cloth for wiping paint stains and hands.

Popular Young Couple Wed Here

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS A. LEONARD

Edson United Church was the setting for the pretty afternoon wedding on Saturday, Aug. 26, that united in marriage Mary Elizabeth Schur and Dennis Arthur Leonard. Rev. C. C. Armstrong performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schur and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leonard, all of Edson. For the occasion the church was decorated with gladioli and sweetpeas. Mrs. George Maclean played the wedding music and soloist was Miss Mary Ann Leonard, who wore a gown of peach brocade satin in identical style to that worn by the bridesmaids.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a full-length gown of antique taffeta and imported French lace, inset with tiny seed pearls. She wore a crown of pearls and rhinestones which held in place a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Bible Society To Canvass

The British and Foreign Bible Society will be starting their annual canvass in the early part of September.

The Anglican, United, Pentecostal and Christian Reform churches will all help with the volunteer canvassing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilming Erickson and Terry of Kamour, B.C. and formerly of Edson, have been returning acquaintances here, while on a visit to their old home town.

Red Cross Stress Urgent Blood Need

The local Red Cross organization are busy these days preparing for the Blood Donor clinic which will be coming to Edson next Tuesday, September 11 from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 a.m.

Each year half a million bottles of blood are collected and distributed by the Canadian Red Cross Transfusion Service. This blood donated by voluntary donors, is provided free of charge to patients in hospitals participating in the service across Canada.

Today more blood donors are needed than ever before. Owing to the increase in population, to an increasing number of industrial and automobile accidents and to the numerous cases that medical researchers have found for blood and products derived from it in the treatment and treatment of disease. The demand for blood never ceases and the need exceeds the blood that is available.

It goes on to say that the age of 18 and 64 and in good health, you can, if you will, help

U. S. Steel Looks Luscar Field Over

Luscar is in the business world's eye in way that could draw a lot of future operations. If the one of many possible markets developing that show promise right now.

Two geologists have returned to the States this week with a report for the United States Steel Corporation following an extensive survey of the Luscar coal field and are carrying back very favorable reports as to the quantity and the quality of the Luscar sub-bituminous coal.

According to information we have received, the U.S. steel company are also interested in the deposits of iron ore in the area as well, which together with the vast quantities of coal there, could mean heavy industry in this district in the next few years if the present steel shortage is further aggravated as it very likely will be.

The excellent coking quality of the Luscar product has long been appreciated and to the natives of this area, it is only natural that the Branch should come into its own again. First development from the steel industry in the U.S. would probably be the shipment of coal to the steel plants there.

Luscar, of course, has been bidding along with other mines in Alberta, on the projected contract to supply coal to Japan in the past few weeks as well.

To add to the interesting possibilities for the Coal Branch there is the persistent rumour that Canada Cement has been looking over a site at Cadomin opposite the Inland Cement limestone setup to once again make use of the unlimited quantities of limestone and the deposits of marl at Marlboro.

All of which adds up towards making the Edson - Coal Branch - Hinton area one of Alberta's next big industrial frontiers.

to save a life by spending half an hour and donating blood with the Clinic comes to Edson next Tuesday. The Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is entirely dependent upon the support of voluntary blood donors.

The Clinic will be at Marlboro on Monday, September 10 for the benefit of Coal Branch residents who did so well when they were called on last spring.

These long pipes will mean a higher standard of living and more leisure according to plans put up around town whenever Northwestern Utilities crews are busy building and putting natural gas lines in for residences and business premises. There has been some re-routing of traffic, but nothing but a miration of the scene and rapid work toward Edson getting its long awaited natural gas.

Detour Signs May End This October Fifteenth

Flurries of snow and sleet which started the Labour Day week-end also served as a reminder that fall frost is not too far away. C. B. Shand, District Highway engineer, has hopes that Standard Gravel and Surfacing Ltd. crews will finish the 9½ miles of highway east of Hinton well in advance of the first snowfall.

At the present rate of construction, weather permitting, the remaining uncompleted portion of Highway 16 will be finished by October 15. Base course has been

Look how gasoline prices have stayed down

In these days of high and rising prices, what's happened to the price of gasoline?

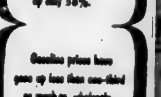

Let's compare wholesale gasoline prices with the government's general wholesale price index.

Since 1935-1939 prices in general have risen 120%.

In the same period, gasoline has gone up only 38%.

Gasoline prices have gone up less than one-third as much as wholesale prices in general.

4101 Meals Served At Surprise Summer Camp

When the camping season came to a close at Surprise Lake Camp 4101 meals were served Aug. 10, the cook had served 4101 meals. That represents a lot of food, and campers here are not sent away hungry.

The lady responsible for most of these meals was Mrs. Helen Henderson of rural Tofield. Mrs. Henderson, of Edson, cooked for the last five days of the camp season.

This has been the sixth season for Surprise Lake Camp. Beginning with a cook shack—now called the Miracle House—because it was built on an outlay of $30 cash and a lot of faith and tenacity, the camp now boasts of six camper cabins, adequate kitchen and dining hall, staff cabins, a spray bath, and other necessities. More cabins and better facilities are planned for the future.

Camp figures this year show that there were 104 campers at the four youth camps, and 24 campers at the Family Camp. During the summer 22 persons served as leaders at these camps for various lengths of time.

Two camps were much below the usual registration and this placed a financial burden on the anticipated revenue for camp expenses. With the improved facilities, and as quite a publicity it was not likely that the camp will be in the red again.

The camp is on a project, chartered by campers across Canada, was placed in the red again.

Established by the United Church to serve primarily the churches west of Edmonton, Surprise Lake Camp attracts campers and leaders from a wide area.

Campers this year came from Jasper, Hinton, Bruce, Edson, Wildwood, Evansburg, Whitecourt, Big Lake, Mayberry, Haddock, Chertill, Stanger and Edmonton.

The camp building fund allowed for the construction of two more camper cabins this season and a needed addition to the kitchen for storage, etc. Work parties helped clean up the camp site, which is beginning to look much more attractive. A lot of work with swing beds and sandboxes was much used by children at the Family Camp, and by the younger children of some staff members during the other camp periods.

Donations of material, bits of equipment labor and money continue to come in and the camp

Local Pulp Mill Signs With Union

Hinton—

North Western Pulp & Paper Ltd. and International Workers of America, AFL-CIO Local 1297, Edmonton have reached an agreement concerning the company's operations under union jurisdiction in the Hinton area.

This agreement, which outlines the hours and conditions of work, wages, etc. in the plant, is the first of its kind in the pulp and paper industry in Alberta. Both parties expressed their satisfaction with the new agreement.

Altogether happy to express appreciation to church groups at camp, Jasper and Edson for help, and to a number of individuals whose contributions ranged from $5 to $100.

To complete the building program, improve the beach area, provide adequate equipment, the camp committee anticipates a limited inter-district and support future years. Rev. C. C. Armstrong, of Edson, is chairman of the committee.

Vandals Smash Trailer Camp Pumping Station

Edson—During the past week, the Trailer Camp has suffered several attacks of vandalism and as a result is posting a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons responsible for the damage.

The pumping station which supplies the camp with water, was the object of most of the attacks. In three separate occasions the pump house was broken into and a deep well Jacuzzi water pump smashed.

On the last occasion an electrically driven replacement pump was stolen from its mountings. In addition to damage to the pump house, 30 feet of one inch plastic hose was taken from the premises. The water supply line, which was buried eight inches below the surface of the ground, had to be severed with an axe and then pulled up before it could be carried away.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Reid have arrived in Edson from Big Valley, to take up residence. Mr. Reid is the new station agent to replace Mr. Fred Craig, whose retirement took place recently.

Edson—A building under construction at the site of the Alberta Mining Corporation's $1,000,000 hotel which is to be located directly opposite the Hudson's Bay Store.

HINTON—

The Poole Construction sign is one of many contractor signboards that are beginning to sprout up along Athabasca Avenue, other projects now under way include the new shopping centre, Esquire Men's Wear, King Drugs, apartment buildings and a new hotel. The Hudson's Bay store is among those in the advanced stages of construction. Store Manager, Bill Lawrence, who visited Hinton this week, expects to have the opening of his new store in November.

Council Discuss Model Gas By-Law For Town

Edson Council discussed the model by-law covering proposed regulations on the installation of natural gas at their regular meeting on Tuesday, September 4th. No action was taken pending the clearing up of various points with Northwestern Utilities and the provincial authorities.

Council also sold a 20x20 space next to the Anglican Parish Hall, on the alley, for a regulator station, as well as sold a residential lot to the gas company.

Present were Mayor Kankowitz and Councillors MacDonald, Meade, Nigma, Tucker and Wells.

Mr. N. Greenwood addressed the Council in support of his application for license to operate Norman Electric as an electrical contractor.

Council approved the issuance of electric license on condition that a place of business be established in the commercial area of Town.

Mr. C. Cyr addressed the Council on behalf of North Star Oil with regard to water service to his company's premises on block 16, and it was agreed that further information would be gotten from the company.

Council granted approval as to zoning and lay-out of plan of proposed McColl-Frontenac station on block 1.

It was moved that a site 20x30 in the extreme N.E. corner of lot 3, block 24, be sold to Northwestern Utilities Ltd. for the use of $200.

It was moved that lot 2, block 20, be sold to Northwestern Utilities Ltd. for a proposed residential construction on payment of sum of $300—$100 for land and $200 for a building, and that Mayor and Secretary be authorized to make the transfer.

The following building permits were approved: M. G. Kilpatrick, lot 17, block 22, addition, $6000; W. Kowalechuk, lot 11, block 25, garage $350; H. Goldstick, lot 1, block 21, alterations, $10,000; R. Gardner, lot 13 and 14, block 7, commercial building, $10,000; Vander Wal, lot 19, block; addition and alteration, $2,000.

The usual $50 capital cost payment was waived for the Greenwood Community Centre on the west end extension.

It was moved that Councilor Meade be Deputy Mayor until the first regular meeting of Council in December.

It was moved that approval of Council be granted to placing of fence on 5th Avenue walk by the Edson Motor Company during construction.

One Night Late Shopping Needed Says Business Men

Edmonton does it, Calgary does it, and now Hinton has tried it and liked it—one night a week shopping, that is—and so Edson should try it too, say Edson businessmen in the retail trade.

The trend is toward one-night shopping and it is especially applicable to the business scene as far as Edson is concerned is the claim.

Edson businessmen, and the rest of the town, indirectly, have lost thousands of dollars because there was no night shopping this summer, say several of the businessmen on Main Street.

They dismiss all the familiar arguments about staggered hours for employees, by pointing out that they are protected by the wages and hours legislation, reminding us that Edson is becoming increasingly a service town. A chance for greater business volume they say means more jobs for Edson people and more money in circulation with everybody benefitting.

Those businessmen who want to stay open one night a week are irritated about having lost the opportunity of competing with Jasper merchants for the booming Hinton trade this spring and summer. They consider that Jasper's nine o'clock closing has really worked to that town's advantage this year.

Technically the Town Council ended the night closing by-law at the request of the retail merchants affected. Last year about this time two sets of petitions were circulated to get the closing by-law amended. Each petition had a majority of those signing both in favor and opposed to late closing.

Those advocating one night a week shopping say that there is no competition for storekeepers to stay open, that those who want to, should be allowed to do so.

There is no provision for those who are concerned with convenient store hours—the guy with the long green—the customer other than let the editor which might give some idea of how the customer feels on the subject.

Return Home From Norway

Tomatoes By The Peck

Someone told us about the wonderful tomatoes that Mr. Jack Griffiths has growing in his little back yard greenhouse on Seventh Avenue East, so we waited over to see for ourselves one evening.

We were really amazed at the size and number of fruit on the plants, some weighing over a pound.

Mr. Griffiths' special pride and joy is a hybrid plant that has seven different clusters of fruit on it from top to bottom.

He told us he had started with 34 plants in the hot house, but lately has pulled some of them up to make room for some over-sized onions that he grew from sets that he is drying off for winter use.

He told us he has sold over 60 pounds and given away probably that much as well, and there seemed to be a never ending supply on the plants left.

It's been an exceptionally good season for gardens this year and lots of people have been growing tomatoes even on outside vines, although with the early frost they never have a chance to ripen.

We've heard of quite a few people in Edson and surrounding district who have had home grown corn to eat this year.

Mr. Griffiths is a modest man, however, and told us that a gardening neighbor, Mr. Chelton, had a better garden and better crop of greenhouse tomatoes than he had.

Letters to Chris . . .

"Letters to Chris" will be a weekly feature of this newspaper. If you have a personal problem on which you wish to have advice and guidance, please mail your letter to us. All correspondence will be treated as strictly confidential and sent directly to Chris. No signature is required. The following is a problem that has been presented to Chris:

Dear Chris:
I am engaged to a very nice fellow who has been in the Air Force for the past nine months. He is stationed far from here and can only come to see me every two or three months. I am 19 and he is 22. I am working very hard in order to save for my wedding expenses (next January). I love him deeply but every now and then I find myself wanting to go out and have a good time. I have many friends who often ask me to go out. Should I go out, double-dating or should I concentrate on my work and my future wedding?

Alice

Dear Alice:
You and your fiancé used to go out quite often and it is very natural for a young girl to want to go out. Since you and Jim love and trust each other, I would suggest you try to problem to him. If he is the "nice fellow" you say he is, I am sure he won't mind at all letting you go out with your friends every now and then. Don't overdo it though. And above all, go out only with the purpose of relaxing from your hard work and not for excitement. Remember, your marriage is meant to last a lifetime and a little sacrifice now is worth a lot of your future happiness.
Chris

One of the greatest marksmen in the FBI was passing through a small town, and everywhere he went he saw evidences of the most amazing shooting. On trees, on walls and on fences there were numerous bull-eyes with the bullet hole in the absolute centre. He asked to meet the person responsible for this remarkable feat. The man turned out to be the village idiot.
"This is the most wonderful marksmanship I have ever seen," said the FBI man. "How is the world to you the day?"
"Easy as pie," replied the idiot. I shoot first and draw the circle afterward."

With the Churches . .

THROUGH THE Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong
Those who read the Edson Journal for September 10th, or listened to the radio, would hear of an Anglican Archbishop who was expressing dissatisfaction over the attitude taken by certain ministers in the United Church. The Archbishop was quoted as saying "It is incomprehensible to me that I should get letters from the United Church requesting me to stay out of an area because they have selected that area for their church extension work. It is a shock to me when a United Church minister tells one of our students to get out of town."

The Rev. Dr. M. C. MacDonald, secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the United Church, has asked for further information relative to the frequency and range of occurrence of these acts of discord. He said "The statement made by Archbishop Carrington, as reported in the press, is an amazing one. We shall ask the Archbishop to give the names of the United Church ministers or officials to whom he referred and also the names of the evidence."

Another Anglican, speaking to fellow-members of his church reported that "difficulties with the United Church have been known in his diocese, but added that when traced they were usually found to stem from clerical or lay hopes which did not represent the true feeling of the church."

May I add in conclusion that to deplore that attitude of mind amongst church people who are primarily members of a particular denomination and only secondarily members of the whole inclusive Christian Church.

Are we first of all Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Disciples, Evangelical, Mennonite, Nazarene, Presbyterian, Roman, United, or do we really accept that ancient formulation which proclaims the church to have a unity within multiplicity, and to be "one, holy, catholic and apostolic."

No doubt the secular press has made most of these remarks, but no doubt it will cause some soul-searching within the United Church. Undoubtedly some Anglicans and some United Church people as well could furnish specific instances where relations were somewhat strained. This tension would exist wherever there are individuals who can be properly classified as non-co-operative. It would also exist in areas where the size of the population irrespective of denomination, would seem to indicate that there should be only one church represented there.

The United Church came into existence because people living without a community were concerned about having several churches having many things in common yet existing as separate entities. It was the spirit of mutual respect, co-operation and desire for a larger christian fellowship which resulted in the merger or union of the churches to form the United Church of Canada. Any evidence, however slight, that the Church is ceasing to be a "uniting" and instead is becoming a "dividing" church is a matter of grave concern.

SERVICES THIS WEEK-END will be Harvest Festival services. Harvest rings with it the reminder of God's goodness and gracious kindness towards mankind and of our dependence upon Him who gives the sun and warmth, snow and rain that the earth may bring forth fruit in due season. But such is only half of the story. Harvest also demonstrates the manner in which man is the crown of all creation for he is dignified and honoured in his daily labor by being a fellow worker with God. The fruits of the earth are not dropped from heaven like manna but only come through the honest labor of man plus the blessing of God. And, of course, what is true in the physical world of daily bread is just as true too, in spiritual things for there too, in the realm of the heavenly harvest, man is called and honored to be the fellow worker with God but all may be gathered in.

grows even faster
in your Royal Bank Savings Account

Interest on Savings
Increased to 2 1/2%
Starting September 15th

Here's good news for serious savers. For the second time since the end of July, The Royal Bank of Canada is increasing the interest rate on personal savings. As of September 15th, this bank will pay 2 1/2% a year, crediting interest every six months, on April 30th and October 31st, on your account.

Your savings will grow even faster at this higher rate—a strong inducement to build up your account by making regular, systematic deposits every pay day.

Real savers profit most. Each month, set aside a fixed amount, earmarked for your Royal Bank Savings Account, and leave it there to earn 2 1/2% interest.

There is nothing quite like money in the bank

Hinton Construction Progress Report

The construction of the North Hinton Pulp and Paper plant and the erection of new housing and business projects is going ahead so rapidly that some projects have been started and completed before they had a chance to become a rumor.

In order to keep pace with this ever changing scene, we are starting this week to carry a progress report on the development at the mill and at the two housing projects.

Information on North Hinton has been made available through Donahue Smith, Mill Superintendent. Ed Priesen, manager for A.V.D.C. has supplied information of progress being made on the properties of Athabasca Development Corporation.

Mill Progress To August 31

BY DENHOLME SMITH

Cloudy conditions existed for the majority of the week with intermittent rain showers. Northern winds caused a marked drop in temperatures, down to the mid 50's during the day mid 30's at night. However, the rain showers did not affect the progress of construction.

During the week 1436 cubic yards of concrete were poured. This new house a total of 5002 cubic yards to be poured for the whole project out of an estimated total yardage of 42,000.

The south wall of the Machine Room has now been completely covered and the north and east walls are completely bricked up on the ground and part way on the operating floor. The laying of roof tiles on the Machine Room has been 95% completed.

No. 1 power house has been inspected and approved by the boiler inspector and No. 2 boiler is now ready for a hydrostatic test. Work is progressing on the digester; the device used for raising them having been dismantled and removed. Nineteen moor towers have been erected in the woodyard and five fighting equipment is being installed in the wooden hydrant houses over the mill area.

The natural gas supply to the mill is in process of being laid. Sections of pipe have been laid to the highway and excavations have been dug toward the Refectory Station.

A.V.D.C. Highlights

By ED PRIESEN

Foundations have been poured and the walls are starting to go up on the six apartment building.

Workmen have started to dig basements in a new subdivision called Montevideo. This area is located in the flat east and south of the new school. Completed approximately 150 lots, this subdivision already has water, sewage, and power lines installed. At present the gas distribution system is being put in.

The North Canadian Oil Ltd. transmission line from Wabasca has been connected and may be under high pressure test this week. It is expected that natural gas will be piped into all townsite houses by the end of this month.

Work is progressing on the Alberta Mining Corporation shopping centre. Foundations have already been poured and completion time is tentatively set at two and a half months.

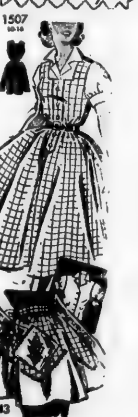

Light standards have been installed in the commercial area and light poles have been installed in the townsite. To date approximately 31 families have moved into their new homes.

meat.
Harold Lake, who supervises operations at the Edson bridge, contributed the following recipe for making goat meat palatable.
First you secure a large pot, put a layer of stones in the bottom and then start heating the pot. After the pot becomes well warmed you place a layer of chopped goat meat on top of the stones, season the meat and continue to place layers of stones and meat until the pot is nearly full.
Four water on top and let the meat simmer for four hours.
The meat should be well cooked, so you pour off the water, throw away the meat and eat the stones.

HINTON—
One of the few houses in the Athabasca Valley Development Corporation that remains in the basement stage. In the background are some of the 122 houses that are reaching various stages of completion. To date slightly more than half of the houses in this project have been sold. Excavations have started in the area south of this project for a subdivision which will contain approximately 130 houses.

after having had it's underpinnings strengthened and Thursday afternoon of this week, a group of women gathered to give the building a thorough cleaning up, preparatory to the men getting at the laying of a plywood floor this Saturday.

On Sunday evening, September 3 the Craft Centre will show a film in the Nova Theatre, starting at 8:00 p.m. The picture will be How Green Was My Valley, that great picture of a Welsh coal mining town. A silver collection will be taken.

Fall Activities Starting In Local Craft Centre

When the Craft Centre commences its activities this fall, it will have a new course to offer, cupper tooling. Instruction for this course, as well as one in leather work will run from September 17 to September 28. All interested persons are requested to get in touch with one of the officers of the Centre before the 17. They may not get in touch with Mrs. Gavin, leather counselor; Mrs. Kankewill, secretary; Mrs. Madge, treasurer; or Mrs. D. Buck, president.
The annual fee of $6 allows members to participate in any or all of the crafts.

Courses in wood working and design have been arranged for November 28.
The date for the pottery course in wheel work will be announced shortly. The class will start as soon as the shop can be made ready to accommodate it.

The financial position of the Centre has improved considerably this year. The executive is grateful for the public support it has received and is happy to report that the goal of a comfortable, well equipped building to house all the crafts is now in sight.
The crafters are very busy these days getting their new home in shape to move all the crafts into. The building has been lowered onto its foundation again.

Archery enthusiasts from Hinton have had a chance to try their skill and have sometimes been smacked at their lack. Left to right Joan O'Hara, Pat O'Hara and Dr. R. Watson, gathered around one of the targets to see who got the most "bullseyes". A target range has been set up on the Nickerson farm and it is hoped that a meet with the Red Deer Archery Club can be arranged in the near future.

Local Scholarship Winners Presented With Awards

An audience of 400 teachers, pupils and guests witnessed the presentation of scholarships and prizes in the high school auditorium on Friday afternoon. Principal M. D. Monde, who was master of ceremonies for the occasion, thanked the donors and congratulated the winners in grades IX to XII.

On behalf of Edison Motors, Mr. Gerald Mahon awarded the grade IX scholarship to Joan Hanson. He expressed congratulations from his brothers, Lloyd and Everett as well as himself. Mrs. Anne Joy presented the Dutch Mill scholarship in grade X to Dieter Folsberg.

The Commodore Hotel scholarships in grades XI and XII were presented by Mr. Walter Fowler to Anne Haddad and Joan Mammal respectively. Substituting for Mr. Wm. Nigro of S.N.A. Lumber Company, Superintendent J. F. Finlay presented the prize in grade XII subjects to Joan Mammal in Mathematics, Science and French, and to Beverly Hygaard in English.

Highlight of the afternoon was the presentation of a five hundred dollar Alberta Hotel Association scholarship to Joan Mammal who completed her grade XII in the June examinations with an excellent average. This presentation was made by Mr. John Buck of the Edison Hotel and Mr. Fowler of the Commodore Hotel.

Both expressed their great pleasure at having this pleasant duty to perform again this year. (Last year Allen Sheppard received a

Mr. N. A. Herbut Passes Suddenly

Old timers and all who know him were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Mr. Nicholas Andrew Herbut, a respected longtime resident of Edson, at the age of 56 years on Sept. 15.

Mr. Herbut came to Edson with his parents at about the same time as the railroad steel and worked with his father to clear the homestead at what later became known as Spike Island, because of the vast quantities of railway building supplies piled there.

He is survived by his loving wife, Claudia, two daughters, Vera and Effie both at home, three brothers, Dr. Peter of Philadelphia, Michael and Bill of Edmonton, five sisters, Mrs. J. H. Folsberg, Wilkes Barre, Penn.; Mrs. Helen Kowalschak, Mrs. Verna Pearson and Mrs. Mildred Chomin of Edmonton and Mrs. Mary of Chicago.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, September 18, at 10:00 a.m. from the Basilica Orthodox Church, Edson, and interment followed in the family plot Glenwood Cemetery.

Floral tributes were received from Loving Wife and Family; Peter, Margaret and Family; Bill, Marion and Boys; Vera, Michael, Catherine and Barbara; Millie, Bill and Duane; Anne and Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. V. Radomski; Mr. and Mrs. S. Radomski; Mr. and Mrs. R. Gonsky; Mr. and Mrs. R. Ryk; Mrs. Polanski and Peter; Andrzej Modler; Mr. and Mrs. P. Gas Turn-on Target Date Is Mid-October

Target date for turn-on of natural gas in the middle of October, Mr. Murray Stewart, Assistant General Manager of Northwestern Utilities, Ltd., told members of the Edison Board of Trade on Wednesday evening.

While the company's own target date is October 15, Mr. Stewart said, actual turn-on ceremonies by November 1st will be very good. The franchise agreement with the Town, of course, calls for December 1st, the company is considerably ahead of schedule as far as the latter date is concerned.

Out of a potential total of 675 possible users, 625 businessmen and residents have applied for immediate hooking up to the system.

Mr. Stewart gave the meeting a broad outline of how his company likes to operate in a town and how they like to become a part of the community in which they do business.

No business had hoped into much prominence in such a short period as had the gas industry. He reminded his listeners of how natural gas had been considered a nuisance in this province only a few years ago, although the Chinese had used natural gas piped to their buildings with burners a permanent staff of 400 to 500 which rises to 1000 and more in the summer months.

Natural gas now, said the speaker, is a modern miracle fuel in the atomic age and his company likes to place the emphasis not on the word natural or the word gas, but the word service. He related the constant struggle of his company to keep service up and costs to the consumer down.

Mr. Murray told the meeting that the bulk of his company's gas comes from the Viking-Kinross field which has been in production since 1923. He distinguished between such a field and gas which is in combination with oil and is used to bring the oil to the surface and has its propane and butane etc. removed before going into a natural gas transmission line. His company gets gas from various wells in various parts of the province for their system as well.

DO OWN CONSTRUCTION WORK

Northwestern do most of their own construction work because through the years they have found that this is not only the cheapest way to build their own lines, but the safest. They have a permanent staff of 400 to 500 which rises to 1000 and more in the summer months.

In their earlier years they had less than 12,000 customers, but this year they will have over 70 thousand. Their plant has doubled in the past six years, with the expenditure of 30 million dollars during that period. They will be spending over six million dollars this year alone on capital expansion.

The company has a policy of serving every community that can be economically supplied. They also try to have every area in their system pay its own way so that one area does not subsidize another. Hence the different cost, on page 16

Customers Like Nite Shopping Say Stores

In spite of a steady rain, over 500 customers dropped into Bud's Super Market and the H&N on Thursday evening according to a count by the store operators who were delighted at the response to their first Thursday night opening.

Customers have been so enthusiastic about the one night a week shopping that they are signing a petition in the two stores to customers. The list contains over 400 names already and it is expected that there will be 1000 by Saturday, say Messrs Bud Bre-nell and Dick Hook.

The two stores say they are satisfied that customer demand is sufficient to warrant Edison stores remaining open on Thursday nights.

One customer even went so far as to get out of bed and come down and buy some groceries to show that he was in favor of the late closing.

In the meantime, Mr. W. York, is circulating a petition from the Town requesting the views of the various retail merchants in Edson's business section.

The Town Council can only amend the closing by-law when a majority of the retail outlets are affected. They are petitioning to do so. There is no provision for customers to officially petition for the privilege of night shopping aside from requesting the merchants to stay open.

Hinton Progress Report ..

A.V.D.C. Highlights

By JOHN MORRIS

With winter approaching, Athabasca Valley Development Corporation has speeded production with contractors taking on more men. With this as a keynote, the results are already noticeable as many houses become completed and at least final approval by C.M.L.C., the National Housing authority. Home gas services have been started and fifty homes are expected to be serviced in two weeks. Excavations, footings, and basements are going ahead rapidly in the new Meadowside subdivision. Eighty basements are planned before freeze-up in this section, where water, sewer, light, and gas are already in.

Home-owners will be pleased to see that the streets are being travelled and it is possible some sidewalks may be in before snow falls.

The Hudson's Bay Co. store basement was completed and at 10 p.m., Mr. Lawrence, arrived on Monday and took up residence in his new house prior to making arrangements for the store's grand opening in the near future.

The group of stores, which will be headquarters for many businesses now in Hinton, has had the foundations poured and the walls will be up shortly.

The new million dollar hotel is set rising out of a huge hole in the ground where Poole Construction is promising to complete concrete pours before cold weather.

Note, also, should be taken of "King Drugs" and "Require Men's Wear" who have opened in the very near future; and of the sportsman. His are well along the way and ready for buildings will be started as soon as grading is completed, giving a total of 25 units.

Building permits issued last week went to C. J. Rush (dwelling), Athabasca Valley Development Corporation (apartment buildings), Industrial Electrical Contractors (two dwellings), and N. A. Livingstone (dwelling). All of these permits, with the exception of Athabasca Valley Development Corporation, were issued for buildings to be erected on the properties of Hinds Development Corporation.

It is understood that the wheels of Calgary Power are turning to supply light for this area. Material will be interesting to see what will be produced within the next 90 days.

The development of the townsite isn't going as well as expected because of the reluctance of some residents of the trailer camp to evacuate.

About two weeks after the picnic season closes we should be able to view the beauty of our parks as autumn winds sweep them free of picnic debris.

The enchanting hour is the period of time when the boss is out of the office for lunch.

Natural Gas Installed At First House

The first house to be occupied in the Athabasca Valley Development project, checked up on another notable first, this week.

Workers who have been laying the gas distribution system for the townsite, started installing gas service lines to the houses on Fraser Avenue this week. The first house to be occupied on this street, was the first to be hooked up to the gas distribution mains.

Although gas service lines are being installed at the rate of approximately eight per day, the "turn-on" of gas to the householder is not expected to take place until the 8th of October. Contractors for the laying of these lines is Pemberton Construction Co.

At present the gas mains are about 75 per cent completed. Testing of the main transmission line is now progressing under the supervision of N. Urishak of Petrol Structures Ltd. and "Bull" Stewart of Dutton & Williams. The line has been cleared from Union to Wolf Creek and crews are currently running the "pig" on the remaining section of the line to Wabamun.

Upon completion of testing on the main transmission line, and construction of the meter station, all that will remain before natural gas is supplied to the householder, will be the testing of gas mains in the townsite.

F.U.A. News

Members of the Edson F.U.A. Local 588 held their regular meeting on September 4 in the 100 F.P. Hall. Several topics were discussed, the most interesting to the general public being the rough condition of the side route. It was decided to approach the government regarding same and ask about having them grade before freeze-up so we won't have to travel all winter on rough roads.

Our annual picnic was held on Sunday, September 9 at Clearview. It was a very sunny afternoon, it was a bit wet underfoot which probably was the reason for not too large a turnout. However, those who did come had a good time and lots to eat including all the ice cream and orangeade they wanted.

There were races for young and old with small cash prizes and suckers for everyone. Some playing of softball and others took a stroll along the river bank "looking for gold" and enjoying the sunshine.

After supper the ticket was drawn for the lamp which this local raffish and the winner was Mr. Cliff Jackson of Edson. Members of the F.U.A. wish to thank all who supported their group in this project.

We would like to thank Clifford's for the use of their grounds and also the music which brought the picnic to a very enjoyable close.

All that is necessary is to send a note to Mr. Becking at Stony Plain, stating the number of heifer calves between four and twelve months of age which are to be vaccinated. Address and lamb information must also be included. Farmers will then be notified when the vet is coming to the farm.

After a few years vaccinating all heifer calves against this dread disease, a farmer will have a herd that is completely resistant to Bang's disease. Mr. Becking pointed out. Although the disease has never appeared on a particular farm, it can easily be brought in. The neighbour's cattle, or the

BY KEN MASON

Edmonton — Members of the legislature's eight-man liquor inquiry committee returned in Alberta last week from visits to Canadian provinces and U.S. states to the east and west.

While away, the legislators conferred with liquor control officials on methods of handling the liquor problem, and then made personal inspections of retail outlets, bars, restaurants and liquor stores to see how they are managed in other jurisdictions.

Four of the members travelled west by car to Montana, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. They were Edgar Corbett, Edmonton Social Credit MLA and chairman of the committee; Nick Dushinski (CCP — Willingdon); Ira McLaughlin (SC — Grande Prairie); and Chester Jarvis (SC — Camrose).

From their talks with liquor board officials in British Columbia, they gained the impression that B.C. is reasonably happy with its new liquor laws which permit the establishment of cocktail lounges under proper government control. The authorities apparently are satisfied with the short, probably early in February.

The provincial government will go into the Christmas tree business for the first time this year, by charging timber royalties on all balsam fir cut from crown land to meet Yuletide demand.

This was revealed last week when the cabinet passed an order-in-council revising the schedule of timber dues. Rates on Christmas trees range from three to nine cents per tree, depending on the size.

There are two reasons. Firstly, trees on privately-owned land are becoming scarce, and cutters will soon have to enter crown lands to meet the demand for Christmas trees. Secondly, more and more Christmas trees are being imported from British Columbia. The government doesn't see why B.C. should get all the Christmas tree business.

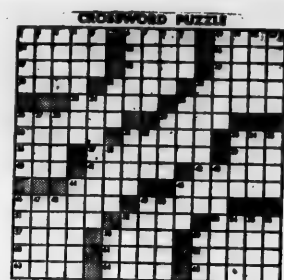

Starting this year, anyone who wants to cut Christmas trees will first have to obtain a permit from the province. Incidentally, the government doesn't expect to make much revenue from the deal, but it will make some, and anyway, balsam fir is considered a wood of little or no commercial value.

At the same time, the cabinet approved a slight reduction in stumpage royalties, in an effort to encourage operators to supply more wood to the province's growing pulp industry.

SCHOOL DAZE—The provincial education department announces that 180 "student-teachers" will be available for Alberta school classrooms this fall.

In case you don't remember, "student-teachers" are graduates of the contentious six-week course offered at the university every summer under the Emergency Teacher Training Act.

The six-week course was offered for the third time. Of those who attended and qualified, 74 were attending for the

Aircraft Distress Signals Bring Fast Jasper Action

Jasper.—The alertness of Jasper citizens was strongly praised by the occupants of two light aircraft, that were guided to Jasper airport during the heavy rainstorm last Thursday evening.

Falling to take into consideration the change of time zones, the two planes, flying outward from Prince George, arrived over Jasper at 9 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. as scheduled. Unable to locate the airport in the darkness, the planes began circling the town, flashing distress signals and searching for a suitable landing spot.

Noticing the distress signals, a large number of people started for the airport in their cars. Loading the way were the RCMP patrol car and the Jasper Park Lodge bus.

The driver of the sightseeing bus began flashing lights on and off inside the bus. According to the pilots of the planes, this was the first sign of help that they noticed. Behind the bus was a long stream of cars heading in the direction of what the people in the planes thought to be the airport.

The cars lined up on either side of the field and turned their lights on the landing strip. In addition, flares were set out for a perfect landing.

Occupants of the planes were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Saunders and George Swallow, of Extonville, California, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Saunders of El Cajon, California.

The group had been in Alaska during the summer and on their return trip to the U.S.A., decided to visit Jasper and Banff. On arrival at the airport, they still had

One of the passengers stated that they had known Mr. Robson to be one of the highest peaks in the Rockies, but never wanted to prove it by coming as close to it as they had while the thing that amazed the vis-approaching Jasper.

Here must about their emergency landing was the speed with which help came. From the time they reached Jasper, it took the local citizens approximately twenty minutes to lead the distressed aircraft to the landing field.

Obed News

Material has been purchased and foundations have been laid for four new motels which are located directly east of the Obed site. The motel units are being erected by D. E. Hecox. When completed each unit will measure 70'x20'.

The Wabamun to Hinton gas transmission line has been completed and crews of British & Williams, who have used Obed as their base of operation, are now moving out.

A new siding has been installed by the CNR for the Obed Lumber Company. In addition to the siding, the railway has erected a new flat car ramp at Obed.

The bear population in our district dropped by two last week when local sharpshooters were asked to shoot two bears who had caused considerable property damage.

rates in various parts of the province.

His company has a ten year contract with the Canadian Gas Co., who own the pipeline west of Edmonton to Hinton for supplying gas to Edmonton and all other towns who can be served along the line with the exception of New Hinton, who can be economically served.

FREE SERVICE

The Edison Council, he said, insisted upon the company supplying free service to the customer's door, and this was the advantage of rapid build-up of users right off the start.

Mr. Murray introduced Mr. Joe Laballo, who will be routing the gas here, and his assistant, Mr. Stan Scott. Mr. Laballo has had experience in introducing gas to other towns and Mr. Scott is completely trained in service work.

The average house in town should find their costs for heating, cooking and hot water running around $175 per year, Mr. Murray said, at the price charged for gas here. Which is considerably cheaper than other towns, he said.

LINES TESTED

The speaker explained all the tests on the new line before the gas is turned on and he told his listeners that his company prided themselves on their safety record in never having an explosion on their lines.

He congratulated the Council on passing the gas by-law for Edison and he said that while his company has every sympathy for the man who wants to do his own gas fitting, they are 100 per cent opposed to it on grounds of safety.

In answer to a question, Mr. Murray said that it was not necessary to vent a kitchen range if the oven has a thermocouple control. Hot water heaters, furnaces and everything else should be vented, he emphasized.

Pipes through homes and business premises must be visible for inspection purposes as a safety measure. The gas will be ordered so that detection of any leaks can be made easily.

There will be a cooking school and fashion show in Edison on October 24 to help acquaint Edison housewives with the differences between natural gas and other fuels and the speaker.

In answer to a question about failure of the pipe line and consequent cutting off of gas customers, Mr. Murray assured the meeting that there was very little chance of this happening.

If mankind had wished for what is right, they might have got it long ago.

Beauty on the beach—sturdy proof for an informal group shot.

KEEP YOUR GROUP SHOTS SMALL, INFORMAL

In taking group shots, there are a few points to try to avoid. First of all, don't try to shoot too large a group at one time. You'll find two pictures are really better than one if more than a half dozen people are going to appear in a single shot for your viewer.

Next, be sure your subjects have a corner of interest in that you don't end up with the kind of stiff-necked, group-eyed composition popular in Grandmother's album. Just keep your camera trained on the little conversational groups that form naturally—several people sharing a joke, three or four guests admiring the table decorations, a happy couple deciding what to order at the grilling buffet board. Natural groupings like these are your best insurance of good memories because the subjects are less likely to be self-conscious or even aware of the picture taking in progress.

Any festive occasion that seems to beg for the older film—red light, it may be used in daylight, or with flash without the additional flash or when flash bulbs—several people sharing a joke, three or four guests admiring the table decorations, a happy couple deciding what to order at the grilling buffet board. Natural groupings like these are your best insurance of good memories because the subjects are less likely to be self-conscious or even aware of the picture taking in progress.

No doubt about it, a party lends a little to daily living. Why not capture the fun in film so you can have a permanent memory of "the good time that was had by all"? 418—John Van Guilder.

Jasper—The Kinsmen held their convention in Jasper Park Lodge from September 9 to 13 with a large attendance. Guests from Great Britain, South Africa, Australia, U.S.A. and Canada participated.

On their first evening they had a grand get-together in the hall room, attended in western get-up and Jasper town's streets too, re-sounded to the added activity.

Their Buffalo Barbours and Lambroes really were entertaining planned in perfection and all participated in exuberant style.

Monday, World Council delegates were introduced and their guest speaker was Hon. A. Russell Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs, province of Alberta.

All took in Jasper's Premier Sightseeing tour. Professional entertainment at each luncheon, and golf tournament, swimming and dancing were all packed into their short three-day stay.

Citizens of Alberta carrying adequate insurance on their cars will soon be issued with pink cards as proof of financial responsibility.

The cards have been distributed to all companies dealing in car insurance preparatory to enforcing changes in the Vehicle and Highways Act, effective October 1.

After that date, any motorist involved in an accident must show proof of financial responsibility or face his car impounded. The ink cards, similar to those in use in Saskatchewan, merely state that the motorist is adequately covered under the provisions of the act.

Fishing And Hunting Are Important To Economy

The year round sport of fishing of game birds and big game, and seasonal hunting play an important part in the economy of Alberta. It is estimated by the game and fur industry that the province annually produces and exports over $12,000,000 in game and fur products. Some of the game and fur products are: moose, caribou, muskox, and beaver. The game and fur industry is one of the most important in the province and is a major source of income for many Albertans.

In the current summer season it is expected that some 40,000 men, women and children will crowd Alberta's lakes and streams in the hopes of catching "the one that always gets away."

With the opening of hunting season this fall more than 70,000 hunters will clean up their rifles and shotguns for a record shoot.

Start At Varsity Next Monday

Among the Edson young people who will be leaving this weekend to further their education at the University of Alberta are: Misses Annie Leves, 2nd year Education; Gwen Gregg, Mary Kuehn and Joan Mansel, first year BSc in Education; Evelyn Gourley, second year Physiotherapy; Beverly Nygard, first year Arts and Sciences; and Rita Golinick, first year Commerce.

Choose Your Partner It's Square Time

It's time to dig out western style attire and the comfortable flat shoes and join in the Friday, Dance this (Saturday) night. The De-Pa-O Club have announced the opening of the fall and winter square dance season with a gala dance to be held in the new Stabich Store right on Main Street.

Anyone who has ever square danced will tell you that it's the most fun ever and if you are feeling a little old after the strenuous summer this is a guaranteed way to feel young again.

You'll be wanting to join in when you go past the doorway of the store by the Edson Theatre and hear all the sound of music and fun that will be spilling out onto the street. It is recommended that if you intend to be going up the street anytime after 8:30 (when the dancing begins) that you go prepared to join the fun, for when the caller sings out, "Choose your partner," it's going to be pretty hard to resist.

Square dances will be held every Saturday evening with the location to be announced at a later date.

John Switzer Heads Edson Board Of Trade
It was a case of a son following in his father's footsteps as Wednesday evening's Board of Trade meeting when Mr. John Switzer was elected president of the businessmen's association.

Jack, as he is more popularly known, is associated with his father in the operation of Switzer's Drug Store here, and like his father, is a registered pharmacist. Mr. H. A. Switzer is a charter member of the B. of T. and holds a life membership in the body for his many years of work.

Other officers elected this year were: Past President, G. V. Bolton, Hon. President, L. A. McLeigh, Secretary, L. Kewitch, Treasurer, M. Hansen, and Directors: J. T. Garvie, W. Taddy, Wm. Wilson Jr., D. M. Cantow, A. W. Leonard and M. D. Meade.

As part of the vote of thanks to the retiring executive tribute was paid to Mr. R. H. Cliffe, who will not be serving in an executive capacity this year after over 25 years service on the board.

Official Ceremonies To Open School Buildings

The official opening of the A. H. Dakin school, the addition to the Edson High School and the new Edson School Division Office is to take place on Friday, September 24.

Under the auspices of the Edson Home & School Assoc., a fall evening has been planned to make this a memorable occasion in the educational life of our community.

Dr. E. Swift, Deputy Minister of Education has been invited to be the guest speaker. The Hon. Norman Williams, M.L.A. for Edson, will officially open the building. Principal M. D. Meade of Edson High School will act as chairman of the meeting.

Parents and others interested are asked to inspect the new buildings between the hours of 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. Official evening and program will be in the High School Auditorium commencing at 8:30 sharp.

Children standing must be accompanied by their parents. Every parent in the Edson school district is urged to attend and are the effort that has been made by your local educational authorities to give your children the best in school facilities.

First Farmer: "The governor made a right good speech in favor of us farmers, didn't he?"

Second Farmer: "Yep, I guess he did. But an hour's rain would have done us a heap more good."

Former Edson Boy Wins Hockey Scholarship

Another young person well known in junior and sporting circles in Edson, comes to our attention this week. George Congrave, son of Mr. Jack Pattinson and the late Mr. George Congrave, has won a one year hockey scholarship at Denver University, Denver, Colorado.

George is well known in sporting circles here, having shone at both hockey and basketball for the two years that he lived in Edson. He took grades 8 and 9 here, winning a scholarship while in grade 9 before moving back to Edmonton.

While continuing his education there he has been very active in sports. He has played hockey with the Oil Kings for two seasons, and last year, his first year in University, he was a member of the Huskies Junior football team and Golden Bears basketball squad.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pattinson and Elizabeth motored to Denver last weekend where George is enrolled at university there for his second year of study in pre-medicine.

Miss Wilson of Edmonton was a weekend visitor at the home of Mrs. D. Calder.

Woodworkers Strike At Marlboro Involves Railway

Pickets were still patrolling the crossing at Marlboro this week as part of the negotiations of the International Woodworkers of America in trying to get a union contract with Imperial Lumber Company.

There were no reports of violence. However several conductors on the CNE refused to switch their trains onto the siding and were taken out of service by the railway as a result.

The Woodworkers Union have been successful in negotiating contracts with several other lumber and timber companies in this and the Whitecourt area and have just recently signed a contract with the Woodlands Division of North West Pulp & Power Ltd. at Hinton.

We understand that negotiations between the railway union involved and the CN General Superintendent's office in Edmonton are underway concerning the fate of the men whose union principles would not allow them to work at their trade in a struck plant.

The strike at the lumber camp itself is at the same point as it was at the beginning of the week, with no progress reported between the company and the union.

Merchants Favor One Night A Week

Letter returns on the petition for one-night-a-week late shopping show that 24 out of 46 retail outlets favor being open later than six o'clock one night a week.

As first circulated the petition showed 23 out of the 46 voting in favor of amending the by-law, then Thursday afternoon one merchant changed his vote to make it 24.

What action will be taken by Council at its next meeting is to be decided, of course but the Provincial act governing closing hours only calls for a simple majority of the merchants in a community to be in favor of a change.

Edson Crafters To Benefit From 'Buck Nite' Show

For their last night of operation in the 1956 season, the management of the Glenwood Drive-In Theatre is holding a "Buck Nite" benefit show, on Tuesday, October 2, with the entire proceeds going to Edson's enterprising Craft Centre.

The feature attraction is a "Technicolor adventure story, Treasury of the Golden Century," starring Cornel Wilde, with added short subjects making a program of interest to all the family.

Starting time is 8:15 p.m. The one dollar tickets which entitle a whole carload to see the show, may be purchased from members of the Craft Centre or at the theatre boxoffice Tuesday evening.

Attends Convention

MR. JOHN (STAN) GELMINI

John Gelmini, partner in the firm of E. Gelmini and Son, recently attended the Western Regional Convention of the Canadian Jewellers Association which was held at the Macdonald Hotel in Edmonton. Mr. Gelmini was born in Edmonton and attended school here. He graduated from the Retail Jewellers Training Course sponsored and conducted by the Canadian Jewellers Institute in 1952. After graduation he became a partner in the firm which he now manages, in addition to handling the major part of the store's watch repairing service.

The climax of the convention was the presentation of diplomas to graduates of the Retail Jewellers Training Course, the recognition of past graduates and also Certified Watchmakers who have completed the examinations of the Canadian Jewellers Institute.

Jewellers from over part of Edmonton who are members of the C.J.A. attended this convention, which is an annual event.

Local Man Hit On Street Recovering

Word received from the C.N. Memorial Hospital in Edmonton this week says that Arthur Simmonds, who was hit by a car driven by R. C. Tees of Hinton about 7:30 last Friday evening on the Highway near his home, is progressing favorably.

Arthur was crossing the street and was not seen by the motorist in time to completely avoid hitting him.

Arthur's mother asks our readers to return the new show that he lost at the time of the accident if some kiddy happens to have taken it home.

Building Program, Van Routes Occupy Div Board

The school building program still looms heavily on the agenda of School Division board meetings and at the most recent the construction report on the new school being two weeks behind schedule at Hinton was discussed.

Van routes still offer problems with the primitive condition of many of the roads in the Division and a delegation from Rosevear interviewed the Board on the problem.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. A. C. Gough, J. H. Lawton, R. G. Haddock and A. W. Leonard, Trustees; Superintendent, J. H. Finlay and Secretary-Treasurer D. S. Stinson.

Rosevear Delegation: A delegation composed of Messrs. B. W. Smith and E. F. Beethaler and Messrs. Brown, Stahl, Fabron and Milligan interviewed the Board concerning problems associated in the operation of their van route.

Points discussed were early starting of pupils in order to get the van and the work as yet not completed on the road from Rosevear to Peers corner. A further discussion followed as to the possibility of extending the van route one mile to below the hill in order to pick up eight children. The matter was

W. R. Munford, a draftsman for North Western Pulp & Power, is proud of his mountain goat which he holds the record for the best set of goat horns in the 1956 season for the Hinton area. Roddy Munford, a year and a half old, was not too sure what it was all about but went over to inspect the goat while Bill was dressing the hide.

Bill Munford and Roddy Munford went to try their luck at goat hunting in the area north of Hinton two weeks ago. Munford had been out the previous week and had stalked one goat all day without success. The following week his friend went with him and within three hours of leaving the Entrance bridge, Munford tagged his first goat, which Munford claims is the goat he had tried to get the week before. The goat has horns which measure 7 inches and Mr. Munford believes they are record holders for this season.

Kinnettes To Sell Apples Kin To Deliver

Members of the Edson Kinnettes are to do the selling of the apples this year in the annual campaign to help swell the playground project fund and other community work undertaken by this service organization.

Father, the male Kin in this case, won't have to pay directly, but he has to pick-up apples that is.

The Town has been broken up into blocks and the Kinnettes will be making house-to-house call lining up the order for apples before next Wednesday. The Kinnettes will deliver the result of their wiver salesmanship. The usual fine response of households is expected for this fund raiser. There will be hand-picks, boxes and C grade boxes available.

Mrs. Clara Sykes was a visitor to Edson this week to attend the Annual Visit by the Worthy Grand Matron to the Douglas Hall Chapter of the O.E.S. While here she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mahon.

Peers Pioneer Mr. Chris Nielsen Passes Away

Mr. Chris Nielsen of Peers, passed away on September 24 at the age of 64 years. He is survived by his loving wife, three sons, Chris and Floyd of Peers and Harold of Edmonton, California; four daughters, Mrs. Al Crowell of Edmonton, Mrs. James McCre of Spirit River, Mrs. Archie Radcliffe, Brule and Mrs. Jack Wilson, Edson; two sisters in Denmark; 37 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mr. Nielsen, now in his many friends as Chris, has been a resident of Peers since 1893. He was an old timer in the area, having first established a blacksmithing business in Marlboro which he operated for nine years. He then moved to Peers where for some considerable time he carried on his blacksmithing business. Latterly he was employed by the Government of Alberta as District Road Foreman. Mr. Nielsen was also active in lumbering in the Peers area, was an active member of the P.U.A., was broadly sportswoman and HINTON SCHOOL VAN: A general discussion followed of the difficulties being experienced in the transportation of the children to the two Hinton schools. It was the general feeling of the members present that the possibility of running another van should be thoroughly investigated and a committee set up for this purpose. Mr. C. B. Davis and Mr. W. Leonard were asked to investigate the possibility of obtaining a van and were empowered to act.

Alberta School Trustees Association. The secretary read a preliminary circular from the Alberta School Trustees' Association advising that the annual convention would be held on November 6, 7 and 8 in Edmonton, Alberta. The chairman urged that as many members as possible should attend and the matter was left in abeyance until the next regular meeting.

Hinton School: Messrs. D. McCulloch, architect, and G. Lakeman, supervisor, reported on the progress of construction on the Hinton School in the new town site. Due to the shortage of steel the building was approximately two and one half weeks behind schedule but the eight rooms should be ready for occupation.

REDUCED ROYALTY ON PULPWOOD
Edmonton — Royalty rates on pulpwood have been reduced in an effort to encourage lumber operators to provide wood for Alberta's developing pulp and paper industry. It was disclosed recently.

Officially hope lumber operators will show more interest in cutting pulpwood under the new reduced rates.
Steady supplies of pulpwood will be required soon for the new Northern Pulp and Paper Company at Hinton, west of Edmonton.

VULCANIZING & REPAIRS
WE KEEP THEM ROLLING

ALL ABOARD...

BY G. E. MORTIMER

There are many pleasures to light a dark world, in the autumn. For instance: A tree full of small birds exploding into flight. The look of a new gown.

The shiny face of a chemist, broken from its look. Boys gather the nuts to play with. A grown man, furiously hiding a chemist in his pocket and examining it when he thinks nobody is looking. The nut is a tall-man of hayseed. It's pure high gloss, like the bowl of a new pipe, soon fades to a dry, tough brown.

The smell of apples, and leaf-smoke. Yellow, brown and faded green foliage reflected in a lake, with a wind smoothes the mirror and sends the leaves flying.

The comfortable look of a black cat which has already laid its favorite place in the bushes and taken up its winter position curled in a tight, slick bundle on the sofa.

The spunk of a rural mailbox, as the carrier swings it on its rusty pivot. What's in the box today? A parcel from grandmother? Letters, bills, papers, invitations to borrow money at ruinous rates? Maybe (if this is a lucky month) some cheques in brighter colors than the autumn leaves.

Letter to Chris

Dear Chris:

I have been married for nine years. My husband is thoughtful and considerate towards me and two children. Ours would be a perfect marriage except for one thing.

On different occasions he has shown interest in other women.

The pale warmth of sunshine at noon. Surprise visits from friends, making a good excuse to stop work.

A fat piece out of sight, appearing on a table of vapor on a blue sky. Another piece whirling along at an angle to the first, until their trails link in a hollow crown. The northern of machine-made clouds could mean hope, or else fire and death, the outcome of the world.

He is always kind and gentle with the children, but he sometimes ignores me completely at these times. And then all of a sudden things come back to normal and we continue to be another happy couple.

Nothing has ever been said about it. Today I am feeling the same situation. Only it seems to last longer. For a month now, I have received no more attention than an ordinary housekeeper. Am I fomenting his philandering by keeping quiet? Should I demand an explanation? I love him, and I do not want to lose him.

Mary Ann: I wish you had been more explicit in your letter. Just what do you mean by "the shows interest in other women"? How far does he go? I feel inclined to believe he is not exactly a philanderer. Obviously he is a devoted father and a very good husband with the exception of those lapses when he seems to ignore you.

Can you be perfectly honest with me and yourself, Mary Ann, and tell me whether you are absolutely innocent of causing his indifference. Nine years is more than plenty of time to become completely absorbed in domestic problems and perhaps ignore yourself a little. You may not agree with me but I believe it is very much up to the woman to keep her husband in the honey-mooning stage.

I would suggest that you do your utmost to make yourself attractive as possible. And I do not mean a new hair-do or a new make-up. I also mean a new look, a new subject of conversation. How long has it been since you and your husband sat down and talked about other things than bills, children and the Joneses or Smiths?

You say you love your husband. Now is the time to prove it. Make him fall in love with you. You have far more advantages than you did when you first met him. Besides I am sure he does love you. All he needs is a little bit of incentive.

C of C Men Visit Pulp Mill

Hinton—On September 12, 65 members of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce were taken on a tour of the North Western Pulp & Power plant.

For the most of them it was the first opportunity to see the inside of a pulp mill, and all agreed on one point. The pulp mill was an ambitious venture for any group of individuals to undertake.

The group of Edmonton businessmen arrived aboard two special private cars on Wednesday evening. Shuttled to the pulp mill's siding, the private cars provided overnight accommodation for the visitors.

The C. of C. members were greeted at 8:00 a.m. by pulp mill officials, provided breakfast at Canada Cafeteria, and then taken on a tour of the mill.

The party was broken up into small groups that had guides to explain the various processes involved in the operation of a pulp mill. Acting as the guides were the men who have been responsible for the construction of the mill and those who will operate it after construction is completed.

Rainy weather prevented a trip to the bush camps but specially hired buses took the Edmontonians on a tour of Hinton and gave them an opportunity to see the housing development that is taking place.

Visiting Chamber of Commerce members from Jasper and Hinton businessmen joined in the reception which was tendered in the afternoon by the Edmonton Chamber. The luncheon which followed gave both the visitors and the hosts an opportunity to express their mutual satisfaction at the success of the day's visit.

Obed News

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac went to Edmonton on business over the weekend.

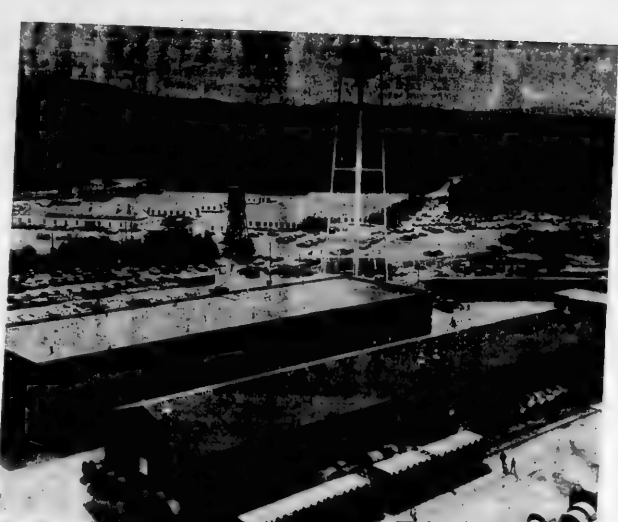

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart spent the weekend in Edmonton.

Mr. D. Green of Edmonton was at Obed and Hinton on business for a couple of days.

Mrs. Gene Eaton spent the weekend at Roseway visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Pryor.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Chornak of Edmonton have moved to Obed. Mr. Chornak is now working at Green's Garage. Welcome to Obed folks.

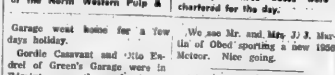

Mr. Wayne Fox of Green's

The private railway cars at mention Chamber of Commerce right-centre, were the point of members on their recent visit to arrival and departure for H. Hinton. The 1st building in the left background, is the Canada Cafeteria building, where the Edmontonians had breakfast, held a reception, and attended a luncheon, before boarding their railway cars in the afternoon for the return trip to Edmonton.

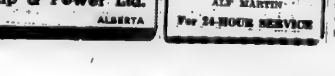

One of the chartered buses, hired to take Chamber of Commerce members on a tour of Hinton, leads passengers in front of the North Western Pulp & Power office building. It had been planned to take the visitors on a tour of bush camps, but rain caused a cancellation of this trip. Three buses were chartered for the day.

Garage west house for a few days holiday. Gerlie Casavant and H. E. Green of Green's Garage were in Edmonton over the weekend.

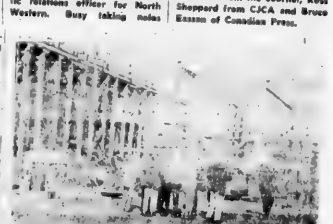

We saw Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Martin of Obed sporting a new 1936 Motor. Nice going.

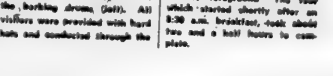

A new rechargeable cell for use in flashlights and other portable electric lanterns has recently been put on the market. Hermetically sealed, the nickel-cadmium battery cell can be recharged more than 250 times and will not deteriorate if either overcharged or undercharged.

Reporters and cameramen were out in full force to record the visit of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to Hinton. Pacing the camera is Terry Reid, public relations officer for North Western. Busy taking notes from Terry's explanation of the operations of a pulp mill are three of the reporters. Clockwise from left to right are Al Howe from the Journal, Russ Sheppard from CICA and Bruce Essman of Canadian Press.

One of the points of interest in the tour of the pulp mill was the working drum (left). All visitors were provided with hard hats and conducted through the plant in small groups like those in the foreground. The tour which started shortly after 8:30 a.m., breakfast, took about two and a half hours to complete.

POWER: The first anecdotal problem is that of power in the new residential units. Residents of the trailer camp who plan to move into the residential area have been furnished with wiring diagrams, but there is a possibility that power will not be available. We interviewed the officials of the Power and Light Company, and as a result we are happy to report that, weather permitting, power should be installed in the residential areas by October 15th. The pole crews are operating in the area very early in the morning.

by location and other advantages which are apparent from the plan. (Prices range from $300 to $750 for residential lots—Ed.)

It must be pointed out that the prices are for lots only, and not for services. Purchasers must pay for utilities at cost as they are installed.

We are informed that all $300 lots have been taken up at the time of writing. The $450 lots are now being sold. The new plan including some $300 lots is being prepared and they will be sold as soon as the new plan is registered.

There is bound to be other difficulties.

Citizens Inspect New School Division Buildings

It was open house at the three new buildings which were opened for public inspection on Friday evening. The buildings, the new A. H. Dakin Elementary School on Seventh Avenue East, the shop and two extra class rooms at the Edson High School and the new Divisional office and workshop on Main Street.

The buildings were part of the huge building program undertaken in the division last year when schools or additions were built at Evansburg, Niton, Peers and Culham as well as Edson.

Following an inspection of the buildings, ceremonies were held in the high school auditorium with M. D. Meade, principal of Edson school, acting as chairman. Guest speakers included F. Gough, chairman of the Edson School Division Board; Mayor Knack-Witt; A. H. Dakin, Hon. Norman Willemse, provincial lands and forests minister; J. Finlay, M.P., representative and Dr. J. Culham, who appeared on behalf of the education department.

Mr. Dakin who came to Edson as a teacher in 1922, said it was an honor to teach and be principal of a school named after him. He recalled that in 1922, there were 12 teachers and about 400 students, compared with 38 teachers and 1,100 students today.

Mr. Finlay told the audience that 40 new classrooms have been opened in the Edson division in the last six to eight months and that where 72 teachers had been required for the division last year 100 are now on the staff. He estimated that with the rapid development of the district, at least 100 new classrooms will be needed in Edson alone next term.

Dr. Culham gave an interesting comparison of educational standards in Canada, the U.S. and Great Britain.

The modern A. H. Dakin school contains 8 classrooms and 120-130 sq. ft. of space built at a cost of $41,000. Acoustic ceiling, fluorescent lighting and individual room controls heating are features of the brightly colored and get the Edson Curlers off to a good start. Indications are there will be a larger membership this year than any year in the history of the club.

CURLERS PLANNING BIG SEASON

Plans are already under way to extra little practice in.

Let's not get an extra sheet of ice for this winter have failed although it looks certain construction will start in the spring.

The club has decided to improve the appearance of the playing surface as well as the lobby before curling starts this season. The lobby will get a new paint job as the inside walk of the playing surface. Something new will be added this season, in having the ice painted white as well. This will be done with a minimum of expense.

This year each member of the Club will receive a crest at the beginning of the season. This is also something new for the curlers in Edsonville.

There will be an opening mix-up bonspiel again this year. This will help to get the newcomers acquainted and get that

And so another curling season is just around the corner. Rumours are going around that the Curling Club is having something big in Edson on November 3. Watch next weeks paper to find out.

Minister Going To Arctic Circle

Rev. L. Corness, who has become well known to Edson members of St. Paul's Mission has left recently to begin a five year period of service for the church within the Arctic Circle.

Rev. Corness, who was the former rector of All Saints Anglican Church at Drayton Valley, expected to begin his duties at Spence Bay on Sunday, September 24.

Former Edson Man Killed In Gun Accident

Older residents of Edson were shocked to learn of the accidental death of Mr. L. Bertram Woodcock, 56, in a hunting accident south of Camrose on Monday.

Bert, as he was familiarly known to oldtimers here, had been hunting with his brother Harry, who is also well known here. They were both in a crouched position when Harry's dog set him off balance causing the shotgun to discharge the fatal shot.

Mr. Woodcock is survived by his wife Alexandra (nee Fyfe) also a former Edson resident.

Prior to his untimely death Mr. Woodcock had been CNR agent at Donalds. He was an operator here at Edson for many years prior to taking agents positions at various stations with the railway.

Rural Electrification Brings Many Blessings To Farms

By Mrs. GEORGE SHEL

The Edson-Fulham Rural Electrification Association are gradually fulfilling the percentage needed for the power to go in so far they have succeeded in securing 25 to 30 per cent of the number of contracts needed. This carrying for contracts is all free gratis work and when one of the directors call on you to see if you will contract for power, remember he is doing this work through the kindness of heart because he is genuinely interested in progress especially of our community. When the power goes in it will be one of the greatest things that has ever happened for our rural population. Just think what it will mean to farmer to have power tools at work for him. No more water to pump by hand, no need it will be all automatic in electric milking machine, an electric separator.

For instance, the price of plant will move than pay the installation of power. The operating cost of a 5000 watt plant is approximately $18 a month for fuel and oil.

Then you must consider the no depreciation of such a plant and what it will cost repairs in case of a breakdown and what it will mean to the 100's of a deer freeze and in a during such a breakdown.

The price of "Silver Power" in the "farmer in the Edson-Fulham" is $1250, which consists of $1300 for power, $48 for brush, etc.

Think of the time and energy.

The Secret Is Out

There is now available an explanation for the volatility of the nature of Alberta people, for the apparently inexplicable tendency of the human beings in this province to tear off at tangents.

It seems that it all lies in the climate. A noted Canadian meteorologist claimed recently that the climate of Alberta is the most variable of any state or province in the world.

The weather, it is related, is the most talked-of subject in the world. But here in Alberta, where we run the full gamut of meteorological change, the weather does things to us. It is not only talked of but it is imbedded into our physical systems. It is part of that mysterious metabolism which controls our bodies.

We are like the crow experimented with by the university professor. He sought to disturb the instinct which guided the migratory habits of those birds. So the poor crows flew around in circles. They did not know what to do with themselves.

The weather is to blame. That is now our permanent alibi. It is the excuse for all the unorthodox tried paths to smug their fingers at tradition, to launch unorthodoxly into various experiments and to laugh to ourselves at the frightened and chagrined look with which the old-world regards us.

It's the weather, folks!

We Laughed At Those...

It was one of those associations of ideas. Ideas Army tests where the commanding officer makes a commonplace gesture and asks the recruit to fire back at him. The first thought is provoked. On this occasion he waved a handkerchief.

First two men gave the formal reply: "Waving goodbye, sir." But the third offered the startling retort: "Women, sir."

"What is there about waving a handkerchief that could possibly make you think of women?"

Replied the recruit bluntness: "I'm always thinking of women, sir."

The mother of four springing some incident on taking driving lessons at the age of fifty-eight. Her loving son now refers to her as "Oh, Ma, the Don-Maker."

Edmonton—The first sampling of opinion among Alberta municipal officials, regarding the possibility of new forms of taxation, turned out to be a bit of a flop.

It was an informal survey carried out by questionnaires appearing in The Municipal Counciler, a monthly magazine published by the provincial department of municipal affairs. It circulates to approximately 1,000 municipal council members and local officials.

One of the major questions was whether the subscribers would favor the introduction of a sales tax as a new source of revenue and as a possible means of reducing property taxation. Of those who returned their questionnaires, 54 per cent were in favor and 42 per cent were opposed.

The joker is that only among 10 per cent of the subscribers, however, means that replies were received from approximately 100 of them. All of which proves practically nothing, since there are thousands of municipal councilors, reeves, secretary-treasurers and other officials in the province.

The Municipal Counciler is edited by Blake Mackenzie, liaison man for the municipal affairs department. It's an attractive looking sheet and carries a lot of interesting material designed to assist municipal administrators.

In fairness, it must be pointed out that the Counciler can't claim anything was proven by the survey. A 10 per cent return is considered about normal for such a questionnaire, and the magazine merely carried an editorial outlining the results.

Blake's questionnaire was thorough and dealt with many subjects, including various forms of taxation, financing problems and divisions of responsibility as proposed.

Winners of last year is Secretary Betty Durston is Treasurer and Ruth Hall is Club Reporter.

The 4-H Grain Club then joined us in "A Model Meeting" a play in which everyone took part. The meeting was then adjourned.

A second meeting, beginning with the 4-H Pledge, included the joining of new members. Welcome to the fold, girls. We're planning an initiation for them which should prove to be a great deal of fun.

We were also given a brief outline of our year's work. In the time the meeting was adjourned, the new members had a taste of what 4-H is like, while the "old pros" were getting back in the swing of things.

Niton Students Elect Union Executive

Friday, September 21, a Student's Union Meeting was held in the Niton Central School.

After the opening of the meeting the elections were held for the new executive. The following were elected:

President, Marjorie Archibald; Vice-president, Edith Goodale; Secretary, Vivian Zerk; Treasurer, Myrtle Clark; Social Convener, Albin Smith; Social Convener, Betty Durston; Editor and Club Reporter, Ruth Hall.

After the election we went ahead with the meeting. We are planning an initiation for the Grade Tens. This should prove to be fun at least for the Senators.

The Student's Union also plans to build a skating rink this year. With our new executive, headed up by us we are sure this will be a highly successful year for the Student's Union.

Honored By Bridal Shower

Miss Margaret McNaughton was guest of honor last Thursday evening when Madam Mary Knebel and Muriel Grant were co-hostesses at Mrs. Grant's home.

The 18 guests spent the evening playing bingo before Miss McNaughton was presented with a gaily decorated basket filled with miscellaneous gifts for which she gave her gracious thanks and an invitation to visit her in her new home.

Miss McNaughton became the bride of Mr. Bud Ely last Saturday, in a morning ceremony in Sacred Heart Church.

5:30 p.m. Laying of Cornerstone
Lord Bishop of Edmonton
Day by day our new Parish church is being built. In this, each separate piece of Church in Edson is rising up from the ground as the blocks and bricks are added one by one and sealed with the mortar together.

So all the individual parts and materials of wood and stone, brick and glass and iron, each with their own purpose and qualifications are brought together and moulded together for the raising up of the Church Building.

Tuesday evening at 8:30 p.m. the Lord Bishop of the Diocese will be with us for the ceremony of laying the Corner Stone of the new Church Building.

All this is of course a parable of the Church of God built not of bricks and stone, but of the People of God. The Church is a gathering together of individuals all differing from one another and all called with a vocation to the service of God.

Whereas formerly they stand apart as aliens and foreigners, they are built together in to the edifice of the Christian Church. St. Paul.

"So you are no longer outsiders or aliens, but fellow citizens with every other Christian—now belong now to the Household of God. Firmly beneath you is the foundation—Angels and Prophets, the actual Foundation Stone being Jesus Christ Himself."

"The firm rock concrete piece of building remains fitting into its neighbor, comes together into a temple consecrated to God. You are all part of this building in which God Himself lives by His Spirit."

And St. Peter adds

"Come to Him, as living stones, to the immensely valuable Living Stone (which men rejected but God chose), to be built up into a spiritual House of God, in which you, like holy priests, can offer those spiritual sacrifices which are acceptable to God by Jesus Christ."

Announces the Eighth Annual

Master Farm Family Award

For 1956 to the following

ALFRED GEORGE ROSE, Ricinus
A. D. FRASER, Turpin Creek
JOHN F. ROZMANHEL, Vikas
ALFRED L. MCGILLIVRAY, Outlook

The Master Farm Family Award is recognized by an award of $100.00, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance. The purpose of the Master Farm program is to find and honour those who have achieved notable progress in farming, home-making and citizenship, and who, by their example, are encouraging interest in farming as a way of life. The Department of Agriculture is indeed proud and gratified with the high standard of attainment shown in the farm citizens of Alberta as revealed by the Master Farm Family Program.

It takes money to make good gasoline

Gasoline quality has risen tremendously in the past few years. Two gallons of today's gasoline do the work of three in the '20s.

Finding new techniques to make these improved gasolines, and new equipment to put these techniques to work, has cost a lot of money.

Imperial, with by far Canada's most extensive oil research facilities, has spent 20 million dollars over the past ten years on research alone.

Imperial spent 65 million in the same period directly on new equipment to improve gasoline quality.

It's costing more and more money to make the gasolines required by today's more powerful cars.

Gas Turn-on Ceremony Set For October 24

The official ceremony marking the turning of natural gas into the lines of the Northwestern Utilities installation in Edson will be held at the Kim Play ground next to the Library on 8th and Main, Wednesday, October 24.

With Mayor W. H. Kankewitt and the Council acting as hosts, a short official ceremony will be held to mark this milestone in Edson's progress at 7:30 p.m. The public are cordially invited to be present for this event, and to witness the flame burning.

Gas is expected to be put into the lines well before this date and the gas company will be hooking up meters to some of the connections before the official turning.

The smell in the lines now is not that of the odorless natural gas, but an added smell which the Northwestern men use for testing the line and which will be a danger signal later in your home if any of your natural gas appliances becomes faulty.

Young Couple To Live Here

son of Bobb, Alberta, while the groom is the son of Mrs. Esther Laborsky of Edson. Following a honeymoon trip to Vancouver via the States, the well known young couple are at home in Edson.

Edson Postal Man Relief Postmaster

The overworked staff of the Hinton Post Office received help last Thursday, when C. Holloway, formerly of the Edson Post Office, was appointed relief postmaster.

Mr. Holloway is on loan to the Hinton Post Office from the Edson branch for a period for one month, after which it is expected that more definite arrangements will be made.

Dorothy Wadley has been appointed senior assistant to Mr. Holloway.

Kinsmen To Deliver Apples On Wednesday

Edson Kinsmen are to deliver the apples sold by the Kinsmen on Wednesday afternoon, October 11, if at all possible try and have someone at home when the Kinsmen call.

At their regular meeting on Tuesday evening the Kinsmen heard a report on the sale of the apples which showed that the town had responded very generously and the club wishes to say thanks folks.

The members enjoyed a film on the United Nations and their activities at the meeting as well.

The Kinsmen have been asked by the National Safety Council to give instructions on "Baby-sitters" both their safety and that of the babies. It was decided that if there were any young girls or boys who were interested, then they would go ahead and obtain more information.

Edson Boy Scouts Begin Winter Activities

Members of the Edson Scout Troop are reminded that the Troop meetings have commenced for the winter and are to be held on the stage of the Anglican Parish Hall at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

All of last year's members who still wish to belong to the organization and others interested in becoming members should attend on Wednesday October 10th for the purpose of registration.

What To Do About Calgary Power??

Edson Town Council has been negotiating with the Calgary Power again and the company has repeated its offer of either a rental agreement for the Town distribution system or alternately an outright purchase arrangement.

The offer is slightly better than that previously given, but the Council are still debating whether the loss of revenue through owning our own municipal system can be made up from other sources or whether an increase in the mill rate will be necessary in the event of giving the power company the franchise for the town.

The average household would only stand to gain a few dollars a year according to figures worked out if a mill rate increase is necessary. The average would appear to be about $70.00 saved in comparison to a possible $40.00 per year increase in the mill rate if the town could not find other sources of revenue.

On the other hand the large and very large users of power stand to gain hundreds of dollars per year because of the lower rate made possible by the power company's transmission lines.

Company officials point out that the history of towns where cheaper power has become available is that industry and business are attracted to the community and therefore more taxes can be levied through the years to make up for the loss of revenue from owning our own power utility.

There appears to be no possibility of buying power from the company to augment our present supply so that we could supply the increased load on our plant. Therefore another unit which will run in the neighborhood of $200,000 installed on a foundation will be necessary.

There would appear to be the possibility that we will have to add additional units in the years to go by and would be faced with debt service payments on the equipment for the foreseeable future. Which can be managed as they have in the past from the operating profit of the plant.

On the other hand if we sell our plant for cash and pay off some of our debt service, Edson's position as far as debt charges are concerned would be considerably relieved.

It is a question that needs further consideration on the part of every citizen and to this end the Calgary Power company have offered to address a public meeting to give the information to the people in the near future. Let's get the facts first!

Niton Central Exhibit Initiation High Jinks

By RUTH HALL

Had you been strolling around in the vicinity of Niton Central High School on Friday, October 5, you would undoubtedly have been witness to an unforgettable scene.

Nine specimens, presumably members of the human race, hovered here, there and everywhere, vainly trying to avoid the prying eyes of the students. Ah! were those poor creatures! They were being initiated!

The boys were clad in bawdy dresses, bawling caps with flags turned up to reveal earrings, one nylon, one sock and their own shoes—their feet wouldn't fit into ladies shoes as planned. They were beautifully made up with lipstick and rouge. Just to prove they were boys, we let them wear a necktie. They were one glove and carried a ladies handbag.

The girls were "required" to wear men's pants tied with binders or twine, pajama tops backwards, one heavy woollen sock with a man's shoe and a diamond sock with their own shoe. Their hair was set in small braids tied with string and they wore stripes of burned cork vertically on one side of their face, horizontally on the other.

Boys and girls alike were required to repeat a pledge designed specially for them, but I don't think they appreciated our efforts.

Deciding that just the pupils' fun was scarcely enough, we let the public get a view of them at an Initiation Dance held in the old Niton School Friday night. Much to the embarrassment of the poor grade tens.

They were good sports, though and the best sport is to be rewarded.

WITNESSES DEDICATE DISTRICT PEOPLE

One of the regular features at the three-day training program of Jehovah Witnesses at Red Deer last week was the dedication of members to the cause.

Delegates ordained from this area were Vivian Maki and Martha Kirby of Hinton and Mary Walker of Rocky Rapids.

Farming Can Be Rewarding

At any rate it can be especially rewarding for a select group of Alberta farmers every year. We are referring to the Master Farm Families. The 1956 winners were named last week by Agriculture Minister Leonard Halliwell.

They are: the John Rasmussen family of Viking; the A. D. Fraser family of Tepeck Creek, near Grande Prairie; the Alfred Ross family of Hinton, in the Rocky Mountain House area; and the Willard McGilver family of Castledale in southern Alberta.

Besides an engraved plaque and a certificate for display on which isn't to be missed at these days.

Patience is that which those who drive need more of so that others who also drive won't end up in a doctor's office.

Husbands are confident when driving because they know they won't give them a bum steer.

Civil Service Elect Officers

The ninth annual meeting of Branch 24 of the Civil Service Association of Alberta was held on Friday, October 6th at 8 p.m. Under the chairmanship of Mr. W. A. Tilley the meeting adopted the officer's reports and financial statement covering the activities of the past year.

Elected as the Branch Executive for 1956-57 were: Mr. F. W. Hatfield, chairman; Miss M. Hamstead, vice chairman; Mr. E. E. McKee, Secretary-treasurer. Delegates to the Annual Convention named at the meeting are Mr. Hatfield and Mr. McKee.

A total of four resolutions were formulated for submission to the Annual Convention, which will be held early in November. After considerable discussion on many different subjects, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Miss Irene Veenovitch has returned to her duties at the Edmonton Post Office after having been in charge of the Jasper Park Lodge postal service during the summer months.

YOU are asked to observe
Fire Prevention Week
October 7-13
AND EVERY DAY THEREAFTER

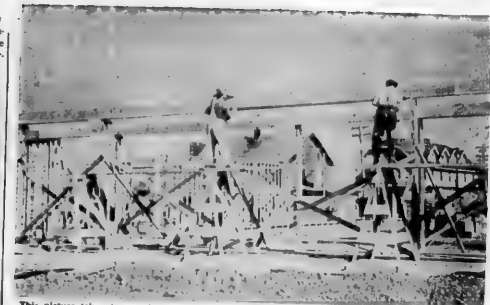

The carelessness and indifference of people to the cause of fire in the home, place of work and in our forests. The many deaths resulting from fires can be attributed to this neglect. "DON'T GIVE FIRES A PLACE TO START" is good advice and a habit to acquire. Your Fire Department is conscientious in their endeavor to hold depravity fires in abeyance through inspection service, but they can't do it alone.

THEY NEED YOUR HELP to prevent fires!

- A careless smoker is a menace
- Faulty electric wiring and overloaded circuits are dangerous
- Fires are caused by defective chimneys, furnaces, pipes and cooking equipment
- Spontaneous ignition can be caused by oily rags, paint and rubbish
- The careless use of kerosene and other inflammable liquids can result in death
- Leaving children within reach of matches and electric and gas stoves can have serious consequences
- Put your cigarette out and don't light brush without proper care

This picture taken two weeks ago, was intended to show the progress being made on the construction of the new Timberland Hotel. Thanks to delay in procuring the film and preparing the photo arrived yesterday but gives an even better illustration of the speed with which the building is being erected.

Two weeks ago workmen (above) were erecting the framework. They have finished sheathing the first floor, erected framework for the second floor and have started sheathing it with plywood.

The hotel along with the shopping centre, which are being erected by Sam and Rex Liepner, are both 30 days ahead of schedule.

The shopping centre was supposed to open by the end of November but it is now expected that the building will closed in by October 15 and possibly open for business by November 1st. The names of the leases in the shopping centre are not available as yet but it is learned that there will be restaurant, appliance store, clothing store, food market, furniture store, ladies ready-to-wear and sportswear.

In addition, the owners of the project state that the hotel will house a modern drug store, restaurant, barber shop, magazine and book store, bank and banquet room large enough to accommodate 100 persons.

Add Second School Bus Van Route Revamped

Hinton—Another bus was added to the Hinton school van route last Monday, thus relieving the burden on the one bus that formerly carried all children to and from school.

When only one bus was in operation, the first children were picked up at 7:30 a.m. With two buses in operation, the first run starts at 8:00 a.m. and all children are delivered to school by 8:30 a.m.

With the present bus schedule, the vans start at the Rainbow Trailer Camp at 8:30 a.m. to pick up children going to the mill school. This run is straight through with no stops.

On the second trip the No. 1 bus starts at the Trailer Camp at 8:30 with children for the old school and picks up others there for the mill school. The No. 2 bus on returning from the first trip to the mill, turns left at the railroad crossing, travels down the new highway and arrives at the Drimman Corner at 9:20 a.m. Children are picked up for both schools and after stopping at the mill school, returns to the old school at 9:40.

In the afternoon, No. 1 bus takes children from grades one and two in the old school at 2:15 a.m. and goes to the Rainbow Trailer Camp. No. 2 bus arrives at the mill school at 3:30 p.m. and goes on the Drimman run and back about Highway 16.

Pick-up points are the Rainbow Trailer Camp, Old School, Post Office, Drimman Corner, Highway 16, New Store, Highway Cafe, A.V.D.C. office, Mill School and Drimman Corner. Arrangements are being made with the Department of Education for the routing of buses to school bus stops.

Drivers of the two buses are Ben Wiley and Mike Danyluk.

Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong
The door of the study is closed against the siren voice of the radio, which is carrying the broadcast of the world series, and the final game at that. The fact that the door is closed makes it even more difficult for me to hear the progress of the game, which is both awkward and inconvenient. My sense of duty dictates that I should sit here and work, my inclination is to find out at long intervals—of about every thirty seconds—how the game is going.

Usually, but not always, sport is a rival for the interest and devotion of people who might otherwise spend more time and thought on spiritual matters. Scripture reminds us that God is a jealous God, and presumably looks askance when hundreds go to Church, but thousands flock into Yankee Stadium or Ebbets Field.

Christian moralists have always had a personal theme for debate about the place of pleasure. Popular amusements, thrilling spectacles or anything that excites the emotions, commands the devotion and occupies the time of people is a moral issue.

On the positive side, sports and amusements have also excited the interest of moralists because of the stern demands they make for the virtues of courage, honesty and self-control. Any man or woman who excels in sport should make the finest type of Christian witness. Any man who can pick a perfect no-hit ball game should be attracted by the moral demands of Jesus, who said, "Be therefore perfect, even as your heavenly father is perfect."

Anyone, then, who has fumbled and felt personally responsible for "letting the team down" in a good candidate for the Christian life, which is also a product of team play. Christianity has its share of outstanding people, its "stars," but it has also its myriads of humble and nameless who will never be remembered for anything outstanding, but who are members of "the team."

Christianity is not a spectator sport, played by a few for the entertainment of many. It is a thrilling and exciting contest between the forces of death and those of life, between the spirit and qualities which are destructive and those which are creative. It is a game for everyone.

Those who know absolutely nothing about ball will take the least interest in it. Those who know absolutely nothing about Christianity will take the least interest in it.

The door swings open. I must find out what the score is. Hope the Dodgers win.

F.U.A. Notes

Some lively discussions took place at the last regular meeting of the Edson F.U.A., Local No. 500, which was held October 2, in the IOOF Hall, but there were not enough members present to make any decisions.

The next meeting will be held November 6 in the IOOF Hall, and it is hoped there will be a better attendance as there is some important business coming up. An added attraction, there will be a door prize to be won by some lucky member. So come on members, the busy time will be over. Let's try for a record attendance and the door prize.

BIGGEST SHEEP SPECIMEN TAKEN THIS YEAR

Mr. Rich Sylvester of Edson and Mr. Davey Miller of Marlboro had to go 58 miles north of Entrance to locate the prize specimen of sheep with which Mr. Sylvester posed above. They left on September 28 and returned within a week with their prize.

Mr. Harold Loko at the check told the nimrods that this is the largest head taken so far this season. Measurements are fifteen and three quarters inch-buried and thirty two and five eighths inches across the curl.

Rich is undecided as to whether to display the mounted head at the Commodore Grill or at his home.

Hinton, Jasper, Vancouver Trail Of Cheque Forger

Seventeen cheques which were stolen on October 4 from the Woodlands Division office of North Western Pulp & Power have started turning up at points from Hinton to Vancouver.

Made out in the name of Fred C. Jackson, the cheques carry the forged signature of C. St. Denis, one of the five pulp mill signing officers.

The first of such worthless cheques to be passed in Hinton was at Clark's Men's Wear for the amount of $134.96. Since then the forged cheques have turned up at Jasper and Vancouver. Total amount of the cheques cashed to date is well over $1000.

Fred C. Jackson, former employee of the pulp mill, is being sought for questioning in connection with the missing cheques.

Mr. Jackson was employed by the Woodlands Division from Oct. 1 to Oct. 4. During the absence of Paymaster John Maher, who was away on sick leave on Oct. 4, cheques with numbers 1262 to 1278 inclusive, were taken from the office.

On October 4 Fred C. Jackson left the employ of the mill and has not returned to receive his pay.

Company officials state that their cheques are the standard type used by most large companies, any of which can be forged.

Edson Oldtimer Marks Four Score

The many friends of Mr. G. P. Hill were congratulating him last week on his marking his eightieth birthday on the 14th of October.

Mr. Hill came to Edson with the late Mrs. Hill on August 17, 1912, and has lived in this community ever since.

He lives with his son Freddie on 4th Avenue West and two other sons, Ed and Ray, and their families also live in Edson.

Another son, William, and his family live on the West Coast, and a daughter, Mrs. Jenny Hunt, lives at Podley.

Council Decides On Nine O'Clock Closing Saturdays

The Edson Council took the bit in their teeth at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, October 16, and decided to legislate late closing until nine o'clock Saturday evenings commencing Saturday, October 27.

There has been some controversy and a recent prosecution for stores who stayed open Thursday evening recently, but the matter has now been brought to a head with the six month trial period authorized by Council.

Merchants, generally, have wished to give this extra service to out-of-town customers but the difficulty of extra staff and the overtime involved have made them hesitant.

The six month trial period will allow some solid basis for evaluating how much this extra service will be utilized, and whether or not extra overhead will make the service worthwhile.

Gas Turn-on Ceremony To Be Followed By Course

Immediately following the official ceremonies marking the turning on of the natural gas by Northwestern Utilities next to the Public Library at 7:30 on Wednesday evening, October 24, the gas company are holding a Home Cooking and Natural Gas demonstration in the Legion Memorial Centre.

Conducted by Miss Marjorie Fancher, B.Sc., home service director of Northwestern, assisted by Miss Joyce McCutcheon, B.Sc., the demonstration will explain the differences between natural gas and present fuels in use in Edson.

Edson's Supermarket will also be giving a meat cutting demonstration during which the meat cuts will be given in lucky ticket holders.

Admission to the demonstration in the Legion is free, of course, and there will be lucky draws.

prizes from the gas company for those attending as well.

The fashion show which was to have been sponsored by H&N Stars Ltd., has been cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances.

Residents have been looking forward to the big day when the first gas flare will be lit. For some time, and it will certainly be a thrill to know that Edson and district are to receive the benefits of this modern fuel.

Sacred Heart Parish Observes Columbus Day

A "hot lunch" supper served buffet style was the feature of Columbus Day as observed by the congregation of Sacred Heart Church on Sunday evening.

Ladies of the Catholic Women's League prepared the supper and members of the Edson sub-council Knights of Columbus were in charge of the program which followed.

Featured speaker was a prominent R.C. from Edmonton, Mr. Marcel Lambert, who spoke on the significance of Columbus Day to R.C.'s and their families.

At the short program MC'd by V. Marroff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinkel entertained a delighted audience with their croquet songs and the Rev. Fr. Nephin led in an evening singing accompanied by Miss F. Cleaveland at the piano.

Meet The Teachers To Be Feature Of H&S Meeting

All parents with children attending school in Edson are urged to make an effort to attend the Home and School Association meeting on Wednesday, October 24. The meeting will take place as usual in the High School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

This brought to 2813 the number of miles that have received base coating during this year's operation east from the park gate. The final cost of paving will be added to this portion of the highway next year.

With the Churches .

THROUGH THE Study Window By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

The Lions Club in Edmonton have decided to give up bingo games as a means of raising money. That decision followed a trial for fraud, which resulted in three people being sent to jail for six months. They had cheated at bingo, in order to win a car and a house, and were tried and found guilty. Judge Egbert, in rendering decision, also declared that the game of bingo was judged by him to be both illegal and a pernicious influence upon young people. As a result of this incident, the Lions are going to turn to other methods of fund-raising. One of the main provisions of the Criminal Code is that gambling is legal for churches and charitable institutions, but illegal for the ordinary Joe. What a confusing, but hardly amusing situation, and it will not be cleared up until both churches and law-makers come to some agreement both upon the ethics and the legality of gambling. Perhaps the Lions dispute will be settled first.

However, I do not think that the presiding judge would quarrel over this statement, made by one of the courts of the United Church: "Whereas gambling undermines the moral foundations of Christianity by leading men to believe they can get something for nothing, and whereas gambling weakens the sense of social responsibility and is the enemy of the ideal of service and stewardship, drying up the springs of generosity and preventing good; therefore he it resolved that this conference call upon our people to refrain from individual participation in bingo, lotteries, raffles, etc. and to use their influence in any clubs, organizations, associations, to which they belong to find more creative and socially constructive

Highway 16 Responsible For Big Increase In Park Visitors

An unprecedented increase in tourist traffic was recorded for Jasper National Park this summer. A total of 180,717 persons registered at the East Gate and the Columbia Icefields Gate as arriving by car and bus, as compared to 134,104 persons last year for the same period.

It is interesting to note the largest portion of the increase in vehicle traffic is through the east

Pool showed a big increase. 54,629 persons patronized Miette Hot Springs, an increase of 35 per cent over last year.

Camping is becoming increasingly popular. Cottonwood Creek Campgrounds, the largest campground in the Park, entered the largest number of campers in the history of the park.

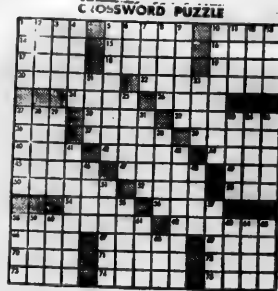

22,770 persons registered at the grounds during the season an increase of 50 per cent over last year. 656 trailers were also registered in this year. All other campgrounds have shown a similar increase in use and popularity.

This represents an increase of 60 per cent for vehicle traffic. The total recorded attendance to the Park including railway figures this year is 240,067 persons.

JUST OUT AND JUST WONDERFUL!
SEE THE '57 CHEVROLET TODAY!
IT'S SWEET, SMOOTH AND SASSY!

Chevy goes 'em all one better—with a daring new departure in design (looks longer and lower, and it is!), exclusive new Turboglide automatic transmission with triple turbines, a new V8 and a bumper crop of new ideas including Fuel Injection!

New right down to the wheels it rolls on — that's the '57 Chevrolet!

By now you know it's new in style. But treat yourself to another look. Let your eyes linger on it! It's stylish new bonnet, that daring new grille, the deeply hooded headlights, the fancy new slant of those High-Fashion rear fenders. Chevy's new and Chevy shows it all over! It's longer and lower for '57. And Chevrolet's new in lots of ways that don't show up in our picture. It's new in V8 power options that range up to 245 h.p.* Then, you've a choice of two automatic drives as extra-cost options. There's an even finer Powerglide — and new, nothing-like-it Turboglide that brings you Triple-Turbine take-off and a new flowing kind of going. It's the only one of its kind — the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic of them all!

NOW — FUEL INJECTION OFFERED FOR THE FIRST TIME!

HOW... DOES A STRONG FINANCIAL SERVICE Sell Wheat?

In many ways! The Treasury Branches stand behind the man on the land from the time he sows his crop until it is time to sell. We do this because we have confidence in Alberta and Alberta's farmers.

Raising a farm is like running any other business — money is necessary to purchase seed, repair machinery, or expand the farmer's interests. He also requires such protection as fire and hail insurance, and safety deposit boxes for titles, deeds and other valuables.

By working in partnership with the farmer, we are serving the farmer himself, and the entire Province. For as active farm economy means higher living standards for the whole of Alberta. The full facilities of the Treasury Branches are geared to the special needs of not only the farmer, but all the people of Alberta.

No Coalition Says Premier Manning

EDMONTON — Alberta's Premier said that "under no circumstances" would the Social Credit party consider coalition with the Progressive Conservatives.

Premier Ernest Manning, reacting to speculation by a Toronto newspaper (The Star), declared that our social credit convictions were convictions and not political ploys to juggle about for expediency.

Madeleine in Calgary, L.A. Cal. Douglas Harkness, Conservative

M.P. says that rumor that his party would approach the S.C. to propose coalition was absolutely untrue. "There was no suggestion of coalition overtures from any quarter. There is no probability at all of such discussions," the M.P. declared.

The rumors were that Premier Frost of Ontario has been planning coalition behind the scenes in order to push DeLoach's leadership. The Ontario premier was reported to have dispatched his minister Kelly out west to conduct coalition talks with Premier Manning and Premier Bennett.

NITON CENTRAL CLOTHING CLUB

By RUTH HALL

Friday, October 12, the Niton Central Clothing Club held its third meeting in the Niton Central School.

After the business meeting had been adjourned, we heard a talk on the duties of a secretary, by Edith Goodale; the duties of a president, by Shirley McPhee, Farm Camp Week, by Bernice Davison; and the 4-H float, by Helen Chubb. All these talks proved very interesting.

We are very proud of the trophy won by the last year's 4-H girls. The trophy was awarded to the best float in the

Edson - Fulham R.E.A. Hold Public Meeting

Edson-Fulham Rural Electrification Association held a public meeting in the Club Room of the Edson Memorial Centre to discuss the pros and cons of Calgary Power, and the terms of contract.

All questions asked were ably answered by Mr. Chapman, chairman, and the Directors.

Mr. J. Tilby will replace Mr. Fenski on the Board of Directors. Mr. Tilby is now prepared to draw up contracts for all persons on the Grande Prairie Trail as far as Trail School and the North Road from Edson. So folks give him every consideration and help, because like the rest of the directors his is free gratis work, too.

The next public meeting of the association will be held Thursday October 18 at 8 p.m. in the Pinegrove School.

Former District Passes In B.C. Lumberman

Lumberman in the district were shocked to learn of the death of Mr. James Gunn on October 11.

Mr. Gunn who was about 50 years of age, was well known in the Edson lumbering area as he had worked at different times as superintendent in camps owned by Brule Lumber Co., V. Carlson, Imperial Lumber Co., and others, before going to Lesser Slave Lake several years ago to be superintendent in a lumber camp belonging to Floyd Smith.

During this past summer he went to Athlmer, B.C. to work for the Alaskan Lumber Co. On October 5, while cruising timber by himself, Mr. Gunn suffered a brain tumor which caused him to fall over a 200 foot cliff. When found he was taken immediately to hospital where he died six days later.

He had no known relations in Canada.

Funeral services for Mr. Gunn will be held this Saturday, October 13, at 2:30 p.m. here in Edson.

Bronze razor, dating back to the eighth century, B.C. was found recently in Ancona, Italy. Needed sharpening. Our barber's got one to match it in dullness, if not in antiquity.

Fire Destroys Mount Carmel R.C. Church

Fire of unknown origin which broke out last Sunday morning in the body of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, completely devastated the building in less than one hour.

No longer large enough to accommodate services for the Hinton parish, the only part of the building that was in use at the time of the fire was the rear of the building which was used as living quarters for Father Lynch, parish priest.

At the time of the fire, which is estimated to have broken out at 11 a.m., Father Lynch had just concluded morning service in the Legion Hall. Summoned to the fire, he and several parishioners were unable to check the rapid spread of the blaze.

Although benches and organ were saved, all of the priest's personal effects and records were lost.

One of Hinton's oldest buildings the church was estimated to be over 30 years old. No insurance was carried on the building or its contents.

A canvass was started immediately to raise funds to replace Father Lynch's personal effects. Two groups of parishioners are present conducting this canvass.

for the Blind.

"The C.N.I.B. is now serving more than 1200 blind Albertans," stated Mr. Wells. "His service program ranges from counselling and guidance to parents of blind children, through welfare, rehabilitation, and job placement, to services designed to help meet the needs of our senior citizens."

In addition, the C.N.I.B. assisted 73 persons in the province to obtain treatment which resulted in the restoration of normal or near normal vision through its Prevention of Blindness service, said Mr. Wells.

During the current appeal for funds, all Albertans are being provided the opportunity of assisting their blind neighbors by contributing generously. Your donation will greatly assist in maintaining and expanding the program of services which the C.N.I.B. extends to our blind fellow citizens," concluded Mr. Wells.

Volunteer canvassers will call at each home and business place during the 2 weeks from October 22 to November 4, inclusive. A benefit show is being arranged in the Nova Theatre on Sunday evening October 28th, and the campaign will conclude with a tea on Saturday, November 4th.

ALL ABOARD.

BY E. E. MORTIMER

Loggers of the western forest with a black mean streak in their tough men, they are he-him. He grabbed the whiskey man. For instance, they do not let with one of his hand holds their sentimental feelings to and squeezed it to a rag."

Nobody attacked the man (as would have been a Saturday Evening Post short story). But silence fell on the group. Those who had been sitting next to the author moved away. From that time until he quit his job a few days later, nobody addressed a word to him or answered anything he said.

Another man tells me about a friendly black bear who used to hang around a construction camp. The bear would have raised the food if he had been given a chance, but the only damage he did was to lick the grease from the pile-driver.

One day a member of the work crew returned from the bush and commended with a grin that he had shot the bear. He expected congratulations. Instead, they gave him the vilest treatment, which bothered him so much that he quit his job the following week.

The needless slaughter of animals "for fun" rather than food is too common. Most of it is done by men from the cities. The average man who works in the bush looks upon such bloodshed with disgust.

Letters to Chris

All correspondence will be treated as strictly confidential and sent directly to Chris. No signature is required.

Chris:

I am very ashamed of myself and hate to tell anyone this but I would like my experience to be a lesson to others.

I am not very popular and when all my friends started getting engaged and married I was green with envy. I didn't even have any dates. They used to tease me and say, "When are you getting married?"

One day I got really angry and bought myself a diamond ring. I told them all that I was engaged. In fact, I built up such a story about my dream man that I almost believed it myself.

This has been going on for almost a year. I told them he was working on the DEW line. Now they are beginning to ask when he is coming home and wanting to meet him, some of the girls are even talking about giving us an engagement party.

What am I going to do? I just can't admit to them that I have been lying all this time. Please help me, Chris.

Unhappy

Dear Unhappy:

With your imagination you should have no trouble getting out of the trouble you got yourself into. Simply tell your friends that you have found out that your fiancé has not been faithful to you and that you decided to break the engagement.

It is not the first time that has happened, you know. Get rid of the ring and be heartbroken for a while. If you were able to convince them the first time, I'm sure you will do a better job this time. But please, no more pretending. It never works!

Chris

BLISSFULLY YOURS...

BY ALICE HOLLINGTON

How nice to see Sawdust & Shavings back with us again. We are all in agreement with you, George, about those reckless drivers who tear along the highway without regard for pedestrians or other cars, so both take the brunt of flying stones and gravel. Most important of all, what about the children? I see walking along the road moving, some and slight! Some day there will be a bad accident right a long here, with so many cars and trucks ignoring the speed limit in this particular section.

It is so much as life is worth to try and walk without getting hit in the face by flying gravel, not to mention the dust. Even the narrow bridge at Hardisty Creek doesn't seem to deter some of them. Worst of all, of course, are the drunken drivers, such as the "stupid young idiot staggering out of the local cafe, when asked by a more sober companion to let him drive, boasted 'That'll be the day when I'm too drunk to drive.' He just missed the bridge falling down like a bomb.

A further matter of concern to the decent, responsible people who expect to be permanent residents of the district is the fact that while this area at present enjoys preferred rating as auto insurance, any rank of vehicles, caused mostly by reckless transients, could result in very much increasing rates.

The Brandon Sun suggests a great reform for the clothing industry—"Business saved on as tight as price tags". Speaking of price tags brings thoughts of much shopping to do in the weeks ahead as Christmas is right around the corner.

The United Church W.A. will be holding their bazaar in November and will have many lovely handicraft items for sale. Many of us may pick up gift items at this sale.

The home-made gift has been lost sight of in this era of the commercial Christmas season. The thought and love that goes into the gift. In past days when money was scarce a home-made gift, even if only a jar of one's special preserve, or fruit cake, or maybe special cookies, meant more to the recipient than many of the expensive gifts of today's Christmas. Hand knitted articles were especially appreciated in those days when money to buy wool was scarce.

What could be leveler on Christmas morning than to open a parcel and find a home-made warm wool dressing gown, house coat or sport shirt. When appreciates this type of gift which if well made will give more service and comfort than the ready-made ones that's poorly sewn by some factory worker. You have come here and sold it for some particular person you have chosen to appreciate it.

The recipients of your gifts will especially appreciate the sentiment behind it if it is hand made from good material and care taken in the sewing. Lingerie especially is precious when hand-made, as is any type of blouse. The making of these articles is also a very pleasant way to pass long hours while the men folk are on the job. Summer is gone now and the days fast becoming too cool for much outdoor activity, and it is also to start thinking of our gift list and possible hand made items for that. Remember again that it is not the cost but the thought behind the gift that counts.

Costly gifts often mean going into debt for weeks or months, and that is not the true idea of Christmas gift giving. Too much commercialism spoils Christmas for many families. Take a family of children for instance. The girls always welcome blouses, both dress and sport, or hand-knit sweaters, mitts and caps. For boys, sport shirts, pyjamas, etc., or even dressing gowns for boys and girls of all ages. These can all be made at slight cost, while the ready-made articles are a high priced gift item.

Central Body Acts For All Municipalities In Alberta

Formation of the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation under terms of legislation passed earlier this year is announced by Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinton. The corporation is headed by its kind in the west, and reports indicate the rest of Canada is watching with keen interest this new venture in local government financing.

The corporation is a non-profit body, with authorized capital structure of $500,000 shares valued at $10.

Three thousand Class A shares are allotted to the Province; one thousand Class E shares are available to the municipalities and the cities can take 500 Class C shares.

The remaining 500 are allotted to towns and villages. The Corporation will operate by taking up the debentures of local governing bodies. It will have the power to raise money and to sell its own bonds. These will be under Provincial Government guarantee to the extent of $100,000,000 according to Mr. Hinton.

It is also indicated that credit unions and similar organizations will find in the corporation bonds a gift-certified investment field for their reserves and contingent funds. There is a distinct possibility that interest rates will be satisfactory from the point of view of investing bodies.

A promising number of shares have already been taken up by municipal bodies. A permanent board of four appointees and three elected members will be set up in December.

Hon. G. Prudham Reveals Clause In Health Plan

The element of personal responsibility will not be missed from Canada's national health insurance plan when it goes into effect—responsibility in 1957. According to Hon. George Prudham, Minister of Mines and Technical Development, the scheme will embody what are known as deterrent factors among social workers.

This means that in addition to the share of his medical or hospital bills paid for by the government, the patient himself will be liable for a share.

The same principle is at work in the Alberta municipal hospitalization program. The patient is assessed $2 a day for hospitalization and extra, and the local and provincial authorities meet the rest of the cost.

What I want to know is how much they are going to charge me, for I know that the more they promise to give, the more they are sure to charge.

Obed Lumber Co. Preparing New Mill Site

The Obed Lumber Co. is clearing a site for its new sawmill and water reservoir which is being erected on the CNR right-of-way. When completed the huge reservoir, which covers an area of nearly 100 acres, will be used to wash logs before they enter the sawmill.

The saving of logs that was formerly done in the bush camps will now be handled by the new sawmill.

It is expected the new sawmill will employ in the vicinity of 100 men.

Poster Contest Shows Talent

Thanks to the co-operation of Principal Cribb, the teaching staff, and last but not least the pupils, a very successful poster contest was completed and judged in less than a week's time.

Jim Clarke of the Woodlands Division, one of the poster judges stated that a surprising amount of talent was shown in several of the posters submitted. He also mentioned that with a little theory and coaching, posters of a much higher calibre could be expected in any future contest.

Following is a list of the prize winners:
Grade 7: 1st Bob Crassey, 2nd Mervin Lay, and 3rd Owen Little.
Grade 8: 1st Shirley Ives, 2nd Theresa Rhoads, 3rd Sybil Sobel.
High school: 1st Sharon Nickerson, 2nd Linda Murry, 3rd Harry Turner. Honorable Mention, Douglas Turner.

When you have finished painting a room a new color, don't clean the brush with you. Instead, use some of the color into a piece of paper or cardboard. Tuck it in your handbag as a ready reference when you are shopping for new drapery or upholstery fabrics.

If the picture from your picture window is always rainy, take a tip from the housewives in Holland. They keep their windows sparkling with a solution made by mixing one cup of clear vinegar and one-and-a-half gallons of hot water.

I don't want any politicians selling me what they are going to give me, for I know that they have nothing to give except what they first take from me.

Wise birds wait!

They don't go out on a limb for their new car they see. That figures. Because it just naturally takes a little longer to bring out a car that's sweet, smooth and easy. Like the new '57 Chevrolet. It's new right down to the wheels it rolls on — with a daring new design, a new nothing-like-it automatic drive and a new V8 besides. Longer and lower, too. No wonder wise birds are waiting. GAS TURN-ON EVENT OF WEEK FOR EDSON

The Edson Leader
The Voice of Edson Constituency

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, Thursday, October 25, 1956 No. 22

Ribbon Cutting Marks Jasper Highway Completion

The ceremony commemorating the official completion of Highway 16, was attended by officials of the Alberta Department of Highways, residents of Jasper, Hinton, Edson, representative from British Columbia and Edmontonians who had taken a part in the development of the Highway. Sponsoring the official ceremony was the Jasper Chamber of Commerce.

The ceremony commemorating the official opening National Park Gas's last Friday afternoon to witness fruition of a project that was started over thirty years ago.

The event marked the completion of blacktop from the Saskatchewan border to the Jasper National Park Gas, a distance of 391 miles. Also on hand to witness this historic occasion were members of the press, radio and Alberta Government publicity bureau.

The official ribbon cutting ceremony was performed by the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways. Mr. Taylor spoke on the tremendous engineering feat required to push the highway through. He described the sections of making encountered as some of the most difficult road building conditions that his department had ever experienced.

Other official guests that addressed the gathering were the Hon. Norman Wilmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, and Federal member for the Jasper-Edson constituency, Chas. Yull. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Bob Baxter of Jasper.

Jasper Chamber of Commerce president, Roland Mohr, paid tribute to the old timers who had worked for the completion of the highway and reminded the group that they had not reached their ultimate goal yet, which was the completion of an all-weather highway through the Yellowhead Pass to Vancouver.

Art Is Coming Along Fine

Friends of Arthur Simmons will be glad to learn that he is coming along fine in Col. McBurn Hospital in Edmonton, and feeling a little better every day. Art was injured on September 21 when he was knocked down by a car while crossing the highway near his home on 4th Avenue West. He suffered two broken ankles, a broken hip and head injuries as well as bruises and shock.

Despite the chill of the evening there was a large crowd on hand to witness the official turning on of the natural gas in Edson when a gas flare was lighted in the vacant lot on the corner of 6th Ave. and 56th Street at 7:30 Wednesday, October 24.

Mayor Kankewitz, acting as chairman of the gathering spoke briefly of the significance of this day in Edson's history and how much it would mean to the future of our town. After reading a telegram of congratulations from Mr. Walter McIntyre, who was a part of the Council which saw the gas franchise go through, Mr. Kankewitz introduced Mrs. Norman Wilmore. Mrs. Wilmore brought congratulations from her husband, the Hon. Norman Wilmore, who was unable to attend the opening, and brought news of yet another bright spot in Edson's future, with the announcement that the dial telephone system was definitely in the offing.

Mr. Murray Stewart, assistant general manager of Northwestern Utilities, Limited, expressed his thanks to the people of Edson for their co-operation during this time of inconveniences when the gas mains were being laid. He said this was the sixth town the gas company had hooked up this year and that the two more towns that were yet to be hooked up would make a total of 6,000 new customers this year. He stressed again that the unpleasant odor of the gas was put in for the purpose of warning users of leaks in appliances and that it was definitely a safety feature.

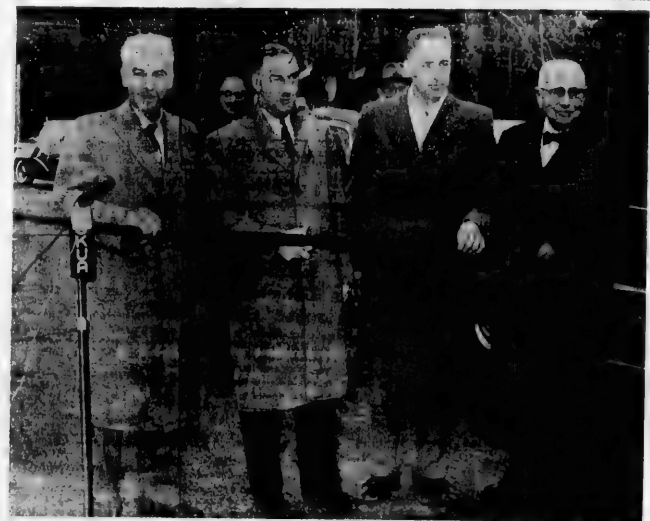

Mayor Kankewitz then turned the handle that sent a brilliant flare of gas flame six feet into the air signifying the official turn-on.

The demonstration which followed in the Legion Memorial Centre was attended by such a crowd that latecomers had to stand to hear the leaders and see the demonstration by Miss Marjorie Pasackiewicz, home service director of Northwestern, and her assistant Miss Joyce McCutcheon. Edson appliance dealers also provided a complete display for those converting to gas furnaces, ranges and hot water heating with explanations which were eagerly followed by housewives faced with the problems of converting to natural gas from other fuels.

Local Lad Injured In Accidental Shooting

Johnny Meckler, thirteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Meckler, was wounded in an accidental shooting which took place when he and another lad were out hunting last Saturday. The bullet entered Johnny's neck, lodging in his spine and causing complete paralysis. His companion went immediately for help to Silvus who brought the injured boy to Edson. He was taken to Edmonton where an emergency operation was performed to remove the bullet and relieve the paralysis.

At last report Johnny's condition was not so good and he is in the thoughts and prayers of his many friends who anxiously await word of him.

Ceremonies held at the Jasper National Park gate last Friday marked the final completion of Highway 16, which is now blacktopped from Lloydminster to the Park Gate. Officiating at the ribbon-cutting ceremony was the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways. Other officials at the ceremony (left to right) are the Hon. Norman Wilmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, Jasper Chamber of Commerce President, Roland Mohr, Chas. H. Grant (right) made the first trip from Edmonton to Jasper by car in 1923.

The Kingdom of God and the Church of God are not one and the same thing, but the Kingdom of God is the divinely ordained instrument of the Kingdom of Christ. Through it men are delivered from the power of darkness and translated into the Kingdom of Christ.

This is one of the chief functions of the Christian Church, to bring to all a knowledge of God and an acceptance of the Gospel.

THROUGH THE

Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong
Every Tuesday morning, from side to side, religious instruction is given to the junior and senior high school students. Attendance is not compulsory, and is at the discretion of the parents.

Some parents, of course, could not care less whether or not their children receive further religious instruction. Others are generously thankful for the opportunity that is given. Still others may be doubtful, feeling perhaps that the study window is a duplication of what is in schools are a duplication of what is given through the Sunday School and the Church, and being duplication, rather superior. Some are of faiths other than the Christian and therefore do not wish to participate.

Whatever may be the reasons, the attendance at these studies is smaller than that of last year.
The large number of students has passed a problem.

The aim of Christian Education has been defined to be the development of the individual as a person who is to know and love and serve God in his life.
In Jesus Christ. I am not repeating that this statement of purpose, or definition, will completely satisfy everybody. What it does assert is that throughout a person's life there is an opportunity for wider knowledge, firmer love and continuing service, in Christ's name. It affirms that we never reach the satisfaction point where we have acquired a sufficiency of Christian culture or knowledge, and that for the rest of the journey of life we can coast along without further assistance.

Each denomination participating is free to outline its own course of studies. The course offered by the various instructors will vary. Nevertheless we are all in agreement that it is to be ignored in the things of faith is to be truly ignorant, and to be religiously illiterate is a spiritual tragedy. Positively, we believe that we for God should lead us to seek knowledge of Him, and the truth shall make us free.

J. Pyper Honored

By Church

A social evening was held in
Edson United Church on October 21st to pay tribute to the work of Mr. J. Pyper Sr. Mr. Pyper had retired after thirty-four years of service to the Sunday School and after serving for 16 years as superintendent in Edson.

Following a short program, Mrs.
William Wilson, Clerk of the Session, told of the work done by Mr. Pyper. Not only had he served as superintendent, but had also represented the session on the Sunday School staff, and had been instrumental in securing teachers and other leaders.

Rev. C. C. Armstrong also expressed appreciation for the work done by Mr. Pyper.

On behalf of the Sunday School children, members and friends in the congregation he was presented with a fitted leather utility case by Mr. Robert Irvine.

A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. D. Guhrle and Mrs. A.
Wales, assisted by youthful and eager helpers. The gathering ended with the singing of "Blest willing workers raised approximately $450. The Hinton contribution is very much appreciated by the local branch and it is hoped in the future a successful branch can be organized in the Clothing Needed

Good clean warm clothing is desperately needed in many areas overseas. In order to help meet this need a reviving depot has been established in the Edson United Church. You are asked to bring clothes to the church and these will be packaged and sent overseas. They should be brought not later than November 14th.

Please do NOT send high heel shoes, purses or hats.

By An Anxious Father To His Teen-age Son About To Drive

In return for the keys to the car, you're in for three minutes of hard listening. First, you might as well know now that any infraction of the rules that you had to learn to pass your test will mean the end of your permission to drive. The hazards of the road are serious enough when you obey all the regulations. Nobody has a right to multiply the risk.

The rules of the road and some mechanical advice are important, but so are more important than the rules and the responsibility. The distorted attitude of some drivers toward the law, toward themselves or toward other living things is what makes the automobile our No. 1 killer. It's up to you to maintain the right attitude as a driver, but be constantly on guard for those who don't or won't. The "other fellow" has to be on your mind all the time.

Regard and trust the car as what it is a complicated mechanism designed to get you where you're going with a minimum of effort on your part. It is not a fast-moving toy, a means to express feelings of power or superiority, or a stage on which to show off—except maybe your maturity, alertness and consciousness. While you're at the wheel you must never give way to anger, or impatience, or undue hurry, or absenteeism, or fatigue, or a stupid impulse to show some idiot that you aren't "chicken."

Courtesy is one ingredient which makes everyday life pleasant. For a driver, courtesy is the factor which makes life possible.

This car will drive cost a lot of money. To buy it required financial sacrifice. It takes more sacrifice to keep it running. Your mother and I had to assume financial and moral responsibility for your actions in it before you got your license. We carry some expensive insurance to protect you and you. Just the same, a thoughtless or rash move on your part could mean ruin for us. Jurists pour it on reckless drivers.

Even more important are the human factors involved. Our good name and personal honor rest on your shoulders as well as on ours—ever more than when you're driving our car. I'll spare you any faltering attempts to express the love your mother and I bear for you or our constant concern for your safety. Just keep in mind that the car body is loved by someone—mean the person driving with you, or behind you, or in front of you, or on foot in the path of your car.

A lot of responsibility to hand out, isn't it? A measure of the way we feel about it is that we've glad and proud to say, "Take the car keys, and have a good time."

FROM A POINT OF LAW

Family Responsibility -- Making Wills

By A. M. BROWNE

In recent years the government of this province has seen fit to enact legislation broadening the concept of "dower rights," and to provide that dependents of a deceased person shall be entitled to assistance from such deceased person's estate.

In the case of husband and wife, The Dower Act was amended in 1948 so as to provide that either spouse shall have a dower interest in real property owned by the husband, the husband has no dower interest whatever in his wife's property. The dower interest applies either to a quarter section of family land or to a portion of land in the city (not greater than four lots) on which the home is located. Under The Dower Act, the registered owner of such property cannot sell, mortgage, lease or otherwise dispose of any portion of the real property without the consent in writing of his or her spouse.

In 1947 our legislature enacted the Testators Family Maintenance Act, the name of which was changed in 1954 to The Family Relief Act. This legislation is designed for the purpose of providing adequate maintenance and support for dependents of deceased persons. If, for example, a spouse provides for the proper maintenance and support of a widow not given by the will of her husband, or if he should die intestate and her share under the intestacy laws should not make such adequate provision, a widow must make application to the court for the purpose of obtaining a larger portion of the husband's estate by a judge of the Supreme Court of Alberta in Chambers. Under the widow making such an application, the judge will require into all matters which he thinks should be considered including the wife's reasons if they are ascertainable for making his will.

the way he did, or for not making adequate provision for his widow. The judge may refuse to grant any assistance to a widow whose character or conduct disqualifies her to assistance. This relief might well be applied in cases of desertion. Having considered all relevant matters and listened to the parties, the court will reach its decision.

If the judge decides that the wife has adequate assistance under the act, he may order that a larger portion of the husband's estate be set aside for such purpose. To obtain assistance under the act, the widow must make application to a judge of the Supreme Court of Alberta in Chambers. Under the widow making such an application, the judge will require into all matters which he thinks should be considered including the wife's reasons if they are ascertainable for making his will.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"You can't see coming, how would you like to slip this year old, comfortable shoes and stroll around the city."

We Laughed At These

Three small boys, sons of a doctor, a lawyer, and a minister, were standing about their fathers when the talk turned to automobiles.

"My father makes money fast," said the doctor's son. "He operates on some sick people and gets $500."

"My dad does better," said the lawyer's son. "He just goes to court and talks for a day and charges his client $500."

But the minister's son topped them all. "My father," he said, "does practically nothing all week, then talks for 30 minutes on Sunday morning—and he takes six men to bring the money to him."

Teacher: "Give me a sentence using the word 'chicken'."

Student: "I've seen an animal, I'll behead it in a minute."

The mystery of who put the overalls on Mrs. Murphy's dinner table, second, in our estimation of who puts the flames in the neighborhood restaurant's pancake.

Down in Florida is a man who gets up at five every morning to write poetry. Just going from bed to terra.

Philosophy Professor: "Tell me the difference between a cycle and a solo?"

Student: "A solo is what brings back a cycle is what water runs in."

A well-behaved child is one who successfully conceals his mischief-making projects.

Mothers-in-law who bribe at mothers-in-law jobs are the reason why there are so many mothers-in-law jobs.

HALLOWEEN

Witches by the dozens—Goblins by the score! Black cats on the fence posts! Ghosts around the door!

Down the chimney whistling like the voice of doom. Come the queerest noises That echo thru the room. The clock upon the mantle! Is going crazy too.

Fluffy, the family dog, is howling with his tail curled up like a demon In the shadows below. My heart is beating faster As the eerie shadows creep. How did it get to be tonight When I can get some sleep.

—Miss Doris Doyle, Jasper

The Great Problem

The problems in our present day social life are largely due to individual attitudes, and, in spite of our advances in this twentieth century, the actions of the majority of people are controlled by ignorance, fear, bias, distrust, bigotry, envy and pride. Such forces within the individual naturally produce class consciousness, sectarianism, narrowness, racial prejudice and national mobility. Thus the great problem confronting humanity is the mastery of these conflicting elements, which, if uncontrolled, lead to conflict and ruin.

—C. H. Plummer, Alberta.

mental hospital of a similar delinquent child. Mentally, provision has been made in certain cases to give some assistance to a child of the deceased who may have suffered a partial disability which makes it impossible to hold full time employment.

Under the Family Relief Act permits the husband of a deceased woman to make an application to the court in the event that he is unable to support himself and his family for him and provided, of course that he can indicate his dependency or partial dependency upon her.

It will be obvious to anyone that court proceedings of this kind cannot help but strain and sometimes completely break family life when, for example, a widow must fight in court with her children or relatives in order to obtain the support which she is entitled. Such situations can be avoided to a great extent by the careful consideration of family responsibilities when making a will.

Do It Yourself Campaign In Full Swing At Hinton

Cool fall weather and the approach of freeze-up has stimulated a fresh outburst of construction during the past month. Contractors are busy digging basements, pouring concrete and closing in their buildings in an effort to get their property advanced far enough so that when winter strikes, all that will remain will be the interior finishing work. Kneading goes with the contractors are the "Do It Yourself" builders. Erecting their houses and places of business, they are working around the clock in an attempt to move in to their new premises for the winter months.

Pictured from top to bottom are some of the Hintonites who are preparing foundations, raising walls and putting the finishing touches on various projects.

In the bottom photo, C. D. Haggard, former manager for Industrial Electrical Contractors, is shown working on one of the electrical company's staff houses located in the Hinton Properties area. With assistance of neighbors in the building of his house, Mr. Haggard was able to move his family into the partially completed home within a week following the start of construction.

Home owners are taking time in completing their dwellings now that frosty mornings have given warning of approaching cold weather. In the second picture from the bottom, Raymond Perrin (left) back-ground and neighbors were out work with hammer and saw on the Perrin house in the Hinton townsite, when this photograph was taken two weeks ago. By the beginning of this week the walls had been raised and roof put in place. Not shown in the picture are a basement and nearly completed house which have sprung up on either side of the Perrin house during the time it took to have the picture prepared for newspaper reproduction.

Legion Auxiliary Build War Memorial To Jasper Dead

An item of interest to all citizens of Jasper is being undertaken by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion Branch 31.

that we feel has long been overdue, namely the erection of a cenotaph in memory of loved ones who gave their lives in the last two world wars.

As you know the percentage of casualties per capita for the town of Jasper exceeds that of any other town or city in the Dominion of Canada.

Although the project has already been started we feel that everyone will personally want to share in the fulfillment of its erection.

With the co-operation of the Park Authorities, it will be erected on the boulevard on Connaught Drive, east of the Information Building where it can be readily appreciated by local people and visitors alike.

In the anticipation of your interest and desire to help, and our need of that help, donations will be gratefully received in the bank under the "V.I. Home Trust Fund" or by Mrs. Doug Ross personally. Your donations will be acknowledged by receipt and also through the medium of this paper with thanks.

Voluntary help in the construction has been overwhelmingly forthcoming and it is our hope that the main altar will be completed in time for the dedication ceremonies on Remembrance Day. The masonry work will be done by James Hiltch, using our own distinctive pink rock.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

Here are the trucks that conquered the Alcan Highway — one of the world's most challenging roads! Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,530 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail — every conceivable natural roadblock — to Fairbanks, Alaska. Rounding around the clock, they made this tortuous trip — normally a 72-hour run — in less than 45 hours.

Like a tirelessly unwound ribbon, the Alcan Highway twists and turns for 1,530 miles. It tumbles over towering mountains of awesome beauty and under thrashing desolate Yukon forests. A miracle of engineering — but a brutal challenge to trucks.

It's the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel condenses sloughs the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

This is the road that was chosen to give the new '57 Chevrolet trucks a supreme test of stamina, performance and handling ease. The results of that test made hauling history!

Six new Chevrolet trucks — representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models — traveled the length of the Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours. They ran day and night — but this was no test of speed. It was a measure of the ability of these new Chevrolet trucks to perform under typical conditions on the truck-killing Alcan run. The Chevrolet fleet made nominal stops along the way, and maintained safe and legal speeds. As a special additional test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

It's all down in the AAA record book. And more besides! Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and look over these new Alcan champs!

Low Cab Forward models combine the C.D.S. (Crew Driver's Seat) feature, handrails, under seat storage and out of the way door to enable easier loading and unloading. They offer all the traditional Cab Over Engine advantages. Heavyweight Chassis with Tiger-Force tandem axle rated at 22,000 lbs. GVW. 50,000 lbs. GVW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem rear axle and drive is built to handle the heaviest loads — a major "differentiator" which makes these new trucks and business hauling easy.

(AAA) The Chevrolet Alcan run was mentioned and cited as a record — by the American Automobile Association.

Proved on the Alcan Highway... Champs of every weight class!

Alcan test reports up to 30 miles per gallon! That's based on official AAA fuel consumption figures for the Camper Caravan, powered by the famous Thru-Drive 6 engine and equipped with Thru-Drive (optional) extra fuel.

All the way in heavy range with Powermaster! As a special test, this Powermaster-equipped 1955 Series 3000 truck traveled the length of the Alcan Highway — by mountains and through weather — in a single forward-speed range!

New Super Task-Force V8 Bottom Value mountain! This 1957 1900 Series truck with its new 23-cubic-inch V8 engine was more than a match for Alcan mountains. It climbed towering grades with jacksnipe agility.

Edson School Board Plan Further Expansion

Trustees A. W. Leonard and C. E. St. Denis were empowered to commence the initial steps in the meeting and planning with the architects for next year's building program. The decision was reached at the regular meeting of the Board.

It was the general feeling of the members present that Edson would be requiring six additional classrooms for next year and an auditorium as an addition to the A. H. Davis school, the Hinton district would require a further six rooms and that an auditorium should be built at the Erasmberg school.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. A. C. Gough, W. Williams, J. H. Lenton, H. G. Hendrick, C. E. St. Denis and A. W. Leonard, Trustees; Superintendent J. H. Finlay and Secretary, Treasurer D. E. Shundell.

Under Van Rosten, moved that the following order of business be set into operation with the rate per day as indicated: North Vancouver School District, Mr. N. Milich at a rate of $6.00 per day; South Vancouver School District, Mr. B. W. Smith at a rate of $5.00 per day. It was also reported that the road between Heston and the Peace River road now has been completed as to graveling and the Mouna vans were operating the regular van routes.

Building Program: Moved that pending confirmation from the architect the board accept all schools in connection with the 1956 building program with the exception of the eight-room Edson Elementary school and that the Department of Education be so advised. It was also moved that the balance of monies paid to Pacific Construction Limited be authorized for payment with the exception of a $10,000.00 hold-back on the eight-room elementary school upon acceptance of the Department of Education. The architect, Mr. D. McCulloch, advised that he has urged the contractor to complete the Hinton building as soon as possible and that he has been impressed with the necessity for completion by November 15, 1956.

Van changes: Moved that the following van transfers be approved: Mr. J. Gasson to Mr. Howard Conover (Palmer School).

Mr. George Marshall of Edmonton is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris.

Edson Out Of Running For Penitentiary Site

Some disappointment is bound to be felt this week with the announcement in a routine news dispatch from Ottawa that the federal department of justice is considering acquiring the British Columbia provincial tuberculosis sanatorium at Tranquille, near Kamloops, as a site for its new western penitentiary.

According to the report from Ottawa the department has abandoned any idea of constructing its new prison farm type penitentiary in this province and has decided that it should be built in B.C.

The bid down on the site our district was putting forward has been gradual in that the latest word a month or so ago from unofficial sources was that "if the prison is built in Alberta it will be built at Edson." Which would seem to be official double-talk for "Edson hasn't a hope."

There were those in Edson who thought that we shouldn't put forward the site at Telleron as it was not logical, if the prison was to be a farm type. Now ever General Gibson of the penitentiaries commission seemed to have been impressed on his visit here last fall and we were encouraged.

Since his inspection trip here he and his advisers have had an opportunity to pick the best site for the department's purposes. If this is true, and we have no reason to doubt but that it is, we as Canadian citizens must bow to the facts.

There need be no cause for regret on the effort the Town Council and Board of Trade put forth in the past several months to make sure that the government was acquainted with the advantages we had to offer.

Edson and district are in line by logic for the next large scale industrial development in this province due to our natural resources. We now have reasonably priced gas to offer potential industry and there appears to be the chance for cheap electrical energy on the horizon as well.

We have much to offer and it is up to ourselves to make sure potential industry knows about us.

Clergy To Hold Remembrance Service Nov. 12

The clergy of the Edson churches are again joining to conduct a Remembrance Day Service in the Legion Memorial Centre commencing just before 11:30 o'clock Monday morning November 12th.

Remembrance Day falls on Sunday this year, but it was found impossible to have all the clergy present for a service Sunday morning.

Enthusiasm and women will fall in outside the club at 10:45 a.m.

The Legion are planning an "At Home" Sunday afternoon in the club rooms and the Legion is sponsoring a dance Monday evening.

The two hotels are helping with the "At Home" and H&N Stores are donating the music for the dance.

Boom In Oil Exploration Expected For This Winter In Northern Alberta

With the coming of the first fall frosts, exploration work for Canada's harvest of "black gold" was scheduled to be intensified in the rugged foothills of the Rockies and in the wild muskeg of the north.

C. W. Jackson, statistician for the Alberta department of mines and petroleum, says that the oil picture in western Canada is not good. The main problem is not one of production but of transportation and marketing.

Alberta oilmen are today waiting for an economic market to be developed to allow the oil output to be doubled. Jackson said that as present in Alberta alone there were 7,000 oil wells in production. The aluminum output for the month of October was not by the provincial board at 400,000 barrels of crude a day. This is just half the estimated 800,000 barrels daily that the province's fields could produce at the present time.

Meanwhile the home market for oil continues to increase. Canadians use more petroleum products per capita than any other people in the world with the exception of those in the United States. Last year an average of 400 imperial gallons was used by every person in Canada. The greater use of automobiles, planes and farm tractors, coupled with the changing of CNE and CPR engines from steam to diesel locomotives are telling factors in the rising demand for oil.

The development of a large petrochemical industry, making alcohols, ethers, plastics, dyes and fertilizers in Alberta is also to be taken into consideration. However, oil is not cheap to produce. Jackson said in regard to drilling problems facing the industry that Canadian costs are much greater than those of the Middle East. Labor and terrain are the two major ones.

The mountainous nature of the rich oil areas of this country causes folds and faulty formation in the rock. The most expensive wells cost anywhere up to $400,000 to bring in, and then it is the gamble that it might be dry.

The Alberta government has had its efforts swollen by more than eleven five million this year. This compared with the 1955 total of one hundred and eight million. During the first six months of 1956, the provincial government obtained fifty four million dollars from sales of oil rights on crown lands, while income and royalties amounted to another sixteen million.

Alberta is looking towards Montreal and California as possible markets for her oil. Today it is cheaper to bring South American oil almost 5,000 miles by sea than pipe it the 2,500 miles over land. Officials say the ratio of sea transportation over land is in the region of one-half.

However, the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway is expected to increase the amount of Alberta oil refined in eastern Canada. As regards to California, the production in that oil hungry state has fallen off slightly this year. Some Canadian oil has been shipped south from the terminal of the Trans Mountain pipeline at Vancouver this year, but has not yet become a regular run for tankers.

Canadian oilmen say that California may in the years to come get its supplies of crude from Arabia by large tankers on the Pacific Ocean run.

Regardless of the problems to find economic markets, some 315 drilling rigs crews are active in western Canada to tap the nation's estimated 200 billion barrels of liquid petroleum reserves. The industry last year spent more than 500 million dollars on exploration development work. Activity this year has been in

The schools opened their doors last month to 229,000 Alameda school children and nearly 9,000 teachers. That's a lot of people coming in one pursuit!

In the last 10 years, the number of scholars has jumped by almost 70,000... the number of school teachers has increased by 2,560. This is running it money — and operating our provincial school system is more than a million dollar enterprise.

Figures given for two years ago show that $46,763,591.00 is needed that year to maintain public schools in Alameda County. An increase of 85.4 per cent more than Twenty-Two Million dollars than was needed in calendar year of 1949.

Dear Chris:

I'm in a awful predicament. You see, I've been going with Nick for quite a long time, but he has never asked me to go steady. Still he gets angry if I even mention anyone else.

The other day another boy asked me to go out with him. I couldn't think of an excuse so I told my mother to say I couldn't go when he came for me. But when he started asking her why I couldn't go she broke down and said, "Well, do you want to go?" I had no choice but to say yes and I went.

As we were coming out of the theatre we met Nick. Now he won't even talk to me and I know he wouldn't believe my story. How can I get him back?

Now you will know throughout Nick really cares for you or was merely taking you out because he didn't have anybody else. If he gets in touch with you then you then you can tell him where you are. I would suggest you start going out with someone else.

No matter how badly you want to see him again, please remember that you are a girl and even if you are a girl you are a girl still likes to pursue and a girl still has her pride to think of. Three defendants in a case of cheating public spirited service clubs, and of conspiring to cheat, were found guilty and sentenced in the famous bingle trial in Edmonton recently.

In pronouncing sentence Mr. Justice Egbert said he was ordering light prison terms for the accused because in his opinion bingle is an illegal game and is detrimental to young people, since it might lead them down the wrong path. The charges were of obtaining a car from the Norwegian Legion by fraud and of attempting to obtain a new house from the Edmonton Lions Club by fraud.

Trading Stamp Promotion Declared Illegal

Calling in the Attorney General's Dept. to involve statutory provisions which make illegal the use of "trading stamps" in retail stores, the Retail Merchants Assn. of Canada has warned traders of the province not to be persuaded by gift salesmen and promoters to accept the trading stamp gimmick as a sales incentive.

Some retailers in southern Alberta are already issuing the stamps to customers. It is reported that a big retail chain has introduced the custom, but no major start has been made in Alberta.

By saving the stamps customers are "awarded" prizes. Big gift winners are said to be the companies selling the stamps to retailers. They have made it into a reported $400,000,000 a year business in the U.S.

In places where they are used, a high pressure war is being waged the various competing firms. But there is little likelihood that in Alberta. Deputy trade minister John Oberholzer says they are a violation of provincial industries and labor code. It is also claimed the use of stamps contravenes the Criminal Code, Section 200.

Deputy trade minister John Oberholzer says they are a violation of provincial industries and labor code. It is also claimed the use of stamps contravenes the Criminal Code, Section 200.

Some retailers in southern Alberta are already issuing the stamps to customers. It is reported that a big retail chain has introduced the custom, but no major start has been made in Alberta.

By saving the stamps customers are "awarded" prizes. Big gift winners are said to be the companies selling the stamps to retailers. They have made it into a reported $400,000,000 a year business in the U.S.

In places where they are used, a high pressure war is being waged the various competing firms. But there is little likelihood that in Alberta. St. Faith's Mission Watch Fumes From Cars This Weather

The advent of the winter season brings to the fore certain driving hazards, one of the most deadly being the creeping killer, carbon monoxide.

The Alberta Safety Council has issued a warning to motorists to be on guard at all times against these poisonous fumes which each year take a toll of lives in Alberta and across Canada.

Among the victims of carbon monoxide every autumn and winter are young couples who park in secluded spots with the engine running to operate the heater. In numerous instances, the victims were found dead, some having been sitting out to sleep or talking over events of the evening after a party, when the deadly fumes were drawn in to the car by the air conditioning heater.

There also are instances where the victims were drunk persons who went to sleep after neglecting to turn off the engine.

In far too many cases, carbon monoxide struck when the car driver, in many cases a business man, decided to warm up the car in a closed garage. This can be a fatal mistake especially during the fall and winter when the weather is cold and drivers are apt to forget to open the doors first.

Officials of the Safety Council point out that the only defense to poison gas is an abundance of fresh air to carry the gas out of the car.

Mill Progress Report

The week ending October 13. The week opened with clear, sunny skies and sunny conditions with day temperatures in the fifties and night temperatures in the thirties.

The graded gravel and sand have now been placed in the beds of the Water Treatment Plant and the clear water works have been filled. Work continued on assembling the 48" water main and the 36" line sewer pipe was completed.

Work commenced on placing temporary winter enclosures in all buildings.

During the week a total of 27,350 meals were served and 1,110 personnel were accommodated in camp.

All foundations have now been poured for the apartment blocks and the erection of the walls for the next five buildings has now started.

The footings and foundation for the office building have been poured, which will measure 30' x 128' deep.

This building will house the Bank of Nova Scotia, a barber shop and beauty parlor, Bill Switzer's drug store and possibly a clinic (medical).

At the end of the week, the concrete in the Log Flume has been completely poured and cleaning up and draining of the steel liners is continuing.

The bricklayers are progressing on the south and west walls of the pumping group and work has also commenced on placing structural steel around the steel tanks.

The glazing of the decker's chests continued with the bleaching towers and the high density bleached and unbleached storage tanks.

Over 90 per cent of the floor slabs in the woodwork has now been poured, and work is continuing in preparing the remaining section.

The roof slabs have been placed and completely grouted. Vats have been placed under all the drum barrels.

Work continued in the Power Group throughout the week installing the steam headers and water feed lines to the power boilers, and No. 2 diesel generator.

The sole plates of the turbo-superheater have been placed and welding of the tubes in the recovery boiler has almost been completed and bricking of the boiler has commenced on the south and fifth floors.

The steel section of the roof of the Machine Room has been completed and the bricklayers

THREE GATES OF GOLD

By Beth Day

If you are tempted to reveal A tale to you someone has told About another, make it pass. Before you speak, three gates of gold.

These narrow gates: First, "Is it true?"

Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind Give truthful answer. And the next Is last and narrowest, "Is it true?"

And if to reach your lips at last It passes through these gates—ways three, Then you may tell the tale, nor fear.

What the result of speech may be, THE MAN IN THE WILDERNESS The most in the wilderness asked me How many strawberries grew in the sea.

I answered him, as I thought good, As many as red herrings grew in the wood.

Before you flare up at anyone's faults, take time to count ten—ten of your own.

Do sure that they who tell you of others' faults will tell your faults to others. — Sadi

With the Churches.

Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

From early days, people have been eating. It is a custom that is likely to continue, perpetuated by those who live to eat and by those who eat to live. Some have breakfast, lunch and dinner, while others have coffee dinner and supper.

Many churches have organized suppers. They have been occasions for fellowship, a gathering of the clan, and a parental source of income for the Ladies Aid. Mountains of potatoes, acres of peas and vast flocks of poultry have contributed to the weight both of the congregations and to the hof of the church's treasury. But basically they have been enjoyed get-togethers, sharing a meal with friends in the church's circle, and with other friendly souls from other church groups who are from far and wide.

In order to preserve the social value, yet to get away from the strictly fund-raising aspects of the church's suppers, a new development has come about. Rather than have people donate food, then come and pay to eat it, the cost of the supper is defrayed by the church as an organized body. The congregation meets together, preserves the opportunity for fellowship, and is given an opportunity to hear various interested people tell something of what the church means to them.

A congregational supper of this nature is now being planned by the Edson United Church. We don't want to appear exclusive, but this is an occasion for the members and adherents of the congregation, and not an invitation to the form of a letter invitation. If you are an adherent or supporter, or a newcomer to the church, the supper is scheduled for the United Church, November 7, at 8:30 a.m. It is specifically intended for all adults in the United Church fellowship.

If this closed-circuit event seems a bit snobbish, it's because of limited seating (or eating) capacity rather than deliberate exclusion. But for all of you U.C. folk, we would like to see you there.

IN MEMORIAM

Mayor W. H. Kucharski was given the honor of lighting the gas flare that marks another milestone in Edson's growth toward big town status at the official ceremony last Wednesday evening witnessed by hundreds of townsmen.

Following the ceremony the gas company presented a cooking demonstration. Ed's Super Market cut up and gave away a side of beef and local appliance dealers demonstrated their wares and gave out prizes. Leader Photo.

Treasurer To Address Social Credit Meeting

The Hon. E. W. Hinman is to address a public meeting in the United Church basement at 8:00 p.m. Friday, November 8th.

Mr. Hinman is provincial treasurer and has been speaking extensively at various Alberta points on ways and means of assisting with municipal finances. It was he who first met up the trial balloon with the suggestion that a provincial sales tax be levied.

During the afternoon the annual convention of the Edson Social Credit Consultancy Association will be held in the United Church basement as well. The convention commences at 2:30 and all interested in Social Credit are invited to attend.

Liberals To Decide Convention Delegates Nov. 9

A meeting of the Edson-Jasper Provincial Liberal Association has been called for Friday, November 9, at 8:00 p.m. in the 1007 Hall. The annual election of officers will take place for the constituency association and the naming of delegates to the provincial convention in Calgary on November 13 will take place.

Highlight of the Calgary meeting is to be a banquet address by Hon. Walter Harris, Minister of Finance, Ottawa, on the evening of the 13th.

J. Harper Brown, Liberal leader in Alberta since 1947, is to speak at two o'clock. Hon. George Pruthi, and John Devere, MP for Vegreville are also featured speakers at the provincial gathering.

COUNCIL AGREE ON CALGARY POWER

The Edison Leader The Voice of Edison Constituency

Vol. 4

Edson, Alberta, Thursday, November 8, 1956

No. 24

Remembrance Service To Be Monday Morning

Due to the difficulty of rearranging church services Sunday morning, Edison's observance of Remembrance Day is to be held on Monday, November 12.

Edison Council have requested business places in town to close for an hour or two Monday morning to allow their staff to attend the service in the Legion. Ex-servicemen and women are to fall in by the club entrance at 10:45 with the Legion Auxiliary to file into the service which commences just before 11:00 a.m.

The Legion are to be at Home to ex-servicemen and their wives and ladies in the afternoon with refreshment courtesy Edison's two hotels.

The usual dance is to be held in the hall in the evening with dancing to music supplied through courtesy of I.M.N. Stores.

Is Now Qualified

Mr. Jack Patterson tells us that he didn't look in the manual provided before taking the examination at the insurance agents' convention in Calgary last week.

"After having been in the insurance game since the war, I thought it was about time I found out whether I was qualified by general insurance agents standards. . . turns out I passed," says Jack.

To Talk On Calgary Power

Mr. D. A. Hansen, commercial superintendent of Calgary Power Co., is scheduled to address a meeting of the Edison Board of Trade in the Commodore Banquet room, Wednesday evening, November 14 at 4:30.

Tickets are on sale by various members of the executive of the Board of Trade and it is hoped to have a capacity audience in attendance.

H & S District Conference Here

An extensive program on Home and School problems is being arranged for Saturday, November 17th starting at 9 a.m.

The purpose of the conference is to assist local H & S groups to arrange more full and better meetings.

In Flanders Fields

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the rows and rows,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
Here in the fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe
To you, from falling hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high;
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow,
In Flanders fields.

After careful consideration of all the factors, the members of the Edison Council are now of the opinion that a franchise should be given to Calgary Power Co. to supply power to Edison Town.

Your editor has sat in on most of the sessions with the power company and watched the thinking of individual councillors change through the past few months as the full implication of the alternative to giving the franchise to Calgary Power Co. were carefully weighed against long held convictions that municipal ownership of our own power supply was a good thing.

The latest and final offer from Calgary Power Co. will make Edison Town, for all practical purposes, if we choose to pay off all our debentures, debt free. The company with this cash payment would receive the power plant, buildings and distribution system of the Edison light utility.

In direct saving of debenture payments this will mean that Edison taxpayers will save $25,000 a year for the first six years and $14,000 a year after that for about ten years. Presumably this would mean that no increase in the mill rate would be needed to provide the municipal services our citizens expect.

The $25,000 saving in debenture payments would almost offset the profit we expect to make this year from the power utility after the heavy reduction in rates has sprung. The saving to individual users of power in Edison, based on 1955 figures will be nearly $80,000.

Our present power plant is not adequate to handle the load which our growing community is demanding so we must face the alternative of buying another huge unit which will cost over $200,000 installed in our plant and which, if Edison's growth continues would only be adequate for three or four years when an even bigger unit would be needed. There is no need to emphasize what the debenture payments on this huge capital expenditure would do to our financial position for the next ten or twenty years.

In addition to this there would be no possibility of a reduction in our present rate structure as individual power plants, whether diesel or gas fired, can not compete with line transmitted power from a large generating plant such as the one at Walmus. Instead of two cent power we would continue to have to pay four and a half cents, or slightly less, for the illusion of owning our own power plant. An extravagant frill

By Dick Bocking, D.A.

WHY WASTE FEED

Nobody ever made money on livestock by keeping them alive in straw. Summary, your profits are cut if you feed a lot of supplements and other feed all day long when you don't need them. They are important in your feeding program, but how do you know what amounts of commercial supplements to add to your home-grown feeds? It's not hard to get an answer to this question now. The University has a laboratory which does nothing but test soils and feeds. All that is necessary is that you send in a sample of (5150) which while it does not cover the cost of the service, ensures that only those actually interested will send feed samples; can greatly increase your profits from winter feeding. Make use of this service by the University of it now

Jasper Bride Killed In Tragic Road Accident

A car-truck collision last Sunday on Highway 16, east of Hinton, took the life of Mrs. D. Robinson, a bride of less than 24 hours. Her husband, Donald Robinson of Jasper, and driver of the truck, Walter Kolenick-off of Hinton, both suffered multiple injuries and were taken to Jasper Hospital.

Husbands! Wives! Get Pop, Vim, Fuel Younger

Thousands of couples are weak, nervous, over-tired and have lost their health. For new vigor, get Pop, Vim, Fuel Younger. It's the only tonic that's safe, pure, and gives you the energy you need. Get it today. All drug stores.

Mrs. Robinson, the former Alice Opheim of Hinton, died almost instantly when the Robinson car collided with the rear of the truck. The truck, owned by Cap's Esso Service, was parked by the side of the road while the driver attempted to make repairs to the underside of the truck. The winch truck had stopped to tow a grader out of the ditch and when the winch mechanism became jammed the driver crawled under the truck to make the necessary repairs.

The Robinson couple had been married on Saturday afternoon and when the accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, they were starting out on a honeymoon trip that would have taken them to Seattle.

The impact of the crash drove the winch truck across the road into the opposite ditch. The driver of the truck received a broken leg when both vehicles passed over him. Mr. Robinson was thrown clear of the car and suffered multiple injuries and facial lacerations.

Constable Graham of the Hinton detachment, returning from Edmonton, happened on the scene of the accident almost at the same time it took place. Dr. R. Watson and the Hinton Ambulance were summoned immediately. An inquest is scheduled to be held.

Edson OORP Lodge Attends Jasper Birthday

Fourteen members of the Edson Lodge, O.O.R.P. No. 31, motored to Jasper on November 1 to attend the 30th birthday anniversary celebration of their sister Lodge No. 38.

The evening started with a most delicious banquet served by the Angeleno ladies. A huge birthday cake baked by Lady Givard of Jasper Lodge and two smaller ones baked by Lady Medori and Lady Plummer were the highlight of the banquet as they were beautifully decorated in the Lodge colors and symbols.

During the entertainment that followed F.D.B.S.H.L. Hartley of the Jasper Lodge was presented with her 1st Deputy Star by D.D.S.H.L. Gavin of Edson Lodge. Lady Jean Givard of Jasper received her 15 year pin from H.L.L. Medori. Lady Rae, a trustee of the Jasper Lodge received a gift for ten years of service as a trustee.

Lady Hans, who is leaving to make her home in Edmonton was given an O.O.R.P. spoon as a farewell gift.

Birthday greetings from the Edson Lodge were carried to the sister lodge by Lady Kortman. Greetings were also received from Mercul Lodge.

A revivalist went to conduct a service in a town where he had never preached before. On a lightning from the train he found he had a letter he had forgotten to post. He hailed a boy standing by and asked: "Can you tell me where the post office is?"

"No," said the boy, and gave the preacher directions. The preacher thanked him and asked: "Do you know who I am?"

"No," said the boy, and gave the preacher directions. The preacher thanked him and asked: "Do you know who I am?"

"Well, I'm the preacher who is preaching here tonight. You come to the service and I'll show you the way to Heaven."

"Gee!" said the boy. "You don't even know the way to the post office!"

Letters to Chris

All correspondence will be treated as strictly confidential and sent directly to Chris. No signatures is required. Dear Chris:

Two years ago my fiancé was killed in an automobile accident. We were both deeply in love and planning to get married as soon as possible. For about six months I wanted to die too, but somehow little by little I got over the bitterness and disillusionment and tried to rearrange my life. Now after two years I can look back and feel only a sorrow for something very precious that was not meant for me.

I am not a neurotic or morbid woman. I go out as much as I can and I really have fun, but I have known others who made many mistakes trying to start all over again.

You are a sensible and well-adjusted person. You are only suffering from what is affecting some of the young people I know: impotence. You are only 23 years old. Your whole life is ahead of you. Exercise a little bit of psychoanalysis but perhaps it can explain your reaction to men. You see when your fiancé died it was a bigger disappointment than you would admit to yourself. You decided that six months or a year of mourning was enough and tried to continue your life as if nothing had happened. I respect and admire you for it but it does not always work. You felt more deeply than you would allow yourself to and so today, while you consciously go out and try to find another man, unconsciously you are disliking yourself for it and using the boy who is taking you out as a target for that dislike.

My advice to you is give yourself time. Stay away from dating and parties and although you do not need to dwell on the memory of your fiancé, let that wound heal in a natural way. Only when you feel that you want to go out and mix with your friends because of them and not because you feel you must, do so.

here is my problem. I can't stand any man touching me. Something as innocent as holding hands makes me tremble all over and I immediately dislike the person intimately. It is not a matter of puritanism either. I'm 23 years old and before I was engaged I enjoyed dating as much as any other normal young girl. I do not want to be a spinster. I loved my fiancé very much but I know that somewhere there is another man for me and yet he can't possibly find him if I'm cutting everybody out of my life!

Travis M.

Dear Travis:

Somebody once told me that to lose a fiancé is even more tragic than to lose a husband. I can tell you that yours is one of the most bitter and heart-breaking experiences a girl has to endure. I have known women that have never quite recovered and I have known others that made many mistakes trying to start all over again.

You are a sensible and well-adjusted person. You are only suffering from what is affecting some of the young people I know: impotence. You are only 23 years old. Your whole life is ahead of you. that would make future town expansion much harder than it should be.

We would also be in the position of being surrounded by cheap power and there would be an irretrievable pressure to match the low rate available just outside the town's boundaries.

Council could do nothing therefore but get the best price possible for our distribution system. Calgary Power Co. will definitely not leave us bulk power, the Council were again informed by D. A. Hanson, commercial superintendent, after a direct question by Mayor Kankewitt last Tuesday.

After the discussion which lasted until past midnight, Mayor Kankewitt then polled the individual Councilors and each agreed that the question should be put to the burgesses on the basis of a written agreement of the terms agreed to between Council and the power company.

When the draft agreement is received Council will then give it first reading and then submit it to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners for approval and then call for a plebiscite so that the property owners may give their approval. A two-thirds majority is necessary for the agreement to go into effect.

It will take at least six weeks before consumers can have the benefits of modern pricing of electricity and members of the Council are determined to push the administrative work as quickly as possible so that the agreement has been reached.

The best time possible for a turnover would probably be the January reading, more likely the February reading of modern. It can't be too soon as far as this newspaper is concerned.

Treasurer Says Alberta Needs New Tax Source

Alberta's Provincial Treasurer the Hon. E. W. Hinman gave an enlightening address to the public meeting following the Social Credit Constituency Association's annual convention in the United Church basement last Friday evening.

Mr. Hinman reviewed the early aims of the Social Credit party in Alberta from the slogan that there should be no "poverty in the midst of plenty" in this province on through the history of the granting of more and more pensions of various types, hospitalization grants, bursaries and the building of roads.

The trend now is that we all look to the government as the great giver. Mr. Hinman reminded his audience that a government can only give out what it takes in in revenue and is really only distributing the people's money.

Year by year, as the government offers more services, the people expect more services. In addition to all the personal help to our citizens, the government has taken over practically fifty per cent of the municipal costs as well, he said.

We are faced with the prospect of an expanding population and if we can hold the line all right, but, said the provincial treasurer, if we want expanded services, we must explore other or new methods of raising money.

He discussed whether real property should now be further taxed for municipal and provincial services that have no direct relationship to real property, and went on to discuss what is a good tax.

HON. E. W. HINMAN

A 'GOOD' TAX

A good tax, said Mr. Hinman, should not be just aimed at a little group, but he said that if a tax is good the people who get the service should be taxed by it. It should be simple, it should be collectable and those who can afford it should pay the most. At the same time everyone should pay something.

Of the various types of taxes applied, Mr. Hinman seemed to indicate that he thought the imposition of a sales tax met most of the requirements of a "good" tax. He mentioned that a one per cent sales tax levied on

Bill Gregson With UN Force

A former Edison boy, Rifleman Bill Gregson of the Queen's Own Rifles, has left with his regiment to form a part of the United Nations force policing the world's hot spot in the Suez.

Bill's mother, Mrs. Margaret Gregson, went to Calgary at the weekend to see him off for Halifax, from where he will sail to Naples, prior to the force proceeding to Egypt.

His wife and small son will come to Edison where they will make their home with Mrs. Gregson while Bill is overseas.

R.E.A. Contract Deadline Set

The Edison-Pulham Rural Electrification Association has set December 6, as the deadline for contracts.

A meeting of the directors will be held on that date at the home of Mr. G. Seibel of Pioneer. Anyone wishing to sign up for power may contact any of the directors or the Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. G. M. Seibel.

Falls, just a tip, sign up now or it might be some time before you will receive power, especially after the proposed line is definitely established.

Win Bonds At Evansburg

Three Edison district people won $180 Canada Savings Bonds in the annual draw from Evansburg Branch of the Canadian Legion on Monday.

Winners were Yvan Desautel of Edison; Mrs. Mabel Gilcourt, Edison; and K. Hallison of Wolf Creek.

Big Power Potential In Area Says Speaker

Mr. D. A. Hansen, commercial superintendent of Calgary Power Co., was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Edison Board of Trade in the Commodore banquet room on Wednesday evening when he outlined the history of power development in Alberta as illustrated by the growth of his company.

Displaying a map of the power system built up through the years, Mr. Hansen explained how the system had high voltage lines between heavy load centres with decreasing steps out to smaller loads and how a grid system and connecting of circuits was gradually giving the company several alternatives in routing power to any given point in the province.

Mr. Hansen traced the growth from the predominantly hydro power source on the Bow River and its tributaries through to the huge development now coming into operation at the Wabamun plant where gas, coal or oil can be the fuel.

The tremendous industrial growth around Edmonton made the company look for new energy sources in the area and they changed their thinking from a found Edison Council did not facilitate out of Edmonton to the Calgary Power can put power into towns at lower rates than can individual plants. Edison, he said, has enjoyed low rates for an isolated power plant, but his company can supply even lower power rates. The speaker briefly discussed the lease proposal which he

Big Attendance At Remembrance Service

One of the best attended Remembrance Day services since the Second World War assembled in the Legion Memorial Centre to pay tribute to the fallen of Canada's wars on Monday morning, November 12, when the clergy of the Edison churches officiated at a joint service.

Exservicemen and members of the Ladies Auxiliary, led by a smartly turned out Cadet Corps under command of their O.C. Mr. T. E. Booker, paraded to the service down 81st and up Main and back to the hall in the fine fall weather.

Ministers taking part in the service were the Rev. H. W. Buchner, the Rev. C. C. Armstrong and the Rev. L. Halliwell. Mrs. G. M. Maclean provided the music and Comrade Dick Christie sounded the traditional Last Post and Reveille. The Legion were at home during the afternoon to ex-servicemen, their wives and friends, followed by a buffet supper. Refreshments were donated by Edison's hotels and the Ladies Auxiliary served the supper. The evening was climaxed with a dance to music supplied by H & N Stores Ltd.

Cont. and Mrs. Stitt Craddock are to be congratulated on the memorial obelisk which they made and which will be used for future services in the hall.

EAA Meeting To Organize Hockey Activities

A good crowd is hoped for when the E.A.A. hold their general meeting in the Legion Memorial Centre on Tuesday November 30. The meeting which will get underway at 7:45 will hear reports from Nine Cities on the three day coaching school which was attended at Red Deer last weekend and from president of the Association Joe Fehovich on the A.A.H.A. Convention which he attended in Edmonton a short time ago.

The main business of the evening will be the organization of hockey for the coming season. All men and boys interested in playing this season are asked to be in attendance and help to get the teams organized. Coaches and managers for senior, midget and bantam teams are also needed and anyone interested in helping will be particularly welcomed at the meeting.

Hockey has become increasingly popular in the past few seasons and it is hoped to make this the best yet.

All parents who are interested in their sons welfare and activities are urged to attend this important meeting.

If you are interested in your sons away-from-home activities why not attend the E.A.A. meeting next Tuesday in the Legion Memorial Centre and do your bit to give Edson sports a boost.

Glenwood Girl Honored With Bridal Shower

Mrs. M. Schirer and Mrs. G. Whitham were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held in the Glenwood Community hall this week in honor of Miss Greta Kennedy whose marriage to Mr. Walter Cosman takes place shortly.

Entertainment consisted of making the bridesmaids hat, card test, and a mock wedding, which was performed to the hilarious enjoyment of the twenty six guests.

The bride-to-be was presented with a wishing well loaded with gifts and as she opened each one she made a wish for the donor.

A lovely lunch concluded the evening.

Summer Snapshot Round-Up

With summer drawing to a close, it's about time for all of us to begin taking inventory again. The inventory of our summer snapshots. Were you sure you had them in the same state as we are — with two or three taken as many prints as you had when the season started? If so, don't despair — it's a condition common to most photographers. Longer days, more leisure hours, many more trips and visits, lots of weekend guests and vacationing relatives — all these usually add up to many pictures taken during the summer months than at any other time of the year. The thing to do now is to gather the whole family around and let everybody pitch in to help you sort that stockpile of summer snapshots. While you're doing this, you might also want to check through negatives, so that you can replace missing prints or order extra ones. Doubtless, every member of the family will have his own idea about which pictures should go into your album and how they should be arranged. Fine — but first to the sorting and classifying. The easiest way to classify pictures is according to the occasions or trips on which they were taken, or under such general headings as "Camping," "Picnics Visited," "Summer Visitors," etc. Be sure to pencil in the dates when the snapshots were taken, too — it's the best insurance we know of to settle family disputes later on! — John Van Guilder

Well Attended

On Wednesday evening, November 7, the Edson United Church held a congregational supper which was prepared by ladies of the church and which was well attended by old and new members of the congregation.

Following the supper a period of community singing took place followed by two songs by a men's quartet which was very much enjoyed. Various members spoke briefly of their work in the church.

Rev. Armstrong introduced out-of-town guests, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Marsden of Pictouville United in Edmononton, who carried greetings from their church and who had accompanied the guest speaker for the evening, a practicing Edmononton lawyer, Mr. Joe Butterwick and Mrs. Butterwick.

During the evening it was announced by Rev. Armstrong that Mr. Ed Huser would lead a new boys group the Sigma C's which will include boys from 12 to 14 years of age. The group will meet in the Church basement every Thursday afternoon.

Surprise Package of '57 ...Pontiac!

Pontiac Laurentian Asher Sport Sedan

It's the biggest surprise of any year... 1957's bright, brand-new Pontiac! One glance at these slim, trim side-liners will convince you that this is the ultimate in newness! Because Pontiac for 1957 is completely new—from power to personality... completely yours—from prizing to possessing! Completely new in power, did we say? Well, yes... with a brand-new choice of engines, ranging from the economical Strato-Six with 148 horsepower, right up to the 283 horsepower Power Chief Fuel Injection V8 engine! Completely new in personality, too? Surely, with Pontiac's new Star Flight Body Design... the only new car in the lowest-priced field with such supreme quality and style. And inside, Pontiac's new interiors, new colors, new fabrics, new everything create a classic combination of luxury and beauty! And Pontiac is completely new all the way in between, too—with striking new "brats" for 1957. Triple-turbine TurboSlide*, for one example. And revolutionary Fuel Injection*, for another, eliminating carburetors completely! But get the full story first hand. It's on display—now—at your Pontiac dealer's!

*Optional on certain models.

Here's Pontiac's existing new front end for 1957... with new helmets in every line.

There's the added safety of constant-speed steering wheel... offered as an accessory on all models.

The newness of Pontiac styling extends to these boldly designed tail-lamp units as well.

All Pontiac models for 1957 have new drop-down steering wheels... practical Pontiac styling.

Pontiac's new fuel filter door... slides behind a glassless exterior... easily accessible when needed.

Instrument, steering wheel and controls blend in uncluttered convenience in Pontiac's new instrument panel.

A new three-position switch lets you operate accessories with engine and ignition turned off.

A "key" on Pontiac for 1957, Fuel Injection* is the newest of new engine sub-components in production cars.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

'57 PONTIAC... Completely new from POWER to PERSONALITY

Civil Servants To Hear Report

The Civil Service Association of Alberta, Edson Branch No. 36, is holding a meeting of interest to all provincial government employees on Friday, November 25, at 5:00 in the Court room of the Provincial Building, Edson.

The main business of the meeting will be the reports of the delegates to the recent convention of the association held in Edmonton. It is also hoped that a number of the provincial employees will be present.

A social evening will follow the meeting and all provincial government employees and their wives are urged to attend. A free dinner is planned and lunch will be served.

Peers Handicrafts Elect Officers
The Peers Handicraft Club held their 2nd meeting of the term at the old school on November 7.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. O'Neil; vice-president, Mrs. Massey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Rush; press reporter, Mrs. McGuire.

It was decided to charge a fee of one dollar per year, per membership.

What drives are being sponsored to replace those previously held by the Students' Union.

The next of these will be held in the old school on November 19 when lunch will be sold and everyone is welcome to attend.

This next meeting will be on Nov. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton of Drayton Valley were recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. L. Halliwell.

Thanks Says The Legion
On behalf of the Canadian Legion branch 31, Edson, I wish to thank the people of Edson and district for their whole-hearted support in the money campaign. The committee with Laurie Switzer as chairman have informed me that the campaign brought in approximately $700.00.

I also wish to thank all those connected with the canvas and especially the Ladies Auxiliary and their volunteer assistants. Gilbert Switzer, President

Craft Centre News

By MRS. LAURA MAHON

At the Edson Craft Centre annual meeting held recently, officers were elected for the coming year as follows:

President, Mrs. D. Buck; Treasurer, Mrs. R. Wecker; Secretary, Mrs. W. Kankewill; returned to office; and Mrs. P. Craig; Weaving Conveners, Mrs. C. Gourney and Mrs. H. Seldoon; Leather Conveners, Mrs. M. Madge and Mrs. E. Graham; Copper Conveners, R. Murray; Woodwork Conveners, John Leydon; Building Mrs. L. Mahon and Mrs. Frances Mahon; Publicity, Mrs. Laura Mahon and Mrs. Toni Ross.

Our financial statement showed we have had very good value for our money but will be about four hundred dollars short if we complete our present projects, which include plumbing, some insulation, paint etc.

It was decided to ask every member to earn ten dollars total money, five dollars before the New Year and five more by spring.

A newsletter is to be sent to all members periodically with craft information.

All interested woodworkers are reminded that a new course will begin Monday November 26 and continue to December 11.

Make that euphoric for your wife for Christmas or maybe its a gun rack for yourself or something for the children, but whatever it is, the course will help you.

First To Pass In Edson

Further to our story about Mr. Jack Pattinson being granted his certificate of qualification as a general insurance agent, Jack informs us that he is the first in Edson to qualify and among the first 107 members of the insurance agents association in Alberta to so qualify.

This is not to suggest, says Jack, that agents who had not previously qualified are not content to service insurance customers, but does show that those who do pass the tests are up on the various angles of the insurance game.

ver, and then went on to tell of the offer to purchase the plant and distribution system by his company, which the Council agreed on in principle, and which his company will submit to the next Council meeting in formal written form.

He went on to tell of how the price agreed on would be more than twice Edson's debt and save consumers approximately $50,000 a year based on 1955 figures.

Hinton Created 'New Town' Temporary Board Appointed

In a letter sent to the residents of Hinton, Blake MacKenzie, Liaison Officer for the Department of Municipal Affairs, stated that Hinton has been organized as of November 1st, as a New Town under the provisions of the New Towns Act and that this will give citizens of the community a voice in the management of their own affairs.

The provisions of the New Towns Act allows the appointment of a temporary council to administer the affairs of the New Town until such a time as local elections can be held to place the affairs in the hands of elected representatives.

The area affected by this new set up includes all that portion of the North West quarter of Section 10, the south half of Section 10 and the South West quarter of Section 14 in Township 51, Range 25, West of the 5th Meridian, lying South of the north boundary of the railway right-of-way of the Canadian National Railway registered under plan No. 7415 A.R. and the North East quarter of Section 10 and the North West quarter of Section 11 in Township 51, Range 25, West of the 5th Meridian, he and is hereby declared to be a new town.

pointed Chairman of the Board.

According to Mr. MacKenzie, the agreement with Hinton Development and the Department of Municipal Affairs has been terminated to be replaced by an agreement drawn with the new in the hands of the Board while the developers will continue with the major jobs of levelling, filling of the old gravel pit, grading and will make a cash contribution towards graveling.

The remainder of the letter is as follows: A number of questions concerning VLA lots have been asked and the following information may be of interest to those persons interested in VLA loans.

The veteran concerned should select his lot, reserve it, and then apply to: Regional Office, Veterans Land Act, 112th Street and Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

There are a number of schemes by which the VLA can assist a veteran to build, and the most suitable method will be selected in consultation with VLA.

Alberta Wildlife Tours To Visit Edson

Alberta Wildlife Tours has now commenced its second season of illustrated lectures on the wildlife of Alberta. The co-founders of this venture, Prof. C. G. Hansson of the University of Alberta and Edgar T. Jones have spent a very busy spring and summer travelling throughout the province securing hundreds of pictures of many of our most interesting birds, mammals, flowers and insects for their respective productions. It is hoped that in this way Albertans will become better acquainted with their wildlife and lend their strong support to sound conservation measures.

The new 1956-57 programme is particularly noteworthy in the great range and variety of wildlife presented. Mammals range from the hairy wolverine and elk to elfin chipmunk, birds from fierce and wary goshawk to friendly chickadee while flowers run the entire gamut from those of the parkland marsh to those of the very snow-line in our own majestic Rockies. This year's productions highlight such rare sights as the Canada Lynx, the great migration of the Lesser Snow Geese to their Arctic breeding grounds, the wily Goshawk at its remote nesting site, the intensely interesting Ruffed Grouse performing on its drumming log within arm's length of the camera-man, the hatching of Canada Geese on an isolated island, as well as many of the more familiar friendly birds about our own backyards. Alberta Wildlife Tours has now shown to more than 17,000 Albertans and it is expected that the new season will greatly add to this figure in so far as possible. The Tours work closely with the schools supplementing the important work done there; it is realized that the future rests ultimately with our younger generations. Few hobbies in the world offer so much for so little effort expended and once a genuine interest is aroused, it tends to grow.

Edson and district residents will have a chance to view these wonders of our Alberta outdoors when the Alberta Wildlife Tours present their slides and movies in the High School Auditorium next Tuesday evening, November 27 starting at 8:30.

Epidemic Averted

Thanks to efforts of the St. John's Hospital staff, assisted by the full co-operation of the public the danger of a Staphylococcus Aureus epidemic appears to have been averted. Consequently it has been decided to relax visiting regulations. Admission of visitors will be at the discretion of the hospital staff and should be restricted to one person per patient, preferably a close relative.

Chas Yuill, MP Re-nominated For Jasper-Edson

Mr. Charles Yuill, sitting Member of Parliament for this riding was re-nominated to carry the Social Credit banner at the nominating convention held in the Alberta Social Credit League Hall on November 14.

Mr. Yuill has represented Jasper-Edson since the 1953 federal election. He is a resident of Earbhead in the east end of the riding where he is currently serving his sixth two-year term as mayor.

Constituency officers were also elected at the convention with K. MacKinnon, of Tiger Lily, being named president; A. Gano, of the Ridge, first vice-president, and Stanley Kozaruk, Fairbairn, second vice-president.

Sirre Jasper-Edson was carved out of the huge riding which included the Peace River country by the Redistribution Act of 1953. The seat has been held by a Social Crediter except for 1949 when Mr. J. Welbourne captured the seat from Mr. W. F. Kuhl, the former S.C. MP.

Mr. Neil Dilliant arrived this week to take up the position of Assistant Superintendent of the Forest Service in Edson. Mr. Dilliant started his forestry work at Entrance and has been most recently working in Edmonton with the service.

As part of the half million dollar building program to be undertaken by the Edson School Division No. 12, Hinton 1, to get a new six-room school; Edson an eight room addition and multipurpose playground to the A. H. Dakin School; Evansburg, Wildwood and Hinton are to get auditorium gymnasiums it was decided at the regular Divisional Board meeting in Edson on Thursday, November 15.

They will also be a two-truck garage for the divisional offices at Edson and it is planned to complete the present building program at Hinton.

This extensive building program is on top of the $600,000 program completed this year and gives some indication of the rate of growth in the Edson School Division from east to west.

Last year and this, Evansburg and Wildwood required additions to their schools; Hinton centralization was added in; Peers and Fairham got identical schools; the A. H. Dakin Elementary School was built in Edson in addition to an addition to the High School, a school shop and new divisional offices on Main Street.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. A. C. Gough, W. Williamson, J. H. Lawton, H. G. Haddock, C. E. St. Denis and A. W. Leonard, Trustees; Superintendent J.

Area H & S Associations Hold District Conference

The first one-day Conference of Home and School Associations to be held in this school division offered most late which all delegates could sink their teeth. It was designed especially for the newer Associations and for those hoping to organize, and the material presented and methods of presentation will prove invaluable.

Delegates numbering 64, from Jasper, Hinton, Peers, Holborn, Evansburg, Hinton, Edmonton, Hinton-Edson, attended the conference held Nov. 17th in the auditorium of the Edson High School.

Mr. E. Lawson Allan, Regional Vice President for North Central, acted as chairman. Other officers of the Alberta Federation of Home and Schools shared with him the task of planning and presenting the program were: Mrs. E. P. Hunter, Vice President in charge of Conferences; Mrs. R. G. Powers, Year Book Chairman; Mrs. F. G. Fraser, Program Chairman.

The Rev. Mr. Buchner opened the conference with prayer, and Mayor Kankewit extended greetings from the town of Edson. Other prominent gentlemen introduced during the sessions, each of whom had some special words of encouragement to offer were:

Mr. Findlay, Superintendent of Schools, Edson Division; Mr. Walker, Supt. of Schools, Clever Bar Division; and Mr. Chiff, publisher of the Western Signal. All teachers present were introduced.

Two films were shown: "How to conduct a meeting," and one on the teacher shortage called "All God's Children." Numerous methods of preventing programs at meetings were demonstrated. Besides having a speaker or film was a quiz and question period, there was a quiz session, program panel. It was stressed throughout that the aims and objects of Home and School Association should never be lost sight of. Home and School is primarily interested in the welfare of the child, and every adult owes a responsibility to the children of his community. When adults accept this responsibility there will be a greater participation in Home and School.

At the close of the sessions Mrs. Hunter, on behalf of the Alberta Federation, presented Mrs. Pattison, President of the Edson Association, with a gavel. The coffee served by the Edson ladies before the opening session was most appreciated, as was that during the afternoon break in proceedings.

Moose Straddles Volkswagen And Winds Up Roast

A new twist to the ever increasing number of automobile accidents took place last Saturday just as dusk when a moose got into the act with a Volkswagen and came out second best.

The accident occurred three miles north of Highway 16 on the Reesor road as Mr. and Mrs. Melvyn Meints of Edmonton motored out to visit friends at Reesor.

Mr. and Mrs. Meints both saw the animal at the same time as it jumped out of the bush on the left side of the road directly in the path of their car. Mr. Meints was unable to stop the car quickly enough to prevent hitting the moose, which had a front leg broken in the midship. With the help of his friends the animal was put off its misery and dressed. Game branch officials took possession of the animal for distribution to a needy family.

Mr. Meints estimated that over $200 damage had been done to his car.

W.C. Community Assn. To Meet

A meeting of the Wolf Creek Community Association will be held at Ashcroft on Wednesday, November 22, starting at 8:30 p.m. All interested are invited to attend.

Red Cross Aids Hungarian Refugees

The Canadian Red Cross Society has called $10,000.00 in Canadian currency in International Red Cross authorities in Vienna to assist in providing emergency relief for an estimated ten to fifteen thousand Hungarian refugees who escaped into Austria prior to Soviet re-invasion. This amount is in addition to the $40,000.00 shipment of drugs and medical supplies which reached Vienna last Thursday.

The Society has been informed by its Vienna representative that over 200 tons of urgently needed medical and hospital supplies have been delivered to delegates of the International Committee of the Red Cross in Budapest and have been distributed in Hungary in accordance with traditional Red Cross policy. Delegates of the Red Cross International Committee, the neutral intermediary of the International Red Cross in time of conflict, are remaining in Hungary and it is hoped to resume their work of Red Cross aid to needy Hungarians in the next few days for Hungarian relief at any of its branches on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross Society Canadian Hungarian Relief Fund and will issue receipts which are valid for income tax purposes.

New Pumping Station Being Built In Jasper

Jasper has been chosen for the pumping station site due to the hydraulics of the pipe lines, making it an ideal spot from an engineering standpoint.

The design and management of construction is under Canadian Bechtel Limited, who built the initial pipe line and existing pumping stations of the Trans Mountain Pipe Line. The prime contractors are Burns, Dutton and Barker.

Mr. Lancaster, the area engineer for Canadian Bechtel is delighted to be in Jasper and says the Jasper business men have been most helpful, kind and friendly. He says, Jasper is wonderful.

The resident engineer, Mr. W. Hill, is assisted by an average of 60 workers, consisting of civil engineers, electrical engineers and mechanical engineers supervising construction. There are also journeymen who are skilled tradesmen.

The plant will be diesel, motor driven. A similar plant is being built at Galtfield with the only difference being that it will be electric-motor driven.

As you know, the system including the extension into Wainwright is some 750 miles in length and was originally built with a scraper trap, where water is cleaned from the line at Jasper. That location was chosen as one of the scraper trap sites as the design of the line showed that stations to be built in the future would include one located at Jasper. You have seen the construction of the temporary 'outdoor type' of station this year. This was built to boost throughput of the line until the permanent station could be erected.

The design of the permanent station has been made in close contact with the National Parks Board and is such that it will suitably blend into the Jasper locale. The mills in the station will originally consist of two (eventually four) 8 cylinder Nordberg aspirin thermal, crude oil, fuel, diesel engines, directly coupled, speed increasers driving single-stage Bingham centrifugal pumps.

The mills will operate in series. The engines will have a speed up to 360 - 514 r.p.m. and with the speed increasers, which is virtually a gear box, the speed of pumps will be some 7 times that of the engines.

The station will be self-contained in that it will have its own auxiliary, 300 KW emergency electrical generating set, together with compressors for compressed air starting of the mills and for instrument control.

The station will be automatically controlled and protected by devices which prevent over or under heating, over speeding, or a failure in any of the lubricating, cooling or feeding systems. Crude oil from the line which is used as fuel for the engines will be settled and cleaned and filtered in the station prior to its consumption as a fuel.

The company will build six additional housing units adjacent to those at present located at Jasper. These will house the additional employees required to man the station 24 hours a day, every day.

When completed the station layout including the 10,000 barrel tank and oil relief system will be built so as not to mar any of the scenic attractions of Jasper National Park. As an example the exhausts from the engines have been changed from our normal station layout to come through the roof at a point not easily seen by tourists through the park.

The station will be protected by a very complete fire fighting and alarm system. It will also be connected to our company's communication system which includes high and medium frequency radio, private telephone and private teletype lines. The color scheme will be a trans mountain green with a tangerine trim. This pumping station will be the loveliest built anywhere and is expected to be completed and operating by the 1st of June 1957, including six new housing units.

The construction of this unit will benefit the town of Jasper to a considerable extent. Approximately $75,000 a year will be spent by the 15 or more Trans Mountain families now living near the site.

Letters to Chris

Dear Chris:
There is a man in the office that is forever asking me to go out. He is married but he says that he is unhappy with his wife. Shall I give him a chance?

Dear ILV:
A chance for what? You don't believe for a minute that old worn out wife and I don't get along line do you. So, don't play with fire unless you want to get burned.

Dear Chris:
Why is it that every girl I try to date insists on taking me to her home. All I want is to date the girl but not become a member of the family. Is it so important that parents give me their approval if my intentions are not serious at all?

Dear John:
Put the blame on that honest looking face I'll bet you have. A girl cannot resist looking at you and picturing herself needing socks and keeping house.

It is not the approval of her family that she is trying to establish. Let them try. No harm in knowing lots of parents as long as your intentions are not serious, honest.

Dear Chris:
I am five foot ten inches tall and I always have trouble finding a man that will take me. A couple of weeks ago I met a nice fellow. He is not exactly an adonis and is only 5'7", but I really like him. Do you think that I can go out with him and enjoy myself in spite of our difference in height?

Dear Lena:
I definitely believe that a man and a woman, mature, intelligent and sensible enough, that like each other, can overcome any difference in height, weight or sex. If you are both congenial and you have a mutual liking for each other, please don't let something as superficial as to measure deprive you of a friendship that can mean very much to you.

Chris

ALL ABOARD...

BY G. R. MORTIMER
Marriage experts insist that the popular magazines. Their first date out from the printed page, eyes shining with honeyed wisdom, mouths set in a sad, tolerant smile, like the Mona Lisa with indication. For only 30 cents a word, they jump into the domestic life of the average couple, and refer to the dust of the sexes.
At one time marriage was governed by the amateur code, but these slick-paper sages now invite us to make a business of it.
"Both parties have to work at marriage," they declare, with the utmost certainty of the professional who knows he is right.
Carrying a string of academic degrees as long as a rolling pin and like other clerics, an air of authority, they tell us that marriage is a business of give and take, and "each partner gets out of marriage exactly what he puts in."

They give pep-talks on every topic from sex to mating. The advice may be sound. But some old-fashioned smart-aleck husbands and wives are sick of hearing it. These dishards maintain that marriage is not a commercial sport.
They don't need a learned referee in the ring with them, cautioning them to avoid hitting in the clinches and make this a good clean fight. They

EAAA Planning Sportsman's Dinner

By DICK HOLMES

Members of the Edson Athletic Association, at a general meeting in the Legion Memorial Centre, November 20th, decided to sponsor a Sportsman's Dinner.

The dinner is planned as an informative and interesting money-raising venture and proceeds will go to support Edson District Athletics.

It will be held either December 5th or 12th, depending on the availability of interesting speakers, in the Legion Centre. Only the best type of speaker will be asked to attend, and for this reason the date is, as yet, uncertain.

A committee consisting of J. Pehowich, N. Chien, R. Mahon, D. Holmes and J. Finlay were appointed to arrange the dinner and will make announcements when arrangements are complete.

The meeting also dealt with the formation of Hockey teams and

Curlers Only Waiting For 'Ice Weather'

By BOB McHERN

The Edson Curling Club is almost ready to start another season. The interior of the rink has been lightened up and after a lot of promises for white ice it has become a reality.

The club rooms, etc., have been all cleaned up under the capable hands of the new caretaker, Fred Hoop. Curlers will be happy to see the brand new heating system installed this fall. This eliminates the old coal stove and irregular heating.

The club has started to make ice. Curling is expected to start by December 1st providing the weather keeps cold enough. Maybe there will be an opening bonspiel on the weekend of December 1st. We will have to wait and see.

The ships should be getting their risks together. Anybody

Rebekah's Hold District Meeting In Edson

Jasper Rebekah Lodge No. 28 and Welcome Rebekah Lodge No. 45 from Edson, held their district meeting in the L.O.O.F. Hall on November 8 with D.D.P. Sister Dorothy Mercer presiding in the chair.

Jasper Lodge was represented by Sisters Reid and Kohar. Reports of the year activities were read by Sister Reid for the Jasper Lodge and by Sister Lillian Hinchey for the Edson Lodge.

The club has started to make ice. Curling is expected to start by December 1st providing the weather keeps cold enough. Maybe there will be an opening bonspiel on the weekend of December 1st. We will have to wait and see.

The ships should be getting their risks together. Anybody who is not on a rink may place his or her name on the list at the rink. There will be lots of ice for everybody to curl.

It would be appreciated if the ships would place their entry with Al Grant at the Photo Studio or place it on a special list posted at the curing Rink.

Former Edsonite Badly Burned In Jasper Fire

A failure occurred in a drive shaft of the temporary pumping station resulting in a fire which damaged the main engine and pump. The pumping rate of the system has been slightly reduced as a result of the damage.

operator, was taken to hospital as a result of injuries sustained during the fire but is now reported to be out of danger. The company system will continue in operation and steps will be taken to accelerate the work on the permanent station presently in the construction stage.

Fine New Anglican Church Is Dedicated

Local Anglicans are proud of their new church which was dedicated Tuesday evening by the Right Reverend Howard H. Clark, Lord Bishop of Edmonton, in a very brilliant and colorful ceremony.

The new church, though traditional in style is modern in its lines and construction. It is built of cement block and faced with brick and glass block. Within, the first impression is of spaciousness and height. Handsome roof trusses support an open roof of clear and polished fir.

In the ancient ceremony Bishop Clark opened and dedicated for the worship of God the new Parish Church.

After the choir and congregation, some 250 strong, had taken their places, a procession of the choir, the Servers, the Visiting Clergy and the Vicar of Edson entered the Church to take their places.

The Bishop then preached a sermon upon the text: "Behold upon the west door with his pastoral staff and demand entrance to the traditional and time-honored rite.

The doors being opened, the Church Warden presented the Bishop with the keys of the church while the Vicar requested him to enter and to dedicate the Church. During the singing of Psalm 122, the Bishop and clergy moved forward to the High Altar and the Bishop called for the prayers of the people for the life and work and witness of the Parish and of its worship in the Church.

While the Vestal Creator Spiritus was sung kneeling by the Clergy and people alternately, the Bishop with his staff traced the Sign of the Cross, the Alpha and Omega upon the Pavement of the Sanctuary and declared the land upon which the Church stands dedicated to the sacred worship of the Church. The Perpetual Lamp and candles were then lit and the people stood to sing a final Te Deum of thanksgiving.

The Bishop then dedicated gifts to the memory of Gilbert Cook, Alice Doherty and Margaret. Cont. on page 5

Prominent Speakers For EAA Dinner

The EAA have set Wednesday, December 13th as the date of their first Sportsman's Dinner which will be held in the Legion Memorial Centre starting at 6:30 p.m.

The idea behind dinners of this kind is to interest the community in sports of all kinds.

The Edson dinner will feature guest speakers from Edmonton who are outstanding in different sports.

The hockey big names will be A. Peller, president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, Bud Polle, coach of the Edmonton Flyers and Tony Lemwick, one of the players on the Flyers team.

It is also hoped that Al Sherer, popular sportscaster from the CFRN will be able to make the trip and the committee are also working hard to get one of the famous Edmonton Eskimos football players out. At press time there was no definite word who it might be but Vernie Kwang and Don Getty were being contacted.

The price of a ticket for the do is $5 and is actually very little after reading about the $100 ones that are being sponsored.

Council Read Power By-law First Time

Cheaper power came a step closer Monday evening with the first reading of a by-law at a special Council meeting, which would authorize the signing of an agreement with the Calgary Power Limited. After some negotiation about purchasing material involved to the Town since September to date of sale and the assurance of the company officials that all customers now on Town lines would enjoy the rates as outlined in the agreement, the Council unanimously passed the by-law for its first reading.

The agreement must now be submitted to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners in Edmonton for their approval. This Board must approve the rate structure and other details and may take as much as two weeks to return the agreement to the Council.

Details of price offered for the plant and distribution system are confidential until the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners approves the agreement. Earliest possible date for the turnover would be the January reading.

Council then appointed a returning officer and set a date for the plebiscite. Two clear weeks must be allowed during which the full agreement is published in local newspapers to allow the burgesses to become familiar with the terms and conditions of the franchise. When approved the Council give the agreement final reading and the power can be switched over immediately.

Opens Edmonton Plywood Plant

The Hon. Norman Williams, M.L.A. for Edson, officiated at the opening of the new plywood plant in Edson on November 14, Mr. Williams, who as Minister of Lands and Forests, speaks on the benefits to be derived in utilizing a wood from our forests for which previously there had been no great demand except for firewood.

Trying For Accident Free Seven Days

The mounting toll of traffic deaths has prompted the instilling of "Safe Driving Week" commencing December 1st in both Canada and the United States.

Police and safety authorities in both countries are combining in a drive to make motorists and pedestrians so safety conscious that the seven day period will be accident free.

Detained Here And Met Death In Local Slough

Mr. John Schattinkirk, 52, of Vancouver and Yorkton, Sask., left the train here at Edson last June and disappeared. Officially at the CN Depot thought it odd when his train ticket was through to Yorkton, but did not worry until his baggage was not claimed several days later.

Enquiries by local police and the RCMP brought no clues until Matt King of Edson and his dog who were out hunting on Wednesday afternoon, came upon the body in a frozen slough four miles west of town, just north of the old Grand Trunk rail bed.

Matt's dog was attracted to the scene and began sniffing around and when Mr. King went over to investigate he could see the body under the ice, where it had been hidden all summer by reeds.

Examination of the body by police and the Provincial Coroner Dr. Cantor in Edmonston showed no evidence of foul play. There was no indication that he was carrying a considerable amount of money, but was rumoured, but the body did have sufficient money to meet travelling expenses.

The only plausible theory seems to be that he became winded when he found himself in the soft underfooting in the area and collapsed before he could make it to solid ground.

Investigation last June turned up no one who had seen him after he left the station, and he appears to have wanted to walk through the area west of Edson where the former railway line was.

The deceased man had relatives at both Vancouver and Yorkton and the body has been released to them for burial.

Agriculture Service Board Proposed For This District

By Dick Becking, DA

Another step forward for district agriculture is presently being proposed. This is an Agricultural Service Board, a type of organization which has done a great deal to assist farmers in the rest of the province.

Such a Board is composed of two district farmers, two officials of the Department of Municipal Affairs, and the District Agricultural Officer. The Board hires a full time field supervisor to carry out the programs decided upon.

The Service Board which has been suggested would serve local Improvement Districts 77, 78, 79 and 100. The cost of operating it would not be large enough to mean any increase in taxes.

Such a board must be authorized by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, and so in order to give him an indication that district farmers want it, petitions are being circulated throughout the area.

Through this petition, farmers have the opportunity of helping to set up an Agricultural Service Board. This is a step which will help to supervise the soil conservation program and TB testing. Soil conservation and better farming demonstrations would be carried out. In fact, the Board could undertake any project that would be of benefit to district farmers.

New Church Dedicated

Bert Walker. There then followed a liturgical procession through the Church singing the Office Hymn of Dedication. The Bishop spoke to the people of the life and work of the High School Auditorium and of its worship as a House of Peace, a House of Love and a House of Power. The service concluded with a public profession of faith in the creed and the Nicene Creed.

The stately close-up, and in familiar ranges of color in bird, animal and flower, rival the wildlife pictures which have been produced by Walt Disney and his army of camera men. When it is considered that these films have been done all the camera work together with the editing and the necessary to obtain color and have accomplished this in their spare time, something of their industry and devotion can be realized.

Following the service a reception was held in the Parish Hall. Visiting Clergy were the Rev. A. G. Hooper of Camrose, the Rev. W. Grestes of Wetaskiwin, the Rev. L. G. Conly of Winifield, the Rev. A. Heras of Verulam, the Rev. G. W. Wilson of Edmonton and the Rev. G. A. Robinson, D.W. of Jasper, who acted as Bishop's Chaplain. Many other visitors were present from Edmonton, Fortitude, Hinton, Hargreaves, Hays, and other places.

The Sanctuary of the Church is marked out with birch walls and birch oak flooring while the floor is finished in tile. The beautiful oak altar and credence stand out most splendidly against the grey block of the wall and thus dominates the whole Church.

The organ and choir have been placed in a balcony at the west end of the Church, which in addition to improving the musical effect of the choir, also makes it possible to see the Altar from every seat in the Church. The balcony is an entry hall, a cloak room and the Chapel which is furnished with gifts from the members of the Archdiocese' Western Canada Mission who are now resident in England and who were responsible for the beginnings of Anglican work in the parish back in 1910.

Decisions of the congregation to build was taken last May and the final services were held in the old Church at the end of July. Actual construction began early in September. Bishop Clark laid the foundation on October 8th. The progress has been remarkable and much credit is due to Mr. C. Chisholm, the contractor and to the firms holding sub contracts for making it possible in such short time for the new Church to be ready for its opening.

At a recent meeting of Branch 24 of the Civil Service Association of Alberta, two long-time civil servants in the Edson area were given some measure of recognition of their services.

Recipients of Twenty Year C.S.A. of a membership pin were Mr. Donald Buck and Mr. Ed. Ford. This award denotes 20 years membership in the association, but does not take into consideration the years of service to the public which the recipients performed prior to the formation of the civil service group. The pins were shyly presented by the Branch Chairman, Fred Hatfield.

Secretary-treasurer Ken McKee reported to the members on the business carried out at the recent association convention, touching on various resolutions and discussions, and how they may affect or pertain to the local membership. A bingle followed, after which a lunch was served by the ladies.

Edson Old Timer Mrs. Mary Miluch Passes Away

One of Edson's old timers, Mrs. Mary Miluch, passed away on Sunday, November 18th at the home of her youngest daughter, Mary. The late Mrs. Miluch was 94 years of age and came to Canada from Poland in 1912, and came to Edson with her husband, the late Paul Miluch in 1913. She has been a resident of Edson since that time.

Mrs. Miluch is survived by two sons, Nick of Roseville and Adam of Edson, and three daughters, Mrs. Norman Barrett (Edna), and Mrs. Michael Harey (Mary) of Edson and Mrs. Giovanni (Anna), of Edmononton. A third son, Joseph, predeceased her five years ago. She is also survived by eleven grandchildren. She was a devout member of Sacred Heart Parish during all her life here.

Her funeral took place on Wednesday, November 22nd at 10:30 a.m. with Reverend Father Malone celebrating a Requiem High Mass. Interment was in the family plot, Glenwood Cemetery. The pallbearers were Mr. W. Antoniak, Mr. G. Letewinski, Mr. S. Duka, Mr. W. Kowalski, Mr. S. Matyachuk and Mr. H. Semeniuk.

Spiritual offerings were received from Sisters of Service, Catholic Family, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. N. Kuty; Mrs. Morris, Gervais and Fran; Mr. and Mrs. G. Vorpal; Edmononton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Merchants Consider Five Day Week At Jasper

The Jasper Park Chamber of Commerce recently elected the entire slate of Officers and Executive Board recommended by its nomination committee, led by Mr. Ernie Koehen, Chairman. Having the board is one of Jasper's popular citizens. Mr. Roland Mahr, re-elected for a second term. Mr. Wm. Rudy will continue as immediate past-president and Mr. Wm. Kronstadt as 1st Vice-president.

Other officers, newly chosen or re-elected are: Mr. Don Hayes, 2nd Vice-president, A. H. Anderson, Treasurer, Executive Board Members: E. C. Koehen, P. L. Nout, C. R. Koller, W. L. York, Phil Moore, O. C. Olson, Tom Murphy and Roy Everest. Mr. Mel Taylor, present Secretary, who has served the Chamber for a number of years efficiently and faithfully for a small remuneration, was asked to continue this vital service.

Edd Neighbour, pioneer Jasper citizen, reported on the official opening of an all-weather Yellowhead Highway portion from Jasper to the Saskatchewan boundary.

To make your round employment more attractive to personnel employed by retailers in the town of Jasper, and to partially compensate workers for a forty-eight hour week during the summer months, a five-day week with stores closing all day Monday of each week in place of the present Wednesday afternoon closing was recommended in behalf of the retail section to the Chamber.

According to a preliminary survey, the results of interviews among 30 places of business showed 80 per cent in favor of this proposal. On the basis of this survey the Chamber appointed a committee consisting of Mr. Ray O'Neil, J. Rasmussen and Mrs.

of Commerce.
Dr. T. O. Walhovd, President of Jasper Park Ski Club Ltd., reported on the new and improved road leading to Whistler Mountain Ski Hill, stating that considerable improvements were being made to the slope in keeping with the Club's plans to expand and improve the present lift as well as skiing conditions in general in that area.

In addition to this work a new area near the ski lift has been prepared this year for rope tow. The holding of inter-collegiate H.S. School Ski Meet in Jasper this winter already shows an entry of two teams from distant points. Dr. Walhovd mentioned among the highlights of winter developments.

A far-reaching resolution from the local Liberal Association was read for the information of Chamber members. The resolution concerns itself with endeavors being made for the improvement in conditions for all residents of the National Parks as being also citizens of Canada, and covers many points previously raised by the Chamber. This resolution received wholehearted support from the floor and was fully endorsed by the Jasper Chamber.

Old Timer Dies At Entrance

James Dickinson, 78, passed away on the 15th of November. He was prepared for interment in Edson then brought to Jasper for burial.

A veteran of the First World War, Mr. Dickinson was well known in this district. He spent many years here serving as a trail cook for Curly Phillips, Wilkins and Neighbour.

Father Robinson officiated at the Legion funeral and interment was made in the Jasper Cemetery.

It's that new V8 in the '57 Chevrolet.

It's as quiet as a contented cat and as smooth as cream ... and it's cat-quick in response when you call for action!

No household tabby sitting in a sunny window ever purrered more softly than Chevy's new V8 engine. It's so kitten-quiet and cream-smooth that you can scarcely even tell when it's idling.

But when you nudge the accelerator, you know it's there, all right! It pours out the kind of velvety action that helps you be a surer, safer driver. Its right-now response keeps you out of highway emergencies. It overpowers steep hills with such ease they seem like level landscape.

This new Chevrolet V8 is available in a wide selection of high-compression horsepower ranging up to 245! With 243 cubic inches of displacement, this beautifully designed V8 is a new, bigger and better edition of the engines that have put Chevrolet at the top of the performance ladder. It's savvy, sure—but as tame to your loach as a purring pussycat.

Come try the smoothest V8 you ever put a toe to, and all the good things that go with it. Like new Turbohide—the first and only triple-tubing automatic drive train extra-cost option. And Chevy's own special sweet and solid way of pouncing.

8-7151 V8 series in 16 additional versions and 1000 cubic inch engines with up to 303 h.p.

THROUGH THE

Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

The sacrament of infant baptism will be observed at the morning service in Edson United Church on December 2nd. In this act children of believing parents are welcomed into the family and household of God. It is the first step on the spiritual trail that should lead, eventually, to confirmation.

In the slow and painful process of growing up, most of us have learned an old jingle that declares "icks and icks will break my bones, but names will never hurt me." But we have learned that in spite of this brave little ditty, that name-calling does hurt. Baptism is name-giving, but vilification is name-calling.

Recently one of the members of Parliament made a bitter personal attack on the prime minister as one "so smug, so full of self righteousness, so hypocritical." It was biting below the belt, and the P.M. was naturally angered. After all, the issue being debated was not his personal character but the rights and privileges of small nations as they are related to the rights and duties of large nations.

Democracy is far from being perfect, even though in all likelihood most of the people in parliament have been baptized, and even though most members have some church affiliation. The necessity of the sacraments of the church are no more guarantee of perfection than the presence of soap and water is the assurance of a clean face.

In the churches, on Parliament Hill, one can find, if you are looking for those things, abundant evidence of human imperfection. But so far as I understand the Christian Gospel it is not one of the glorification of humanity. At Christmas we sing about "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, goodwill towards men."

But we are not likely to have peace on earth until we recognize it is not man that climbs up to God, but God humbles himself to share our earthly life.

This Sunday is to be a Sunday of new beginnings. It is the beginning of the new Church Year with its four weeks of Advent to prepare heart, soul and mind for the coming (or Advent) of Christ at Christmas and for His final coming. We will celebrate it in our beautiful newly dedicated Church marking our beginnings of worship there.

The public administration of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism will take place at the 10:30 a.m. service when by baptism is marked the death to self and the new birth in Christ. Thus it will be — a New Year — a New Church — and most important of all — New Lives.

When you commit a social blunder, there is usually a kind soul in the room who comforts you by recalling the time he did something far worse.

If you knock over a cup, it gets him in mind of the day he smashed a Ming vase. If you burn a hole in a chair, he tells you how he fell asleep smoking a cigar on a friend's Chesterfield, and burnt the house down.

Some hosts are so tolerant and self-deprecating that one feels they would pardon any faux pas, and the faults of their own to overlooking it.

There are important objectives you look for in your life, and no doubt, want for your son. Education, special training, good earnings, and sound career prospects are part of a good life. Completeness, travel and self-reliance fill out a man's life. Today these splendid objectives are possible for your son through the Canadian Army.

You owe it to yourself, and your son, to find out what the Canadian Army has to offer, either as a lifelong career or as a three-year period of education and development. No matter what the future may hold for your son he will find that his Army service is a great advantage. Write today, without obligation.

They made a large bowl of thick vegetable soup. On the way to the table one of the boys dropped the soup. It sloshed all over the floor. The children were horrified. They had been taught not to waste anything. But the stuff had to be cleaned up.

"Then one of them had an idea: persuade the chickens to eat the waste. At least it wouldn't be wasted. It could be done."

The children laid a trail of wheat from the chicken yard, all through the house to the spot where the soup was. All the children hid behind chairs and sofas, and sure enough, the hens came pecking along the trail. Pretty soon they reached the soup and began gobbling it up.

The children were so pleased that they came out for a closer look. Whoo! The hens took flight. They began squeaking and flying in all directions.

When the last chicken had found its way outside, the house was a shambles of feathers, soap and overturned chairs. I didn't find out until a year afterwards, because the kids cleaned up the mess by themselves. They were good youngsters," my friend said.

By this time I had finished picking up the peanuts, and sat back in the chair, munching none.

"I bet that taught them to be more careful," I said smugly.

Ski Breeze

By CHUCK MAPLE

How to pick out a new pair of skis. Well, these days there are many good skis on the market. One should buy good quality, as good quality is cheaper in the long run. Quality in a ski starts with laminated construction, this means that the ski is made up of many selected strips of different woods to give the ski life and strength as well as a ski that will not warp as easily as one piece skis.

The most commonly used woods are straight grained birch, spruce, fir and beech. To the ski maker, the grain of the wood is as important as the grain of the steel.

laminated ski, we add a plastic or similar running surface. Also plastic top edges and in some cases plastic top surface so that the entire ski is plastic covered and needs no maintenance as the skis of yesterday that had to be frequently and often from time to time.

The ski I have just described are in all cases fitted with the best quality steel edges, off set a little so they can be sharpened when icy conditions prevail at the ski hill.

Now we have the so-called metal skis. The racing is now on in the manufacturing of these times an American manufacturer has been very successful in making the metal ski and selling same, even talking the popularity of the ski to the European countries who have long been the leaders in ski manufacturing.

The best metal skis have a wood core surrounded in plastic materials and aluminum alloys. These skis are usually supplied with built-in one piece spring steel edges.

Of course skis come in many sizes and shapes. There are skis for slalom, downhill, a combination ski that can be used for both, a cross country ski and a jumping ski.

To begin with, I'll explain side-camber since this is mostly what divides the skis into different categories. The curve on either side of the ski that makes the side of the ski binding which is also narrower than the heel, is called the side camber.

The slalom ski has the greatest side camber. Using the generally accepted rule of choosing the right length of ski by reaching up with one arm the proper length of ski will measure from the floor to the palm of the hand. The skier will choose a slalom ski which is about one also shorter.

The downhill ski is wider than the slalom or combination made ski and has the least camber. This ski is to be chosen a size or two longer than the rule.

The combination model of ski is the most popular with all skiers and is a happy medium in the two extremes of side camber. I have just explained. To choose the right length I would suggest using the rule I first mentioned.

The cross country ski is very light, very narrow, has no steel edges, and a little side camber and the rule is followed in choosing size.

The jumping ski is the longest and widest of all and has just a little side camber. This ski is also balanced so the skier suspend horizontally when the jumper is in the air. The length of this ski is generally much longer than any other ski, since the jumper travels a straight course and does not turn except to stop after he has sloped down at the bottom of the hill. This ski has no steel edges and usually three or more parallel grooves in the running surface.

Incidentally, a few manufacturers have been experimenting with micro grooves about an eighth of an inch apart on the entire width of the ski. This feature is said to steady the ski at high speeds on steep traverses as there are more grooves in the snow helping to make the ski follow a steady course. Whereas the micro grooves in the centre of the ski would be completely out of the snow on a hard packed steep traverse.

Now to get back to the different cambers, lengths and widths of skis. The ski with more side camber will turn sharply in the snow. The ski with very little side camber will run faster over the snow and will make a more gradual turn. The shorter ski is more easily guided through the tricky slalom gates. The longer ski is sturdier at high speeds where turns are only gradual. From this explanation you can see why the different cambers and lengths in skis are important.

In a cross country ski the light weight is essential to one who will travel over long distances on more or less flat terrain. In jumping, the long heavy multi-grooved ski is steady for the light through the air and the landing.

More next week on skis and equipment.

the Snapshot Guild

This room, featuring informal family portraits on the wall, was decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, an internationally-known decorator.

Take Your Family Portraits Out of Hiding

Every family has a certain number of professionally-made portraits, commemorating the important events in the lives of the various members. There certainly are baby pictures, graduation photos, wedding and anniversary portraits.

It is used to be that these pictures, in cardboard folders or easel-type frames, graced the top of the upright piano. Then this style, at least as far as the easel-type decorations were concerned, and the portraits went into hiding in drawers and boxes.

Today, however, the decorators have found ways to put these cherished portraits on exhibit again—and not as an extra. These days they play an important part in the decorative scheme.

Large portraits are often used singly or in pairs. Smaller ones go into interesting little frames to form unusual groupings that are bound to be a conversation piece. Frames are available in so many different styles that it isn't difficult to find a color and design that is complimentary to the decorative scheme of any room in the house—and that includes the breakfast nook which is a good place for less informal portraits or enlargements of some of your own family snapshots.

The picture we've chosen to illustrate this column shows an interesting use of family pictures in a room decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, National Chairman of the Board, the American Institute of Decorators. Mr. Stephenson points out that use of portraits is an ideal way to add warmth and a lived-in feeling to the new home decoration a personal touch that no one else can duplicate.

Modern decorations, offering full color and a broad range of tonal values, have made today's portraits a very definite asset in decoration. Keep this in mind the next time one of the family has a portrait made and you won't have any trouble deciding what you want to do with it.

Long Time District Resident Passes Away

Mr. Thomas John Forsythe, a long time resident of Peers and other district points passed away on November 14 at the age of 76 years.

Mr. Forsythe was born in Winston, Ontario, on May 21, 1880. He came west to Manitoba in 1893 and farther west to Poncha, B. C. in 1900 where he was on a survey crew. He was on this survey crew at the time of the tragic Frank slide and was among those sent to Frank to assist in rescue operations.

He came to northern Alberta in 1905 and worked on survey crews in the Peace River area, before taking a homestead at Wolf Creek in 1911. He was employed on the C.N.R. at Edson for a short period then moved back to Poncha, B.C. where he worked for Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. from 1928 to 1933.

Following this he returned to Wolf Creek then went to Calgary in where he worked until his retirement, when he took up residence in Peers to be near two members of his family, Mrs. James Rush and Mrs. Bert Hatcliffe.

He leaves to mourn his passing besides the two daughters mentioned above, one other daughter, Mrs. John Anderson of Craubury Lake, B.C., two sons, Andy of Edmonton and Harold of Cadomin; and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Moore and Mrs. Anne Moore of Hinton, Ontario.

Floral tributes to Mr. Forsythe were carried in last week's issue of The Leader, from which the following was inadvertently omitted: Charlie Cameron and Pam By, New Westminster, B.C.

New Exec Lead Nearly 450 See Display Of School Work

The second meeting of the year of the Niton Central H.S. Association was held on Friday, November 16 with the new executive in their office. President, Mr. D. Kunderb, Vice-president, Mr. T. Silk, Secretary, Mrs. G. Hall, Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. Kunderb, Membership Secretary, Mrs. Hazzard, Social Secretary, Miss Hazzard, and Hospitality Convener, Miss Gable.

The first and greater part of the evening was taken up with the election of a local school board, with Mr. Hazzard, Secretary of the Edson School Division on hand to give us a little aid. Those elected were: Mr. Steinboer for the Carrol Creek district, Mr. King for Foley, Timber and Niton, Mr. O. Hewins for Mackay, Log Cabin and Leaman, Mr. Tom Silk for Sports and Kishibach and Mr. Bob Christensen for Beaver Meadow and Windfall.

Mr. Kendrick, the Principal gave a talk on the care of the school property and announced that school would begin at 9:30 starting Monday, November 19. Four of the members and four of the students of the school, coming before a film on Saturday, November 17.

It was decided after the meeting that the meeting of the Niton Central H.S. Association would be changed to Friday of each month, beginning on December 7th.

Edson Business Changes Hands

One of Edson's busy young business changed hands recently when Dan Babyn took over Alf's Smoke Shop in the Dutch Mill Building. The business was started by Alf Stanton less than two years ago.

That is that pleasant looking young fellow who has been employed for the past three years as teller in the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. He likes Edson and decided that he would like to be a part of the future growth of our town so now has a business of his own.

His shop will carry the same line of "smokes, magazines, confectioneries and novelties that it became known for under Alf's management.

Local Scouts Showing Film On Jamboree

On Tuesday, December 4th, a film covering activities of the World Scout Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ontario, in 1955, will be shown in the High School Building. The business was started by Alf Stanton less than two years ago.

The district commissioner for Alberta, Mr. H. Holloway has agreed to accompany the film and will be giving a short talk on Scouting for boys and on the various activities connected with the Boy Scouts Association.

Letter to Chris

Dear Chris:

There are not many boys in this town and my girl friend seems to get them all. She dates almost everybody and is very popular. She always wants to date the boys that take me out and besides I can only go out on Fridays and Saturdays so most of the time I stay at home. All the boys that have gone with her say that I am a prize but I don't want to spend every Friday and Saturday at home. What can I do to be popular? Pat

Dear Pat:

A young girl that is popular with boys because of her looks and behavior is more to be pitied than envied. Your reputation and what people think of you are more important than going out every Friday and Saturday. You are perhaps too young to realize that some day you will have a boy that will want to take you out all the time and he will respect you and be proud of you and you will love him.

Your girl friend will continue to have lots of dates but never a steady boy friend. You and she are quite different so why keep the friendship. Better find another girl friend more like you and I am sure you will have no problems. Chris

Dear Chris:

Glen and I have been going steady for quite some time. He is a good guy but lately he has been doing an awful lot of drinking. I live with my married sister and they don't approve of drinking. They have been quite upset when Glen has come over with one too many. Besides he is quite different when he is in trouble. Yet, I care a lot for him. Can you help me?

Dear Betty:

I don't know if I could help Glen, but I can suggest something that might help you. It requires a tremendous will power but the trouble is worth it either way.

You must find out whether Glen prefers you or the bottle and there is no other way but to tell him that you will not see him again if he does not stop drinking. If he manages to stay sober when taking you out then you know you can help him overcome the habit. But if he does not, my advice to you is to try and find a more suitable companion. Chris

Fire Razes Hinton Cafe ... Stores Endangered

HINTON—

Fire of undetermined origin which broke out in the New Hinton Cafe last Friday afternoon, completely demolished the one story frame structure within an hour.

Volunteer firefighters formed a bucket brigade to protect the surrounding buildings, but were unable to cope with the blaze in the cafe.

According to the owners, the fire broke out beneath the kitchen floor. It was only a matter of seconds from the time the smoke was noticed until the entire kitchen was a blazing inferno.

The fire broke out at approximately 1:45, shortly after the noon meal-time rush hour, and there were only four or five people in the restaurant at the time. All persons fled the building when the kitchen burst into flames, the proprietor not having enough time to take clothing, as count books or cash register with them.

RCMP were called to take charge of the area surrounding the fire and to hold back the crowds of people who came to watch the burning buildings. Water trucks belonging to Mr. Thomas and Mr. Tupper were rushed to the scene and a volunteer bucket brigade fought to save the Hinton Handcraft shop which was immediately adjacent to the Cafe, and the Post Hall located across the street.

Strong south westerly winds helped direct the flames away from the buildings to the west.

of the cafe but showered the flying embers and sparks on the pool hall across the street and Ford Bakery located farther east along the north side of the street.

Fortunately several buildings to the east of the cafe had been moved earlier this week thus leaving a gap of several hundred yards between the cafe and other stores to the east.

A bulldozer was brought in to help in the fight. It was feared that when the building collapsed it would fall on the Hinton Handcraft store which was located fifteen feet west of the cafe.

The bulldozer attempted to push the burning building over, but the heat was so intense that the machine was forced to back away.

Shortly after 2:15 p.m., when the fire reached its peak of intensity, the cafe propane tank broke into flame. Located a considerable distance to the east of the building, the tank was heated to a point where the valve on top blew open and the gas leaked out broke into flames in which shot 30 to 40 feet in the air. The accompanying shrill noise of the escaping gas, sounding much like the scream of a jet engine, sent the surrounding crowd scurrying for cover.

Gas in the large 1000 gallon propane tank continued to burn for the remainder of the afternoon and well into the night. Two men were hired to keep watch on the propane tank and the charred remains of the cafe building in case the fire should break out anew.

All partners in the cafe, with the exception of Dick Bling, were present when the fire broke out. They estimate the damage to be in excess of $12000. The building was fully covered with insurance.

We Laughed At These

Three fellows were rebuking themselves in a hotel lounge room. They had guzzled a couple of rounds and were waiting for the third tiler who hadn't bought a round to order up. Instead of ordering, he got up from the table saying: "Gents no, I only got the children's allowance check."

The other two watched him in stony silence, then one said: "Dat cheap guy, I know him plenty. Live next to me." He thought a moment, then continued, "Why he wouldn't even get dat damn children's allowance if it wasn't for me?"

The Voice of Edson Community

Vol. 4 Edson, Alberta, Thursday, December 6, 1966 No. 28

Glenwood To Get Better Fire Protection

Edson Volunteer Fire Department will no longer be called upon to provide fire protection for fringe areas around the town according to a letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs received by the Town and read at the regular meeting of the Council on Tuesday.

In the past the Edson brigade has responded to fire calls, especially from the Glenwood community, but now the Department are planning to provide fire fighting facilities at convenient locations.

There has been some reluctance on the Department's part in reimbursing the Town for out-of-pocket expenses in connection with these neighboring tragedies, but Edson has always thought the neighboring thing should be done in any event.

Present for the Tuesday meeting: Mayor Kankewill, Councilors Korman, MacDonald, Meade, Niemo, Tucker and Wells. Minutes of the last meeting of November 20th and the continued on page 13

B of T Ask Special Xmas Shopping Hours

At its executive meeting this week the Board of Trade agreed on the following hours for the holiday period ahead:

Open all day Wednesday, December 19, until 6:30.

Open until 8:00 Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 20, 21 and 22.

Open until six Monday December 24.

Closed Christmas and Boxing days December 25 and 26.

Closed New Year's day, January 1, and January 2.

Board Approves Power Agreement

The agreement between the Town of Edson and the Calgary Power Ltd. was returned approved by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners this week and the Council must now set a date for the plebiscite of selling the municipal power plant and the distribution system to the power company.

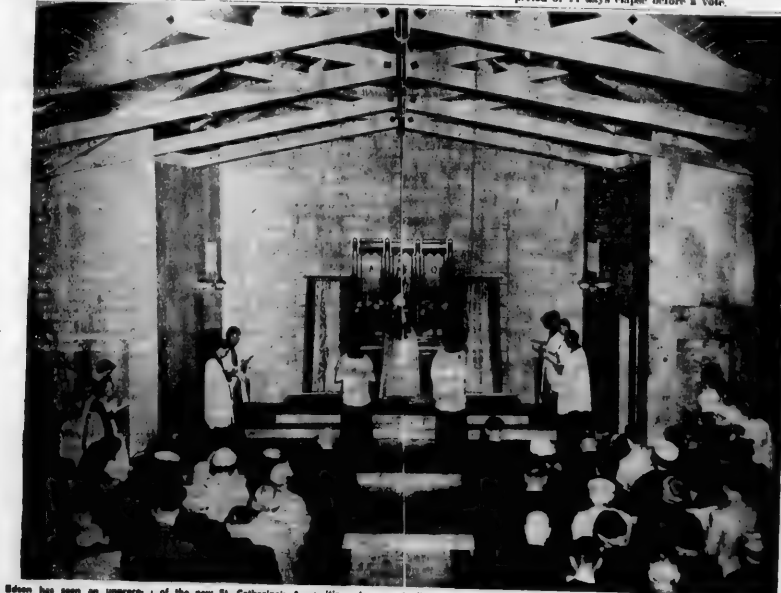

After several months of negotiation with the company the original offer of $255,000 was raised to a figure of $305,000, as each offer in between was turned down by the Council as not being adequate under the circumstances.

In addition to this $305,000 lump payment, Calgary Power have agreed to take all stores involved to the Town electric light department since September of this year, including nearly a carload of poles.

With this amount Edson will, for the first time, be for all practical purposes, a debt-free municipality and it is estimated that the saving in debt service payment and interest will make it possible for Council to give rate raises or better municipal services without an increase in the mill rate.

According to the terms of the agreement Calgary Power's pretty well standard rates will come into effect which range from $2.60 minimum (less 30c discount) for the first 20 kilowatt hours and drops to 2c per KWHr. thereafter for domestic household electricity, to as low as 1 2/3 cents per KWHr. for power consumers over 100 KWHr.

Earliest possible date for the plebiscite appears to be about mid January as the agreement must be published in local newspapers and a minimum waiting period of 14 days elapse before a vote.

Edson has seen an unprecedented effort by church builders over the past several years, but for the first time we think we have captured the solemnity, the spectacle and the devout pride that the dedication of a new church inspires.

This shot from the choir loft of the new St. Catherine's Anglican Church gives a good idea of the inside of the church with its handsome roof trusses supporting the open ceiling of clear and polished fir.

Approximately 250 parishioners and visitors attended the service and the reception in the Parish Hall following the service Tuesday, November 22.

Virtual completion of the Anglican Church brings to three the new churches built in town within the last four years. First the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church and Rectory, then the United Church and next year the congregation of the Christian Reformed Church have to complete their new church. Besides these three new churches, is the rebuilt house of worship of the Greek Catholic congregation, who purchased the old United Church building and moved it to their new property on 48th street.

Former Coal Branchers Wed

A quiet wedding of interest to Edson and the Coal Branch took place in Crescent Heights United Church in Calgary, on November 17, when Miss Helen Shearer became the bride of Mr. Lucio Pechinatti.
For her wedding the bride chose a mature ballerina length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Attending the couple were Miss Josephine Ferguson, cousin of the bride, and Alvin Chieu.
The groom is employed in Hinton district where the couple will make their home as soon as housing is available.

Forestry Meeting Attended By N.W.P.P Employees

Eight members of the North Western Pulp & Paper Co. staff journeyed to Edmonton last week to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Rocky Mountain section of the Canadian Institute of Forestry.
R. E. Hamilton, Director of Forestry for the Alberta Government and Stan Hughes, Assistant District Officer for the Eastern Rockies Administrative District, were the guest speakers at the meeting held in the King Edward Hotel.

Among the items discussed at the meeting were the widespread forest fires which occurred last summer. Some criticism was leveled at the lack of publicity given concerning the danger of forest fires.
Those from Hinton who attended the meeting were Stan Hart, Jack Jenson, Arnold Hanson, James Clarke, Dexter Champion, Ken Williams, Guy Desnoy and Ken Casey.

Three Accidents First Day Start Safety Week

Three district accidents got off to a good start the first of the seven day continental wide accident prevention drive.
It is hoped to make the public safety conscious that they will drive and walk as they would have others drive and walk.
The severe below zero cold snap hasn't helped the district record a bit, but it is just for this reason that the safe driving campaign is being intensified.

Name 'New Hinton' Chosen At Incorporation Meeting

New Hinton was recorded as unanimous choice of the Athabasca Valley Development Corporation town site residents, as the name for their village when it becomes incorporated. This was one of the main decisions reached at a public meeting held in the Canada Caters building on Thursday, November 22.

The meeting was the second to be called in order to discuss incorporation of the A.V.D.C. townsite. The meeting held a week previous outlined the steps necessary for incorporation and the meeting on November 22 was designed to bring to a close the discussions.
Eric Potter, co-ordinator for the development company, called the meeting to order and reported that he had received a letter from the Geographic Board stating that it would like to have the name of the new village as soon as possible.
In answering questions from the floor Mr. Potter stated that the development company had undertaken to develop an area that would contain up to 7,000 people. He stated that 10 per cent of this area would revert to the town for its use when incorporation took place.
It was pointed out by the chairman that in connection with the naming of the village, consideration should be given to correspondence from the Government stating that a post office would be located in the townsite within the next two years and that the postal authorities were not in favor of a combination of names which included Hinton in the village name.

The suggestion that the townsite of the A.V.D.C. and the townsite now known as the New Town of Hinton, amalgamate and incorporate as one town, drew considerable expression of opinion from the audience. It was decided to nominate a committee to investigate the pros and cons of incorporation. A committee composed of Bob Welsh, Ian Munst, and John Serapio was selected to look into the matter and report back to the incorporation meeting to be held on December 6.
D. Crandall, who acted as spokesman for the names committee, presented a report on the selection of three names which had been added to the original three names suggested at the first meeting. His group felt the selection of a name was a matter of great concern to the community and had sent letters to many residents as possible outlining the various names and asking them to make their decision at the meeting.
Following Mr. Crandall's report, A. C. McFory was nominated as chairman for the remainder of the meeting.
The boundaries committee reported that they felt that the area to be incorporated by the new village should comprise a much greater area than is presently called for by the Athabasca Valley Development Corporation plans.

They placed a recommendation that the townsite boundaries should extend one half mile south of Highway 16, north to the river, west to the boundaries of the New Town of Hinton, and one mile east of the present townsite boundaries. A further recommendation from the audience that the pulp mill property be included within the village limits was accepted.
The selection of a name for the village caused spirited discussion and following this a vote was taken to indicate the preference of the group. The choice was New Hinton, North Hinton and East Hinton.

Edson Library Keeping Up With The Joneses

It was interesting to read the list of books chosen by the reviewer in the Star Weekly as those which top the best selling of the Owen River country in Manitoba. The hardships experienced by the pioneers is clearly told and the principal character is well drawn. Her mental struggle against the ever present trees forms the pattern for the story and woven into it are other varied groups of characters. In contrast to the hardships portrayed in Pine Roots is Kate Aikens tale of a childhood in Ontario — full of fun and happiness. Very light reading, but undoubtedly to be enjoyed by those who remember similar childhood episodes in Mrs. A's "Never A Day So Bright." It will be on the shelves early in December.

"Don't Go Near The Water" by Brinkley gets high rating in the humor class, and for those who like hours of solid reading.

Hinton School Students Move To New Classrooms

Hinton students at the Mill school classrooms. Moving of desks and furniture was completed over the weekend and by Monday morning the children were attending classes in the new school located in the Athabasca Valley development town site.

Modern in every aspect, the new school, provides accommodation for 260 students. The overflow of 50 students is being taken care of by the use of basements in nearby unoccupied houses of the Athabasca townsite. The development corporation has provided light, and water services in these houses.

Students from grades three to 11 are now in the new school and upon completion of the new four room wing and auditorium, the grades 5, 6 and 7 that are now in the basement classrooms, will be moved into the new school and integrated with the other classes.

Facing of mottled brick on both ends of the building, several black structures, and wide expanses of glass, brick, give the school an extremely modernistic appearance.

In the classrooms, the cement blocks have been used to avoid decorative advantage. It forms the separation between each classroom and pastel tones of brown and green enhance its rough surface.

Classrooms have green blackboards on three walls and the fourth wall is composed of radiating glass block extending from there to the ceiling.

In addition to the classrooms, space has been provided for a principal's office, supply room and toilet rooms, janitor's room and boiler room.

Features include banks of fluorescent tubing for shadowless lighting, air conditioning units, forced air outlets which also take care of air conditioning.

Manoeuvring on the new four room building has been completed and it is expected that this part of the building, along with the auditorium will be completed by February 1.

The school is in dire need of the completion of these rooms as rapidly increasing school population is likely to continue on the incline. This increase is due both to the number of new families arriving daily but also to arrangements presently being made to transport children from both camps in unorganized territory to the Hinton schools.

An extra bus will be put into operation on Monday to carry children to and from both of the schools. This brings the total number of school buses to three.

Trionon Ballroom Opening Dance Well Attended

Hinton—
Plywood floor, improved benches, not stop the people of Hinton from enjoying the first dance to be held in the Trionon Ballroom. Dances were held last Friday and Saturday in the new dance hall which is being erected by E. P. Dubois of Regina, Saskatchewan.

Music for the opening dance was provided by the Harmony Kids, Edmonton radio and TV entertainment stars.

Workers have been busy putting the finishing touches on the interior this week and by Friday the building was ready for the dances, natural gas heating and accurate tile ceiling will be in place.

The dance hall, measuring 80 feet by 110 feet is located next door to the Hinton Theatre. When completed it will have a lobby, lunch counter, check room and rest rooms on the ground floor. The second floor will be used for office space. The dance floor is 50 feet x 80 feet and is large enough to accommodate 500 people.

According to Mr. Dubois he will be bringing an outside orchestra for one dance a week while the other night will have music provided by a local group. It is also possible that during the summer months three dances will be held each week.

Mr. Dubois, who is arriving from Saskatchewan this week, and Mr. Dubois, will live in a trailer at the rear of the hall until housing accommodations can be secured.

Pulp Company Providing Housing For New Workers

Another new housing area has sprung up over night in Hinton providing homes for 44 families during the past two weeks. A total of 87 families will be living in the area by January 15 and eventually it may accommodate up to 110 homes.

The new site is the trailer camp that has been provided as temporary housing accommodation for the new pulp mill workers, scheduled to start arriving enmasse by late December.

Located west of the pulp mill in the area nicknamed Dogpatch the trailer camp will look after the overflow of workers that cannot be housed in homes or apartments.

The trailer site has been prepared with all the conveniences of light, water and power, and is situated in an area that has a magnificent view of the mountains.

Each of the 35 foot long trailers are located along streets which have been divided into 30 foot wide lots. Elmer Sander, representative for the United Trailer Co., is in charge of servicing and locating and for the past two weeks has been very busy placing the trailers which have been arriving at the rate of from four to six per day.

All the trailers are identical, and are being brought by tow trucks from Cassopolis, Michigan. The trip, a distance of 2009 miles, takes from seven to eight days.

The Pulp Mill company has purchased all of the trailers prepared the lot and has set up a housing committee to make arrangements for the incoming workers and establish rental agreements with the new residents.

As the trailers arrive, they are placed over water and sewer outlets. The connections to the trailer are made and the pipes are wound with special soil heating electric wires which keep the water from freezing. Porches measuring five feet by six feet are being built on the outside of each unit to provide extra storage space and protected entrances during the winter months.

Each trailer is equipped with complete household furnishings such as propane stoves, electric fridges, air conditioning units, dining tables, and hot and cold running water in both the kitchen and bathroom.

Another convenience of the trailer site is a special laundry house which is equipped with four manual washers and four automatic dryers. The Trailer Co., which will be in charge of the project for the next 18 months, has erected a service warehouse for the maintenance of the trail-

Power is supplied to the camp from the main generators at the pulp mill. Separate lines have been laid from the trailer site to all water supply system and another line for the sewage to the pulp mill outlet.

Short Circuit Causes Fire At Light Plant

The alertness of the night watchmen at Hinton Motors saved Hinton from being plunged into darkness early Sunday morning. A fire which started in the main switchboard of the Calgary Power generating plant was extinguished by the watchman and Ray Fuller. The interruption in power was only momentary before the second

Mr. Fuller who operated the generating plant until it was taken over by Calgary Power, finds that his years of experience in running the plant are now proving very useful.

Without an instrument panel to guide him in setting the speed of the electrical generators, he has to gauge the speed of the motors by ear. Hinton residents can only hope that Ray's musical motor-ear remains true until the new board is installed.

First Hi School Ski Meet

Jasper will be the scene of the first High School Ski Meet to be held in Western Canada. The meet, to take place on February 23 and 24, will feature teams from Alberta, British Columbia and is expected to become an annual affair.

Invitations have been sent out by the Jasper Ski Club to high schools in Edmonton, Calgary, Banff, Invermere, Kamloops, and Revelstoke. Each team is allowed to enter eight students and it is hoped that the competition will be six full teams.

Chas Sparks Wins Elk Coo

Charlie Sparks was the winner of the first co-operative Christmas Coo for Kiddlees, at the dance in the Memorial Centre last night.

A travelling case was won by Mr. Sparks of Edmonton. The Elks are co-operating both schools in putting free shoe and treats on the deck of theatre.

Financial backing for the event has been provided by the Provincial Government. This assistance will be directed towards buying transportation and lodging for the contestants of the various clubs. The publicity service of the Government has also been directed to help promote the event.

Corresponding to the Banff College Ski Meet the Provincial championships that will be the crown jewel of the season, downhill and jump contests.

Mr. Ed. Hill was in charge of the successful fund raising project.

Some of the mines on the Coal Branch may be closing down as Mountain Park (above) did but that certainly isn't true of Marceol or Pothills mines operated by Canadian Collieries (Consolidated) Ltd. Latest evidence of planning for the future is the opening this week of a fine new modern 34 by 68 restaurant costing $30,000 at Marceol. Owned by the mining company, the new cafe is located on the site of the former Marceol Hotel which was destroyed by fire a couple of years ago. Marceol Legion have also been planning for the future and have undertaken an extensive renovation and modernization activity to accommodate their membership on the Coal Branch. Field Construction of Edson have had the contract for both jobs.

Post Oil Drama Plays Out At Carrot Creek

"He was driving away at sixty, seventy miles an hour . . . it was broad daylight now, Seattle was but twenty minutes ahead at Chip Lake. Between Carrot Creek and Edson, where there was a forestry radio station, was a stretch of lonely, straight road, and Archie pressed the gas pedal against the floor boards . . ."

"Ahead of them a car came into view. They overtook it rapidly. 'It's them,' said Lumpy excitedly."

"Lumpy," Archie directed, "drive into town and telephone Rutherford that Moffit and Leary are back. Detained illegally, but nevertheless detained . . ."

"Archie stood a pace. 'Would either of you gentlemen,' he asked, 'care to tell me which one of you killed J. A. Baldwin . . .'

Sergeant Van Pelt of the RCMP emerged from there . . . two hadn't heard about it . . . and frankly neither had we until we were looking at the newspaper. This was the evening Post this week and came across this thriller about the oil kidnappers that are going on in Britain right on our doorstep."

The story "The Secret of Shining River" has been running serially in the Post for several weeks and we read the initial chapter or two and made the shrewd guess that "Shining River" was obviously Drayton Valley and "Violet Rush" obviously Violet Grove. Then the RCMP detachment at Riverview were wrong into the story which played to its dramatic conclusion on the lonely stretch between Chip Lake and Carrot Creek.

Butch Will Be Home For Christmas

Christmas is going to be an especially happy time for the Forry Mockler family this year for it will mean that Johnny and Butch as he is better known, will be home from hospital for a few days.

Butch was injured in a shooting accident last October and since then has been in the University Hospital in Edmonton. He is coming along fine and is happily employed these days making Christmas gifts for the great day coming.

He graduated from bed to a wheel chair the first of this week and will likely have to spend the most of his three days at home in bed, he had or not everyone knows that home is the only place to be at Christmas.

Retail Stores Open Longer

For the Christmas rush retail stores will be open Wednesday, Dec. 20, until six, and open until nine Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Monday, Dec. 24 they will be open until six, but will be closed all day both Wednesday, Dec. 24 and Wednesday, Jan. 2.

Theatres Combine With Elks For Kiddies Treats

The Edson Theatre and the Edson Elks are co-operating to provide a Christmas treat for the kiddies, on Friday, December 21st.

The Edson Theatre will play host to pre-school children accompanied by their mothers, and also 100 grade one students. This will be a cartoon show, which will start at 2:00 p.m., and be about one hour in length.

The Elks Theatre will be entertaining over 200 students of grades two to six, with their showing time set for 1:15 p.m.

The Edson Elks, who have been working hard to raise funds for the occasion, will provide a grand candy treat for all the youngsters at the theatre, with the meal estimated at 1000 bags.

The Elks are also completing arrangements for Santa Claus to visit with the kiddies of the theatre.

Special Hours For Post Office

The Post Office will be open until six Wednesday, Dec. 20 to accommodate the Christmas rush.

Monday, Dec. 24 and Tuesday, Dec. 25 the office will be open from 8:30 until 11:30. The last day will be open until 5:00 p.m. on these days.

The office will be closed both Christmas and New Year's day.

We Need The Taxes

AN EDITORIAL

The delegation from Hinton which attended the School Division board meeting held at Edson this week points up a situation the provincial government may or may not have in mind when they put up trial balloons about throwing the assessment of large industrial establishments into a common pot for the purpose of distributing the normal property tax from them over the whole province.

The delegation from Hinton were meeting with the Board and requesting more facilities for the new towns there over and above the new school which is being completed this year. The requests from the Hinton people were understandable enough when looked at from the point of view of the Hinton residents.

However, there has as yet been no tax revenue from the new development at Hinton (the old-time residents have been paying of course) and the expenses from the school building activity there have been met from the assessment in the rest of the school division and provincial government grants.

Largely because of this development the divisional board are facing a considerable deficit in their financing this year. Certainly any scheme which would preclude this division from getting taxes from the industrial assessment at Hinton in the next few years would be unfair to Edson divisional taxpayers and the trustees and staff who have been planning for the school needs in this new community for the last couple of years.

The thinking that the assessment benefits from a larger than average industrial development belongs to the people of the province as a whole is just about as unjustifiable as the hundreds of thousands of dollars of stampage dues and coal royalties which have come out of this district through the years to benefit the whole provincial economy.

We have never understood why stampage dues should be treated any differently than municipal taxes in a farming area and certainly the taxes from industry should go to the governing body which must provide the municipal services that these connected with industry require.

If, as we understand is the case, the Provincial Government is seriously considering pooling industrial assessments they should carefully consider the impact of losing this revenue on municipal financing in the areas affected. (The major cities can be expected to put up a particularly loud cry, but exempting them would be unfair to rural areas such as ours.

Teach The Boys Hockey Says EAA Guest Speaker

President Art Potter of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association told the 85 men assembled at the annual EAA Sportsman's Dinner in the Legion Memorial Centre Wednesday evening that the first thing men can do is to spend their time making it possible for boys to be able to play "one of the finest games there is . . . as it develops keen alert minds and builds both character and body."

He told the meeting about the 60,000 members in the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and recalled when boys were born with status on. He admitted that today fewer boys are playing hockey than formerly, but more could play if more of us (adults) took time to see that they became interested.

"We have many leaders in Canada who got off to a good start when they were boys by being encouraged to play Canada's national game."

Mr. Potter also paid tribute to the men who act as referees and reminded his audience that "it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game."

Mr. Bud Polio, coach of the Edmonton Flyers hockey team,

Letters to Chris

Dear Chris:

What do you think of a guy that has the habit of hanging me out? Lee and I have been going steady and I do like him a lot except that I can never trust him because he has "stepped me" quite a few times.

When he comes around the following day he is very apologetic and full of excuses, but nevertheless he will do it again. Is it because he doesn't care enough to love me or is it a flaw in his character that I would have to put up with?

Dear Anonymous:

I would like to know what exactly his excuses are because it is possible that your father could not make it at times. However if it happens too often I'm rather inclined to believe that it is in a way your fault and also I doubt that he has developed him before he met you.

It is partly your fault because you are letting him get away with it. I don't mean you should give him an ultimatum "if you don't come we are through" but you should certainly be forthright and not so evasive. If you stay mad and refuse difficult to get along with for a couple of days I think he would be more punctual.

Dear Chris:

I would like your unprejudiced opinion on my problem. I happen to know a married man. There is absolutely nothing sentimental or romantic about it except a commonality for many topics of conversation. We are each other's only friend and now that the wife is away we have lunch or supper together at least once a week. As I said there is nothing between us. He is not trying to build up a little romance or have his wife's love. As a matter of fact he is quite devoted to his wife and they get along well. She is a fine woman but is completely dedicated to her home and children and doesn't seem to care for the things he does such as music, books etc.

My family are making life impossible for me because of our friendship and even my friends are setting as if there is something wrong with me. Is society so narrow-minded as to frown on companionship and understanding between a married man and a single girl? I enjoy his company better than any other man I know. Should we give up our seeing each other because people cannot conceive something as perfect as our relationship? M.A.V.

Dear M.A.V.:

Society unfortunately, is sometimes narrow-minded, demanding strict observance of unwritten rules and regulations that apply to everybody regardless of morality, personality or temperament. When a part of this society you have two alternatives.

You either ignore everybody and be prepared to face the consequences or you abide by it. In your case, you cannot ignore everybody. I will tell you whether you are doing right or wrong. You should know this.

But as long as there is a practice of matrimony, society will frown on the friendship of a single girl and a married man. Chris

Dear Chris:

For about a month I have seen this boy more or less regularly. He seems to go to the same place I go. He is always alone and I would like to meet him but I don't dare take the initiative because he has never even noticed me. What can I do? Nina

Dear Nina:

Don't you know that a smile is one of the loveliest gifts you can give a lonely boy? If he has noticed you, that smile will make him come running. Chris

Water Service Impeded by Cold Weather

Installation of the water line that will service the Hinton Shopping Centre and Timberland Hotel, is progressing slowly according to Development Officer, Len Allen. Frost has penetrated the ground up to depths of five feet and it is now necessary to thaw the ground ahead of ditching operations.

Approximately 300 feet of ditch has been dug and it is hoped that the line to the water line can be completed within the next two weeks.

A 15,000 gallon temporary water storage tank is being installed at the well located on the Municipal Affairs trailer site. This tank will be used to supply the Shopping Centre and Hotel with water until a permanent water reservoir is provided.

Other news from the Development Office concerned the appointment of C. W. Hallington as Town Secretary. Mr. Hallington took over the job as permanent secretary on Monday, December 12.

The Board of Administrators for the New Town of Hinton, will meet on Thursday. This is the first session to be held by the Board since the inaugural meeting on November 18.

Ski Breeze

By CHUCK MAPLE

When out shopping for a pair of skis a few simple rules should be made, check the skis for well-made cambers by laying them on a flat surface. The skis should touch only at the shovel and at the heel. The mid section should be about one inch off the flat surface, one ski should not be lower than the other; right down the side from the shovel to the heel to see if there is a viable twist.

A twist in one ski or both will cause the tips to either cross over each other or pull in opposite directions while skiing and your skis together creating surface and opposing them together at the mid section.

You shouldn't see any light between the two skis; that the skis and see if they bend evenly through the whole length of the skis, not just at the tip and heel, leaving the mid section rigid.

In looking for the right flexibility of the skis, keep these facts in mind: a soft ski is best for deep snow; a stiff ski is best for hard packed trails; a light person should ski on a softer ski and a heavy person on a harder ski.

A soft ski tends to plane out the deep snow and is much easier to ski on. A stiff ski is best on hard icy slopes as it has more bite and is sturdier.

To determine where the binding will go place the ski on a flat surface. Measure the distance from where the ski touches at the shovel to where it touches at the heel. Half this distance is where the ball of your foot should be. For hard packed snow and skids an inch or so ahead of this point is preferred. Deep snow skiing - one inch or so back.

For down hill skiing the downhill heels should be right at the heel of your boot, so the heel is solid and does not lift.

For cross country and jumping the downhill heels should be nearer the toe iron. This will allow the heel to lift. There are special bindings for cross country. These allow complete freedom to the heels as the other skis one ski is better of the other in long skids.

I had hoped we would all be skiing now but there isn't enough snow here at Jasper. However Bill Rudy wants a few skiers to go into Halton Lake with him by snowmobile to see how the skiing is. He tells us there is about two feet of snow there.

I'm away - let's go.

Shop-Easy Groceteria To Open December 18

Edmonton's Richmond district. An opening day for the Shop-Easy groceteria, located in the new Ashcroft Valley Development Corporation shopping centre, has been set for Tuesday, December 18.

Installations of fixtures and furnishings has been progressing during the past week and by mid-week most of the stock of merchandise had arrived.

On hand to help in the store opening is Ed Hall, store representative from the Winnipeg headquarters and Edmonton District Manager W. Joyce.

Manager Rodge New, was formerly a manager of one of the by mid-summer of 1967. Their new building will be located adjacent to the Hudson's Bay, and may possibly cost well over $500,000.

The present store is designed to provide temporary shopping facilities until the new ultra-modern store can be built.

All the counter fixtures in the store are patterned after the Shop-Easy system of self-service groceteria. The store will be divided into sections for meat, groceries and produce.

THE ADVENT OF CHRIST

God makes his Advent to us in many ways - in the heart of silent prayer and quiet - in the beauty and magnificence of nature - in the sacraments of His Church - in the Holy Scriptures wherein He confronts us in the Law and the Prophets and the Poetry of the Old Testament and even more in the New Testament wherein Jesus, the Word of God embodied, has come to dwell with us.

December 25th, of course, is the "official" birthday of Jesus. Some Christians observe it in January while others would have it observed in October. Let it be said, in all reverence, that Jesus has willed us all rights and privileges in his birthday. To have, hold, exercise and enjoy in the customary manner. These customs are traditional, rather than historic in origin. The spirituality of the Christian spirit has transformed pagan ritual material, such as the tree, into a beautiful symbol of the One who brings beauty and color and fragrance into life.

Christmas is a season to be enjoyed. Our Christmas music, the Sunday School program, the Christmas "concerts" and the giving of gifts should be a joy rather than a burden. However, unrestrained pleasure-seeking is not joyous but often sheer paganism and tragedy. Those who first came to Jesus were not seeking pleasure but seeking peace and worship. When we include a gift for others, we give to Jesus, the One who gives to us the gift of His Son.

Visiting at the Harold Seldon home at Mr. and Mrs. John Seldon, 4th Ave. East, Edson, is the former Pat Seldon and while here took part in a farewell party for brother David who has joined the B.C.A.P.

is God made known and intelligible to mankind. But this day the Church reminds us of how God makes his Advent to us through other people. Let a man so moved of us as of the angels and saints of God... Some people might think that this ministry is a special preserve of the clergy but a little thought and exercise of the ministry will reveal how many common people have through the years exercised such a ministry as our behalf - parents, teachers, clergy, friends and other children bring us to a deeper knowledge and love of him and God was ordinary human beings - as a means of making his Advent to us. After all, the Church is the body of Christ and individually we are members of that body and thus are bound to live and work and play as to express Christ in the world. Thus the Sunday has a double meaning for us - first of all thanksgiving for all those who have brought us on our way and secondly a recommitment of ourselves that we may worthily and effectively reveal Christ to those about us in our daily lives.

Hinton Progress Report ..

Progress Report for Week Ending November 20

Throughout the week mild conditions existed with day temperatures in the mid-forties and night temperatures in the mid-twenties.

During the week 612 cubic yards of concrete were poured, the main pour being the roof slab of the digester area. Small pours were made in the Recausitric Building, Pumping Station, Outside Fire Protection and Storm and Service Sewers. A total of 122 cubic yards remain to be poured.

The structural steel for all the conveyor housings has now been erected and work continued on placing transfer sheets on the walls and roof of the housings.

In the Woodroom, work continued on erecting the chip bins, marker outlet chutes, the chipper bypass conveyor and the service chip conveyor. The service piping was placed in the pipe bridge from the Water Treatment Plant and the pipe bridge placed into position.

Forming of the loading shed. Forming of the setting of the fly cutter.

Setting of the fly cutter, lay boy, balling press and the conveyor system into the Pulp Warehouse was completed and work continued on the press rolls of the press section together with the vacuum piping on the Minton dryer and the lubrication system and gear guards. The tilting of the valveless decker and machine flumes continued, together with the placing of the steam and condensate lines and the branch lines of the ventilation system.

In the Pulp House, the placing of roof tiles on the digester building roof was completed, together with the roof of the unbleached around the digester continued, as well as the placing and setting of the pumps out flow valves and piping of the digesters. Work continued on setting the knotters, mixers, and heat exchangers and also with the stainless steel process piping on the ground and first floors and the ventilation ducting on the second and third floors. The bricklayers continued on the south wall up to the roof beams the east wall up to the roof beams and the north wall slightly beyond the beam soffits of the third floor.

Work continued on completing the power circuits and the instrumentation supply and transmission lines.

White Ice Yet!

President of the Curling Club, Bob McVern, has informed us that the ice is wonderful and that the weather is perfect for the first bout of the season which is to take place this weekend.

Despite the closeness to Christmas, there has been quite a bit of interest shown in the bout and participants-to-be are looking forward to some good games on the new white ice.

This is something new for the Edson rink and now the curlers who have been envying other clubs their white ice will be able to look superior when speaking to less privileged curlers.

It is no guarantee of perfect shots however and it may even be a new excuse for missing the broom, such as "That white ice seems to draw worms." or "It

HOW... DOES A STRONG FINANCIAL SERVICE Sell Groceries?

The rural grocer is a little like the general practitioner—he cannot narrow his business down to specialization. His customers rely on him to provide them with a wide range of necessities. To do this, he needs the services of a strong financial institution, such as the Provincial Treasury Branches. Drafts, loans, current accounts, money orders, money deposit boxes are just some of the many conveniences of our organization. By working in close partnership and co-operation with the local Provincial Treasury Branch, the rural grocer can better serve his customers, which will naturally increase his profits. Today as never before, rural families are making more and spending more. For the grocer, it is a healthy market with plenty of buying power. The Provincial Treasury Branches are ready and able to help the rural merchants of Alberta service their customers efficiently and profitably.

Newest Buick Yet

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Buick Roadmaster 4-door Riviera

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true—really new.

And we bring them to you now with a soaring enthusiasm we can hardly contain—the newest new Buicks ever built.

All New—and Then Some!

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense.

We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy tailfins. We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that pulse on new nodal-point mountings for peak freedom from vibration—that "feed" through a new-free fuel system—that breathe freer and deeper to deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—in instant in the starting range—in active smooth and in totally full range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated!

So come take in these low-silhouettes, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957. Come learn about the host of wonders to be had here—including a true work-wagon with the racy and airy grace of a pillared 4-Door hardtop Riviera—the most beautiful Estate Wagon you ever beheld.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional on limited value cars on the Special.*

ALL ABOARD...

BY G. E. MORTIMER

The two little boys caper through the house, dodging bed sakes to dance. He says "Dad, dad." But his mother knows what it means.

A child has got into the jam, or has lost his woolen rabbit, or wants a toy truck fixed, or a drink, or a story, or some paper to scribble on.

Every few minutes there is a demand or a crisis, until father and mother get headaches and begin to snap at each other.

And they wish fervently that they could tell the little noisy creatures to go away to some home for incorrigible children, and never come back.

Then the older boy says some quaint thing that makes them both laugh, and small brother turns up a grimy, questioning face. And mother and father suddenly remember that these are just little boys trying to find their way through a new, puzzling world.

Too soon, all this will be over, and the boys will be men. Standing beside each grown son, their mother and father will see the ghost of a little boy holding a wooden rabbit or a truck with a bent axle, and hear the tiny music of young voices from the messy, cluttered and beloved past.

The mother and father of the boys move in a whirl of noise and worry. If they try to read, two small hands and a face appear over the top of the book. If they listen to a radio talk, the key phrases are drowned by plucking cries.

The older boy wants to switch off the radio and play some of his nursery records on the one-shot photograph. The younger boy grabs his mother's hand and through the house, dodging bed sakes to dance. He says "Dad, dad." But his mother knows what it means.

Then the older boy says some quaint thing that makes them both laugh, and small brother turns up a grimy, questioning face. And mother and father suddenly remember that these are just little boys trying to find their way through a new, puzzling world.

Too soon, all this will be over, and the boys will be men. Standing beside each grown son, their mother and father will see the ghost of a little boy holding a wooden rabbit or a truck with a bent axle, and hear the tiny music of young voices from the messy, cluttered and beloved past.

The mother and father of the boys move in a whirl of noise and worry. If they try to read, two small hands and a face appear over the top of the book. If they listen to a radio talk, the key phrases are drowned by plucking cries.

The older boy wants to switch off the radio and play some of his nursery records on the one-shot photograph. The younger

YOUR ALBERTA

THIS WILL BE THE FINAL "Your Alberta" column until after the Holiday Season, when this informative series will continue with the objective of explaining the workings of the Government of this great Province of ours—Alberta.

DID YOU SEE, IN A RECENT

ISSUE of "Within our Borders," the story about the new canoe dug by the Department of Agriculture's Water Resources Branch in the Grouseville, Malenau area? From the length of the canoe, one would be justified in believing those residents need summer when they say they're going to enjoy a "long, cool drink of water."

The scheme brought water some 18 miles across country to serve areas where they'd been importing water by railway tank cars and have often flooded out by too much water in the spring.

JASPER NATIONAL PARK—one of Alberta's popular tourist resorts.

ANYONE WHO DOUBTS THE VALUE of a good road is the Province's tourist industry had better have a look at the chequered past of Jasper. The hardtop highway to Jasper was completed this year, opened for travel in August. The men who built the highway at the park gates said that travel over that road since August was up 140 percent over last year. When you consider tourists spent about $45,000,000 here last year, we can expect bigger things next year.

JUST TO SAVE YOU PENCIL

AND BRAIN WORK, that tourist revenue works out to about $20 per person in direct revenue and untold amounts in indirect income through jobs being made available and products made to serve the visitors. And year after year?

THIS MATTER OF EDUCATION,

it, as you know, a terrific thing. Think it, few people are aware of just how far it goes. Take for example the new school for the deaf opened at Edmonton. Special education is needed there. Not only for humanitarian purposes, which is a good enough reason in itself, but also from the economic point of view. A deaf, or mute person, is worth more to himself and to society if he is the equal in education to his neighbors. He has as much right to it, as you have to yours.

So, as a result of this new school, there will be 120 pupils a year taking special education in 1957. By reading, social appreciation through vibration recognition, and talking without hearing. All these and more will be taught at the school. And, if you are the commercial type, it is worth mentioning that the school cost $150,000 and three years to build.

Someone recently told of his reaction when he suddenly came upon the scene of an accident on one of our highways a short time ago. He arrived just as they were taking the victim away in an ambulance. One man was dead, the other severely injured. He was a girl. She was dead. He was weeping in his desperation that "something should be done."

BE SEEING YOU SOON!

Your Future is Here... In Alberta

Jasper Trying Five Day Week With Monday Closed

Conforming to the new popular policy of providing employees with two consecutive free days each week during the winter season, almost all Jasper's business firms have voted to close Mondays during January, February and March. They will remain open Tuesdays to Saturdays as usual, including all day on Wednesdays.

The new store schedules, to be introduced officially the first week in January, were fully discussed at open meetings of the Jasper Chamber of Commerce and of retailers themselves. It was emphasized that the five-day week has not created shopping difficulties in other centres and at the same time it will bring Jasper in line with the program now accepted on a country-wide basis.

As employees of Jasper's stores work 48 hours a week during the summer months, it is felt that during the "quiet" season the five-day week is necessary. It was also pointed out that Jasper per shoppers enjoy the summer privilege of having open stores from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. six days a week, considerably longer than most centers.

Greetings
Best wishes for this joyous season to all of our very good friends and patronage.

ALL ABOARD...

BY G. E. MORTIMER

Thousands of old-age pensioners live near starvation at $40 a month. Their money would buy nearly twice as much if they could live in the West Indies, or Mexico or New Zealand. Many abroad, but only cuts off their pensions if they stay out of the country for more than a few months. And so the pensioners of small means can't afford to live anywhere but in Canada.

This is unjust. The pension is not a charitable dole; it is the proper reward of citizenship, bestowed upon people who have paid taxes, worked hard and helped to build Canada. Some pensioners may be loafers and misfits, but no plan is flawless. It is better to give the tramps a free ride than to risk hurting thousands who have paid their way.

The pension is given as a right. Why should it have strings on it?

Numberless pensioners have relations in Britain, with whom they could stay if they had a little to contribute toward household expenses. Others have just enough private means to buy or rent a small cabin in a country where the living costs are low.

In Canada they drag out a miserable penny counting existence. Abroad they could enjoy a contented old age. Why keep them prisoners here?

Perhaps we need their money but I doubt that. In fact the pension money could do more useful work abroad. British needs dollars. A few hundreds of thousands of dollars in pension cheques would help Britain buy more Canadian goods.

WHAT DOES THE FUTURE HOLD FOR YOUR SON

There are important objectives you look for in your life, and no doubt, want for your son. Education, special training, good earnings and sound career prospects are part of a good life. Companionship, travel and self-reliance fit out a man's life. Today these splendid objectives are possible for your son through the Canadian Army.

You owe it to yourself, and your son, to find out what the Canadian Army has to offer, either as a lifelong career or as a three year period of education and development. No matter what the future may hold for your son he will find that his Army service is a great advantage. Write today, without obligation.

Memorizes Train Timetables As Hobby

When C. M. Fraser, the Canadian National Railways ticket agent at Kamloops, was giving out copies of the CNR's fall and winter timetable, he spotted a familiar face among the people who asked for one, and he decided to ask the caller some questions.

It turned out that Raymond Corning wanted the CNR timetable to add to a collection that includes timetables from as far back as 1928 and that he memor-izes train schedules as a hobby. For example, Mr. Corning knew every detail of the schedule the CNR's crash Super-Consistants follow on its way across the continent between Vancouver and Montreal.

Mr. Corning has timetables from railroads all over the continent and speaks with authority when he says passenger train service has come a long way since he first became interested in schedules. But, he says, modern streamlined schedules haven't seen a reduction in personalized service on trains. It's just as good as, if not better than it was 29 years ago.

ROAD HOG

Going nowhere for nothing. All business like a pin . . . Manoeuvring to capital drivers. Passing and cutting in.

Racing along the highway. Headless of other's rights. Keeping your bright beam shining. You will not dim your lights.

Faster than legal limit. Without due care or caution. In weather foul or fine.

Filling beds sore needed. By other folks really ill. You road hogs of the pavement. Who wreck and maim and kill.

Sometimes you're full of liquor. More senseless than a mule. A braggart or a show off. But always, you're a fool.

KIND SAINT who guards the highway. Who ever you may be. Will you please wreck the road hog. Before he reaches me.

Northwestern Utilities
NATURAL GAS SERVICE

If . . . Children of Provence, France reverently recite the following prayer before the Christmas crib in that vicinity: Little Jesus of the Crib— Give us the virtues of those who surround you. Make us as philosophical as the faberman. Carefree as the drummer. Merry for exploring the world as the troubadour. Eager for work as the hogler. Patient as the glenier. Kind as the ox which keeps you warm. Strong as the ox which keeps you warm. Give us the sacred leisure of the hunter. Give us also the desire of the Shepherd for earthly things. The pride of the trade of the knife grinder and the weaver. The song of the miller. Give us the knowledge of the Magi. The cheerfulness of the pigeon. The impulsiveness of the cock. The discretion of the snail. The meekness of the lamb. Give us the goodness of bread. The tenderness of the wild boar. The salt of the haddock. The good humor of old wine. The order of the candle. The purity of a star. Property of a few of the metaphors may be disputed, nevertheless nostalgia prompts speculation regarding a world of humanity endowed with the virtues so earnestly and innocently enumerated by the little ones.

Looking Backward

JOHN E. BATEY

Tonight as the old year is slowly dying,
I am thinking of you sweetheart, and sighing,
Wondering if you really mean to be true,
And keep your promises as you said you would do.

The foot of your dear little hand in mine,
The thrills that you gave me, almost divine;
I am living them over tonight once again,
Hoping that you may be thinking the same.

The only New Year's resolution I'll make,
Is to love you each moment that I am awake;
And then, just as soon as I fall asleep,
I'll be dreaming of you, now won't that be sweet?

But the hour grows late, and the fire burns low,
As I sit and wait for the Old Year to go.
My thoughts are of you, and I wish you were here,
As the clock ticks away at the close of the year.

Holly Days or Daze

(By R. L. Homewood)

"Christmas isn't what it used to be," said the man in the hat.
"New when I was a boy..."
"Christmas is getting to be a bit of a racket," muttered the harassed mother as she looked in her slender purse, trying to figure out a way to get some of the things her young ones expected from Santa.

"Christmas is just give and take," cynically remarked the footnote young lady as she pushed through the crowds around the display counters.

And perhaps Christmas isn't what it used to be. For the first Christmas was a holy day, when the Christ Child was born in a manger in Bethlehem. Over the years the celebration has lengthened by days and weeks, until now the Christmas season starts early in November when Santa Claus makes his first appearance and extends almost into the New Year.

In many homes, the holy day has become a series of "holy days." A mixture of last-minute shopping, home celebrations, office drinking parties (on which there has been a justified crackdown in recent years), distracting holiday sights and sounds, can lead to this sometimes tragic slide.

But Christmas is still a holy day. It is the anniversary of the birth of a Man who came, not to sing carols, eat turkey or trim Christmas trees, but to give the world one gift—the gift of love.
Why not make this Christmas a holy day in your home? Have fun, enjoy your gifts, your children, the feasting and all that goes with a family Christmas.
But take a minute or two from the day's festivities and consider our Christmas hope for the world as we approach a New Year, which, in itself, brings suggestions of courage and of hope.

A new prayer for the New Year,
in merry, heavenly Father, hear:
The finer things are passed away.

Make all things new for the great day.
Give us the best. Then hasten to give.

By which alone we still may live—

A new heart and a new birth.
For a new heaven and a new earth.

Some of Mr. D. M. Osborne's grandsons girls to show the fun they have been having at grandpa's expense on his 81st birthday recently. Mr. Osborne, who told us that he still reads without glasses, celebrated with a cake Sunday, December 2, at son David's flat west of Edson.

Mr. Osborne was born in the township of Normandy, Comty Grey, Ontario, eighty one years ago. He came west in 1903 to Calgary and has been here ever since with the exception of a short while when he went back to Ontario and married Mary Dixon. He then came back and settled in Telford. Later going to Wainwright for six years and then moving back to Edmonton. Following this he farmed at Stettenville. He was introduced to his wife in 1950 and since that time has made his home with the Osborne family. Part of the time with his son David of Edson and some of the time with his daughter, Mrs. Gilbert McKinnon of Edson. Also with his youngest daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Greenway of Edmonton.

Edson Curlers Planning 16 Rink Series

Edson Curling President Bob McEwen informs us that the Edson club are planning a 16 series of curling which will give the winner $110 and the losing rink $10.

Games will be played weekly and rinks must be knocked out twice before being eliminated, while each winner is automatically eliminated until the playoffs.

Entries are being solicited from the various clubs west of Edmonton and it is hoped to have a final grand playoff after as long a season as the weather allows.

PEERS COMMUNITY CLUB. A delegation consisting of Mr. G. Morrison and Mr. W. Dixon interviewed the Board as to the possibility of financial help to the Peers Community Association on the completion of a skating rink located on the school grounds.

It was agreed that the Board allot the sum of $1.00 for each dollar spent on the purchase of material with a ceiling of $200.00 on community projects where help is requested for the various areas in the division.

ANNUAL MEETINGS: Moved that annual meetings be held in the following centres as indicated:

- February 4, 1957 - Evansburg School at 8:00 p.m.; Wildwood School at 8:00 p.m.
- February 5, 1957 - Winton School at 2:30 p.m.; Winton School at 8:00 p.m.
- February 6, 1957 - Edson High School at 8:00 p.m.; New Tintin School at 8:00 p.m.

Other matters discussed were the sale of the Let's Grow school site; the construction program; old and new; Lesman teachers; rev. committee reports; sick-room equipment; architects' correspondence and discussion; re-arrangement of Peers teachers; rev. committee's statistics; health unit; Janitor's salaries; use of Lesman school by Mr. Sherman; sale of supplies; election date of trustees; Oliver Power; value payment of accounts; appointment of auditor; borrowing resolution; van rental; superintendent's report.

The meeting adjourned at 7:30 p.m. to meet again on January 16, 1957.

Mrs. Walter Laid To Rest

Mrs. Betty Ann Walter, beloved mother of Jasper, passed away at the age of 81 years and 10 months.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one son, William Balfour of Jasper, three granddaughters, Mrs. Elsie Dart, Rosedale, Alberta; Mrs. Marian Welch, Vancouver, B.C.; and Mrs. Edna Torrance, and one great grandson, Richard Dart, Rosedale, Alberta.

Rev. R. Gates officiated and interment took place in Jasper Cemetery.

John Fendrick Dies In B.C.

Well known to Edson old time residents, Mr. John Fendrick passed away suddenly at Prince George last week.

His sister Mrs. Harry MacMillan, has gone to attend the funeral details of which we hope to publish next issue.

"We're going to miss Don this Christmas, but we're very glad of this opportunity for him." So said Mrs. George Gourley as she told us about the opportunity her son is getting.

Don who is attending University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, on a hockey scholarship will spend the Christmas holidays on tour with his team. They will play hockey in Phoenix, Arizona, Denver, Colorado and in New Mexico.

A former member of the Edson Junior and Senior teams, Don was also a member of the University of Alberta Golden Bears and the Edmonton Oil Kings, before beginning his scholarship at Ann Arbor a year ago this past fall.

Curling Season Off To Good Start

The Edson Curling season got under way last weekend with a mixed bouquet to start things off right. It was father against son in the final game of the season when a rink skippered by Leader staff member, Bob Jensen, won top honors over a rink skippered by Anton Jensen.

There has been lots of curling action shown this season so far. The men's and women's regular draws will get underway the 1st of January, with entries received up to January 7.

Anyone wishing to curl may enter at the curling rink or notify Frank Henck at the Edson Food Market or Al Grant at Edson Photo Studio.

Civil Servants Draw Winners

The Christmas raffle sponsored by the local branch of the Civil Servants Association was drawn for this week to help fill three families' Christmas hampers a little fuller. Prizes were a turkey, a goose, and a pig.

First prize went to Mr. Reg Gerlitz, second to Mr. Doug Buck and 3rd to Mr. Joe Ludzinski, all of Edson. The draw was made by Mr. Jack Janssen of North Western Pulp and Paper.

Management and staff of the Edson Motor Co., together with their wives and girl friends enjoyed their annual Christmas party which was held this year in the Parish Hall on Thursday, December 18.

As each lady entered the hall she was given a rose corsage complimented of the Edson brothers.

The Christmas dinner of turkey and all the trimmings was catered to by the Willing Workers of the United Church and was greatly enjoyed by all. It was followed by an enjoyable evening of dancing to music by the Ciesinski Orchestra.

One little boy waited patiently all morning to talk to Santa when he called at Switzer's Drug Store last Saturday. There was a steady stream of children with their mothers lining up for the chance to see the jolly old fellow and have their pictures taken with him.

Photographs were taken by Mrs. Laura Mahon and Mrs. Frances Mahon of the Craft Centre with other members of the Centre directing traffic through the busy corner of the store.

The Craft Centre would like to say a big thank you to Switzer's Drug Store for the use of the very busy corner in the store and to all who helped them during the day.

The Craft Centre has raffled two articles from the leather group recently with the draw for a purse, hand toled by Mrs. Edna Hume being made last Saturday between evening hours at the Edson Theatre. Winner of this purse was Mrs. W. A. Smith.

The second purse, which was worked by Mrs. Mary Gavin, was drawn for at the Sacred Heart Turkey Bingo this past Wednesday and won by Mrs. E. A. Harrison.

Edson Oldtimer L. Watnough Dies Suddenly

Mr. L. Watnough, an oldtimer who had recently returned to live in Edson following his retirement from the C.N.R. at Hanna, Alberta, collapsed on the street from a fatal heart failure on Monday morning Dec. 27.

Since his return to Edson in June of this year, Mr. Watnough had been associated with the Edson Leader and was instrumental in getting the paper rolling again after year's lay-off.

He was 80 years of age and is survived by his wife, in Edson one son, Grandy, late Prince Rupert, three daughters, Mrs. C. L. Kille of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. D. M. Caston and Mrs. J. J. Tanton, of Edson, a brother, Percy C. of Regina, Saskatchewan, and a sister, Mrs. Tom Mason, of Bolton, Lanc., England.

He is also survived by 11 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

He and Mrs. Watnough came to Canada from Lancashire, in 1900 and worked in the construction industry in B.C., later taking a position with the B. C. Forestry Service prior to coming to Edson in the early twenties.

Mr. Watnough had been employed at Hanna, Alberta, as a carman from 1923 until his retirement four years ago.

EARLY OLD TIMER Arthur Highman stopped off in Edson to remove old acquaintances with such oldtimers as Mr. Harvey Switzer, Mrs. George Gourley, Mr. George Harrison, a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. Highman was engaged in freighting for the railroads under construction in 1909 and 1910 and among other jobs hauled 22 foot timbers for the Big Bay railway trestle just west of Edson.

Mr. Highman was in 1913 to serve with the Canadian Army and in later years has made his home in Victoria, but does visit a son and daughter in Ed-

Mr. Highman passed away several years ago. For some years ago Mr. Highman was a barman here in Edson for early pioneers.

Council Sets Vote Date On Power Plant Plebiscite

Council made arrangements to hold a public meeting to discuss the proposal to sell the town light and power plant and distribution system to Calgary Power Ltd., at their regular meeting on Tuesday, December 18, when they also set the date for the plebiscite by property owners for Monday, January 14.

The meeting, to be held in the Legion Memorial Centre on January 10 will give ratepayers a chance to get the details of the transaction straightened in their minds before going to the polls.

Details of the agreement including the $305,000 payment from the power company are published elsewhere in this issue. This cash payment will make Edson, for all practical purposes a debt-free municipality, and still give a lower light and power rate to our citizens.

Present were Mayor Kankewitz, Councilors Kortum, MacDonald, Meade, Tucker and Wells. Building permit No. 742 was granted for M. P. Reap for garage on lot 14, blk. 55, for $500.

Applications for title from C. H. and M. B. Bell, 30 & 40 1st and 1st, blk. 61, held by J. C. and M. Ross was cancelled and refund of 90 per cent of deposit was authorized in view of circumstances submitted.

Council granted approval to placing of overhanging sign on Calgary Store premises, lot 4, blk. 22, on filling of proper indemnity form.

VOTE BY-LAW
It was moved that By-Law No. 822, by-law providing for the appointment of R. C. GREGG as returning officer and setting date of vote on By-Law No. 821 for January 14th and advance poll January 11th and 12th was read a first, second and third time and passed.

PUBLIC MEETING
Arrangements are being made to hold a public meeting on the matter of the sale of the electric light system to Calgary Power, Ltd. on Thursday, January 10th, at 8 p.m., in the Legion Memorial Center. In view of first Tuesday of January falling on New Year's day, the next regular meeting of Council will be held Wednesday, January 2nd, 1967, at the usual hour and place.

It was moved that Council accept and approve the hours of closing, as recommended by the Board of Trade, for the Christmas season.

It was moved that necessary parts be purchased for water wells as outlined by International Water Supply. It was requested to again review account for water exploration work this year. The following accounts were then read:

Merry Christmas
AND A Happy New Year
Phone 180 — Edson

Here are a few tips that will help to make your Christmas dinner this year the best one ever.

As a careful proctor to the Christmas feast, serve an appetizer of equal parts of diluted cranberry juice and Canadian white table wine, garnished with mint.

Turkey should be stuffed just before roasting. Do not stuff ahead of time. Contains ingredients just before stuffing the bird.

The gizzard, heart and liver should be cooked promptly after being cleaned and washed. They must be cooked under brine; they are added to the gravy or stuffing.

Correct roasting is done by dry heat in a rack in an open pan. It requires no water, no cover and no covering. Always complete roasting the turkey in one continuous cooking period.

Low temperature, assure better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices. A shallow open pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly. A rack at least 1/2 inch high raises the bird off the bottom of the pan, keeping it out of the juices.

When roasting the bird, try basting it with warm wine, about 3/4 cup of wine to 1/4 cup of butter.

To determine whether the turkey is done, move the drumsticks up and down. If it moves readily or twists out of the joint, the turkey is done.

P.O. To Stay Open Monday

Contrary to an earlier announcement the Post Office will be open on the two Mondays preceding Christmas and New Year's day.

The previous announcement that they would be closed on these two days was made after the Dominion Government had named them as holidays for all federal employees. The local post office staff have decided to stay open on both of these days for the convenience of the public.

AT CHRISTMAS TIME

Next Thursday is the most important of all birthdays in the world because it is His Birthday - the Feast of the Nativity of our Lord Jesus Christ which we commonly call "Christmas Day".

And this common name simply means the celebration of the key event of all His story in the Holy Communion of His Body and Blood. For as on the first Christmas Day he humbled himself and for us men and for our salvation was born a little helpless child of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the stable at Bethlehem so in the celebration of that feast He comes again to make His home within our hearts by faith with thanksgiving.

Perhaps the most tragic in the Christmas story are these, "there was no room in the inn". It will be true again of many a Christmas celebration - bright and colorful and jolly - but there will be no room for Him. But it need not be so! In the few days which remain, let us make our own the ancient prayer that God may cleanse our hearts and consciences that our Lord Jesus Christ, when he comes, may find in us a dwelling place prepared for Himself.

"O come to my heart, Lord Jesus."

"There is room in my heart for Thee."

So may we enter fully into the joy and wonder and mystery of the Incarnation of God and may truly celebrate the festival of His Nativity.

THROUGH THE

Study Window

By Rev. C. C. Armstrong

I want to wish all of you a very Merry Christmas, but at the same time, hesitate to choose that particular adjective "merry".

The word "merry" is not nearly as good a word, Biblically, as "blissed", but for most purposes it does convey something of the joy and cheerfulness of the season.

I have now reached that age when Christmas comes very quickly, but like the rest of you who are similar "vintages" it is good to note the eagerness of children, and the noticeable improvement (?) in their disposition does not go unnoted either.

Children are much closer to the Kingdom of Heaven than we are, and they expect something good at Christmas. If we poor sinful adults can know the desire to give good gifts to our children, we should rejoice that the Father of us all won't forget us either.

For some of you, Christmas will be colored by the darker shades of loneliness and sorrow. It is good for us to pause a moment, and think of the blessedness of knowing the Comforter who comes to those who mourn. To those who sit in a land of deep darkness, even in the Valley of the Shadow, Christmas comes if not with merriment, most certainly with Strength and Blessing.

For us all, it is a time of wonder, for "God with man is now residing." He comes not simply to look for a home on our street, but for a room with in our home, and when He comes it is with the gift of a New generation to generation," and Life. May God bless you all, he has filled the hungry with good things and "exalted those on those who fear him from low degree."

Car Drivers - Re: Snow Removal

The co-operation of car and truck drivers is requested in the Town's efforts to clear streets and lanes of snow. George Ose is finding it most difficult to do a proper job while the streets are blocked by cars and trucks standing on roadways, often in immobile condition.

Traffic By-Law No. 403 provides that no vehicle may be left parked on the streets or lanes for a longer period than 24 hours.

Please provide and use off street parking when parking at your home.

My husband and I agree on practically everything but Christmas presents. He makes me buy presents for just about every member of the family. I think this is extravagant, since most of these people have more than we do. What do you do for Christmas shopping?

Dear Emma:

I am afraid I appreciate your husband's feelings. Christmas is a time of year when I wish I had enough money to buy a present for every person I have ever met. It is not what you give that matters.

It is the fact that you have remembered people who probably haven't seen since last Christmas. If it is the money that worries you why don't you bake or sew something. Remember when the Shepherd came to adore the Lord, each one brought a little gift. The true spirit of Christmas is not only to give, but to share.

Letters to Chris

Dear Chris:

I have a very good job and I certainly don't want to lose it. I haven't been working long but ever since I started, my boss has been molesting me. It is nothing serious, but this constant subtle flirtation is making me mad. Just how can I put him in his place without annoying him?

Upe!

Dear Upe!

There should be a law against these frustrated Canamans that use their position for exercising their imaginary charm. I am sorry I cannot advise you to one fact and politician because I do not think it would work and furthermore, it might be misunderstood. I think that the only way to put him in his place is to tell him quite frankly that you don't enjoy his flattery. If he lacks character you are risking your job no matter how you bring up the subject. Let us hope that he has enough decency to respect you for your courage and that he leaves you alone.

Treating Trees To Preserve Needles

Dropping needles or leaves of Christmas trees, which strip the trees of color and litter the floor, long have been a Yuletide bane. Therefore, the discovery of the New York State College of Forestry that waterglass spray will prevent the spruce leaves from falling brings us welcome news to family and housewife alike.

Besides preserving the foliage, the waterglass spray adds to the decorative effect of the spruce by leaving a slight silver sheen to the green of the needle-like leaves. The waterglass also has been found to be a good fire retardant.

The college found that shedding of spruce needles also can be retarded by placing in a bucket of moist earth, peat moss or water. Users have reported the success of this treatment.

Mexico Did Away With Santa Claus

In 1930 the authorities in Mexico decided to abolish Santa Claus during the Christmas festival as they considered him to be out of place in a country where snow is seldom seen.

The well-known bearded figure was ousted by Quetzalcoatl, the Indian god, half bird, half snake, who was worshipped by the Aztecs before the Spanish invasion. In its new Christmas program, the southern country has made a feature of the distribution of presents to thousands of needy children by the planned serpent, and every year this allegorical present-giving takes place on December 23.

Merry Christmas

If you were walking down the streets of Vienna, you'd be greeted with the glad words, "Proeliche Weihnachten!" In Paris, people would smile at you and say, "Joyeux Noel!" In Stockholm you'd be flung a hearty salutation, "God Jul!" while down in Rio de Janeiro you'd be greeted, "Feliz Natal!" In Rome, the happy cry passed along is "Buon Natale!" In Copenhagen, its "Glaedelig Jul" and in Rotterdam it's "Hertelike Kerstgroeten". But there's no mystery in all these exchanges on December 25. In English they are the same say greeting!

Green Acres

WILL GRASS STOP EROSION?

Usually, yes. But there are many steep slopes in the district where needed - down pastures are showing evidence of water erosion. On highway 16, many permanent pastures on steep slopes are showing the beginning of small gullies.

Of course, the situation would be far worse if the land were being cropped. But there is no need for that land to be washing at all, except perhaps under extreme conditions. What, then, is the answer?

Usually, two things are responsible for erosion of pasture land. One is overgrazing, and the other is that the grass is starving. Often both of these problems can be solved by fertilizing, using manure or commercial fertilizer, or better still, both of them. On most soils in the district, 16 - 20 at from 50 to 100 pounds per acre will provide much more vigorous growth, and bring these slopes back to the point where they are a profitable source of feed, as well as develop a strong root system which is better able to resist erosion.

Such treatment will enable the pasture to withstand much more grazing. But it can still be overdone. A handy rule is to not let the pasture be grazed closer than 2 or 3 inches, and then take the cattle or sheep off until it grows up to 9 or 10 inches.

With care, steep hillside can provide much grazing, and still prevent that valuable topsoil from washing away. It Pays to Look Ahead

Why wait until snow drifts or road bans are here to haul and clean your seed grain? Remember last winter, granaries snowed in, side roads werechitted and impassable and finally road bans resulted. In the middle of it all, seed had to be or should have been cleaned. Result - a mad rush at seedling time and too much seed half cleaned or possibly not cleaned at all. Problems such as these can all be avoided. With a little foresight and much less effort grain for seed can be cleaned now, either at centralized Municipal Seed Cleaning Plants or at home.

Those who are too far from the seed cleaning plant would also be well advised to prepare their seed now by cleaning it with the best methods they have available, and treating it too. The weather will permit it to be done now much more easily than during the winter, and it will be done in plenty of time to avoid rushing the job at seedling time. The Stony Plain Seed Cleaning Plant is not busy at this season of the year as it should be. By seedling time it will be operating twenty - four hours per day and farmers will have to wait two or three weeks or perhaps longer for their turn. The Plant is open for business and farmers are urged to start cleaning without delay. You can expect the best cleaning at the least cost when Plant operators are not rushed. Seed can also be treated at this season of the year. And remember, it costs one cent less per bushel to clean your seed before the end of December.

Niton H&S Meet On New Date

There was a meeting of the Niton Home and School Association held at its newly appointed date of the first Friday of each month, on December 7th.

The Peers Nurse was unable to attend and so could not give her talk. There were approximately 30 members in attendance. Reports on the Teacher's Convention were given by Mr. Kondrak and on the Home and School Regional Conference at Edson by Mrs. G. Hall.

It was decided to have a bingo game or whist drive before each meeting to raise money for the audio-visual equipment. Volunteer committee of Mrs. Haggart

Mrs. Howins, Mrs. Wallace, all of Mackay; Mrs. Helms and Mr. Smith of Carrot Creek will take care of this program.

We hope to see more of you interested parents out to the next meeting on January 4, 1937.

For one young lady, for one year...

Even this picture doesn't show all the children's clothes you have to buy. And then there are things like birthdays, and bicycles, and the dentist!!! It's no picnic, handling the purse-strings for a growing family. But it's a lot easier if you can just keep ahead of your shopping list, instead of behind it. And the practical way to do that is to deposit a regular amount, each month, in a Royal Bank savings account. As your savings build up you can go ahead and buy things as you need them!!! pay cash if you want... pick up bargains; too. You can get started at any branch of the Royal Bank.
